(2) The initial decision shall become the decision of the Commissioner unless within 30 days after it is filed with the Hearing Clerk a participant in the proceeding files with the Hearing Clerk a notice of appeal to the Commissioner pursuant to § 2.182(a) or the Commissioner, on his own initiative, files with the Hearing Clerk a notice of review pursuant to § 2.182(d).

§ 2.181 Tentative order.

(a) If the presiding officer prepares a recommended decision, as soon as practicable after it is received the Commissioner either shall adopt it as his tentative order or shall prepare a different tentative order. The tentative order shall contain findings of fact and conclusions of law as set forth in § 2.180 (b) and (c), and shall be filed with the Hearing Clerk and served upon all participants.

(b) The tentative order shall specify a reasonable time, ordinarily not to exceed 60 days, within which any participant may file exceptions. The exceptions shall point out with particularity the alleged errors in the tentative order and shall contain a specific reference to the items in the record on which exceptions are based. Such exceptions may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof. If oral argument on the exceptions is desired, such a request shall be made with the exceptions.

(c) After the exceptions are filed the Commissioner shall determine whether he wishes to hear oral argument on the matter. If the Commissioner concludes that he should hear oral argument on the matter, the participants shall be inmand the proceeding to the presiding any matter, or class of matters, of im-

(1) Such petition shall be pursuant to the matter, the participants shall be informed of the date, time, and place for such oral argument, the amount of time that will be allotted to each participant for such oral argument, and the issues to be addressed.

§ 2.182 Appeal from or review of initial decision.

(a) If the presiding officer files an initial decision, any participant in a proceeding may appeal it to the Commissioner by filing a notice of appeal with the Hearing Clerk within 30 days after the initial decision is filed. If any participant appeals the initial decision, all participants shall have an equal opportunity to participate in the appeal.

(b) Promptly after a notice of appeal is filed with the Hearing Clerk, the Commissioner shall inform all participants of the date by which they may file briefs, stating exceptions to or agreement with the initial decision and supporting reasons therefor, the time for which shall be not less than 30 nor more than 60 days following such notice. Reply briefs may be filed only with the express permission of the Commissioner.

(c) If oral argument on the appeal is desired, such a request shall be made with the briefs. After the briefs are filed the Commissioner shall determine whether he wishes to hear oral argument on the matter. If the Commissioner concludes that he should hear oral argument on the matter, the participants shall be informed of the date, time, and place for such oral argument, the amount of time that will be allotted to each participant for such oral argument, and the issues to be addressed.

(d) Within 10 days after the initial decision is filed, the Commissioner may file with the Hearing Clerk a notice stating that he will review the initial decision on his own initiative. Such review shall proceed pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section.

§ 2.183 Decision by Commissioner after exceptions to the tentative order.

If the presiding officer prepares a recommended decision and the Commissioner files a tentative order, as soon as practicable after the time for filing exceptions to the tentative order has passed, the Commissioner shall publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER his final order in the proceeding. The final order shall meet the requirements established in § 2.180 (b) and (c).

§ 2.184 Decision by Commissioner on appeal or review of initial decision.

(a) If the presiding officer files an initial decision and a notice of appeal or review is filed pursuant to § 2.182, the presiding officer shall certify to the Commissioner the full administrative record of the proceeding, which shall include all briefs filed pursuant to § 2.162 and the initial decision.

(b) On appeal from or review of the initial decision, the Commissioner shall have all the powers he would have in making the initial decision. The Commissioner may, on his own initiative or on the motion of any participant, remand the proceeding to the presiding officer with specific directions, e.g., to receive further evidence relating to a particular issue, where he concludes that such action is necessary for a proper decision in the matter.

(c) The scope of the issues on appeal shall be the same as the scope of the issues at the public hearing unless the Commissioner specifies otherwise.

(d) As soon as practicable after the filing of briefs and any oral argument, the Commissioner shall issue in the FEDERAL REGISTER his final decision in the proceeding based solely upon the administrative record of the hearing. Such final decision shall meet the requirements established in § 2.180 (b) and (c).

(e) The Commissioner may adopt the initial decision as the final decision, in whole or in part, if he concludes, after reviewing the administrative record, that it meets all the requirements specified in § 2.180 (b) and (c) and represents a sound, reasonable, and fair decision based upon all relevant factual, legal, and policy considerations.

§ 2.185 Reconsideration and stay of action.

Following publication of the final decision, any participant may petition the Commissioner for reconsideration of any part or all of such decision pursuant to § 2.8 or may petition for a stay of such decision pursuant to § 2.9.

JUDICIAL REVIEW

§ 2.190 Review by the courts.

(a) The Commissioner's final decision constitutes final agency action from which any participant may petition for judicial review pursuant to the statutory provisions governing the matter involved. Before requesting an order from a court for relief pending review, any participant seeking court review shall first submit a petition for a stay of action pursuant to § 2.9.

(b) The Food and Drug Administration will request consolidation in a single court of all petitions for judicial review related to a particular matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 2112(a).

§ 2.191 Copies of petitions for judicial review.

The Chief Counsel for the Food and Drug Administration has been designated by the Secretary as the officer upon whom copies of petitions for judicial review shall be served. Such officer shall be responsible for filing in the court the record of the proceedings on which the final decision is based. The record of the proceeding shall be certified by the Commissioner.

§ 2.200 Scope of subpart.

Subpart C governs the practices and procedures applicable whenever:

(a) The Commissioner concludes, in his discretion, that it is in the public interest to hold a public hearing before a Public Board of Inquiry, hereinafter referred to as a "Board," with respect to any matter, or class of matters, of importance pending before the Food and Drug Administration.

(b) Pursuant to specific provisions in other sections of this chapter, a matter pending before the Food and Drug Administration is subject to a public hearing before a Board.

(c) A person who has a right to an opportunity for a formal evidentiary public hearing under Subpart B of this Part waives that opportunity and in lieu thereof requests pursuant to § 2.117 of this Part the establishment of a Board to act as an administrative law tribunal with respect to the matters involved, and the Commissioner, in his discretion, accepts this request.

§ 2.201 Notice of a public hearing before a Public Board of Inquiry.

If the Commissioner determines that a Board should be established to conduct a public hearing on any matter, he shall publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice of hearing setting forth the following information:

(a) If the hearing is pursuant to § 2.200 (a) or (b), all applicable information described in § 2.117(e).

(1) If any written document is to be the subject matter of the hearing, it shall be published as part of the notice, or reference shall be made to it if it has already been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or the notice shall state that the document is available from the Hearing Clerk or an agency employee designated in the notice.

(2) For purposes of any such hearing, all participants who file a notice of appearance pursuant to § 2.117(e) (6) (ii) shall be deemed to be parties and shall be entitled to participate in selection of the Board pursuant to § 2.203(b).

(b) If the hearing is in lieu of a formal evidentiary hearing as provided in § 2.200(c), all of the information described in § 2.117(e).

§ 2.202 Members of a Public Board of Inquiry.

(a) All members of a Board shall have medical, technical, scientific, or other qualifications relevant to the issues to be considered at the hearing, shall be subject to the conflict of interest rules applicable to special government employees, and shall be free from bias or prejudice with respect to the issues involved. A member of a Board may be a full-time or part-time Federal government employee or may serve on a Food and Drug Administration advisory committee but except with the agreement of all parties shall not currently be a full-time or part-time employee of the Food and Drug Administration or otherwise act as a special government employee of the Food and Drug Administration.

(b) The director of the bureau of the Food and Drug Administration responsible for the matter which is the subject of a public hearing before a Board, the other parties to the proceeding, and any person whose petition is the subject of the hearing, shall, within 30 days after publication of the notice of hearing in the FEDERAL REGISTER, each submit to the Hearing Clerk the names and full curricula vitae of five nominees for members of the Board. Nominations shall state that the nominee is aware of the nomination, is interested in becoming a member of the Board, and appears to have no conflict of interest.

(1) All such persons may in consultation with each other agree upon a single list of five qualified nominees.

(2) Within 10 days after receipt of such names of nominees, such persons may submit comments to the Hearing Clerk on whether the nominees of the other persons meet the criteria established in paragraph (a) of this section.

(3) In addition to being filed with the Hearing Clerk, the lists of nominees and comments thereon shall be submitted to the persons who have the right to submit a list of nominees pursuant to this paragraph but not to all participants. They shall be held in confidence by the Hearing Clerk as part of the administrative record of the proceeding and shall not be available for public disclosure, and shall similarly be held in confidence by all persons who submit or receive them. This portion of the administrative record shall remain confidential but shall be available for judicial review in the event that it becomes relevant to any issue before a court.

(c) After reviewing the lists of nominees and any comments thereon, the Commissioner shall choose three qualified persons as members of a Board. One member shall be chosen from the lists of nominees submitted by the director of the bureau and any person who is not a party and whose petition is the subject of the hearing. The second member shall be chosen from the lists of nominees submitted by the other parties. The Commissioner shall then choose the third member from any source, who shall be the Chairman of the Board.

(1) If the Commissioner is unable to find a qualified person with no conflict of interest from among a list of nominees submitted, or if additional information is needed, the Commissioner shall request from the party involved the submission of such additional nominees or information as is necessary to choose a qualified person nominated by that person.

(2) If a person fails to submit a list of nominees as required by paragraph (b) of this section, the Commissioner may choose a qualified person in lieu of a person nominated by that person without further consultation with that person.

(3) The Commissioner shall announce the members of a Board by filing a memorandum in the record of the proceeding and sending a copy to each participant who has filed a notice of appearance.

(d) In lieu of the procedure for selection of the members of a Board specified in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, the director of the bureau, the other party or parties to the proceeding, and any person whose petition is the subject of the hearing, may agree that any standing advisory committee listed in § 2.330 shall constitute the Board for a particular proceeding, or may mutually agree on any other procedure for selection of the members of the Board, or the number of members of the Board, subject to the approval of the Commissioner.

(e) The members of a Board shall serve as consultants to the Commissioner and shall be special government employees or government employees. A Board shall function as an administrative law tribunal with the consent of the parties involved in the proceeding and is not an advisory committee subject to the requirements of the Federal Advisory Committee Act or Subpart D of this Part.

(f) The chairman of a Board shall have the authority of a presiding officer set out in § 2.142.

§ 2.203 Separation of functions; ex parte communications; administrative support.

(a) All proceedings of a Board shall be subject to the provisions of § 2.13, relating to separation of functions and ex parte communications. Representatives of the participants in any proceeding before a Board shall have no contact with the members of the Board, except as participants in such proceeding, and shall not participate in the deliberations of the Board.

(b) Administrative support for a Board shall be provided only by the office of the Commissioner and the Chief Counsel for the Food and Drug Administration.

§ 2.204 Submissions to a Public Board of Inquiry.

(a) All submissions relating to a hearing before a Board shall be filed with the Hearing Clerk pursuant to § 2.5.

(b) A copy of any such submission shall be sent by the person making the submission to each participant in the proceeding, except as provided in §§ 2.202 (b) (3) and 2.207(c) and except that submissions of documentary data and information may but are not required to be sent to each participant. Any transmittal letter, summary, statement of position, certification pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, or similar document accompanying a submission of documentary data and information shall be sent to each participant pursuant to this paragraph.

(c) Any such submission shall be sent as required by paragraph (b) of this section by mailing it to the address shown in the notice of appearance or by personal delivery.

(d) All submissions pursuant to this section shall be accompanied by a signed certification stating the extent to which the submission has been served on each participant, or is exempt from such service, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(e) No written submission or other portion of the administrative record shall be held in confidence, except as provided in §§ 2.202(b) (3) and 2.207(c).

(f) Any participant who believes that compliance with the requirements of this section constitutes an unreasonable financial burden shall submit to the Commissioner a petition to participate in forma pauperis.

(1) Such petition shall be pursuant to § 2.7, except that the heading shall be "REQUEST TO PARTICIPATE IN FORMA PAUPERIS, DOCKET NO. ...." Pursuant to the guidelines established in § 4.43 (b) and (c) of this chapter, such petition shall demonstrate that either (i) the person is indigent and his participation has a strong public interest justification, or (ii) such participation is in the public interest because it can be considered primarily as benefiting the general public.

(2) If the Commissioner grants such petition, the participant may file only one copy of each submission with the Hearing Clerk, and it shall be the responsibility of the Hearing Clerk to make sufficient additional copies for the administrative record and to serve a copy upon each other participant.

(a) Before the notice of hearing is published pursuant to § 2.201, the director of the bureau responsible for the matters involved in the hearing shall submit to the Hearing Clerk:

(1) The relevant portions of the existing administrative record of the proceeding. Those portions of the administrative record of the proceeding which are not relevant to the issues to be considered at the public hearing shall not be submitted to the Hearing Clerk or placed on public display and shall not be part of the administrative record of the proceeding.

(2) A list of all persons whose views will be presented orally or in writing at the hearing.

(3) All documents in his files containing factual data and information, whether favorable or unfavorable to his position, which relate to the issues involved in the hearing.

(4) All other documentary data and information on which he relies.

(5) A signed statement that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the submission complies with the requirements of this section.

(b) Within 60 days after the notice of hearing is published pursuant to § 2.201, each participant shall submit to the Hearing Clerk all data and information specified in paragraph (a) (2) through (5) of this section, and any objections with respect to the completeness of the administrative record filed pursuant to paragraph (a) (1) of this section.

(c) The submissions required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section may be supplemented later in the proceeding, with the approval of the Board, upon a showing that the views of the persons or the material contained in the supplement were not known or reasonably available when the initial submission was made or that the relevance of the views of the persons or the material contained in the supplement could not reasonably have been foreseen.

(d) The failure to comply with the provisions of this section in the case of a participant shall constitute a waiver of the right to participate further in the hearing and in the case of a party shall constitute a waiver of the right to a hearing.

(e) The Chairman of the Board shall rule on questions relating to this section. Any participant dissatisfied with any such ruling may request the Commissioner for an interlocutory review of that ruling.

§ 2.206 Proceedings of a Public Board of Inquiry.

(a) The purpose of a Board is to review medical, scientific, and technical issues fairly and expeditiously in order to reach a reasonable decision that is sound from a medical, scientific, and technical standpoint. The proceedings of a Board shall be conducted in the manner of a scientific inquiry rather than as a legal trial.

(b) Prior to the first hearing of a Board, all participants in the hearing shall have submitted to the Hearing Clerk the data and information required to be disclosed pursuant to § 2.205, subject to the sanctions specified in § 2.205(d).

(c) The Chairman of a Board shall call the first hearing of the Board at a reasonable time subsequent to receipt of the data and information specified in paragraph (b) of this section. Notice of the time and location of such hearing shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER at least 15 days in advance and the hearing shall be open to the public. The director of the bureau, the other parties, and all other participants shall have an opportunity at the first hearing to make an oral presentation of the data, information, and views which in their opinion are pertinent to resolution of the issues being considered by a Board. The Chairman shall determine the order in which these presentations shall be made. Each initial presentation shall be made without interruption from other participants, but members of the Board may ask any questions that they wish. At the conclusion of each presentation, each of the other participants may briefly state questions and criticism of the presentation and may request that the Board conduct further questioning with respect to specified matters. The Chairman and members of the Board may then ask further questions, and the Chairman may permit any other participant in the proceeding to ask questions if he determines this will facilitate resolution of the issues.

(d) The hearing shall be informal in nature, and the rules of evidence shall not apply. No motions or objections relating to the admissibility of data, information, and views shall be made or considered, but other participants may comment upon or rebut all such data, information, and views. No participant may interrupt the presentation of another participant for any reason.

(e) Within 30 days after the first hearing of a Board is concluded, each participant in the proceeding may submit in writing such rebuttal data, information, and views as he believes relevant to the issues, in accordance with the requirements of § 2.206. The Chairman shall thereafter schedule a second hearing of a Board if requested and justified by any participant. A second hearing, and any subsequent hearing, shall be called only if the Chairman concludes that it is necessary for the full and fair presentation of information that cannot otherwise adequately be considered and for the proper resolution of the issues involved. Notice of the time and location of any such subsequent hearings shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER at least 15 days in advance of the date of such hearing and the hearings shall be open to the public.

(f) A Board may consult with any person who it concludes may have data, information, or views relevant to resolution of the issues involved.

(1) Such consultation shall occur only at an announced hearing of a Board, and all participants shall have the right to be present and to suggest or, with the permission of the Chairman, conduct questioning of such consultants and to present rebuttal data, information, and views, as provided in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section, except that written statements may be submitted to the Board with the consent of all participants.

(2) Any participant may submit to the Board a request that it consult with specific persons who may have data, information, or views relevant to the resolution of the issues. Such requests shall state the reasons why the person named should be consulted and why the views of that person cannot reasonably be furnished to the Board by any means other than having the Food and Drug Administration arrange for his appearance at a hearing of the Board. The Board may, in its discretion, grant or deny such a request.

(g) All hearings of a Board at which presentations of data, information, and views are made shall be transcribed. All such hearings shall be open to the public, except that the presentation of data and information which are prohibited from public disclosure pursuant to the provisions of § 2.5(j) (3) shall be closed to all persons except the persons making and participating in the presentation and Federal Government Executive Branch employees and special government employees. At least a majority of the members of the Board shall be present at every hearing. The executive sessions of a Board, during which a Board deliberates on the issues, shall be closed and shall not be transcribed. The report of the Board shall be voted upon by all members of the Board.

(h) All legal issues shall be referred to the Chief Counsel for the Food and Drug Administration for resolution.

(i) After the conclusion of all public hearings a Board shall announce that the record is closed with respect to the gathering of data and information. The Board shall provide an opportunity for all participants to submit a written statement of their positions, with proposed findings and conclusions, and may, in its discretion, provide an opportunity for participants to summarize their positions orally to assist the Board in its deliberations on the issues involved.

(j) At the conclusion of its deliberations, a Board shall prepare its decision on the issues, which shall include specific findings and references supporting and explaining its conclusions, and a detailed statement of the reasoning on which the conclusions are based. Any member of the Board may file a separate report with additional or dissenting views.

§ 2.207 Administrative record of a Public Board of Inquiry.

(a) The administrative record of a hearing before a Board shall consist of the following:

(1) All relevant FEDERAL REGISTER notices.

(2) All written submissions pursuant to § 2.204.

(3) The transcripts of all hearings of the Board.

(4) The recommended or initial decision of the Board.

(b) The record of the administrative proceeding shall be closed:

(1) With respect to the gathering of information and data, at the time specified in § 2.206(i).

(2) With respect to pleadings, at the time specified in § 2.206(i) for the filing of a written statement of position with proposed findings and conclusions.

(c) The Board may, in its discretion, reopen the record to receive further evidence at any time prior to the filing of a recommended or initial decision.

§ 2.208 Examination of administrative record.

(a) The availability for public examination and copying of each document which is a part of the administrative record of the hearing shall be governed by the provisions of § 2.5(j). Each document which is available for public examination or copying shall be placed on public display in the office of the Hearing Clerk promptly upon receipt in that office.

(b) Lists of nominees and comments thereon submitted pursuant to § 2.202 (b) (3) shall be subject to the provisions of § 2.5(j) (3).

§ 2.209 Record for administrative decision.

The administrative record of the hearing specified in § 2.207(a) shall constitute the exclusive record for decision.

Subpart D—Public Hearing Before a Public Advisory Committee

GENERAL

§ 2.300 Scope of subpart.

(a) Subpart D governs the practices and procedures applicable whenever:

(1) The Commissioner concludes, in his discretion, that it is in the public interest for a standing or ad hoc policy or technical public advisory committee, hereinafter an "advisory committee" or "committee," to hold a public hearing and to review and make recommendations with respect to any matter or class of matters of importance pending before the Food and Drug Administration, and for interested persons to present data, information, and views at an oral public hearing before the advisory committee.

(2) Pursuant to specific provisions in other sections of this chapter, a matter pending before the Food and Drug Administration is subject to a public hearing before an advisory committee. Such specific provisions are:

(i) Section 2.350 relating to review of a performance standard for an electronic product by the Technical Electronic Product Radiation Safety Standards Committee.

(ii) Section 2.360 relating to review of the safety of color additives.

(iii) Section 2.370 relating to review of the safety and effectiveness of human prescription drugs.

(iv) Section 330.10 of this chapter relating to review of the safety and effectiveness of over-the-counter drugs.

(v) Section 601.25 of this chapter relating to review of the safety and effectiveness of biological drugs.

(3) A person who has a right to an opportunity for a formal evidentiary public hearing under Subpart B of this Part waives that opportunity and in lieu thereof requests pursuant to § 2.117 a public hearing before a public advisory committee pursuant to this subpart, and the Commissioner, in his discretion, accepts this request.

(b) In determining whether a group is a "public advisory committee" as defined in § 2.3(a) (14) and thus subject to the requirements of this subpart and of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, the following guidelines shall be used:

(1) An advisory committee may be a standing advisory committee or an ad hoc advisory committee. All standing advisory committees shall be listed in § 2.340.

(2) An advisory committee may be a policy advisory committee or a technical advisory committee. A policy advisory committee advises on broad and general matters. A technical advisory committee advises on specific regulatory issues.

(3) An advisory committee includes any subgroup thereof when it is working on behalf of the committee. An advisory committee may have members and consultants.

(4) A committee composed entirely of full-time Federal government employees is not an advisory committee.

(5) An advisory committee shall ordinarily have a fixed membership, a defined purpose of providing advice to the agency on a particular subject, regular or periodic meetings, and an organizational structure, e.g., a chairman and staff, and shall serve as a source of independent expertise and advice rather than as a representative of or advocate for any particular interest.

(i) A group of persons convened on an ad hoc basis to discuss a matter of current interest to the agency, but which has no continuing function or organization, does not involve substantial special preparation, and does not as a group issue a report to or advise the agency, is not an advisory committee.

(ii) A group of two or more agency consultants meeting with the agency on an ad hoc basis is not an advisory committee.

(iii) A group of experts who are employed by a private company or a trade association which has been requested by the agency to provide its views on a regulatory matter pending before the agency is not an advisory committee.

(iv) A consulting firm hired by the agency to provide advice regarding a matter is not an advisory committee.

(6) An advisory committee which is utilized by the agency is subject to the requirements of this subpart even though it was not established by the agency. In general, a committee is "utilized" by the agency when the agency requests advice or recommendations from the committee on a specific matter in order to obtain an independent review and consideration of the matter, and not when the agency is merely seeking the comments of all interested persons or of persons who have a specific interest in the matter involved.

(i) A committee formed by an independent scientific or technical organization is utilized by the agency if the agency requests the advice of that committee rather than of the parent organization, or if the circumstances show that the advice given is that of the committee and not of the parent organization. A committee formed by an independent scientific or technical organization is not utilized by the agency if the agency requests advice of the organization rather than of a committee and if the recommendations of any committee formed in response to the agency's request for advice are subject to substantial independent policy and factual review by the governing body of the parent organization.

(ii) A committee is not utilized by the agency if it provides only data and information, as contrasted with advice or opinions or recommendations.

(iii) The Food and Drug Administration is charged with seeking out the views of all segments of the public on enforcement of the laws administered by the Commissioner. The fact that a group of individuals or a committee meets regularly with the agency, e.g., a monthly meeting with consumer representatives, does not make that group or committee an advisory committee. Thus, the provisions of this subpart are not applicable to routine meetings, discussions, and other dealings, including exchanges of views, between the agency and any committee representing or advocating the particular interests of consumers, industry, professional organizations, or others.

(7) The inclusion of one or two agency consultants who are special government employees on an internal agency committee does not make that committee an advisory committee.

(8) A Public Board of Inquiry established under Subpart C of this Part or other similar group convened by agreement between the parties to a regulatory proceeding pending before the Food and Drug Administration, to review and prepare an initial decision on the issue in lieu of a formal evidentiary public hearing, is acting as an administrative law tribunal and is not an advisory committee.

(9) An open public conference or meeting conducted pursuant to § 2.15(b) is not an advisory committee meeting.

(c) The provisions of this subpart apply only when a committee convenes to conduct committee business. Site visits, social gatherings, informal discussions by telephone or during meals or while traveling or at other professional functions, or other similar activities do not constitute a meeting.

(d) An advisory committee which is utilized but not established by the Food and Drug Administration shall be subject to the provisions of this subpart only to the extent of such utilization, and not with respect to any other activities of such committee.

(e) Any conference or meeting between an employee of the Food and Drug Administration and a committee or group which is not an advisory committee shall be subject to the provisions of § 2.15 or other provisions specifically applicable to such committee or group, e.g., Subpart C of this Part for a Public Board of Inquiry.

(f) The provisions of this subpart shall apply to all Food and Drug Administration advisory committees, except to the extent that specific statutory requirements provide otherwise for a particular committee, e.g., the Technical Electronic Product Radiation Safety Standards Committee (TEPRSSC) and the Board of Tea Experts.

§ 2.301 Establishment and renewal of public advisory committees.

(a) A public advisory committee may be established or renewed whenever it is necessary or appropriate for such an advisory committee to hold a public hearing and to review and make recommendations on any matter pending before the Food and Drug Administration. Before an advisory committee is established or renewed it shall first be approved by the Department pursuant to 45 CFR Part 11 and the Office of Management and Budget pursuant to duly promulgated procedures.

(b) Upon the establishment or renewal of an advisory committee, the Commissioner shall issue in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice certifying that the establishment or renewal of the advisory committee is in the public interest and stating the structure, function, and purposes of the advisory committee and, if it is a standing advisory committee, shall amend § 2.340 to add it to the list of standing advisory committees. The notice shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER at least 15 days prior to the filing of the advisory committee charter pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) No advisory committee shall meet or take any action until its charter is prepared and filed as required by section 9(c) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act. This requirement shall be met by an advisory committee utilized by the Food and Drug Administration, even though is not established by the agency prior

(5) The advisory committee wishes to review work or facilities in a specific lo-whatever unless adopted as or incorporated into the official minutes or report it is not established by the agency, prior to such utilization.

(d) An advisory committee not required by law will be established or utilized only if it is in the public interest and only if its functions could not reasonably be performed by other existing advisory committees or by the Food and Drug Administration directly.

(e) An advisory committee shall:

(1) Have a clearly defined purpose.

(2) Have a membership that is balanced fairly in terms of the points of view represented in light of the functions to be performed. Although proportional representation is not required, there shall be no discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, age, or sex in the selection of advisory committee members.

(3) Be constituted and utilized procedures designed to assure that its advice and recommendations are not inappropriately influenced by any special interest or by the Food and Drug Administration, and are the result of the advisory committee's independent judgment.

(4) Have an adequate staff. The Commissioner shall designate an executive secretary and alternate for every advisory committee who shall be employees of the Food and Drug Administration. The executive secretary shall be responsible for all staff support for the advisory committee unless other agency employees are specifically designated for this function with respect to particular advisory committees.

(5) Whenever feasible, include representatives of the public interest.

§ 2.302 Termination of public advisory committee.

(a) A standing advisory committee shall be terminated when it is no longer needed and in any event shall terminate not later than 2 years following its date of establishment unless it is renewed for an additional 2-year period. An advisory committee may be renewed for as many 2-year periods as the public interest requires. The requirements for establishment of an advisory committee pursuant to § 2.301 shall also apply to renewal of an advisory committee.

(b) Upon termination of any advisory committee the Commissioner shall issue in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice announcing the termination and the reasons therefor and, if it is a standing advisory committee, amending § 2.340 to delete it from the list of standing advisory committees.

(c) The Technical Electronic Product Radiation Safety Standards Committee is a permanent statutory advisory committee established by section 358(f)(1) (A) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 263f(f)(1)(A)), as added by the Radiation Control for Health and Safety Act of 1968, and is not subject to the termination and renewal provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, except that a new charter shall be prepared and filed at the end of each 2-year period as provided in § 2.301(c).

(d) The Board of Tea Experts is a permanent statutory advisory committee established by the Tea Importation Act (21 U.S.C. 42), and is not subject to the termination and renewal provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, except that a new charter shall be prepared and filed at the end of each 2-year period as provided in § 2.301(c).

(e) Color additive advisory committees are required to be established under the circumstances specified in section 706(b)(1)(5) (C) and (D) of the act. A color additive advisory committee is subject to the termination and renewal requirements of the Federal Advisory Committee Act and of this subpart.

§ 2.303 Purpose of proceedings before a public advisory committee.

(a) An advisory committee shall be utilized to conduct public hearings on matters of importance that come before the Food and Drug Administration, to review the issues involved, and to provide advice and recommendations to the Commissioner on such matters.

(b) The Commissioner shall have sole discretion with respect to action to be taken and policy to be expressed on any matter considered by an advisory committee.

§ 2.304 Portions of public advisory committee meetings.

An advisory committee meeting shall have the following separable portions:

(a) The open public hearing. Every advisory committee meeting shall include an open portion which shall constitute a public hearing during which any interested person may present data, information, or views, orally or in writing, relevant to the advisory committee's agenda or other work. Such hearing shall be conducted in accordance with § 2.312.

(b) The open committee discussion. An advisory committee shall discuss any matter pending before it in an open portion of its meeting unless the meeting has been closed with respect to that matter pursuant to § 2.318. To the maximum extent feasible, consistent with the policy expressed in § 2.318, an advisory committee shall conduct its discussion of pending matters in an open portion. No public participation is permissible during this portion of the meeting except with the consent of the chairman of the advisory committee.

(c) The closed presentation of data. Data and information which are prohibited from public disclosure pursuant to the provisions of Part 4 of this chapter and the regulations referenced therein shall be presented to the advisory committee in a closed portion of its meeting. If such data and information are presented in the form of a summary which is not prohibited from public disclosure, such presentation shall not be made in a closed portion of its meeting.

(d) The closed committee deliberations. Deliberations with respect to matters pending before an advisory committee may be made in a closed portion of its meeting upon an appropriate determination by the Commissioner pursuant to § 2.318.

§ 2.305 Notice of public hearing before a public advisory committee.

(a) Before the first day of each month, and at least 15 days before any meeting so announced, the Commissioner shall publish a notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER containing information on all advisory committee meetings to be held during the subsequent month. Any advisory committee meetings for that month called subsequent to the publication of the general monthly notice shall be announced in the FEDERAL REGISTER on an individual basis at least 15 days in advance. The Commissioner may authorize an exception to the notice requirements of this section in an emergency or for other reasons requiring an immediate meeting of an advisory committee, in which case public notice shall be given at the earliest time and in the most accessible form feasible including, whenever possible, publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(b) The FEDERAL REGISTER notice shall include:

(1) The name of the advisory committee.

(2) The date, time, and place of the meeting.

(3) The general function of the advisory committee.

(4) A list of all agenda items, showing whether each will be discussed in an open or closed portion of the meeting.

(5) If any portion of the meeting is closed, a statement of the time of the open and closed portions.

(6) The nature of the subjects to be discussed during, and the reasons for closing, any closed portion of the meeting.

(7) The time specifically set aside for oral statements by interested persons and for other public participation.

(8) The name, address, and telephone number of the advisory committee executive secretary and any other agency employee designated as responsible for the administrative support for the advisory committee.

(9) A statement that written submissions may be made to the advisory committee at any time. Such submissions shall be made pursuant to § 2.311(c).

(10) Where a notice is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER less than 15 days before a meeting, an explanation for the lateness of the notice.

(c) If a public hearing before a public advisory committee is being used in lieu of a formal evidentiary public hearing as provided in § 2.300(a)(3), an initial notice of hearing shall be published separately in the FEDERAL REGISTER containing all the information described in § 2.117(e). Such a separate notice may also be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER with respect to any other public hearing before a public advisory committee when the Commissioner concludes, in his discretion, that it would be informative to the public.

(d) A list of public advisory committee meetings shall be distributed to the press by the Assistant Commissioner for Public Affairs.

(e) All public advisory committee meetings shall be included on the public calendar described in § 2.21(a).

§ 2.306 Chairman of a public advisory committee.

(a) The advisory committee chairman shall have the authority to conduct hearings and meetings, including the authority to adjourn any hearing or meeting whenever he determines adjournment to be in the public interest, to discontinue discussion of a particular matter, to conclude the open portion of a meeting, or to take any other action in furtherance of a fair and expeditious hearing or meeting.

(b) If the chairman is not a full-time employee of the Food and Drug Administration, the executive secretary of the advisory committee or other designated agency employee, or his alternate, shall be the designated Federal employee who is assigned to the advisory committee. The designated Federal employee is also authorized to adjourn any hearing or meeting whenever he determines adjournment to be in the public interest.

§ 2.307 Meetings of a public advisory committee.

(a) No advisory committee may conduct a meeting except at the call or with the advance approval of, and with an agenda approved by, the designated Federal employee or his alternate. No such meeting shall be held in the absence of such designated Federal employee.

(1) If any matter is added to the agenda after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER pursuant to § 2.303(b)(4), an attempt shall be made to so inform any person known to be interested in such matter, and the addition of such matter shall be announced at the beginning of the open portion of the meeting.

(2) The advisory committee meeting shall be conducted in accordance with the approved final agenda insofar as is practical.

(b) Advisory committee meetings shall be held at places that are reasonably accessible to members of the public. All advisory committee meetings shall be held in Washington, DC, or Rockville, MD, or the immediate vicinity, unless the Commissioner receives a written request from the advisory committee for, and approves, a different location. A different location may be approved when one or more of the following applies:

(1) The total cost of the meeting to the government will be reduced.

(2) A substantial number of the advisory committee members will be at the location at no expense to the Food and Drug Administration for other reasons, e.g., for a meeting of a professional association.

(3) It is a central location which is more readily accessible to advisory committee members.

(4) There is a need for increased participation available at that location.

(5) The advisory committee wishes to review work or facilities in a specific location.

(c) Advisory committee members may, with the approval of the Food and Drug Administration, conduct onsite visits relevant to the work of the advisory committee.

(d) A quorum for an advisory committee shall be a majority of the current voting members of the advisory committee, except as provided in § 2.352(c) for TEPRSSC. Any matter before the advisory committee shall be decided by a majority vote of the voting members present at the time, except that the designated Federal official may require that any final report be voted upon by all current voting members of the advisory committee. Any current voting member of the advisory committee may file a separate report with additional or minority views.

(e) Subject to availability of space, any interested person may attend any portion of any advisory committee meeting which is not closed.

(f) Whenever feasible, meetings shall be held in government facilities or other facilities involving the least expense to the public. The size of the meeting room shall be reasonable, considering such factors as the size of the advisory committee, the number of members of the public who could be expected to attend a particular meeting, the number of persons who attended or sought to attend similar meetings in the past, and the resources and facilities available.

(g) Any portion of a meeting shall be closed by the advisory committee chairman when matters which have been determined by the Commissioner to be closed in accordance with § 2.318 are to be discussed. Where a portion of the meeting is closed, the closed portion shall be held after the conclusion of the open portion whenever practicable.

(h) Any advisory committee member may take notes during advisory committee meetings and report and discuss advisory committee deliberations after a meeting is completed and before official minutes or a report are available, within such rules and regulations as are adopted by the Food and Drug Administration and by the advisory committee with the concurrence of the Food and Drug Administration, including all of the following:

(1) There shall be no attribution of individual views expressed in a closed session or revealing of numerical votes.

(2) There shall be no reporting or discussion with respect to any particular matter where the advisory committee or the Food and Drug Administration specifically so directs, e.g., where deliberations are incomplete or involve a sensitive regulatory decision which requires preparation for implementation.

(3) There shall be no reporting or discussion with respect to data or information prohibited from public disclosure pursuant to § 2.316.

(4) Any notes or minutes kept or report prepared by any advisory committee member shall have no status or effect whatever unless adopted as or incorporated into the official minutes or report by the advisory committee. It shall be the responsibility of each advisory committee member to make certain that the official minutes and reports are complete and accurate and fully reflect what happened at any meeting he attended.

§ 2.308 Consultation by a public advisory committee with other persons.

(a) An advisory committee may consult with any person who may have data, information, or views relevant to any matter pending before the advisory committee.

(b) Any interested person may submit to the advisory committee a written request that it consult with specific persons who may have data, information, or views relevant to any matter pending before the advisory committee. Such request shall state why the specified person should be consulted and why the views of that person cannot reasonably be furnished to the advisory committee by any other means. The advisory committee may, in its discretion, grant or deny such a request.

§ 2.309 Additional rules for a particular public advisory committee.

(a) In addition to the rules established for all Food and Drug Administration advisory committees in this subpart, any advisory committee may, with the concurrence of the designated Federal official, adopt additional rules which are not inconsistent with this subpart or with applicable legal requirements.

(b) Such additional rules shall be included in the minutes of the meeting when adopted and in the materials compiled pursuant to § 2.310 and shall be available for public disclosure pursuant to § 2.317(c).

§ 2.310 Compilation of materials for members of a public advisory committee.

The Commissioner shall prepare and provide to all advisory committee members a compilation of materials bearing upon an advisory committee member's duties and responsibilities, including:

(a) All applicable conflict of interest laws and regulations and a summary of their principal provisions.

(b) All applicable laws and regulations relating to trade secrets and confidential commercial or financial information that may not be disclosed publicly and a summary of their principal provisions.

(c) All applicable laws, regulations, and guidelines relating to the subject matter covered by the advisory committee and a summary of their principal provisions.

(d) All applicable laws, regulations, advisory committee charters, FEDERAL REGISTER notices, curricula vitae, rules adopted by the advisory committee, and other material relating to the formation, composition, and operation of the advisory committee, and a summary of their principal provisions.

(e) Instructions on whom to contact when any questions arise.

(4) Such other material relating to the discretion of the advisory committee the time allotted for any person without agency employee shall prepare a brief No person attending any closed portion those minutes or portions thereof is

(f) Such other material relating to the Food and Drug Administration and the subject matter covered by the committee as may facilitate the work of the advisory committee.

§ 2.311 Written submissions to a public advisory committee.

(a) Ten copies of all written submissions for an advisory committee shall be sent to the executive secretary of the advisory committee, unless an applicable FEDERAL REGISTER notice or other regulations in this chapter specify otherwise. All such submissions shall be subject to the provisions of § 2.5, except that no copies need be sent to the Hearing Clerk.

(b) At the request of an advisory committee, or on his own initiative, the Commissioner may at any time issue in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice requesting the submission to the advisory committee of written data, information, and views pertinent to any matter being reviewed by an advisory committee. Such notice may specify the format in which the submission shall be made, the number of copies to be submitted, and the time within which submission shall be made.

(c) Any interested person may submit to an advisory committee written data, information, or views on any matter being reviewed by that advisory committee. Voluminous data shall be accompanied by a summary.

(1) Any such submission shall be distributed to each advisory committee member, either by mail or at the next advisory committee meeting, and shall be considered by the advisory committee in its review of the matter.

(2) An advisory committee may establish, and shall give public notice of, a cut-off date after which submissions relating to any matter shall no longer be received or considered.

(d) The Commissioner shall provide to an advisory committee all data and information he concludes to be relevant to any matter being reviewed by the advisory committee. Any member of the advisory committee shall, upon request, also be provided any additional material available to the Food and Drug Administration which he believes appropriate for an independent judgment on the matter, e.g., raw data underlying any summary or report, or a briefing on the legal aspects of the matter.

§ 2.312 Conduct of a public hearing before a public advisory committee.

(a) For each advisory committee meeting, the open portion for public participation which constitutes a public hearing pursuant to § 2.304(a) shall be at least 1 hour long unless the public participation does not last that long, and may last for whatever longer time the advisory committee chairman determines will facilitate the work of the advisory committee. The FEDERAL REGISTER notice published pursuant to § 2.303 shall designate the time specifically reserved for such public hearing, which shall ordinarily be the first portion of the meeting. Further public participation in any open portion of the meeting pursuant to § 2.304(b) shall be solely at the discretion of the advisory committee chairman.

(b) Any interested person who wishes to be assured of the right to make an oral presentation at a particular advisory committee hearing shall so inform the executive secretary of the advisory committee or other designated agency employee, orally or in writing, prior to the advisory committee meeting.

(1) Such person shall state the general nature of the presentation and the approximate time requested. Whenever possible, all written data and information to be discussed by that person at the advisory committee hearing shall be furnished in advance to the executive secretary or other designated agency employee. Such written material shall be mailed to the advisory committee members in advance of the committee meeting if time permits, and otherwise will be distributed to the advisory committee members when they arrive for the meeting. Such mailing or distribution shall be undertaken only by the agency unless the agency specifically permits the person making the presentation to mail or distribute such material.

(2) Prior to the advisory committee hearing, the executive secretary or other designated agency employee shall determine the amount of time allocated to each person for his oral presentation and the time that oral presentation is scheduled to begin. Each such person shall be so informed in writing, or if the time prior to the hearing is short, by telephone. Joint presentations may be required by persons with common interests.

(c) The chairman of the advisory committee shall preside at the hearing pursuant to § 2.306 and shall be accompanied by other advisory committee members who shall serve as a panel in conducting the hearing.

(d) Each person may use his allotted time in whatever way he wishes, consistent with a reasonable and orderly hearing. A person may be accompanied by any number of additional persons, and may present any written data, information, or views for inclusion in the record of the hearing, subject to the requirements of § 2.311(c).

(e) If a person is not present at the time specified for his presentation, the persons following will appear in order. An attempt will be made to hear any such person at the conclusion of the hearing. Any interested persons attending the hearing who did not request an opportunity to make an oral presentation shall be given an opportunity to make an oral presentation at the conclusion of the hearing, in the discretion of the chairman of the advisory committee, to the extent that time permits.

(f) The chairman and other members of the advisory committee may question any person during or at the conclusion of his presentation. No other person attending the hearing may question a person making a presentation. The chairman may allot additional time to any person when he concludes that it is in the public interest, but may not reduce the time allotted for any person without his consent.

(g) Public participants may question an advisory committee member only with that advisory committee member's permission and only about matters before the advisory committee.

(h) The hearing shall be informal in nature, and the rules of evidence shall not apply. No motions or objections relating to the admissibility of data, information, and views shall be made or considered, but other participants may comment upon or rebut all such data, information, and views. No participant may interrupt the presentation of another participant at any hearing for any reason.

§ 2.313 Minutes and reports of public advisory committee meetings.

(a) The executive secretary or other designated agency employee shall prepare detailed minutes of all advisory committee meetings, except that less detailed minutes may be prepared for open portions of meetings which are transcribed or recorded by the agency. Their accuracy shall be approved by the advisory committee and certified by the advisory committee chairman. Such approval and certification may be accomplished by mail and by telephone.

(b) The minutes shall include:

(1) The time and place of the meeting.

(2) The advisory committee members, committee staff, and agency employees present, and the names and affiliations or interests of public participants in the meeting.

(3) A copy of or reference to all written information made available for consideration by the advisory committee at such proceedings.

(4) A complete and accurate description of matters discussed and conclusions reached. Such description shall be kept separately for the following portions of the meeting to facilitate their public disclosure: The open portions specified in § 2.304 (a) and (b), any closed portion during which a presentation is made pursuant to § 2.304(c), and any closed deliberative portion pursuant to § 2.304(d). The minutes of a closed deliberative portion of a meeting shall not refer to advisory committee members by name, except upon their request, or to data or information described in § 2.316(b). Any such inadvertent references which do occur shall be deleted prior to public disclosure.

(5) A copy of or reference to all reports received, issued, or approved by the advisory committee.

(6) The extent to which the meeting was open and closed to the public.

(7) The extent of public participation, including a list of members of the public who presented oral or written statements.

(c) For all advisory committee meetings any portion of which is closed, either (1) the minutes of the closed portion shall be available for public disclosure pursuant to § 2.316(a) (6) (i), or (2) if pursuant to § 2.316(a) (6) (ii) such minutes are not promptly available, the executive secretary or other designated agency employee shall prepare a brief summary of the matters considered in such manner as is informative to the public, consistent with the policy of 5 U.S.C. 552(b).

(d) Where a significant portion of the meetings of an advisory committee is closed, the advisory committee shall issue a report at least annually setting forth a summary of its activities and such related matters as would be informative to the public consistent with the policy of 5 U.S.C. 552(b). Such report shall be a compilation of or be prepared from the individual reports on closed portions of meetings prepared pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(e) The executive secretary of each advisory committee or other designated agency employee shall, with the approval of the advisory committee, prepare an annual report describing its membership, functions, recommendations, and other actions.

§ 2.314 Transcripts of public advisory committee meetings.

(a) A transcript or recording is not required for any portion of an advisory committee meeting.

(b) Each advisory committee shall decide whether any portion or all of its meetings shall be transcribed or recorded and, if so, by what means. Any such transcription or recording shall be arranged by the agency.

(c) If a transcript or recording of an open portion of an advisory committee meeting is made by the Food and Drug Administration, or is made by any interested person and is submitted to the Food and Drug Administration, it shall be included in the record of the advisory committee proceedings.

(d) If a transcript or recording of any closed portion of an advisory committee meeting is made by the Food and Drug Administration, it shall not be included in the administrative record of the advisory committee proceedings. Any such transcript or recording shall be retained as confidential by the Food and Drug Administration and shall not be disclosed or erased. The chairman of the advisory committee may, in his discretion, permit discussion without transcription or recording during any closed portion of an advisory committee meeting that is otherwise being transcribed or recorded.

(e) Any transcript or recording of an advisory committee meeting or portion thereof which is publicly available pursuant to this section shall be available at actual cost of duplication, which shall be, where applicable, the fees established in § 4.42 of this chapter. The Food and Drug Administration may furnish the requested transcript or recording for copying to a private contractor who shall charge directly for the cost of copying pursuant to § 4.51 of this chapter.

(f) Any person attending any open portion of an advisory committee meeting may, consistent with the orderly conduct of the meeting, record or otherwise take his own transcript of the meeting.

(g) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(1) Policy advisory committee members shall possess diverse interests, education, and backgrounds.

(2) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(3) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(4) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(5) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(6) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(7) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(8) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(9) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(10) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(11) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(12) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(13) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

(14) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent agency or other agency noncompliance with which would constitute a violation of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

No person attending any closed portion of any advisory committee meeting may record or otherwise take his own transcript of the meeting, except for an official transcript or recording arranged by the Food and Drug Administration.

§ 2.315 Administrative record of a public hearing before a public advisory committee.

(a) Advice or recommendations of an advisory committee shall be given only on matters covered in the administrative record of the advisory committee's proceedings. Except as specified otherwise in regulations in this chapter, such administrative record shall consist of all of the following:

(1) Any transcript or recording that was made of any open portion of a meeting relating to the matter.

(2) The minutes of all portions of all advisory committee meetings relating to the matter, after any deletions pursuant to § 2.313(b) (4).

(3) All written submissions made to and data and information considered by the advisory committee relating to the matter.

(4) All reports made by the advisory committee relating to the matter.

(5) The record of the administrative proceeding shall be closed at the time the advisory committee renders its advice or recommendations or at any earlier time specified by the advisory committee or in other sections in this chapter.

§ 2.316 Examination of administrative record and other advisory committee records.

(a) The administrative record and other advisory committee records shall be available for public disclosure pursuant to the provisions of Part 4 of this chapter, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, at the following time:

(1) The written information made available for consideration by the advisory committee at any meeting, at the same time.

(2) The transcript or recording of any open portion of a meeting, as soon as it is available.

(3) The minutes of any open portion of a meeting, after they have been approved by the advisory committee and certified by the advisory committee chairman.

(4) The brief summary of any closed portion of a meeting prepared pursuant to § 2.313(c), as soon as it is available.

(5) All written data, information, or views submitted to the advisory committee at any open portion of a meeting, as soon as they are so submitted.

(6) The minutes or portions thereof of any closed executive portion of a meeting:

(i) For any matter not directed to be maintained as confidential pursuant to § 2.307(h) (2), after they have been approved by the advisory committee and certified by the advisory committee chairman.

(ii) For any matter directed to be maintained as confidential pursuant to § 2.307(h) (2), after the advice or report of the advisory committee relevant to those minutes or portions thereof is acted upon by the Commissioner, or upon a determination by the Commissioner that such minutes or portions thereof may be made available for public disclosure without undue interference with agency or advisory committee operations.

(7) Any formal advice or report of the advisory committee, after it has been acted upon, i.e., approved, disapproved, or rejected as inadequate, by the Commissioner, or upon a determination by the Commissioner that such formal advice or report may be made available for public disclosure without undue interference with agency and/or advisory committee operations. Such formal advice or report may be retained as confidential while it is under active advisement.

(8) Any other advisory committee records relating to the matter involved, except transcripts and recordings of closed portions of advisory committee meetings, after the advice or report of the advisory committee relevant to those records is acted upon by the Commissioner, or upon a determination by the Commissioner that such records may be made available for public disclosure without undue interference with agency or advisory committee operations.

(b) The following data and information contained in the administrative record shall not be available for public examination or copying except as provided in § 2.117(g):

(1) Material provided to the advisory committee by the Food and Drug Administration which is exempt from public disclosure pursuant to the provisions of Part 4 of this chapter and the regulations referenced therein.

(2) Material provided to the advisory committee by a person making a presentation described in § 2.304(c) and which is prohibited from public disclosure pursuant to the provisions of Part 4 of this chapter and the regulations referenced therein.

(c) The Public Records and Documents Center shall maintain a file for each advisory committee containing the following principal records of that advisory committee for ready access by the public: The advisory committee charter, a list of advisory committee members and their curricula vitae, the minutes of advisory committee meetings, and any formal advice or report of the advisory committee.

§ 2.317 Public inquiries and request for public advisory committee records.

(a) Public inquiries on general advisory committee matters, except requests for records, shall be directed to: Committee Management Officer (HFS-20), Office of the Associate Commissioner for Science, Food and Drug Administration, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852.

(b) Public inquiries on matters relating to a specific advisory committee, except requests for records, shall be directed to the executive secretary of the advisory committee or other designated agency employee as listed in the FEDERAL REGISTER notices published pursuant to § 2.303.

PROPOSED RULES

(c) All requests for public advisory committee records, including minutes, shall be made to the Food and Drug Administration Public Records and Documents Center pursuant to § 4.40 and the related provisions of Part 4 of this chapter.

§ 2.318 Determination to close portions of public advisory committee meetings.

(a) No advisory committee meeting shall be entirely closed. A portion of an advisory committee meeting may be closed only pursuant to a determination made in writing by the Commissioner, stating the reasons therefor, in accordance with this section.

(b) The executive secretary of an advisory committee or other designated agency employee shall prepare the initial request for a determination to close a portion of an advisory committee meeting, specifying the matter(s) to be discussed during the closed portion and the reasons why the portion should be closed. The Commissioner, based upon this request and with the concurrence of the Chief Counsel, shall determine whether to close a portion of an advisory committee meeting. Such a determination may be made with respect to a single meeting or, where appropriate, a series of meetings. The reasons for closing a portion of a meeting shall be made in the FEDERAL REGISTER notice of the meeting published pursuant to § 2.305 in accordance with the following rules:

(1) Any determination to close a portion of a meeting shall restrict such closing to the shortest possible time consistent with the policy established in this section.

(2) Portions of meetings devoted to the review, discussion, evaluation, or ranking of grant applications, contract proposals, or performance by grantees and contractors shall be closed.

(3) Portions of meetings during which matters are considered that are prohibited from public disclosure pursuant to the provisions of Part 4 of this chapter and the regulations reference therein shall be closed.

(4) Portions of meetings during which matters are considered that are exempt from public disclosure pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552(b) may be closed if the Commissioner determines that:

(i) It involves discussion of existing documents falling within 5 U.S.C. 552 (b) (1) through (4) and (6) through (9) or matters that, if in writing, would fall within 5 U.S.C. 552(b) (1) through (4) and (6) through (9).

(ii) It involves discussion of existing documents falling within 5 U.S.C. 552 (b) (5) and § 4.62 of this chapter (inter-agency or intra-agency memoranda or letters which would not be available by law to a party other than an agency in litigation with the agency) or matters that, if in writing, would fall within 5 U.S.C. 552 (b) (5) and § 4.62 of this chapter, and it is essential to close such portion of such meeting to protect the free exchange of internal views and to avoid undue interference with agency or advisory committee operations.

(5) Examples of portions of advisory committee meetings which ordinarily may be closed include the review, discussion, and evaluation of specific investigational or marketed drugs and devices which are intended to result in recommendations for regulatory decisions under the laws administered by the Commissioner, deliberative sessions to formulate advice and recommendations to the agency, review of confidential data and information, consideration of matters involving investigatory files compiled for law enforcement purposes, and review of matters involving personal privacy.

(6) Examples of advisory committee meetings which ordinarily shall not be closed include the review, discussion, and evaluation of general preclinical and clinical test protocols and procedures for a class of drugs or devices, consideration of labeling requirements for a class of marketed drugs and devices, review of data and information on specific investigational or marketed drugs and devices which have previously been made public, and presentation of any other data or information which is not exempt from public disclosure pursuant to the provisions of Part 4 of this chapter and the regulations referenced therein.

(7) No portion of an advisory committee meeting devoted to matters other than those designated in paragraph (b) (1) through (4) of this section may be closed, and no portion of a meeting of the Technical Electronic Product Radiation Safety Standards Committee may be closed, except in accordance with § 2.354.

(8) A matter which is properly considered in an open portion of an advisory committee meeting may instead be considered in a closed portion only if it is so inextricably intertwined with matters to be discussed in a closed portion that it is not feasible to separate them or discussion of the matter in an open portion would compromise or impinge upon the matters to be discussed in the closed portion.

(c) A closed portion of an advisory committee meeting shall be attended only by advisory committee members and Federal Government Executive Branch employees and consultants, except as provided in § 2.304(c) for presentation of data and information which are prohibited from public disclosure pursuant to the provisions of Part 4 of this chapter and the regulations referenced therein. Any person making a presentation described in § 2.304(c) may be accompanied by a reasonable number of employees, consultants, or other persons with whom he has a commercial arrangement within the meaning of § 4.81(a) of this chapter. If any person other than an advisory committee member or a Federal Government Executive Branch employee or special government employee or a person making a presentation described in § 2.304(c) attends a portion of an advisory committee meeting, that portion shall be open to attendance by any interested person.

§ 2.319 Administrative remedies.

Any person who alleges noncompliance by the Commissioner or an advisory committee with any provision of this subpart or the Federal Advisory Committee Act may pursue the following administrative remedies.

(a) If the person objects to any action, including a failure to act, other than denial of access to an advisory committee document, he shall submit a petition in the form and pursuant to the requirements specified in § 2.7. The provisions of § 2.11 relating to exhaustion of administrative remedies shall be applicable.

(1) If the person objects to past action, the petition shall be submitted within 30 days after the action objected to. If the Commissioner determines that there was noncompliance with any provision of this subpart or of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, he shall grant any appropriate relief and shall take appropriate steps to prevent its recurrence in the future.

(2) If the person objects to proposed future action, the Commissioner shall expedite his review of the petition and shall make a reasonable effort to render a decision prior to the action which is the subject of the petition.

(3) If the person objects to action that is imminent or is occurring and which could not reasonably have been anticipated in advance, e.g., the closing of a portion of a meeting which is made known for the first time on the day of the meeting, the matter may be handled by an oral petition in lieu of a written petition.

(b) If the person objects to a denial of access to an advisory committee document, administrative review shall be pursued in accordance with the procedures established by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare under 45 CFR 5.82.

§ 2.320 Applicability to Congress.

The provisions of this subpart shall apply to Congress, individual members of Congress, and other employees or representatives of Congress, in the same way that they apply to any other member of the public, except that disclosure of advisory committee records to Congress shall be governed by the provisions of § 4.87 of this chapter.

§ 2.321 Committees working pursuant to a contract with the Food and Drug Administration.

(a) The Food and Drug Administration may enter into contracts with independent scientific or technical organizations to obtain advice and recommendations on particular matters, and such organizations may in turn undertake such work through existing or new committees. Whether a particular committee working pursuant to such a contract is a public advisory committee and thus subject to all of the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act and this subpart will depend upon application of the criteria and principles established in § 2.300(b).

(b) The following minimum standards shall apply to any committee of an independent scientific or technical organization which is working pursuant to a contract initially executed with the Food and Drug Administration subsequent to July 1, 1975, but which is determined not to be a public advisory committee:

(1) The committee shall give public notice of its meetings and agenda, and shall provide any interested person an opportunity to submit data, information, and views, in writing at any time, and orally at specified times, relevant to the matter which is the subject of the contract. Such notice may be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER or disseminated by any other reasonable means, and shall in any event be filed with the Hearing Clerk not less than 15 days before the meeting. The length of time permitted for oral presentations and the extent to which the committee meets in open session other than for such oral presentations is in the discretion of the committee.

(2) Minutes of all open sessions shall be maintained, to which shall be attached all written submissions made to the committee in open session. After approval, such minutes shall be forwarded to the Hearing Clerk and placed on public display. The extent to which the committee maintains minutes of closed sessions is at the discretion of the committee.

(3) In selecting the members of the Committee, the organization involved shall apply the same principles relating to conflicts of interest as the Food and Drug Administration does in establishing a public advisory committee. Such principles are set out or cross-referenced in this subpart and in Subpart G of this Part. Upon request, the Food and Drug Administration will assist or provide guidance to any such organization in meeting this requirement.

§ 2.322 Application of anticancer clauses.

Whenever the Commissioner concludes that it is appropriate to obtain an independent review of any scientific issue involving application of the anticancer clauses in section 409(c) (3) (A), 512(d) (1) (H), or 706(b) (5) (B) of the act, including whether a substance has been found to induce cancer when ingested by man or animal, and whether a substance has been found, after appropriate tests other than ingestion, to induce cancer in man or animal, he shall ordinarily refer such matter to the Toxicology Advisory Committee which shall hold a public hearing and provide advice and recommendations to the Commissioner on such matter, except as specifically required by the provisions of section 706(b) (5) (C) of the act and § 2.363(a) (2) relating to color additives.

MEMBERS OF PUBLIC ADVISORY COMMITTEES

§ 2.330 Qualifications for members of standing policy and technical advisory committees.

(a) Members of policy advisory committees, which advise the Commissioner on broad and general matters, shall possess the following qualifications:

(1) Policy advisory committee members shall possess diverse interests, education, training, and experience. Technical expertise in the subject matter with which the advisory committee is involved shall not be a requirement.

(2) Policy advisory committee members are special government employees and are subject to the conflict of interest laws and regulations. The Commissioner has determined that, because members representing particular interests, e.g., a representative of labor, industry, consumers, or agriculture, are included on advisory committees specifically for the purpose of representing such interests, any financial interest covered by 18 U.S.C. 208(a) in the class which the member represents is irrelevant to the services which the government expects from them and thus is hereby exempted pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 208(b) as too remote and inconsequential to affect the integrity of their services.

(3) All members of policy advisory committees shall be voting members.

(b) Members of technical advisory committees, which advise on specific regulatory issues, shall possess the following qualifications:

(1) Voting members of technical advisory committees:

(i) Shall possess expertise in the particular subject matter with which the committee is concerned. Members shall have diverse professional education, training, and experience so that the committee will reflect a balanced composition of sufficient scientific expertise to handle the problems that come before it.

(ii) Are special government employees, subject to the conflict of interest laws and regulations.

(2) The Commissioner may, in his discretion, provide for nonvoting members of a technical advisory committee to serve as representatives of and liaison with interested organizations. Nonvoting members of technical advisory committees:

(i) Shall be selected by the interested organizations, as provided in § 2.332. Technical expertise in the subject matter with which the advisory committee is involved shall not be a requirement.

(ii) Are special government employees subject to the conflict of interest laws and regulations, except as provided in § 2.332(e).

(c) No person may serve as a voting or nonvoting member on more than one Food and Drug Administration advisory committee unless the Commissioner determines in writing that such dual membership will facilitate the work of the committees involved and is in the public interest.

(d) Members of Food and Drug Administration advisory committees and the chairman thereof shall be appointed from among those nominated pursuant to §§ 2.331 and 2.333 and from any other sources by the Secretary, the Assistant Secretary for Health, or the Commissioner, pursuant to duly promulgated procedures and delegations of authority.

(e) Members appointed to an advisory committee shall continue to serve for the duration of the advisory committee, or until their terms of appointment expire, they resign, or are removed from membership by the Commissioner.

(f) An advisory committee member may be removed from membership by the Commissioner for good cause. Good cause shall include excessive unjustified absenteeism from advisory committee meetings, a demonstrated bias which interferes with the ability to render objective advice, failure to abide by the procedures established in this subpart, or violation of other applicable rules and regulations, e.g., for nonvoting members, the provisions of § 2.333(c).

§ 2.331 Nominations of voting members of standing advisory committees.

(a) The Commissioner shall publish one or more notices in the FEDERAL REGISTER each year requesting nominations for voting members of all existing standing advisory committees. Each such notice shall list separately the standing advisory committees covered by the notice in which it is known that vacancies will occur during the next 12 months and in which vacancies are not expected but may occur. The notice shall invite the submission of nominations for voting members for any vacancies from any interested individual as well as from consumer, industry, and professional organizations for the advisory committees listed.

(b) The notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER announcing the establishment of a new standing advisory committee pursuant to § 2.301(b) shall invite the submission of nominations for voting members for such advisory committee.

(c) Any interested person may nominate one or more qualified persons as a member of a particular advisory committee. Nominations shall specify the advisory committee for which the nominee is recommended. A complete curriculum vitae of the nominee shall be included. Nominations shall state that the nominee is aware of the nomination, is willing to serve as a member of the advisory committee, and appears to have no conflict of interest which would preclude committee membership.

(d) Voting members of standing technical advisory committees shall serve as individuals and not as representatives of any group or organization which nominated them or with which they may be affiliated.

§ 2.332 Nominations and selection of nonvoting members of standing technical advisory committees.

(a) The provisions of this section shall apply whenever the Commissioner concludes, in his discretion, that a standing technical advisory committee should include nonvoting members in order to represent and serve as a liaison with interested individuals and organizations.

(b) Except where the Commissioner determines otherwise, non-voting members of a standing technical advisory committee shall be limited to one member selected by consumer groups and organizations and one person selected by industry groups and organizations.

(c) With respect to any nonvoting member representing consumer interests, the Commissioner shall publish a notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER requesting nominations for each specific standing technical advisory committee for which he has determined that nonvoting members are appropriate.

(1) A period of 60 days shall be permitted for submission of such nominations for that particular advisory committee. Any interested person may nominate one or more qualified persons as a nonvoting member of a particular advisory committee to represent consumer interests. Interested persons may, in addition, nominate one or more qualified persons for general consideration as a nonvoting member of any advisory committee to represent consumer interests. All nominations shall be submitted in writing to Director, Office of Consumer Programs (HFC-1), Office of Assistant Commissioner for Professional and Consumer Programs, Food and Drug Administration, Rm. 15B-41, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852.

(2) A complete curriculum vitae of any nominee shall be included. Nominations shall state that the nominee is aware of the nomination, is willing to serve as a member of an advisory committee, and appears to have no conflict of interest. If a nominee is interested only in a particular advisory committee, the nomination shall so state. If a nominee is interested in becoming a member of any advisory committee, the nomination shall so state. Nominations which do not comply with the requirements of this paragraph shall not be considered.

(3) The Director, Office of Consumer Affairs, shall compile a list of organizations representing consumers or otherwise involved in consumer affairs, who shall be entitled to vote upon the nominees. Any organization which qualifies as a consumer organization may be included on such list upon request.

(4) After the time for nominations has expired, the curriculum vitae for each of the nominees shall be sent to each of the organizations on the list compiled pursuant to paragraph (c) (3) of this section and to any other person submitting a nomination, together with a ballot to be filled out and returned within 30 days. After the time for return of the ballots has expired, the ballots shall be counted and the nominee who has received the highest number of votes shall be selected as the nonvoting member representing consumer interests for that particular advisory committee. In the event of a tie, the Commissioner shall select the winner by lot from among those tied for the highest number of votes.

(d) With respect to any nonvoting member representing industry interests, the Commissioner shall issue in the FEDERAL REGISTER, for each specific standing technical advisory committee for which he has determined that nonvoting members are appropriate, a notice requesting that any industry organization interested in participating in the selection of an appropriate nonvoting member representing industry interests send a letter stating that interest to the Food and Drug Administration employee designated in the notice within 30 days. After the time for such expression of interest has expired, a letter shall be sent to each organization which has expressed such an interest, attaching a complete list of all such organizations, and stating that it is their responsibility to consult with each other in selecting a single nonvoting member representing industry interests for that particular advisory committee within 60 days after receipt of the letter. If no such individual is so selected within that period of time, the Commissioner shall select the nonvoting member representing industry interests to serve on that advisory committee.

(e) The Commissioner has determined that, because nonvoting members representing consumer and industry interests are included on advisory committees specifically for the purpose of representing such interests and have no vote, any financial interest covered by 18 U.S.C. 208(a) in the class which the member represents is irrelevant to the services which the government expects from them and thus is hereby exempted pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 208(b) as too remote and inconsequential to affect the integrity of their services.

§ 2.333 Rights and responsibilities of nonvoting members of advisory committees.

(a) A nonvoting member of an advisory committee selected to represent and serve as a liaison with interested individuals, associations, and organizations, shall have the same rights as any other advisory committee member except that:

(1) A nonvoting member shall not vote on any matter before the advisory committee except such procedural matters as additional rules adopted pursuant to § 2.309(a), approval of minutes pursuant to § 2.313(a), decisions relating to transcripts pursuant to § 2.314(b), and future meeting dates.

(2) A nonvoting member shall not have access to data and information that constitute a trade secret or confidential commercial or financial information as defined in § 4.61 of this chapter.

(b) A nonvoting member of an advisory committee is subject to, and shall abide by, all rules and regulations adopted by the Food and Drug Administration and the advisory committee.

(c) It is the responsibility of the nonvoting consumer and industry members of an advisory committee to represent the consumer and industry interests in all deliberations.

(1) A nonvoting member does not represent any particular organization or group, but rather represents all interested persons within the class which he is selected to represent. Accordingly, any interested person within the class represented by that nonvoting member shall have access to all written statements or oral briefings related to the committee prepared by the nonvoting member for distribution to any person outside the advisory committee.

(2) The nonvoting member shall review all official advisory committee minutes to assure their completeness and accuracy.

(3) The nonvoting member shall act as a liaison and conduit between the advisory committee and the interested persons whom he represents, and shall transmit requests for information from the committee and relevant data, information, and views to the committee. He shall take the initiative in contacting interested persons whom he represents, to seek out relevant data, information, and views, and to relate the progress of the advisory committee.

(4) A nonvoting industry member shall represent all members of the industry, and not any particular association, company, product, or ingredient. If a matter comes before the committee that directly or indirectly affects the company which employs the nonvoting industry member, he shall so inform the committee but need not absent himself during the discussion or decline to participate in the discussion. A nonvoting industry member shall not discuss his company's position as such, but may discuss any matter in general terms. All presentations and discussions of scientific data and their interpretation on behalf of a company shall occur in open session, except as provided in § 2.305(c).

(5) A nonvoting member of an advisory committee shall not make any presentation to that advisory committee during a hearing conducted by that advisory committee.

(6) Although a nonvoting member is serving in a representative capacity, he shall exercise restraint in performing his functions and shall not engage in unseemly advocacy or attempt to exert undue influence over the other members of the committee.

(d) A nonvoting member of an advisory committee may be removed by the Commissioner for failure to comply with the provisions of this section as well as § 2.330(f).

§ 2.334 Ad hoc advisory committee members.

In selecting members of an ad hoc advisory committee, the Commissioner may utilize the procedures established in §§ 2.331 and 2.332 or any other procedure he concludes to be appropriate under the circumstances.

§ 2.335 Compensation of public advisory committee members.

(a) All voting and nonvoting advisory committee members shall (1) be appointed as special government employees, except for members of the Technical Electronic Product Radiation Safety Standards Committee, and (2) receive a consultant fee and be reimbursed for their travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, unless such compensation and reimbursement is waived.

(b) An advisory committee member, notwithstanding his primary residence, while in attendance at meetings of the full committee, or of a subcommittee, will be paid whether the meetings are held in the Washington, DC area or elsewhere.

(c) An advisory committee member who participates in any agency-directed assignment will be paid at an hourly rate when he performs his work at his home, place of business, or in a Food and Drug Administration facility located within his commuting area, and at a daily rate when he is required to travel outside of his commuting area to perform his assignment. An advisory committee member will not be paid for time spent on normal preparation for a committee meeting.

(1) An agency-directed assignment is an assignment which meets the following criteria:

(i) An activity which requires undertaking a definitive study. The activity must produce a tangible end product, usually a written report. Examples are (a) an analysis of the risks and benefits of the use of a class of drugs or a report on a specific problem generated by an IND or NDA; (b) the performance of similar investigations or analysis of complex industry submissions to support advisory committee deliberations other than normal meeting preparation; (c) the preparation of a statistical analysis leading to an estimate of toxicologically safe dose levels; and (d) the design or analysis of animal studies of toxicity, mutagenicity, teratogenicity, or carcinogenicity.

(ii) The performance of an IND or NDA review or similar review.

(2) An advisory committee member who undertakes a special assignment, the end product of which does not represent the end product of the advisory committee, but rather of his own assignment, can be compensated. Should such preparatory work by advisory committee members collectively result in an end product of the advisory committee, this is to be considered normal meeting preparation and advisory committee members are not to be compensated for this work.

(d) Salary while in travel status is authorized when an advisory committee member has his ordinary pursuits interrupted for the substantial portion of an additional day beyond the day or days on which he performs services, and as a consequence he sustains a loss in his regular compensation. This applies on weekends and holidays if the special government employee suffers a loss in income he would otherwise earn on that day. For travel purposes, a substantial portion of a day is defined as 50 percent of the working day, and the traveler will be paid at a daily rate.

STANDING ADVISORY COMMITTEES

§ 2.340 List of standing advisory committees.

The following standing advisory committees have been established for the Food and Drug Administration.

(a) Office of the Commissioner—(1) Board of Tea Experts. (i) Date established: March 2, 1897.

(ii) Function: Advises on establishment of uniform standards of purity, quality, and fitness for consumption of all tea imported into the United States pursuant to 21 U.S.C. 42.

(2) National Advisory Food and Drug Committee. (i) Date established: November 15, 1974.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates agency programs and advises on policy matters of national significance as they relate to the statutory mission of the Food and Drug Administration in the areas of foods, drugs, cosmetics, medical devices, biological products, and electronic products. Reviews and makes recommendations on applications for grants-in-aid for research projects relevant to the mission of the Food and Drug Administration as required by law.

(3) Toxicology Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: December 9, 1974.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates available data relating to the evaluation of the safety of chemicals present in foods, drugs, cosmetics, and medical devices. Advises on the safety of specific human drugs, animal drugs, color and food additives, cosmetic components, and components of devices. Recommends the development of standardized methodologies for the toxicity testing of such materials.

(b) Bureau of Biologics. (1) Advisory review panels for biological products, and dates established. (i) Bacterial Vaccines and Bacterial Antigens Panel. Established December 22, 1972.

(ii) Bacterial Vaccines and Toxoids Panel. Established April 16, 1973.

(iii) Viral Vaccines and Rickettsial Vaccines Panel. Established April 16, 1973.

(iv) Skin Test Antigens Panel. Established August 24, 1973.

(v) Allergenic Extracts Panel. Established August 24, 1973.

(vi) Blood and Blood Derivatives Panel. Established August 24, 1973.

(2) Function: Reviews and evaluates available data concerning the safety and effectiveness of biological products.

(c) Bureau of Drugs—(1) Anti-Infective Agents Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: August 30, 1967.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates available data concerning safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational prescription drugs for use in infectious diseases.

(2) Arthritis Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: April 5, 1974.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates available data concerning the safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational prescription drugs for use in arthritic conditions.

(3) Biometric and Epidemiological Methodology Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: March 7, 1968.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates scientific studies and data with respect to, and otherwise advises the Commissioner on, epidemiological and biometrical methodology.

(4) Cardiovascular and Renal Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: August 27, 1970.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates available data concerning safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational prescription drugs for use in cardiovascular and renal disorders.

(5) Controlled Substances Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: September 27, 1973.

(ii) Function: Advises the Commissioner regarding the scientific and medical evaluation of all information gathered by the Department of Justice and the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare with regard to safety, effectiveness, and abuse potential of drugs or other substances classified as stimulants, sedatives, hypnotics, or analgesics, and recommends actions to be taken with regard to control of such substances.

(6) Dental Drug Products Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: June 6, 1972.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates available data concerning safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational prescription drugs for use in the practice of dentistry.

(7) FDA/NIDA Drug Abuse Research Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: March 9, 1967.

(ii) Function: Advises the Food and Drug Administration on action to be taken with respect to investigational use of substances with abuse potential. Advises the National Institute on Drug Abuse on supplies of substances for clinical studies and on quantities of substances for animal and in vitro studies. Advises FDA and NIDA on development of broad outlines for studies of substances with abuse potential and on new methods and tests in animals and man by which the dependence liability of investigational drugs may be estimated.

(8) Endocrinology and Metabolism Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: August 27, 1970.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates available data concerning safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational prescription drugs for use in endocrine and metabolic disorders.

(9) Gastrointestinal Drugs Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: January 3, 1974.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates available data concerning the safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational prescription drugs for use in gastrointestinal diseases.

(10) Neurologic Drugs Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: June 4, 1974.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates available data concerning safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational prescription drugs for use in neurologic disease.

(11) Obstetrics and Gynecology Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: August 31, 1965.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates available data concerning safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational prescription drugs for use in the practice of obstetrics and gynecology.

(12) Oncologic Drugs Advisory Committee. (i) Date established: October 24, 1973.

(ii) Function: Reviews and evaluates available data concerning the safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational prescription drugs for use in the (f) National Center for Toxicological Research, Science Advisory Board. (1) Date established: June 2, 1973.

(2) Function: Advises on establishment and implementation of a research program that will assist the Commissioner of Food and Drugs and the Administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, in fulfilling their regulatory responsibilities.

TECHNICAL ELECTRONIC PRODUCTS RADIATION SAFETY STANDARDS COMMITTEE

§ 2.350 Establishment of the Technical Electronic Product Radiation Safety Standards Committee (TEPRSSC).

The Technical Electronic Product Radiation Standards Committee (TEPRSSC), consisting of 15 members, is established pursuant to the Radiation Control for Health and Safety Act of 1968 (42 U.S.C. 263f (f) (1) (A)). The purpose of TEPRSSC is to provide consultation with the Commissioner before he prescribes any performance standard for an electronic product, as required by law.

§ 2.351 Functions of TEPRSSC.

(a) In performing its function of advising the Commissioner, TEPRSSC:

(1) May propose electronic product radiation safety standards to the Commissioner for his consideration.

(2) Shall provide consultation to the Commissioner on all performance standards proposed for consideration under 42 U.S.C. 263f.

(3) May make recommendations to the Commissioner on any other matters it deems necessary or appropriate in fulfilling the purposes of the act.

(b) Responsibility for action with respect to performance standards under 42 U.S.C. 263f rests with the Commissioner, after receiving the advice of TEPRSSC.

§ 2.352 Procedures of TEPRSSC.

(a) When the Commissioner is considering promulgation of a performance standard for an electronic product, or any amendment of an existing standard, he shall, prior to issuance of a proposed regulation in the FEDERAL REGISTER, submit to TEPRSSC the proposed standard or amendment under consideration, together with other relevant information to aid TEPRSSC in its deliberations.

(b) The agenda and other material to be considered at any meeting shall be sent to members whenever possible at least 2 weeks prior to the meeting.

(c) Ten members shall constitute a quorum, provided at least three members from each group specified in 42 U.S.C. 263f (f) (1) (A) and in § 2.353 (a), i.e., government, industry, and the public, are present.

(d) The chairman of TEPRSSC shall ordinarily submit to the Commissioner a report of the committee's consideration of any proposed performance standard for an electronic product within 60 days after such consideration. If the chairman believes that more time is needed, he shall so inform the Director of the Bureau of Radiological Health in writing, in which case an additional 30 days will be allowed to make the report.

(e) The provisions of §§ 2.300 through 2.319 shall be applicable to TEPRSSC, except where other provisions are specifically included in §§ 2.350 through 2.354.

§ 2.353 Membership of TEPRSSC.

(a) The members shall be appointed by the Commissioner after consultation with public and private associations and organizations concerned with the technical aspect of electronic product radiation safety. TEPRSSC shall consist of fifteen members, each of whom shall be technically qualified by training and experience in one or more fields of science or engineering applicable to electronic product radiation safety, as follows:

(1) Five members shall be selected from government agencies, including State and Federal governments.

(2) Five members shall be selected from the affected industries after consultation with industry representatives.

(3) Five members shall be selected from the general public, of whom at least one shall be a representative of organized labor.

(b) The Commissioner shall appoint a committee member as chairman of TEPRSSC.

(c) Appointments of members shall be for a term of 3 years or as specified by the Commissioner.

(1) The chairman shall be appointed for a term concurrent with his term as a member of TEPRSSC. If the chairmanship becomes vacant without adequate notice, the executive secretary may appoint a committee member as temporary chairman pending appointment of a new chairman by the Commissioner.

(2) Members shall not be reappointed for a second consecutive full term.

(d) A person otherwise qualified for membership shall not be eligible for selection as a member of TEPRSSC from government agencies or the general public if the Commissioner determines that he does not meet the requirements of the conflict of interest laws and regulations.

(e) Retention of membership is conditioned upon:

(1) The member's continued status as a member of the group from which he was selected as specified in paragraph (a) of this section.

(2) The absence of any conflict of interest during the term of membership as specified in paragraph (d) of this section.

(3) Active participation in TEPRSSC activities.

(f) Appointment as a member of TEPRSSC shall be conditioned upon a certification from the prospective member that he:

(1) Agrees to the procedures and criteria as specified in this subpart.

(2) Has no conflict of interest as specified in paragraph (d) of this section.

(3) Will notify the executive secretary of TEPRSSC prior to any change in his representative status on TEPRSSC which may be contrary to the conditions of his appointment.

(g) Members of TEPRSSC who are not full-time officers or employees of the United States shall, in accordance with 42 U.S.C. 210 (c), receive compensation pursuant to the provisions of § 2.335.

§ 2.354 Conduct of TEPRSSC meetings: availability of TEPRSSC records.

(a) In accordance with 42 U.S.C. 263 (f) (1) (B), all proceedings of TEPRSSC shall be open, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, and shall be recorded, and the record of each such proceeding shall be available for public inspection.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section with respect to open meetings shall not apply where TEPRSSC:

(1) Considers any information which contains or relates to a trade secret or other matter referred to in 18 U.S.C. 1905 and thus in accordance with 42 U.S.C. 263 (e) may not be publicly disclosed.

(2) Meets in executive session to formulate and vote on its recommendations or to consider administrative matters.

COLOR ADDITIVE ADVISORY COMMITTEES

§ 2.360 Establishment of a color additive advisory committee.

The Commissioner shall establish a color additive advisory committee whenever:

(a) The Commissioner concludes, in his discretion, that it would be in the public interest for a color additive advisory committee to review and make recommendations with respect to the safety of any color additive on which important issues are pending before the Food and Drug Administration, and for interested persons to present data, information, and views at an oral public hearing before a color additive advisory committee.

(b) Any person who would be adversely affected by the issuance, amendment, or repeal of a regulation listing a color additive requests that any issue relating to the safety of the color additive arising under section 706 (b) (5) (B) of the act because of the color additive's potential or actual carcinogenicity and requiring the exercise of scientific judgment be referred to a color additive advisory committee.

(1) The provisions of paragraph (b) of this section are inapplicable to any issue arising under the transitional provisions in section 203 of the Color Additive Amendments of 1960 relating to provisional listing of commercially established colors. Any color additive advisory committee to consider any such matter shall be established pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section.

(2) A request for establishment of a color additive advisory committee shall be pursuant to § 2.7. The Commissioner may deny any such petition if inadequate grounds are stated for establishment of a color additive advisory committee. A request for establishment of a color additive advisory committee may not rest on mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing there is a genuine and substantial issue of fact that requires scientific judgment and justifies a hearing before a color additive advisory committee. When it conclusively appears from the request for a color additive advisory committee that the matter is premature or that it does not involve an issue arising under section 706 (b) (5) (B) of the act or there is no genuine and substantial issue of fact requiring scientific judgment or for any other reason a color additive advisory committee is not justified, the Commissioner may deny the establishment of a color additive advisory committee.

(3) Establishment of a color additive advisory committee on the request of an interested person shall be conditioned upon receipt of the applicable fee specified in § 2.364.

(4) Any person so adversely affected may request referral of such a matter to a color additive advisory committee at any time before, or within 30 days after, publication of an order of the Commissioner acting upon a color additive petition or proposal.

§ 2.361 Functions of a color additive advisory committee.

(a) A color additive advisory committee shall review all available information relating to the matter referred to it, including all data and information contained in any pertinent color additive petition and in Food and Drug Administration files. All such data and information so reviewed shall be placed on public display and available for review at the office of the Hearing Clerk.

(b) The Commissioner shall specify to the color additive advisory committee, in writing, the issues on which review and recommendations are requested.

(c) The date of the first meeting of a color additive advisory committee, following receipt of the administrative record by each of the committee members, shall be designated as the beginning of the period allowed for consideration of the matter by the color additive advisory committee. Within 60 days after that first meeting, unless the time is extended as provided in paragraph (d) of this section, the chairman of the color additive advisory committee shall certify to the Commissioner the report containing the recommendations of the color additive advisory committee, including any minority report. The report shall state the recommendations of the color additive advisory committee and the reasons or basis for such recommendations. The report shall include copies of all material considered by the color additive advisory committee in addition to the administrative record furnished to it.

(d) If the chairman concludes that the color additive advisory committee needs additional time, he shall so inform the Commissioner in writing and may certify the report of the color additive advisory committee to the Commissioner within 90 days instead of 60 days.

(e) More than one matter may be handled by a color additive advisory committee concurrently.

§ 2.362 Procedures of a color additive advisory committee.

(a) A color additive advisory committee shall be subject to all the requirements of the Federal Advisory Committee Act and this subpart.

PROPOSED RULES

(b) All interested persons shall have a right to consult with the color additive advisory committee reviewing a matter, and to submit data, information, and views to a color additive advisory committee, in accordance with the procedures established in this subpart.

§ 2.363 Membership of a color additive advisory committee.

(a) The members of a color additive advisory committee shall be selected in the following manner:

(1) If a color additive advisory committee is established for purposes that do not include review of an issue arising under section 706(b)(5)(B) of the act, or is established on the initiative of the Commissioner, the Commissioner may utilize the procedure established in paragraph (a)(2) of this section to select the members, or may utilize an existing standing advisory committee listed in § 2.340, or may establish a new advisory committee pursuant to the provisions of this subpart. Once the Commissioner has established a color additive advisory committee pursuant to this paragraph and has referred to it a matter relating to a color additive, no interested person may subsequently request that an additional or different color additive advisory committee be established to review and make recommendations with respect to that color additive.

(2) If the Commissioner establishes a color additive advisory committee to review an issue arising under section 706(b)(5)(B) of the act on the request of an interested person, it shall be established pursuant to the following requirements.

(i) Except as provided in paragraph (a)(2)(ii) and (iii) of this section, the Commissioner shall request the National Academy of Sciences to select the members of a color additive advisory committee from among experts qualified in the subject matter to be reviewed by the committee, and of adequately diversified professional backgrounds. The Commissioner shall appoint one of the members so selected as the chairman.

(ii) If the National Academy of Sciences is unable or refuses to select the members of a color additive advisory committee, the Commissioner shall select such members, who shall ordinarily be the Toxicology Advisory Committee in accordance with § 2.322.

(iii) If the Commissioner and the requesting party agree, the provisions of section 706(b)(5)(D) of the act may be waived and the matter may be referred to any standing advisory committee listed under § 2.340 or to any advisory committee established pursuant to any other procedure that is mutually agreeable, which shall ordinarily be the Toxicology Advisory Committee in accordance with § 2.322. Once the Commissioner has so established a color additive advisory committee and has referred to it a matter relating to a color additive, no interested person may subsequently request that an additional or different color additive advisory committee be established to review and make recommendations with respect to that color additive.

(b) Members of a color additive advisory committee shall be subject to the requirements of the Federal Advisory Committee Act and this subpart, except that no member of a color additive advisory committee shall by reason of such membership alone be a special government employee or be subject to the conflict of interest laws and regulations.

§ 2.364 Fees and compensation pertaining to a color additive advisory committee.

(a) In the event of a referral of any matter to a color additive advisory committee, all costs related thereto, including personal compensation of committee members, travel, materials, and other costs, shall be borne by the person requesting the referral, such costs to be assessed on the basis of actual cost to the government. The compensation of such costs shall include personal compensation of color additive advisory committee members at a rate not to exceed $128.80 per member per day.

(b) In the case of a request for referral to a color additive advisory committee, a special advance deposit shall be made in the amount of $2,500.00. Where required, further advances in increments of $2,500.00 each shall be made upon request of the Commissioner. All deposits for referrals to a color additive advisory committee in excess of actual expenses shall be refunded to the depositor.

(c) All deposits and fees required by the regulations in this section shall be paid by money order, bank draft or certified check drawn to the order of the Food and Drug Administration, collectable at par in Washington, DC. All deposits and fees shall be forwarded to the Associate Commissioner for Administration, Food and Drug Administration, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852, whereupon after making appropriate record thereof they will be transmitted to the Treasurer of the United States for deposit in the special account "Salaries and Expenses, Certification, Inspection, and Other Services, Food and Drug Administration."

(d) The Commissioner may waive or refund such fees in whole or in part when, in his judgment, such action will promote the public interest. Any person who believes that payment of these fees will work a hardship on him may petition the Commissioner pursuant to § 2.7 to waive or refund the fees.

PUBLIC ADVISORY COMMITTEES FOR HUMAN PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

§ 2.370 Establishment of standing technical public advisory committees for human prescription drugs.

The standing technical advisory committees for human prescription drugs are established to advise the Commissioner:

(a) Generally on the safety and effectiveness, including the labeling and advertising, and regulatory control of any of the human prescription drugs falling within the pharmacologic class covered by the advisory committee and on the scientific standards appropriate for a determination of safety and effectiveness in that class of drugs.

(b) Specifically on any particular matter involving a human prescription drug pending before the Food and Drug Administration, including whether the available data and information are adequate to support a determination that:

(1) A particular IND study may properly be conducted.

(2) A particular drug meets the statutory standard for proof of safety and effectiveness necessary for approval or continued approval for marketing.

(3) A particular drug is properly classified as a new drug, an old drug, or a banned drug.

§ 2.371 Utilization of a public advisory committee on the initiative of the Food and Drug Administration.

(a) Any matter involving a human prescription drug under review within the agency may, in the discretion of the Commissioner, be the subject of a public hearing and continuing or periodic review by the appropriate standing technical advisory committee for human prescription drugs. The Commissioner's determinations with respect to the agenda of such an advisory committee shall be based upon the priorities of the various matters pending before the agency which fall within the pharmacologic class covered by that advisory committee.

(b) High priority for such hearing and review by the appropriate standing technical advisory committee for human prescription drugs shall be given to the following types of human prescription drugs:

(1) Investigational drugs which are potential therapeutic advances over currently marketed products from the standpoint of safety or effectiveness, or which pose significant safety hazards, or which present narrow benefit-risk considerations requiring a close judgmental decision in regard to approval for marketing, or which have a novel delivery system or formulation, or which are the subject of major scientific or public controversy, or which may be subject to special regulatory requirements such as a limitation on clinical trials, a patient followup requirement, post-marketing Phase IV studies, distributional controls, or boxed warnings.

(2) Marketed drugs for which an important new use has been discovered, or which pose newly discovered safety hazards, or which are the subject of major scientific or public controversy, or which may be subject to important regulatory actions such as withdrawal of approval for marketing, boxed warnings, distributional controls, or newly required scientific studies.

(c) The advisory committee may request the Commissioner for an opportunity to hold a public hearing and to review any matter involving a human prescription drug which falls within the pharmacologic class covered by the advisory committee. The Commissioner shall, after consulting with the advisory committee on such request, grant or deny the request in light of the priorities of the other matters pending before the advisory committee. Whenever feasible, consistent with the other work of the advisory committee, such a request shall be granted.

(d) For any drug which meets any of the criteria established in paragraph (b) of this section, one or more members of or consultants to the appropriate advisory committee may be selected for more detailed monitoring of the matter and consultation with the Food and Drug Administration on behalf of the committee. Such member or consultant may be invited by the agency to attend appropriate meetings and shall assist the bureau in any briefing of the committee with respect to that matter.

(e) An advisory committee may obtain advice and recommendations from the Toxicology Advisory Committee, the Biometric and Epidemiological Methodology Advisory Committee, and from such other agency advisory committees, consultants and experts as the advisory committee and the bureau conclude would facilitate the work of the advisory committee.

(f) Presentation of all relevant data and information relating to any such matter shall be made in open session unless it relates to an IND the existence of which has not previously been disclosed to the public as defined in § 4.81 of this chapter or is otherwise prohibited from public disclosure pursuant to the provisions of Part 4 of this chapter and the regulations referenced therein.

The provisions of §§ 314.14, 431.71, and 601.51 of this chapter shall determine whether, and the extent to which, relevant data and information shall be made available for public disclosure, summarized and discussed in open session but not otherwise made available for public disclosure, or not in any way discussed or disclosed in open session or otherwise disclosed to the public.

§ 2.372 Advice and recommendations in writing.

Advice and recommendations given by an advisory committee with respect to a specific drug or a class of drugs shall ordinarily be in the form of a written report. Such written report may consist of the approved minutes of the meeting or a separate written report. Such written report shall respond to the specific issues or questions which the Commissioner has addressed to the advisory committee, and shall state the basis of the advice and recommendations of the advisory committee.

§ 2.373 Utilization of a public advisory committee at the request of an interested person.

Any interested person may request, pursuant to § 2.7 of this Part, that a specific matter relating to a particular human prescription drug be submitted to an appropriate advisory committee for a hearing and review and recommendations. Any such request shall demonstrate the importance of the matter and the reasons why it should be submitted for a hearing and at that time. The Commissioner may, in his discretion, grant or deny any such request.

PROPOSED RULES

Subpart E—Public Hearing Before the Commissioner

§ 2.400 Scope of subpart.

Subpart E governs the practices and procedures applicable whenever:

(a) The Commissioner concludes, in his discretion, that it is in the public interest to permit interested persons to present data, information, and views at a public hearing on any particular matter, or class of matters, of importance pending before the Food and Drug Administration.

(b) Pursuant to specific provisions in other sections of this chapter, a matter pending before the Food and Drug Administration is subject to a public hearing before the Commissioner. Such specific provisions are in § 330.10(a)(8) of this chapter relating to review of the safety, effectiveness, and labeling of over-the-counter drugs.

(c) A person who has right to an opportunity for a formal evidentiary public hearing under Subpart B of this Part waives that opportunity and in lieu thereof requests pursuant to § 2.117 of this Part a public hearing before the Commissioner pursuant to this Subpart E, and the Commissioner, in his discretion, accepts this request.

§ 2.401 Notice of a public hearing before the Commissioner.

(a) If the Commissioner determines that a public hearing before the Commissioner should be held on any matter, he shall publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice of hearing setting forth the following information:

(1) If the hearing is pursuant to § 2.400 (a) or (b):

(i) The purpose of the hearing and the subject matter to be considered. If any written document is to be the subject matter of the hearing, it shall be published as part of the notice, or reference shall be made to it if it has already been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or the notice shall state that the document is available from the Hearing Clerk or an agency employee designated in the notice.

(ii) The time, date, and place of the hearing, or a statement that such information shall be contained in a subsequent notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(2) If the hearing is in lieu of a formal evidentiary hearing pursuant to § 2.400 (c), all of the information described in § 2.117(e) of this Part.

(b) The scope of the hearing shall be determined by the notice of hearing and any specific provisions in other sections of this chapter. If any such specific provision, e.g., § 330.10(a)(10) of this chapter, limits a hearing to review of an existing administrative record, data and information not already included in the record shall not be submitted or considered at the hearing.

§ 2.402 Notice of appearance: schedule for hearing.

(a) The notice of hearing shall provide interested persons an opportunity to file a written notice of appearance with the Hearing Clerk within a specified period of time in the form and pursuant to the requirements specified in § 2.131. If the public interest requires that such a hearing be conducted within a short period of time, the notice may name a specific Food and Drug Administration employee, together with his telephone number, to whom an oral notice of appearance shall be given. A written or oral notice of appearance shall be received by the Hearing Clerk, or other designated person, by the close of business of the day specified in the notice.

(b) A notice of appearance shall state the approximate amount of time requested by the person for his presentation. Individuals and organizations with common interests are urged to consolidate or coordinate their presentations.

(c) Promptly after expiration of the time specified in the notice for the filing of a notice of appearance, the Commissioner shall determine the amount of time allocated to each such person for his oral presentation and the time that oral presentation is scheduled to begin. Each such person shall be so informed in writing or, if the time prior to the hearing is short, by telephone. The Commissioner may require joint presentations by persons with common interests.

(d) The Commissioner shall prepare a hearing schedule showing the persons making oral presentations and the time allotted to each such person, which shall be filed with the Hearing Clerk and mailed or telephoned to each such person and, if time permits, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 2.403 Conduct of a public hearing before the Commissioner.

(a) The Commissioner or his designee shall preside at the hearing, except where specific provisions in other sections of this chapter require that the Commissioner preside personally. The presiding officer may be accompanied by other Food and Drug Administration employees or other Federal government employees designated by the Commissioner, who may serve as a panel in conducting the hearing.

(b) The hearing shall be transcribed.

(c) Each person may use his allotted time in whatever way he wishes, consistent with a reasonable and orderly hearing. A person may be accompanied by any number of additional persons, and may present any written data, information, or views for inclusion in the record of the hearing, subject to the requirements of § 2.404.

(d) If a person is not present at the time, specified for his presentation, the persons following will appear in order. An attempt will be made to hear any such person at the conclusion of the hearing. Any other interested persons attending the hearing who did not request an opportunity to make an oral presentation shall be given an opportunity to make an oral presentation at the conclusion of the hearing, in the discretion of the presiding officer, to the extent that time permits.

(e) The presiding officer and any other persons serving with him as a panel may question any person during or at the conclusion of his presentation. No other person attending the hearing may question a person making a presentation. The presiding officer may allot additional time to any person when he concludes that it is in the public interest, but may not reduce the time allotted for any person without their consent.

(f) The hearing shall be informal in nature, and the rules of evidence shall not apply. No motions or objections relating to the admissibility of data, information, and views shall be made or considered, but other participants may comment upon or rebut all such data, information, and views. No participant may interrupt the presentation of another participant at any hearing for any reason.

§ 2.404 Written submissions pertaining to a public hearing before the Commissioner.

Any interested person may submit data, information, or views on the matter that is the subject of the hearing in writing to the Hearing Clerk, pursuant to § 2.5. The record of the hearing shall remain open for 15 days after the hearing is held for any additional written submissions, unless the notice of the hearing specifies otherwise or the presiding officer rules otherwise at the hearing.

§ 2.405 Administrative record of a public hearing before the Commissioner.

(a) The administrative record of a public hearing before the Commissioner shall consist of the following:

(1) All relevant FEDERAL REGISTER notices, including any documents to which they refer.

(2) All written submissions pursuant to § 2.404.

(3) The transcript of the oral hearing.

(b) The record of the administrative proceeding shall be closed at the time specified in § 2.404.

§ 2.406 Examination of administrative record.

The availability for public examination and copying of each document which is a part of the administrative record of the hearing shall be governed by the provisions of § 2.5(j). Each document which is available for public examination or copying shall be placed on public display in the office of the Hearing Clerk promptly upon receipt in that office.

Subpart F—Regulatory Hearing Before the Food and Drug Administration

§ 2.500 Scope of subpart.

Subpart F governs the practices and procedures applicable whenever:

(a) The Commissioner is considering any regulatory action, including a refusal to act, and concludes, in his discretion, on his own initiative or at the suggestion of any person, to offer an opportunity for a regulatory hearing to obtain additional information before he makes a decision or takes action.

(b) Any provision in any regulation of this chapter provides any person with an opportunity for a hearing with respect to any regulatory action, including proposed action, and such regulation either specifically provides an opportunity for a regulatory hearing pursuant to this subpart or provides an opportunity for a hearing but does not specify the procedures for such hearing and such procedures are not specified in other provisions of this chapter. Such sections are:

(1) Section 202.1(j)(5), relating to approval of prescription drug advertisements.

(2) Section 8.27(b), relating to refusal to certify a batch of a color additive.

(3) Section 8.28(b), relating to suspension of certification service for a color additive.

(4) Section 8.33(a), relating to use of food containing a new color additive.

(5) Section 10.5(l), relating to a temporary permit to vary from a food standard.

(6) Section 121.75(b), relating to use of food containing an investigational food additive.

(7) Section 511.1(b)(5), relating to use of food containing an investigational new animal drug.

(8) Section 511.1(c)(1), relating to termination of an INAD for an investigator.

(9) Section 511.1(c)(4) and (d), relating to termination of an INAD for a sponsor.

(10) Section 514.210, relating to suspension of certification service for a veterinary antibiotic drug.

(11) Section 312.1(c)(1), relating to whether an investigator is entitled to receive investigational new drugs.

(12) Sections 312.1(c)(4) and (d), relating to termination of an IND for a sponsor.

(13) Section 312.9(c), relating to termination of an IND for tests in vitro and in laboratory research animals for a sponsor.

(14) Section 429.50, relating to suspension of certification service for an insulin drug.

(15) Section 431.52, relating to suspension of certification service for an antibiotic drug.

(16) Section 433.2(d), relating to exemption from certification for an antibiotic drug.

(17) Section 433.12(b)(5), relating to an exemption from labeling for a certifiable antibiotic drug.

(18) Section 433.13(b), relating to an exemption from manufacturing use for a certifiable antibiotic drug.

(19) Section 433.14(b), relating to an exemption for storage for a certifiable antibiotic drug.

(20) Section 433.15(b), relating to an exemption for processing for a certifiable antibiotic drug.

(21) Section 433.16(b), relating to an exemption for repackaging for a certifiable antibiotic drug.

(22) Section 1003.11(a)(3), relating to the failure of an electronic product to comply with an applicable standard or to a defect in an electronic product.

(23) Section 1003.31(d), relating to denial of an exemption from notification requirements for an electronic product which fails to comply with an applicable standard.

(24) Section 1004.6, relating to plan for repurchase, repair, or replacement of an electronic product.

(25) Section 1210.30, relating to denial, suspension, or revocation of a permit under the Federal Import Milk Act.

(26) Any other provision in the regulations in this chapter under which a party who is adversely affected by regulatory action is entitled to an opportunity for a hearing, and no other procedural provisions in this part are by regulation applicable to such hearing.

§ 2.501 Inapplicability and limited applicability.

(a) The provisions of this subpart are inapplicable to the following:

(1) Informal presentation of views before reporting a criminal violation pursuant to section 305 of the act and § 1.6 of this chapter, and section 5 of the Federal Import Milk Act and § 1210.31 of this chapter.

(2) A hearing with respect to a refusal of admission of a food, drug, device, or cosmetic pursuant to section 801(a) of the act and § 1.318 of this chapter, or of an electronic product pursuant to section 360(a) of the Public Health Service Act and § 1005.20 of this chapter.

(b) The provisions of this subpart are applicable to hearings conducted pursuant to specific procedural provisions in other sections of this chapter to the extent that the provisions of this subpart are in addition to the provisions in such other sections and not in conflict with them, e.g., the right to counsel, public notice of the hearing, reconsideration and stay, and judicial review. Such other sections include Subpart A of Part 90 of this chapter, relating to emergency permit control.

§ 2.505 Presiding officer.

(a) Any Food and Drug Administration employee to whom the Commissioner delegates such authority, or any other agency employee designated by an employee to whom such authority is delegated, may serve as the presiding officer at and conduct a regulatory hearing pursuant to the provisions of this subpart.

(b) The presiding officer shall be free from bias or prejudice and shall not have participated in the investigation or action that is the subject of the hearing or be subordinate to a person who has participated in such investigation or action.

(c) A different presiding officer may be substituted for the one originally designated pursuant to §§ 2.510 and 2.511 without notice to the parties.

§ 2.506 Right to counsel.

Any party to a hearing pursuant to this subpart shall have the right at all times to be advised and accompanied by counsel.

§ 2.510 Regulatory hearing on the initiative of the Commissioner.

(a) A regulatory hearing on the initiative of the Commissioner pursuant to § 2.500(a) shall be initiated by a notice of opportunity for hearing from the Food and Drug Administration.

(1) Such notice shall be sent by registered mail, telegram, telex, personal delivery, or any other mode of written communication.

(2) Such notice shall specify the facts and the action that are the subject of the opportunity for a hearing.

(3) Such notice shall state that the notice of opportunity for hearing and the hearing are governed by the provisions of this subpart.

(4) Such notice shall state the time within which a hearing shall be requested, shall be signed by the Food and Drug Administration employee who will be the presiding officer in the event a hearing is held, and shall state the name, address, and telephone number of the presiding officer.

(b) Any person offered an opportunity for a hearing shall have the amount of time specified in the notice, which shall be not less than 3 working days after receipt of such notice, within which to request a hearing. Such request may be filed by registered mail, telegram, telex, personal delivery, or any other mode of written communication, addressed to the presiding officer. If no response is filed within such time, the offer shall be deemed to have been refused and no hearing shall be held.

(c) If a hearing is requested, such hearing shall take place at a time and location agreed upon by the party requesting the hearing and the presiding officer or, if such agreement cannot be reached, at a reasonable time and location designated by the presiding officer.

(d) A notice of opportunity for hearing under this section shall not operate to delay or stay any administrative action, including enforcement action of any kind, by the agency unless the Commissioner, in his discretion, determines that delay or a stay is in the public interest.

§ 2.511 Regulatory hearing pursuant to regulation.

(a) A regulatory hearing pursuant to a regulation listed in § 2.500(b) shall be initiated by a notice of opportunity for hearing from the Food and Drug Administration.

(1) Such notice shall be sent by registered mail, telegram, telex, personal delivery, or any other mode of written communication.

(2) Such notice shall specify the facts and the action that are the subject of the opportunity for hearing, and shall state whether the action is or is not being taken pending the hearing pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section.

(3) Such notice shall state that the notice of opportunity for hearing and the hearing are governed by the provisions of this subpart.

(4) Such notice shall state the time within which a hearing shall be requested, and shall state the name, address, and telephone number of the Food and Drug Administration employee to whom any request for hearing shall be addressed.

(b) Any person offered an opportunity for hearing shall have the amount of time specified in the notice, which shall be not less than 3 working days after receipt of such notice, within which to request a hearing. Such request may be filed by registered mail, telegram, telex, personal delivery, or any other mode of written communication, addressed to the presiding officer. If no response is filed within such time, the offer shall be deemed to have been refused and no hearing shall be held.

(c) If a hearing is requested, the Commissioner shall designate a presiding officer and such hearing shall take place at a time and location agreed upon by the party requesting the hearing and the presiding officer or, if such agreement cannot be reached, at a reasonable time and location designated by the presiding officer. The hearing may not be required to be held at a time less than two working days subsequent to receipt of the request for hearing.

(d) Before the hearing, the Food and Drug Administration shall give to the party requesting the hearing reasonable notice of the matters to be considered at the hearing, including a comprehensive statement of the basis for the decision or action taken or proposed that is the subject of the hearing and a general summary of the information that will be presented by the Food and Drug Administration at the hearing in support of such decision or action. Such information may be given orally or in writing, in the discretion of the Commissioner.

(e) The Commissioner may take such action pending a hearing pursuant to this section as he concludes is necessary to protect the public health, except where expressly prohibited by statute or regulation. A hearing to consider action already taken, and not stayed by the Commissioner, shall be conducted on an expedited basis.

(f) On the basis of the administrative record of the hearing specified in § 2.513(a), the Commissioner shall issue a written decision stating the reasons for his administrative action and the basis in the record.

§ 2.512 Hearing procedure.

(a) A regulatory hearing may be conducted in private or may be a public hearing, as determined by the party requesting the hearing.

(1) The party requesting the hearing shall inform the presiding officer or other designated agency employee at the time that he requests the hearing, whether it will be a private or public hearing. If the party requesting the hearing fails to state whether the hearing shall be private or public, it shall be a private hearing.

(2) If the hearing is a private hearing, no persons other than the party requesting the hearing, his counsel and witnesses, and an employee or consultant or other person subject to a commercial arrangement as defined in § 4.81(a) of this chapter, and Food and Drug Administration representatives, shall be entitled to attend.

(3) If the hearing is a public hearing, it shall be announced on the public calendar described in § 2.21(a) whenever feasible, and any interested person who attends the hearing may participate to the extent of presenting relevant information.

(b) A regulatory hearing shall be conducted by a presiding officer. Employees of the Food and Drug Administration shall first give a full and complete statement of the action which is the subject of the hearing, together with the information and reasons supporting it, and may present any oral or written information relevant to the hearing. The party requesting the hearing shall then have the right to present any oral or written information relevant to the hearing. All parties may confront and conduct reasonable cross-examination of any person (except for the presiding officer and counsel for the parties) who makes any statement with respect to the matter at the hearing.

(c) The hearing shall be informal in nature, and the rules of evidence shall not apply. No motions or objections relating to the admissibility of data, information, and views shall be made or considered, but any other party may comment upon or rebut all such data, information, and views.

(d) The Commissioner may, in his discretion, order the hearing to be transcribed. The party requesting the hearing shall have the right to have the hearing transcribed, at his expense, in which case a copy of such transcription shall be furnished to the Food and Drug Administration and included with the presiding officer's report of the hearing. Any transcription of the hearing shall be included with the presiding officer's report of the hearing.

(e) The presiding officer shall prepare a written report of the hearing. All written material presented at the hearing shall be attached to the report. Whenever time permits, the parties to the hearing shall be given the opportunity to review and offer corrections to the presiding officer's report of the hearing.

§ 2.513 Administrative record of a regulatory hearing.

(a) The record of the administrative proceeding shall consist of the following:

(1) The notice of opportunity for hearing and the response thereto.

(2) All written data, information, and views submitted to the presiding officer at the hearing.

(3) Any transcript of the hearing.

(4) The presiding officer's report of the hearing.

(b) The record of the administrative proceeding shall be closed with respect to the submission of data, information, and views, at the close of the hearing, unless the presiding officer specifically permits additional time for a further submission.

§ 2.514 Examination of administrative record.

The availability for public disclosure of each document which is a part of the administrative record of a regulatory hearing shall be governed by the provisions of Part 4 of this chapter and the regulations referenced therein.

§ 2.515 Record for administrative decision.

(a) With respect to any matter which is subject to an opportunity for a hearing pursuant to §§ 2.500(a) and 2.510, the administrative record of the hearing specified in § 2.513(a) shall be considered by the Commissioner together with all other relevant data and information available to the Food and Drug Administration in determining whether regulatory action should be taken and, if so, what form of regulatory action should be taken.

(b) With respect to any matter which is subject to an opportunity for a hearing pursuant to §§ 2.500(b) and 2.511, the administrative record of the hearing specified in § 2.513(a) shall constitute the exclusive record for decision.

§ 2.516 Reconsideration and stay of action.

Following any final administrative action which is the subject of a hearing pursuant to this subpart or any provision referenced in § 2.501(b), any party may petition the Commissioner for reconsideration of any part or all of such decision or action pursuant to § 2.8 or may petition for a stay of such decision or action pursuant to § 2.9.

§ 2.520 Judicial review.

The availability of judicial review with respect to any regulatory action which is the subject of a hearing pursuant to this subpart shall be governed by the provisions of § 2.11.

Subpart G—Standards of Conduct and Conflicts of Interest

§ 2.600 Scope of subpart.

Subpart G governs the standards of conduct for, and establishes regulations to prevent conflicts of interest by, all Food and Drug Administration employees.

§ 2.610 Reference to Department regulations.

(a) The provisions of 45 CFR Part 73, establishing standards of conduct for all Department employees, are fully applicable to all Food and Drug Administration employees, except that such regulations shall be applicable to special government employees, i.e., consultants to the Food and Drug Administration, only to the extent stated in Subpart L of 45 CFR Part 73.

(b) The provisions of 45 CFR Part 73a supplement the Department standards of conduct and apply only to Food and Drug Administration employees except special government employees.

§ 2.611 Code of ethics for government service.

The following code of ethics, adopted by Congress on July 11, 1958, shall apply to all Food and Drug Administration employees:

CODE OF ETHICS FOR GOVERNMENT SERVICE

Any person in Government service should:

1. Put loyalty to the highest moral principles and to country above loyalty to persons, party, or Government department.

2. Uphold the Constitution, laws, and legal regulations of the United States and of all governments therein and never be a party to their evasion.

3. Give a full day's labor for a full day's pay; giving to the performance of his duties his earnest effort and best thought.

4. Seek to find and employ more efficient and economical ways of getting tasks accomplished.

5. Never discriminate unfairly by the dispensing of special favors or privileges to anyone, whether for remuneration or not; and never accept, for himself or his family, favors or benefits under circumstances which might be construed by reasonable persons as influencing the performance of his governmental duties.

6. Make no private promises of any kind binding upon the duties of office, since a Government employee has no private word which can be binding on public duty.

7. Engage in no business with the Government, either directly or indirectly, which is inconsistent with the conscientious performance of his governmental duties.

8. Never use any information coming to him confidentially in the performance of governmental duties as a means for making private profit.

9. Expose corruption wherever discovered.

10. Uphold these principles, ever conscious that public office is a public trust.

§ 2.612 Food and Drug Administration Conflict of Interest Review Board.

(a) The Commissioner shall establish a permanent five-member Conflict of Interest Review Board, which shall review and make recommendations to the Commissioner on all specific or policy matters relating to conflicts of interest arising within the Food and Drug Administration that are forwarded to it by

(1) the Associate Commissioner for Administration or (2) anyone who is the subject of an adverse determination by the Associate Commissioner for Administration on any matter arising under the conflict of interest laws, except a determination of an apparent violation of law. The Director, Division of Personnel Management, Office of the Associate Commissioner for Administration, shall serve as executive secretary of the Review Board.

(b) It shall be the responsibility of every Food and Drug Administration employee with whom any specific or policy issue relating to conflicts of interest is raised, or who otherwise wishes to have any such matter resolved, to forward the matter to the Associate Commissioner for Administration for resolution, except that reporting of apparent violations of law are governed by § 2.613.

(c) All general policy relating to conflicts of interest shall be established in guidelines pursuant to the provisions of § 2.19(b) and whenever feasible shall be incorporated in regulations in this subpart.

(d) All decisions relating to specific individuals shall be placed in a public file established for this purpose by the Public Records and Documents Center, e.g., a determination that a consultant may serve on an advisory committee with specific limitations or with public disclosure of stock holdings, except that such determination shall be written in a way that does not identify the individual in the following situations:

(1) A determination that an employee must dispose of prohibited financial interests or refrain from incompatible outside activities in accordance with established Department or agency regulations.

(2) A determination that a proposed consultant is not eligible for employment by the agency.

(3) A determination that public disclosure of any information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy in violation of § 4.63 of this chapter.

§ 2.613 Duty to report violations.

(a) The Policy Management Staff, Associate Commissioner for Administration, is responsible for obtaining factual information for the Food and Drug Administration on any matter relating to allegations of misconduct, impropriety, conflict of interest, or other violations of Federal statutes by agency personnel.

(b) Any Food and Drug Administration employee who has factual information showing or who otherwise believes that any present or former Food and Drug Administration employee has violated or is violating any provision of this subpart or of 45 CFR Parts 73 or 73a or of any statute listed in Appendix A to 45 CFR Part 73 should report such information directly to the Policy Management Staff. Any such reports shall be in writing or shall with the assistance of the Policy Management Staff be reduced to writing, and shall be promptly investigated.

(c) Any report pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section and any records relating to an investigation of such reports shall be maintained in strict confidence in the files of the Policy Management Staff, shall be exempt from public disclosure, and may be reviewed only by authorized Food and Drug Administration employees who are required to do so in the performance of their duties.

§ 2.620 Permanent disqualification of former employees.

No former Food and Drug Administration employee, including a special government employee, shall knowingly act as agent or attorney for anyone other than United States in connection with any judicial or other proceeding, application, request for a ruling or other determination, contract, claim, controversy, charge, accusation, or other particular matter involving a specific party or parties in which the United States is a party or has a direct and substantial interest and in which he participated personally and substantially through decision, approval, disapproval, recommendation, rendering of advice, investigation, or otherwise as a Food and Drug Administration employee.

§ 2.621 Temporary disqualification of former employees.

Within 1 year after termination of employment with the Food and Drug Administration, no former Food and Drug Administration employee, including a special government employee, shall appear personally before the Food and Drug Administration or other federal agency or court as agent or attorney for any person other than the United States in connection with any proceeding or matter in which the United States is a party or has a direct and substantial interest and which was under his official responsibility at any time within one year preceding termination of such responsibility. The term "official responsibility" means the direct administrative or operating authority, whether intermediate or final, and either exercisable alone or with others, and either personally or through subordinates, to approve, disapprove, or otherwise direct government action.

Subpart C—Organization

Subpart A—Delegations of Authority to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs

§ 5.1 Delegations from the Secretary and Assistant Secretary.

(a) The Assistant Secretary for Health has redelegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs with authority to redelegate (35 FR 606 as amended) all authority delegated to him by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare as follows:

(1) Functions vested in the Secretary under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 301 et seq.), the Filled Milk Act (21 U.S.C. 61-63), the Federal Import Milk Act (21 U.S.C. 141 et seq.), the Tea Importation Act (21 U.S.C. 41 et seq.), the Federal Cautious Poison Act (44 Stat. 1406), and The Fair Packaging and Labeling Act (15 U.S.C. 1451 et seq.), pursuant to section 12 of Reorganization Plan No. IV and Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1953, including authority to administer oaths vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by 7 U.S.C. 2217.

(2) Functions vested in the Secretary under section 301 (Research and Investigation); section 307 (International Cooperation); section 310 (Health Education and Information); section 311 (Federal-State Cooperation); and section 314(f) (Interchange of Personnel with States) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 241, 2421, 2420, 243, 246(f)) which relate to the functions of the Food and Drug Administration.

(3) Functions vested in the Secretary under sections 354 through 360F of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 263b through 263n) which relate to electronic product radiation control.

(4) Functions vested in the Secretary under section 361 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 264) which relate to the law enforcement functions of the Food and Drug Administration concerning the following products and activities: biologicals (including blood and blood products); interstate travel sanitation (except interstate transportation of etiologic agents under 42 CFR 72.25); food (including milk and food service sanitation and shellfish sanitation); and drugs, devices, cosmetics, and electronic products, and other items or products regulated by the Food and Drug Administration.

(5) Functions vested in the Secretary under sections 351 and 352 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 262 and 263) which relate to biological products.

(6) Functions vested in the Secretary pertaining to section 302(a) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 242(a)) which relate to the determination and reporting requirements with respect to the medicinal and scientific requirements of the United States for controlled substances.

(7) Functions vested in the Secretary pertaining to section 303 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 242a) which relate to the authorization of persons engaged in research on the use and effect of drugs to protect the identity of their research subjects with respect to drugs scheduled under Public Law 91-513 for which a notice of claimed exemption for an investigational new drug is filed with the Food and Drug Administration and with respect to all drugs not scheduled under Public Law 91-513.

(8) Functions vested in the Secretary pertaining to section 4 of the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970 (44 Stat. 1241) which relate to the determination of the safety and effectiveness of drugs or to approve new drugs to be used in the treatment of narcotic addicts.

(9) Functions vested in the Secretary pertaining to section 303(f) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 823(f)) which relate to the determination of the qualifications and competency of practitioners wishing to conduct research with controlled substances listed in Schedule I of the Act, and the merits of the research protocol.

(10) Functions vested in the Secretary pertaining to provisions of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 801 et seq.) which relate to administration of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 301 et seq.).

(11) Functions vested in the Secretary under section 404(b) of the Federal Meat Inspection Act (21 U.S.C. 679(b)) which relate to the detention of any carcass, part thereof, meat, or meat product of cattle, sheep, swine, goats, or equines.

(12) Functions vested in the Secretary under section 24(b) of the Poultry Products Inspection Act (21 U.S.C. 467f(b)) which relate to the detention of any poultry carcass, part thereof, or poultry product.

(13) Functions vested in the Secretary under the Egg Products Inspection Act (21 U.S.C. 1031 et seq.).

(14) Functions vested in the Secretary by amendments to the foregoing statutes subsequent to Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1953.

(15) Function of issuing all regulations of the Food and Drug Administration. The reservation of authority contained in Chapter 2-000 of the Department Organization Manual shall not apply.

(16) Functions vested in the Secretary under Executive Order 11490, section 1103(5), and those portions of sections 1103(1), 1103(3), 1103(4), 3001(2), 3001(3), 3002(1), 3002(2), 3002(3), 3004, and 3009 which relate to food, drugs, and biologicals. In the performance of these emergency functions the Commissioner shall coordinate his activities with the Administrator, Health Services and Mental Health Administration, in order that preemergency plans shall be developed in consonance with postattack organization plans and structure of the Department for the Emergency Health Service.

(17) Function vested in the Secretary of authorizing and approving miscellaneous and emergency expenses of enforcement activities.

(18) Function vested in the Secretary under the Federal Advisory Committee Act, Public Law 92-463, to make determinations that advisory committee meetings are concerned with matters listed in section 552(b) of title 5, U.S.C. and therefore may be closed to the public for those committees under the administrative jurisdiction of the Commissioner of Food and Drugs. This authority may not be redelegated. This authority is to be exercised in accordance with the requirements of the Act and only with respect to the following:

(i) Meetings, to the extent that they directly involve review, discussion or consideration of records of the Department which are exempt from disclosure under 5 U.S.C. 552(b) (4), (6), and (7), namely, (a) records containing trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person and privileged or confidential; (b) personnel, medical and similar files the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy; and (c) investigatory files compiled for law enforcement purposes;

(ii) Meetings to the extent that they involve the review, discussion, and evaluation of specific drugs and devices regulated by FDA which are intended to result in recommendations for regulatory decisions under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and which are concerned with matters listed in 5 U.S.C. 552(b) (4), (5), and (7);

(iii) Meetings held for the sole purpose of considering and formulating advice which the committee will give or any final report it will render. Provided:

(a) The meetings will involve solely the internal expression of views and judgments of the members and it is essential to close the meeting or portions thereof to protect the free exchange of such views and avoid undue interference with agency or committee operations, and such views if reduced to writing would be protected from mandatory disclosure under section 552(b) (5) of title 5 U.S.C.;

(b) The meeting is closed for the shortest time necessary, summarizing the work of the committee during the closed sessions, and a report, prepared by the executive secretary will be made available promptly to the public;

(c) When feasible, the public is given a timely opportunity to present relevant information and views to the committee; and

(d) Concurrence for closing the meetings for such purpose is obtained from the Office of the General Counsel and the Office of Public Affairs.

(19) Functions vested in the Secretary under the second sentence of section 309 (Health Conferences) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 242n) to call for a conference and invite as many health authorities and officials of State or local public or private agencies or organizations as deemed necessary or proper on subjects related to the functions of the Food and Drug Administration.

(20) Functions vested in the Secretary under section 501 (Gifts) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 219) to accept offers of unconditional gifts, of other than real property, provided such gifts are of $1,000 value or less and the total costs associated with acceptance of property will not exceed the cost of purchasing a similar item and the cost of normal care and maintenance.

(21) Functions vested in the Secretary under section 362 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 265) which relate to the prohibition of the introduction of foods, drugs, devices, cosmetics, and electronic products and other items or products regulated by the Food and Drug Administration into the United States when it is determined that it is required in the interest of public health when such functions relate to the law enforcement functions of the Food and Drug Administration.

(b) The Chief Counsel for the Food and Drug Administration and Assistant General Counsel in charge of the Division of Food and Drugs, Office of General Counsel, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, has been authorized to report apparent violations to the Department of Justice for the institution of criminal proceedings, pursuant to section 305 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, section 4 of the Federal Import Milk Act, and section 9(b) of the Federal Caustic Poison Act.

(c) The Assistant Secretary for Health has redelegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs, with authority to redelegate, the authority delegated to him by the Assistant Secretary for Administration and Management: (1) To certify true copies of any books, records, papers, or other documents on file within the Department, or extracts from such; to certify that true copies are true copies of the entire file of the Department; to certify the complete original record or to certify the nonexistence of records on file within the Department; and to cause the Seal of the Department to be affixed to such certifications and to agreements, awards, citations, diplomas, and similar documents.

(2) To establish volunteer service programs and accept volunteer services for use in the operation of a health care facility or the provision of health care under section 223 of the Public Health Services Act (42 U.S.C. 217b).

Subpart B—Redelegations of Authority from the Commissioner of Food and Drugs

§ 5.20 General redelegations of authority from the Commissioner to other officers of the Administration.

(a) Final authority of the Commissioner of Food and Drugs is redelegated as set forth in this subpart. Further redelegation of the authority vested herein is not authorized. Authority redelegated herein to a position by title may be exercised by a person officially designated to serve in such position in an acting capacity or on a temporary basis, unless prohibited by a restriction written into the document designating him as "acting" or unless not legally permissible.

(b) The Deputy Commissioner of Food and Drugs and the Associate Commissioner for Compliance are authorized to perform all the functions of the Commissioner of Food and Drugs.

§ 5.21 Delegations regarding hearings and review boards.

(a) The Directors and Deputy Directors of Bureaus, Regional Food and Drug Directors, Deputy Regional Food and Drug Directors, and District Directors are authorized to designate officials to hold informal hearings which relate to their assigned functions under sections 305, 404(b), and 801(a) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, section 6 of the Fair Packaging and Labeling Act, section 9(b) of the Federal Caustic Poison Act, and section 5 of the Federal Import Milk Act. Officials so designated are delegated authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by 7 U.S.C. 2217 (43 Stat. 803) to administer or to take from any person an oath, affirmation, affidavit, or deposition for use in any prosecution or proceeding under or in enforcement of any law as cited in this section.

(b) The Director and Deputy Director of the Bureau of Radiological Health are authorized to hold hearings under section 360(a) of the Public Health Service Act, and to designate officials to hold informal hearings under section 360(a) of the act.

§ 5.22 Delegations regarding imports.

(a) The Regional Food and Drug Directors, Deputy Regional Food and Drug Directors, and District Directors are authorized to designate officials who may request, under section 801(a) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, from the Secretary of the Treasury samples of foods, drugs, devices or cosmetics imported, or offered for import, in order to determine whether such articles are in compliance with the act.

(b) The Director and Deputy Director of the Bureau of Radiological Health, and the Director of the Division of Compliance of that Bureau are authorized to request, under section 360(a) of the Public Health Service Act, from the Secretary of the Treasury samples of electronic products imported or offered for import in order to determine whether such articles are in compliance with that act.

(c) The Director and Deputy Director of the Bureau of Radiological Health, and the Director of the Division of Compliance of that Bureau may, under section 360B(b) of the Public Health Service Act, exempt persons from issuing a certification as required by section 358 (h) of the act, for electronic products imported into the United States for testing, evaluation, demonstration, or training, which will not be introduced into commerce and upon completion of their function, will be destroyed or exported in accord with Bureau of Customs regulations.

(d) The Regional Food and Drug Directors, Deputy Regional Food and Drug Directors, and District Directors are authorized to exercise all of the functions of the Commissioner of Food and Drugs under section 362 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 265) that relate to the prohibition of the introduction of foods, drugs, devices, cosmetics, and electronic products and other items or products regulated by the Food and Drug Administration into the United States when it is determined that it is required in the interest of public health, and such functions relate to the law enforcement functions of the Food and Drug Administration.

§ 5.23 Delegations regarding certification of true copies and use of Department seal.

(a) The following officials are authorized to certify true copies of or extracts from any books, records, papers, or other documents on file within the Food and Drug Administration, to certify that copies are true copies of the entire file, to certify the complete original record, or to certify the nonexistence of records on file within the Administration, and to cause the seal of the Department to be affixed to such certifications:

(1) Associate and Deputy Associate Commissioners.

(2) Assistant and Deputy Assistant Commissioners.

(3) Director of the Executive Secretariat.

(4) Director and Deputy Director of the Office of Legislative Services.

(5) The FDA Regulations Officer and the Federal Register Liaison Officer and their alternates of the Office of the Associate Commissioner for Compliance.

(6) Directors and Deputy Directors of Bureaus and Executive Director and Deputy Executive Director of Regional Operations.

(7) Director of the Office of Planning and Evaluation, the Associate Director and Deputy Associate Director for Compliance, and the Directors of the Divisions of: Methadone Monitoring; Drug Product Quality; Drug Labeling Compliance; and Drug Manufacturing of the Bureau of Drugs.

(8) Associate Director for Management, the Associate Director and Deputy Associate Director for Compliance, and the Directors of the Divisions of: Regulatory Guidance; Food Technology; and Food Service of the Bureau of Foods.

(9) Associate Director and the Director of the Division of Compliance of the Bureau of Biologics.

(10) Director and Deputy Director of the Division of Compliance of the Bureau of Veterinary Medicine.

(11) Associate Director for Administration of the Bureau of Radiological Health, and the Director of the Division of Compliance of that Bureau.

(12) Assistant Director for Program Operations and the Director of the Division of Compliance of the Bureau of Medical Devices and Diagnostic Products.

(b) The following officials are authorized to cause the seal of the Department to be affixed to agreements, awards, citations, diplomas, and similar documents.

(1) Associate and Deputy Associate Commissioners.

(2) The Director of the Division of Personnel Management of the Office of Administration and the Chief of the Career Development and Training Branch of that Division and Office.

(c) The Federal Register Writer and his alternates of the Office of Compliance are authorized to certify true copies of Federal Register documents.

§ 8.28 Authority to refuse certification service.

(b) Any person who contests suspension of service shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

12. By amending § 8.33 by adding a sentence at the end of paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 8.33 Exemption of color additives for investigational use.

(a) * * * Any person who contests a refusal to grant such authorization shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 10—DEFINITIONS AND STANDARDS FOR FOOD

13. In Part 10, by revising § 10.2 to read as follows:

§ 10.2 Procedure for establishing a food standard.

(a) The procedure for establishing a food standard under section 401 of the act shall be governed by Part 2 of this chapter.

(b) Any petition for a food standard shall show that the proposal if adopted, would promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers.

(c) Any petition for a food standard shall assert that the petitioner commits himself to substantiate the information in the petition by evidence in a public hearing, if such a hearing becomes necessary.

(d) If a petitioner fails to appear, or to substantiate the information in his petition, at a public hearing on the matter, the Commissioner may either (1) withdraw the regulation and terminate the proceeding or (2) if he concludes that it is in accordance with the requirements of section 401 of the act, continue the proceeding and introduce evidence to substantiate such information.

14. By adding a new paragraph (1) to § 10.5 to read as follows:

§ 10.5 Temporary permits for interstate shipment of experimental packs of food varying from the requirements of definition and standards of identity.

(1) Any person who contests denial, modification, or revocation of a temporary permit shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 11—STANDARDS OF QUALITY FOR FOODS FOR WHICH THERE ARE NO STANDARDS OF IDENTITY

15. In Part 11, by revising § 11.1(e) to read as follows:

§ 11.1 General principles.

(e) The Commissioner of Food and Drugs, either on his own initiative or on behalf of any interested person who has submitted a petition, may establish, amend, or repeal, under Subpart B of this Part, a regulation prescribing a standard of quality for a food pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 80—DEFINITIONS AND STANDARDS OF IDENTITY FOR FOOD FOR SPECIAL DIETARY USES

16. In Part 80, by revising § 80.1(b) (4) to read as follows:

§ 80.1 Dietary supplements of vitamins and minerals: definition, identity, label statements.

(b) . . .

(4) Addition to or amendment of the list of permissible combinations of vitamins and/or minerals contained in paragraph (b) (1) of this section may be proposed by the Commissioner of Food and Drugs, on his own initiative, or upon petition by an interested person pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter. Any such petition shall include scientific data of a human nutritional and/or technological nature to support such addition or amendment as being consistent with the definition and purpose of dietary supplements as described by this section. The Commissioner, upon request, may extend the effective date of this section with respect to any particular product or class of products pending consideration and any administrative or court proceedings relating to any such petition, and may set a new effective date upon completion of the matter.

PART 90—EMERGENCY PERMIT CONTROL

17. In Part 90, by revising § 90.2(a) to read as follows:

§ 90.2 Establishment of requirements for exemption from section 401 of the act.

(a) Whenever the Commissioner finds after investigation that the distribution in interstate commerce of any class of food may, by reason of contamination with microorganisms during the manufacture, processing, or packing thereof in any locality, be injurious to health, and that such injurious nature cannot be adequately determined after such articles have entered interstate commerce, he shall promulgate regulations in Subpart B of this part establishing requirements and conditions governing the manufacture, processing, or packing of the food necessary to protect the public health. Such regulations may be proposed by the Commissioner on his own initiative or in response to a petition from any interested person pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 100—NUTRITIONAL QUALITY GUIDELINES FOR FOODS

18. In Part 100, by revising § 100.2 to read as follows:

§ 100.2 Petitions.

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs, on his own initiative, on the advice of the National Academy of Sciences or other experts, or on behalf of any interested person who has submitted a petition, may issue a proposal to issue, amend, or revoke a regulation prescribing a nutritional quality guideline for a class of foods, pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 102—COMMON OR USUAL NAMES FOR NONSTANDARDIZED FOODS

19. In Part 102, by revising § 102.2 to read as follows:

§ 102.2 Petitions.

(a) The Commissioner of Food and Drugs, either on his own initiative or on behalf of any interested person who has submitted a petition, may publish a proposal to issue, amend, or revoke, under Subpart B of this Part, a regulation prescribing a common or usual name for a food, pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter.

(b) If the principal display panel of a food for which a common or usual name regulation is established is too small to accommodate all mandatory requirements, the Commissioner may establish by regulation an acceptable alternative, e.g., a smaller type size. A petition requesting such a regulation, which would amend the applicable regulation, shall be submitted pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 121—FOOD ADDITIVES

20. In Part 121, by revising the introductory text of § 121.40(c) (1) to read as follows:

§ 121.40 Affirmation of generally recognized as safe (GRAS) status.

(c) (1) Persons seeking the affirmation of GRAS status of substances as provided for in § 121.3(e), except those subject to the NAS-NRC GRAS list survey (36 FR 20546), shall submit a petition for GRAS affirmation pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter. Such petition shall contain information to establish that the GRAS criteria as set forth in § 121.3(b) have been met, in the following form:

21. By revising § 121.4(b) (1) to read as follows:

§ 121.41 Determination of food additive status.

(b) (1) The Commissioner, on his own initiative or on the petition of any interested person, pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter, may issue a notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER proposing to determine that a substance is not GRAS and is a food additive subject to section 409 of the act. Any petition shall include all relevant data and information of the type described in § 121.74(b). The Commissioner will place all of the data and information on which he relies on public file in the office of the Hearing Clerk and will include in the FEDERAL REGISTER notice the name of the substance, its known uses, and a summary of the basis for the determination.

22. By revising § 121.55 to read as follows:

§ 121.55 Procedure for objections and hearings.

Objections and hearings relating to food additive regulations under section 409 (c), (d), or (h) of the act shall be governed by Part 2 of this chapter.

23. By revoking §§ 121.56, 121.57, 121.58, 121.59, 121.60, 121.61, 121.62, 121.63, 121.64, 121.65, 121.66, 121.67, 121.68, 121.69, 121.70, 121.71, and 121.73.

24. By revising § 121.72(b) to read as follows:

§ 121.72 Adoption of regulation on initiative of Commissioner.

(b) Action upon a proposal made by the Commissioner shall proceed as provided in Part 2 of this chapter.

25. By revising § 121.74 to read as follows:

§ 121.74 Procedure for amending and repealing tolerances or exemptions from tolerances.

(a) The Commissioner, on his own initiative or on the petition of any interested person, pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter, may propose the issuance of a regulation amending or repealing a regulation pertaining to a food additive or granting or repealing an exception for such additive.

(b) Any such petition shall include an assertion of facts, supported by data, showing that new information exists with respect to the food additive or that new uses have been developed or old uses abandoned, that new data are available as to toxicity of the chemical, or that experience with the existing regulation or exemption may justify its amendment or repeal. New data shall be furnished in the form specified in § 121.51 for submitting petitions.

26. By revising the introductory text of § 121.4000(c) to read as follows:

§ 121.4000 General.

(c) The Commissioner, on his own initiative or on the petition of any interested person, pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter, may propose an interim food additive regulation. A final order promulgating an interim food additive regulation shall provide that continued use of the substance in food is subject to each of the following conditions:

PART 202—PRESCRIPTION DRUG ADVERTISING

27. In Part 202, by adding a new paragraph (j) (5) to § 202.1 to read as follows:

§ 202.1 Prescription-drug advertisements.

(j) . . .
(5) The sponsor shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter with respect to any determination that prior approval is required for advertisements concerning a particular prescription drug, or that a particular advertisement is not approvable.

PART 310—NEW DRUGS

28. In Part 310, by revising § 310.200 (b) to read as follows:

§ 310.200 Prescription-exemption procedure.

(b) Prescription-exemption procedure for drugs limited by a new drug application. Any drug limited to prescription use under section 503(b) (1) (C) of the act shall be exempted from prescription-dispensing requirements when the Commissioner finds such requirements are not necessary for the protection of the public health by reason of the drug's toxicity or other potentiality for harmful effect, or the method of its use, or the collateral measures necessary to its use, and he finds that the drug is safe and effective for use in self-medication as directed in proposed labeling. A proposal to exempt a drug from the prescription-dispensing requirements of section 503(b) (1) (C) of the act may be initiated by the Commissioner or by any interested person. Any interested person may file a petition seeking such exemption, which petition may be pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter, or in the form of a supplement to an approved new drug application.

29. By revising § 310.303(b) to read as follows:

§ 310.303 Continuation of long term studies, records, and reports on certain drugs for which new drug applications have been approved.

(b) A proposal to require additional or continued studies with a drug for which a new drug application has been approved may be made by the Commissioner on his own initiative or on the petition of any interested person, pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter. Prior to issuance of such a proposal, the applicant will be provided an opportunity for a conference with representatives of the Food and Drug Administration. When appropriate, investigators or other individuals may be invited to participate in the conference. All requirements for special studies, records, and reports will be published in § 310.304.

PART 312—NEW DRUGS FOR INVESTIGATIONAL USE

30. In Part 312, by revising § 312.1 (c) (1) and (4), (d), and (g) to read as follows:

§ 312.1 Conditions for exemption of new drugs for investigational use.

(c) (1) Whenever the Food and Drug Administration has information indicating that an investigator has repeatedly or deliberately failed to comply with the conditions of these exempting regulations outlined in Form FD-1572 or FD-1573, set forth in paragraph (a) (12) and (13) of this section, or has submitted to the sponsor of the investigation false information in his Form FD-1572 or FD-1573 or in any required report, the Director, Bureau of Drugs, will furnish the investigator written notice of the matter complained of in general terms and offer him an opportunity to explain the matter in an informal conference and/or in writing. If an explanation is offered but not accepted by the Bureau of Drugs, the investigator shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter, on the question of whether the investigator is entitled to receive investigational new drugs.

(4) If the Commissioner determines, after the unreliable data submitted by the investigator are eliminated from consideration, that the data remaining are inadequate to support a conclusion that it is reasonably safe to continue the investigation, he will notify the sponsor who shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter. If a danger to the public health exists, however, he shall terminate the exemption forthwith and notify the sponsor of the termination. In such event the sponsor shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter on the question of whether the exemption should be reinstated.

(d) If the Director, Bureau of Drugs, finds that:

(1) The submitted "Notice of claimed investigational exemption for a new drug" contains an untrue statement of a material fact or omits material information required by said notice; or

(2) The results of prior investigations made with the drug are inadequate to support a conclusion that it is reasonably safe to initiate or continue the intended clinical investigations with the drug; or

(3) There is substantial evidence to show that the drug is unsafe for the purposes and in the manner for which it is offered for investigational use; or

(4) There is convincing evidence that the drug is ineffective for the purposes for which it is offered for investigational use; or

(5) The methods, facilities, and controls used for the manufacturing, processing, and packing of the investigational drug are inadequate to establish and maintain appropriate standards of identity, strength, quality, and purity as needed for safety and to give significance to clinical investigations made with the drug; or

(6) The plan for clinical investigations of the drugs described under section 10 of the "Notice of claimed investigational exemption for a new drug" is not a reasonable plan in whole or in part, solely for a bona fide scientific investigation to determine whether or not the drug is safe and effective for use; or

(7) The clinical investigations are not being conducted in accordance with the plan submitted in the "Notice of claimed investigational exemption for a new drug"; or

(8) The drug is not intended solely for investigational use, since it is being or is to be sold or otherwise distributed for commercial purposes not justified by the requirements of the investigation; or

(9) The labeling or other informational material submitted for the drug as required by section 7 of the "Notice of claimed investigational exemption for a new drug" or any other labeling of the drug disseminated within the United States by or on behalf of the sponsor fails to contain an accurate description of prior investigations or experience and their results pertinent to the safety and possible usefulness of the drug, including all relevant hazards, contraindications, side-effects, and precautions; or any promotional materials disseminated within the United States by or on behalf of the sponsor contains any representation or suggestion that the drug is safe or that

(10) The sponsor fails to submit accurate reports of the progress of the investigations with significant findings at intervals not exceeding 1 year; or

(11) The sponsor fails promptly to investigate and inform the Food and Drug Administration and all investigators of newly found serious or potentially serious hazards, contraindications, side-effects, and precautions pertinent to the safety of the new drug; he shall notify the sponsor and invite his immediate correction or explanation. A conference will be arranged with the Bureau of Drugs if requested. If the Bureau of Drugs does not accept the explanation or the correction submitted by the sponsor, the sponsor shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter on the question of whether his exemption should be terminated. Such hearing shall be requested within 10 days after receipt of notification that the explanation or correction is not acceptable. After evaluating all the available information including any explanation and/or correction submitted by the sponsor, if the Commissioner determines that the exemption should be terminated he shall notify the sponsor of the termination of the exemption and the sponsor shall recall unused supplies of the drug. If at any time the Commissioner concludes that continuation of the investigation presents a danger to the public health, he shall terminate the exemption forthwith and notify the sponsor of the termination. The Commissioner will inform the sponsor that the exemption is subject to reinstatement on the basis of additional submissions that eliminate such danger and will afford the sponsor an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Commissioner pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter on the question of whether the exemption should be reinstated. The sponsor shall recall the unused supplies of the drug upon notification of the termination.

(g) A "Notice of Claimed Investigational Exemption for a New Drug" which pertains to a product subject to the licensing provisions of the Public Health Service Act of July 1, 1944 (58 Stat. 682, as amended; 42 U.S.C. 201 et seq.), shall be submitted initially to the Director, Bureau of Biologics, 8800 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, MD 20814. Amendments of or supplements to such notice, and progress reports, consultations, or other communications with regard to the investigation, shall be directed to the Bureau of Biologics, which monitors the development of biological products subject to license under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act. A sponsor for a "Notice of Claimed Investigational Exemption for a New Drug" pertaining to such biologic shall substitute in reading this § 312.1 "Bureau of Biologics" for "Bureau of Drugs," wherever it appears.

31. By revising § 312.9(c)(2) to read as follows:

§ 312.9 New drugs for investigational use in laboratory research animals or in vitro tests.

(2) The continuance of the investigation is unsafe or otherwise contrary to the public interest or the drug is used for purposes other than bona fide scientific investigation. He shall notify the sponsor and invite his immediate correction. If the conditions of the exemption are not immediately met, the sponsor shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter. If the exemption is terminated, the sponsor shall recall or have destroyed the unused supplies of the drug.

PART 314—NEW DRUG APPLICATIONS

32. In Part 314, by revising the introductory paragraph of § 314.115 to read as follows:

§ 314.115 Withdrawal of approval of an application.

The Commissioner shall notify the person holding an approved new drug application, and all other persons who manufacture or distribute identical, related, or similar drug products as defined in § 310.6 of this chapter, and afford an opportunity for a hearing on a proposal to withdraw approval of the application as provided in section 505(e) of the act and in accordance with the procedure in §§ 314.200 and 314.201. If:

32a. By revising § 314.200 to read as follows:

§ 314.200 Notice of opportunity for hearing; notice of appearance and request for hearing; grant or denial of hearing.

(a) The notice to the applicant, and to all other persons who manufacture or distribute identical, related, or similar drug products as defined in § 310.6 of this chapter, of an opportunity for a hearing on a proposal by the Director of the Bureau of Drugs to refuse to approve an application or to withdraw the approval of an application will state the reasons for his action and the grounds upon which he proposes to issue his order.

(1) Such notice may be general (i.e., simply summarizing in a general way the information resulting in the notice) or specific (i.e., either referring to specific requirements in the statute and regulations with which there is a lack of compliance, or providing a detailed description and analysis of the specific facts resulting in the notice).

(2) The notice will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and will state that the applicant, and other persons subject to the notice pursuant to § 310.6 of this chapter, has 30 days after the date of publication of the notice within which he is required to file a written notice of appearance and request for hearing if he elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing. The failure to file such a written notice of appearance and request for hearing within that 30 days constitutes an election by the applicant, and other persons subject to the notice pursuant to § 310.6 of this chapter, not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing.

(3) It is the responsibility of every manufacturer or distributor of a drug product to review every notice of opportunity for hearing published in the FEDERAL REGISTER to determine whether it covers any drug product he manufactures or distributes. Any person may request an opinion of the applicability of such a notice to a specific product he manufactures or distributes that may be identical, related, or similar by writing to the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Drugs, Division of Drug Labeling Compliance, HFD-310, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852. If such an opinion is requested, the time for filing an appearance and request for hearing and supporting studies and analyses shall begin as of the date of receipt of the opinion from the Food and Drug Administration.

(b) The notice of opportunity for hearing shall be provided to applicants and to other persons subject to the notice pursuant to § 310.6 of this chapter:

(1) To any person who has submitted a new drug application, by delivering the notice in person or by sending it by registered or certified mail to the last address shown in the new drug application.

(2) To any person who has not submitted a new drug application but who is subject to the notice pursuant to § 310.6 of this chapter, by publication of the notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(c) (1) If the applicant, or any other person subject to the notice pursuant to § 310.6 of this chapter, elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, he shall file with the Hearing Clerk (1) within 30 days after the date of the publication of the notice (or of the date of receipt of an opinion requested pursuant to paragraph (a)(3) of this section) a written notice of appearance and request for hearing, and (ii) within 60 days after the date of publication of the notice, unless a different period of time is specified in the notice of opportunity for hearing, the studies on which he relies to justify a hearing as specified in paragraph (d) of this section. The raw data underlying a study submitted may be incorporated by reference from a prior submission as part of a new drug application or other report.

(2) No data or analysis submitted after such 60 days will be considered in determining whether a hearing is warranted unless they are derived from well-controlled studies begun prior to the date of the notice of opportunity for hearing, the results of which were not in existence during that 60 days. Exceptions may be made on the basis of a showing of inadvertent omission and hardship. All studies in progress, the results of which the person requesting the hearing intends later to submit in support of the request for hearing, shall be listed. A copy of the complete protocol, a list of the participating investigators, and a brief status report of the studies shall be included in the submission made pursuant to paragraph (c)(1)(ii) of this section.

(3) Any other interested person who is not subject to the notice of opportunity for hearing may also submit comments on the proposal to withdraw approval of the new drug application. Such comments shall be submitted within the time and pursuant to the requirements specified in this section.

(d) A request for hearing shall be supported by a submission as specified in paragraph (c)(1)(ii) of this section containing the studies (including all protocols and underlying raw data) on which the person relies to justify a hearing with respect to his drug product.

(1) If effectiveness is at issue, a request for hearing shall be supported only by adequate and well-controlled clinical studies meeting all of the precise requirements of § 314.111(a)(5) and, for combination drug products, § 300.50 of this chapter, or by other studies not meeting those requirements for which a waiver has been previously granted by the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to the provisions of § 314.111(a)(5). All adequate and well-controlled clinical studies on the drug product known to the person requesting the hearing shall be submitted. Any unfavorable analyses, views, or judgments with respect to such studies known to such person shall also be submitted. No other data, information, or studies shall be submitted.

(2) Such submission shall include a factual analysis of all studies submitted. If effectiveness is at issue, such analysis shall specify how each study accords, on a point-by-point basis, with each criterion required for an adequate well-controlled clinical investigation established in § 314.111(a)(5) and, if the product is a combination drug product, with each of the requirements for a combination drug established in § 300.50 of this chapter, or shall be accompanied by an appropriate waiver previously granted by the Food and Drug Administration. If a study deals with a drug entity or dosage form, or condition of use, or mode of administration other than the one(s) in question, such fact(s) shall be clearly stated. Any study conducted on the final marketed form of the drug product shall be so designated.

(3) Such analysis shall be submitted in the following format, except that the required information relating either to safety or to effectiveness shall be omitted if the notice of opportunity for hearing does not raise any issue with respect to that aspect of the drug; and information on compliance with § 300.50 shall be omitted if the drug product is not a combination drug product. Submissions not made in this format or not containing the required analyses will not be considered and will result in denial of a hearing, except that minor technical deficiencies may be excused if it is apparent that a good faith attempt has been made to comply with the requirements of this section tion and any deficiencies noted are immediately corrected upon request.

D. Pertinent marketing experiences that may influence a determination as to the safety of combinations of the individual active components.
II. Effectiveness data.
A. Individual active components: Controlled studies, with an analysis showing clearly how each study satisfies, on a point-by-point basis, each of the criteria required by § 314.111(a)(5).

B. Combinations of individual active components.
1. Controlled studies, with an analysis showing clearly how such study satisfies, on a point-by-point basis, each of the criteria required by § 314.111(a)(5).
2. An analysis showing clearly how each requirement of § 300.50 of this chapter has been satisfied.

III. A summary of the data and views setting forth the medical rationale and purpose for the drug and its ingredients and the scientific basis for the conclusion that the drug and its ingredients have been proven safe and/or effective for the intended use. If there is an absence of controlled studies in the material submitted, or the requirements of any element of § 300.50 of this chapter or § 314.111(a)(5) have not been fully met, such fact(s) shall be clearly stated, and a waiver obtained pursuant to § 314.111(a)(1) shall be enclosed.

IV. A statement signed by the person responsible for such submission, that it includes in full (or incorporates by reference as permitted in § 314.200(c)(2)) all studies and information specified in § 314.200(d). (Warning: A willfully false statement is a criminal offense, 18 U.S.C. 1001).

(e) A notice of opportunity for hearing encompasses all issues relating to the legal status of the drug product(s) subject to it, including identical, related, and similar drug products as defined in § 310.6 of this chapter. Any contention that any such product is not a new drug because it is generally recognized as safe and effective within the meaning of section 201(p) of the act, or because it is exempt from part or all of the new drug provisions of the act pursuant to the exemption for products marketed prior to June 25, 1938, contained in section 201(p) of the act, or pursuant to section 107(c) of the Drug Amendments of 1962, or for any other reason shall be stated in a notice of appearance and request for hearing pursuant to paragraph (c)(1)(i) of this section and supported by a submission pursuant to paragraph (c)(1)(ii) of this section and shall be the subject of an administrative determination by the Commissioner. The failure of any person subject to a notice of opportunity for a hearing, including any person who manufactures or distributes an identical, related, or similar drug product as defined in § 310.6 of this chapter, to submit a notice of appearance and request for hearing or to raise all such contentions on which he relies shall constitute a waiver of any such contentions not so raised.

(1) A contention that a drug product is generally recognized as safe and effective within the meaning of section 201(p) of the act must be supported by submission of the same quantity and quality of scientific evidence as is required to obtain approval of a new drug application for the product, unless a waiver has been obtained from such requirement for effectiveness (as provided in § 314.111(a)(5)) and/or safety for good cause shown. Such submission shall be in the format and with the analyses required by paragraph (d) of this section. The failure to submit such scientific evidence or a submission that is not in the format or does not contain the analyses required by paragraph (d) of this section shall constitute a waiver of any such contention. General recognition of safety and effectiveness shall ordinarily be based upon published studies which may be corroborated by unpublished studies and other data and information.

(2) A contention that a drug product is exempt from part or all of the new drug provisions of the act pursuant to the exemption for products marketed prior to June 25, 1938 contained in section 201(p) of the act, or pursuant to section 107(c) of the Drug Amendments of 1962, shall be supported by submission of evidence of past and present quantitative formulas, labeling, and evidence of marketing, on which reliance is made for such contention. The failure to submit such formulas, labeling, and evidence of marketing in the following format shall constitute a waiver of any such contention.

I. Formulation.

A. A copy of each pertinent document or record to establish the exact quantitative formulation of the drug (both active and inactive ingredients) on the date of initial marketing of the drug.

B. A statement whether such formulation has at any subsequent time been changed in any manner. If any such change has been made, the exact date, nature, and rationale for each change in formulation, including any deletion or change in the concentration of any active ingredient and/or inactive ingredient, shall be submitted, together with a copy of each pertinent document or record to establish the date and nature of each such change including but not limited to the formula which resulted from each such change. If no such change has been made, a copy of representative documents or records showing the formula at representative points in time shall be submitted to support the statement.

II. Labeling.

A. A copy of each pertinent document or record to establish the identity of each item of written, printed, or graphic matter used as labeling on the date the drug was initially marketed.

B. A statement whether such labeling has at any subsequent time been discontinued or changed in any manner. If such discontinuance or change has been made, the exact date, nature, and rationale for each such discontinuance or change shall be submitted, including but not limited to the labeling which resulted from each such discontinuance or change. If no such discontinuance or change has been made, a copy of representative documents or records showing labeling at representative points in time shall be submitted to support the statement.

III. Marketing.

A. A copy of each pertinent document or record to establish the exact date the drug was initially marketed.

B. A statement whether such marketing has at any subsequent time been discontinued. If such marketing has been discontinued, the exact date of each such discontinuance shall be submitted, together with a copy of each pertinent document or record to establish each such date.

IV. Verification.

A statement signed by the person responsible for such submission, that all appropriate records have been searched and to the best of his knowledge and belief it includes a true and accurate presentation of the facts (Warning: A willfully false statement is a criminal offense, 18 U.S.C. 1001).

(3) No drug product, including any active ingredient, which is identical, related, or similar, as defined in § 310.6, to a drug product, including any active ingredient for which a new drug application is or at any time has been effective or deemed approved, or approved under section 505 of the act, will be determined to be exempt from part or all of the new drug provisions of the act.

(4) A contention that a drug product is not a new drug for any other reason must be supported by submission of such factual records, data, and information as is necessary and appropriate to support such contention.

(5) It is the responsibility of every person who manufactures or distributes a drug product in reliance upon a "grandfather" provision(s) of the act to maintain in his files, organized as required by this paragraph, the data and information necessary fully to document and support such status.

(f) Upon receipt of any request for hearing, the Director of the Bureau of Drugs shall prepare an analysis of the request and a proposed order ruling upon the matter. The analysis and proposed order, the request for hearing, and any proposed order denying a hearing and response pursuant to paragraph (g) (2) or (3) of this section, shall be submitted to the office of the Commissioner for independent review and decision. No representative of the Bureau of Drugs shall participate or advise in the review and decision by the Commissioner. The office of the General Counsel shall observe the same separation of functions.

(g) A request for a hearing may not rest upon mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine and substantial issue of fact that requires a hearing with respect to the particular drug product(s) specified in the request for hearing.

(1) Where a specific notice of opportunity for hearing (as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of this section) is used, it shall state that, if it conclusively appears from the face of the data, information, and factual analyses in the request for the hearing that there is no genuine and substantial issue of fact which precludes the refusal to approve the application or the withdrawal of approval of the application, e.g., no adequate and well-controlled clinical investigations meeting each of the precise elements of § 314.111(a) (5) and, for a combination drug product, § 300.50 of this chapter, showing effectiveness have been identified, or when a request for hearing is not made in the required format or with the required analyses, the Commissioner will enter summary judgment against the person(s) who requests the hearing, making findings and conclusions, denying a hearing. Any such order entering summary judgment shall set forth the Commissioner's findings and conclusions in detail and shall specify why each study submitted fails to meet the requirements of the statute and regulations or why the request for hearing does not raise a genuine and substantial issue of fact or shall specify the requirements of this section with respect to format or analyses with which there is a lack of compliance.

(2) Where a general notice of opportunity for hearing (as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of this section) is used and the Director of the Bureau of Drugs concludes that summary judgment against the person(s) requesting a hearing should be considered, he shall serve upon such person(s) by registered mail a proposed order denying a hearing. Such person(s) shall have 60 days after receipt of such proposed order to respond with sufficient data, information, and analyses to demonstrate that there is a genuine and substantial issue of fact which justifies a hearing.

(3) Where a general or specific notice of opportunity for hearing is used and the person(s) requesting a hearing submits data or information of a type required by the statute and regulations, and the Director of the Bureau of Drugs concludes that summary judgment against such person(s) should be considered, he shall serve upon such person(s) by registered mail a proposed order denying a hearing. Such person(s) shall have 60 days after receipt of such proposed order to respond with sufficient data, information, and analyses to demonstrate that there is a genuine and substantial issue of fact which justifies a hearing.

(4) If review of the data, information, and analyses submitted warrants the conclusion that the ground(s) cited in the notice are not valid, e.g., that substantial evidence of effectiveness exists, the Commissioner shall deny the hearing, enter summary judgment for the person(s) requesting the hearing, and rescind the notice of opportunity for hearing.

(5) If a hearing is requested and is justified the hearing will commence no more than 90 days after the expiration of such 30 days unless the parties otherwise agree in the case of denial of approval, and as soon as practicable in the case of withdrawal of approval.

(6) A hearing shall be granted if there exists a genuine and substantial issue of fact or if the Commissioner concludes, in his discretion, that a hearing would otherwise be in the public interest.

(7) If the manufacturer or distributor of a drug product that may be an identical, related, or similar drug product requests and is granted a hearing, the issue whether the product is in fact identical, related, or similar to the drug subject to new drug application is properly encompassed within the hearing.

(8) A request for hearing, and any subsequent grant or denial of a hearing, shall be applicable only to the particular drug product(s) named in such documents.

(h) Any drug product subject to a notice of opportunity for hearing, including any identical, related, or similar drug product as defined in § 310.6 of this chapter, for which an opportunity for a hearing is waived or for which a hearing is denied shall promptly be the subject of a notice withdrawing the new drug application approval and declaring all such products unlawful. The Commissioner may, in his discretion, defer or stay such action pending a ruling on any related request for a hearing or pending any related hearing or other administrative or judicial proceeding.

33. By adding a new § 314.201 to read as follows:

§ 314.201 Procedure for hearings.

Hearings relating to new drugs under section 505 (d) and (e) of the act shall be governed by Part 2 of this chapter.

§§ 314.202, 314.203, 314.204, 314.205, 314.206, 314.220, 314.221, 314.222, 314.230, 314.231, 314.232 [Revoked].

34. By revoking §§ 314.202, 314.203, 314.204, 314.205, 314.206, 314.220, 314.221, 314.222, 314.230, 314.231 and 314.232.

35. By revising § 314.235 to read as follows:

§ 314.235 Judicial review.

(a) The transcript and record shall be certified by the Commissioner. In any case in which the Commissioner enters an order without a hearing pursuant to § 314.200(g), the requests for hearing together with the data and information submitted and the Commissioner's findings and conclusions shall be included in the record certified by the Commissioner.

(b) Judicial review of an order withdrawing approval of a new drug application, whether or not a hearing has been held, may be sought by a manufacturer or distributor of an identical, related, or similar drug product, as defined in § 310.6 of this chapter, in a United States court of appeals pursuant to section 505 (h) of the act.

PART 328—IN VITRO DIAGNOSTIC PRODUCTS FOR HUMAN USE

36. In Part 328, by revising § 328.30 (a) to read as follows:

§ 328.30 Procedure for establishing, amending or repealing standards.

(a) Basis for standards and available approaches to developing standards. Whenever in the judgment of the Commissioner the establishment of a product class standard is necessary to reduce or eliminate unreasonable risk of illness or injury associated with exposure to or use of an in vitro diagnostic product and there are no other more practicable means to protect the public from such risk, he may propose such a standard. In proposing a product class standard he shall consider, and publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER findings on, the degree of risk or injury associated with the use of the product, the availability of information relating to the sciences upon which the products or their uses are based, the approximate number of products subject to the standard, the medical need for the products, and the probable effect of the standard upon the utility, cost, or availability of the product, and available means of achieving the objective of the standard with a minimal disruption of supply and of reasonable manufacturing and other commercial practices. Three procedures are available for developing product class standards and may be proposed on the initiative of the Commissioner or by petition of interested persons, pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter:

(1) An existing standard may be utilized, (2) interested persons outside of the Food and Drug Administration may develop a proposed standard or (3) the Food and Drug Administration may develop the standard.

(1) An existing standard may be utilized, (2) interested persons outside of the Food and Drug Administration may develop a proposed standard or (3) the Food and Drug Administration may develop the standard.

PART 330—OVER-THE-COUNTER (OTC) HUMAN DRUGS WHICH ARE GENERALLY RECOGNIZED AS SAFE AND EFFECTIVE AND NOT MISBRANDED

37. In Part 330, by revising § 330.10 (a) (12) to read as follows:

§ 330.10 Procedures for classifying OTC drugs as generally recognized as safe and effective and not misbranded, and for establishing monographs.

(12) Amendment of monographs. The Commissioner may propose on his own initiative to amend or repeal any monograph established pursuant to this section. Any interested person may petition the Commissioner for such proposal, pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter. The Commissioner may deny the petition if he finds a lack of safety or effectiveness employing the standards in paragraph (a) (4) of this section (in which case the appeal provisions of paragraph (a) (11) of this section shall apply) or he may issue a proposed amendment or repeal in the FEDERAL REGISTER if he finds general recognition of safety and effectiveness employing the standards in paragraph (a) (4) of this section (in which case the appeal provisions of paragraph (a) (11) of this section shall apply).

graph (a) (4) of this section (in which case the provisions of paragraph (a) (6), (7), (8), and (9) of this section shall apply). A new drug application may be submitted in lieu of or in addition to a petition under this paragraph.

PART 429—DRUGS COMPOSED WHOLLY OR PARTLY OF INSULIN

38. In Part 429, by revising § 429.50 to read as follows:

§ 429.50 Hearing procedure.

Hearings pursuant to § 429.47 shall be governed by Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 430—ANTIBIOTIC DRUGS: GENERAL

39. In Part 430, by revising § 430.20 to read as follows:

§ 430.20 Procedure for the issuance, amendment, or repeal of regulations.

(a) The procedures for the issuance, amendment, or repeal of regulations under section 507 of the act shall be governed by Part 2 of this chapter.

(b) (1) The Commissioner, on his own initiative or on the application or request of any interested person, may publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice of proposed rule making and order to issue, amend, or repeal any regulation contemplated by section 507 of the act. Such notice and order may be general (i.e., simply summarizing in a general way the information resulting in the notice and order) or specific (i.e., either referring to specific requirements in the statute and regulations with which there is a lack of compliance, or providing a detailed description and analysis of the specific facts resulting in the notice and order).

(2) An opportunity shall be given for interested persons to submit written comments and to request an informal conference on the proposal, unless such notice and opportunity for comment and informal conference have already been provided in connection with the announcement of the reports of the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, Drug Efficacy Study Group, to persons who will be adversely affected, or as provided in §§ 2.10(e) or 2.110(b) (2) of this chapter. The time for requesting an informal conference shall be 30 days unless otherwise specified in the notice of proposed rule making. If an informal conference is requested and granted, those persons participating in the conference shall be provided an additional 30 days for comment, beginning the date of the conference, unless otherwise specified in the proposal.

(3) It is the responsibility of every manufacturer or distributor of an antibiotic drug product to review every proposal published in the FEDERAL REGISTER to determine whether it covers any product he manufactures or distributes.

(4) After considering the written comments, the results of any conference, and the data available, the Commissioner will publish an order in the FEDERAL REGISTER acting on the proposal, with opportunity for any person who will be adversely affected to file objections, to request a hearing, and to show reasonable grounds for the hearing. Any such person who elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing shall file with the Hearing Clerk (i) within 30 days after the date of publication of the order a written notice of appearance and request for hearing, and (ii) within 60 days after the date of publication of the order, unless a different period of time is specified in the order, the studies on which he relies to justify a hearing as specified in paragraph (b) (6) of this section. The raw data underlying a study submitted may be incorporated by reference from a prior submission as part of an antibiotic application, or other applications or reports.

(5) No data or analysis submitted after such 60 days will be considered in determining whether a hearing is warranted unless they are derived from well-controlled studies begun prior to the date of the order, the results of which were not in existence during that 60 days. Exceptions may be made on the basis of a showing of inadvertent omission and hardship. All studies in progress, the results of which the person requesting the hearing intends later to submit in support of the request for hearing, shall be listed. A copy of the complete protocol, a list of the participating investigators, and a brief status report of the studies shall be included in the submission made pursuant to paragraph (b) (4) (ii) of this section.

(6) A request for hearing shall be supported by a submission as specified in § 314.200(c) (1) (ii) of this chapter containing the studies (including all underlying raw data) on which the person relies to justify a hearing with respect to his drug product.

(i) If effectiveness is at issue, a request for hearing shall be supported only by adequate and well-controlled clinical studies meeting all of the precise requirements of § 314.111(a) (5) of this chapter and, for combination drug products, § 300.50 of this chapter, or by other studies not meeting those requirements for which a waiver has been previously granted by the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to the provisions of § 314.111(a) (5) of this chapter. All adequate and well-controlled clinical studies on the drug product known to the person requesting the hearing shall be submitted. Any unfavorable analyses, views, or judgments with respect to such studies known to such person shall also be submitted. No other data, information, or studies shall be submitted.

(ii) Such submission shall include a factual analysis of all studies submitted. If effectiveness is at issue, such analysis shall specify how each such study accords, on a point-by-point basis, with each criterion required for an adequate and well-controlled clinical investigation established in § 314.111(a) (5) of this chapter and, if the product is a combination drug product, with each of the requirements for a combination drug es-established in § 300.50 of this chapter, or requirements of any element of § 300.50 of this chapter, shall be submitted to the Commissioner, together with a copy of each pertinent document or record to establish each such date.

other antibiotic drug, or any derivative thereof intended for use by man shall be submitted to the Commissioner, together with a copy of each pertinent document or record to establish each such date.

§ 433.12 Exemption for labeling.

ment of a material fact or that any provision of any such agreement has been established in § 300.50 of this chapter, or shall be accompanied by an appropriate waiver previously granted by the Food and Drug Administration. If a study deals with a drug entity or dosage form, or condition of use, or mode of administration other than the one(s) in question, such fact(s) shall be clearly stated. Any study conducted on the final marketed form of the drug product shall be so designated.

(iii) Such analysis shall be submitted in the following format, except that information relating to safety or effectiveness shall be omitted if the order does not raise any issue with respect to that aspect of the drug; and information on compliance with § 300.50 of this chapter shall be omitted if the drug product is not a combination drug product. Submissions not made in this format or not containing the required analyses will not be considered and will result in denial of hearing, except that minor technical deficiencies may be excused if it is apparent that a good faith attempt has been made to comply with the requirements of this section and any deficiencies noted are immediately corrected upon request.

I. Safety data.

A. Animal safety data.

1. Individual active component(s).

a. Controlled studies.

b. Partially controlled or uncontrolled studies.

2. Combinations of the individual active components.

a. Controlled studies.

b. Partially controlled or uncontrolled studies.

B. Human safety data.

1. Individual active component(s).

a. Controlled studies.

b. Partially controlled or uncontrolled studies.

c. Documented case reports.

d. Pertinent marketing experiences that may influence a determination as to the safety of each individual active component.

2. Combinations of the individual active components.

a. Controlled studies.

b. Partially controlled or uncontrolled studies.

c. Documented case reports.

d. Pertinent marketing experiences that may influence a determination as to the safety of combinations of the individual active components.

II. Effectiveness data.

A. Individual active components: Controlled studies, with an analysis showing clearly how each study satisfies, on a point-by-point basis, each of the criteria required by § 314.111(a)(5) of this chapter.

B. Combinations of individual active components.

1. Controlled studies with an analysis showing clearly how each study satisfies, on a point-by-point basis, each of the criteria required by § 314.111(a)(5) of this chapter.

2. An analysis showing clearly how each requirement of § 300.50 of this chapter has been satisfied.

III. A summary of the data and views setting forth the medical rationale and purpose for the drug and its ingredients and the scientific basis for the conclusion that the drug and its ingredients have been proven safe and/or effective for the intended use. If there is an absence of controlled studies in the material submitted, or the requirements of any element of § 300.50 of this chapter or § 314.111(a)(5) of this chapter have not been fully met, such fact(s) shall be clearly stated, and a waiver obtained pursuant to § 314.111(a)(5) of this chapter shall be enclosed.

IV. A statement signed by the person responsible for such submission, that it includes in full (or incorporates by reference as permitted in § 430.20(b)(4)) all studies and information specified in § 430.20(b). (Warning: A willfully false statement is a criminal offense, 18 U.S.C. 1001.)

(7) Upon receipt of any request for hearing, the Director of the Bureau of Drugs shall prepare an analysis of the request and a proposed order ruling upon the matter. The analysis and proposed order, the request for hearing, and any proposed order denying a hearing and response pursuant to paragraph (b)(8)(i) or (ii) of this section, shall be submitted to the office of the Commissioner for independent review and decision. No representative of the Bureau of Drugs shall participate or advise in the review and decision by the Commissioner. The office of the General Counsel shall observe the same separation of functions.

(8) A request for a hearing may not rest upon mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine and substantial issue of fact with respect to the particular drug product(s) which is specified in the request for hearing that requires a hearing.

(i) Where a specific proposal or order (as defined in paragraph (b)(1) of this section) is used, the order published in the FEDERAL REGISTER shall state that, if it conclusively appears from the face of the data, information, and factual analyses in the request for hearing that there is no genuine and substantial issue of fact which precludes the action taken on the proposal, e.g., no adequate and well-controlled clinical investigations meeting each of the precise elements of § 314.111(a)(5) of this chapter and, for a combination drug product, § 300.50 of this chapter, showing effectiveness have been identified, or when a request for hearing is not made in the required format or with the required analyses, the Commissioner will enter summary judgment against the person(s) who requests a hearing, making findings and conclusions, denying a hearing. Any such order entering summary judgment shall set forth the Commissioner's findings and conclusions in detail and shall specify why each study submitted fails to meet the requirements of the statute and regulations or why the request for hearing otherwise does not raise a genuine and substantial issue of fact or shall specify the requirements of this paragraph with respect to format or analyses with which there is a lack of compliance.

(ii) Where a general notice or order (as defined in paragraph (b)(1) of this section) is used and the Director of the Bureau of Drugs concludes that summary judgment against the person(s) requesting a hearing should be considered, he shall serve upon such person(s) by registered mail a proposed order denying a hearing. Such person(s) shall have 60 days after receipt of such proposed order to respond with sufficient data, information and analyses to demonstrate that there is a genuine and substantial issue of fact which justifies a hearing.

(iii) Where a general or specific notice or order is used and the person(s) requesting a hearing submits data or information of a type required by the statute and regulations, and the Director of the Bureau of Drugs concludes that summary judgment against such person(s) should be considered, he shall serve upon such person(s) by registered mail a proposed order denying a hearing. Such person(s) shall have 60 days after receipt of such proposed order to respond with sufficient data, information, and analyses to demonstrate that there is a genuine and substantial issue of fact which justifies a hearing.

(iv) If review of the data, information, and analyses submitted warrants the conclusion that the basis for the order is not valid, e.g., that substantial evidence of effectiveness exists, the Commissioner shall deny the hearing, enter summary judgment for the person(s) requesting the hearing, and revoke the order. If a hearing is not requested, the order will become effective as published.

(v) If a hearing is requested and justified, the provisions of Part 2 of this chapter shall apply to such hearing.

(vi) A hearing shall be granted if there exists a genuine and substantial issue of fact or if the Commissioner concludes, in his discretion, that a hearing would otherwise be in the public interest.

(9) The repeal of any regulation constitutes a revocation of all outstanding certificates based upon such regulation. However, the Commissioner may, in his discretion, defer or stay such action pending a ruling on any related request for a hearing or pending any related hearing or other administrative or judicial proceeding.

(c) Whenever any interested person submits an application or request pursuant to provisions of section 507 of the act, or regulations promulgated thereunder, which application or request contemplates the issuance, amendment, or repeal of any regulation, and such person has been informed in writing that such application or request is not approvable, or whenever such person has received no written communication advising whether or not such application is approvable by the 180th day after its submission, such interested person may file a petition proposing the issuance, amendment, or repeal of such regulation under the provisions of section 507(f) of the act and Part 2 of this chapter. The Commissioner shall cause the regulation proposed in such petition to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER within 60 days of the receipt of an acceptable petition and further proceedings shall be in accord with the provisions of sections 507(f) and 701(f) and (g) of the act and Part 2 of this chapter.

(d)(1) No regulation providing for the certification of any batch of any drug composed wholly or in part of any kind of penicillin, streptomycin, chlortetracycline, chloramphenicol, bacitracin, or any other antibiotic drug, or any derivative thereof, intended for use by man shall be promulgated and no existing regulation will be continued in effect unless it is established by substantial evidence that the drug will have such characteristics of identity, strength, quality, and purity necessary to adequately insure safety and efficacy of use. "Substantial evidence" has been defined by Congress to mean "evidence consisting of adequate and well-controlled investigations, including clinical investigations, by experts qualified by scientific training and experience to evaluate the effectiveness of the drug involved, on the basis of which it could fairly and responsibly be concluded by such experts that the drug will have the effectiveness it purports and is represented to have under the conditions prescribed, recommended or suggested in the labeling thereof." This definition is made applicable to a number of antibiotic drugs by section 507(h) of the act and it is the test of efficacy that will be applied in promulgating, amending, or repealing regulations for the certification of all antibiotics under section 507(a) of the act as well.

(2) The scientific essentials of an adequate and well-controlled clinical investigation are described in § 314.111(a)(5) of this chapter.

PART 431—CERTIFICATION OF ANTIBIOTIC DRUGS

40. In Part 431, by revising § 431.52 to read as follows:

§ 431.52 Hearings.

Any person who contests the suspension of certification service under § 431.51 shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 433—EXEMPTIONS FROM ANTI-BIOTIC CERTIFICATION AND LABELING REQUIREMENTS

41. In Part 433, by revising § 433.2 (c) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 433.2 Conditions on the effectiveness of exemptions from certification.

(c) If the Commissioner repeals or suspends an exemption for an antibiotic drug, the approved new drug application, or an exemption from batch certification requirements, a notice to that effect and the reasons therefor will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(d) Any person who contests the revocation or suspension or denial of reinstatement of an exemption shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

42. By revising § 433.12(b)(4) and adding a paragraph (b)(5) to read as follows:

§ 433.12 Exemption for labeling.

(b) * * *

(4) When the Commissioner finds that such application contains any untrue statement of a material fact or that any provision of any such agreement has been violated he may revoke such permit.

(5) Any person who contests the denial or revocation of a permit shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

43. By revising § 433.13(b) to read as follows:

§ 433.13 Exemption for manufacturing use.

(b) An application for such a permit shall be in a form specified by the Commissioner, shall give the name and location of the establishment in which such drug is to be used and shall be accompanied by:

(1) A written agreement signed by the applicant that he will keep complete records showing the date, quantity, and batch mark of each shipment and other delivery of any such drug to such establishment, and that he will make such records available to any officer or employee of the Food and Drug Administration at any reasonable hour within 3 years after the date of such shipment or delivery;

(2) A written statement signed by the operator of such establishment showing that he has adequate facilities for the manufacture of such other drug; such statement shall contain an agreement that he will keep complete records showing the date of receipt by him and the quantity and batch mark of each such shipment and delivery and the disposition thereof and showing the quantity and batch mark of each batch of such other drug manufactured by him and the disposition thereof; that he will make such records available to any officer or employee of the Food and Drug Administration at any reasonable hour within 3 years after the date of such disposition, and that he will accord full opportunity to such officer or employee to make inventories of stocks on hand and otherwise check the correctness of such records; and

(3) A written agreement signed by the person who will own the drug after its manufacture is completed that he will request certification of each batch thereof unless it is exempt under section 801(d) of the act or §§ 433.12, 433.14, 433.16, or 433.17, and that he will not remove any of such drug from such establishment unless it complies with section 502(1) of the act or the certification requirements of section 512(n) of the act or is so exempt or is returned to him for labeling.

When the Commissioner finds that such application contains any untrue statement of a material fact or that any provision of any such agreement has been violated, he may revoke such permit. Any person who contests the denial or revocation of a permit shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

44. By revising § 433.14(b) to read as follows:

§ 433.14 Exemption for storage.

(b) An application for such a permit shall be in a form specified by the Commissioner, and shall give the name and location of the warehouse in which such drug is to be stored. Such application shall be accompanied by:

(2) A written statement signed by the operator of such warehouse showing that he has adequate facilities for such storage; such statement shall contain an agreement that he will hold each shipment or other delivery of such drug intact, under such conditions as will not cause failure of the drug to comply with the requirements for certification, that he will keep complete records showing the date of receipt by him and the quantity and batch mark of each such shipment and delivery and the disposition thereof, that he will make such records available to any officer or employee of the Food and Drug Administration at any reasonable hour within 3 years after the date of such disposition, and that he will accord full opportunity to such officer or employee to make inventories of stocks on hand and otherwise check the correctness of such records.

If the applicant keeps complete records showing the date, quantity, and batch mark of each shipment and other delivery of any such drug from such warehouse and the name and post-office address of the person to whom such shipment or delivery was made, the agreement to keep records of such disposals, to make such records available, and to afford opportunity for checking their correctness may be included in the appli-opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration

§ 601.6 Suspension of license.

(a) Whenever the Commissioner has afford opportunity for checking their correctness may be included in the applicant's agreement and omitted from that of the operator. When the Commissioner finds that such application contains any untrue statement of a material fact or that any provision of any such agreement has been violated he may revoke such permit. Any person who contests the denial or revocation of a permit shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

45. By revising § 433.15(b) to read as follows:

§ 433.15 Exemption for processing.

(b) An application for such a permit shall be in a form specified by the Commissioner and shall give the name and location of the establishment in which such processing is to be done. Such application shall be accompanied by:

(2) A written agreement signed by the operator of such establishment showing that he has adequate facilities for such processing; such statement shall contain an agreement that he will keep complete records showing the date of receipt by him and the quantity and batch mark of each such shipment and delivery and the disposition thereof, that he will make such records available to any officer or employee of the Food and Drug Administration at any reasonable hour within 3 years after the date of such disposition, and that he will accord full opportunity to such officer or employee to make inventories of stocks on hand and otherwise check the correctness of such records; and

(3) A written agreement signed by the person who will own the drug after the processing is completed that he will request certification of each batch thereof unless it is exempt under section 801(d) of the act or §§ 433.12, 433.13, 433.14, 433.16, or 433.17, and that he will not remove any of such drug from such establishment unless it complies with section 502(l) of the act or the certification requirements of section 512(n) of the act or is so exempt.

When the Commissioner finds that such application contains any untrue statement of a material fact or that any provision of any such agreement has been violated he may revoke such permit. Any person who contests the denial or revocation of a permit shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

46. By revising § 433.16(b) to read as follows:

§ 433.16 Exemption for repacking.

(b) An application for such a permit shall be in a form specified by the Commissioner, and shall give the name and location of the establishment in which such repacking is to be done. Such application shall be accompanied by:

(1) A written agreement signed by the applicant that he will keep complete records showing the date, quantity, and batch mark of each shipment and other delivery of any such drug to such establishment, and that he will make such records available to any officer or employee of the Food and Drug Administration at any reasonable hour within 3 years after the date of each shipment or delivery;

(2) A written statement signed by the operator of such establishment showing that he has adequate facilities for such repacking; such statement shall contain an agreement that he will keep complete records showing the date of receipt by him and the quantity and batch mark of each such shipment and delivery and the disposition thereof, that he will make such records available to any officer or employee of the Food and Drug Administration at any reasonable hour within 3 years after the date of such disposition, and that he will accord full opportunity to such officer or employee to make inventories of stocks on hand and otherwise check the correctness of such records; and

(3) A written agreement signed by the person who will own the drug after the repacking is completed that he will request certification of each batch thereof unless it is exempt under section 801(d) of the act or §§ 433.12, 433.13, 433.14, or 433.17, and that he will not remove any of such drug from such establishment unless it complies with section 502(l) of the act or the certification requirements of section 512(n) of the act or is so exempt or is returned to him for labeling or, if certification is refused, unless it is returned within a reasonable time to permit reprocessing and certification, destruction, or such exemption at the establishment where it was manufactured.

When the Commissioner finds that such application contains any untrue statement of a material fact or that any provision of any such agreement has been violated he may revoke such permit. Any person who contests the denial or revocation of a permit shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 511—NEW ANIMAL DRUGS FOR INVESTIGATIONAL USE

47. In Part 511, by amending § 511.1 by revising the undesignated paragraph at the end of paragraph (b) (5) and paragraphs (c) (1) and (4) and (d) (2) to read as follows:

§ 511.1 New animal drugs for investigational use exempt from section 512 (a) of the act.

(b) . . . . .
(5) . . . . .

Authorizations granted under this subparagraph do not exempt investigational animals and their products from compliance with other applicable inspection requirements. Any person who contests a refusal to grant such authorization shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

(c) Withdrawal of eligibility to receive investigational-use new animal drugs.

(1) Whenever the Food and Drug Administration has information indicating that an investigator has repeatedly or deliberately failed to comply with the conditions of these exempting regulations or has submitted false information either to the sponsor of the investigation or in any required report, the Director, Bureau of Veterinary Medicine, will furnish the investigator written notice of the matter complained of in general terms and offer him an opportunity to explain the matter in an informal conference and/or in writing. If an explanation is offered but not accepted by the Bureau of Veterinary Medicine, the investigator shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter on the question of whether the investigator is entitled to receive investigational new animal drugs.

(c) (4) If the Commissioner determines, after the unreliable data submitted by the investigator are eliminated from consideration, that the data remaining are inadequate to support a conclusion that it is reasonably safe to continue the investigation, he shall first notify the sponsor, who shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter on whether the exemption should be terminated. If a danger to the public health exists, however, he shall terminate the exemption forthwith and notify the sponsor of the termination. In such event the sponsor shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter on the question of whether the exemption should be reinstated.

(d) . . . . .

(2) The continuance of the investigation is unsafe or otherwise contrary to the public interest or the drug is being or has been used for purposes other than bona fide scientific investigation, he shall first notify the sponsor and invite his immediate correction. If the conditions of the exemption are not immediately met, the sponsor shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter on whether the exemption should be terminated. If the exemption is terminated the sponsor shall recall or have destroyed the unused supplies of the new animal drug.

PART 514—NEW ANIMAL DRUG APPLICATIONS

48. In Part 514, by revising § 514.201 to read as follows:

§ 514.201 Procedure for hearings.

Hearings relating to new animal drugs under section 505 (d), (e), (m) (3), and (m) (4) of the act shall be governed by Part 2 of this chapter.

§§ 514.202, 514.203, 514.204, 514.205, 514.206 [Revoked].

49. By revoking §§ 514.202, 514.203, 514.204, 514.205, and 514.206.

50. By revising § 514.210 to read as follows:

§ 514.210 Hearing procedure.

Hearings pursuant to § 514.155 shall be governed by Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

§§ 514.220, 514.221, 514.222, 514.230, 514.231, 514.232 [Revoked].

51. By revoking §§ 514.220, 514.221, 514.222, 514.230, 514.231, and 514.232.

52. By revising § 514.235 as follows:

§ 514.235 Judicial review.

(a) The transcript and record shall be certified by the Commissioner. In any case in which the Commissioner enters an order without a hearing pursuant to § 314.200(g) of this chapter, the request(s) for hearing together with the data and information submitted and the Commissioner's findings and conclusions shall be included in the record certified by the Commissioner.

(b) Judicial review of an order withdrawing approval of a new drug application, whether or not a hearing has been held, may be sought by a manufacturer or distributor of an identical, related, or similar drug product, as defined in § 310.6 of this chapter, in a United States court of appeals pursuant to section 505(h) of the act.

PART 601—LICENSING

53. In Part 601, by revoking §§ 601.4, 601.5, and 601.6(c), by redesignating the remainder of § 601.6 as § 601.12, by adding new §§ 601.4 through 601.9, and by revising § 601.22 to read as follows:

§ 601.4 Issuance and denial of license.

(a) An establishment or product license shall be issued upon a determination by the Commissioner that the establishment or the product, as the case may be, meets the applicable standards established in this chapter. Licenses shall be valid until suspended or revoked.

(b) If the Commissioner determines that the establishment or product does not meet the standards established in this chapter, he shall deny the application and inform the applicant of the grounds for, and of an opportunity for a hearing on, his decision. If the applicant so requests, the Commissioner shall issue a notice of opportunity for hearing on the matter pursuant to § 2.111(b) of this chapter.

§ 601.5 Revocation of license.

(a) An establishment or product license shall be revoked upon application of the manufacturer giving notice of intention to discontinue the manufacture of all products or to discontinue the manufacture of a particular product for which a license is held, and waiving an opportunity for a hearing on the matter.

(b) If the Commissioner finds that (1) authorized Food and Drug Administration employees after reasonable efforts have been unable to gain access to an establishment or a location for the purpose of carrying out the inspection required under § 600.21 of this chapter, (2) manufacturing of products or of a product has been discontinued to an extent that a meaningful inspection or evaluation cannot be made, (3) the manufacturer has failed to report a change as required by § 601.12, (4) the establishment or any location thereof, or the product for which the license has been issued, fails to conform to the applicable standards established in the license and in this chapter designed to ensure the continued safety, purity, and potency of the manufactured product, (5) the establishment or the manufacturing methods have been so changed as to require a new showing that the establishment or product meets the standards established in this chapter in order to protect the public health, or (6) the licensed product is not safe and effective for all of its intended uses or is misbranded with respect to any such use, he shall notify the licensee of his intention to revoke the license, setting forth the grounds for, and offering an opportunity for a hearing on, the proposed revocation. Except as provided in § 601.6 and in cases involving willfulness, the notification required in this paragraph shall provide a reasonable period for the licensee to demonstrate or achieve compliance with the requirements of this chapter, before proceedings will be instituted for the revocation of the license. If compliance is not demonstrated or achieved and the licensee does not waive the opportunity for a hearing, the Commissioner shall issue a notice of opportunity for hearing on the matter pursuant to § 2.111(b) of this chapter.

(c) Hearings pursuant to §§ 601.4 through 601.6 shall be governed by Part 2 of this chapter.

(c) When a license has been suspended pursuant to § 601.6 and a hearing request has been granted, the hearing shall proceed on an expedited basis.

§ 601.8 Publication of revocation.

Notice of revocation of a license, with statement of the cause therefor, shall be issued by the Commissioner and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 601.9 Licenses: reissuance.

(a) Compliance with standards. An establishment or product license, previously suspended or revoked, may be reissued or reinstated upon a showing of compliance with required standards and upon such inspection and examination as may be considered necessary by the Commissioner.

(b) Exclusion of noncomplying location. An establishment or product license, excluding a location or locations that fail to comply with required standards, may be issued without further application and concurrently with the suspension or revocation of the license for non-compliance at the excluded location or locations.

§ 601.22 Products in short supply: initial manufacturing at other than licensed establishment.

Licenses issued to a manufacturer for an establishment shall authorize persons other than such manufacturer to conduct at places other than such establishment the initial, and partial manufac-

§ 601.6 Suspension of license.

(a) Whenever the Commissioner has reasonable grounds to believe that any of the grounds for revocation of a license exist and that by reason thereof there is a danger to health, he may notify the licensee that his license for the establishment or the product is suspended and require that the licensee (1) notify the selling agents and distributors to whom such product or products have been delivered of such suspension, and (2) furnish to the Director, Bureau of Biologics, complete records of such deliveries and notice of suspension.

(b) Upon suspension of a license, the Commissioner shall either (1) proceed pursuant to the provisions of § 601.5(b) to revoke the license, or (2) if the licensee agrees, hold revocation in abeyance pending resolution of the matters involved.

§ 601.7 Procedure for hearings.

(a) A notice of opportunity for hearing, notice of appearance and request for hearing, and grant or denial of hearing for a biological drug pursuant to this Part, for which the exemption from the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act in § 310.4 of this chapter has been revoked, shall be subject to the provisions of § 314.200 of this chapter except to the extent that the notice of opportunity for hearing on the matter issued pursuant to § 2.111(b) of this chapter specifically provides otherwise.

(b) Hearings pursuant to §§ 601.4 through 601.6 shall be governed by Part 2 of this chapter.

(c) When a license has been suspended pursuant to § 601.6 and a hearing request has been granted, the hearing shall proceed on an expedited basis.

§ 601.8 Publication of revocation.

Notice of revocation of a license, with statement of the cause therefor, shall be issued by the Commissioner and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 601.9 Licenses: reissuance.

(a) Compliance with standards. An establishment or product license, previously suspended or revoked, may be reissued or reinstated upon a showing of compliance with required standards and upon such inspection and examination as may be considered necessary by the Commissioner.

(b) Exclusion of noncomplying location. An establishment or product license, excluding a location or locations that fail to comply with required standards, may be issued without further application and concurrently with the suspension or revocation of the license for non-compliance at the excluded location or locations.

§ 601.22 Products in short supply: initial manufacturing at other than licensed establishment.

Licenses issued to a manufacturer for an establishment shall authorize persons other than such manufacturer to conduct at places other than such establishment the initial, and partial manufacturing of a product for shipment solely to Commissioner may establish by regulation an turing of a product for shipment solely to such manufacturer only to the extent that the names of such persons and places are registered with the Commissioner of Food and Drugs and he finds upon application of such manufacturer, that (a) the product is in short supply due either to the peculiar growth requirements of the organism involved or to the scarcity of the animal required for manufacturing purposes, and (b) such manufacturer has established with respect to such persons and places such procedures, inspections, tests or other arrangements as will assure full compliance with the applicable regulations of this subchapter related to continued safety, purity, and potency. Such persons and places shall be subject to all regulations of this subchapter except §§ 601.1 to 601.6, 601.9, 601.10, 601.20, 601.21, 601.30 to 601.33, and 601.60 to 601.65 of this chapter. Failure of such manufacturer to maintain such procedures, inspections, tests, or other arrangements, or failure of any person conducting such partial manufacturing to comply with applicable regulations shall constitute a ground for suspension or revocation of the authority conferred pursuant to this section on the same basis as provided in §§ 601.6 to 601.8 with respect to the suspension and the revocation of licenses.

54. By revoking §§ 601.40 through 601.44.

PART 701—COSMETIC LABELING

55. In Part 701, by revising § 701.3 (b) and (c) to read as follows:

§ 701.3 Designation of ingredients.

(b) The declaration of ingredients shall appear with such prominence and conspicuousness as to render it likely to be read and understood by ordinary individuals under normal conditions of purchase. The declaration shall appear on any appropriate information panel in letters not less than 1/16 of an inch in height and without obscuring design, vignettes, or crowding. In the absence of sufficient space for such declaration on the package, or where the manufacturer or distributor wishes to use a decorative container, the declaration may appear on a firmly affixed tag, tape, or card. In those cases where there is insufficient space for such declaration on the package, and it is not practical to firmly affix a tag, tape, or card, the Commissioner may establish by regulation an acceptable alternate, e.g., a smaller type size. A petition requesting such a regulation as an amendment to this paragraph shall be submitted pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter.

(c) Interested persons may submit a petition requesting the establishment of a specific name for a cosmetic ingredient pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter. The Commissioner may also propose such a name on his own initiative.

PART 1003—NOTIFICATION OF DEFECTS OF FAILURE TO COMPLY

56. In Part 1003, by amending § 1003.11 by adding an undesignated paragraph at the end of paragraph (a) as follows:

§ 1003.11 Determination by Secretary that product fails to comply or has a defect.

(a) . . . . . The manufacturer shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

57. By adding § 1003.31(d) to read as follows:

§ 1003.31 Granting the exemption.

(d) Any person who contests denial of an exemption shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 1004—REPURCHASE, REPAIRS, OR REPLACEMENT OF ELECTRONIC PRODUCTS

58. In Part 1004, by amending § 1004.6 by adding the following new sentence at the end, as follows:

§ 1004.6 Approval of plans.

. . . . . Any person who contests denial of a plan shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 1210—REGULATIONS UNDER THE FEDERAL IMPORT MILK ACT

59. In Part 1210, by revising the heading of Subpart D and § 1210.30 to read as follows:

Subpart D—Hearings

§ 1210.30 Hearing procedure for permit denial, suspension, and revocation.

Any person who contests denial, suspension, or revocation of a permit shall have an opportunity for a regulatory hearing before the Food and Drug Administration pursuant to Subpart F of Part 2 of this chapter.

60. By revoking § 1210.31 and by redesignating § 1210.63 as new § 1210.31 to read as follows:

Before violation of the act is referred to the Department of Justice for prosecution under section 5 of the Federal Import Milk Act, an opportunity to be heard will be given to the party against whom prosecution is under consideration. The hearing will be private and confined to questions of fact. The party notified may present evidence, either oral or written, in person or by attorney, to show cause why he should not be prosecuted. After a hearing is held, if it appears that the law has been violated, the facts will be reported to the Department of Justice.

§§ 1210.32, 1210.33, 1210.40, 1210.41, 1210.42, 1210.43, 1210.44, 1210.50, 1210.51, 1210.52, 1210.53, 1210.54, 1210.55, 1210.56, 1210.57, 1210.58, 1210.59, 1210.60, 1210.61, 1210.62, [Revoked].

61. By revoking §§ 1210.32, 1210.33, and Subparts E, F and G of Part 1210, including 1210.40, 1210.41, 1210.42, 1210.43, 1210.44, 1210.50, 1210.51, 1210.52, 1210.53, 1210.54, 1210.55, 1210.56, 1210.57, 1210.58, 1210.59, 1210.60, 1210.61, 1210.62.

Interested persons may, on or before (insert date 30 days after date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER), submit to the Hearing Clerk, Food and Drug Administration, Rm. 4-65, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852, written comments regarding this proposal. Comments should be filed in quintuplicate (except that individuals may submit single copies), and should be identified with the Hearing Clerk docket number found in brackets in the heading of this document. Received comments may be seen in the above office Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., except on Federal legal holidays.

Dated: August 29, 1975.

Implementation of Privacy Act Regulations

The Commission announces the following rules, which are effective on October 3, 1975, to implement the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-579, 5 U.S.C. 552a). The Commission's proposed rules, which were promulgated on August 14, 1975 (40 FR 34162), are amended by these rules. The only changes made have been renumbering the rules and clarifying that all requests under § 4.13 (c) (formerly § 4.13.3) must name the system of records which is the subject of the request and must include any additional information specified in the pertinent system notice as necessary to locate the records requested. Other than correction of typographical errors, no other changes have been made.

Section 4.13 is added to read as follows:

§ 4.13 Privacy Act rules.

(a) Purpose and Scope—(1) This section is promulgated to implement the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-579, 5 U.S.C. 552a) by establishing procedures whereby an individual can, as to all systems of records maintained by the Commission except those set forth in § 4.13(m) as exempt from disclosure, (i) request notification of whether the Commission maintains a record pertaining to him in any system of records, (ii) request access to such a record or to an accounting of its disclosure, (iii) request that the record be amended or corrected, and (iv) appeal an initial adverse determination of any such request. This section also establishes those systems of records that are specifically exempt from disclosure and from other requirements.

(2) The procedures of this section apply only to requests by an individual as defined in § 4.13(b). Except as otherwise provided, they govern only records containing personal information in systems of records for which notice has been published by the Commission in the FEDERAL REGISTER pursuant to section 552a(e)(4) of the Privacy Act of 1974 and which are neither exempt from the provisions of this section nor contained in government-wide systems of personnel records for which notice has been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER by the Civil Service Commission. Requests for notification, access, and amendment of personnel records which are contained in a system of records for which notice has been given by the Civil Service Commission are governed by the Civil Service Commission's notices, 5 CFR Part 297. Access to records which are not subject to the requirements of the Privacy Act are governed by §§ 4.8-4.11.

(b) Definitions—The following definitions apply to this section only:

(1) "Individual" means a natural person who is a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

(2) "Record" means any item, collection, or grouping of personal information about an individual that is maintained by the Commission, including, but not limited to, his education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph, but does not include information concerning proprietorships, businesses, or corporations.

(3) "System of records" means a group of any records under the control of the Commission from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, for which notice has been published by the Commission in the FEDERAL REGISTER pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4).

(c) Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system—An individual may request access to his records or any information pertaining to him in a system of records, and notification of whether and to whom the Commission has disclosed a record for which an accounting of disclosures is required to be kept and made available to him, using the procedures of this subsection. Requests for the disclosure of records under this subsection or to determine whether a system of records contains records pertaining to an individual or to obtain an accounting of disclosures, shall be in writing and if mailed, addressed as follows:

Privacy Act Request, Office of the Secretary, Federal Trade Commission, 6th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington,
 D.C. 20580.

If requests are presented in person at the Office of the Secretary, the individual shall be required to execute a written request. All requests must name the system of records which is the subject of the request, and must include any additional information specified in the pertinent system notice as necessary to locate the records requested. If the requester desires to permit a person to accompany him to review his record, the request shall so state. Nothing in this section shall allow an individual access to any information compiled in reasonable anticipation of a civil action or proceeding.

(d) Times, places, and requirements for identification of individuals making requests—Verification of identity of persons making written requests to the Secretary ordinarily will not be required. The signature upon such requests shall be deemed to be a certification by the person signing that he is the individual to whom the record pertains or the parent of a minor or the duly appointed legal guardian of the individual to whom the record pertains. The Secretary may require additional verification of identity as specified by him when necessary reasonably to assure that records are not improperly disclosed; provided, however, that no verification of identity will be required where the records sought are publicly available under the Freedom of Information Act.

(e) Disclosure of requested information to individuals—Within ten (10) working days of receipt of a request under § 4.13 (c), the Secretary shall acknowledge receipt of the request. Within thirty (30) working days of the receipt of a request under § 4.13(c), the Secretary shall inform the requester whether a system of records containing retrievable information pertaining to the requester exists, and if so, either that his request has been granted or that the requested records or information is exempt from disclosure pursuant to § 4.13(m). When, for good cause shown, the Secretary is unable to respond within thirty (30) working days of the receipt of the request, he shall notify the requester of that fact and approximately when it is anticipated that a response will be made.

(f) Special procedures: Medical records—When the Secretary determines that disclosure of a medical or psychological record directly to a requesting individual could have an adverse effect on the individual, he shall require the individual to designate a medical doctor to whom the record will be transmitted.

(g) Request for correction or amendment of record—An individual to whom access to his records or any information pertaining to him in a system of records has been granted may request that any portion thereof be amended or corrected because he believes it is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete. An initial request for correction or amendment of a record shall be in writing whether presented in person or by mail, and if by mail, addressed as in § 4.13(c). In making a request under this subsection, the requesting party shall state the nature of the information in the record the individual believes to be inaccurate, irrelevant, untimely, or incomplete, the correction or amendment desired, and the reasons therefore.

(h) Agency review of request for correction or amendment of record—Whether presented in person or by mail, requests under § 4.13(g) shall be acknowledged by the Secretary within ten (10) working days of the receipt of the request if action on the request cannot be completed and the individual notified of the results within that time. Thereafter, the Secretary shall promptly either make the requested amendment or correction or inform the requester of his refusal to make the amendment or correction, the reasons for the refusal, and the requester's right to appeal that determination in accordance with § 4.13 (i).

(i) Appeal of initial adverse agency determination—(1) If the Secretary denies an initial request under § 4.13(c) or § 4.13(g), the requester may appeal that determination to the Commission. The appeal shall be in writing and addressed as follows:

Privacy Act Appeal, Office of the General
 Counsel, Federal Trade Commission, 6th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue NW.,
 Washington, D.C. 20580.

The Commission shall notify the requester within thirty (30) working days of the receipt of his appeal of the disposition of that appeal, except that the thirty (30) day period may be extended for good cause, in which case the requester will be advised of the approximate date on which review will be completed.

(2) (i) If the Commission refuses to amend or correct the record in accordance with a request under § 4.13(g), it shall notify the requester of that determination and inform him of his right to file with the Secretary of the Commission a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his disagreement with that determination and the fact that such a statement will be treated as set forth in subparagraph (ii). The Commission shall also inform the requester that judicial review of the determination is available by a civil suit in the district in which the requester resides, or has his principal place of business, or in which the agency records are situated, or in the District of Columbia.

(ii) If the individual files a statement disagreeing with the Commission's determination not to amend or correct a record, it shall be clearly noted in the record involved and made available to anyone to whom the record has been disclosed after September 27, 1975, or is subsequently disclosed together with, if the Commission deems it appropriate, a brief statement of the reasons for refusing to amend the record.

(j) Disclosure of record to person other than the individual to whom it pertains—Except as provided by 5 U.S.C. 552a(b), the written request or prior written consent of the individual to whom a record pertains, or of his parent if a minor, or legal guardian if incompetent, shall be required before such record is disclosed. If the individual elects to inspect a record in person and desires to be accompanied by another person, the Secretary may require the individual to furnish a signed statement authorizing his record to be disclosed in the presence of the accompanying named person.

(k) Fees—No fees shall be charged for searching for a record, reviewing it, or for copies of records made by the Commission for its own purposes incident to granting access to a requester. Copies of records to which access has been granted under this section may be obtained by the requester from the Secretary upon payment of the reproduction fees provided in § 4.8(c)(2).

(l) Penalties. Section 552a(i)(3) of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a(i)(3), makes it a misdemeanor, subject to a maximum fine of $5,000, to knowingly and willfully request or obtain any record concerning an individual under false pretenses. Sections 552a(i)(1) and (2) of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a(i)(1) and (2), provide penalties for violations by agency employees of the Privacy Act or regulations established thereunder. Title 18 U.S.C. 1001, Crimes and Criminal Procedures, makes it a criminal offense, subject to a maximum fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than 5 years or both, to knowingly and willfully make or cause to be made any false or fraudulent statements or representations in any matter within the jurisdiction of any agency of the United States.

(m) Specific exemptions—Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552a(k)(2), investigatory material compiled for law enforcement purposes in the following systems of records is exempt from subsections (c)(3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4) (G), (H), and (I), and (f) of 5 U.S.C. 552a, and from the provisions of this section, except as otherwise provided in § 552a(k)(2):

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD PRIVACY ACT OF 1974 Notices of Systems of Records

By PDR-39, 40 F.R. 30283, the Civil Aeronautics Board issued notice of its proposed rules to implement the Privacy Act of 1974, and proposed notices of various "systems of records," under that Act, were published at 40 F.R. 33181. The Board hereby gives notice of the existence and character of two additional systems of records which it maintains. Public comment is invited with respect to the "routine use" which the Board proposes to make of the within-described information, as set forth in these notices. Comments may be filed on or before September 27, 1975, addressed to the Docket Section, Civil Aeronautics Board, Washington, D.C. 20428.

Dated: August 27, 1975.

Edwin Z. Holland,
Secretary.

CAB-11

System name: Members of Congress biographical information and correspondence—CAB

System location: Office of Community and Congressional Relations, Civil Aeronautics Board, 1825 Connecticut Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20428.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Individuals who are current Members of Congress.

Categories of records in the system: Biographical information, including committee assignments and voting records, from public sources such as the Congressional Quarterly, Congressional Directory, and extracts from the Congressional Record and various aviation publications; and copies of correspondence between Members of Congress and the CAB which are duplicates of those maintained in the "Correspondence between Civil Aeronautics Board and persons outside the Board—CAB" system of records and subject to that Notice of System of Records.

Authority for maintenance of the system: Section 204 of the Federal Aviation Act, 49 U.S.C. 1324.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: Used by CAB staff to answer staff and Congressional inquiries, and may be used for any regulatory purpose including evidence in proceedings before the Board and the courts. Relevant records in this system of records may be disclosed to any person if required under "freedom of information" or other laws governing access to materials in the Board's possession.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Maintained in individual file folders. Indexed by name of Member of Congress.

Safeguards: Folders are located in lockable metal file cabinets in an area to which access is controlled by CAB personnel and which is locked after business hours.

Retention and disposal: Biographical material is retained during the time an individual is a Member of Congress and then destroyed; duplicate correspondence is retained through the current session of Congress and is then destroyed.

System manager(s) and address: Director, Office of Community and Congressional Relations, Civil Aeronautics Board, 1825 Connecticut Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20428.

Notification procedure: By mailing or delivering to the Office of the Secretary, Civil Aeronautics Board, 1825 Connecticut Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20428 a written request bearing the individual's return address, printed or typewritten name, and signature.

Record access procedures: Same as above.

Contesting record procedures: Same as above.

Record source categories: Published Congressional reference materials, aviation publications, Members of Congress writing to the CAB, and the CAB.

CAB-12

System name: Mailing lists of persons requesting CAB informational, technical, or statistical material—CAB.

System location: Publications Services Section, Office of Facilities and Operations, Civil Aeronautics Board, 1825 Connecticut Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20428.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Individuals who have requested that they be placed on a CAB mailing list, including regular publication customers.

Categories of records in the system: CAB Form 103—"Subscription and Publications Order" containing name, address, item(s) requested, and amount of order; and requests for materials for which no charge is made containing name, address, and item(s) requested.

Authority for maintenance of the system: Section 204 of the Federal Aviation Act, 49 U.S.C. 1324.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: Used by CAB staff to send items requested, and may be used for any regulatory purpose including use in evidence in proceedings before the Board and the courts.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Maintained in individual file folders, address card files, and metal addressograph plates.

Retrievability: Folders indexed by name, cards and addressograph plates filed alphabetically by name.

Safeguards: Stored in metal cabinets in an area to which access is controlled by and restricted to CAB personnel and which is locked after business hours.

Retention and disposal: CAB Form 103 is retained until the end of each calendar year and then destroyed; address card files and metal addressograph plates retained until the individual requests removal from the mailing list and then destroyed; requests for materials for which no charge is made are kept for up to one year after the material is sent and then destroyed.

System manager(s) and address: Chief, Publications Services Section, Office of Facilities and Operations, Civil Aeronautics Board, 1825 Connecticut Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20428.

COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS [45 CFR Part 706]

THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Proposed Rulemaking

The Commission on Civil Rights proposes to adopt rules regarding records maintained by the Commission concerning individuals pursuant to and in accordance with Section F of the Privacy Act of 1974. After consideration by the Commission of any comments regarding the proposed rules, final rules will be adopted by the Commission. When adopted, the rules will reflect the Commission's implementation of the requirement of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a (Pub. L. 93-579), and will comprise a new Part 706 of Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Interested persons are invited to submit comments, suggestions, or objections regarding the proposed rules to the Office of General Counsel, Commission on Civil Rights, 1121 Vermont Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C. 20425. Comments received prior to September 26, 1975, will be considered before final action is taken on this proposal.

It is proposed to make these rules effective September 27, 1975, the effective date of the Privacy Act of 1974.

LOUIS NUNEZ,
Acting Staff Director.

AUGUST 25, 1975.

§ 706.1 Purpose and scope.

(a) The purpose of this part is to set forth rules to inform the public regarding information maintained by the Commission on Civil Rights about identifiable individuals and to inform those individuals how they may gain access to and correct or amend information about themselves.

(b) The rules in this part carry out the requirements of the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-579) and in particular 5 U.S.C. 552a as added by that Act.

(c) The rules in this part apply only to records disclosed or requested under the Privacy Act of 1974, and not to requests for information made pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552.

§ 706.2 Definitions.

For the purpose of this regulation:

(a) The terms "Commission" and "agency" mean the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights;

(b) The term "individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;

(c) The term "maintain" includes maintain, collect, use, or disseminate;

(d) The term "record" means any item, collection, or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by the Commission, including, but not limited to, his or her education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his or her name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual;

(e) The term "system record" means a group of any records under the control of the Commission from which information may be retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to that individual;

(f) The term "statistical record" means a record in a system of records maintained for statistical research or reporting purposes only and not used in whole or in part in making any determination about an identifiable individual, except as provided in section 8 of title 13; and

(g) The term "routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected.

§ 706.3 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a system of records.

(a) An individual seeking notification of whether a system of records contains a record pertaining to him or her or an individual seeking access to information or records pertaining to him or her which is available under the Privacy Act of 1974, shall present his or her request in person or in writing to the General Counsel of the Commission.

(b) In addition to meeting the requirements set forth in § 706.4(d), the individual seeking notification or access, either in person or by mail, shall describe the nature of the records sought, the approximate dates covered by the record, and the system in which it is thought to be included, as described in the "Notices of Record Systems" published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (Citation to be supplied upon final adoption of the rules.)

§ 706.4 Times, places, and requirements for identification of individuals making requests and identification of records requested.

(a) The General Counsel is the designated Privacy Act Officer for the Commission.

(b) An individual making a request to the General Counsel in person may do so at the Commission's headquarters office, 1121 Vermont Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20425, on any business day during business hours. Persons may also appear for purposes of identification only at any of the regional offices of the Commission on any business day during business hours. Regional offices are located as follows:

Central States Regional Office, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, 911 Walnut Street, Kansas City, Missouri 64106, (816) 374-5253 or 374-2454 (8:00-5:00).

Mid-Atlantic Regional Office, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, 2120 L Street, N.W., (Room 510), Washington, D.C. 20037, (202) 254-6717 or 254-6670 (8:45-5:30).

Midwestern Regional Office, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, 230 South Dearborn Street, 32nd Floor, Chicago, Illinois 60604, (312) 353-7371 or 353-7479 (8:45-5:30).

Mountain States Regional Office, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, Ross Building (Room 216), 1726 Champa Street, Denver, Colorado 80282, (303) 837-2211 or 837-2485 (8:00-4:30).

Northeastern Regional Office, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, 26 Federal Plaza (Room 1639), New York, New York 10007, (212) 264-0400 or 264-0543 (9:00-5:30).

Southern Regional Office, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, Citizens Trust Bank Bldg. (Room 362), 75 Piedmont Avenue, N.E., Atlanta, Georgia 30303, (404) 526-4391 or 526-4344 (9:00-5:30).

Southwestern Regional Office, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, New Moore Building (Room 240), 106 Broadway, San Antonio, Texas 78205, (512) 225-4764 or 225-4810 (8:45-5:30).

Western Regional Office, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, 312 North Spring Street (Room 1015), Los Angeles, California 90012, (213) 688-3437 or 688-5705 (8:30-5:00).

(c) An individual seeking access to records in person may establish his or her identity by the presentation of one document bearing a photograph (such as a driver's license, passport, or identification card or badge) or by the presentation of two items of identification which do not bear a photograph, but do bear both a name and address (such as a credit card). When identification is made without photographic identification the Commission will request a signature comparison to the signature appearing on the items offered for identification, whenever possible and practical.

(d) An individual seeking access to records by mail shall establish his or her identity by a signature, address, date of birth, and one other identifier, such as a driver's license or other document. The words "PRIVACY ACT REQUEST" should be placed in capital letters on the face of the envelope in order to facilitate requests by mail.

(e) An individual seeking access in person or by mail who cannot provide the required documentation of identification may provide a notarized statement, swearing or affirming to his or her identity and to the fact that he or she understands that there are criminal penalties for the making of false statements.

or she would otherwise be eligible for, as a result of the maintenance of such

(4) Testing or examination material used solely to determine individual qual-

(f) The parent or guardian of a minor or a person judicially determined to be incompetent, in addition to establishing the identity of the minor or incompetent person he or she represents as required by paragraphs (a) through (c) of this section, shall establish his or her own parentage or guardianship by furnishing a copy of a birth certificate showing parentage or court order establishing guardianship.

(g) An individual seeking to review information about himself or herself may be accompanied by another person of his or her own choosing. In all such cases, the individual seeking access shall be required to furnish a written statement authorizing the discussion of his or her record in the presence of the accompanying person.

§ 706.5 Disclosure of requested information to individuals.

The General Counsel, or one or more assistants designated by him or her, upon receiving a request for notification of the existence of a record, or for access to a record shall: (a) determine whether such record exists; (b) determine whether access is available under the Privacy Act; (c) notify the requesting person of those determinations within 10 (ten) working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays); and (d) provide access to information pertaining to that person which has been determined to be available.

§ 706.6 Request for correction or amendment to record.

(a) Any individual who has reviewed a record pertaining to him or her that was furnished to him or her under this part may request the agency to correct or amend all or part of that record.

(b) Each individual requesting a correction or amendment shall send the request to the General Counsel.

(c) Each request for a correction or amendment of a record shall contain the following information:

(1) The name of the individual requesting the correction or amendment.

(2) The name of the system of records in which the record sought to be amended is maintained.

(3) The location of the record system from which the record was obtained.

(4) A copy of the record sought to be amended or a description of that record.

(5) A statement of the material in the record that should be corrected or amended.

(6) A statement of the specific wording of the correction or amendment sought.

(7) A statement of the basis for the requested correction or amendment including any material that the individual can furnish to substantiate the reasons for the amendment sought.

§ 706.7 Agency review of request for correction or amendment of the record.

Within ten (10) working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal public holidays) of the receipt of the request for the correction or amendment of a record, the General Counsel shall acknowledge receipt of the request and inform the individual that his or her request has been received and inform the individual whether further information is required before the correction or amendment can be considered. Further, the General Counsel shall promptly, and, under normal circumstances, not later than thirty (30) working days after receipt of the request, make the requested correction or amendment or notify the individual of his or her refusal to do so, including in the notification the reasons for the refusal, and the procedures established by the Commission by which the individual may initiate a review of that refusal.

§ 706.8 Appeal of an initial adverse agency determination.

(a) Any individual whose request for access or for a correction or amendment which has been denied, in whole or in part, by the General Counsel may appeal that decision to the Staff Director of the Commission, 1121 Vermont Avenue, N.W., Room 800, Washington, D.C. 20425, or to a designee of the Staff Director.

(b) The appeal shall be in writing and shall:

(1) Name the individual making the appeal;

(2) Identify the record sought to be amended or corrected;

(3) Name the record system in which that record is contained;

(4) Contain a short statement describing the amendment or correction sought; and

(5) State the name of the person who initially denied the correction or amendment.

(c) Not later than thirty (30) working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays) after the date on which the agency received the appeal, the Staff Director shall complete his or her review of the appeal and make a final decision thereon, unless, for good cause shown, the Staff Director extends the appeal period beyond the initial thirty (30) day appeal period. In the event of such an extension the Staff Director shall promptly notify the individual making the appeal that the period for a final decision has been extended.

(d) After review of an appeal request, the Staff Director will send a written notice to the requester containing the following information:

(1) The decision, and if the denial is upheld, the reasons for the decision;

(2) The right of the requester to institute a civil action in a Federal District Court for judicial review of the decision, if the appeal is denied; and

(3) The right of the requester to file with the Commission a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his or her disagreement with the Commission's decision denying the request. The Commission shall make this statement available to any person to whom the record is later disclosed, together with a brief statement, if the Commission considers it appropriate, of the agency's reasons for denying the requested correction or amendment.

§ 706.9 Disclosure of records to a person other than the individual to whom the record pertains.

(a) Any individual who desires to have his or her record disclosed to or mailed to a third person may authorize that person to act as his or her agent for that specific purpose. The authorization shall be in writing, signed by the individual, and notarized. The agent shall also submit proof of his or her own identity as provided in § 706.4.

(b) The parent of any minor individual or the legal guardian of any individual who has been declared by a court to be incompetent, due to physical or mental incapacity, may act on behalf of that individual in any matter covered by this part. A parent or guardian who desires to act on behalf of such an individual shall present suitable evidence of parentage or guardianship, by birth certificate, copy of a court order or similar documents, and proof of the individual's identity as provided in § 706.4.

(c) An individual to whom a record is to be disclosed, in person, pursuant to this part may have a person of his or her own choosing accompany the individual when the record is disclosed.

§ 706.10 Fees.

If an individual requests copies of his or her records the charge shall be three (3) cents per page, provided, however, that the Commission shall not charge for copies furnished to an individual as a necessary part of the process of disclosing the record to an individual. Fees may be waived or reduced in accordance with § 704.1(e) of the Commission's regulations (45 CFR 704) because of indigency, where the cost is nominal, when it is in the public interest not to charge, or when waiver would not constitute an unreasonable expense to the Commission.

§ 706.11 Penalties.

Any person who makes a false statement in connection with any request for a record, or in any request for an amendment to a record under this part, is subject to the penalties prescribed in 18 U.S.C. 494 and 495.

§ 706.12 Special procedures: information furnished by other agencies.

When records or information sought from the Commission include information furnished by other Federal agencies, the General Counsel shall consult with the appropriate agency prior to making a decision to disclose or to refuse to disclose the record, but the decision whether or not to disclose the record shall be made by the General Counsel.

§ 706.13 Exemptions.

(a) Systems of records or portions of such records are exempt under the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a(k), including the following:

(1) Investigatory material compiled for law enforcement purposes, other than material within the scope of subsection (j) (2) of the Privacy Act. Provided, however, That if any individual is denied any right, privilege, or benefit that he or she would otherwise be eligible for, as a result of the maintenance of such material, such material shall be provided to such individual, except to the extent that the disclosure of such material would reveal the identity of a source who furnished information to the Government under an express promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence, or, prior to the effective date of this section, under an implied promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence.

(2) Statistical personnel records that are used only to generate aggregate data or for other evaluative or analytical purposes and which are not used to make decisions on the rights, benefits, or entitlements of individuals.

(3) Investigatory material maintained solely for the purposes of determining an individual's qualifications, eligibility, or suitability for employment in the Federal civilian service, Federal contracts, or access to classified information, but only to the extent that disclosure of such material would reveal the identity of the source who furnished information to the Government under an express promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence, or prior to September 27, 1975, under an implied promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence.

(4) Testing or examination material used solely to determine individual qualifications for promotion or appointment in the Federal service the disclosure of which would compromise the objectivity or fairness of the testing or examination process.

(b) For purposes of this section, a "confidential source" means a source who furnished information to the Government under an express promise that the identity of the source would remain confidential, or, prior to September 27, 1975, under an implied promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence.

U.S. COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS PRIVACY ACT OF 1974 Notice of Systems of Records

The Privacy Act of 1974, Pub. L. 93-579, amended Title 5 of the United States Code by adding a new section, 5 U.S.C. sec. 552a, to afford safeguards against the invasion of personal privacy. The Privacy Act becomes effective on September 27, 1975. Agencies of the Federal Government are required by the Act to publish each year a notice of systems of records they maintain.

Pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974, the Civil Rights Commission submits the following notices of the existence and character of systems of records maintained by the Civil Rights Commission. Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, or arguments concerning the routine use portions of the notices to the Office of General Counsel, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, 1121 Vermont Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20425. Comments, data, views or arguments received on or before September 26, 1975, will be considered prior to final publication of the notices.

Troubled Employee Program: employees with personal problems which detract from job effectiveness (alcoholism, drug abuse, mental stress, etc.). Upward Mobility: clerical employees who are eligible for entry into the program or who are participating in the program.

Categories of records in the system: Equal Employment Opportunity: open and restricted investigative files pertaining to equal employment opportunity complaints and problems. Troubled Employee Program: records are confidential and contain data regarding employees enrolled in the program, what assistance or counseling is received, and related information. Upward Mobility: records of enrollment in training or educational programs, class progress and grades, as well as promotions or advancements within the Commission.

Authority for maintenance of the system: Executive Order 11478; 42 U.S.C. sec. 1975d(a) and Federal Personnel Regulations, Chapter 293, 42 U.S.C. sec. 2000e

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: Equal Employment Opportunity: Used by Equal Employment Opportunity director, counselors, investigators and other agency officials where appropriate to resolve discrimination complaints. After disposition is made of the case, files are reviewed by the Office of General Counsel and where appeals are taken, files are reviewed by hearing officers and Civil Service Board of Appeals and Review. Where court actions are filed, records are reviewed by the courts and attorneys for the parties.

Equal Employment Opportunity records are used to meet Civil Service Commission and Federal employment reporting requirements.

Troubled Employee Program files are used by the Equal Employment Opportunity director and supervisory or management personnel in determining the prognosis, need for counseling, or other action in individual cases.

Upward Mobility files are used to counsel employees and supervisors; to monitor the effectiveness of the program, the training received, on-the-job experience and overall progress of the participants. Records in the Equal Employment Opportunity and Upward Mobility Programs are used to assist the agency in developing its Affirmative Action program.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system: Records are maintained in the Office of the Director, Equal Employment Opportunity with access limited to the staff of that office. Investigative files (Equal Employment Opportunity) are retained in secured file cabinets. Troubled Employee files are maintained in locked file cabinets and are unavailable to agency staff (except the Equal Employment Opportunity Director) in their entirety, however extractions are made as necessary for management decisions.

Upward Mobility files are maintained in the same office. The Equal Employment Opportunity director and the Federal Women's Program Coordinator are the primary users of these records with extracts made available to Personnel, supervisors or others within management. Upon completion of the program some of this data may be placed in the Official Personnel Folder.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY
[40 CFR Part 16]
 (FR 424-1)
IMPLEMENTATION OF PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Proposed Rulemaking

Notice is hereby given that the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) proposes to amend Chapter I of Title 40 of the Code of Federal Regulations by adding a new Part 16 to implement provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a (Pub. L. 93-579, 88 Stat. 1896). Interested persons may participate in the proposed rulemaking by submitting written data, views, or arguments pertaining to these proposed rules. Comments on the proposed rules received by the Agency on or before September 17, 1975, will be considered before taking final action on the proposed rules. Necessary for considering comments and finalizing the rules by September 27, 1975, furnishes good cause for an abbreviated comment period. Such comments should be addressed to Director, Management and Organization Division, PM-213, Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D.C. 20460. Copies of all written comments will be available for examination by interested persons between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays (except holidays) at Public Information Reference Unit, Room 2922 (EPA Library), 401 M Street, SW., Washington, D.C. 20460.

These proposed regulations establish procedures to be followed by individuals who request information about records pertaining to themselves and access to or amendments of records which are contained in systems of records maintained by EPA.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend Chapter I of Title 40, Code of Federal Regulations, by adding a new Part 16 as follows:

PART 16—IMPLEMENTATION OF PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

- Sec.
- 16.1 Purpose and scope.
  - 16.2 Definitions.
  - 16.3 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.

  - 16.5 Disclosure of requested information to individuals.
  - 16.6 Special procedures: Medical records.
  - 16.7 Request for correction or amendment of record.
  - 16.8 Initial determination on request for correction or amendment of record.
  - 16.9 Appeal of initial adverse agency determination on request for correction or amendment.
  - 16.10 Disclosure of record to person other than the individual to whom it pertains.
  - 16.11 Fees.
  - 16.12 Penalties.
  - 16.13 [Reserved].
  - 16.14 Specific exemptions.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552a.

PROPOSED RULES

§ 16.1 Purpose and scope.

(a) This part sets forth the Environmental Protection Agency procedures under the Privacy Act of 1974 as required by 5 U.S.C. 552a(f).

(b) These procedures describe how an individual may request notification of whether EPA maintains a record pertaining to him or her in any of its systems of records, request access to the record or to an accounting of its disclosure, request that the record be amended or corrected, and appeal an initial adverse determination concerning any such request.

(c) These procedures apply only to requests by individuals and only to records maintained by EPA, excluding those systems specifically exempt under §§ 16.13 and 16.14 and those determined as government-wide and published by the Civil Service Commission in 5 CFR Parts 293 and 297.

§ 16.2 Definitions.

As used in this Part:

(a) The terms "individual," "maintain," "record," "system of records," and "routine use" shall have the meaning given them by 5 U.S.C. 552a (a) (2), (a) (3), (a) (4), (a) (5) and (a) (7), respectively.

(b) "EPA" means the Environmental Protection Agency.

(c) "Working days" means calendar days excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays.

§ 16.3 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.

Any individual who wishes to have EPA inform him or her whether a system of records maintained by EPA contains any record pertaining to him or her which is retrieved by name or personal identifier, or who wishes to request access to any such record, shall submit a written request in accordance with the instructions set forth in EPA's annual notice of systems for that system of records. This request shall include:

- (a) The name of the individual making the request;
- (b) The name of the system of records (as set forth in the EPA notice of systems) to which the request relates;
- (c) Any other information which the system notice indicates should be included; and
- (d) If the request is for access, a statement as to whether a personal inspection or a copy by mail is desired.

§ 16.4 Times, places, and requirements for identification of individuals making requests.

(a) If an individual submitting a request for access under § 16.3 has asked that EPA authorize a personal inspection of records, and EPA has granted the request, he or she may present himself or herself at the time and place specified in EPA's response or arrange another time with the appropriate agency official.

(b) Prior to inspection of records, an individual shall present sufficient identification (e.g., driver's license, employee identification card, social security card, credit card) to establish that he or she is the individual to whom the records pertain. An individual who is unable to provide such identification shall complete and sign, in the presence of an agency official, a statement declaring his or her identity and stipulating that he or she understands it is a misdemeanor punishable by fine up to $5,000 to knowingly and willfully seek or obtain access to records about another individual under false pretenses.

(c) If an individual, having requested personal inspection of his or her records, wishes to have another person accompany him or her during inspection, he or she shall submit a written statement authorizing disclosure in the presence of the other person(s).

(d) An individual who has made a personal inspection of records may then request copies of those records. Such requests may be granted, but fees may be charged in accordance with § 16.11.

(e) If an individual submitting a request under § 16.3 wishes to have copies furnished by mail, he or she must include with the request sufficient data to allow EPA to verify his or her identity. Should sensitivity of the records warrant it, EPA may require a requester to submit a signed and notarized statement indicating that he or she is the individual to whom the records pertain and that he or she understands it is a misdemeanor punishable by fine up to $5,000 to knowingly and willfully seek or obtain access to records about another individual under false pretenses. Such mail requests may be granted, but fees may be charged in accordance with § 16.11.

(f) No verification of identity will be required where the records sought are publicly available under the Freedom of Information Act, as EPA procedures under 40 CFR Part 2 will then apply.

§ 16.5 Disclosure of requested information to individuals.

(a) Each request received will be acted upon promptly.

(b) Within 10 working days of receipt of a request, the system manager shall acknowledge the request. Whenever practicable, the acknowledgment will indicate whether or not access will be granted and, if so, when and where. When access is to be granted, it shall be provided within 30 working days of first receipt.

If the agency is unable to meet this deadline, the records system manager shall so inform the requester stating reasons for the delay and an estimate of when access will be granted.

(c) If a request pursuant to § 16.3 for access to a record is in a system of records which is exempted, the records system manager will determine whether the information will nonetheless be made available. If the determination is to deny access, the reason for denial and the appeal procedure will be given to the requester.

(d) Any person whose request is initially denied may appeal that denial to the Privacy Act Officer, who shall make an appeal determination within 10 working days.

(e) If the appeal under paragraph (d) of this section is denied, the requester may bring a civil action under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g) to seek review of the denial.

§ 16.6 Special procedures: medical records.

Should EPA receive a request for access to medical records (including psychological records) disclosure of which the system manager determines would be harmful to the individual to whom they relate, EPA may refuse to disclose the records directly to the individual and instead offer to transmit them to a physician designated by the individual.

§ 16.7 Request for correction or amendment of record.

(a) An individual may request correction or amendment of any record pertaining to him or her in a system of records maintained by EPA by submitting to the system manager, in writing, the following:

- (1) The name of the individual making the request;
- (2) The name of the system, as described in the notice of systems;
- (3) A description of the nature and substance of the correction or amendment request; and
- (4) Any additional information specified in the system notice.

(b) Any person submitting a request under this section shall include sufficient information in support of that request to allow EPA to apply the standards set forth in 5 U.S.C. 552a (e) (1) and (e) (5).

(c) Any person whose request is denied may appeal that denial to the Privacy Act Officer.

(d) In the event that appeal is denied, the requester may bring a civil action to seek review of the denial, under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g).

§ 16.8 Initial determination on request for correction or amendment of record.

(a) Within 10 working days of receipt of a request for amendment or correction, the system manager shall acknowledge the request, and promptly either:

- (1) Make any correction, deletion, or addition which the requester believes should be made; or
- (2) Inform the requester of his or her refusal to correct or amend the record, the reason for refusal, and the procedures for appeal.

(b) If the system manager is unable to comply with the preceding paragraphs within 30 working days of his or her receipt of a request, he or she will inform the requester of that fact, the reasons, and an estimate of when a determination will be reached.

(c) In conducting the review of the request, the system manager will be guided by the requirements of 5 U.S.C. 552a (e) (1) and (e) (5).

(d) If the system manager determines to grant all or any portion of the request, he or she will:

- (1) Advise the individual of that determination;
- (2) Make the correction or amendment; and
- (3) So inform any person or agency outside EPA to whom the record has been disclosed, and, where an accounting of that disclosure is maintained in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(c), note the occurrence and substance of the correction or amendment in the accounting.

(e) If the system manager determines not to grant all or any portion of a request for correction or amendment, he or she will:

- (1) Comply with paragraph (d) (3) of this section (if necessary);
- (2) Advise the individual of the determination and its basis;
- (3) Inform the individual that an appeal may be made; and
- (4) Describe the procedures for making the appeal.

(f) If EPA receives from another Federal agency a notice of correction or amendment of information furnished by that agency and contained in one of EPA's systems of records, the system manager shall advise the individual and make the correction as if EPA had originally made the correction or amendment.

§ 16.9 Appeal of initial adverse agency determination on request for correction or amendment.

(a) Any individual whose request for correction or amendment is initially denied by EPA and who wishes to appeal may do so by letter to the Privacy Act Officer. The appeal shall contain a description of the initial request sufficient to identify it.

(b) The Privacy Act Officer shall make a final determination not later than 30 working days from the date on which the individual requests the review, unless, for good cause shown, the Privacy Act Officer extends the 30-day period and notifies the requester. Such extension will be utilized only in exceptional circumstances.

(c) In conducting the review of an appeal, the Privacy Act Officer will be guided by the requirements of 5 U.S.C. 552a (e) (1) and (e) (5).

(d) If the Privacy Act Officer determines to grant all or any portion of an appeal he or she shall so inform the requester and EPA shall make the correction or amendment and comply with § 16.8(d) (3).

(e) If the Privacy Act Officer determines not to grant all or any portion of an appeal he or she shall inform the requester:

(1) Of the determination and its basis;

(2) Of the requester's right to file a concise statement of reasons for disagreeing with EPA's decision;

(3) Of the procedures for filing such statement of disagreement;

(4) That such statements of disagreement will be made available in subsequent disclosures of the record, together with an agency statement (if deemed appropriate) summarizing its refusal;

(5) That prior recipients of the disputed record will be provided with statements as in paragraph (e) (4) of this section, to the extent that an accounting of disclosures is maintained under 5 U.S.C. 552a(c); and

(6) Of the requester's right to seek judicial review under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g).

§ 16.10 Disclosure of record to person other than the individual to whom it pertains.

EPA shall not disclose any record which is contained in a system of records it maintains except pursuant to a written request by, or with the written consent of, the individual to whom the record pertains, unless the disclosure is authorized by one or more of the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a(b).

§ 16.11 Fees.

No fees shall be charged for providing the first copy of a record or any portion to an individual to whom the record pertains. The fee schedule for reproducing other records is the same as that set forth in 40 CFR § 2.120.

§ 16.12 Penalties.

The Act provides, in pertinent part: "Any person who knowingly and willfully requests or obtains any record concerning an individual from an agency under false pretenses shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not more than $5,000." (5 U.S.C. 552a(i) (3).)

§ 16.14 Specific exemptions.

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k) (2), investigatory material compiled for law enforcement purposes in the following systems of records is exempt from subsections (c) (3), (d), (e) (1), (e) (4) (G), (H) and (I), and (f) of 5 U.S.C. 552a and from the provisions of this Part, except as otherwise provided in 552a(k) (2).

(Reserved for list of exempt systems to be later identified.)

August 27, 1975.

Notice is hereby given that the National Security Council proposes to amend Title 32, Chapter XXI Code of Federal Regulations by adding a new Part 2102 to implement the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a (f), Pub. L. 93-579.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments, suggestions or objections regarding these proposed rules to the Staff Secretary, National Security Council, Washington, D.C. 20506. All relevant material received before September 15, 1975 will be considered by the NSC in formulating its final regulations.

JEANNE W. DAVIS,
Staff Secretary.

Notice is hereby given that it is proposed to make the final regulations effective September 27, 1975, the effective date of section 3, Pub. L. 93-579.

These regulations are the exclusive means by which individuals may request personally identifiable records and information from the National Security Council.

Title 32, Chapter XII, Code of Federal Regulations, is proposed to be amended by establishing a new Part 2102, as follows:

PART 2102—PRIVACY ACT REGULATIONS

Sec.
2102.1	Introduction.
2102.2	Purpose and scope.
2102.3	Definitions.
2102.11	Procedures for determining if an individual is the subject of a record.
2102.13	Requirements for requesting access to a record.
2102.15	Requirements for requests to amend records.
2102.21	Procedures for appeal of determination to deny access to or amendment of requested records.
2102.31	Disclosure of record to persons other than the individual to whom it pertains.
2102.41	Fees.
2102.51	Penalties.
2102.61	Exemptions.

§ 2102.1 Introduction.

Insofar as the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a) applies to the National Security Council (hereafter NSC), it provides the American public with expanded opportunities to gain access to records maintained by the NSC Staff which may pertain to them as individuals.

The NSC Staff, in addition to performing the functions prescribed in the National Security Act of 1947, as amended (50 U.S.C. 401), also serves as the supporting staff to the President in the conduct of foreign affairs. In doing so the NSC Staff is acting not as an agency but as an extension of the White House Office. In that the White House Office is not considered an agency for the purposes of this Act, the materials which are used by NSC Staff personnel in their role as supporting staff to the President are not subject to the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974. A description of these White House Office files is, nevertheless, appended to the NSC notices of systems of files and will be published annually in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

In general, records in NSC files pertain to individual members of the public only if these individuals have been (1) employed by the NSC, (2) have corresponded on a foreign policy matter with a member of the NSC or its staff, or (3) have, as a U.S. Government official, participated in an NSC meeting or in the preparation of foreign policy-related documents for the NSC.

§ 2102.2 Purpose and scope.

The following regulations set forth procedures whereby individuals may seek and gain access to records concerning themselves and will guide the NSC Staff response to requests under the Privacy Act. In addition, they outline the requirements applicable to the personnel maintaining NSC systems of records.

(a) These regulations, published pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974, Pub. L. 93-579, section 552a (f) and (k), 5 U.S.C. (hereinafter the Act), advise of procedures whereby an individual can:

(1) Request notification of whether the NSC Staff maintains or has disclosed a record pertaining to him or her in any non-exempt system of records;

(2) Request a copy of such record or an accounting of that disclosure;

(3) Request an amendment to a record; and

(4) Appeal any initial adverse determination of any request under the Act.

(b) These regulations also specify those systems of records which the NSC has determined to be exempt from certain provisions of the Act and thus not subject to procedures established by this regulation.

§ 2102.3 Definitions.

As used in these regulations:

(a) Individual: A citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

(b) Maintain: includes maintain, collect, use or disseminate. Under the Act it is also used to connote control over, and, therefore, responsibility for, systems of records in support of the NSC statutory function (50 U.S.C. 401, et seq.).

(c) Systems of Records: a grouping of any records maintained by the NSC from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some other identifying particular assigned to the individual.

(d) Determination: any decision made by the NSC or designated official thereof which affects the individual's rights, opportunities, benefits, etc. and which is based in whole or in part on information contained in that individual's record.

(e) Routine Use: with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such a record in a manner which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected.

(f) Disclosure: the granting of access or transfer of a record by any means.

§ 2102.1 Procedures for determining if an individual is the subject of a record.

(a) Individuals desiring to determine if they are the subject of a record or system of records maintained by the NSC Staff should address their inquiries, marking them plainly as a Privacy Act Request, to:

Staff Secretary, National Security Council, Room 374, Old Executive Office Building,
Washington, D.C. 20506.

(b) All requests must be made in writing and should contain:

(1) A specific reference to the system of records maintained by the NSC as listed in the NSC Notices of Systems and Records (copies available upon request); or

(2) A description of the record or systems of records in sufficient detail to allow the NSC to determine whether the record does, in fact, exist in an NSC system of records.

(c) All requests must contain the printed or typewritten name of the individual to whom the record pertains, the signature of the individual making the request, and the address to which the reply should be sent. In instances when the identification is insufficient to insure disclosure to the individual to whom the information pertains in view of the sensitivity of the information, NSC reserves the right to solicit from the requestor additional identifying information.

(d) Responses to all requests under the Act will be made by the Staff Secretary, or by another designated member of the NSC Staff authorized to act in the name of the Staff Secretary in responding to a request under this Act. Every effort will be made to inform the requestor if he or she is the subject of a specific record or system of records within ten working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal Federal Holidays) of receipt of the request. Such a response will also contain the procedures to be followed in order to gain access to any record which may exist and a copy of the most recent NSC notice, as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, on the system of records in which the record is contained.

(e) Whenever it is not possible to respond in the time period specified above, the NSC Staff Secretary or a designated alternate will, within ten working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal Federal Holidays), inform the requestor of the reasons for the delay (e.g., insufficient requestor information, difficulties in record location, etc.), steps that need to be taken in order to expedite the request, and the date by which a response is anticipated.

(a) Individuals requesting access to a record or system or records in which there is information concerning them must address a request in writing to the Staff Secretary of the NSC (see Section 1, above). Due to restricted access to NSC offices in the Old Executive Office Building where the files are located, requests cannot be made in person.

(b) All written requests should contain a concise description of the records to which access is requested. In addition, the requestor should include any other information which he or she feels would assist in the timely identification of the record. Verification of the requestor's identity will be determined under the same procedures used in requests for learning of the existence of a record.

(c) To the extent possible, any request for access will be answered by the Staff Secretary or a designated alternate within ten working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays) of the receipt of the request. In the event that a response cannot be made within this time, the requestor will be notified by mail of the reasons for the delay and the date upon which a reply can be expected.

(d) The NSC response will forward a copy of the requested materials unless further identification or clarification of the request is required. In the event access is denied, the requestor shall be informed of the reasons therefor and the name and address of the individual to whom an appeal should be directed.

§ 2102.15 Requirements for requests to amend records.

(a) Individuals wishing to amend a record contained in the NSC systems of records pertaining to them must submit a request in writing to the Staff Secretary of the NSC in accordance with the procedures set forth herein.

(b) All requests for amendment or correction of a record must state concisely the reason for requesting the amendment. Such requests should include a brief statement which describes the information the requestor believes to be inaccurate, incomplete, or unnecessary and the amendment or correction desired.

(c) To the extent possible, every request for amendment of a record will be answered within ten working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays) of the receipt of the request. In the event that a response cannot be made within this time, the requestor will be notified by mail of the reasons for the delay and the date upon which a reply can be expected. A final response to a request for amendment will include the NSC Staff determination on whether to grant or deny the request. If the request is denied, the response will include:

(1) The reasons for the decision;

(2) The name and address of the individual to whom an appeal should be directed;

(3) A description of the process for review of the appeal within the NSC; and

PROPOSED RULES

(4) A description of any other procedures which may be required of the individual in order to process the appeal.

§ 2101.21 Procedures for appeal of determination to deny access to or amendment of requested records.

(a) Individuals wishing to appeal an NSC Staff denial of a request for access or to amend a record concerning them must address a letter of appeal to the Staff Secretary of the NSC. The letter must be received within thirty days from the date of the Staff Secretary's notice of denial and, at a minimum, should identify the following:

(1) The records involved;

(2) The dates of the initial request and subsequent NSC determination; and

(3) A brief statement of the reasons supporting the request for reversal of the adverse determination.

(b) Within thirty working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal Federal Holidays) of the date of receipt of the letter of appeal, the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs (hereinafter the "Assistant"), or the Deputy Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs (hereinafter the "Deputy Assistant"), acting in his name, shall issue a determination on the appeal. In the event that a final determination cannot be made within this time period, the requestor will be informed of the delay, the reasons therefor and the date on which a final response is expected.

(c) If the original request was for access and the initial determination is reversed, a copy of the records sought will be sent to the individual. If the initial determination is upheld, the requestor will be so advised and informed of the right to judicial review pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(g).

(d) If the initial denial of a request to amend a record is reversed, the records will be corrected and a copy of the amended record will be sent to the individual. In the event the original decision is upheld by the Assistant to the President, the requestor will be so advised and informed in writing of his or her right to seek judicial review of the final agency determination, pursuant to Section 552a (g) of Title 5, U.S.C. In addition, the requestor will be advised of his right to have a concise statement of the reasons for disagreeing with the final determination appended to the disputed records. This statement should be mailed to the Staff Secretary within ten working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal Holidays) of the date of the requestor's receipt of the final determination.

§ 2102.31 Disclosure of a record to persons other than the individual to whom it pertains.

Except as provided by the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a(b), the NSC will not disclose a record concerning an individual to another person or agency without the prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains.

§ 2102.41 Fees.

(a) Individuals will not be charged for:

(1) The first copy of any record provided in response to a request for access or amendment;

(2) The search for, or review of, records in NSC files;

(3) Any copies reproduced as a necessary part of making a record or portion thereof available to the individual.

(b) After the first copy has been provided, records will be reproduced at the rate of twenty-five cents per page for all copying of four pages or more.

(c) The Staff Secretary may provide copies of a record at no charge if it is determined to be in the interest of the Government.

(d) The Staff Secretary may require that all fees be paid in full prior to the issuance of the requested copies.

(e) Remittances shall be in the form of a personal check or bank draft drawn on a bank in the United States, or a postal money order. Remittances shall be made payable to the "United States Treasury" and mailed to the Staff Secretary, National Security Council, Washington, D.C. 20506.

(f) A receipt for fees paid will be given only upon request. Refund of fees paid for services actually rendered will not be made.

§ 2102.51 Penalties.

Title 18, U.S.C. section 1001, Crimes and Criminal Procedures, makes it a criminal offense, subject to a maximum fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years or both, to knowingly and willfully make or cause to be made any false or fraudulent statements or representations in any matter within the jurisdiction of any agency of the United States. Section (i) (3) of the Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a) makes it a misdemeanor, subject to a maximum fine of $5,000, to knowingly and willfully request or obtain any record concerning an individual under false pretenses. Sections (i) (1) and (2) of 5 U.S.C. 552a provide penalties for violations by agency employees, of the Privacy Act or regulations established thereunder.

§ 2102.61 Exemptions.

Pursuant to subsection (k) of the Privacy Act, (5 U.S.C. 552a), the Staff Secretary has determined that certain NSC systems of records may be exempt in part from sections 553 (c) (3), (d), (e) (1), (e) (4) (G), (H), (I), and (f) of Title 5, and from the provisions of these regulations. These systems of records may contain information which is classified pursuant to Executive Order 11652. To the extent that this occurs, records in the following systems would be exempt under the provision of 5 U.S.C. 552a(k) (1):

NSC 1.1—Central Research Index.
NSC 1.2—NSC Correspondence Files.
NSC 1.3—NSC Meetings Registry.

NOTICE TO FEDERAL REGISTER READERS

As part of its continuing program to improve the quality of the daily FEDERAL REGISTER and CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS, the Office of the Federal Register is soliciting the views of interested persons on the effectiveness of individual Federal Register documents and on regulations contained in the CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS.

Our goal is twofold:

First—to make each document published in the FEDERAL REGISTER easily understandable, thus making compliance easier, more efficient, and less costly; and Second—to identify and correct any existing Federal regulations which are obsolete, unnecessarily wordy, or unclearly stated.

We believe this effort is consistent with the objectives stated by President Ford in his October 8th speech on the economy in which he announced "a joint effort by the Congress, the executive branch and the private sector to identify and eliminate existing Federal rules and regulations that increase costs to the consumer without any good reason in today's economic climate."

The Office of the Federal Register welcomes your comments and suggestions. The survey blank below is provided for that purpose. All comments received will be maintained in a public docket and will be available for inspection in the Office of the Federal Register to any interested persons or agencies. Comments which point out the need for substantive changes in existing regulations also will be forwarded to the responsible agency.

I. For the following reasons I found it difficult to understand the document from _____ in column _____, page _____ of the _____ issue of the _____

Table of Effective Dates and Time Periods—September 1975

This table is for use in computing dates certain in connection with documents which are published in the Federal Register subject to advance notice requirements or which impose time limits on public response. Federal Agencies using this table in calculating time requirements for submissions must allow sufficient extra time for Federal Register scheduling procedures. In computing dates certain, the day after publication counts as one. All succeeding days are counted except that when a date certain falls on a weekend or holiday, it is moved forward to the next Federal business day. (See 1 CFR 101.17)

A new table will be published monthly in the first issue of each month.

Title 3—The President

Executive Order 11877 • September 2, 1975

Amending Executive Order No. 11861,<sup>1</sup> as Amended, Placing Certain Positions in Levels IV and V of the Executive Schedule

By virtue of the authority vested in me by Section 5317 of Title 5 of the United States Code, and as President of the United States of America, it is hereby ordered as follows:

SECTION 1. Executive Order No. 11861 of May 21, 1975, as amended, is further amended:

(a) In Section 1 thereof, placing certain positions in level IV of the Executive Schedule, delete "(2) Director, National Institutes of Health, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare." and substitute therefor "(2) Administrator, Alcohol, Drug Abuse and Mental Health Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare."

(b) In Section 1 thereof, placing certain positions in level IV of the Executive Schedule, delete "(13) Adviser to the Secretary (Counselor, Economic Policy Board), Department of the Treasury, to terminate effective August 1, 1975." and substitute therefor "(13) Adviser to the Secretary (Counselor, Economic Policy Board), Department of the Treasury."

(c) In Section 2 thereof, placing certain positions in level V of the Executive Schedule, delete "(7) Assistant to the Secretary and Director, Office of Revenue Sharing, Department of the Treasury."

SEC. 2. Executive Order No. 11864 of June 13, 1975, is hereby superseded.

rules and regulations

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains regulatory documents having general applicability and legal effect most of which are keyed to and codified in the Code of Federal Regulations, which is published under 50 titles pursuant to 44 U.S.C. 1510. The Code of Federal Regulations is sold by the Superintendent of Documents. Prices of new books are listed in the first FEDERAL REGISTER issue of each month.

Title 21—Food and Drugs
CHAPTER I—FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

[Docket No. 75F-0168]

PART 121—FOOD ADDITIVES
Acrylonitrile/Butadiene/Styrene/Methyl Methacrylate Copolymer

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs is amending § 121.2627 (21 CFR 121.2627) to expand the use of acrylonitrile/butadiene/styrene/methyl methacrylate copolymer to include its use as an article or component of articles intended to contact all foods, except those containing alcohol, effective September 4, 1975.

Notice was given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of March 27, 1975 (40 FR 13541), that a petition (FAP 5B3078) had been filed by Carr, Bonner, O'Connell, Kaplan, and Thompson, 900 Seventeenth St., NW., Washington, DC 20006, on behalf of Borg-Warner Corp., proposing that § 121.2627 Acrylonitrile/butadiene/styrene/methyl methacrylate be amended to provide for the use of this copolymer, currently restricted to low moisture fats and oils, to be expanded to include contact with all types of food, except that it would not be used in fabricating bottles intended to hold carbonated beverages or beer.

A proposal was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 4, 1974, (39 FR 38907), which discussed a previously unknown migration problem of acrylonitrile monomer that may be common to many food-contact articles containing acrylonitrile copolymers, and the absence of toxicological data to establish a definitive "no-effect" level for acrylonitrile monomer. The proposal would define the prior sanctions for acrylonitrile copolymers under a new § 121.2010 (21 CFR 121.2010), and it would establish an interim food additive regulation, § 121.4010 (21 CFR 121.4010), for such copolymers to allow their continued use for a limited period of time while the questions raised are being resolved by further study. The proposed regulations include a tolerance of 0.3 part per million (ppm) as the maximum amount of acrylonitrile monomer that can migrate from the food-contact article, and it requires the submission of certain chemical and toxicological data.

The Commissioner, having evaluated the data in the food additive petition (FAP 5B3078) and other relevant material, concludes that the acrylonitrile/butadiene/styrene/methyl methacrylate copolymer described in the regulations will meet the 0.3 part per million (ppm) extractives limitation of the proposed interim regulation when used within the restrictions set forth below. Upon adoption of the interim food additive regulation, this regulation will be amended to cross-reference the requirements of § 121.4010.

As no authority for use of this food additive as a container (bottle) for carbonated beverage or beer use is sought by the petitioner, such use is not authorized by this regulation. Therefore, the Commissioner concludes that this action will not significantly affect the quality of the human environment and that no environmental impact statement is necessary.

Therefore, under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 201(s), 409, 701(a), 52 Stat. 1055, 72 Stat. 1784-1788 as amended (21 U.S.C. 321(s), 348, 371 (a))) and under authority delegated to the Commissioner (21 CFR 2.120), § 121.2627 is amended by revising the introductory text; amending paragraph (b) by revising the listing therein; and revising paragraphs (c) (1) and (d) (2), to read as follows:

§ 121.2627 Acrylonitrile/butadiene/methyl methacrylate copolymer.

Acrylonitrile/butadiene/styrene/methyl methacrylate copolymer identified in this section may be safely used as an article or component of articles intended for use with food identified in table 1 of § 121.2526(c) as type I, II, III, IVA, IVB, V, VIB, (except bottles intended to hold carbonated beverages), VIIA, VIIB, VIII and IX, under conditions of use C, D, E, F, and G described in table 2 of § 121.2526 (c) with a high temperature limitation of 190° F.

(b) . . . . .
Substances	Limitations
2-Mercaptoethanol.	The finished copolymer shall contain not more than 800 ppm 2-mercaptoethanol-acrylonitrile adduct as determined by a method available upon request from the Commissioner of Food and Drugs.

(c) Specifications. (1) Nitrogen content of the copolymer is in the range of 13.0 to 16.0 percent as determined by Micro-Kjeldahl analysis.

(d) . . . . .
(2) The finished food-contact article shall yield not more than 0.0025 milligram per square inch of acrylonitrile monomer when exposed to distilled water, 3 percent acetic acid and n-heptane at 190° F for 2 hours, cooled to 120° F (80 to 90 minutes) and maintained at 120° F for 10 days when analyzed by a polarographic method available upon request from the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Foods, Division of Food and Color Additives (HFF-330), 200 C St., SW., Washington, DC 20204.

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may submit to the Hearing Clerk, Food and Drug Administration, Rm. 4-65, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852, written objections and a request for hearing. Objections and requests for hearing will be accepted during regular business hours, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., except on Federal legal holidays, and shall be submitted on or before October 6, 1975.

Objections and requests for hearing should be submitted in quintuplicate and should be identified with the Hearing Clerk docket number found in brackets in the heading of this order. Received objections and requests for hearing may be seen in the office of the Hearing Clerk, Rockville, MD, during the above stated hours.

Effective date. This order shall become effective September 4, 1975.

[Docket No. 75F-0167]

PART 121—FOOD ADDITIVES
Acrylonitrile/Butadiene/Styrene Copolymer

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs is amending the food additive regulations to provide for safe use of an acrylonitrile/butadiene/styrene copolymer as an article or component of articles intended to contact all foods except those containing alcohol, effective September 4, 1975.

Notice was given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 29, 1974 (39 FR 41569) that a petition (FAP 5B3051) had been filed by Carr, Bonner, O'Connell, Kaplan, and Thompson, 900 Seventeenth St., NW., Washington, DC 20006, on behalf of Borg-Warner Corp., proposing that the food additive regulations (21 CFR Part 121) be amended to provide for safe use of an acrylonitrile/butadiene/styrene copolymer in contact with food other than carbonated beverages.

FEDERAL REGISTER, VOL. 40, NO. 172—THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1975

Notice was given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 10, 1975 (40

(1) Eligibility. Any student aged 14 or 15 years who authoritative local school personnel identify as being able to bene-

Notice was given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 10, 1975 (40 FR 2247), that the filing notice of November 29, 1974 was being amended to provide for the above copolymer in the manufacture of bottles intended to hold carbonated beverages.

The amended notice of filing stated the intent of the Food and Drug Administration to issue an environmental impact statement for the agency's actions on substances used or intended for use in the fabrication of plastic bottles for carbonated beverages and beer use. The environmental impact analysis report submitted by the petitioner for the subject additive as a component of soft drink bottles was evaluated as part of this overall consideration of the environmental impact of all plastic bottles for carbonated beverages and beer use. Notice of availability of the draft environmental impact statement was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 14, 1975 (40 FR 16708).

A proposal was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 4, 1974 (39 FR 38907), which discussed a previously unknown migration problem of acrylonitrile monomer, which may be common to many food-contact articles containing acrylonitrile copolymers, and the absence of toxicological data to establish a definitive "no-effect" level for acrylonitrile monomer. The proposal would define the prior sanctions for acrylonitrile copolymers under a new § 121.2010 (21 CFR 121.2010), and it would establish an interim food additive regulation § 121.4010 (21 CFR 121.4010) for such copolymers to allow their continued use for a limited period of time while the questions raised are being resolved by further study. The proposed regulations include a tolerance of 0.3 part per million (ppm) as the maximum amount of acrylonitrile monomer migration from the food-contact article, and require submission of certain chemical and toxicological data.

The proposed interim regulation described above is intended to apply to all food additive uses of acrylonitrile copolymers. The Commissioner having evaluated the data in the food additive petition (FAP 5B3051) and other relevant material, concludes that the acrylonitrile/butadiene/styrene copolymers described in the regulation will meet the 0.3 ppm extractives limitation of the proposed interim regulation when used within the restrictions set forth below. Upon adoption of the interim food additive regulation, this regulation will be amended to cross-reference the requirements of § 121.4010.

Therefore, under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 201(s), 409, 701(a), 52 Stat. 1055, 72 Stat. 1784-1788 (21 U.S.C. 321(s), 348, 371(a))) and under authority delegated to the Commissioner (21 CFR 2.120), Part 121 is amended by adding to Subpart F the following new section, to read as follows: § 121.2633 Acrylonitrile/butadiene/styrene copolymer.

Acrylonitrile/butadiene/styrene copolymer identified in this section may be safely used as an article or component of articles intended for use with all foods, except those containing alcohol, under conditions of use E, F, and G described in table 2 of § 121.2526(c).

(a) Identity. For the purpose of this section, the acrylonitrile/butadiene/styrene copolymer consists of:

(1) Eighty-four to eighty-nine parts by weight of a matrix polymer containing 73 to 78 parts by weight of acrylonitrile and 22 to 27 parts by weight of styrene; and

(2) Eleven to sixteen parts by weight of a grafted rubber consisting of (i) 8 to 13 parts of butadiene/styrene elastomer containing 72 to 77 parts by weight of butadiene and 23 to 28 parts by weight of styrene and (ii) 3 to 8 parts by weight of a graft polymer having the same composition range as the matrix polymer.

(b) Adjuvants. The copolymer identified in paragraph (a) of this section may contain adjuvant substances required in its production. Such adjuvants may include substances generally recognized as safe in food, substances used in accordance with prior sanction, substances permitted in this part, and the following:

Substance	Limitations
2-Mercaptoethanol.	The finished copolymer shall contain not more than 100 ppm 2-mercaptoethanol. Acrylonitrile adduct as determined by a method available upon request from the Commissioner of Food and Drugs.

(c) Specifications. (1) Nitrogen content of the copolymer is in the range of 16 to 18.5 percent as determined by Micro-Kjeldahl analysis.

(2) Residual acrylonitrile monomer content of the finished copolymer articles is not more than 11 parts per million as determined by a gas chromatographic method, available upon request from the Commissioner of Food and Drugs.

(d) Extractive limitations. (1) Total nonvolatile extractives not to exceed 0.0005 milligram per square inch surface area when the finished food contact article is exposed to distilled water, 3 percent acetic acid, or n-heptane for 8 days at 120° F.

(2) The finished food-contact article shall yield not more than 0.0015 milligram per square inch of acrylonitrile monomer when exposed to distilled water and 3 percent acetic acid at 150° F for 15 days when analyzed by a polarographic method, available upon request from the Division of Food and Color Additives, HFF-330, 200 C St., SW., Washington, DC 20204.

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may submit to the Hearing Clerk, Food and Drug Administration, Rm. 4-65, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852, written objections and a request for hearing. Objections and requests for hearing will be accepted during regular business hours, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., except on Federal legal holidays, and shall be submitted on or before October 6, 1975.

Objections and requests for hearing should be submitted in triplicate and should be identified with the Hearing Clerk docket number found in brackets in the heading of this order. Received objections and requests for hearing may be seen in the office of the Hearing Clerk, Rockville, MD, during the above stated hours.

Effective date. This order shall become effective September 4, 1975.

Employment of Minors Between 14 and 16 Years of Age in Work Experience and Career Exploration Programs

Pursuant to authority in Section 3(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (29 U.S.C. 203) and Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1946 (3 CFR 1943-48 Comp., p. 1064), § 570.35a of Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations is revised as set forth below. This revision continues indefinitely on a permanent basis the Work Experience and Career Exploration Programs which have been conducted on an experimental basis since 1969. This regulation varies some provisions of Child Labor Regulation No. 3, 29 CFR 579.31, et seq., for the employment of minors between 14 and 16 years of age enrolled in and employed pursuant to school-supervised and school-administered work experience and career exploration programs.

A notice of proposal to amend § 570.35a of Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations to provide for such programs on a permanent basis was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 24215) on June 5, 1975. A period of 30 days was provided for comment by interested parties to be received on or before July 7, 1975. This period was extended to July 22, 1975 (40 FR 28814). In response to this notice of proposal a total of 504 responses was received. The overwhelming majority—all but 7—were in favor of the proposal.

These responses emphasized the beneficial character of the program during its experimental phase. It was pointed out that there was an increase in the desire to learn and an improved educational performance by WECEP participants, which was evidenced by improvement in grade point average, fewer absences from school, and reduced tardiness. It was also indicated that participation in the program resulted in greater self confidence, an increased sense of responsibility, and aided the maturation process. Of those opposed, objections were raised, among other things, to the limitations of the evaluations of the experimental program with respect to the displacement of older workers and the lack of periodic assessment and/or evaluation of students who had been enrolled in the experimental programs to determine subsequent effects of such participation. A question was also raised as to the role within this program of the Office of Education of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

After careful analysis of these comments and in consideration of the findings of the several evaluations made during the course of the experimental program, I find that the regulations should be made permanent.

After further study and consideration it has been determined that employment of participants must not have the effect of displacing a worker employed in the establishment of the employer and a new § 570.35a(e) is included to establish this restriction. The present § 570.35a(e) is renumbered § 570.35a(f).

Further, I find that this program is one that is not detrimental to the health and well-being of 14 and 15 year old WECEP participants and does not interfere with their schooling. To the contrary their education has been enhanced by participation in such programs. However, a continuing study of these programs will be undertaken to determine whether or not employment of participants displaces regular employees of a participating establishment and whether or not participation in the program has a long range effect on educational achievement.

The Secretary of Labor, based on experience in the administration and enforcement of these regulations and/or after consideration of the studies to be made thereunder, on his own initiative may institute proceedings to amend or terminate these regulations. Any person wishing a revision of any of the terms of these regulations may also submit, pursuant to § 570.38 of Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations, in writing to the Secretary of Labor a petition setting forth the changes desired and the reasons for proposing them. If, after consideration of such petition, the Secretary of Labor believes that reasonable cause for amendment of the regulation is set forth, the Secretary shall either schedule a hearing with due notice to interested parties, or shall make other provision for affording interested parties an opportunity to be heard.

The Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division will coordinate as appropriate with the Commissioner of Education of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare on effective administration of this program. The Administrator will also take such steps as are necessary to assure that the employment of students in this program is in strict accordance with the terms and conditions set out herein including, as appropriate, the withdrawal of approval pursuant to subsection (f).

Further, I find that the regulations providing for WECEP programs on an experimental basis have been in effect for a number of years, that these regulations were terminated on June 30, 1975, and that for WECEP programs which are planned for the 1975-76 school year some gap in effective date may exist which should be held to a minimum. Therefore, I find that the above circumstances are good cause for not delaying the effective date of these regulations and thus this revision shall be effective on September 4, 1975.

Section 570.35a of Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations is revised to read as follows:

§ 570.35a Work experience and career exploration programs.

(a) This section varies some provisions of this subpart for the employment of minors between 14 and 16 years of age who are enrolled in and employed pursuant to a school-supervised and school-administered work-experience and career exploration program which meets the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section, in the occupations permitted under paragraph (c) of this section, and for the periods and under the conditions specified in paragraph (d) of the section. With these safeguards, such employment is found not to interfere with the schooling of the minors or with their health and well-being and therefore is not deemed to be oppressive child labor.

(b) (1) A school-supervised and school-administered work-experience and career exploration program shall meet the educational standards established and approved by the State Educational Agency in the respective State.

(2) The State Educational Agency shall file with the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division a letter of application for approval of a State program as one not interfering with schooling or with the health and well-being of the minors involved and therefore not constituting oppressive child labor. The application must include information concerning the criteria listed in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph. The Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division shall approve the application, or give prompt notice of any denial and the reasons therefor.

(3) The criteria to be used in consideration of applications are the following:

(i) Eligibility. Any student aged 14 or 15 years who authoritative local school personnel identify as being able to benefit from the program shall be eligible to participate.

(ii) Credits. Students shall receive school credits for both in-school related instruction and on-the-job experience.

(iii) Size. Each program unit shall be a reasonable size. A unit of 12 to 25 students to one teacher-coordinator would be generally considered reasonable. Whether other sizes are reasonable would depend upon the individual facts and circumstances involved.

(iv) Instructional schedule. There shall be (a) allotted time for the required classroom instruction in those subjects necessary for graduation under the State's standards and (b) regularly scheduled classroom periods of instruction devoted to job-related and to employability skill instruction.

(v) Teacher-coordinator. Each program unit shall be under the supervision of a school official to be designated for the purpose of the program as a teacher-coordinator, who shall generally supervise the program and coordinate the work and education aspects of the program and make regularly scheduled visits to the work stations.

(vi) Written training agreement. No student shall participate in the program until there has been made a written training agreement signed by the teacher-coordinator, the employer, and the student. The agreement shall also be signed or otherwise consented to by the student's parent or guardian.

(vii) Other provisions. Any other provisions of the program providing safeguards ensuring that the employment permitted under this section will not interfere with the schooling of the minors or with their health and well-being may also be submitted for use in consideration of the application.

(4) Every State Educational Agency having students in a program approved pursuant to the requirements of this section shall comply with the following:

(i) Permissible occupations. No student shall be assigned to work in any occupation other than once permitted under paragraph (c) of this section.

(ii) Records and reports. The names and addresses of each school enrolling work experience and career exploration program students and the number of enrollees in each unit shall be kept at the State Educational Agency office. A copy of the written training agreement for each student participating in the program shall be kept in the State Educational Agency office or in the local educational office. The records required for this paragraph shall be kept for a period of 3 years from the date of enrollment in the program and shall be made available for inspection or transcription to the representatives of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division.

(c) Employment of minors enrolled in a program approved pursuant to the requirements of this section shall be permitted in all occupations except the following:

No objections have been received and the proposed regulations are hereby

- (1) Manufacturing and mining.
- (2) Occupations declared to be hazardous for the employment of minors between 16 and 18 years of age in Subpart E of this part, and occupations in agriculture declared to be hazardous for employment of minors below the age of 16 in Subpart E-1 of this part.

(3) Occupations other than those permitted under §§ 570.33 and 570.34, except upon arrival of a variation in individual cases or classes of cases by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division after notice to interested persons and opportunity to be heard. Any such variation of general application shall be published as an amendment to this subpart. Applications for such approval may be included with the application for approval of the program; or filed specifically under § 570.38. Such applications shall be processed under § 570.38.

(d) Employment of minors enrolled in a program approved pursuant to the requirements of this section shall be confined to not more than 23 hours in any 1 week when school is in session and not more than 3 hours in any day when school is in session, any portion of which may be during school hours. Insofar as these provisions are inconsistent with the provisions of § 570.35, this section shall be controlling.

(e) The employment of a minor enrolled in a program pursuant to the requirements of this section must not have the effect of displacing a worker employed in the establishment of the employer.

(f) Programs shall be in force and effect for a period of (2) school years from the date of their approval by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division. A new application for approval must be filed at the end of that period. Failure to meet the requirements of this section may result in withdrawal of approval.

CHAPTER X—COMMISSION OF FINE ARTS PART 1000—RULES FOR COMPLIANCE WITH 5 U.S.C. 552, THE FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT

Final Rulemaking

On July 23, 1975 there was published in the Federal Register on page 30841, a notice of proposed rulemaking with the proposed establishment of Chapter X and Part 1000. This proposed Part 1000 would serve as the regulations of the Commission of Fine Arts for implementing 5 U.S.C. 552, The Freedom of Information Act, as required by that act. Interested parties were given 30 days in which to submit comments regarding the proposed regulations.

No objections have been received and the proposed regulations are hereby adopted without change and are set forth below.

Signed in Washington, D.C. on August 28, 1975 by:

CHARLES H. ATHERTON,
Secretary,
Commission of Fine Arts.

Sec.
1000.1	Purpose and scope.
1000.2	Requests for identifiable records and copies.
1000.3	Action on initial requests.
1000.4	Appeals.
1000.5	Fees.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552, as amended.

§ 1000.1 Purpose and scope.

This part contains the regulations of the Commission of Fine Arts implementing 5 U.S.C. 552. The regulations of this part provide information concerning the procedures by which records may be obtained from the Commission. Members and employees of the Commission may continue to furnish to the public, informally and without neglecting the rights of requesters described herein, information and records which prior to enactment of 5 U.S.C. 552 were furnished customarily in the regular performance of their duties. Persons seeking information or records of the Commission may find it useful to consult with the Secretary before invoking the formal procedures set out below.

§ 1000.2 Requests for identifiable records and copies.

(a) Formal public requests for information from the records of the Commission of Fine Arts shall be made in writing with the letter clearly marked "FREEDOM OF INFORMATION REQUEST." All such requests should be addressed to the Secretary, Commission of Fine Arts, 708 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006.

(b) Records must be reasonably described. A request for all records falling within a reasonably specific category shall be regarded as conforming to the requirement that records be reasonably described if it enables the records requested to be identified by any process that is not unreasonably burdensome or disruptive of Commission operations.

§ 1000.3 Action on initial requests.

(a) The Secretary will make a determination as to whether or not to release requested information. Generally, determination will be made to release the requested information if (1) it is not exempt from disclosure or (2) it is exempt from disclosure but its withholding is neither required by statute, nor supported by sound grounds.

(b) Determination will be dispatched within ten days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays, after initial receipt of the request.

(c) In unusual circumstances, the time for initial determination on requests may be delayed up to a total of ten additional days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays and notice of such delay shall be dispatched within the first ten days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays following the initial receipt of the request.

(d) Letters denying access to information will:

(1) provide the requester with the reason for the denial.

(2) inform the requester of his right to appeal the denial within 30 days.

(3) give the name and title of the official to whom the appeal may be sent.

(4) give the name and title of the official responsible for the denial.

§ 1000.4 Appeals.

(a) The Chairman of the Commission is the appellate authority for all denials.

(b) The Chairman will act upon the appeal within twenty days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays.

(c) In unusual circumstances, the time for action on an appeal may be extended by an additional ten days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays minus any extension granted at the initial request level under § 1000.3(c).

(d) In the event that the appeal upholds the denial, the requester will be advised that there are provisions for judicial review of such decisions under the Freedom of Information Act.

§ 1000.5 Fees.

(a) Fees shall be charged according to the schedule in paragraph (b) of this section for services rendered in responding to requests for Commission of Fine Arts records under this part unless determination is made that such charges or a portion of them are not in the public interest because furnishing the information primarily benefits the general public.

(b) The following charges will be assessed for the services listed:

(1) For copies of documents 8½" x 14" or smaller, $0.25 for the first copy of the first page and $0.10 for each copy of each page thereafter.

(i) Ordinarily, no more than one copy of each page will be supplied.

(ii) Ordinarily, photographs 8½" x 14" or smaller will be copied on a photocopy machine, rather than by photographing and printing of such photographs.

(2) When in responding to a request, copying of bound works such as books or periodicals, copying of documents larger than 8½" x 14", photographing and printing of records, or other services not normally performed by the Commission and its staff are required, the direct cost of such services or material to the Commission of Fine Arts may be charged, but only if the requester has been notified of such cost before it is incurred.

(3) For each one quarter hour spent by clerical personnel in excess of the first quarter hour in searching for and producing a requested record, $1.50.

(4) When a search cannot be performed by clerical personnel and the amount of time that must be expended in the search and collection of the requested records by such higher level personnel is substantial, charges may be made at a rate in excess of the clerical rate, namely, for each one quarter hour spent in excess of the first quarter hour by such higher level personnel in searching for a requested record, $3.00.

(5) No charge will be made for time spent in resolving legal or policy issues affecting access to records of known contents. In addition, no charge will be made for the time involved in examining records in connection with determining whether they are exempt from mandatory disclosure and should be withheld as a matter of sound policy. In addition, no charge will ordinarily be made if the records requested are not found. However, if the time expended in processing the request is substantial, and if the requester has been notified that it cannot be determined in advance whether any records will be made available, fees may be charged.

(c) Where it is anticipated that the fees chargeable under this section will amount to more than $10.00, and the requester has not indicated in advance his willingness to pay fees as high as are anticipated, the requester shall be notified of the amount of the anticipated fee or such portion thereof as can readily be estimated. In such cases, a request will not be deemed to have been received until the requester is notified of the anticipated cost and agrees to bear it. Such a notification will be transmitted as soon as possible but in any event, within five days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays after the receipt of the initial request.

(d) Payment should be made by check or money order payable to the U.S. Treasury.

(e) (1) Where the anticipated fee chargeable under this section exceeds $10.00, an advance deposit of 25% of the anticipated fee or $10.00, whichever is greater may be required.

(2) Where a requester has previously failed to pay a fee under this section, an advance deposit of the full amount of the anticipated fee may be required.

Title 41—Public Contracts and Property Management

CHAPTER 8—VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

PART 8-2—PROCUREMENT BY FORMAL ADVERTISING

PART 8-3—PROCUREMENT BY NEGOTIATION

Miscellaneous Amendments

Chapter 8 of Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended as set forth below. Sections 8-2.102, 8-3.101, 8-3.200, 8-3.207, 8-3.209 and 8-3.215 are revised to reflect the increase in small purchase negotiating authority Section 8-3.203 is revised to decentralize the approving authority for contracts for professional services negotiated under the authority of 38 U.S.C. 213, and to reflect increase in small purchase negotiating authority. Section 8-3.204 is revised to reflect change in small purchase negotiating authority, to amend reference to architect-engineer services, to conform descriptions of scarce medical specialist services and sharing agreements to the language of Pub. L. 93-82 (87 Stat. 179), and to amend internal processing of such contracts and agreements. In addition, minor editorial changes have been made to reflect agency policy of using precise terms denoting gender.

It is the general policy of the Veterans Administration to allow time for interested parties to participate in the rule making process. However, the amendments herein concern agency procedures and practices. Therefore, the public rule-making process is deemed unnecessary in this instance.

1. In § 8-2.102, the introductory portion preceding paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 8-2.102 Policy.

Contracts in excess of $10,000 or in excess of $1,000 for contracts made for repairs to property acquired by the Veterans Administration under chapter 37, title 38, United States Code, will be made by formal advertising when all of the following elements necessary to formal advertising are present.

2. In § 8-3.101, the introductory portion of paragraph (a) preceding subparagraph (1) is revised to read as follows:

§ 8-3.101 General requirements for negotiation.

(a) Contracts in excess of $10,000 or $1,000 for contracts made for repairs to properties acquired under chapter 37, title 38, United States Code, will be entered into by negotiation only in the absence of any one or more of the elements essential to formal advertising set forth in § 8-2.102, or when:

3. In § 8-3.200, paragraph (b) is revised to read as follows:

§ 8-3.200 Scope of subpart.

(b) In those instances where a purchase in excess of $10,000 may be negotiated under more than one authority, the contracting officer will select the authority he/she deems most appropriate to accomplish the purchase and will include in the contract file complete justification for his/her selection.

4. Section 8-3.203 is revised to read as follows:

§ 8-3.203 Purchases not in excess of $10,000.

(a) Procurement of medical services and resources authorized by sections 4117 and 5053 of title 38, United States Code, costing less than $10,000 may be procured by negotiation under authority of FPR 1-3.203. Each such contract and revision thereof is, however, subject to the same approval as those costing in excess of $10,000. See § 8-3.204.

(b) Except as provided in this paragraph, purchases authorized to be negotiated under the special procurement authorities contained in title 38, United States Code, will be negotiated under the authority of FPR 1-3.203 when the amount of the purchase is not in excess of $10,000. An exception exists in the case of services or supplies purchased on account of any property acquired under the Loan Guaranty program. For such purchases, 38 U.S.C. 1820(b) requires formal advertising if the amount will exceed $1,000.

5. Section 8-3.204 is revised to read as follows:

§ 8-3.204 Personal or professional services.

(a) Various sections of title 38, United States Code, authorize the Administrator to enter into contracts for the purpose of acquiring personal or professional services. These authorizations do not, however, stipulate the manner in which such contracts are to be entered into, i.e., negotiation or formal advertising. Civilian agencies are, under the authority of FPR 1-3.204, authorized to procure such services by negotiation. Therefore, when the services listed in this section are to be acquired by the Veterans' Administration, at a cost in excess of $10,000, a contract will be negotiated by the contracting officer. These contracts will cite in addition to the authority to negotiate, FPR 1-3.204, the appropriate section of title 38 which authorizes the contract.

(b) Architect-engineer services when required in conjunction with construction (see subparts 8-4.10 and 8-16.7 of this chapter) will cite as the authority for such negotiation FPR 1-3.204—38 U.S.C. 5002.

(c) Contracts with medical schools, clinics, and any other group or individual capable of furnishing such services to provide scarce medical specialist services at Veterans Administration facilities (including but not limited to services of physicians, dentists, nurses, technicians, and other medical support personnel) will be negotiated under authority of FPR 1-3.204 and 38 U.S.C. 4117.

(d) Contracts with other hospitals (or other medical installations having hospital facilities) or medical schools, or clinics in the medical community for:

(1) The mutual use, or exchange of use, of specialized medical resources when such a contract will obviate the need for a similar resource to be provided in a Veterans Administration facility; or

(2) The mutual use, or exchange of use, of specialized medical resources in a Veterans Administration facility, which have been justified on the basis of veterans' care, but which are not utilized to their maximum effective capacity will be negotiated under authority of FPR 1-3.204—38 U.S.C. 5053.

(e) Proposed contracts for the services and resources specified in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section may be entered into for 1 year only. When deemed essential to the mission of the stations, proposed renewal contracts will be negotiated for the subsequent year. Except as provided in paragraph (f) of this section, such proposed contracts will be submitted for approval to the Associceed $10,000. Contracts of this nature

(4) Chief, Marketing Division for

§ 8-3.209 Subsistence supplies.

(a) (1) Except as provided in this nee and when such services are not reasonably available from private commerthrough age 20 by the same Foster Grandparent if: (a) It has been probe submitted for approval to the Associate Deputy Chief Medical Director for Operations (10C4A), when authority is 38 U.S.C. 5053, or (134) when authority is 38 U.S.C. 4117, so as to reach Central Office 60 days prior to effective date of the contract.

(1) Complete justification for all contracts will be submitted, as approval depends on the adequacy of the justification.

(2) Proposed contracts under authority of 38 U.S.C. 4117 will be submitted in five copies, and contracts under authority of 38 U.S.C. 5053 will be submitted in six copies.

(3) The transmittal letter and each supporting document will be submitted in the same number of copies as the contract. As an incomplete submission delays processing of the proposed contract in Central Office, care should be exercised to assure that the proper number of copies are submitted, and that submissions are complete (e.g., complete name and address of the other party or parties to the contract are included).

(4) Proposed contracts of the type specified in paragraph (d) (1) and (2) of this section will be accompanied by a recommendation of the head of the station as to the geographical limits to be applied to the medical community.

(5) A copy of all executed sharing contracts, both new and renewal, will be forwarded to the Associate Deputy Chief Medical Director for Operations (10C4A) for post audit and for purposes of making the annual report to Congress as required by 38 U.S.C. 5057.

(f) Proposed renewal sharing contracts under the authority of 38 U.S.C. 5053 may be approved by the appropriate Medical District Director when such contract proposals meet the following conditions:

(1) There shall be no new services added to the sharing contract. (Services, however, may be deleted from the contract without Central Office approval.) No individual cost item that is being procured from the contractor (non-Veterans Administration facility identified in the contract) shall increase in cost more than 10 percent over the cost for that same item in the previous contract.

(2) The sharing proposal has been reviewed for legality by the District Counsel responsible for servicing the Veterans Administration hospital involved. The District Counsel shall be sent, along with the sharing proposal, a copy of the previous sharing agreement for the same services so that a comparison can be made of the two documents.

(3) All contract clauses required by Chapters 1 and 4, Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations are included in the proposal.

(4) Equal Employment Opportunity clearance has been obtained, when required (see § 8-11.805-1).

(g) Contracts for professional or technical services with private or public agencies not specifically authorized in any other section of title 38, United States Code, may be acquired under 38 U.S.C. 213 and negotiated under FPR 1-3.204 when the cost of such services will exceed $10,000. Contracts of this nature must meet the requirements of FPR 1-3.204(a). The approval of the appropriate department or staff head will be secured before any contract is negotiated under this authority.

(h) Personal service contracts having an employer-employee relationship, except to the extent indicated in paragraph (c) of this section, will not be negotiated under this authority but will be consummated in accordance with MP-5, Parts I and II. The determination as to whether a contract is of this nature is primarily the responsibility of the appointing official. Contracting officers should, however, be alert to the conditions or circumstances set forth in this paragraph which, if present, could result in an invalid contract. If any of those conditions or circumstances are present, any doubts will be resolved by consultation with the requester and by seeking legal advice.

(1) Contracts with individuals. (i) The contract does not call for an end product which is adequately described in the contract.

(ii) The contract price or fee is based on the time actually worked rather than the results to be accomplished.

(iii) The services are to be of a continuing rather than a temporary or intermittent nature.

(2) Contracts with concerns. (i) Office space, equipment, and supplies necessary for contract performance are to be furnished by the Veterans Administration.

(ii) Contractor-furnished personnel are to be integrated within the Veterans Administration organizational structure.

(iii) Contractor-furnished personnel are to be used interchangeably with Veterans Administration personnel to perform the same functions.

(iv) The Veterans Administration retains the right to control and direct the means and methods by which contractor-furnished personnel accomplish this work.

6. Section 8-3.207 is revised to read as follows:

§ 8-3.207 Medicines or medical supplies.

(a) General. (1) Except as provided in this § 8-3.207 or when specific prior approval has been granted by the Director, Supply Service, to a field station contracting officer, no Veterans Administration contracting officer shall enter into a contract by negotiation under authority of FPR 1-3.207, when the estimated cost of the item(s) required, singly or collectively, is in excess of $10,000 for a single transaction.

(2) When an individual is designated to act in the capacity of one of the positions specified in this § 8-3.207, that individual is authorized to consummate contracts in the same manner, and in the same amount, as the incumbent of the position.

(b) Drugs and chemicals. The following contracting officers are authorized to negotiate contracts for the purchase of drugs and chemicals:

(1) Director, Supply Service.
(2) Chief, Procurement Division.
(3) Director, Veterans Administration Marketing Center.

(4) Chief, Marketing Division for Drugs and Chemicals.

(5) One senior contracting officer and one contracting officer, Marketing Division for Drugs and Chemicals, when so designated by the marketing division chief.

(c) Prosthetic appliances. (1) The following contracting officers are authorized to negotiate contracts for the purchase of prosthetic appliances defined as wheelchairs, hearing aids and batteries, artificial limbs, canes and stump socks:

(i) Director, Supply Service.
(ii) Chief, Procurement Division.

(2) The following contracting officers are authorized to negotiate contracts for the purchase of the appliances specified in paragraph (c) (1) of this section provided the dollar value of the item(s) to be purchased, singly or collectively, does not exceed $25,000:

(i) Director, Veterans Administration Marketing Center.

(ii) Chief, Marketing Division for Administrative Medical Supplies and Equipment.

(iii) One senior contracting officer, Marketing Division for Administrative Medical Supplies and Equipment, when so designated by the marketing division chief.

(d) Medical equipment. (1) The following contracting officers are authorized to negotiate contracts for the purchase of equipment of this nature:

(i) Director, Supply Service.
(ii) Chief, Procurement Division.

(2) The following contracting officers are authorized to negotiate contracts for the purchase of equipment of this nature, provided the dollar value of the item(s) to be purchased, singly or collectively, does not exceed $25,000:

(i) Director, Veterans Administration Marketing Center.

(ii) Chief, Marketing Division for Medical Equipment.

(iii) One senior contracting officer, Marketing Division for Medical Equipment, when so designated by the marketing division chief.

(e) Radiological and nuclear equipment and supplies. (1) The following contracting officers are authorized to negotiate contracts for the purchase of equipment and supplies of this nature:

(i) Director, Supply Service.
(ii) Chief, Procurement Division.

(2) The following contracting officers are authorized to negotiate contracts for the purchase of equipment and supplies of this nature, provided the dollar value of the item(s) to be purchased, singly or collectively, does not exceed $25,000:

(i) Director, Veterans Administration Marketing Center.

(ii) Chief, Marketing Division for Radiological and Nuclear Equipment and Supplies.

(iii) One senior contracting officer, Marketing Division for Radiological and Nuclear Equipment and Supplies when so designated by the marketing division chief.

7. In § 8-3.209, paragraphs (a) (1) and (b) (2) and (3) are revised to read as follows:

§ 8-3.209 Subsistence supplies.

(a) (1) Except as provided in this § 8-3.209 or when specific prior approval has been granted by the Director, Supply Service, to a field station contracting officer, no Veterans Administration contracting officer shall enter into a contract by negotiation under authority of FPR 1-3.209 when the estimated cost of the item(s) required, singly or collectively, is in excess of $10,000 for a single transaction.

(b) The following contracting officers are authorized to negotiate contracts for the purchase of subsistence supplies:

(2) Chief, Procurement Division.

(3) Director, Veterans Administration Marketing Center.

8. In § 8-3.210, paragraph (d) is revised to read as follows:

§ 8-3.210 Impracticable to secure competition by formal advertising.

(d) Contracts for the maintenance, repair and inspection of electronic automatic elevators may be negotiated under authority of FPR 1-3.210. The determinations and findings required by FPR 1-3.3 to support the use of this authority will be prepared by the contracting officer. They will be supported by a written statement from the engineer officer setting forth in detail why, in his/her professional engineering opinion, the negotiation of a contract for this purpose is in the best interest of the Veterans Administration.

9. In § 8-3.215, the introductory portion preceding paragraph (a) and paragraphs (c) and (d) are revised to read as follows:

§ 8-3.215 Otherwise authorized by law.

Various sections of title 38, United States Code, authorize the Administrator to enter into certain contracts, and certain types of contracts, without regard to any other provision of law. Veterans Administration contracting officers entering into contracts by negotiation for any of the following items or services, estimated to cost in excess of $10,000, will cite, in addition to FPR 1-3.215, the appropriate section of title 38, United States Code as their authority to do so:

(c) Contracts or leases for the operation of parking facilities established under authority of 38 U.S.C. 5004 (b) (1), provided that (1) the establishment, operation and maintenance of such facilities have been authorized by the Administrator or designee; and (2) the station head determines in writing that operation by contract or lease is both desirable and warranted. FPR 1-3.215—38 U.S.C. 5004 (b) (3).

(d) Contracts for laundry and other common services, such as the purchase of steam, may be negotiated with nonprofit, tax-exempt, educational, medical, or community institutions, when specifically approved by the Administrator or designee and when such services are not reasonably available from private commercial sources. FPR 1-3.215—38 U.S.C. 5012.

(1) Contracts of this nature shall contain the clause in FPR 1-7.103-3, examination of records. They are also subject to the provisions of FPR 1-1.5 and Subpart 8-1.5 of this chapter, contingent fees; FPR 1-3.401, types of contracts; FPR 1-3.405-5 and § 8-3.405-5, cost-plus-a-fixed fee contract.

(2) Requests to enter into such contracts will be submitted to the Associate Deputy Chief Medical Director for Operations (10C4A) for approval by the Administrator or designee.

Title 45—Public Welfare

CHAPTER XII—ACTION

PART 1208—FOSTER GRANDPARENT PROGRAM

Adoption of Proposed Regulations

On October 18, 1974, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (39 FR 37205), a notice of proposed rule making to replace Chapter IX of Title 45, Part 907. The Foster Grandparent Program is authorized by section 211(a) of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973, Pub. L. 93-113, and provides opportunities for low-income persons, age 60 or older, to serve as volunteers to provide supportive services to children having special or exceptional needs. A number of clerical errors were noted and corrections were made in the proposed regulations. All comments submitted with respect to the proposed new Foster Grandparent Program regulations were given due consideration.

As a result of comments received, the following clarifying changes are made:

1. Section 1208.2-5(b) is amended to read: "The director shall not be concurrently employed, paid, or used in another position during established working hours while serving as director of the project. However, under certain circumstances, established by the Director of ACTION to avoid consequences detrimental to either project, the project director may also direct a 'Senior Companion Program.' The similarity of program policies and operation make it administratively attractive under some circumstances to have one project director managing two projects."

2. Section 1208.3-4 is amended regarding the specific age limit, as follows: "Children served by Foster Grandparents shall be chronologically age 17 or under, with preference given to younger children. In exceptional cases, however, a child may continue to be served through age 20 by the same Foster Grandparent if: (a) It has been professionally determined that with the same Foster Grandparent, there is a likelihood of improvement for the child in personal adjustment, social relationship, learning ability, and/or motor coordination; and (b) The volunteer station has developed a plan in writing to provide for an alternative supportive relationship after age 20 for the person being served by the Foster Grandparent."

The basic characteristic of the Foster Grandparent Program is to have older persons serve children, as authorized in P.L. 93-113. The proposed regulations specified that children served shall be chronologically 17 or under. The new language was added to permit Foster Grandparents, in exceptional cases, to serve children through age 20.

Several comments suggested that the proposed language for this subsection of the regulation would exclude persons who had the mental age of children, but were beyond the chronological age of 17. The additional language to this subsection will permit children to be served beyond the age of 17 up to their 21st birthday. In the opinion of the ACTION General Counsel, the Foster Grandparent Program cannot legally serve persons beyond their 21st birthday. Absent legislative intent to the contrary, the term "children" in Section 211(a) of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973 must be given its ordinary meaning, i.e., defined with reference to years, chronological age. (Ordinarily this will extend through age 20.) This view is confirmed by the fact that Congress provided an almost identical program for persons, other than children, in Section 211(b), the legislative authority for ACTION's Senior Companion Program.

3. Section 1208.3-2(a) is amended to delete "including privately owned nursing homes," because Foster Grandparents do not serve adults, normally the residents of nursing homes.

4. Section 1208.3-2(a) (2) is amended to be more explicit, as follows: "Volunteer stations making assignments to private homes shall provide supervision to Foster Grandparents through regular visits to individual homes."

5. Section 1208.3-2(c) is amended as follows to offer more flexibility in the determination of how many Foster Grandparents will serve in group care volunteer stations: "Placement of Foster Grandparents in group care volunteer stations shall be made in numbers large enough to permit social interaction between Foster Grandparents and to facilitate group transportation and adequate supervision."

6. Section 1208.3-4(b) was amended to provide elaboration, as follows: "Sponsors shall arrange to provide volunteer services to children with special or exceptional needs such as the physically handicapped, delinquent, emotionally disturbed, mentally retarded or dependent and neglected children in hospitals, correctional facilities and other residential institutions, and in schools or day care establishments, and in private residences."

§ 1208.2-4 Responsibilities.

In addition to the foregoing changes, a number of suggestions were made but are not adopted. The following comments relate to relevant sections, subjects covered, and reasons why suggestions were not incorporated in the final regulations.

1. A comment would have amended section 1208.2-3, to require that Area Agencies on Aging also review and comment on grant applications. Section 212 of Pub. L. 93-113 already involves appropriate State agencies on aging either in reviewing applications for projects in one community or in the development or operational phase of projects in an area larger than one community.

2. A number of comments related to section 1208.3-4(d), asking that Foster Grandparents serve no more than one child at a time. However, the proposed language of this section reflects congressional intent. During the congressional committee hearings to consider the reenactment of the Foster Grandparent Program's authorizing legislation in the Older American Comprehensive Services Amendments of 1973, Public Law 93-29, which was substantially reenacted as section 211(a) of Title II of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973, P.L. 93-113, the committees indicated that the term "person-to-person services" was not limited to the assignments of Foster Grandparents in a direct one-to-one relationship with a particular child. The proposed version of this section, therefore, permits some flexibility in the assignment of Foster Grandparents. However, the assignment of a Foster Grandparent to two children served individually is preferable so as to maximize gains to the children. (See House Committee on Education and Labor, Report No. 93-43, March 2, 1973, page 23; and Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, Report No. 92-1242, September 28, 1972, page 18.)

3. a. Several comments were offered to amend section 1208.4-1(b) (1) to permit otherwise eligible older persons who have excess income, but not more than 20 percent above the income eligibility level for Foster Grandparents, to be enrolled in the program. Eligibility for service in the program is established pursuant to section 421(4) of Pub. L. 93-113 and provides for the adjustment of the national poverty guidelines issued by the Community Service Administration (formerly the Office of Economic Opportunity) to reflect local situations. ACTION does this by adding to the CSA poverty guidelines for each State the amount which that State supplements the Federal Supplemental Security Income payments for the aged.

b. Recommendations were also made to permit unusual expenses to be deducted from annual income for persons to be eligible for enrollment or for continuation as Foster Grandparents. The CSA poverty guidelines are based on a total income concept with no allowance for deduction of expenses from annual income.

4. The comment was made to have section 1208.4-1(c) clarify the sponsor's responsibility to pay for Foster Grandparent annual physical examinations.

Costs for annual physical examinations for each Foster Grandparent are an allowable budget item, meaning they can be paid for federally or locally, but they are frequently used as a source of non-federal support of the budget.

5. Recommendations were received to have language in Section 1208.4-2(b) reduce or consolidate hours of service instructions required each month for Foster Grandparents. The regular monthly in-service instruction is prescribed to best serve the needs and interests of Foster Grandparents.

6. a. Changes were suggested for section 1208.4-3(b) to permit the sponsor to increase the Foster Grandparent stipend from the sponsor's resources with two consequences: (1) to allow such increase to be treated as sponsor's local cost sharing; and (2) to have this additional amount of stipend eligible for the income-disregard-benefits available under section 418 of Pub. L. 93-113, which would affect federal income and federal Social Security tax liabilities. It was recommended that a minimum stipend be set at the federal minimum wage.

The stipend is not related to the federal minimum wage and has not been set to reflect the value of the Foster Grandparent's service in the competitive labor market. Section 418 of Pub. L. 93-113 states that no payments or stipends to volunteers shall "... be treated as wages or compensation for the purpose of ... minimum wage laws." Only the federally established stipend is nontaxable income and only the federally designated amount of stipend is allowable in the program budget. (This is so whether ACTION or the sponsor pays it.) Thus any local increases in the stipend will probably be taxable and be considered in determining the Foster Grandparent's continued eligibility to serve in the program.

b. This comment was made to clarify section 1208.4-3(d), to determine when the new types of insurance coverage must start. Foster Grandparents shall not be placed in volunteer assignments until ACTION has received a written statement from the sponsor indicating compliance with all insurance requirements.

7. A comment was made to change section 1208.5-5(a) (3) to take into account the Federal Election Campaign Act Amendments of 1974 changes to the Hatch Act. These Amendments permit State and local officers, whose principal employment is in connection with an activity financed in whole or in part by federal grants, to take an active part in political management or political campaign. The Amendments would also bar any such employees from running for elective office, except in a nonpartisan election. The existing paragraph to this section does not contradict the changes in the Hatch Act. It aims to prevent a volunteer or a sponsor's employee from taking any action with respect to a political activity which would result in the apparent identification of the program with such activity.

Accordingly, with these changes and additions, the proposed replacement is adopted as set forth below.

RONALD GEREVAS,
Acting Deputy Director.

AUTHORITY: Secs. 211(a), 212, 221, 222, 223, 402(14) and 420 of Pub. L. 93-113, 87 Stat. 402, 403, 404, 407, 414.

Subpart A—General

§ 1208.1-1 Introduction.

The purpose of this program is to provide meaningful part-time volunteer opportunities for low-income older persons to render supportive person-to-person services to children having special or exceptional needs in health, education, welfare and related settings.

(a) Section 211(a) of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973, Pub. L. 93-113, 87 Stat. 402, authorizes the Director of ACTION to make grants or contracts to develop and operate a Foster Grandparent Program.

(b) These regulations relate only to grants. The contract format will not be used in the development and operation of local projects.

§ 1208.1-2 Definitions.

As used in this part the terms "ACTION" or "ACTION office" include each Regional office. The local program for which a sponsor receives grant assistance will be referred to as a project.

Subpart B—Project Sponsors

§ 1208.2-1 Eligibility and funding.

ACTION shall make grants only to public and nonprofit private agencies and organizations which have authority to accept grants for the purposes of this part and have the capability of administering such a project. Volunteer stations, as defined in § 1208.3-2, shall not be sponsors. These grants can be made to pay up to 90 percent of the costs of development and operation of programs designed to carry out the purpose of this part. In exceptional situations, the Director of ACTION may approve assistance for more than 90 percent of such costs. A project must meet one of the following criteria to be eligible to receive grant assistance for more than 90 percent of costs:

(1) The project is located in an area where non-federal resources are too limited to provide 10 percent of the total project cost. This may be due to short or long-term conditions of poverty in an area where there is a serious need for the project, or

(2) The project is located in an area where an emergency situation exists, such as a county or state which has been declared a disaster area and there is a serious need for the project.

§ 1208.2-2 Grant application.

Any eligible agency or organization may file an application for a grant with ACTION. Grant application forms may be obtained from any ACTION office. The grant application is designed to provide ACTION with information needed to evaluate an applicant's capacity to develop and operate a project. The application will include:

(a) General goals for the proposed project, consistent with the purpose of this part.

(b) Specific objectives to be achieved, activities to be undertaken and methods to be followed during the project budget period in support of the stated goals.

(c) A detailed budget and budget item justification.

(d) Duties of projected staff positions and qualifications required for incumbents of the positions.

(e) Ways in which active coordination is to be established with other aging and volunteer-related organizations, including the State Agency on Aging, if the State agency is not the sponsor.

(f) Type of membership and functions of a Foster Grandparent Advisory Council.

(g) The proposed service area to be served by the project.

(h) Copies of Memoranda of Understanding with proposed volunteer stations.

(i) Available data on the population, age 60 and over, in the proposed service area.

(j) A description of the special efforts the sponsor will make to recruit and to select qualified individuals from minority groups to serve as Foster Grandparents.

§ 1208.2-3 State Agency on Aging and Community Action Participation.

Under certain circumstances, State Agencies on Aging under section 304(a) (1) of the Older Americans Act of 1965, as amended (42 U.S.C. 3024(a) (1)) and Community Action Agencies (CAA's) under Title II of the Economic Opportunity Act, as amended, must be offered a reasonable opportunity to apply for a grant or must be consulted in the development of the project.

(a) State Agencies on Aging. (1) When a project is proposed to be carried out throughout a State or in an area more comprehensive than one community, the appropriate State Agency on Aging must be afforded a reasonable opportunity to apply for and receive the grant and to administer or supervise the administration of the project. The State Agency on Aging will be considered to have received a reasonable opportunity if it has not submitted a grant application to ACTION within 45 days after receiving notice from ACTION that another organization has applied for a project grant, or if it has waived its opportunity in writing.

(2) ACTION shall notify the applicable State Agency in writing or by telegram that it is considering awarding a grant. This will enable the agency to consider applying for such an award within the 45-day period. The assurances referred to in paragraph (a) (4) of this section will constitute a written waiver.

(3) If both a State Agency on Aging and another organization apply for grant assistance when available funds are limited, the decision to award a grant to the other organization must be based on a clear written statement that the application and a review of the prospective sponsor's qualifications indicate it will carry out the project more effectively.

(4) Where the State Agency is not the grantee, applications for projects must contain satisfactory written assurances that the project has been developed, and will, to the extent appropriate, be conducted in consultation with or with the participation of the appropriate State Agency on Aging. A letter in the grant application from the appropriate State Agency on Aging containing the following information constitutes such an assurance: (i) The project has been developed with assistance of the State Agency, and (ii) will be, to the extent appropriate, conducted in consultation with it.

(b) Community Action Agency. Where a project is proposed to be undertaken entirely in a community served by a Community Action Agency, the procedure described in paragraph (a) of this section shall be followed, except that requirements relating to the State Agency on Aging shall relate instead to the Community Action Agency.

(c) Except for new grant applicants to which paragraph (a) of this section applies, no new grant awards shall be made unless the State Agency on Aging has been afforded at least 45 days in which to review the application and to make recommendations thereon. The applicable State Agency shall state in writing to ACTION that: (1) It has waived its right to comment on the project, or (2) it supports or cannot recommend the project and its reasons therefor.

§ 1208.2-4 Responsibilities.

(a) The sponsor shall be responsible for the programmatic and fiscal aspects of the project, including:

(1) Creation of a Foster Grandparent Program Advisory Council as soon as possible, in accord with § 1208.3-5.

(2) Selection and employment of a full time director and other project staff, as approved.

(3) Development of specific assignments for volunteer service at or through approved volunteer stations.

(4) Recruitment, selection, orientation, in-service instruction and placement of Foster Grandparents.

(5) Orientation of volunteer station staff in working with foster grandparents before and, as appropriate, during their period of assignment.

(6) Provision of or arrangement for adequate on-site supervision and support of Foster Grandparents.

(7) Payment of volunteer stipends and arrangement of transportation and, when possible, meals for volunteers.

(8) Provision of the required non-federal cost sharing support of the project in cash or allowable in-kind support.

(9) Maintenance of an internal record-keeping system including information on Foster Grandparents, volunteer stations, children served, and other pertinent project information.

(10) Submission of such reports, including programmatic and fiscal reports and retention of such records as ACTION may require.

(11) Arrangement for appropriate recognition of volunteers for their services to the community.

(12) Adherence to ACTION's policies and procedures concerning or affecting the project.

(13) Annual project appraisal.

(14) Public information functions.

(b) The sponsor may contract, or otherwise arrange, with other organizations for services to help the sponsor carry out its responsibilities, such as transportation or accounting services. However, the sponsor has primary responsibility for the operation and administration of the project. Such responsibility cannot be contracted or delegated to any person, agency, or organization.

§ 1208.2-5 Project staff.

(a) Project staff are employees of the sponsoring organization. Foster Grandparent Program volunteers may not serve as staff of the sponsor. Relatives of the sponsor's employees, or of a member of its Board of Directors, may not be employed in the project, except with the knowledge and concurrence of the project's Advisory Council and notification to ACTION.

(b) ACTION must concur in writing before the sponsor employs a project director. The project director shall not be concurrently employed, paid, or used in another position during established working hours while serving as director of the project. However, under certain circumstances, established by the Director of ACTION to avoid consequences detrimental to either project, the project cerning the Foster Grandparent Program, and volunteer service of Foster station to whom the Foster Grandparent Program staff will relate; the number of

(2) An enrolled Foster Grandparent shall lose eligibility for continued service as a consequence of annual income that

(3) The sponsor may pay a higher stipend than that established by ACTION but this excess payment may

(3) The sponsor shall provide ade-tor of ACTION to avoid consequences detrimental to either project, the project director may also direct a Senior Companion Program.

§ 1208.2-6 Suspension or termination of a grant and denial of application for refunding.

(a) A grant may be suspended or terminated because of the sponsor's material failure to comply with the terms and conditions of a grant. A grant will not be terminated unless the sponsor has been afforded reasonable notice and a grant may not be suspended, except in emergency situations, unless the opportunity for a full and fair hearing, sponsor has been given reasonable notice and opportunity to show cause why such action should not be taken. Procedures for termination and suspension are contained in Part 1206, Subpart A of this chapter in the Code of Federal Regulations.

(b) Application for a continuation grant may not be denied unless the sponsor has been given reasonable notice and an opportunity to show cause why such action should not be taken. Procedures for denial of such an application are contained in Part 1206, Subpart B, of this chapter in the Code of Federal Regulations.

Subpart C—Project Operation

§ 1208.3-1 Introduction.

Foster Grandparents perform a variety of activities at various kinds of volunteer stations.

§ 1208.3-2 Volunteer stations.

(a) Volunteer stations are public or private nonprofit agencies or organizations, or proprietary health care organizations, in or through which volunteers serve in accordance with program policies. Each child care facility serving as a volunteer station must be licensed or otherwise certified by the appropriate State or local government.

(1) Individual private homes are not volunteer stations. Volunteer stations select and recommend children with special or exceptional needs to be served in their homes by Foster Grandparents.

(2) Volunteer stations making assignments to private homes shall provide supervision to Foster Grandparents through regular visits to the individual homes.

(b) Volunteer stations shall be within the service area of the project. The service area is the community or communities in which the sponsor is authorized to recruit volunteers and in which they are to serve. Existing or traditional boundaries for planning or for social service delivery systems may influence, but shall not predetermine the service area.

(c) Placement of Foster Grandparents in group care volunteer stations shall be made in numbers large enough to permit social interaction between the Foster Grandparents and to facilitate group transportation and adequate supervision.

(d) Volunteer station staff shall receive orientation from the sponsor, prior to the assignment of volunteers, concerning the Foster Grandparent Program, and volunteer service of Foster Grandparents. Additional orientation may be provided to volunteer station staff, if necessary, during the period Foster Grandparents serve in the volunteer station.

§ 1208.3-3 Activities.

Foster Grandparent activities develop person-to-person, supportive relationships with children and do not provide service to the volunteer stations or any other organization in which volunteers may be serving. Activities serve the dual purpose of being personally meaningful to Foster Grandparents and providing support and companionship to children being served.

§ 1208.3-4 Children served.

(a) Children served by Foster Grandparents shall be chronologically age 17 or under, with preference given to younger children. In exceptional cases, however, a child may continue to be served through age 20 by the same Foster Grandparents if: (1) It has been professionally determined that with the same Foster Grandparent, there is a likelihood of improvement for the child in personal adjustment, social relationships, learning ability and/or motor coordination; and (2) The volunteer station has developed a plan in writing to provide for an alternative supportive relationship after age 20 for the person being served by the Foster Grandparent.

(b) Sponsors shall arrange to provide volunteer services to children with special or exceptional needs such as the physically handicapped, delinquent, emotionally disturbed, mentally retarded or dependent and neglected children in hospitals, correctional facilities and other residential institutions, and in schools or day care establishments, and in private residences.

(c) Volunteer stations shall select the children to be served with concurrence of the sponsor. The sponsor shall match and assign Foster Grandparents to selected children in cooperation with the volunteer station.

(d) Foster Grandparents shall preferably, but not exclusively, be assigned to two children, served individually, to maximize the gains to children from a supportive, person-to-person relationship with a mature adult.

§ 1208.3-5 Memorandum of understanding.

Prior to assignment of volunteers, the sponsor and each volunteer station, shall jointly prepare and sign a Memorandum of Understanding for the purpose of clarifying working relationships, facilitating communication and promoting cooperation. The Memorandum must include the following information: The kind of volunteer station (residential, nonresidential, etc.), the type of child care provided, the number of children with special needs to be served by Foster Grandparents and the potential number of the children eligible to receive service; the primary staff person at the volunteer station to whom the Foster Grandparent Program staff will relate; the number of Foster Grandparents planned for the volunteer station; the extent of the Foster Grandparent's benefits to be provided by the volunteer station: meals, transportation, physical examinations, space, etc.; the safety provisions that will protect the Foster Grandparents, and other conditions mutually desired. In the case of Foster Grandparents serving in private homes, the Memorandum of Understanding shall also require that the volunteer station obtain a letter or other written document from the person(s) legally responsible for that child, authorizing or requesting volunteer service in the home and indicating what specific volunteer activities are requested. The Memorandum of Understanding must be reviewed for possible changes and updated annually by the sponsor and the volunteer station. It may be amended at any time by mutual agreement.

§ 1208.3-6 Advisory Council.

(a) The sponsor shall establish a Foster Grandparent Program Advisory Council to advise and assist the sponsor in planning, community support, project operational problems, and provide an annual appraisal of project operations and progress.

(b) The Advisory Council membership shall be representative of the community, including major private and public community agencies, minority groups, civic and service organizations and representation from volunteer stations and organizations concerned with the interests of older persons and volunteerism. One-fourth of the members shall be or represent low income persons, age 60 or older, and may include Foster Grandparents.

(c) The sponsor's chief executive or his designee, a member of its governing body, and the project director shall be members, but not officers of the Council. Only the member of the sponsor's governing board shall be a voting member of the Council.

Subpart D—Volunteers

§ 1208.4-1 Eligibility.

(a) A Foster Grandparent shall be 60 years or older, no longer in the regular work force, determined by a physical examination to be capable of serving children with special or exceptional needs without detriment to self or child, and willing to accept supervision as required.

(b) (1) A Foster Grandparent applicant shall not be enrolled with an annual income from all sources which exceeds the income eligibility level for Foster Grandparents established by ACTION. The income eligibility level established in conformance with section 421(4) of Pub. L. 93-113, is determined by the national poverty line set forth in section 625 of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, as amended, to which is added for individual states the amount a state supplements Federal Supplemental Security Income payments for the aged.

(2) An enrolled Foster Grandparent shall lose eligibility for continued service as a consequence of annual income that, at the time such determination is made, has increased in excess of 120 percent of the income eligibility level established by paragraph (b) (1) of this section. The sponsor is responsible for an annual review of the income of each Foster Grandparent.

(c) The sponsor shall provide each volunteer with a physical examination prior to service to assure that he is able to serve without detriment to himself or to the children served. Physical examinations shall be provided annually thereafter as a benefit to the Foster Grandparent.

(d) Participation as a Foster Grandparent may not be denied on the basis of the race, creed, sex, national origin or political affiliation of the applicant. Sponsors shall ensure that special efforts are made to recruit and select qualified individuals from minority groups to serve as Foster Grandparents.

§ 1208.4-2 Recruitment and instruction.

(a) The sponsor is responsible for recruitment of Foster Grandparents in accordance with the standards of eligibility in § 1208.4-1. Volunteer assignments in identified volunteer stations shall be determined before recruitment of Foster Grandparents begins.

(b) The sponsor shall provide or arrange an orientation of not less than 40 hours for each Foster Grandparent volunteer before regular service begins. Thereafter, each volunteer shall be provided group in-service instruction for a minimum of four hours each month in addition to in-service instruction provided to volunteers on assignments. Time spent in orientation and in-service meetings by Foster Grandparents earns the same benefits as regular volunteer service time.

§ 1208.4-3 Terms of Service.

(a) Service schedule. Foster Grandparents normally serve four hours a day, for a total of twenty hours a week. Transportation time between the volunteer's home and place of assignment, and meal time during volunteer service, shall not be considered part of the service period. However, if it is required that meals are taken with the children served, such time shall count as volunteer service.

(b) Stipends. (1) Foster Grandparents receive an annual stipend, payable in regular instalments. The amount of such stipend is established by the Director of ACTION consistent with the availability of program funds and at a level that will permit and encourage eligible low-income older persons to serve as volunteers without cost to themselves.

(2) Sponsor shall establish policy and procedures to reduce the stipend to reflect the volunteer's absence from his assignment. Reasonable periods of vacation or absence because of sickness or other unusual situations, consistent with policies of the sponsor, are allowable.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

(3) The sponsor may pay a higher stipend than that established by ACTION, but this excess payment may not be included in the federal cost or be counted as part of the non-federal cost sharing contribution required of the project sponsor.

(4) For federal, state and local purposes, no stipend shall be subject to any tax or charge or be treated as wages or compensation for the purposes of unemployment, temporary disability, retirement, public assistance, or similar benefit payments, or minimum wage laws. Stipends shall not in any way reduce or eliminate the level of or eligibility for assistance or services any Foster Grandparents may be receiving under any federal, state or local governmental program.

(c) Transportation and meals. (1) Sponsors shall provide or arrange for transportation for Foster Grandparents as needed, between their homes and volunteer assignments and for official project activities, including orientation, recognition ceremonies and attendance at Advisory Council meetings. Sponsors may also reimburse Foster Grandparents for transportation costs to the extent permitted by both grant and local funds and in accordance with transportation policy of the project. The sponsor will arrange for, or assist with, the cost of meals for orientation and volunteer assignments extending through a meal period within the limits of available resources and local project policy.

(d) Insurance and safety. (1) The sponsor shall ensure that Foster Grandparents driving their own vehicles while traveling to or from assignments have automobile liability insurance equal to the minimum required by state law or, in lieu thereof, the minimum specified in the Foster Grandparent Program Operations Handbook.

(2) The sponsor shall provide adequate insurance at such levels as defined in the Foster Grandparent Program Operations Handbook, of the following kinds:

(i) Accident insurance. If coverage is not required for Foster Grandparents under the state worker's compensation act, project sponsors shall provide accident insurance covering Foster Grandparents in travel to and from their place of assignment as well as during their volunteer service and during mealtime at the volunteer station.

(ii) Personal liability insurance. Third party, non-automobile, insurance shall be provided to protect Foster Grandparents in the event of personal injury or property damage claims arising out of their volunteer service.

(iii) Excess automobile liability insurance. This coverage is provided to protect Foster Grandparents against bodily injury or property damage claims arising out of the use of their automobiles to transport themselves and other Foster Grandparents to or from volunteer assignments. The insurance is to be excess over the insurance that a Foster Grandparent carries on his automobile or the limits of the state financial responsibility law, whichever is higher.

(3) The sponsor shall provide adequate automobile liability insurance protection for vehicles used by the project, as defined in ACTION policy, whether the vehicles be owned, non-owned or hired.

(4) Insurance coverage may be purchased from any source.

Sponsors shall ensure that adequate provisions for safety of Foster Grandparents are in force at each volunteer station.

(e) Appeal of sponsor's actions and separations. (1) The sponsor shall establish a procedure whereby a Foster Grandparent may appeal an action or decision by the sponsor or project staff or the supervisory staff of the volunteer stations. The procedure shall provide for the review of the Foster Grandparent's appeal by the Advisory Council, or a committee thereof, which shall recommend to the chief executive of the sponsoring organization what action to take. Final decision on such an appeal shall be made by the chief executive.

(2) The sponsor may separate Foster Grandparents from the project for cause, including extended absence, chronic illness, misconduct, inability to perform volunteer assignments and income in excess of the standard set forth in § 1208.4-1(b). The sponsor shall provide a procedure to review appeals from such separations. The procedure shall be the same as that mentioned in the preceding paragraph in connection with appeals of sponsor's action.

§ 1208.4-4 Legal Fees.

Counsel may be employed and counsel fees, court costs, bail and other expenses incidental to the defense of a volunteer may be paid in a criminal, civil, and administrative proceeding when such a proceeding arises directly out of the performance of the volunteer's activities. Part 1220, Vol. 45, Code of Federal Regulations establishes under what circumstances such expenses shall be paid.

Subpart E—General

§ 1208.5-1 Coordination.

(a) The sponsor of a project under this part shall coordinate project activities with related groups and individuals, including those representing government, industry, labor, voluntary organizations, programs for the aging, including in particular State Agencies on Aging, and Area Agencies on Aging, and with other ACTION programs, to facilitate cooperation with existing community services and develop needed community support.

(b) ACTION will consult and coordinate with national, state and local agencies, the Federal Administration on Aging in particular, and nonprofit private organizations to promote the development of volunteer service opportunities for older persons.

§ 1208.5-2 Grant awards.

ACTION will, within funds available, award a grant in writing to those applicants whose grant proposals provide the #### § 1208.5-3 Grant conditions.

Fiscal and administrative policies and procedures set forth in ACTION instructions and handbooks shall be made available to sponsors at the time they receive a grant award. Grant termination, suspension, and denial of refunding appeal procedures are contained in Part 1206 of this Chapter.

§ 1204.5-4 Project changes.

Permissible changes in the approved project plan shall be limited to minor changes which do not substantially alter the substance of the project plan for which the grant was received. The following changes must receive prior written approval of ACTION:

- Appointment of the project director and subsequent replacements.
- Placement of Foster Grandparents with volunteer stations not included in the grant application or in subsequently approved project amendments.
- Reassignment of Foster Grandparents that cause an increase or decrease of 10 percent or more of the Foster Grandparents assigned to approved volunteer stations.

§ 1208.5-5 Special legal limitations.

(a) Political activities. (1) No part of any grant shall be used to finance, directly or indirectly, any activity to influence the outcome of any election to federal office, or any voter registration activity. The term "election" has the same meaning given such term by section 301(a) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (Pub. L. 92-225) and the term "Federal office" has the same meaning given such term by section 301(c) of such Act.

(2) No project shall be conducted in a manner involving the use of funds, the provision of services, or the employment or assignment of personnel in a manner supporting or resulting in the identification of such project with (1) any partisan or nonpartisan political activity or any other political activity associated with a candidate, or contending faction or group, in an election for public or party office, (ii) any activity to provide voters or prospective voters with transportation to the polls or similar assistance in connection with any such election, or any voter registration activity.

(3) No Foster Grandparent nor employee of a sponsor or volunteer station may take any action, when serving in such a capacity, with respect to a partisan or non-partisan political activity that would result in the apparent identification of the Foster Grandparent Program with such activity.

(b) Special limitations. (1) The service of Foster Grandparent volunteers is limited to activities which would not otherwise be performed by employed workers and which will not supplant the hiring of or result in the displacement of employed workers, or impair existing contracts for service.

(2) All support, including transportation provided to volunteers, shall be furnished at the lowest possible costs consistent with the effective operation of a volunteer project.

(3) No sponsor or volunteer station shall request or receive any compensation for services of Foster Grandparents supervised by it.

(4) No grant funds shall be directly or indirectly utilized to finance labor or anti-labor organizations or related activity.

(c) Nondiscrimination. (1) No person with responsibilities in the operation of a project shall discriminate with respect to any activity or program because of race, creed, belief, color, national origin, age, or political affiliation.

(2) No person in the United States shall on the ground of sex be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, be subjected to discrimination under, or be denied employment in connection with any project.

(d) Religious activities. Foster Grandparents will not give religious instruction, conduct worship services or engage in any other religious activity as part of their duties.

PART 385—COLLECTION AND COMPROMISE OF CLAIMS FOR FORFEITURES UNDER SECTION 222(h) OF THE INTER- STATE COMMERCE ACT

Delegation of Authority

The purpose of this notice is to amend 49 CFR Part 385 by changing the Federal Highway Administrator's delegation of authority to collect and compromise claims of the United States for civil forfeitures under section 222(h) of the Interstate Commerce Act (49 U.S.C. 322 (h)) from the Director, Bureau of Motor Carrier Safety to the Associate Administrator for Safety with respect to claims of $25,000 or more in the aggregate, and to the Regional Administrators with respect to claims of less than $25,000 in the aggregate.

In that the amendment relates to rules of agency organization, procedure, or practice, the relevant provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553) requiring notice of proposed rule-making, opportunity for public participation and delay in effective date are inapplicable.

In consideration of the foregoing, 49 CFR Part 385 is amended as follows:

1. Section 385.2 is amended to read as follows:

§ 385.2 Delegation of authority.

The functions, powers, and duties of the Federal Highway Administrator to collect and to compromise claims of the United States for civil forfeitures under section 222(h) of the Interstate Commerce Act (49 U.S.C. 322(h)) and to suspend and terminate actions to collect such claims are delegated to the Associate Administrator for Safety with respect to claims of $25,000 or more in the aggregate, and to the Regional Administrators with respect to claims of less than $25,000 in the aggregate. The Associate Administrator may redelegate the authority delegated to him by this section to the Director of the Bureau of Motor Carrier Safety, but he may not authorize a further redelegation of this authority. The authority delegated by this section to the Regional Administrators may not be further redelegated. The Associate Administrator and the Regional Administrators are hereinafter referred to as the Claimant.

§ 385.3 [Amended]

2. Section 385.3 is amended by deleting the words "Director of the Bureau of Motor Carrier Safety" and "Director" wherever they appear in paragraph (a) and substituting the word "Claimant."

§ 385.4 [Amended]

3. Section 385.4 is amended by deleting the word "Director" in paragraph (a) (1) and (b) (3) and substituting the word "Claimant."

§ 385.5 [Amended]

4. Section 385.5 is amended by deleting the word "Director" wherever it appears and substituting the word "Claimant."

§ 385.6 [Amended]

5. Section 385.6 is amended by deleting the word "Director" in paragraphs (a) (6) and (b) and substituting the word "Claimant."

Amendment of Public Land Orders No. 5175, as Amended, No. 5180, as Amended, and No. 5418

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of the Interior by sections 11 (a) (3) and 22(h) (4) of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act of December 18, 1971, 85 Stat. 688, 696, 714 (hereinafter referred to as the "Act"), and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952 (17 FR 4831), it is ordered as follows:

1. Public Land Order No. 5175 of March 9, 1972, as amended by Public Land Order No. 5191 of March 17, 1972, Public Land Order No. 5394 of September 14, 1973, and Public Land Order No. 5438 of October 24, 1974, withdrawing lands for selection under section 12 of the Act by the village corporations and the regional corporation for the approximate area covered by the operations of the Aleut Corporation, is hereby amended by adding the following described lands to paragraph 1 of that order:

SEWARD MERIDIAN

PROTRACTED DESCRIPTIONS

T. 50 S., R. 82 W. (Fractional)
T. 51 S., R. 83, 84 W. (Fractional)
Containing approximately 21,120 acres.

2. The lands described in paragraph 1 of this order were added to Public Land Order No. 5180 of March 9, 1972, by Public Land Order No. 5418 of March 25, 1974, for classification and protection of the public interest in lands. These lands are hereby deleted from Public Land Order No. 5180, as amended.

3. Prior to conveyance of any of the withdrawn lands to any village or regional corporations, the lands shall be subject to administration by the Secretary of the Interior under applicable laws and regulations, and his authority to make contracts and to grant leases, permits, rights-of-way, or easements, shall not be impaired by such withdrawal. Applications for leases under the Mineral Leasing Act of February 25, 1920, as amended, 30 U.S.C. 181-287 (1970), will be rejected unless the lands are appropriately classified to permit mineral leasing.

CHAPTER IX—AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE (MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND ORDERS; FRUITS, VEGETABLES, NUTS), DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

[Valencia Orange Reg. 514]

PART 908—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

Limitation of Handling

This regulation fixes the quantity of California-Arizona Valencia oranges that may be shipped to fresh market during the weekly regulation period Sept. 5-11, 1975. It is issued pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and Marketing Order No. 908. The quantity of Valencia oranges so fixed was arrived at after consideration of the total available supply of Valencia oranges, the quantity of Valencia oranges currently available for market, the fresh market demand for Valencia oranges, Valencia orange prices, and the relationship of season average returns to the parity price for Valencia oranges.

§ 908.814 Valencia Orange Regulation 514.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 908, as amended (7 CFR Part 908), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The need for this section to limit the respective quantities of Valencia oranges that may be marketed from District 1, District 2, and District 3 during the ensuing week stems from the production and marketing situation confronting the Valencia orange industry.

(i) The committee has submitted its recommendation with respect to the quantities of Valencia oranges that should be marketed during the next succeeding week. Such recommendation, designed to provide equity of marketing opportunity to handlers in all districts, resulted from consideration of the factors enumerated in the order. The committee further reports that the fresh market demand for Valencia oranges continues to improve. Prices f.o.b. averaged $3.70 per carton on a reported sales volume of 650,000 cartons last week, compared with an average f.o.b. price of $3.49 per carton and sales of 542,000 cartons a week earlier. Track and rolling supplies at 243 cars were up 24 cars from last week.

(ii) Having considered the recommendation and information submitted by the committee, and other available information, the Secretary finds that the respective quantities of Valencia oranges which may be handled should be fixed as hereinafter set forth.

(3) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The committee held an open meeting during several charter rules in cases where there is established Board precedent for such study group charters, inclusive tour charters, and one-stop-inclusive tour body an approach somewhat different from the proposed Appendix I published for comment on June 9, 1971. (36 FR

that reduce to low levels the total activity in effluent releases or expected effluent releases from such plants, the application is negligible compared with the other sources.

Additional redwaste equipment con-effective as hereinafter set forth. The committee held an open meeting during the current week, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for Valencia oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein were promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such Valencia oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject hereof which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof. Such committee meeting was held on September 2, 1975.

(b) Order. (1) The respective quantities of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period September 5, 1975, through September 11, 1975, are hereby fixed as follows:

- (i) District 1: 233,000 cartons;
  - (ii) District 2: 517,000 cartons;
  - (iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.
- (2) As used in this section, "handled", "District 1", "District 2", "District 3", and "carton" have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order.

Title 14—Aeronautics and Space CHAPTER II—CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Regulation OR-99, Amdt. 47]

PART 385—DELEGATION AND REVIEW OF ACTION UNDER DELEGATION; NON- HEARING MATTERS

Delegations of Authority to Director, Bureau of Operating Rights, Concerning One-Stop-Inclusive Tour Charters and Special Event Charters

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., August 29, 1975.

Part 385 of the Board's Organization Regulations (14 CFR Part 385) sets forth delegations of authority from the Board to various members of the staff. Included among the delegations are several to the Director, Bureau of Operating Rights, concerned with the administration of the Board's charter rules. Thus, for example, the Director has delegated authority to grant or deny requests for waivers of the several charter rules in cases where there is established Board precedent for such action (§ 385.13(cc)); and he also has delegated authority to reject or accept various filings required pursuant to Parts 372a, 373, and 378 of the Board's Special Regulations (14 CFR Parts 372a, 373, and 378) concerned with Travel Group Charters, Study Group Charters, and Inclusive Tour Charters, respectively (§ 386.13(ff)). Recently, by SPR-85, August 7, 1975, the Board adopted a new Part 378a of its Special Regulations (14 CFR Part 378a), establishing a new type of inclusive tour charter designated as a One-stop-inclusive Tour Charter (OTC), of which a subtype is the Special Event Charter (SEC). The purpose of the within amendments is to include within the various delegations to the Director, Bureau of Operating Rights, concerned with the administration of the various charter rules, appropriate references to Part 378a. In addition, in order to facilitate administration of the new rules, we have determined to delegate to the Director authority to grant or deny an application by a direct air carrier for a Statement of Authorization to operate an SEC pursuant to § 378a.107.

Because the amendments being adopted herein are rules of agency organization, the Board finds that notice and public procedure are not required, and the rule may be effective September 13, 1975, which will also be the effective date of Part 378a.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Board hereby amends Part 385 of the Organization Regulations (14 CFR Part 385) effective September 13, 1975, as follows:

1. Amend the introductory paragraph of § 385.13 (v) and (v) (2), to read in part as follows:

§ 385.13 Delegation to the Director, Bureau of Operating Rights.

Title 10—Energy

CHAPTER I—NUCLEAR ENERGY COMMISSION

PART 50—LICENSING OF PRODUCTION AND UTILIZATION FACILITIES

Application of Cost-Benefit Analysis Requirements of Appendix I to Certain Nuclear Power Plants

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission has adopted amendments to Appendix I of 10 CFR Part 50. Appendix I sets forth numerical guides for design objectives and limiting conditions for operation to meet the criterion "as low as practicable" for radioactive material in light-water-cooled nuclear power reactor effluents. The amendments provide persons who have filed applications for construction permits for light-water-cooled nuclear power reactors which were docketed on or after January 2, 1971, and prior to June 4, 1976, the option of dispensing with the cost-benefit analysis required by Paragraph II.D of Appendix I if the proposed or installed radwaste systems and equipment satisfy the Guides on Design Objectives for Light-Water-Cooled Nuclear Power Reactors proposed by the regulatory staff in the rulemaking proceeding on Appendix I (Docket-RM-50-2).

Paragraph II.D requires each applicant for a permit to construct a light-water-cooled nuclear power reactor to submit a cost-benefit analysis of additional radwaste systems and equipment that could reduce the radiation dose to the population reasonably expected to be within 50 miles of the reactor. In this cost-benefit analysis, the values $1000 per total body man-rem and $1000 per man-thyroid-rem (or such lesser values as may be demonstrated to be suitable in a particular case) are required to be used. The requirements of Paragraph II.D embody an approach somewhat different from the proposed Appendix I published for comment on June 9, 1971 (36 FR 11113).

After a lengthy Appendix I rulemaking proceeding initiated in 1971 which was conducted by the former Atomic Energy Commission, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, which was assigned the responsibility of carrying out the licensing and related regulatory functions of the Atomic Energy Commission by the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974 (effective January 19, 1975), adopted on May 5, 1975, a new Appendix I to Part 50 (40 FR 19439).

Appendix I provides numerical guides for design objectives and limiting conditions for operation for light-water-cooled nuclear power reactors to keep radioactivity in effluents as low as practicable. All Commission licensees are required by 10 CFR Part 20 to make every reasonable effort to maintain radiation exposures, and releases of radioactive materials in effluents to unrestricted areas, as far below Part 20 limits as practicable. The definition of "as low as practicable" in both 10 CFR §§ 20.3(c) and 50.34a(a) includes consideration of the economics of improvements in relation to the public health and safety.

Appendix I as adopted by the Commission provides in Section II—in addition to design objectives for annual doses for any individual in an unrestricted area from both liquid and gaseous effluents, including radioactive iodine and radioactive material in particulate form—a further requirement that the applicant include in the radwaste system all items of reasonably demonstrated technology that, when added to the system sequentially and in order of diminishing cost-benefit ratio, effect reductions in dose to the population reasonably expected to be within 50 miles of the reactor. As an interim measure and until establishment and adoption of better values (or other appropriate criteria), the values $1000 per total body man-rem and $1000 per man-thyroid-rem (or such lesser values as may be demonstrated to be suitable in a particular case) are to be used in this cost-benefit analysis. A rule-making hearing is planned at the earliest practicable date to establish more appropriate monetary values for the worth of reduction of radiation doses to the population.

The design objectives proposed by the staff in the rulemaking proceeding on Appendix I included specifications on the total radioactivity released (5 curie/per year reactor for liquid effluents, excluding tritium and dissolved gases; and 1 curie/per year per reactor of radioiodine-131) and a 5 millirem limitation on the annual whole body dose to individuals at or beyond the site boundary from all pathways of exposure. Because the former criterion used by the staff that each plant meet those design objectives has led to the proposed or actual installation of radwaste systems and equipment that reduce to low levels the total activity in effluent releases or expected effluent releases from such plants, the application of the $1000 per man-rem criterion specified in Paragraph II.D of Appendix I to these or similarly designed plants is unlikely to result in radwaste equipment augmentation.

Cost-benefit analyses by the NRC staff of applications for construction permits for light-water-cooled nuclear power reactors filed and reviewed since 1971 in accordance with those design objectives show that for boiling water reactors, additional radwaste equipment cannot be added for less than $1000/man-rem. Therefore, in general, boiling water reactors that have radwaste systems and equipment that meet those proposed design objectives will meet the requirements of Section II.D of Appendix I. Similar cost-benefit analyses have shown that pressurized water reactors whose radwaste systems have been evaluated and found acceptable under those design objectives also meet the requirements of Section II.D of Appendix I.

Basic assumptions used in these analyses were: (1) Iodine-131 in gaseous releases was the only release considered, since this is the dominant factor in the cost-benefit analyses; (2) boiling water reactor condenser offgas and pressurized water reactor waste gas treatment systems were considered to be augmented in order to meet the individual dose guidelines proposed by the staff in the Appendix I rulemaking proceeding; (3) a release of 1 curie of iodine-131 results in a population exposure of 100 man-thyroid-rem. The assumption that iodine-131 in gaseous releases is the dominant factor is based on the results of staff evaluations, reported in draft and final environmental impact statements, of proposed light-water-cooled nuclear power reactors for which applications for construction permits were docketed since 1971. The total body man-rem associated with noble gas and liquid releases for radwaste systems and equipment found acceptable under the design objectives proposed by the staff were small, i.e., less than 10 man-rem for the annual noble gas releases and less than 5 man-rem for the annual liquid releases in almost all cases. As a consequence, it can reasonably be concluded that reduction of population dose by augmentation of the noble gas and liquid radwaste treatment systems was not likely to be achieved without exceeding the $1000/man-rem criterion.

A. Boiling Water Reactor Cost-Benefit Analyses. Sources of radioiodine releases in boiling water reactors are:

1. Reactor building vent.
2. Auxiliary building vent.
3. Radwaste building vent.
4. Turbine building vent.
5. Turbine gland seal condenser exhaust.
6. Main condenser vacuum pump.
7. Condenser air ejector exhaust.

The last source was assumed to be treated such that the iodine-131 release is negligible compared with the other sources.

Additional radwaste equipment considered included: charcoal adsorbers for building ventilation exhaust (Sources 1, 2, 3, 6) and equipment for clean sealing steam for the turbine gland seal exhaust and for sealing valve stems in the steam system (Sources 4, 5). The charcoal adsorbers reduce the iodine-131 release to approximately 10% of the expected release without the filters. The turbine gland seal condenser exhaust releases can be reduced to negligible levels by the use of clean steam. Releases from the turbine building vent can be reduced approximately 80% by using clean steam on valves, 2.5-in. and larger, in the turbine building.

The cost of the additional equipment is greater than the benefit of reduced population exposure (at $1000/man-rem) in all cases. Accordingly, such additional equipment for boiling water reactors would not be justified according to the criterion of Section II.D of Appendix I.

B. Pressurized Water Reactor Cost-Benefit Analyses. Sources of iodine-131 releases in pressurized water considered were:

1. Containment.
2. Auxiliary building vent.
3. Turbine building vent.
4. Condenser air ejector exhaust.
5. Blowdown flash tank vent.

Reduction in released activity can be achieved with charcoal adsorbers (Sources 1, 2, 4), with clean sealing steam for valves (Source 3), and by installation of a piped blowdown flash tank vent to the main condenser or feedwater heater (Source 5). As with boiling water reactors, charcoal adsorbers can reduce the activity approximately 90 per cent. Clean sealing steam effects an 80% reduction in releases. The blowdown flash tank vent source can be eliminated by routing the release to the main condenser or feedwater heater.

With respect to the pressurized water reactor containment as a source of effluent release, the estimated cost of charcoal adsorbers was based upon a plant having a low volume purge system in the initial design stage. Charcoal adsorbers cannot be installed in plants which have a high volume purge system for less than $1000/man-rem. Most pressurized water reactors for which license applications have been docketed after January 2, 1971, fall into this latter category. Those which have a low volume purge system are located on sites where the reduction in population exposure is less than 100 man-rem per curie of iodine-131, so that the cost of installation of charcoal adsorbers is greater than $1000/man-rem.

Based on the foregoing, there is no need, on a cost-benefit basis, to apply the requirements of Paragraph II.D of Appendix I of Part 50 to those light-water-cooled nuclear power reactors having radwaste systems and equipment determined to be acceptable under the proposed staff design objectives. Accord-posed staff design objectives. Accordingly, Paragraph II.D of Appendix I has been amended to specify that persons who have filed applications for construction permits for light-water-cooled power reactors which were docketed on or after January 2, 1971, and prior to June 4, 1976, need not comply with the cost-benefit requirements of that paragraph if the radwaste systems and equipment described in the preliminary or final safety analysis report and amendments thereto satisfy the design objectives proposed by the staff in the Appendix I rule-making proceeding.

Because the amendments will result in no appreciable change in the population exposure from the affected plants than would result if the amendments were not promulgated, the Commission has found that notice of proposed rulemaking and public procedure thereon are unnecessary. Since the amendments relieve from restrictions imposed under regulations currently in effect, they may, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553, become effective immediately.

Pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974 and sections 552 and 553 of Title 5 of the United States Codes, the following amendments to Title 10, Chapter 1, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 50, are published as a document subject to codification.

1. A sentence is added at the end of paragraph D of Section II of Appendix I to read as follows:

The requirements of this paragraph D need not be complied with by persons who have filed applications for construction permits which were docketed on or after January 2, 1971, and prior to June 4, 1976, if the radwaste systems and equipment described in the preliminary or final safety analysis report and amendments thereto satisfy the Guidelines on Design Objectives for Light-Water-Cooled Nuclear Power Reactors proposed in the Concluding Statement of Position of the Regulatory Staff in Docket-RM-50-2 dated February 20, 1975, pp. 25-30, reproduced in the Annex to this Appendix I.

2. An Annex is added at the end of Appendix I to read as follows:

CONCLUDING STATEMENT OF POSITION OF THE REGULATORY STAFF (DOCKET-RM-50-2)
GUIDES ON DESIGN OBJECTIVES FOR LIGHT-WATER-COOLED NUCLEAR POWER REACTORS

A. For radioactive material above background in liquid effluents to be released to unrestricted areas:

1. The calculated annual total quantity of all radioactive material from all light-water-cooled nuclear power reactors at a site should not result in an annual dose or dose commitment to the total body or to any organ of an individual in an unrestricted area from all pathways of exposure in excess of 5 millirems; and
2. The calculated annual total quantity of radioactive material, except tritium and dissolved gases, should not exceed 5 curies for each light-water-cooled reactor at a site.

<sup>1</sup> "Background" means the quantity of radioactive material in the effluent from light-water-cooled nuclear power reactors at a site that did not originate in the reactors.

3. Notwithstanding the guidance in paragraph A.2, for a particular site, if an applicant for a permit to construct a light-water-cooled nuclear power reactor has proposed baseline in-plant control measures<sup>2</sup> to reduce the possible sources of radioactive material in liquid effluent releases and the calculated quantity exceeds the quantity set forth in paragraph A.2, the requirements for design objectives for radioactive material in liquid effluents may be deemed to have been met provided:

- a. the applicant submits an evaluation of the potential for effects from long-term buildup in the environment in the vicinity of the site of radioactive material, with a radioactive half-life greater than one year, to be released; and
- b. the provisions of paragraph A.1 are met.

B. For radioactive material above background in gaseous effluents the annual total quantity of radioactive material to be released to the atmosphere by all light-water-cooled nuclear power reactors at a site:

1. The calculated annual air dose due to gamma radiation at any location near ground level which could be occupied by individuals at or beyond the boundary of the site should not exceed 10 millirads; and
2. The calculated annual air dose due to beta radiation at any location near ground level which could be occupied by individuals at or beyond the boundary of the site should not exceed 20 millirads.

3. Notwithstanding the guidance in paragraphs B.1 and B.2, for a particular site:

- a. The Commission may specify, as guidance on design objectives, a lower quantity of radioactive material above background in gaseous effluents to be released to the atmosphere if it appears that the use of the design objectives described in paragraphs B.1 and B.2 is likely to result in an annual dose to an individual in an unrestricted area in excess of 5 millirems to the total body or 15 millirems to the skin; or
- b. Design objectives based on a higher quantity of radioactive material above background in gaseous effluents to be released to the atmosphere than the quantity specified in paragraphs B.1 and B.2 may be deemed to meet the requirements for keeping levels of radioactive material in gaseous effluents as low as practicable if the applicant provides reasonable assurance that the proposed higher quantity will not result in annual doses to an individual in an unrestricted area in excess of 5 millirems to the total body or 15 millirems to the skin.

C. For radioactive iodine and radioactive material in particulate form above background released to the atmosphere:

1. The calculated annual total quantity of all radioactive iodine and radioactive material in particulate form from all light-water-cooled nuclear power reactors at a site should not result in an annual dose or dose commitment to any organ of an individual in an unrestricted area from all pathways of exposure in excess of 15 millirems. In determining the dose or dose commitment the portion thereof due to intake of radioactive material via the food pathways may be evaluated at the locations where the food pathways actually exist; and

2. The calculated annual total quantity of iodine-131 in gaseous effluents should not exceed 1 curie for each light-water-cooled nuclear power reactor at a site.

3. Notwithstanding the guidance in paragraphs C.1 and C.2 for a particular site, if an applicant for a permit to construct a light-water-cooled nuclear power reactor has proposed baseline in-plant control measures<sup>1</sup> to reduce the possible sources of radioactive iodine releases, and the calculated annual quantities taking into account such control measures exceed the design objective quantities set forth in paragraphs C.1 and C.2, the requirements for design objectives for radioactive iodine and radioactive material in particulate form in gaseous effluents may be deemed to have been met provided the calculated annual total quantity of all radioactive iodine and radioactive material in particulate form that may be released in gaseous effluents does not exceed four times the quantity calculated pursuant to paragraph C.1.

Effective date. The foregoing amendment is effective on September 4, 1975. (Sec. 161, Pub. L. 93-703, 68 Stat. 948; Sec. 201, Pub. L. 93-438, 88 Stat. 1243 (42 USC 2201, 5841))

CHAPTER II—FEDERAL ENERGY ADMINISTRATION

PART 210—GENERAL ALLOCATION AND PRICE RULES

PART 212—MANDATORY PETROLEUM PRICE REGULATIONS

Crude Oil Definition; Inapplicability of Stripper Well Lease Exemption to Gas Wells; Nomenclature Changes

On April 18, 1975, the Federal Energy Administration gave notice (40 FR 18004, April 24, 1975) of its intention to reconsider the issue whether the stripper well lease exemption of 10 CFR 210.32 is applicable to condensate produced from gas wells and of a proposal to amend the definition of "crude oil" in 10 CFR 212.31 to clarify the extent to which condensate from non-associated (or gas-well) production, as well as from associated (or oil-well) production, is included in that term. Written comments were received from more than seventy interested persons, and a public hearing was held on May 20, 1975, at which thirteen oral statements were presented. After consideration of all the written and oral presentations, the FEA has determined that there is no basis to depart from the conclusion, stated in Ruling 1974-28 (39 FR 44414, December 24, 1974), that the stripper well lease exemption does not apply to condensate produced from gas wells; the FEA has determined further that with regard to the treatment of condensate for purposes of the Mandatory Petroleum Price Regulations, the tentative conclusions of the April 18 notice should be adopted, and condensate, whether separated at the lease, at a central facility, or at the inlet side of a gas processing plant, should be treated as crude oil, whether recovered from associated or non-associated production. Additionally, Part 212 is amended at this time to correct certain inadvertent omissions and errors, and Parts 210 and 212 are amended to effect non-substantive conforming changes in nomenclature.

I. TREATMENT OF CONDENSATE FOR PURPOSES OF THE MANDATORY PETROLEUM PRICE REGULATIONS

Condensate occurs in nature as the heavy hydrocarbon portion of natural gas in the underground reservoir, and is mechanically separated from natural gas as a liquid through a process of retrograde condensation, involving pressure reduction, sometimes accompanied by a reduction in temperature as well. In some cases, condensate is separated from natural gas by conventional lease separation facilities ("surface separators") at the well-head, and in other cases by a single mechanical separator ("field facility") located centrally and servicing two or more wells, and in either case is typically referred to as "lease condensate". In yet other cases, condensate is not separated from natural gas until it reaches a mechanical separation device similar to a surface separator or field facility, but located instead at the inlet side of a gas processing plant ("inlet separator" or "scrubber") and, in that case, the condensate is referred to as "plant condensate". Generally, condensate can be distinguished from the lighter natural gas liquid products (e.g., propane, butane, and natural gasoline), whether fractionated or in a mixed stream of natural gas liquids, which are incapable of being separated from natural gas by mechanical means only and are generally recovered from natural gas at a gas processing plant by absorption, adsorption, or extraneous refrigeration processes. Natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products are subject to the provisions of Subpart K (Natural Gas Liquids, 10 CFR 212.161, et seq.) of the price regulations.

The FEA has concluded that condensate should, as a general matter, be treated as crude oil under Subpart D of the price regulations, rather than as natural gas liquids or natural gas liquid products under Subpart K of the price regulations. This view is based upon the following factual considerations, supported by the majority of written and oral presentations received in connection with this proceeding.

Generally, lease condensate is produced, separated, stored, and tendered at the lease, or at off-lease gathering and separating systems, through facilities that are essentially identical to those used in the production of crude oil; in most instances lease condensate traditionally and historically has been marketed and priced as crude oil. Moreover, lease condensate is generally used by refiners in the same way as crude oil, and these patterns exist both as to condensate recovered in associated and non-associated production, whether by lease separators or at central field facilities.

Although some comments received in this proceeding pointed out that plant condensate generally is of a lighter gravity than lease condensate (as a result of gas transmission over relatively longer distances, and a corresponding further condensation of liquids), the only significant difference between condensate separated at the inlet side of a gas processing plant and condensate separated by conventional lease separators or at central field facilities is the mere location of the identical mechanical separation equipment. Moreover, most of the comments indicated that as with lease condensate, the pricing of plant condensate traditionally and historically has been tied to posted prices for crude oil, and that the uses for lease and plant condensate are the same.

In sum, the FEA has determined that the comments submitted in connection with this proceeding support the conclusion that condensate, whether recovered in associated or non-associated production, whether recovered from conventional surface separators, central field facilities, or at the inlet side of a gas processing plant, traditionally and historically has been gathered, priced, and refined as crude oil, and is therefore properly treated as crude oil under Subpart D of the price regulations. Inasmuch as the overwhelming majority of comments indicated that since the inception of the price regulations the industry has been treating most condensate as such under Subpart D, the definition of "crude oil" adopted today merely serves to clarify what has always been included in the previous definitions of that term. Accordingly, the clarifying definition of "crude oil" adopted today will be effective January 10, 1975 as part of the Clarifications to the Definitions of Covered Products adopted at that time (40 FR 2795, January 16, 1975).

The changes adopted herein do not affect in any way the treatment under Part 211 of condensate for purposes of a refiner's crude oil runs to stills under the Old Oil Allocation Program, which continue to be measured in accordance with Bureau of Mines Form 6-1300-M, pursuant to 10 CFR 211.62.

II. RULING 1974-28

FEA Ruling 1974-28 (39 FR 44414, December 24, 1974) held that the stripper well lease exemption of 10 CFR 210.32 is in applicable to gas wells. Comments received after the issuance of the Ruling indicated, however, that at least some producers had been treating as exempt from price and allocation regulations gas-well condensate produced from properties where production of condensate was 10 barrels or less per well per day in the preceding calendar year. These comments urged that the statutory stripper well lease exemption is sufficiently broad to encompass such production, and asserted that exempt prices for gas-well condensate are an important factor in maintaining production from marginal gas wells.

In light of these considerations, the FEA concluded that a formal rulemaking proceeding, with full opportunity for comment from interested parties, would be the appropriate context for reconsideration of the factual and legal bases of Ruling 1974-28.

Having considered all the written and oral presentations submitted in this proceeding, and after a careful re-examination of the Ruling itself and the history of the legislation that gave rise to the statutory exemption, the FEA reaffirms the conclusion that the Ruling, as issued, accurately reflects the intent of Congress in promulgating the stripper well lease exemption as part of the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-159), and that the ruling accurately reflects the meaning of the term "stripper well," as it had been used and understood by the industry at the time the stripper well lease exemption was enacted by Congress.

This is especially evident in view of the fact that the 10 barrel per well per day limit, which Congress used to mark the upper production limits of a marginal oil well, has no meaningful correlation to the upper production limits of a marginal gas well. FEA recognizes the force of the argument, advanced by many producers of gas wells, that Congress intended to exempt all marginal wells. But as pointed out in Ruling 1974-28, a price exemption for condensate produced in quantities of 10 barrels or less per day per well is not particularly well-suited as a means of maintaining condensate production from marginal gas wells, since a gas well producing large and profitable quantities of natural gas could well be yielding only small amounts of condensate; exempt prices for such condensate would clearly not be needed as an incentive to the continued condensate production from such wells.

That conclusion is supported by comments submitted in this proceeding indicating that condensate production from marginal gas wells is produced from leases that average 1 barrel or less per well per day. Applying the stripper well lease exemption in its present form, therefore, would likely exempt the condensate production from many gas wells, not just those that are truly marginal. Had Congress intended the exemption to apply to marginal gas wells, therefore, it would not have used the 10 barrels per day standard, but, rather, a standard that more properly relates to a marginal gas well.

The FEA is aware that before the issuance of Ruling 1974-28 there was considerable uncertainty with respect to whether the stripper well lease exemption was applicable to the production of condensate produced from gas wells, and that those who did treat gas-well condensate as qualifying for the stripper well lease exemption, did so in the good faith belief that this was permitted under FEA regulations. As a general matter FEA Rulings are to be regarded merely as publication of the formal interpretation that FEA has always placed upon its regulations since their inception. However, because of producers' good faith treatment of gas-well condensate as eligible for the stripper well lease exemption prior to the issuance of Ruling 1974-28, with respect to the treatment of gas-well condensate for purposes of the stripper well lease exemption the Ruling will be effective January 1, 1975, and the regulations will be enforced pursuant to the interpretation rendered in Ruling 1974-28 prospectively only from that date. In all other respects, Ruling 1974-28 remains interpretive of the price regulations since they were first promulgated.

In order further to eliminate any uncertainty that might have arisen from the regulatory language, conforming amendments are made today, effective January 1, 1975, to the stripper well lease exemption in 10 CFR 210.32 to reflect that the exemption extends only to crude oil and condensate recovered in associated production.

III. CORRECTIVE AMENDMENT AND CONFORMING CHANGES IN NOMENCLATURE

Part 212 is hereby amended to correct certain inadvertent omissions and errors, and Parts 210 and 212 are amended to effect non-substantive conforming changes in nomenclature.

A. Sections 212.83(b), 212.83(c) (2) (iii)—Definitions of "Cost of crude petroleum" and "B<sub>1</sub>". On February 28, 1975, FEA amended 10 CFR Parts 211 and 212 to reflect the President's program of increased import fees on crude oil and petroleum products (40 FR 10444, March 6, 1975). Section 212.83(c) (2) (iii) is amended today to conform the definition of "Cost of crude petroleum" to changes made by the February 28 amendment in the definition of "B<sub>1</sub>" factor in the refiner's cost allocation formulae, and further to coordinate the two definitions.

The February 28 amendment revised the "B<sub>1</sub>" factor of the refiner's formulae for allocation of increased product costs, to permit refiners to include as the cost of a specific covered product or products of the type "i" the cost of a specific covered product or products not of the type "i" that are "blended or further refined" to produce the covered product or products of the type "i".

Section 212.83(b) includes in the "Cost of crude petroleum" the cost of unfinished oils and natural gas liquids that are "used in refining and are further refined and are covered products." To ensure that refiners continue to treat these costs of unfinished oils which are "used in refining and are further refined" as crude oil costs, and that they continue to calculate as increased costs under the "B<sub>1</sub>" factor the costs of covered products purchased for resale or for blending, § 212.83(c) (2) (iii) is revised to make it clear that the "B<sub>1</sub>" factor includes the cost of a specific covered product or products (whether or not of the type "i") that the refiner has purchased for blending to produce the covered product or products of the type "i".

B. Nomenclature Changes. Parts 210 and 212 are further revised to change all references therein from "crude petroleum" to "crude oil." Most such references have already been changed, but certain sections of the regulations inadvertently have not been revised since the January 10 revisions to the definitions of covered products.

FEA has determined that inasmuch as extensive rulemaking proceedings have already been undertaken with respect to the February 28 amendments, and since the changes being made today under this Part III are intended simply to correct inadvertent omissions or errors, or to make non-substantive changes in nomenclature, further rulemaking proceedings are unnecessary to effect the corrective changes adopted today. As noted, the corrective amendments and conforming changes in nomenclature made effective by this notice are merely technical refinements to the final rules made effective on February 28. Before those final rules were promulgated, extensive rulemaking proceedings were held.

A notice of proposed rulemaking and public hearing was issued on January 17, 1975, containing, among others, changes to § 212.83 (40 FR 3467, January 22, 1975). In response to that notice, written comments were received and interested parties presented statements at a public hearing held on February 6 and 7, 1975. After evaluation of these oral and written presentations, FEA adopted the final rules on February 28, 1975.

During the rulemaking proceeding culminating in the February 28 amendments, oral and written comments were received with respect to proposed changes in the refiner's cost allocation formulae, and such comments have been taken into account in the promulgation of the technical refinements in the corrective amendments and conforming changes in nomenclature set forth herein. The notice and hearing requirements of subsections 7(i) (1) (B) and (C) of the Federal Energy Administration Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-275) have therefore previously been satisfied and a further opportunity for the presentation of oral and written views is unnecessary.

In consideration of the foregoing, Parts 210 and 212 of Chapter II, Title 10 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as set forth below, effective January 10, 1975, except that the amendment to the stripper well lease exemption in § 210.32 of Part 210 shall be effective January 1, 1975, and except further that the amendment to the definition of "B<sub>1</sub>" in § 212.83(c) (2) (iii) of Part 212 shall be effective February 28, 1975.

Issued in Washington, D.C., August 29, 1975.

DAVID G. WILSON,
Acting General Counsel,
Federal Energy Administration.

1. Nomenclature change. Wherever the term "crude petroleum" appears in Parts 210 and 212, it is changed to read "crude oil."

2. Section 210.32 is amended in paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 210.32 Stripper well leases.

(b) Definitions. For purposes of this section—

"Crude oil, including condensates" means a mixture of hydrocarbons that existed in liquid phase in underground reservoirs and remains liquid at atmospheric pressure after passing through surface separating facilities, and condensate recovered in associated production by mechanical separators, whether located on the lease, at central field facilities, or at the inlet side of a gas processing plant.

3. Section 212.31 is amended to revise the definition of "Crude oil" to read as follows:

§ 212.31 Definitions.

"Crude oil" means a mixture of hydrocarbons that existed in liquid phase in underground reservoirs and remains liquid at atmospheric pressure after passing through surface separating facilities. "Crude oil" includes condensate recovered in associated or non-associated production by mechanical separators, whether located on the lease, at central field facilities, or at the inlet side of a gas processing plant.

4. Section 212.54 is revised to read as follows:

§ 212.54 Crude oil.

The first sale of domestic crude oil, including condensates, produced from any stripper well lease as defined in Part 210 of this chapter is exempt.

5. Section 212.83 is amended in paragraph (c) (2) (iii) to revise the definition of "B<sub>1</sub>" to read as follows:

§ 212.83 Allocation of refiner's increased costs.

(c) Allocation of increased product costs.

(2) . . . . .
(iii) . . . . .

"B<sub>1</sub>" is the total increased cost of the specific covered product or products of the type "i" purchased or landed in the period "i". The cost of a specific covered product or products of the type "i" shall include the cost of a specific covered product or products not of the type "i" that are purchased and blended to produce the covered product or products of the type "i". The cost and quantity of covered products purchased or landed that are consumed as refinery fuel shall be excluded from this amount.

PART 211—MANDATORY PETROLEUM ALLOCATION REGULATIONS

PART 212—MANDATORY PETROLEUM PRICE REGULATIONS

Propane and Butane Imports

On July 16, 1975, the Federal Energy Administration issued a notice of proposed rulemaking and public hearing (40 FR 30671, July 22, 1975), proposing to amend FEA regulations concerning propane and butane imports other than from Canada.

Representatives of 18 organizations made oral presentations at the public hearing on August 7, 1975. FEA received 23 timely comments and 13 late comments. All comments addressing the proposed amendments were considered. In light of the oral presentations, written comments and other considerations, FEA has decided to adopt the proposed amendments with certain modifications.

IMPORTS BY INDUSTRIAL USERS

As proposed, the limitations with respect to importing propane and butane other than from Canada were to be eased to permit wholesale purchaser-consumers and end-users to import and use such imports in excess of their domestic allocation entitlements for industrial use (including petrochemical feedstock use and refinery fuel use) to the extent such imports exceed base period imports. No objections were raised to the proposal although several comments pointed out that restricting the period during which such imports could be made between May 1 and September 30 would be counterproductive and would lead to a possible overburdening of the receiving and distribution systems if restricted to that five-month period.

The regulations issued today provide for direct imports of propane and butane other than from Canada by industrial users generally in the manner proposed. These imports may be made and used at any time during the year subject to certain provisions. Sections 211.86 and 211.96, as modified, permit industrial wholesale purchaser-consumers and end-users to accumulate non-Canadian imports of propane and butane in inventory free of the inventory restrictions otherwise applicable to industrial users. Also, the use limitations and inventory reduction requirements in §§ 211.10(g) (8), 211.86 and 211.96 are modified with respect to non-Canadian imports of propane and butane.

USE OF IMPORTED PROPANE AND BUTANE FOR SNG FEEDSTOCK

Although several comments urged a relaxation of the regulations with respect to the use of imported propane and butane for SNG feedstock use, FEA has concluded that current restrictions must be maintained. FEA still views the use of propane and butane for SNG manufacture as being, in most instances, inefficient, and therefore undesirable. Use of SNG plants is a temporary answer to the problem of increasing natural gas curtailments and the development of such plants should be restricted to those situations where no other feasible alternative solution to natural gas curtailments exists.

USE OF NON-CANADIAN IMPORTED PROPANE AND BUTANE BY GAS UTILITIES

A number of the comments were devoted to the issue of whether gas utilities should be afforded access to propane and butane imported other than from Canada. FEA, however, is very concerned that gas utilities, with their extremely large potential demand for propane and butane, could, if unrestrained, purchase the bulk of the limited supplies of non-Canadian imported propane and butane and thereby divert significant supplies from traditional propane/butane users which have no alternative fuel capability. Moreover, purchases of high priced non-Canadian imported propane and butane by utilities for industrial users may be able to be rolled into the utilities' rate base so that prices paid by all customers of a utility would be increased rather than the placing the full burden of the increase in the industrial user. Thus, the demand reduction effects of higher priced propane imports which will occur with respect to industrial users that directly import may occur to a much lesser degree in the case of utilities. Finally, FEA remains convinced that customers of utilities experiencing natural gas curtailments should strive to convert to other substitute fuels which are not in short supply instead of propane.

Despite these concerns, however, FEA recognizes that there are certain gas utilities which by reason of the very high level of residential use of natural gas and the inability of their customers to convert to use of substitute fuels in the near term should be permitted to acquire and use supplies of non-Canadian propane and butane in excess of base period use. For this reason, FEA has retained authority in §§ 211.10(g) (8), 211.86 and 211.96 to permit relaxation of the use limitation and inventory accumulation restrictions otherwise applicable to gas utilities. Gas utilities may petition for relief pursuant to these sections and subpart G of part 205 of the FEA procedural regulations. Such a petition will not be treated as an exception request and should be submitted to the Assistant Administrator for Regulatory Programs, FEA, Washington, D.C. 20461.

EMERGENCY REDIRECTION

Some comments suggested that FEA's authority to redirect imports was a new concept which would be a strong disincentive to potential importers. The provision of § 211.12(g) in question is not new, but rather has been in effect for over a year. Retention of this authority is essential if in the face of emergency conditions FEA is to carry out its responsibilities under the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973 to protect the public health, safety and welfare. Therefore, this provision has been retained in the amendment. In addition, provision is made whereby FEA may limit or terminate domestic allocation entitlements to an end-user or wholesale purchaser-consumer which has propane or butane imported under these amendments.

IMPORTS BY SUPPLIERS

In the notice of proposed rulemaking, FEA sought comments with respect to whether suppliers should be permitted to import non-Canadian propane and butane and distribute it to industrial users without regard to the supplier/purchaser relationships imposed by § 211.9 and the allocation methods required by § 211.10. There was nearly universal support for permitting suppliers to import propane and butane other than from Canada for direct sale to industrial users and the regulations, as amended, so provide.

Section 211.12(g) permits suppliers to distribute imported non-Canadian propane and butane in excess of volumes which they distributed during the base period to wholesale purchaser-consumers and end-users which certify in writing that these imports will be for industrial use. Suppliers may also distribute such imports to wholesale purchaser-resellers which certify in writing that they will distribute such supplies pursuant to the provisions of § 211.12(g).

Suppliers, however, may not distribute imported non-Canadian propane and butane to industrial users unless they have allocation fractions of one (1.0) and certify in writing to the purchaser that the propane or butane is non-Canadian propane or butane imported for industrial use. If a supplier has an allocation fraction of less than 1.0, it must add at least enough imported non-Canadian propane and butane, if it has any, to its allocable supply to bring its allocation fraction up to 1.0. Any volumes added to a supplier's allocable supply to bring the supplier's fraction up to 1.0 may not subsequently be treated as non-Canadian imports subject to distribution under § 211.12(g) but rather must be thereafter allocated under § 211.10, including § 211.10 (f) and (g), in the same manner as all other domestic or Canadian propane or butane. Inventory records of non-Canadian imports which qualify for distribution pursuant to § 211.12(g) must be separately maintained from inventory records of other propane and butane supplies.

The provisions of § 211.10, except for § 211.10(g) (8), shall not apply to imported non-Canadian propane and butane acquired and distributed pursuant objectives of the Act and pursuant to paragraph (a) (1) (A) of this section, be allocated to other wholesale purchasers firm pursuant to this paragraph (g) (2) the base period except that butane imported other than from Canada pursuant to § 211.12(g). Thus, suppliers which have imported propane or butane other than from Canada may sell such propane or butane to industrial users even though they do not have a supplier/purchaser relationship with the purchaser under § 211.9 provided they have an allocation fraction of one (1.0) and otherwise have complied with these amendments. With respect to propane or butane imported from Canada or produced domestically, suppliers must continue to comply with § 211.9 and allocate such propane and butane pursuant to § 211.10.

In addition, § 212.93 of subpart F of the Mandatory Petroleum Price Regulations is being amended to require sellers of propane or butane which distribute products pursuant to § 211.12(g) to calculate separately the increased costs attributable to its inventory of non-Canadian imports. The amended price rule provides that the weighted average per gallon cost of non-Canadian imports of propane or butane currently held in inventory for industrial use shall be compared to the weighted average per gallon cost on May 15, 1973 of the propane or butane in inventory on that date. The increased costs represented by this comparison shall be used in accordance with the other provisions of subpart F to calculate maximum lawful prices for all non-Canadian imported propane and butane designated for industrial use. Such prices, however, are not subject to the provision of paragraph (f) of § 212.93 which limits the amount of increased costs that may be applied in prices charged to purchasers other than independent marketers and residential users.

A separate increased cost calculation is required for the remainder of the seller's propane or butane inventory for use in computing lawful prices for the remainder of such products. Thus, where non-Canadian imports have not been designated for industrial use a seller must include the cost of such imports in making the separate calculation of increased costs for the remainder of its inventory. It should be noted in this regard that once offshore imports of propane or butane have been included in the seller's domestic and Canadian inventory, they may not be designated subsequently for industrial use and the costs of such products therefore may not be taken into account in calculating the increased costs attributable to the inventory maintained for industrial use.

In consideration of the foregoing, Parts 211 and 212, Chapter II of Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations, are amended as set forth below, effective immediately.

Issued in Washington, D.C., August 29, 1975.

DAVID G. WILSON,
Acting General Counsel.

1. Section 211.10 is amended in paragraph (b) by revising subparagraph (1) and is amended in paragraph (g) by revising subparagraphs (1) and (8) to read as follows:

§ 211.10 Supplier's method of allocation.

(b) * * *

(1) Allocable supply. Each supplier's allocable supply of an allocated product for a period which corresponds to a base period shall be equal to its total supply for that period, which is the sum of its estimated production, including amounts received under processing and exchange agreements, imports (except to the extent imports may be excluded pursuant to § 211.12(g)), purchases and any reduction in inventory of that allocated product made pursuant to § 211.22 except as otherwise ordered by FEA; less (i) any amounts designated as a state set-aside for a prime supplier pursuant to § 211.17, (ii) any amounts of allocation requirements supplied directly to end-users or wholesale purchaser-consumers under an allocation level not subject to an allocation fraction, (iii) any amounts supplied to wholesale purchaser-resellers which have certified these amounts to be for ultimate use under an allocation level not subject to an allocation fraction, and (iv) any amounts supplied to customers through exchange agreements. Any existing inventory, or production, importation or purchase of an allocated product used to increase that inventory consistent with the provisions of § 211.22 shall not be included in the allocable supply of that product.

(g) Allocation fractions greater than one—(1) General. In allocating allocable supplies of any allocated product among wholesale purchasers and end-users, no supplier may use an allocation fraction greater than one (1.0) except as provided herein. Propane and butane imported and distributed by suppliers pursuant to § 211.12(g) shall be subject only to the provisions of paragraph (g) (8), of this section.

(8) Limitation on purchaser's rights including special restrictions on propane and butane. (i) No supplier shall supply and no end-user or wholesale purchaser-consumer shall accept quantities of an allocated product which exceed one hundred (100) percent of the end-user's or wholesale purchaser-consumer's current requirements. Provided, That unless directed by FEA upon application pursuant to subpart G of Part 205 of this chapter, (A) no supplier shall supply and no end-user or wholesale purchaser-consumer (except with respect to imports acquired and distributed pursuant to § 211.12(g) (1) (ii) and (2) shall accept or use propane or butane (including the propane and butane content of natural gas liquids and refinery gas) in excess of one hundred (100) percent of base period use for any industrial use (other than for refinery fuel use) except for the purpose of increasing inventories for such uses to the levels allowed under §§ 211.86(g) and 211.96(e), (B) no supplier shall supply and no end-user or wholesale purchaser-consumer (except with respect to imports acquired and distributed pursuant to § 211.12(g) (1) (ii) and (2) shall accept or use quantities of propane or butane (excluding the propane and butane content of natural gas liquids and refinery gas) in excess of one hundred (100) percent of base period use for refinery fuel use except for the purpose of increasing inventories for such uses to the levels allowed under §§ 211.86(g) and 211.96(e), and (C) no supplier shall supply and no end-user or wholesale purchaser-consumer shall accept or use quantities of propane or butane (including the propane and butane content of natural gas liquids and refinery gas) in excess of one hundred (100) percent of base period use for gas utility use or synthetic natural gas feedstock use except for the purpose of increasing inventories for such uses to the levels allowed under §§ 211.86(g) and 211.96(e).

(ii) Suppliers and wholesale purchasers shall comply with §§ 211.87 and 211.97 in the purchase of surplus propane and butane.

2. Section 211.12 is amended by revising paragraph (g) to read as follows:

§ 211.12 Purchaser's allocation entitlement.

(g) Importers—(1) End-user and wholesale purchaser-consumer importers. (i) Subject to paragraph (g) (1) (ii), (iii), (iv) and (v) of this section, end-users and wholesale purchasers-consumers which import an allocated product in excess of volumes which they imported in the base period, and end-users and wholesale purchaser-consumers which have not previously imported an allocated product may import that product for their own use provided, That should circumstances warrant, FEA may order suppliers of a firm which imports or purchases an allocated product to limit or terminate the allocation entitlement of such firm for any period corresponding to a base period or FEA may order that imports made pursuant to this paragraph (g) be allocated to other end-users, wholesale purchasers, producers or suppliers.

(ii) Imports of propane and butane other than from Canada for industrial use (including petrochemical feedstock use and refinery fuel use) (A) by wholesale purchaser-consumers and end-users in excess of volumes imported in the base period and (B) by wholesale purchaser-consumers and end-users which have not previously imported these products are not subject to the use limitations imposed by § 211.10(g) (8) of this subpart.

(iii) Imports of propane and butane other than from Canada for industrial use (including petrochemical feedstock use and refinery fuel use) will not affect a firm's allocation entitlements unless FEA determines that such imports, without a reduction in domestic allocation entitlements, are inconsistent with the objectives of the Act and pursuant to paragraph (g) (1) (i) of this section orders a firm's supplier to limit or terminate the firm's allocation entitlement.

(iv) End-users and wholesale purchaser-consumers who import allocated products are required to report to both the FEA National and appropriate Regional offices pursuant to § 211.225.

(v) End-users and wholesale purchaser-consumers availing themselves of the provisions of this paragraph (g) shall not be considered to be prime suppliers or producers of propane.

(2) Supplier importers of propane and butane. (i) Subject to clauses (ii), (iii), (iv), and (v) of this section, suppliers and producers may import (or purchase from suppliers and producers who have so imported) propane or butane other than from Canada in excess of volumes which they distributed in the base period (A) for distribution to wholesale purchaser-consumers and end-users which certify in writing that they will use such imported propane or butane for industrial use, (including petrochemical feedstock use or refinery fuel) or (B) for distribution to any wholesale purchaser-resellers which certify in writing that they will distribute such imported propane or butane pursuant to this paragraph (g).

(ii) Propane or butane imported other than from Canada shall not be distributed pursuant to this paragraph (g) to any purchaser by a supplier or producer in any period corresponding to a base period unless the supplier or producer has an allocation fraction of one (1.0) and the supplier or producer certifies in writing that the propane or butane has been imported under the provisions of this paragraph. Suppliers and producers shall use propane or butane imported other than from Canada for distribution pursuant to this paragraph (g) to increase their allocable supply of propane and butane for a period corresponding to a base period to the extent necessary to achieve an allocation fraction of one (1.0). A supplier or producer may use propane or butane imported other than from Canada to achieve an allocation fraction in excess of one (1.0). Any imported propane and butane used to increase a supplier's or producer's allocable supply of propane and butane to achieve an allocation fraction of (1.0), or more than one), shall be allocated pursuant to the provisions of § 211.10.

(iii) A supplier or producer which has propane or butane to be distributed pursuant to this paragraph shall maintain inventory records for such propane or butane separate from its inventory records for propane or butane allocated under the provisions of § 211.10.

(iv) Imported propane and butane distributed pursuant to this paragraph shall not be subject to the provisions of § 211.10 other than § 211.10(g) (8) except to the extent such propane or butane is used to increase a supplier's or producer's allocation fraction to one (1.0).

(v) Should circumstances warrant, FEA may require that propane or butane other than from Canada obtained by a firm pursuant to this paragraph (g) (2) be allocated to other wholesale purchasers, end users, producers or suppliers.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

3. Section 211.86 is amended by revising the first sentence of paragraph (d) and by revising paragraph (g) to read as follows:

§ 211.86 Method of allocation.

(d) Producers. Notwithstanding the provisions of §§ 211.9-13 (except the provisions of § 211.12(g)), producers shall allocate their allowable supply in the following manner:

(g) Inventory accumulation. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph (g), producers, suppliers, wholesale purchasers and end-users may accumulate propane in inventory in quantities which are normal and reasonable for seasonal usage in accordance with their normal business practices.

(2) Unless directed by FEA gas utilities shall not accumulate propane in inventory in excess of one hundred twenty (120) percent of the allocation entitlement specified in § 211.83.

(3) Industrial users (including petrochemical feedstock users and refinery fuel users) may accumulate propane in inventory pursuant to paragraph (a) (1) of this section but only up to an amount equal to one hundred twenty (120) percent of the volumes used for all industrial uses (including standby volumes) during the base period except that propane imported other than from Canada pursuant to § 211.12(g) shall not be subject to this limitation.

(4) If a firm controls greater than the above mentioned inventories of propane, excluding the volume of propane imported and distributed pursuant to § 211.12(g), it shall not accept an allocation of propane from a supplier or producer until its inventories are reduced to conform to the limitations imposed by this paragraph (g).

4. Section 211.96 is amended by revising paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 211.96 Method of allocation.

(e) Inventory accumulation. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph (e), suppliers, wholesale purchasers and end-users may accumulate butane in inventory in quantities which are normal and reasonable for seasonal usage in accordance with their normal business practices.

(2) Unless directed by FEA gas utilities shall not accumulate butane in inventory in excess of one hundred (100) percent of the allocation entitlement specified in § 211.93.

(3) Industrial users (including petrochemical feedstock users and refinery fuel users) may accumulate butane in inventory pursuant to paragraph (e) (1) of this section but only up to an amount equal to one hundred twenty (120) percent of the volumes used for all industrial uses (including standby volumes) during the base period except that butane imported other than from Canada pursuant to § 211.12(g) shall not be subject to this limitation.

(4) If a firm controls greater than the above-mentioned inventories for butane, excluding the volume of butane imported and distributed pursuant to § 211.12(g), it shall not accept an allocation of butane from a supplier until its inventories are reduced to conform to the limitations imposed by this paragraph (e).

5. Section 211.225 is revised to read as follows:

§ 211.225 Report of end-user and wholesale purchaser-consumer importers.

Pursuant to § 211.12(g), end-user and wholesale purchaser-consumer importers of an allocated product are required to report to the FEA National and appropriate Regional offices (a) by September 30 and April 1 of each calendar year in the case of propane and butane which they import and (b) in the case of any other allocated product at least fifteen (15) days prior to commencing use of such other allocated product which they import:

(1) The amounts and sources of these products imported since the last report filed pursuant to this section;

(2) The intended use of these imports;

(3) The projected monthly consumption of these imports; and

(4) A complete record of the domestic suppliers and amounts supplied of the allocated product from January 1, 1972, to the date of the filing of the report.

6. Section 212.93 is amended by revising paragraph (f) to read as follows:

§ 212.93 Price rule.

(f) Special rules for propane and butane—(1) Exception to equal application rules for propane. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (e) of this section, a seller may comply with the provisions of this section by applying unequal amounts of increased costs to the weighted average May 15, 1973 selling price of propane to classes of purchaser of propane, provided that the highest amount of increased cost applied to the weighted average May 15, 1973 selling price to any class of purchaser shall not exceed by more than one hundred (100) percent the amount of increased cost applied to the weighted average May 15, 1973 selling price to any other class of purchaser, and, provided further, that no greater amount of increased cost shall be applied to the weighted average May 15, 1973 selling price of propane in sales to any class of purchaser which includes either an independent marketer, as defined in § 211.51 of part 211 of this chapter, or a purchaser that uses the product for residential use, as defined in 211.51, than is applied to the weighted average May 15, 1973 selling price of propane in sales to any other class of purchaser.

(2) Separate cost of product in inventory for imported propane and butane.

Any seller of imported propane or butane other than from Canada shall, to the extent such propane or butane is distributed pursuant to the provisions of § 211.12(g)(2), determine the price permitted to be charged for propane or butane pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section by calculating increased costs as follows:

(i) With respect to the imported propane or butane maintained in a separate inventory pursuant to § 211.12(g)(2)(iii), for distribution in accordance with § 211.12(g)(2)(i), the seller shall make a separate calculation of increased costs as defined in § 212.92 to be used in determining its selling price for such propane or butane pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, with the selling prices for such propane not, however, subject to paragraph (f)(1) of this section; and

(ii) With respect to any imported propane or butane distributed in accordance with § 211.12(g)(2)(ii), the seller shall include the cost of such propane or butane in with the cost of all other propane or butane which is not sold pursuant to § 211.12(g)(2)(i), in making a separate calculation of increased costs as defined in § 212.92 to be used in determining its selling price for all sales of propane or butane other than those distributed pursuant to § 211.12(g)(2)(i), subject to all other provisions of this section, including paragraph (f)(1).

PART 212—MANDATORY PETROLEUM PRICE REGULATIONS

Retroactive Application of Subpart K; Issuance of Decision and Order

On May 29, 1975, the FEA published a notice of proposal to issue a decision and order (40 FR 23320) granting exception relief to natural gas processors in the form of retroactive application of certain aspects of the price rules of Subpart K of Part 212 to transactions made prior to the January 1, 1975 effective date of Subpart K. The proposed exception relief was in response to a growing awareness by the FEA of the numerous problems encountered by natural gas processors in applying the pricing regulations of Subpart E which were applicable prior to January 1, 1975 to all "refiners"—both of crude oil and natural gas—but which were primarily written to cover the refining of crude oil. Comments were invited from interested parties and a public hearing on the proposal was held on July 10, 1975.

Notice is hereby given that the decision and order set forth below was issued August 29, 1975 by FEA's Office of Exceptions and Appeals. The basis for the exception relief is set forth in the decision and order.

Issued in Washington, D.C., August 29, 1975.

DAVID G. WILSON,
Acting General Counsel,
Federal Energy Administration.

DECISION AND ORDER OF THE FEDERAL ENERGY ADMINISTRATION CLASS EXCEPTION

On May 29, 1975, the Federal Energy Administration published a notice of a proposal to issue a class exception to natural gas processors, 40 Fed. Reg. 23320 (May 29, 1975). The exception, if granted, would generally permit the price rules of Subpart K of Part 212 to be applied retroactively in those cases where a firm would obtain a benefit from a retroactive application. Subpart K sets forth the requirements to which a firm must adhere in establishing its maximum permissible price levels for natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products, including propane, butane and natural gasoline. The FEA solicited comments with respect to the proposed class exception, and on July 10, 1975 a public hearing was held in regard to the proposal.

In the May 29, 1975 notice of the proposed class exception, the FEA stated that, prior to the January 1, 1975 effective date of Subpart K, the FEA Price Regulations applicable to the pricing of natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products were set forth in Subpart E of the general price regulations applicable to all "refiners"—both of crude oil and natural gas liquids. However, in view of the particular situation existing in the natural gas processing industry, on January 1, 1975 a separate Subpart K of the Price Regulations was adopted dealing exclusively with that segment of the petroleum industry. In adopting the Subpart K regulations, the FEA stated that the determination of the maximum lawful selling price for natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products was to be a function of:

(1) The May 15, 1973 lawful selling price;
(2) An adjustment to May 15, 1973 selling prices to correct a disequilibrium market condition;

(3) The passthrough of increased product costs, including increased costs of natural gas shrinkage, in a manner analogous to that provided in Subpart E for the passthrough of increased costs of crude oil and petroleum products; and

(4) A specific price increment to permit producers and processors of natural gas liquids to increase their prices to reflect increased non-product costs which they incurred without the necessity of prenotification.

As stated above, prior to the adoption of Subpart K, the pricing of natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products was controlled by Subpart E of the FEA price regulations. Those Regulations, however, did not indicate precisely how the price rules of Subpart E, which did not specifically address the activities of natural gas producers and processors, should be construed with respect to those operations.

A major ambiguity of the Subpart E price rules as they related to natural gas processing was that they did not explicitly provide for the recovery of increased natural gas "shrinkage" costs incurred by the extraction of natural gas liquids from the gas (i.e., the incremental reduction in value of natural gas after it has been reduced in volume and BTU content by the extraction of liquids). In order to clarify this aspect of the Subpart E Regulations, the FEA issued a ruling which stated explicitly that the provisions of Subpart E which permit a dollar-for-dollar passthrough of increased product costs also afford a passthrough of the increased product costs which result from natural gas shrinkage in the same manner as is now expressly provided by Subpart K. See Ruling 1975-6, 40 Fed. Reg. 23272 (May 29, 1975).

The notice of the proposed class exception stated that the proposed action was designed to eliminate additional inequities which may have resulted from the application of Subpart E to the pricing of natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products prior to the adoption by the FEA of Subpart K on January 1, 1975.

Having considered the written comments submitted with respect to the proposed class exception and the oral testimony presented at the July 10, 1975 public hearing, the Federal Energy Administration has concluded that:

(a) Subpart K specifies a number of adjustments to the May 15, 1973 lawful selling price of natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products which gas plant operators may implement on a prospective basis in determining the maximum permissible selling prices of those products under FEA Regulations. The adoption of Subpart K was based in part upon the judgment of the FEA that the May 15, 1973 price levels of natural gas liquids products which were used as a reference point under Subpart E were in disequilibrium and resulted in an inequitable situation. However, the Subpart K Regulations only partly resolved the inequities that previously existed. Since Subpart K had only prospective effect, the prior inequities that the FEA has acknowledged to have existed were not alleviated by the adoption of Subpart K.

(b) A further inequity existed under the prior regulations with respect to the manner in which processors could increase the prices of the products which they sold to reflect the increased non-product costs which they incurred in 1974. Pursuant to Subpart E of the FEA Regulations, refiners are permitted to pass through "allowable" increased non-product costs, subject to prenotification and profit margin limitations. Although some gas processors were able to follow the prenotification requirements which previously existed with respect to non-product cost increases, some other gas processors, particularly the smaller operators, may not have been aware of the availability of this procedure under the FEA price regulations. Moreover the burdens which these firms faced with respect to prenotification of price increases were significantly different from the procedures applicable to other similar small business operations under FEA Regulations. See, e.g., 10 CFR, Part 212, Subpart F. Furthermore, the requirement of prenotification was particularly impractical and onerous for gas processors, since, in many instances, the ownership of such operations is divided among numerous parties, many of whom have additional interests in other, financially unrelated gas processing operations.

(c) Natural gas processors also encountered considerable difficulty in the past as a consequence of the application to them of Section 212.83(c)(1)(iii)(A)(IV) of Subpart E of Part 212 of the FEA Regulations. That section provides that a refiner: "... to limit the amount of increased costs of crude oil that may be applied to propane prices by a refiner to an amount which is proportional to the quantity of propane produced from crude oil by that refiner." See 39 Fed. Reg. 28608 (August 9, 1974). Although Section 212.83(c)(1)(iii)(A)(IV) was not designed to apply to propane processed from natural gas, a number of gas processors which do not refine crude oil have nevertheless been prevented from passing through actual increased product costs incurred prior to July 1, 1974 to propane as a result of Section 212.83(c)(1)(iii)(A)(IV). In view of the fact that this result by the FEA at the time Section 212.83(c)(1)(iii)(A)(IV) was adopted, and in view of the fact that Section 212.83(c)(1)(iii)(A)(IV) has adversely affected natural gas processors to a significant extent, a gross inequity exists which warrants exception relief. See, Vickers Petroleum Corporation, 2 FEA Par. — (August 8, 1975); The Oil Shale Corporation, 2 FEA Par. 83,198 (June 27, 1975); Kerr-McGee Corporation, 2 FEA Par. 83,197 (June 27, 1975); Continental Oil Company, 2 FEA Par. 83,057 (March 10, 1975); Skelly Oil Company, 2 FEA Par. 83,054 (March 6, 1975); and Midroc Oil Company, 1 FEA Par. 20,679 (October 9, 1974).

(d) Finally, it should be noted that, in calculating the carry-forward of unrecovered increased costs prior to the adoption of Subpart K, natural gas processors were required to compute the carry-forward amount in each month in accordance with the provisions of Section 212.83(e) of Subpart E of Part 212 of the FEA Regulations. However, in November 1974 the FEA amended Section 212.83(e) to limit the use of this carry-forward of unrecovered increased costs in months subsequent to the month in which the increased costs were incurred. See Section 212.83(e)(5). This limitation has imposed a significant burden on natural gas processors. The application of Section 212.83(e)(5) to natural gas processors requires that these firms adjust their accounting practices with regard to the carry-forward of unrecovered increased costs under the applicable FEA Regulations for a period of only two months, November and December 1974, and then to increase these accounting practices once again on January 1, 1975. In accordance with the provisions of Subpart K of Part 212 of the FEA Regulations, this result was clearly not intended by the FEA in adopting this regulation. In fact, as the introduction which accompanied the adoption of Section 212.83(e)(5) by the FEA indicates, this limitation was designed to apply to the unrecovered increased product costs of refiners of crude oil rather than the unrecovered increased costs of natural gas processors. See 39 Fed. Reg. 39259 (November 6, 1974). In addition, it should be noted that Subpart K, which was adopted to apply specifically to natural gas processors and was promulgated less than two months after the introduction of Section 212.83(e)(5), does not contain any similar limitation with respect to the carry-forward of unrecovered increased costs by natural gas processors after January 1, 1975. See Section 212.167(e). In view of the fact that the effect of Section 212.83(e)(5) on natural gas processors was not intended by the FEA at the time of its adoption, and in view of the significant adverse effects which the application of Section 212.83(e)(5) to natural gas processors for a period of only two months causes to such firms, a gross inequity exists which warrants exception relief.

(e) Since a significant number of gas processors have been subject to the conditions described above and may in many cases lack sufficient resources to file individual requests for exception, the FEA has determined that class exception relief is appropriate. The exception granted should permit the class to whom it applies to use the adjusted May 15, 1973 prices specified by Subpart K in computing lawful selling prices prior to the effective date of Subpart K. The relief would apply notwithstanding any contrary provisions of Subpart E which were applicable prior to the adoption of Subpart K.

(f) In view of the inordinate burden which natural gas processors as a class experienced from passing through actual increased product costs incurred prior to July 1, 1974 to propane as a result of Section 212.83(c)(1)(iii)(A)(IV). In view of the fact that this result by the FEA at the time Section 212.83(c)(1)(iii)(A)(IV) was adopted, and in view of the fact that Section 212.83(c)(1)(iii)(A)(IV) has adversely affected natural gas processors to a significant extent, a gross inequity exists which warrants exception relief. See, Vickers Petroleum Corporation, 2 FEA Par. — (August 8, 1975); The Oil Shale Corporation, 2 FEA Par. 83,198 (June 27, 1975); Kerr-McGee Corporation, 2 FEA Par. 83,197 (June 27, 1975); Continental Oil Company, 2 FEA Par. 83,057 (March 10, 1975); Skelly Oil Company, 2 FEA Par. 83,054 (March 6, 1975); and Midroc Oil Company, 1 FEA Par. 20,679 (October 9, 1974).

(g) As stated above, the provisions of Section 212.83(c)(1)(iii)(A)(IV) and Section 212.83(e)(5) were never envisioned or intended to apply to natural gas processors. Consequently, class exception relief should also be provided to members of the class from these provisions.

(h) In weighing the considerations which would lead to the approval of the class exception relief discussed in this Decision, the FEA has taken into account the adverse effect which could be experienced by firms and individuals who purchased natural gas liquid products during the period prior to January 1, 1975. Although natural gas processors have been subject to a certain degree of inequitable treatment in the past, the mitigation of that situation should not be permitted to affect purchasers in an unduly adverse manner. Consequently, the FEA has determined that the exception relief provided in this Decision should be limited in the following manner:

(i) The relief granted should not be implemented in a manner which would result in retroactive billing to purchasers of natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products; (ii) If a firm is unable to recover the full measure of relief provided as a result of the restrictions on retroactive billing, it should be permitted to establish a "bank" of unrecovered costs which may be used to implement price increases on a prospective basis in a manner similar to that specified in Section 212.167(e) of the FEA Price Regulations; and

(iii) In order to avoid severe short-term market dislocations or pricing anomalies, the amount of unrecovered costs which a firm should be permitted to recover in any month as a result of the relief provided in this Decision and Order should be further limited to an amount which does not exceed ten percent of the total dollar value of the exception relief provided.

It is therefore ordered that:

(1) The class to whom the exception relief set forth below applies is all firms, including gas plant operators, producers of natural gas, natural gas royalty owners and refiners (except resellers or retailers which are subject to Subpart F of Part 212 of the FEA Regulations), which sold natural gas liquids or natural gas liquid products from August 19, 1973, through December 31, 1974, which were produced in gas processing plants. The class therefore consists of only those firms to which the provisions of Subpart K of Part 212 of the FEA Regulations currently apply, and only to the extent to which the provisions of Subpart K apply to the operations of the firms.

(2) Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of Subpart E of Part 212 of the FEA Regulations, the members of the class referred to in Paragraph (1) may, subject to the limitations set forth in Paragraphs (3) and (4) below, determine their maximum permissible selling prices for the natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products which they sold from August 19, 1973, through December 31, 1974, by:

(a) Using the adjusted May 15, 1973 selling price specified in Section 212.164 (a) and (b) of the current FEA Price Regulations in all instances in which the term "May 15, 1973 selling price" was used in Section 212.83 (a) (1) (ii) of the FEA Regulations applicable to the members of the class from August 19, 1973, through December 31, 1974;

(b) Increasing the adjusted May 15, 1973 selling price specified in Section 212.164 (a) and (b) and referred to in subparagraph (a) above by the nonproduct cost increases which the members of the class actually experienced in 1974, but in no event by more than $.0025 per gallon;

(c) Disregarding the limitation specified in Section 212.11 of the FEA Price Regulations applicable to members of the class;

(d) Disregarding the requirements specified in Section 212.83(c)(1)(iii)(A)(IV) of the FEA Price Regulations applicable to members of the class; and

(e) Disregarding the limitations specified in Section 212.83(e)(5) of the FEA Price Regulations applicable to members of the class during the months of November and December 1974.

(3) The term non-product cost increases as used in this Decision and Order is synonymous with the term "increased non-product costs" as defined in 10 CFR 212.83. In addition, the specific computation of non-product cost increases referred to in Paragraph (2)(b) of this Order shall be made by comparing the average non-product cost which the member of the class actually experienced on a plant-by-plant basis during the fiscal quarter which includes May 15, 1973, with such average non-product costs incurred by the firm on a plant-by-plant basis during the entire 1974 calendar year. The implementation of the non-product cost increase provision of Paragraph (2)(b) is however contingent on each member of the class maintaining detailed records of the costs incurred, the volume of products produced and the manner in which the calculations referred to in this paragraph have been made.

(4) The members of the class may not implement the provisions of this Order by increasing the prices which they charged purchasers of natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products in transactions concluded prior to the adoption of Subpart K of the FEA Price Regulations either through retroactive billing, provisional billing at the time of the transaction or otherwise. A transaction, for the purposes of this Order, is considered to have occurred at the time the product is actually delivered to the purchaser. In applying the relief provided by this Order to transactions which occurred prior to the adoption of Subpart K of the FEA Price Regulations, each member of the class shall remain subject to the provisions of Section 212.83(e) of Subpart E of Part 212 in calculating the carryover of unrecovered costs. Each member of the class may however include the adjustments provided in Paragraph (2) of this Order in its calculation of unrecovered increased product costs pursuant to Section 212.83(e). In implementing prospectively the relief provided by this Order each member of the class to whom relief is extended shall increase its carry-forward of unrecovered increased product costs as referred to in Section 212.167(e) of the current FEA Price Regulations by an amount equal to the dollar value of the relief specified in this Order which has not previously been recovered. However, a firm may not use the relief provided in this Order to increase aggregate prices in any month by an amount greater than ten percent of the increment to permissible selling prices for the natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products which they sold from August 19, 1973, through December 31, 1974, by:

(a) Using the adjusted May 15, 1973 selling price specified in Section 212.164 (a) and (b) of the current FEA Price Regulations in all instances in which the term "May 15, 1973 selling price" was used in Section 212.83 (a) (1) (ii) of the FEA Regulations applicable to the members of the class from August 19, 1973, through December 31, 1974;

(b) Increasing the adjusted May 15, 1973 selling price specified in Section 212.164 (a) and (b) and referred to in subparagraph (a) above by the nonproduct cost increases which the members of the class actually experienced in 1974, but in no event by more than $.0025 per gallon;

(c) Disregarding the limitation specified in Section 212.11 of the FEA Price Regulations applicable to members of the class;

(d) Disregarding the requirements specified in Section 212.83(c)(1)(iii)(A)(IV) of the FEA Price Regulations applicable to members of the class; and

(e) Disregarding the limitations specified in Section 212.83(e)(5) of the FEA Price Regulations applicable to members of the class during the months of November and December 1974.

(3) The term non-product cost increases as used in this Decision and Order is synonymous with the term "increased non-product costs" as defined in 10 CFR 212.83. In addition, the specific computation of non-product cost increases referred to in Paragraph (2)(b) of this Order shall be made by comparing the average non-product cost which the member of the class actually experienced on a plant-by-plant basis during the fiscal quarter which includes May 15, 1973, with such average non-product costs incurred by the firm on a plant-by-plant basis during the entire 1974 calendar year. The implementation of the non-product cost increase provision of Paragraph (2)(b) is however contingent on each member of the class maintaining detailed records of the costs incurred, the volume of products produced and the manner in which the calculations referred to in this paragraph have been made.

(4) The members of the class may not implement the provisions of this Order by increasing the prices which they charged purchasers of natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products in transactions concluded prior to the adoption of Subpart K of the FEA Price Regulations either through retroactive billing, provisional billing at the time of the transaction or otherwise. A transaction, for the purposes of this Order, is considered to have occurred at the time the product is actually delivered to the purchaser. In applying the relief provided by this Order to transactions which occurred prior to the adoption of Subpart K of the FEA Price Regulations, each member of the class shall remain subject to the provisions of Section 212.83(e) of Subpart E of Part 212 in calculating the carryover of unrecovered costs. Each member of the class may however include the adjustments provided in Paragraph (2) of this Order in its calculation of unrecovered increased product costs pursuant to Section 212.83(e). In implementing prospectively the relief provided by this Order each member of the class to whom relief is extended shall increase its carry-forward of unrecovered increased product costs as referred to in Section 212.167(e) of the current FEA Price Regulations by an amount equal to the dollar value of the relief specified in this Order which has not previously been recovered. However, a firm may not use the relief provided in this Order to increase aggregate prices in any month by an amount greater than ten percent of the increment to permissible selling prices for the natural gas liquids and natural gas liquid products which they sold from August 19, 1973, through December 31, 1974, by:

[Ruling 1975-9] STORAGE COSTS

Facts. Firm A, a reseller and retailer of propane, purchases propane in large quantities at a location in Texas which has a large underground propane storage facility. The propane is stored in merchant storage at that location for several months, and is then transmitted by pipeline to a pipeline terminal located several hundred miles from Firm A's bulk plant. Propane transmitted by pipeline is dispensed at the pipeline terminal to various parties, in addition to Firm A. Some of the propane received by Firm A at the pipeline terminal is delivered by truck from the pipeline terminal to Firm A's bulk plant, and some is delivered from the pipeline terminal directly to Firm A's large, commercial user customers. Further deliveries of propane are made by truck from Firm A's bulk plant to several of Firm A's retail outlets.

Firm A incurs storage costs for storage of the propane in Texas, a pipeline tariff for transmission of the propane to the pipeline terminal, terminalling charges for services at the pipeline terminal, including transferring the propane from the pipeline terminal to trucks at the terminal, and trucking fees for the delivery of the propane from the pipeline terminal to Firm A's bulk plant, from the pipeline terminal to certain of Firm A's customers, and from Firm A's bulk plant to Firm A's retail outlets.

Issue. Which of these transportation and/or storage charges can be included by Firm A in determining its "weighted average unit cost of a product in inventory" for purposes of determining "increased costs" pursuant to § 212.92?

Ruling. As set forth in Ruling 1975-1:

The "weighted average unit cost of a product in inventory" includes transportation costs incurred in bringing the covered product into the seller's inventory. The cost of product is, in other words, considered to be the "delivered cost" to the buyer. In many instances, the product is purchased at a "delivered price," and there is no separate transportation cost incurred. Where transportation costs are incurred separately in connection with acquiring product, however, they have historically been treated as a cost of acquiring the product. For example, refiners are expressly allowed to treat increased transportation costs associated with obtaining crude oil or covered products as increased product costs, pursuant to the definitions of "cost of crude petroleum" and "cost of petroleum product" in § 212.93(b).

RULES AND REGULATIONS

Ruling 1975-1, however, did not expressly deal with charges incidental to transportation, such as storage or terminal charges, nor did it address the questions that arise concerning the point at which product is regarded as being in the seller's inventory, where, as here, a seller takes title to a product at an early point in the overall distribution system for the product concerned.

The purpose of this ruling is to make clear that miscellaneous charges incident to transporting product to a seller, such as storage and terminalling charges, may be treated as transportation costs, and therefore may be included as part of the weighted average unit cost of product in inventory.

This ruling also sets forth the general guideline that transportation and related costs may be included as part of the weighted average cost of product in inventory to the extent that they are incurred in bringing the product into storage at a location that constitutes a part of the buying firm's storage and distribution system. In other words, the costs associated with movement of the product through a distribution system that is used in common to distribute product to various firms operating at the same level of distribution as the buying firm may generally be treated as part of the cost of the product to the buying firm.

In the case of Firm A, therefore, application of this general principle means that the transportation and associated costs of bringing propane to Firm A's bulk plant are permitted to be treated as part of that firm's cost of product. Similarly, refiners are generally permitted to treat transportation and associated costs of bringing crude oil to their refineries as part of the cost of crude oil.

As noted in Ruling 1975-1, a firm

... is not, however, permitted to treat increased transportation costs associated with delivering the covered product to its customers as "increased costs" under § 212.92. Such costs are not related to the cost of product to [that firm], but are, rather, a cost of doing business for [that firm], which must be treated as all other non-product costs, and which may be reflected in [that firm's] selling prices only to the extent permitted by § 212.93(b).

Thus, the transportation costs of delivering propane to Firm A's customers, whether from Firm A's bulk plant, or from the pipeline terminal, may not be treated as part of the cost of product to Firm A.

Similarly, the cost of transporting product from Firm A's bulk plant to its retail outlets does not constitute a cost of product to Firm A, but is, rather, a general cost of doing business that is incurred by Firm A.

In summary, therefore, with respect to product sold by Firm A from its bulk plant or from its retail outlets, the cost of product may include the actual price paid for the propane, the cost of storage in Texas, the cost of pipeline transportation, the cost of pipeline terminal charges and the cost of truck transportation to Firm A's bulk plant. With respect to product delivered by Firm A directly from the pipeline terminal to its customers, the Texas storage costs, pipeline costs and pipeline terminal costs may be treated as cost of product, but no truck transportation costs may be included.

It should be noted that in some instances a firm may own or lease a transportation or distribution facility of a kind that more typically would form part of a distribution system available for use by various firms, rather than a part of the firm's own storage and distribution system. For example, a refiner may own a pipeline by which crude oil is delivered to its refinery, or a reseller may own a facility for transferring imported product from ocean vessels to trucks or railroad cars, for distribution to its bulk plants. In such cases, a firm may treat its actual increased costs of furnishing such facilities as an increased cost of product, provided, however, that such cost increases shall not exceed increases over the May 15, 1973 per unit charges made for comparable facilities or services by unaffiliated third parties. Any firm that claims such increased costs with respect to facilities or services which it furnishes will have the burden of establishing not only that it has actually incurred those increased costs, but also that those cost increases do not exceed increases in the per unit charges made for comparable facilities or services by third parties. Tariffs published by regulatory authorities may be used for measuring compliance with this requirement.

It should also be noted that, as required by Ruling 1975-1, a firm must be consistent in its accounting procedures when computing "weighted average unit cost" of a product in inventory pursuant to § 212.92, and to the extent that transportation and other costs associated with acquiring a product are treated as a product cost for purposes of calculating the current weighted average unit cost of product in inventory, those costs must also be included in calculating the weighted average unit cost of product in inventory on May 15, 1973.

TRANSPORTATION COSTS WHERE TRANSPORTATION IS PROVIDED BY THE FIRM CONCERNED

In Ruling 1975-1 (40 FR 6768, February 14, 1975), the Federal Energy Administration set forth guidelines regarding treatment of increased transportation costs in the calculation of "increased costs" by resellers and retailers pursuant to 10 CFR 212.92. While this ruling helped to clarify the treatment of increased transportation costs where transportation is furnished by an independent carrier, it did not deal with related questions of increased costs of transportation where the product is transported by the firm concerned, rather than by an independent carrier. This ruling, therefore, is intended further to clarify the

RULES AND REGULATIONS

[Ruling 1975-11]

NEW AND HIGHER COST STORAGE TANKS Rentals

Facts: Firms A and Z are sellers of propane at both the wholesale and retail marketing levels. On May 15, 1973, Firm A provided 500 gallon propane storage tanks which it owned for the use of certain of its customers free of charge, on the condition that the tanks could be filled only by the owner of the tank or upon the owner's authorization. Firm Z leased 500 gallon propane storage tanks to certain of its customers at an annual rental of $25.00, also on the condition that the tanks could be filled only by the owner of the tank or upon the owner's authorization.

New 500 gallon storage tanks cost Firms A and Z $250.00 on May 15, 1973. Recently, Firms A and Z purchased several new 500 gallon storage tanks at a cost of $400.00 each. Firm A has offered to lease the new storage tanks at an annual rate of $15.00 for a 500 gallon tank. Firm Z has offered to lease the new storage tanks to its customers at an annual rate of $40.00 for a 500 gallon tank. Both firms have notified their affected customers that the new or higher rental rates are due to the higher cost of acquiring the new tanks.

Issue: May Firm A institute a rental charge for new storage tanks and may Firm Z charge a higher rental rate for new storage tanks, in light of the increased costs associated with the purchase of these tanks?

RULING: Yes. Firms A and Z can charge new or higher rental rates than were charged on May 15, 1973 for the lease of new storage tanks acquired at a higher cost, but only to the extent that the new or increased rental rate is justified by the higher cost actually incurred in the acquisition of the storage tank being leased. Thus, new or increased rentals may be charged only to customers leasing new tanks from Firms A and Z, and the rental rate may be increased by no more than an amount fairly reflecting the increased cost of the storage tanks since May 15, 1973. Any further increase would constitute "a means to obtain a price higher than that permitted by the regulations" within the meaning of § 210.62(c) of the FEA regulations (See FEA Ruling 1975-4).

The above result is reached by application of 10 CFR 212.31 and 10 CFR 210.62 in accordance with the analysis detailed in FEA Ruling 1975-4. That ruling, in effect, established a presumption that an increase in tank rental rates is regarded as an increase in the price of the product, and, as such, is regarded as a means to obtain a price higher than is permitted by the regulations. That presumption is, however, overcome where, as here, the storage tanks being furnished have been acquired at higher cost and the amount of new or increased rent being charged for those storage definition of "increased costs" as set forth in § 212.92.

Facts. Firm X, a reseller of a covered product, purchases the covered product from Refiner W and sells it to various firms, including Firm Y and Firm Z. Firm X uses its own vehicles to transport the covered product to its own terminal. Firm X also uses its own vehicles to transport the covered product directly from the refinery of Refiner W to Firm Y. Firm X transports the covered product from its terminal to Firm Z, also using its own vehicles. Firm X's costs incurred in connection with transporting the covered product to its terminal, to Firm Y and to Firm Z have increased.

Issue 1. May Firm X treat its increased costs incurred in connection with transporting the covered product from Refiner W to its terminal as "increased costs" as defined in § 212.92?

Issue 2. May Firm X treat its increased costs incurred in connection with transporting the covered product from Refiner W to Firm Y or from its terminal to Firm Z as "increased costs" as defined in § 212.92?

Ruling. Firm X may, subject to certain limitations, treat its increased costs, incurred in connection with transporting the covered product to its terminal as "increased costs" pursuant to § 212.92, but may not treat as "increased costs" its increased transportation costs incurred in connection with transporting the covered product from Refiner W to Firm Y or with delivering the covered product from its terminal to Firm Z.

Pursuant to § 212.92, "increased costs" are defined as "the difference between the weighted average unit cost of a product in inventory and the weighted average unit cost of that product in inventory on May 15, 1973." Thus, "increased costs" are defined to be the increased "cost[s] of a product," and such increased costs are permitted to be passed through, on a dollar-for-dollar basis, in the prices charged for the product by resellers, reseller-retailers, and retailers pursuant to § 212.93. Conversely, increased non-product costs are permitted to be reflected in the prices charged by resellers, reseller-retailers, and retailers only to the extent permitted by § 212.93(b).

Ruling 1975-1 states:

The "weighted average unit cost of a product in inventory" includes transportation costs incurred in bringing the covered product into the seller's inventory. The cost of product is, in other words, considered to be the "delivered cost" to the buyer. In many instances, the product is purchased at a "delivered price," and there is no separate transportation cost incurred. Where transportation costs are incurred separately in connection with acquiring product, however, they have historically been treated as a cost of acquiring the product.

The intent of Ruling 1975-1, therefore, is to permit resellers and retailers to treat increased transportation charges associated with bringing a covered product into inventory as "increased costs," whereas the subsequent costs of transporting the product, whether to Firm X's customers or to other selling locations of Firm X, are costs of doing business that are not associated with the cost of acquiring the product. Accordingly, Firm X may not treat increased transportation costs incurred when Firm X uses its own vehicles to deliver the covered product directly from Refiner W to Firm Y as "increased costs." The covered product is, in effect, brought into Firm X's inventory when Firm X receives the product from Refiner W. In other words, the "delivered cost" to Firm X is the cost of the product when it receives the product to be delivered from its terminal to its customers. Increased transportation costs are considered to be a cost of doing business and must be treated as all other non-product costs. Similarly, the increased transportation costs incurred by Firm X in delivering the product from its terminal to Firm Z are considered to be cost of doing business rather than a cost of acquiring the product.

Pursuant to Ruling 1975-1, increased transportation costs associated with bringing a covered product into inventory are considered to be "increased costs" pursuant to § 212.92. Although Ruling 1975-1 did not deal with an example of a firm that furnished its own transportation instead of using an independent carrier, the rationale for treating the increased costs associated with bringing the product into inventory is the same in both instances, and a firm should not be disadvantaged under the FEA price regulations because it chose to use its own facilities rather than an independent carrier. Accordingly, Firm X may treat its actual increased transportation costs associated with transporting the covered product from Refiner W into its inventory as "increased costs." However, the amount of such increased transportation costs must be established by the firm concerned and may not, in any event, exceed increases in the amount being charged for comparable services by independent carriers (e.g., increases in published I.C.C. tariffs since May 15, 1973). The firm concerned has the burden of establishing not only that it has actually incurred those increased costs, but also that the increased costs it computes as attributable to the cost of transportation do not exceed such third-party rate increases for comparable services.

Finally, as pointed out in Ruling 1975-1,

... in computing the "weighted average unit cost" a firm must be consistent in its accounting procedures. Thus, a firm which includes transportation costs associated with acquiring a covered product as a product cost when calculating its current weighted average unit cost of product in inventory must also include such costs in its calculation of the weighted average unit cost of that product in inventory on May 15, 1973.

tanks is reasonably related to the increased costs of those storage tanks.

The fact that new or higher storage tank rentals may be charged by Firms A and Z only with respect to customers leasing the new, higher cost storage tank flows from the fact that the practice of furnishing existing storage facilities free of charge, or the rental rates respecting such existing storage facilities have previously been established. Once established, the rental for a previously furnished or leased storage tank is required to be maintained at or below the May 15, 1973 level.

In the case of Firms A and Z, application of this principle justifies a result different from that reached on the facts of Ruling 1975-4 due to the fact of the higher costs associated with the new tanks. Firms A and Z are subject to the requirement of 1975-4 that their charges, if any, for furnishing storage facilities that were furnished May 15, 1973 may not be increased. However, with respect to new tanks purchased at higher cost a new or higher rental than that which was charged on May 15, 1973 for lower cost tanks may be charged. Firms A and Z continue however to be subject to the overall restriction that any instance in which the amount of the new or increased rental for new, higher cost tanks is not reasonably related to the amount of the increase in the cost of storage tanks over May 15, 1973 levels would continue to be regarded as a means of obtaining a price for propane that is higher than permitted by the regulations, and would therefore constitute a violation of the regulations.

Thus, for example, the new rental rate established by Firm A can only reflect the $150.00 increment in the cost of storage tanks since May 15, 1973, and not the full amount of the current cost of new storage tanks. This is because Firm A's May 15, 1973 prices for propane included the provision of a storage tank that cost $250.00, and an attempt now by Firm A to obtain rental income for the value of storage facilities previously furnished free of charge in connection with the purchase of propane would constitute an unwarranted increase in the price of propane. In addition, Firm A's recovery of the $150 increased storage tank cost would have to conform to the conventional practice of spreading the cost over the reasonable life of the tank. Firm Z would be restricted to recovering its $150.00 increase on the same annual percentage basis which it applied to the basic $250.00 cost.

Ruling 1975-4 stated generally that increased costs associated with furnishing storage facilities constitute increased non-product costs under FEA regulations, and that, as such, they could only be passed through in prices charged for product to the extent and in the manner provided for by the increased non-product cost provisions applicable to such firms. To the extent that this Ruling permits higher tank rentals to be charged for new, higher-cost tanks, the increased costs of such tanks obviously do not also constitute increased non-product costs for purposes of the non-product cost passthrough regulations, and this Ruling modifies Ruling 1975-4 only to this limited extent.

The principles set forth in this ruling govern the application of the FEA regulations to the described modes of furnishing storage facilities by resellers, reseller-retailers, and retailers as defined in 10 CFR 212.31. These principles are not applicable to refiners, since the type of storage facility discussed herein falls within the express terms of the container cost increase provisions of § 212.87(c) (5) (iv).

STRIPPER WELL LEASE EXEMPTION Calculation of Average Daily Production Where Curtailed

Section 4(e) (2) of the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973 ("EPAA", Pub. L. 93-159, as amended, Pub. L. 93-511) reads, in pertinent part:

(A) The regulation promulgated under subsection (a) of this section [FEA price and allocation regulations] shall not apply to the first sale of crude oil produced in the United States from any lease whose average daily production of crude oil for the preceding calendar year does not exceed ten barrels per well.

(B) To qualify for the exemption under this paragraph a lease must be operating at the maximum feasible rate of production and in accord with recognized conservation practices.

The Federal Energy Administration implemented this statutory requirement in 10 CFR 210.32 (Stripper well leases), which as originally promulgated afforded an exemption from the Mandatory Petroleum Allocation and Price Regulations for the first sale of crude oil, including condensates, produced in the United States from any property whose average daily production of crude oil, including condensates, for the preceding calendar year did not exceed 10 barrels per well. As recently amended (40 FR 22123, May 21, 1975), the stripper well lease exemption of 10 CFR 210.32 now defines a stripper well lease as a property whose average daily production of crude oil, including condensates, per well did not exceed 10 barrels per day during any preceding calendar year beginning after December 31, 1972.

"Average daily production" for purposes of the stripper well lease exemption is defined in § 210.32 as:

The qualified maximum total production of crude oil, including condensates, produced from a property, divided by a number equal to the number of days in the year times the number of wells that produced crude oil, including condensates, from that property in that year. To qualify as maximum total production, each well on the property must have been maintained at the maximum feasible rate of production, in accordance with recognized conservation practices, and not significantly curtailed by reason of mechanical failure or other disruption in production.

The purpose of this ruling is to set forth the guidelines to be applied in those cases where production from a property for which the stripper well lease exemption is claimed appears not to have been maintained at the maximum feasible rate of production or to have been significantly curtailed.

1. Stripper Well Lease Production Requirements.—Section 210.32 establishes two criteria that each well on a property must satisfy in order for its production during the measuring calendar year to qualify as "maximum total production." The well must have been (1) maintained at the maximum feasible rate of production, in accordance with recognized conservation practices, and (2) not significantly curtailed by reason of mechanical failure or other disruption in production.

The first requirement, that production be at the maximum feasible rate, reflects the statutory qualifying language "in accord with recognized conservation practices", in recognition of the fact that the practicalities of producing crude oil frequently limit the operation of some wells to a rate of production that is less than the maximum possible rate. For example, some state regulatory bodies establish for each property allowable production rates ("allowables"), which may not be exceeded by the operator. Although it might be possible to produce crude oil from the property at a greater rate than the allowable, the ultimate total recovery of crude oil from the property is maximized where production is held to the more efficient rate. Thus, while a particular property might be capable of producing 1,000 barrels of crude oil per month in the short term, to produce continuously at that rate would result in a lesser total recovery of crude oil from the reservoir than the continuous production of perhaps 800 barrels per month. In this example, production—although not at the maximum possible rate—is, for purposes of the stripper well lease exemption, at the maximum feasible rate. In accordance with a recognized conservation practice, as required by § 210.32.

In some cases, the maximum feasible rate of production may be equal to the rate at which crude oil in the reservoir flows into the area of the well-bore from which it is pumped to the surface. For example, if the rate of flow into the area of well-bore is low, perhaps one to two barrels per day, it is common operating practice to allow the crude oil in the reservoir to accumulate in the area of the well-bore for several days before it is pumped. Though the well is not pumping, however, it will be considered to be in operation, and no adjustment to the calculation of average daily production (as in Part II, below) is required if this practice comports with historical and traditional use. Wells in formations of higher flow rates are normally pumped more frequently, however, and it is to be expected that wells that average approximately 10 barrels or more per day are usually pumped every day.

Periodic shutdowns for other reasons, such as maintenance and mechanical repairs, also might result in no significant loss of production. This is so because after having been interrupted for a short period of time, production is sometimes resumed with a corresponding short period of increased rate of production due to a build-up of reservoir pressure during the period of non-operation. The result, which can normally be verified by an examination of the property's production records, is that the production lost during the time that the well was shut down is, in effect, recouped or "made up" after production is resumed. For example, assuming that total daily production from a three-well property is generally twenty-five barrels of crude oil, including condensates, but that over a two-day period during which one well is shut down for maintenance, total daily production from the property might decline to, perhaps, seventeen barrels. However, after production is again resumed from all three wells, the total production from the property might increase to twenty-nine barrels daily for four days, thus compensating for the production lost during the two days that one well was shut down. In this example, therefore, operation of the property would be considered to be "at the maximum feasible rate of production," and there would be no need for an adjustment to the calculation of average daily production (as in Part II, below) to reflect the time that one well was not operating.

As a general matter, FEA will be guided by the allowable production figures established by state regulatory bodies, where such figures exist, as well as earlier and later production figures for the property concerned in determining whether the maximum feasible rate of production, consistent with recognized conservation practices, has been maintained.

The second production requirement of § 210.32 is that production not be "significantly curtailed by reason of mechanical failure or other disruption in production." In this regard, FEA recognizes that just as the practicalities of producing crude oil sometimes limit the operation of some wells to less than the maximum possible rate of production, so too do those same practicalities prevent the actual flow of crude oil from every well on the property during every day of the year. Factors such as mechanical failures, which are normally beyond the producer's control, and periodic maintenance result in a nominal amount of "down time" for most properties each year. Accordingly, such normal periods of down time are not considered significant, and no adjustments to the calculation of average daily production need be made to reflect such down time. Where an abnormally large period of down time is experienced on a particular property and production is significantly disrupted or curtailed, however, an adjustment to the calculation of average daily production must be made.

FEA has determined that the use of an absolute rule to establish whether a particular case of curtailed or disrupted production is significant is neither feasible nor equitable. Factors such as the ages of wells, their depths, the types of crude oil being produced, etc., all serve to influence what is properly regarded as a "normal" amount of down time for a particular well. As a guideline, however, FEA will presume that if, for any reason, a well has not operated for a period of more than 24 consecutive hours, production has been significantly curtailed or disrupted and, unless that presumption is overcome, appropriate adjustments must be made in the calculation of average daily production.

The 24 hour presumption is rebuttable in either of two ways. First, the presumption may be overcome upon the showing, by production records or otherwise, that the down time for mechanical failure or maintenance has not been in excess of the historical pattern for a well operating on that particular property, or (if the information is available) for similar wells operating in the same or nearby fields. Therefore, if due to mechanical failure a well was not operated for 17 days during the measuring calendar year, but the historical pattern for that property has been that the average per-well down time for mechanical failure or maintenance is normally 20 days per year, there has not been a significant curtailment or disruption in production. Overcoming the presumption with respect to curtailment for miscellaneous reasons other than mechanical failure or maintenance will be handled by FEA on a case-by-case basis, since there may be a variety of causes for such curtailments that cannot now be foreseen.

There will undoubtedly be some cases where the production from one or more wells has been curtailed or disrupted for periods longer than the historical pattern would indicate is normal for mechanical failure and maintenance. In this regard (as stated above), FEA recognizes that the mere curtailment or disruption for a short period of time in the actual flow of crude oil from a producing well does not per se effect in significant measure a decrease in the average daily production calculated over the period of a calendar year. Accordingly, where the period of time during which production from the well was curtailed or disrupted has been in excess of the normal historical average for mechanical failure and maintenance, the presumption may secondly be overcome upon the showing, by production records or otherwise, that production lost during the abnormally long period of curtailment or disruption was subsequently recouped.

Where the presumption is still not fully overcome, however, failure of one or more wells to satisfy both of the production requirements set forth above means that the stripper well lease exemption cannot be extended to that particular property based on its unadjusted average daily production for the year. This is so because had the property met both production requirements, its average daily production might well have been in excess of the statutory maximum of 10 barrels per well per day.

It could therefore be argued from a literal reading of the statutory and regulatory language that the FEA should require the total disqualification of any property that has not met both production requirements because it has not operated "at the maximum feasible rate of production and in accord with recognized conservation practices" during the measuring calendar year. The statutory requirement that a property be operated "at the maximum feasible rate of production and in accord with recognized conservation practices" first appeared in section 406(b) of the Trans-Alaska Pipeline Authorization Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-153, enacted eleven days prior to the EPAA), which contained an exemption for stripper well leases similar to the one adopted in the EPAA. The Conference Committee included the restrictive provisions "to insure that the exemption is narrowly defined and prudently administered, and to insure that the incentive being granted is properly limited in accord with congressional intent." Moreover, Congress intended that the limiting provisions of the exemption be "strictly enforced and regulated by the administering agency to insure that the limited exemption of this class of wells for the express purposes [e.g., preventing the premature shutdown of stripper wells for economic reasons] is not in any way broadened." The Conference specifically directed that implementing regulations be "so designed as to provide safeguards against any abuse, over-reaching or altering of normal patterns of operations to achieve a benefit under [the exemption] which would not otherwise be available."

Because of this legislative intent, the FEA will not allow curtailments or disruptions in operations beyond normal levels, for whatever reasons, to make the stripper well exemption operative when it would not have applied if operations had been normal. At the same time, however, the FEA believes that it would only defeat the congressional purpose of the stripper well exemption if it also disqualified those properties whose wells would not have exceeded an average of 10 barrels per day even if operations had been normal. Such a harsh application of the exemption would for no rational reason penalize those producers to whom Congress intended to provide the incentives of the exemption and who would have qualified for the exemption but for operational problems beyond their control.

Accordingly, rather than require the complete disqualification of properties that do not satisfy the production criteria outlined in this Part I, FEA will instead require appropriate adjustments to the computation of average daily production whenever there has been significantly curtailed or disrupted production, so that the calculation more accurately reflects the average daily production of the property when operated at the maximum feasible rate of production.

"average daily production" may be expressed as follows:

$$A = \frac{Q}{D \times W}$$

Where:

A = Average daily production of crude oil, including condensates.

Q = Qualified maximum total production of crude oil, including condensates, from the property during the measuring calendar year.

D = Number of days in the measuring calendar year. (Always either 365 or 366.)

W = Number of wells that produced crude oil, including condensates, from the property during the measuring calendar year.

Thus, assuming that Firm X operated property A on which there were four producing wells, which, in the measuring calendar year, produced a total of 14,000 barrels of crude oil, including condensates, and assuming further that all four wells satisfied both production criteria set forth in Part I above, the property's average daily production for that calendar year is properly computed as follows:

$$A = \frac{Q}{D \times W}$$

$$A = \frac{14,000 \text{ barrels}}{365 \text{ days} \times 4 \text{ wells}}$$

$$A = 9.59 \text{ barrels per day per well}$$

Therefore, on the basis of its average daily production per well during that calendar year, property A qualifies as a stripper well lease.

Assume, however, that Firm X operated a second property B, which also produced a total of 14,000 barrels of crude oil, including condensates, from four wells during the measuring calendar year, but that of those four wells, two produced crude oil for the entire year, but two were new wells that did not begin producing crude oil until July 1 of the measuring year. Without any adjustment to the formula to reflect the fact that two of the wells were not producing crude oil for the entire measuring calendar year, the computation of average daily production for property B would yield exactly the same result as the calculation for property A. Yet as discussed in Part I above, an adjustment must be made in calculating property B's average daily production, to reflect the significant "curtailment" or "disruption" in production, i.e., non-production from two wells for six months each. Accordingly, for purposes of the calculation, the two wells that did not produce crude oil until July 1 can be considered only as partial producing wells. Therefore, instead of four producing wells, property B counts two "whole" producing wells and two partial producing wells that must count as one-half well each. Accordingly, the property calculation for property B is as follows:

RULES AND REGULATIONS

$$A = \frac{Q}{D \times W}$$

$$A = \frac{14,000 \text{ barrels}}{365 \text{ days} (2 \text{ wells} + \frac{1}{2} \text{ well} + \frac{1}{2} \text{ well})}$$

$$A = \frac{14,000 \text{ barrels}}{365 \text{ days} \times 3 \text{ wells}}$$

$$A = 12.79 \text{ barrels per day per well}$$

On the basis of its average daily production during the measuring calendar year, therefore, property B does not qualify as a stripper well lease.

Adjustments to the calculation of average daily production for the period of time during which production from a particular well was significantly curtailed or disrupted are reflected, then, in the denominator of the formula by expressing that well as a fraction equal to the

One well is counted as:

$$\left( \frac{365 - 35}{365} \right) \text{ well} = \left( \frac{330}{365} \right) \text{ well}$$ and the other well is counted as:

$$\left( \frac{365 - 55}{365} \right) \text{ well} = \left( \frac{310}{365} \right) \text{ well}$$

Accordingly, average daily production is computed as follows:

$$A = \frac{Q}{D \times W}$$

On the basis of its average daily production during the measuring calendar year, therefore, property A does not qualify as a stripper well lease.

III. Multiple Completion Wells.—Where a property encompasses the right to produce crude oil from two or more producing formations or reservoirs, producers sometimes utilize a production technique involving "multiple completion wells." This technique, which makes use of an existing well that produces from one formation, involves drilling from the existing casing separate well-bores or elongating existing well-bores in order to reach other formations. By the installation of additional tubing strings, crude oil may in this manner be produced concurrently from two or more formations. A multiple completion well is to be distinguished from a "recompleted well", which involves the technique of drilling a separate well-bore from an existing casing in order to reach the same reservoir, or redrilling the same well-bore to reach a new reservoir after production from the original reservoir has been abandoned. While a multiple completion well involves the simultaneous production from two or more reservoirs, a recompleted well involves production from only one formation.

Thus, a multiple completion well is designed to accomplish the same task as two or more separate and distinct producing wells, although conserving initial capital outlay, it functions in many ways as two or more separate producing wells: Crude oil from each formation number of days for that well in which production was not significantly curtailed or otherwise disrupted (production days), divided by the number of days in the measuring calendar year. To illustrate:

Property A produced 14,000 barrels of crude oil, including condensates, from 4 wells during the measuring calendar year. Well 1 production from two of the wells was not significantly curtailed, production from one well was curtailed for 35 days, and from the other well for 55 days beyond the number of days normally attributed to mechanical failure and maintenance for those wells, and the production normally associated with those wells was not recouped when they resumed operations. In such a case of the calculation of the property's average daily production during the measuring calendar year must be adjusted to reflect the significantly curtailed production from two wells as follows:

One well is counted as:

RULES AND REGULATIONS

(a) The well consists of two (or more) separate tubing strings run inside the casing, each of which carries crude oil from a separate and distinct producing formation, and

(b) the production capabilities of each formation are unaffected by any change in the production level of any other formation producing through the same well.

This result is consistent with the congressional policy of increasing the incentive and economic feasibility of maintaining production of crude oil from stripper well leases through advanced production techniques.

IV. Enforcement.—The producer is responsible in the first instance for determining whether production from a particular property is eligible for the stripper well lease exemption; such determinations are and have been, of course, subject to FEA audit. All future determinations as to the exempt status of production from a particular property must take into account the guidelines set forth herein. FEA will afford appropriate consideration to determinations concerning down time for mechanical failure and maintenance that are made by producers, consistent with this ruling, but to the extent that questions are raised with respect to down time that go beyond the scope of the matters discussed in this ruling, producers should contact the FEA for a determination as to whether the 24 hour presumption, discussed in Part I, above, can be overcome.

EARLY PAYMENT PERCENTAGE DISCOUNTS

FACTS: On May 15, 1973, Firm A, a refiner, sold gasoline to Firm B and other members of the class of purchaser of which Firm B is a member at a weighted average price of 25 cents per gallon, payable within 30 days of delivery. A discount of 1 percent off the purchase price was extended by Firm A to all purchasers in Firm B's class of purchaser who paid for gasoline within a 10-day period following delivery; payment in full was due within 30 days of delivery.

In the current month, Firm A applies 15 cents per gallon of increased product costs, measured pursuant to the provisions of § 212.83, to determine a lawful selling price for gasoline in this month of 40 cents per gallon to Firm B's class of purchaser. Firm A wishes to change the terms of the early payment discount offered on May 15, 1973, from 1 percent of the purchase price to a fixed amount of 0.25 cents per gallon, or 1 percent of the May 15, 1973 price to the class of purchaser concerned.

ISSUE #1: May Firm A institute this change in the terms of the discount offered for early payment?

ISSUE #2: How should Firm A compute its recovery of increased product costs where sales are made to a class of purchaser which has an early payment percentage discount option?

ISSUE #3: How should Firm B compute its cost of product with respect to purchases made under an early payment percentage discount option?

RULING

ISSUE #1: Firm A may not change the terms of its early payment discount. On May 15, 1973, Firm A extended the credit option of paying for deliveries within a 10-day period and receiving a 1 percent discount off the purchase price to the members of the class of purchaser to which Firm B belongs, and that option must remain in effect.

Section 210.62(a) provides in part that:

Credit terms other than those associated with seasonal credit programs are included as a part of the May 15, 1973 price charged to a class of purchaser under Part 212 of this chapter. . . . [N]o supplier may require or impose more stringent credit terms or payment schedules on purchasers than those in effect for that class of purchaser during the base period (for seasonal credit), or on May 15, 1973 (for other credit terms).

On May 15, 1973, Firm A had a credit term in effect that provided for payment in full after 30 days and a discount of 1 percent off the purchase price when payment was made within ten days. The amount of the discount and, therefore, the value of the credit term, has always been a function of the total purchase price, with the value of the incentive for prompt payment of a greater or lesser total dollar amount depending upon the dollar amount of the purchase price. Pursuant to § 210.62(a) the credit term must therefore now remain in effect as it existed on May 15, 1973, and it must continue to be offered to all members of the class of purchaser to which it was offered on May 15, 1973. To discontinue the option or to change its terms as described above would be to impose more stringent credit terms than those in effect on May 15, 1973.

While the cost to Firm A of extending a percentage discount obviously increases in proportion to increases in the selling price of the product, the benefit to Firm A of receiving early payment also increases in proportion to increases in the selling price of the product.

Firm A's May 15, 1973 selling price for gasoline to the class of purchaser of which Firm B is a member was 25 cents per gallon. Firm A's current price to that class of purchaser is 40 cents per gallon. If a member of that class of purchaser pays for gasoline within ten days of delivery, Firm A must continue in effect its credit term of a 1 percent discount. This means that the per-gallon payment by Firm B made within 10 days of delivery is 40 cents, minus the early payment discount of 1 percent (0.4 cents), or a total of 39.6 cents.

ISSUE #2: Firm A should compute its recovery of increased product costs without regard to the amount discounted because of early payment. The amount of increased product costs added to the May 15 1973 price to Firm B's class of purchaser, 15 cents per gallon, is the amount which is recovered through sale of the product to Firm B, even though Firm B may exercise its option to make payment within 10 days and thereby receive a 1 percent discount off the purchase price.

The discount involved herein does not represent a decrease in the amount received for the product, but rather represents a cost to Firm A of the use of Firm B's money for the 20 or more additional days for which Firm B could otherwise retain the money, before payment in full, based on a stated price per gallon, would be due, 30 days after delivery. Thus, the price to Firm B is 40 cents per gallon with payment required within 30 days. As an inducement to Firm B to make early payment, Firm A has offered a financial incentive. However, this incentive is for the purpose of obtaining payment, and therefore use of the money, 20 days prior to the time it would otherwise be due.

Firm A, assuming that it is able to pass through all of its increased product costs in the form of increased prices, will have recovered all of its increased product costs whether or not Firm B takes advantage of the early payment discount option. The discount represents a cost of doing business for Firm A (i.e., the interest expense of obtaining the use of Firm B's money), and has no effect on the calculation of the recovery of increased product costs.

ISSUE #3: Firm B should compute the cost of product purchased based upon the price which it is required to pay 30 days after delivery, without regard to the discount for early payment, provided that the same method shall also be used for purposes of determining the May 15, 1973 cost of product.

In the same way that reduced revenues to Firm A which result from the discount extended to Firm B constitute an interest expense to Firm A, and do not affect Firm A's recovery of increased product costs, the reduced expenses of Firm B which result from the early payment discount do not affect Firm B's calculation of its product costs.

Thus, a price reduction resulting from actual payment made within 10 days represents a non-product financial benefit to Firm B (i.e., the interest received from Firm A for affording Firm A the use of money that could otherwise have been retained by Firm B.) The cost of product to Firm B is therefore 40 cents per gallon, the stated per gallon amount due under the regular payment schedule.

PROPERTY

Definition for Purposes of Computing Base Production Control Level

I. INTRODUCTION

Pursuant to Subpart D of the Mandatory Petroleum Price Regulations, sales of domestic crude oil are subject to the ceiling price rule of 10 CFR 212.73. However, as an incentive to producers to increase current production above 1972 levels, the price regulations permit the sale, without regard to the ceiling price, of the amount of new and released crude oil produced from a particular property in each month. In 10 CFR 212.72, the definitions of "new crude oil" and "released crude oil" provide, in relevant part:

"New crude oil" means, with respect to a specific property, the total number of barrels of domestic crude oil produced and sold in a specific month, less (1) the base production control level for that month, and less (2) the current cumulative deficiency in base production control level crude oil.

"Released crude oil" means that part of the base production control level crude oil for a property in a particular month which is equal to the total number of barrels of new crude oil produced and sold from that property in a specific month. The amount of released crude oil for a property in a particular month shall not exceed the amount of the base production control level crude oil for that property in that month.

Thus, calculations of new and released crude oil are determined by looking to the relationship between current monthly production and the base production control level ("BPCL") for that month, for each particular property. "Based production control level crude oil" is also defined in 10 CFR 212.72:

"Base production control level crude oil" for a particular month for a particular property means:

(1) If crude oil was produced and sold from that property in every month of 1972, the total number of barrels of domestic crude oil produced and sold from that property in the same month of 1972;

(2) If domestic crude oil was not produced and sold from that property in every month of 1972, the total number of barrels of domestic crude oil produced and sold from that property in 1972 divided by 12.

Therefore, the new and released provisions extend generally to those levels of current production in excess of 1972 production levels, and the price regulations establish the concept of "property" as a reference by which a producer is to compare current production levels against those of 1972 to determine the amount of increased production.

The definition of "property," for purposes of determining new and released crude oil, is found at 10 CFR 212.72:

"Property" is the right which arises from a lease or from a fee interest to produce domestic crude oil.

Property is also defined in the context of the stripper well lease exemption in 10 CFR 210.32 as:

the right that arises from a lease in existence in 1972 or from a fee interest to produce crude oil in existence in 1972 and is coextensive with the term "property" used in § 212.72 for purposes of determining "base production control level crude oil."

For purposes of the price regulations then, the property concept is one that identifies the right to produce crude oil, whether that right arises from a lease or from a fee interest. While the FEA recognizes that various state and other federal regulatory authorities may, for other purposes, have monitored production levels on other bases (e.g., by physical boundaries or by producing formations or reservoirs), it is necessary that the price regulations embody a uniform concept, the parameters of which can be readily applied to all domestic production, regardless of varying state classifications. For this reason, FEA regulations utilize, as a reference, a property concept, based upon the right to produce crude oil, that can be readily identified for all producers.

Accordingly, in applying the provisions of Subpart D regarding new and released crude oil, a producer must look to the limits of the right to produce crude oil in defining a particular property. Since the production of crude oil is anticipated to be an on-going operation, normally there will have been no changes in ownership or restructuring of the right to produce crude oil since before 1972. This ruling is addressed to those cases where, due to such a change or restructuring since 1972, an interpretation of the definition of "property" is required for proper application of the price rules in determining BPCL.

Because of the need to quantify the 1972 monthly production levels for a particular property in order to calculate that property's base production control level for each month, the producer must refer to the right to produce crude oil as it existed in 1972 in order to define the property involved. This is dictated, of course, by the need to compare like quantities, today and in 1972, in order to ensure a meaningful application of the new and released provisions. In the majority of cases, involving only one lease that remains unchanged since 1972, a producer will simply compare his current monthly production for the property (the lease in those cases) against the corresponding monthly production for the lease in 1972.

II. EXAMPLES

A. Pre-1972 Unitization.—A property that was unitized prior to 1972 requires the same treatment as a single property that has been unchanged since 1972. Often, where two or more leases have reached the declining stages of production, they are unitized (i.e., the operations of the several leases are combined, more efficiently to undertake enhanced recovery techniques.) Such techniques usually involve the conversion of some previously producing wells to injection wells and/or the shutting-in of other wells in a coordinated overall-production effort, and for this reason some leases are left after unitization with fewer producing wells within their geographical boundaries than before. Unitization sometimes results in one or more leases being left only with injection wells, or with no operating wells at all. Because this realignment of producing patterns, then, may result in the distorted actual production from any one lease comprising the unit, production from the unit is allocated to each lease based upon imputed production percentages. Accordingly, the agreement under which the several leases are unitized typically combines the several rights to produce crude oil that, prior to unitization, existed in the previous producers into a single right to produce crude oil now existing in the unit. Generally, therefore, since the unit agreement signifies one right to produce crude oil arising from several leases or fee interests, the unit defines the property.

Accordingly, for purposes of determining new and released crude oil, the current total monthly production from a unitized property must be compared with limits of the corresponding right (or rights) to produce crude oil that existed in 1972. Therefore, in cases of pre-1972 unitizations, the total current monthly production from the unit must be compared with the corresponding 1972 total monthly production from the unit. This will avoid the anomalies that are likely to result from attempting to compare current actual or imputed monthly production for each lease within the unit with actual or imputed monthly production for individual leases in 1972.

B. Post-1972 Unitization.—In the case of a property that was unitized after calendar year 1972, the need for comparison of like quantities requires the producer in computing the BPCL to measure and total the individual 1972 monthly production levels for each of the leases that now comprise the unit. Accordingly, for example, where a unit consists of several leases that were unitized in 1973, the property consists of the unit, and the BPCL is the total 1972 monthly production from all of the several leases that now comprise the unit. Under no circumstances, therefore, would a post-1972 unitization create a "new" property, i.e., one that has no BPCL.

Example 1: In 1973, seven leases were unitized. For each lease, the March 1972 production was as follows:

A—500 barrels
B—750 barrels
C—350 barrels
D—800 barrels
E—400 barrels
F—1000 barrels
G—200 barrels

Production from the unit in March 1975 was 4300 barrels. Totaling the March 1972 production levels of each lease yields a BPCL of 4000 barrels. Accordingly, since the March 1975 production from the unit exceeded the property's BPCL by 300 barrels, and assuming there is no current cumulative deficiency in BPCL for any of the leases or for the unit, 300 barrels of new and 300 barrels of released crude oil may be sold by the producer without regard to the ceiling price rule.

C. Unitization During 1972.—In those cases where a property was unitized during 1972, comparison of like quantities requires a two-stage computation of BPCL to be done with reference to 1972 production levels. For that portion of calendar year 1972 before unitization, the BPCL is equal to the total production from all of the several leases that now comprise the unit; for the remaining portion of calendar year 1972 after unitization, the BPCL is equal to the total production from the unit.

Example 2: Assume that the seven leases in Example 1 were unitized on April 1, 1972, and that the production figures shown in Example 1 represent the production levels for each lease in January, February, and March of that year. Thereafter the unit produced crude oil at the rate of 4000 barrels in April and May, at the rate of 4100 barrels in June, July and August, and at the rate of 4150 barrels in September, October, November and December.

For each of the months of January through March, the BPCL is 4000 barrels (i.e., the total production of all leases comprising the unit). For the months after April 1, the BPCL is equal to the total production of the unit, i.e., 4000 barrels in the months of April and May, 4100 barrels in the months of June, July, and August, and 4150 barrels in the months of September, October, November and December.

In sum, in determining the BPCL for a particular property, the producer must look to the property as it existed in 1972 in order to establish the appropriate production levels.

D. Post-1972 Subdivision.—Just as a post-1972 unitization does not establish a new property, neither does the subdivision after 1972 (through assignment, creation of new leases, or otherwise) of a single right to produce crude oil into several rights to produce crude oil establish a new property for purposes of measuring the BPCL and determining whether any new or released crude oil has been produced.

Example 3: A is a firm that produced crude oil from a 650 acre lease in 1972. The lease established in A a single right (assignable in whole or in part) to produce crude oil from the entire 650 acres. In 1974, A assigned 100 acres to B, who drilled for and began producing crude oil. During 1972, there were no producing wells on the 100 acres assigned from A to B.

The production from B's lease is not necessarily classified as new crude oil.

The fact that during 1972 there were no producing wells within the geographical boundaries of the lease now operated by B does not establish, per se, that all of B's production will qualify as new oil. Only when the total current production from the entire 650 acres is measured against the 1972 production from the comparable area can a determination be made as to the existence of new and released crude oil.

The result reached in Example 3 is consistent with the policy that underlies the two-tier pricing system. For if instead of assigning a portion of the original lease to B, A developed that portion of the lease himself, the production of new oil would occur only if production from the entire property exceeded 1972 levels for the entire 650 acres. That is, where A's property consisted of a single right to produce crude oil from a 650 acre lease, the drilling of a new well located upon a previously undeveloped portion of the lease would not automatically establish new crude oil. Under no circumstances does the mere drilling of a new well automatically establish the production as new crude oil. Production from a property qualifies as new crude oil only if in excess of the property's 1972 production levels and any current cumulative deficiency. The result in the example above is no different merely because A has assigned to B the right to produce crude oil from a portion of the lease. Obviously, neither would B's acquisition from A of the right to produce crude oil from the entire 650 acres establish a new property, resulting in the production of all new oil. Rather, the BPCL for B's property in that case would be equal to the 1972 production levels from the property described by A's right to produce crude oil in 1972. A's transfer of less than the entire property does not yield a different result.

E. Subdivision During 1972.—Cases where a property was subdivided during 1972 are governed by a rule similar to that described in Example 2 for unitization during 1972. The BPCL during the first portion of the year (i.e., before the subdivision) is equal to the monthly production in 1972 from the entire lease; during the second portion of the year (i.e., after the month in which the subdivision occurred), the BPCL is equal to the two leases.

Example 4: A is a firm that produced crude oil from a 650 acre lease since 1969. In the first portion of 1972, the property's production levels were as follows:

January—400 barrels
February—450 barrels
March—450 barrels
April—500 barrels

On May 1, A transferred 250 acres to B. During 1972, there were no producing wells on the 250 acres transferred from A to B. The corresponding production levels for the balance of 1972 were as follows:

	Lease A (barrels)	Lease B (barrels)
May.....	500	0
June.....	400	50
July.....	450	100
August.....	500	150
September.....	500	200
October.....	550	200
November.....	500	200
December.....	450	200

Accordingly, for the months from January through April, the BPCL is equal to the production from the entire 650 acres (A's lease), i.e., 400 barrels for the month of January, 450 barrels for the months of February and March, and 500 barrels for the month of April. For the months of May through December, the BPCL is still equal to the total production from the entire 650 acres (now A's lease plus B's lease), i.e., 500 barrels for the month of May, 450 barrels for the month of June, 550 barrels for the month of July, 650 barrels for the month of August, 700 barrels for the month of September, 700 barrels for the month of October, and 650 barrels for the month of December.

For any current month, the production from A's lease plus the production from B's lease must exceed the BPCL and any cumulative deficiency before any crude oil may be sold without regard to the ceiling price rule.

In cases where a property has been subdivided during or since 1972, the current producers must show that the accumulated total current production from the present leases is in excess of the 1972 production levels for the property as it existed in 1972 plus any current cumulative deficiency in order to establish new and released crude oil. Where the producers have determined that based upon the proper application of the new and released provisions as interpreted in this Ruling, a specific amount of current production qualifies as new and released, they may allocate such new and released crude oil among themselves in whatever proportions they may agree upon. If they are unable to agree, they may petition the FEA pursuant to Subpart G of Part 205 for a resolution.

F. Production From More Than One Reservoir on a Single Property.—Because the property concept is based upon the right to produce crude oil, whether arising from a lease or from a fee interest, the existence of two or more separate and distinct reservoirs will not in itself create two or more separate "properties". Therefore, for purposes of determining BPCL, where a producer holds a single right to produce crude oil from two or more reservoirs, together the two or more reservoirs constitute a single property; where there are separate and distinct rights to produce crude oil from each reservoir, each reservoir accordingly represents a different property.

Example 5: O is the fee owner of a 650 acre parcel of land. In 1969, O executes a lease granting A the exclusive right to produce crude oil from the entire 650 acres. In 1972, A was producing crude oil from a reservoir at the level of 2,000 feet. A reservoir at the level of 3,000 feet had not at that time ever produced crude oil. In 1975, A drills a well and begins to produce crude oil from a separate reservoir at the level of 3,000 feet. Since A holds the right to produce crude oil from all levels, the property consists of the entire 650 acres including both reservoirs. Production does not qualify as new unless the total amount of monthly production from both reservoirs is in excess of 1972 levels and any current cumulative deficiency from the entire 650 acres.

RESELLERS, RESELLER-RETAILERS AND RETAILERS

Prices Charged to Reflect Non-Product Cost Increases

FACTS: Firm I, a reseller of residual fuel oil, sold in retail sales 50,000,000 gallons of residual fuel oil during the period April 1, 1974, through March 31, 1975. During that time period, Firm I's non-product costs attributable to its retail sales of residual fuel oil averaged 1.25 cents per gallon, which represented an increase in the level of non-product costs incurred by Firm I in connection with its retail sales of residual fuel oil of .25 cents per gallon since May 15, 1973. In its retail sales of residual fuel oil since April, 1974, segments of the petroleum industry concerned on May 15, 1973:

increases but be unable to increase prices gallon to 12.8 cents per gallon, the price costs before the additional price in-sales of residual fuel oil since April, 1974. Firm I has charged prices reflecting first, the amount permitted to be charged pursuant to § 212.93(a), which provides that:

(a) A seller may not charge a price for any item subject to this subpart which exceeds the weighted average price at which the item was lawfully priced by the seller in transactions with the class of purchaser concerned on May 15, 1973, plus an amount which reflects on a dollar-for-dollar basis, increased costs of the item.

and, second, an additional .75 cents per gallon. Firm A seeks to justify the charging of an additional .75 cents per gallon under the terms of § 212.93(b), which provides in relevant part:

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section:

(3) With respect to residual fuel oil beginning with April 1974: in retail sales, a seller may charge three-fourths cent per gallon in excess of the amount otherwise permitted to be charged for that item pursuant to the provisions of this section, to reflect non-product cost increases which the seller incurred after May 15, 1973. . . .

ISSUE: May increased prices be charged pursuant to § 212.93(b) that exceed the amount of non-product cost increases incurred by the seller after May 15, 1973?

RULING: Resellers, reseller-retailers, and retailers cannot charge increased prices pursuant to § 212.93(b) except to the extent that such prices actually "reflect non-product cost increases which the seller incurred after May 15, 1973."

Thus, in the case of Firm I, the prices charged in the one year period beginning April 1, 1974, resulted in overcharges by that firm of 0.5 cents per gallon.

Although the language of § 212.93(b) clearly sets forth the requirement that sellers must have incurred non-product cost increases to avail themselves of the various price increases permitted in sales of certain products by that section, the FEA has not provided any regulations governing the method by which such increased non-product costs are to be computed. This is because the various entities subject to the price rules of Subpart F (Resellers and Retailers) are so numerous and so diverse as to make such an effort impracticable. Accordingly, the FEA will generally permit such firms to establish their non-product cost increases attributable to their reseller or retailer operations based upon their customary accounting procedures generally accepted and historically and consistently applied by the firm concerned.

The FEA is also aware that many of the hundreds of thousands of small retail firms subject to Subpart F do not have elaborate accounting procedures capable of yielding precise non-product cost figures, and the increments permitted to be added to selling prices to reflect increased non-product costs pursuant to § 212.93(b) were adopted by FEA with a view toward approximating the average actual non-product cost increases being experienced by the various segments of the petroleum industry concerned. For the most part, the FEA believes, based on information submitted in various rulemaking proceedings that have been held to consider revising § 212.93(b), that the maximum non-product cost increments set forth in § 212.93(b) generally are representative of the relevant overall non-product cost increases that have been experienced in the industry. Moreover, for products that are in abundant supply, such as gasoline, the forces of competition tend to restrict prices charged to levels that represent the recoupment of actual product and non-product costs, plus the historical margin of profit needed to sustain the business.

Accordingly, the FEA does not anticipate that this ruling will have any widespread effects with respect to the majority of firms subject to Subpart F, even if they might erroneously have regarded the price increments specified by § 212.93(b) as not having to be justified by actual non-product cost increases, since most firms have in fact incurred non-product cost increases equal to, if not more than, those specified in § 212.93(b).

However, in those instance where a firm's increased non-product costs have been substantially less on a per-unit basis than the amount of the per-unit price increases allowable to reflect increased non-product costs pursuant to § 212.93(b), FEA will, as stated above, treat as overcharges any prices ostensibly charged pursuant to § 212.93(b) that do not, in fact, reflect actual increased non-product costs. Based on the information available to FEA at this time, the most likely instances in which non-product costs actually incurred may not have been equal to or greater than the amounts set forth in § 212.93(b) are with respect to very large resellers, whose sales volumes result in relatively small per unit non-product costs, compared with the per unit non-product costs of smaller firms.

RESELLERS, RESELLER-RETAILERS, AND RETAILERS

Carry-Forward of the Amount by Which Prices Charged Are Less Than the Price Increases Permitted To Reflect Increased Non-Product Costs

FACTS: Firm X, a retailer of gasoline, computed its maximum lawful price for gasoline on June 1, 1975, following a delivery of gasoline on that date, which resulted in a new, higher weighted average unit cost of gasoline in inventory, pursuant to 10 CFR 212.93 as follows:

(1) The weighted average price at which gasoline was lawfully priced by the seller in transactions with the class of purchaser concerned on May 15, 1973: 37.2 cents per gallon; plus

(2) Increased costs (as defined in § 212.92, based on a weighted average unit cost of product in inventory on May 15, 1973, of 30.2 cents per gallon, and a current weighted average unit cost of product in inventory of 42.5 cents per gallon): 12.3 cents per gallon; plus

(3) The amount permitted to be charged pursuant to § 212.93(b) to reflect non-product cost increases which the seller incurred after May 15, 1973: 3.0 cents per gallon; for a total of 52.5 cents per gallon.

Based on this computation, Firm X on June 1, increases its selling price for gasoline to 51.5 cents per gallon.

On June 15, 1975, Firm X receives a delivery of gasoline at 43.5 cents per gallon, and, as a result the weighted average unit cost of gasoline in inventory of Firm X is increased to 43.0 cents per gallon. Since Firm X has already increased its price once in June, to reflect increased costs, it may not again increase its prices until July.

ISSUE: What portion, if any, of the amount by which Firm X's price is less than the maximum lawful price can Firm X carry forward from June, for recovery in prices charged in a subsequent month?

RULING: Pursuant to § 212.93(e), Firm X is permitted to carry forward unrecovered "increased costs," as defined in § 212.92 (i.e., unrecovered increased product costs), for recovery in a subsequent month. The regulations do not include a corresponding provision for the carry forward of amounts by which prices charged do not take full advantage of the authorization in § 212.93(b) to charge prices in excess of those otherwise permitted, to reflect increased non-product costs. Section 212.93(b) therefore simply affords a seller a continuing opportunity to recover increased non-product costs up to a specified price increment per unit of sales, but does not entail any authority to carry forward for use in determining prices in subsequent months the amount by which prices charged are less than the price increment permitted by that section.

In order to implement this distinction in treatment between increased product costs and price increments to reflect increased non-product costs, prices are regarded as being constituted of three elements, in the sequence in which those elements are set forth in the regulations: i.e., first, the May 15, 1973 price; second, the increased product cost; and, third, increased non-product costs. Accordingly, as a general rule, only where a price charged is less than the price based on the first two elements (May 15, 1973 price plus increased product costs), and exclusive of any price increase pursuant to § 212.93(b), which affords the opportunity to pass through increased non-product costs, will there be any unrecovered increased product costs available for carry forward under § 212.93(e).

An exception to this general rule is afforded, however, in recognition of the fact that sellers may incur product cost increases but be unable to increase prices because of previous price adjustments in that month, or may otherwise not find it practicable to adjust prices each time they receive a delivery of product which results in a change in their weighted average unit cost of product in inventory. In such cases, a seller will be permitted to treat the prices charged during the entire period between its price adjustment as including the same increment of non-product cost recovery as was included when that price was initially adjusted.

Thus, in the case of Firm X, its price on June 1, 1975 represented a May 15, 1973 price of 37.2 cents per gallon, increased product costs of 12.3 cents per gallon, and increased non-product costs of 2 cents per gallon. Then, when the amount of its increased product costs changed on June 15, from 12.3 cents per gallon to 12.8 cents per gallon, the price charged continued to represent a 2 cent per gallon recovery of increased non-product costs. Thus, notwithstanding the fact that Firm X, beginning June 15, had increased product costs of 12.8 cents per gallon, the 51.5 cent price being charged continues to represent a May 15, 1973 price of 37.2 cents, increased product costs of 12.3 cents, and increased non-product costs of 2 cents. The 0.5 cent per gallon increase in product costs that is not recovered in sales beginning on June 15 and continuing until Firm X makes its next price adjustment may therefore be carried forward pursuant to § 212.93(e) for recovery in a subsequent month. However, when Firm X computes its maximum prices for purposes of its next price adjustment, the price that is established will again be deemed to include all available increased product costs before the additional price increases permitted pursuant to § 212.93(b) to reflect increased non-product costs will be deemed to have been charged.

This ruling only addresses the maximum level to which prices may be increased pursuant to § 212.93(b) "to reflect" increased non-product costs. Questions relating to the extent to which actual non-product cost increases must be incurred to take advantage of § 212.93(b) price increases are discussed in Ruling 1975-14. It should be noted in that regard, however, that there is no requirement that increased non-product costs be passed through pursuant to § 212.93(b) in the same month they are incurred.

FILBERTS GROWN IN OREGON AND WASHINGTON

Decision on Proposed Further Amendment of the Marketing Agreement and Order

A public hearing was held upon proposed further amendment of the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 982, as amended (7 CFR Part 982), (hereinafter referred to collectively as the "order") regulating the handling of filberts grown in Oregon and Washington. The hearing was held, pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice (7 CFR Part 900), at Portland, Oregon, on April 29, 1975, pursuant to notice thereof issued on April 15, 1975.

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, the Acting Administrator, on July 15, 1975, filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision containing notice of the opportunity to file written exceptions thereto. No exceptions were filed.

The material issues, findings and conclusions, rulings, and general findings of the recommended decisions are hereby approved and adopted and are set forth in full herein.

Material issues. The material issues of record are as follows:

- (1) Provide for a "marketing policy year" for purposes of volume regulation under the order;
- (2) Change references to "fiscal year" in the order to "marketing policy year" where applicable;
- (3) Provide flexibility in estimating mending inshell carryover when recommending merchantable production and in recommending marketing policy;
- (4) Provide for establishment of a preliminary free percentage early in the marketing policy year;
- (5) Provide for establishment of free and restricted percentages on a "marketing policy year" basis and that such percentages established in one year remain in effect until percentages for the subsequent year are established;
- (6) Require shelled filberts which are to be credited in satisfaction of a restricted obligation to be inspected and certified by the Federal-State inspection service;
- (7) Permit handlers to withhold shelled filberts to satisfy restricted obligations, and require that any filberts to be so withheld be inspected and certified as meeting the requirements of Oregon No. 1 grade for shelled filberts;

(8) Provide for an equivalent weight basis for shelled filberts to be credited in satisfaction of a restricted obligation;

(9) Change the latest date to which handlers may temporarily defer under bond, the withholding of filberts in satisfaction of restricted obligations;

(10) Require handlers to report their inventory of inshell and shelled filberts as of the first day of the marketing policy year; and

(11) Make such changes in the order as may be necessary to bring the entire order, as amended, into conformity with the amendatory action resulting from the hearing.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the material issues are based on the record of the hearing:

(1) Section 982.17 of the marketing agreement and order (hereinafter, in this text of the findings and conclusions, collectively referred to as the "order") should be amended to provide for a marketing policy year. That section currently defines the term "fiscal year" to mean the 12 months from August 1 to the following July 31, both inclusive. The operation and administration of the marketing order is geared to this period. However, this period does not correspond closely with the actual production and marketing cycle of filberts. Delivery to handlers of new crop filberts normally begins about October 1. The heavy shipment of new crop filberts by handlers begins as soon as these nuts can be processed and packaged.

Establishment of a marketing policy year corresponding with filbert production and marketing would enable the Filbert Control Board (hereinafter, in this text of the findings and conclusions, referred to as the "Board") to make its marketing policy estimates and recommendations as close to the actual production and marketing cycle as is practicable.

Currently, annual volume regulation is established for a fiscal year and is based upon data kept on a fiscal year basis. Thus, annual marketing decisions which usually are made by the Board in mid-September do not ordinarily take into account any changes that may have occurred since the end of the previous fiscal year. If the marketing policy year were set from new crop to new crop, it would not be necessary to estimate requirements from August 1 to July 31 and then estimate additional requirements from August 1 to October 1 of the following year. In other words, the proposal would enable the Board to recommend a one-year supply to fill a one-year demand.

The proposed marketing policy year would be used only for purposes of volume regulation. The Board would continue to maintain statistical data, administrative activities, and the financial operation of the order on a fiscal year basis.

At the hearing, there was some uncertainty on the part of the proponents as to the exact dates which should be established for the proposed marketing policy year. Some handlers customarily ship carryover inshell filberts into export outlets, or shell the carryover, in August and September, to accumulate restricted credits. These credits are then applied to the restricted obligations incurred when these handlers begin to ship merchantable filberts (of the new crop) to the domestic market in October. The proponents testified that further review of this matter should be made by the Board before establishing a marketing policy year that would cover a period of time different from the fiscal year. Furthermore, the marketing policy year should not be changed indiscriminately, but only when experience proves that there should be an adjustment, or when it becomes obvious that the established dates are not functional from the standpoint of industry operational practices. Therefore, the dates of the present fiscal year (i.e., August 1 through July 31) should be used for the marketing policy year and authority be included in § 982.17 to change that year to such other period of time as may be recommended by the Board and established by the Secretary through rulemaking.

(2) Material issue (1), as proposed, regarding establishment of a marketing policy year for purposes of volume regulation, would necessitate conforming changes in other sections of the order. Accordingly, all references to "fiscal year" should be changed to "marketing policy year" in §§ 982.16; 982.50 (c) and (d); 982.52 (a) and (d); 982.54 (a), (c), and (e); 982.71; and 982.86(b)(3). It would also be necessary to change references to "fiscal year" to "marketing policy year" in certain other provisions. These changes will be recommended in the discussion of the particular material issue of this recommended decision wherever applicable.

(3) Section 982.40 of the order contains the estimates and recommendations which must be made by the Board in recommending its annual marketing policy to the Secretary. Among these are: An estimate of merchantable production; and a recommendation for handler carryover of inshell filberts at the end of a year.

The estimate of merchantable production of filberts made by the Board at its marketing policy meeting is based upon an estimate of field-run filbert production by the Statistical Reporting Service, USDA. The first SRS estimate of this production is released early in September. From this estimate, the Board deducts a quantity of filberts for small sizes, culls and blows, and farm and miscellaneous use, to arrive at its estimate of merchantable production. Whenever volume regulations are made effective for a year, a quantity of inshell filberts is made available for the domestic market by means of a free percentage to meet the estimated inshell trade demand. The volume regulation also includes a restricted percentage, which prescribes the portion that must be withheld from handling as inshell filberts. Restricted filberts may be disposed of by handlers as inshell filberts into the export market, or as shelled filberts into either the domestic or export market. These percentages are recommended by the Board and established by the Secretary. The free and restricted percentages should be established as early in the year as is practicable so that handlers will be aware of their restricted obligations and can plan their operations accordingly. When a handler makes a shipment of inshell filberts into the domestic market, he is required by the order to withhold a specific quantity of filberts as restricted filberts.

tion; and a recommendation for handler carryover of inshell filberts at the end of a year.

The estimate of merchantable production of filberts made by the Board at its marketing policy meeting is based upon an estimate of field-run filbert production by the Statistical Reporting Service, USDA. The first SRS estimate of this production is released early in September. From this estimate, the Board deducts a quantity of filberts for small sizes, culls and blows, and farm and miscellaneous use, to arrive at its estimate of merchantable production. Whenever volume regulations are made effective for a year, a quantity of inshell filberts is made available for the domestic market by means of a free percentage to meet the estimated inshell trade demand. The volume regulation also includes a restricted percentage, which prescribes the portion that must be withheld from handling as inshell filberts. Restricted filberts may be disposed of by handlers as inshell filberts into the export market, or as shelled filberts into either the domestic or export market. These percentages are recommended by the Board and established by the Secretary. The free and restricted percentages should be established as early in the year as is practicable so that handlers will be aware of their restricted obligations and can plan their operations accordingly. When a handler makes a shipment of inshell filberts into the domestic market, he is required by the order to withhold a specific quantity of filberts as restricted filberts.

It was proposed in the notice of hearing that the first sentence of § 982.40(a) be amended to read, "Each marketing policy year, prior to the time the new crop filberts are available for handling, the Board shall hold a meeting for the purpose of recommending to the Secretary a marketing policy for that year." (The proposal would require a Board meeting after the beginning of a marketing policy year to make marketing policy recommendations for that year. This could cause difficulty for the industry if the marketing policy year begins October 1, especially when coupled with an early crop or development of new varieties of filberts which may be harvested earlier than current varieties. Furthermore, since the first estimate of production upon which marketing policy is based is released in September and new crop filberts are ordinarily available early in October, the Board generally has held its marketing policy meeting in September, and there is no indication that the Board will change its practice in the future. Therefore, the first sentence of § 982.40(a) should be amended to read, "For each marketing policy year, the Board shall hold a meeting for the purpose of recommending to the Secretary a marketing policy for that year."

In some years, the production estimate used by the Board in estimating merchantable production of filberts has been less than actual production. Once the free and restricted percentages are established, the free percentage cannot be lowered. Thus, if the free percentage is established on the basis of a production estimate released in September and the production estimate is subsequently increased, an over-supply of inshell filberts is made available for the domestic market. To correct this problem, § 982.40(a)(1)(i) should be amended to provide that the Board may include in its estimate of the quantity of merchantable filberts to be produced during a marketing policy year an adjustment to protect against any error in estimation of that production. The order should not prescribe an exact amount which should be used for the adjustment. The Board should take into consideration the amount of any errors in production estimates in previous years. The adjustment should be reasonable and should not be such as might materially short the supply of inshell filberts to be made available for the domestic market early in the year. When the estimate of production is released in November, the Board should meet to determine if any change in the free percentages is necessary.

In the notice of hearing it was proposed that provision to permit the Board to include an adjustment to protect against any error in estimation of production should be included in § 982.40(a)(1)(v). However, at the hearing, the proponents testified that this provision should be contained in § 982.40(a)(1)(i) because this subdivision deals with the Board's estimate of merchantable production and any adjustment would be made in this estimate. Subdivision (v) of § 982.40(a)(1) deals with the Board's recommended free and restricted percentages for a marketing policy year. Therefore, it is more appropriate that this provision for adjustment be included in § 982.40(a)(1)(i).

The Board should not be required to include an adjustment for any error in estimation of production, but rather should be permitted to use such an adjustment if it deems this necessary.

Section 982.40(a)(1)(iii) of the order provides for a Board recommendation for handler carryover of inshell filberts at the end of a year which may be available for handling as inshell filberts in the subsequent year. The purpose of this provision is to make available inshell filberts for shipment after July 31 of a year before new crop filberts become available (early October). In practice, the industry views this as requiring the Board to recommend a specific quantity as carryover, and the Board has acted accordingly. That is, the industry does not interpret this provision as permitting the Board to recommend a "zero" carryover. However, there is no requirement that handlers actually carry over the recommended quantity of inshell filberts. In fact, marketing conditions determine the size of any carryover. Thus, the recommended carryover at the end of a year merely makes a quantity of inshell filberts available to the domestic market which is in excess of the quantity needed for shipment as inshell filberts during the year. In many instances, this recommended carryover has been exported or shelled, and thus was not available as inshell filberts for the domestic market in the succeeding year. The marketing policy year discussed in material issue (1) of this recommended decision, when fully implemented, could result in the Board's recommendations on marketing policy being based upon a time period that more closely coincides with production and marketing cycles. Such a time period as a basis for marketing policy recommendations lessens the need for any carryover.

It is possible that circumstances, trade conditions, or industry practices may change in the future and make it advisable for the Board to again include in its marketing policy a recommendation for inshell handler carryover. Therefore, § 982.40(a)(1)(iii) should make it clear that the Board is permitted, not required, to recommend a carryover of inshell filberts in its marketing policy determinations.

Material issue (1) of this recommended decision recommends establishment of a marketing policy year for purposes of volume regulation. Section 982.40 sets forth the Board estimates and recommendations upon which volume regulation is based. Therefore, all references in § 982.40 to "fiscal year" should be changed to "marketing policy year", with the following exception: Paragraph (b) of this section currently provides for revisions of marketing policy. Such revisions may be recommended by the Board, or by handlers who handled at least 10 percent of all filberts in the preceding fiscal year. The reference to "fiscal year" must be retained in this paragraph. The reason is that the first year the marketing policy year is used, there will be no preceding marketing policy year. If a reference to fiscal year is not retained, handlers would be precluded from recommending revisions in marketing policy during the first marketing policy year.

(4) Proposal No. 4 contained in the notice of hearing would have amended § 982.40 of the order to provide for establishment of a preliminary free percentage (early in the marketing policy year) which would release 90 percent of the estimated trade demand for inshell filberts. Then, no later than November 15, the Board would have been required to recommend a free percentage which would tend to release a quantity equal to the estimated trade demand for inshell filberts for that year.

This proposal was abandoned by the proponents and no testimony in support of it was presented at the hearing.

(5) Section 982.41 contains authority for establishment of free and restricted percentages. The proposed amendment of this section is primarily to bring it into conformity with proposed §§ 982.17 and 982.40 by changing references to "fiscal year" to "marketing policy year". In addition, some minor changes should be made in § 982.41 for clarity and to delete repetition. In the notice of hearing, it was proposed that the ratio to be considered by the Secretary when establishing free and restricted percentages be changed by deleting reference to "the inshell handler carryover at the end of the year" in the second sentence of § 982.41. The recommended amendment of § 982.40(a) (1) (iii) included in the discussion of material issue (3) of this recommended decision would permit the Board to recommend or not recommend a handler carryover of inshell filberts at the end of a marketing policy year. To conform with the recommended amendment of § 982.40(a) (1) (iii), the reference to "the inshell handler carryover at the end of a year" should be retained in the second sentence of § 982.41, with the addition of a modifying phrase "when applicable" inserted after the first "and". Thus, the reference to inshell carryover should read, "and, when applicable, the inshell handler carryover at the end of the year."

In the notice of hearing, it was also proposed that the last sentence of § 982.41 be deleted. That sentence reads, "Until free and restricted percentages are established by the Secretary for a fiscal year, the percentages in effect at the end of the previous year shall be applicable". At the hearing, the proponents testified that this sentence should not be deleted. Shipments of merchantable filberts into the domestic market may be made by handlers after the beginning of a marketing policy year but prior to the time the free and restricted percentages for the new year are established. In order for handlers to make their plans for early season shipments, they should have to meet a definite withholding obligation. Thus, the last sentence of § 982.41, which provides that until free and restricted percentages for a year are established, the percentages in effect at the end of the previous year shall be applicable, should be retained.

(6) Section 982.46(a) should be amended to provide that shelled filberts which are to be credited in satisfaction of a restricted obligation shall be inspected and certified by the Federal-State Inspection Service. This arises from the recommended amendment of § 982.50 which is discussed in material issue (7) of this recommended decision. The recommended amendment of § 982.50 will provide that shelled filberts may be credited in satisfaction of a handler's restricted obligation, and it is therefore appropriate that these shelled filberts should be inspected and certified and the quality be comparable to that of merchantable filberts. The proponent testimony indicates that the services of the Federal-State Inspection Service should be utilized for this inspection and certification since this agency is currently providing inspection service under the order and there should be no problem in providing this additional service.

(7) Section 982.50(a) should be amended to permit handlers to withhold shelled filberts (in lieu of inshell filberts) to satisfy restricted obligations. Under the current marketing order provisions, when a handler ships a quantity of merchantable filberts (i.e., inshell filberts that meet grade and size regulations under the order) into the domestic market, he incurs an obligation to withhold a specified quantity (weight) of merchantable filberts. This obligation may be satisfied by withholding from handling a specified quantity of merchantable filberts, or in lieu of merchantable filberts, by withholding from handling an equivalent quantity of creditable ungraded inshell filberts. The domestic demand for inshell filberts is highly seasonal, and is the greatest during the fall and winter holiday season. Therefore, the largest quantities of inshell filberts are shipped during the last quarter of the calendar year. Under the current order, the handler must withhold the largest quantity of inshell filberts during that part of the year in which he has the greatest need for availability of inshell nuts. At the same time handlers are making shipments of inshell filberts, many of them are active in the shelled filbert market, thereby making it desirable and necessary for them to have quantities of shelled filberts in inventory.

Permitting handlers to satisfy their restricted obligations by setting aside shelled filberts in lieu of merchantable filberts would afford handlers the maximum flexibility in responding to their individual needs for both inshell and shelled filberts.

Since merchantable filberts withheld by handlers must be inspected and certified as meeting the requirements of Oregon No. 1 grade and medium size (as defined in the Oregon Grade Standards Filberts In Shell), any shelled filberts for which a handler wishes to receive credit in satisfaction of his restricted obligation should meet some grade requirement. The evidence of record is that a satisfactory requirement for these shelled filberts would be a requirement that they be inspected and certified as meeting the standard in effect for Oregon No. 1 grade for shelled filberts (as contained in Oregon Grade Standards for Filbert (Hazel-nut) Kernels) or such other standards as may be recommended by the Board and established by the Secretary. However, this requirement should not be considered as the minimum standard for shelled filberts authorized in § 982.45(a) of the order.

At present, filberts withheld from handling as inshell filberts may be disposed of by handlers by: Shelling the filberts exporting them (inshell or shelled); or disposing of them in outlets which the Board determines are noncompetitive with normal market outlets for inshell filberts. Most filberts which are withheld in satisfaction of restricted obligations are ultimately shelled and sold as filbert kernels. Thus, permitting handlers to withhold shelled filberts affords them maximum flexibility in their operations.

A revision in wording of § 982.50(a) from that contained in the notice of hearing is included in the recommended amendment of that section. This would require any handler who intends to withhold shelled filberts in order to satisfy a restricted obligation to declare this intention to the Board before the filberts are shelled. The reason for this revision is to make it clear that a handler could not tender a quantity of certified merchantable filberts, or a quantity of creditable ungraded inshell filberts, to satisfy a withholding obligation, and then at a later time, shell these nuts and tender the kernels obtained from that lot to again satisfy withholding obligations, thus obtaining a double withholding credit from the same filberts.

(8) Section 982.51 of the order should be amended to provide that the Board may recommend, and the Secretary establish, any terms and conditions applicable to the withholding, in lieu of merchantable filberts, by handlers, of shelled filberts in satisfaction of restricted obligations. Section 982.51 should also contain a conversion factor for determining the inshell equivalent of shelled filberts and the authority to change such factor. This amendment is needed to implement the amendment discussed in material issue (7) of this recommended decision.

It is difficult to foresee every requirement which may need to be established and included in the administrative rules and regulations to control the withholding of shelled filberts, in lieu of merchantable filberts, to satisfy restricted obligations. The Board may need to prescribe: A time period during which handlers would be permitted to use this authority; adequate identification procedures; requirements governing transfer of restricted credits derived from shelled filberts; and maintenance of lot identification.

Section 982.51 should also be amended to establish a weight ratio, or equivalent weight basis, upon which shelled filberts may be withheld, in lieu of merchantable filberts, in satisfaction of restricted obligations. Proponent testimony indicated that it takes approximately 2½ pounds of inshell filberts to yield 1 pound of filbert kernels, or in other words, multiplying the weight of a quantity of filbert kernels by 250 percent results in approximately the equivalent of that quantity as inshell nuts. This ratio is generally supported by industry experience, although some small variances may occur from one season to the next and from one lot to another. It is possible that this ratio may change in the future because of such things as: New filbert varieties; improved cultural practices; or improved processing techniques. Therefore, the order should provide that the equivalent weight basis may be changed upon recommendation of the Board with the approval of the Secretary.

(9) Section 982.54(a) should be amended to change the latest date to which handlers may defer, under bond, withholding of filberts in satisfaction of a restricted obligation. Currently, the latest date permitted is January 31. This date should be changed to April 30.

In years when a large crop of filberts is produced, handlers generally have large quantities of field-run filberts, which they intend to process, in storage containers on their premises in January. With January 31 as the latest date to which handlers may defer withholding, handlers must either process these filberts and have them inspected and certified as merchantable filberts, or have the creditable weight of the ungraded inshell filberts determined by the Federal-State Inspection Service, in order to meet their restricted obligations after that date.

The evidence of record is that the January 31 deadline date is impracticable because it requires handlers to speed up processing and inspecting which ordinarily would be completed by April 30. The proponents testified that the latest date for deferment should be extended to April 30. Except in unusual circumstances, most filbert handlers tend to complete their processing and shipping operations for the year shortly before April 30. Extending the deferment date to April 30 would be consistent with the intent of the bonding provision which is to give handlers flexibility in their operations with respect to shipping merchantable filberts. Therefore, § 982.54(a) should be amended to provide this later date.

The notice of hearing with respect to the proposed amendment of § 982.54(a) included only the change in the date of bonding from January 31 to April 30. However, at the hearing, the proponents offered testimony to support revising paragraph (c) of § 982.54 to provide that the bonding rate established for a marketing policy year should remain in effect until a rate is established for the subsequent marketing policy year.

Section 982.54(c) of the order does not provide that the bonding rates for the preceding year should continue in effect until the new rates are fixed. Therefore, a sentence should be added to § 982.54(c) reading, "Until bonding rates for a marketing policy year are fixed, the rates in effect for the preceding marketing policy year shall continue in effect and when such new rates are fixed, necessary adjustments should be made".

(10) Section 982.65 should be amended to require each handler to report to the Board, within 10 days following the end of a marketing policy year, his inventory of inshell and shelled filberts as of the first day of the new marketing policy year.

The need for this amendment is created by the establishment of the marketing policy year as discussed in material issue (1) of this recommended decision.

The purpose of this amendment is to enable the Board to collect and assemble information on the amount of filberts which handlers have in inventory at the beginning of a marketing policy year. This information is needed, in conjunction with other data, by the Board in order to make the necessary estimates and recommendations for the annual marketing policy required under § 982.40 of the order.

Currently, § 982.65 requires handlers to report their inventory of inshell filberts and shelled filberts as of January 1 and August 1. Thus, two inventory reports per year are required. Establishment of a marketing policy year which is a different period of time from the fiscal year (August 1-July 31) contained in current § 982.17 would require a third inventory report. It is not intended that establishment of a marketing policy year which is identical to the present fiscal year would require a third inventory report.

(11) Some of the amendatory actions included in this recommended decision cause the need to make certain conforming changes so that the order, as amended, will be in conformity with those actions. Any such changes are discussed with the issues to which they are pertinent. All such changes should be incorporated in the recommended amendment of the order.

Rulings on briefs of interested persons. At the conclusion of the hearing, the Administrative Law Judge fixed May 28, 1975, as the final date for interested persons to file proposed findings and conclusions, and written arguments or briefs, based upon the evidence received at the hearing. No briefs were filed.

General findings. Upon the basis of the record, it is found that:

(1) The findings hereinafter set forth are supplementary, and in addition, to the previous findings and determinations which were made in connection with the issuance of the marketing agreement and order and each previously issued amendment thereto. Except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein, all of said prior findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed. (For prior findings and determinations see 14 FR 5964; 19 FR 1163; 24 FR 6185; 37 FR 588).

(2) The marketing agreement and order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(3) The marketing agreement and order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, regulate the handling of filberts grown in the production area in the same manner as, and are applicable only to persons in the respective classes of commercial and industrial activity specified in, the marketing agreement and order upon which hearings have been held;

(4) The marketing agreement and order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are limited in their application to the smallest regional production area which is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act, and the issuance of several orders applicable to subdivisions of the production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act;

(5) There are no differences in the production and marketing of filberts grown in the production area which make necessary different terms and provisions applicable to different parts of such area; and

(6) All handling of filberts grown in the production area as defined in the marketing agreement and order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce.

Marketing agreement and order. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled, respectively, "Marketing Agreement, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Filberts Grown in Oregon and Washington", and "Order Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Filberts Grown in Oregon and Washington", which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions.

It is hereby ordered. That this entire decision, except the annexed marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of the marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order as hereby proposed to be amended by the annexed order which is published with this decision.

Referendum order. It is hereby directed that a referendum be conducted in accordance with the procedure for the conduct of referenda (7 CFR 900.400 et seq.), to determine whether the issuance of the annexed order as amended and as hereby proposed to be amended, regulating the handling of filberts grown in Oregon and Washington, is approved or favored by producers, as defined under the terms of the order (as amended and as hereby proposed to be amended), who during the representative period were engaged in the production area in the production of the regulated commodity for market.

The representative period for the conduct of such referendum is hereby determined to be August 1, 1974, through July 31, 1975.

The agents of the Secretary to conduct such referendum are hereby designated to be Allan E. Henry, Joseph C. Perrin, Dennis L. West, and William J. Higgins, of the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service.

Signed at Washington, D.C. on August 29, 1975.

RICHARD L. FELNER,
Acting Secretary.

Order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of filberts grown in Oregon and Washington.

Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

<sup>1</sup> This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders have been met.

(a) Findings. A public hearing was held upon proposed amendment of the marketing agreement and the order regulating the handling of filberts grown in Oregon and Washington on April 29, 1975, in Portland, Oregon. The hearing was held pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure (7 CFR Part 900).

Upon the basis of the record it is found that:

(1) The marketing agreement and order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The marketing agreement and order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, regulate the handling of filberts grown in the production area in the same manner as, and are applicable only to persons in the respective classes of commercial and industrial activity specified in the marketing agreement and order upon which hearings have been held.

(3) The marketing agreement and order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are limited in their application to the smallest regional production area which is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act, and the issuance of several orders applicable to subdivisions of the production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act.

(4) There are no differences in the production and marketing of filberts grown in the production area which make necessary different terms and provisions applicable to different parts of such area; and

(5) All handling of filberts grown in the production area as defined in the marketing agreement and order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of filberts grown in Oregon and Washington, shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the order, as hereby amended, as follows:

The provisions of the proposed marketing agreement and order, amending the order, contained in the recommended decision issued by the Acting Administrator on July 15, 1975, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 18, 1975 (40 FR 30277), shall be and are the terms and provisions of this order, amending the order, and are set forth in full herein.

1. Revise § 982.16 to read:

§ 982.16 Inshell trade demand.

"Inshell trade demand" means the quantity of inshell filberts acquired by the trade from all handlers during a marketing policy year for distribution in the continental United States.

2. Revise § 982.17 to read:

§ 982.17 Fiscal year and marketing policy year.

(a) "Fiscal year" means the 12 months from August 1 to the following July 31, both inclusive.

(b) "Marketing policy year" means the 12 months from August 1 to the following July 31, both inclusive, or such other period of time as may be recommended by the Board and established by the Secretary.

3. Revise § 982.40 to read as follows:

§ 982.40 Board's estimates and recommendations.

(a) For each marketing policy year, the Board shall hold a meeting for the purpose of recommending to the Secretary a marketing policy for that year. The recommendation shall include the following:

(1) Inshell allocation. (i) The Board's estimate of the quantity of merchantable filberts or available supply expected to be produced that year, taking into consideration an adjustment to protect against any error in estimation of that production. As soon as practicable after the official estimate of production is released in November, the Board shall, if necessary, meet to determine if a change should be made in the Board's estimate of the quantity of merchantable filberts or available supply expected to be produced.

(ii) The Board's estimate of the inshell handler carryover on the first day of the marketing policy year, segregated as to the quantity subject to regulation and not subject to regulation.

(iii) The Board's recommendation, if any, for handler carryover of inshell filberts on the last day of the marketing policy year, which may be available for handling as inshell filberts thereafter.

(iv) The Board's estimate of the trade demand for inshell filberts for that year, taking into consideration trade carryover at the beginning and end of the year, imports, prices, prospective shelled filbert market conditions and other factors affecting trade demand for inshell filberts during the year.

(v) The Board's recommendation as to a free percentage and a restricted percentage to be established for that year.

(2) Grade and size regulations. The Board shall review the grade and size regulations in effect and may recommend modifications thereof.

(b) Revisions. At any time prior to February 15 of any year, the Board, or two or more handlers who during the preceding marketing policy year (or fiscal year, when appropriate) handled at least 10 percent of all filberts handled, may recommend to the Secretary revision in the marketing policy for that year.

4. Revise § 982.41 to read:

§ 982.41 Free and restricted percentages.

Whenever the Secretary finds, on the basis of the Board's recommendation or other information, that limiting the quantity of merchantable filberts which may be handled during a marketing policy year would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall establish a free percentage or increase the free percentage, as applicable, to prescribe the portion of those filberts which may be handled as inshell filberts and a restricted percentage to prescribe the portion that must be withheld from such handling. In establishing such percentages the Secretary shall consider the ratio of (a) the sum of the estimated inshell trade demand and, when applicable, the inshell handler carryover at the end of the year, less that portion of the inshell handler carryover at the beginning of the marketing policy year not subject to regulation to (b) the estimated supply of merchantable filberts subject to regulation and other relevant factors. Until free and restricted percentages are established by the Secretary for a marketing policy year, the percentages in effect at the end of the previous year shall be applicable.

5. Revise § 982.46 to read:

§ 982.46 Inspection and certification.

(a) Before or upon handling any filberts, or before any inshell or shelled filberts are credited (under §§ 982.50 or 982.51) in satisfaction of a restricted obligation, each handler shall, at his own expense, cause such filberts to be inspected and certified by the Federal-State Inspection Service as meeting the then effective grade and size regulations or, if inshell or shelled filberts are withheld under § 982.51, the applicable requirements specified in that section. The handler obtaining such inspection of filberts shall cause a copy of the certificate issued by such inspection service applicable to such filberts to be furnished to the Board.

(b) All filberts so inspected and certified shall be identified by seals, stamps, tags, or other identification prescribed by the Board. Such identification shall be affixed to the filbert containers by the handler under direction and supervision of the Board or the Federal-State Inspection Service, and shall not be removed or altered by any person except as directed by the Board.

(c) Whenever the Board determines that the length of time in storage and conditions of storage of any lot of certified merchantable filberts have been or are such as to normally cause deterioration, it may require that such lot of filberts be reinspected at the handler's expense prior to handling.

6. Revise § 982.50 to read:

§ 982.50 Restricted obligation.

(a) No handler shall handle inshell filberts unless prior to or upon shipment thereof, he: (1) Has withheld from handling a quantity, by weight, of certified merchantable filberts determined by dividing the quantity handled, or to be handled, by the free percentage and multiplying the quotient by the restricted percentage; (2) has withheld from handling an equivalent quantity of creditable ungraded inshell filberts under § 982.51 (a); or (3) has under § 982.51 (b), declared in lieu of a quantity of certified merchantable filberts, under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the equivalent quantity, by weight as determined under that section, of shelled filberts certified as meeting the standards in effect for Oregon No. 1 grade for shelled filberts as contained in Oregon Grade Standards for Filbert (Hazel) Nuts. Kernels or such other standards as may be recommended by the Board and established by the Secretary. Any handler who intends to withhold shelled filberts in satisfaction of a restricted obligation must make such declaration to the Board prior to shelling any such filberts. Withholding may be temporarily deferred under the bonding provisions in § 982.54. The quantity of filberts required to be withheld shall be the restricted obligation. Certified merchantable filberts handled in accordance with this subpart shall be deemed to be the handler's quota fixed by the Secretary within the meaning of section 8a(5) of the Act.

(b) Inshell filberts withheld by a handler in satisfaction of his restricted obligation shall not be handled and shall be held by him subject to examination by and accounting control of, the Board until disposed of pursuant to this part.

(c) A handler having certified merchantable filberts which have not been handled at the end of a marketing policy year may elect to have those filberts bear the restricted and assessment obligations of that year or of the marketing policy year in which handled. The Board shall establish such procedures as are necessary to facilitate the administration of this option among handlers.

(d) Whenever the restricted percentage for a marketing policy year is reduced, each handler's restricted obligation shall be reduced to conform with the new restricted percentage. Any handler who, upon such reduction, is withholding restricted filberts in excess of his new restricted obligation may have the excess freed from withholding by complying with such procedures as the Board may require to insure identification of the remaining filberts withheld.

7. Revise § 982.51 to read:

§ 982.51 Restricted credit for ungraded inshell filberts and for shelled filberts.

(a) A handler may withhold ungraded inshell filberts in lieu of certified merchantable filberts in satisfaction of his restricted obligation, and the weight on which credit may be received shall be the total weight less the cumulative total percentage, by weight, of (1) all internal defects, (2) all external defects in excess of 10 percent and (3) all small-sized filberts in excess of 5 percent (as defined in the Oregon Grade Standards Filberts In Shell). Any lot of ungraded filberts having a creditable weight of less than 50 percent of its total weight, or not meeting the moisture requirements for certified merchantable filberts shall not be eligible for credit. All determination as to defects and small-sized filberts shall be made by the Federal-State Inspection Service at the handler's expense. Filberts so withheld shall be subject to the applicable requirements of § 982.50. The provisions of this section may be modified by the Secretary on the basis of a recommendation of the Board or other information.

(b) A handler may withhold, in accordance with § 982.50 (a) shelled filberts in lieu of merchantable filberts in satisfaction of his restricted obligation subject to such terms and conditions as are recommended by the Board and established by the Secretary. The inshell equivalent of any such filberts shall be determined by multiplying the weight of the shelled filberts by 250 percent. This percent may be changed upon recommendation of the Board and approval of the Secretary.

8. Revise § 982.52 to read:

§ 982.52 Disposition of restricted filberts.

Filberts withheld from handling as inshell filberts pursuant to §§ 982.50 and 982.51 may be disposed of as follows:

(a) Shelling. Any handler may dispose of such filberts by shelling them under the direction or supervision of the Board or by delivering them to an authorized sheller. Any person who desires to become an authorized sheller in any marketing policy year may submit written application during such year to the Board. Such application shall be granted only upon condition that the applicant agrees:

(1) To use such restricted filberts as he may receive for no purpose other than shelling;

(2) To dispose of or deliver such restricted filberts, as inshell filberts, to no one other than another authorized sheller;

(3) To comply fully with all laws and regulations applicable to shelling of filberts; and

(4) To make such reports, certified to the Board and to the Secretary as to their correctness, as the Board may require.

(b) Export. Sales of certified merchantable restricted filberts for shipment or export to destinations outside the continental United States shall be made only by the Board. Any handler desiring to export any part or all of his certified merchantable restricted filberts shall deliver to the Board the certified merchantable restricted filberts to be exported, but the Board shall be obligated to sell in export only such quantities for which it may be able to find satisfactory export outlets. Any filberts so delivered for export which the Board is unable to export shall be returned to the handler delivering them. Sales for export shall be made by the Board only on execution of an agreement to prevent reimportation into the continental United States. A handler may be permitted to act as agent of the Board, upon such terms and conditions as the Board may specify, in negotiating export sales, and when so acting shall be entitled to receive a selling commission of five percent of the export sales price, f.o.b. area of production. The proceeds of all export sales after deducting all expenses actually and necessarily incurred, shall be paid to the handler whose certified merchantable restricted filberts are so sold by the Board.

(c) Other outlets. In addition to the dispositions authorized in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the Board may designate such other outlets into which such filberts may be disposed which it determines are noncompetitive with normal market outlets for inshell filberts. Such dispositions shall be made under the direction or supervision of the Board.

(d) Restricted credits. During any marketing policy year, handlers who dispose of a quantity of certified merchantable filberts, in restricted outlets, in excess of their restricted obligation, may transfer such excess credits to another handler or handlers. Upon a handler's written request to the Board during a marketing policy year, the Board shall transfer any or all of such excess restricted credits to such other handler or handlers as he may designate. The Board, with the approval of the Secretary, shall establish rules and regulations for the transfer of excess restricted credits.

9. Revise § 982.54 to read:

§ 982.54 Deferment of restricted obligation.

(a) Bonding. Compliance by any handler with the requirements of § 982.50 as to the time when restricted filberts shall be withheld shall be temporarily deferred to any date desired by the handler, but not later than April 30 of the marketing policy year, upon the voluntary execution and delivery by such handler to the Board, before he handles any merchantable filberts of such marketing policy year, of a written undertaking, secured by a bond or bonds with a surety or sureties acceptable to the Board, that on or prior to such date he will have fully satisfied his restricted obligation required by § 982.50.

(b) Bonding requirement. Such bond or bonds shall, at all times during their effective period, be in such amounts that the aggregate thereof shall be no less than the total bonding value of the handler's deferred restricted obligation. The bonding value shall be the deferred restricted obligation poundage bearing the lowest bonding rate or rates, which could have been selected from the packs handled or certified for handling, multiplied by the applicable bonding rate. The cost of such bond or bonds shall be borne by the handler filing same.

(c) Bonding rate. Said bonding rate for each pack shall be an amount per pound representing the season's domestic price for such pack net to handler f.o.b. shipping point which shall be computed at the opening price for such pack an-

at the opening price for such pack announced by the handler or handlers who during the preceding marketing policy year handled more than 50 percent of the merchantable filberts handled by all handlers. Such handler or handlers shall be selected in the order of volume handled in the preceding marketing policy year (or fiscal year, if applicable) using the minimum number of handlers to represent a volume of more than 50 percent of the total volume handled. If such opening prices involve different prices announced by two or more handlers for respective packs, the price so announced shall be averaged on the basis of the quantity of such packs handled during the preceding marketing policy year (or fiscal year, if applicable) by each such handler. Until bonding rates for a marketing policy year are fixed, the rates in effect for the preceding marketing policy year (or fiscal year, if applicable) shall continue in effect and when such new rates are fixed, necessary adjustments should be made.

(d) Filbert purchases. Any sums collected through default of a handler on his bond shall be used by the Board to purchase from handlers, as provided in this paragraph, a quantity of certified merchantable filberts on which the restricted obligation has been met, not to exceed the total quantity represented by the sums collected. The Board shall at all times purchase the lowest priced packs offered, and the purchases shall be made from the various handlers as nearly as practicable in proportion to the quantity of their respective offerings of the pack or packs to be purchased.

(e) Unexpended sums. Any unexpended sums, which have been collected by the Board through default of a handler on his bond, remaining in the possession of the Board at the end of a marketing policy year shall be used to reimburse the Board for its expenses, including administrative and other costs incurred in the collection of such sums, and in the purchase of filberts as provided in paragraph (d) of this section. Any balance remaining after reimbursement of such expenses shall be distributed among all handlers in proportion to the quantity of certified merchantable filberts handled by them during the marketing policy year in which the default occurred.

(f) Transfer of filbert purchases. Filberts purchased as provided in this section shall be turned over to those handlers who have defaulted on their bonds for disposal by them as restricted filberts. The quantity delivered to each handler shall be that quantity represented by the sums collected through default, and the different grades, if any, shall be apportioned among the various handlers on the basis of the ratio of the quantity of filberts to be delivered to each handler to the total quantity purchased by the Board with bonding funds.

(g) Collection upon bonds. Collection upon any defaulted bond shall be deemed a satisfaction of the restricted obligation represented by the collection.

10. Revise § 982.65 to read:

§ 982.65 Carryover reports.

On or before January 15 and August 5, of each year and within 10 days following the end of a marketing policy year, respectively, each handler shall report to the Board his inventory of inshell and shelled filberts as of January 1, August 1, and the first day of the marketing policy year, respectively. Such reports shall be certified to the Board and the Secretary as to their accuracy and completeness and shall show, among other items, the following: (a) Certified merchantable filberts on which the restricted obligation has been met; (b) merchantable filberts on which the restricted obligation has not been met; (c) the merchantable equivalent of any filberts intended for handling as inshell filberts; and (d) restricted filberts withheld.

11. Revise § 982.71 to read:

§ 982.71 Records.

Each handler shall maintain such records of filberts received, held and disposed of by him as may be prescribed by the Board in order to perform its function under this part. Such records shall be retained and be available for examination by authorized representatives of the Board or the Secretary for a period of two years after the end of the marketing policy year in which the transactions occurred.

12. Revise paragraph (b) (3) of § 982.80 to read:

§ 982.80 Effective time, termination or suspension.

(b) * * *

(3) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions of this subpart at the end of any marketing policy year whenever he finds that such termination is favored by a majority of the producers of filberts who during the preceding marketing policy year (or fiscal year, if applicable) have been engaged in the production for marketing of filberts in the States of Oregon and Washington: Provided, That, such majority have during such period produced for market more than 50 percent of the volume of such filberts produced for market within said States; but such termination shall be effected only if announced 30 days or more before the end of the then current marketing policy year.

RAISINS PRODUCED FROM GRAPES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

Proposal To Designate Desirable Free Tonnage for Natural Thompson Seedless, Dipped Seedless, and Zante Currant Raisins and Export Outlets for Reserve Tonnage Raisins

Notice is given of a proposal to: Designate a desirable free tonnage for natural Thompson Seedless, Dipped Seedless, and Zante Currant raisins of 148,000, 5,620, and 2,850 tons, respectively, which would be made available as free tonnage of those varietal types of raisins during the 1975-76 crop year; and revise the list of countries to which sale of reserve tonnage raisins may be made so that it would apply to reserve raisins of any varietal type. Currently, the list applies only to natural Thompson Seedless raisins. This action would be in accordance with the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 989, as amended (7 CFR Part 989), hereinafter referred to collectively as the "order", regulating the handling of raisins produced from grapes grown in California. The order is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674). The proposal was unanimously recommended by the Raisin Administrative Committee.

The Committee's recommendation with respect to desirable free tonnage is under § 989.54 of the order and is based on its review of shipment data, inventory data, and other matters, relating to a desirable free tonnage for natural Thompson Seedless, Dipped Seedless, and Zante Currant raisins, for the 1975-76 crop year. The recommendation with respect to a list of countries to which sale of reserve tonnage raisins may be made is under § 989.67(c).

The proposed desirable free tonnages are based upon the following estimates:

Item	Natural condition tons
	Natural Thompson seedless	Dipped seedless	Zante currants
1. Free tonnage demand.....	150,000	6,750	2,637
2. Desirable carryout, Aug. 21, 1976.....	20,000	750	900
3. Total requirements.....	170,000	7,500	3,537
4. Less estimated carrying, Sept. 1, 1975.....	22,000	1,880	287
5. Desirable free tonnage.....	148,000	5,620	2,850

At present, the list of countries to which sale in export of reserve tonnage raisins may be made by handlers is contained in § 989.221 of Subpart—Supplementary Regulations (7 CFR § 989.201-989.230; 40 FR 4417, 31739). The list now is applicable only to sale of reserve raisins of the natural Thompson Seedless varietal type. It is proposed that § 989.221 be amended to make it applicable to all reserve tonnage raisins without regard to varietal type.

Consideration will be given to any written data, views, or arguments pertaining to the proposal which are received by the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 112, Administration Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, not later than September 19, 1975. All written submissions should be in quadruplicate and will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

It is hereby certified that the economic and inflationary impacts of this proposed regulation have been carefully evaluated in accordance with OMB Circular A-107.

Dated: August 29, 1975.

CHARLES R. BRADER,
Deputy Director,
Fruit and Vegetable Division.

MILK IN THE LOUISVILLE-LEXINGTON-EVANSVILLE MARKETING AREA

Decision on Proposed Amendments to Marketing Agreement and to Order

A public hearing was held upon proposed amendments to the marketing agreement and the order regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville marketing area. The hearing was held, pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice (7 CFR Part 900), at Louisville, Kentucky, on December 18, 1974, pursuant to notice thereof issued November 29, 1974 (39 FR 41986).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, the Associate Administrator on June 30, 1975, filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision containing notice of the opportunity to file written exceptions thereto.

The material issues, findings and conclusions, rulings, and general findings of the recommended decision are hereby approved and adopted and are set forth in full herein, subject to the following modifications:

1. Under "1. Pool plant qualifications—(a) Automatic pool status in March–August for a country plant that qualified as a pool plant each month in the preceding September–February," the third paragraph is changed and five paragraphs are added immediately following the last paragraph.

2. Under "1. Pool plant qualifications—(b) Elimination of automatic pooling for a country plant operated by a cooperative," the first and third paragraphs are changed, two paragraphs are added immediately following the fifth paragraph, and the sixth paragraph is deleted.

3. Under "2. Diversion of producer milk," six paragraphs are added immediately following the 16th paragraph.

4. Under "3. Partial payments to producers and cooperatives," the first, eighth, tenth, twelfth, and thirteenth paragraphs are changed; and single paragraphs are added immediately following the eighth, tenth, and sixteenth paragraphs.

PROPOSED RULES

The material issues on the record relate to:

1. Pool plant qualifications.
2. Diversion of producer milk.
3. Partial payments to producers and cooperatives.

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

The following findings and conclusions on the material issues are based on evidence presented at the hearing and the record thereof:

1. Pool plant qualifications. (a) Automatic pool status in March–August for a country plant that qualified as a pool plant each month in the preceding September–February. The provision providing automatic pooling status during the flush production months, for supply plants which met the specified performance standards in each of the short production months, should be retained. However, the months of September through February should be substituted for the present October through March qualifying period for automatic pooling status in other months.

The order now provides that a supply plant may qualify as a pool plant by specific performance in any month. During the months of October through March shipments of at least 50 percent of dairy farm receipts must be made to city (distributing) plants. In the months of April through September a 40 percent shipment is required. Under the automatic pooling provision, a plant that qualified in each month of the preceding October–March period need ship no milk in April–September to be pooled in these months.

A cooperative's proposal, which was supported by a second cooperative, would eliminate automatic pooling and condition the pooling of a supply plant on performance each month. Proponent contended there is no need for automatic pooling of supply plants in the market because distributing plants can be adequately supplied with milk shipped directly from dairy farms.

The cooperative alleged that the operator of the supply plant, which began operating in October 1974, was attempting to take advantage of the automatic pooling provision to facilitate pooling a supply of milk that would be used primarily for manufacturing. The supply plant operator denied any intent to exploit the pool. He stated that milk associated with the supply plant is and would be available to distributing plants and that substantial quantities of the supply plant's dairy farm receipts were being shipped to distributing plants. In November 1974, 70 percent of the supply plant's milk was shipped to a distributing plant.

The supply plant operator (a proprietary handler) and other handlers opposed the cooperative's proposal. They contended that elimination of automatic pooling would force a supply plant operator to make uneconomic movements of milk to qualify it for pooling in the months of heavy production. The operator of the distributing plant that receives milk from the supply plant contended that he depends on the supply plant as a dependable source of supply for his Class I needs.

Provisions for pooling supply plants and for automatic pooling of such plants in certain months are customarily included in Federal milk orders. Such provisions allow a distributing plant operator to elect whether to receive his milk supply directly from producers' farms and/or from supply plants. A distributing plant operator may utilize supply plant milk as his sole source of supply or to meet his plant's supplemental needs.

Even though a supply plant may not be needed to accommodate the orderly movement of milk to the market from farms in the immediate production area, such a plant may be needed for the assembly and movement of milk from alternative supply sources. To this end, it is essential that the order recognize the role of supply plants in a marketing system and present the conditions for pooling such plants.

It is probable that the demand for milk from a supply plant would vary seasonally and would be greatest during the season of lowest production. This would be particularly true in situations where handlers using supply plant milk were receiving part of their supply direct from producers' farms. During the months of flush production, supplies of milk received directly at fluid processing plants in the market might be sufficient to supply their Class I requirements. If this were the case, it would be more economical to leave the more distant milk in the country for manufacturing and utilize the nearby milk for Class I use. Performance standards under the order should not force milk to be transported to distributing plants during the flush production months for the single purpose of maintaining eligibility for pooling.

September–February should replace October–March as the qualifying period for a supply plant to earn automatic pooling in the following months of seasonally higher production. As adopted in this decision, such change gives appropriate consideration to the current seasonality of production for the market. September–February is the 6-month period when milk production is substantially lower relative to demand than in the remaining months of the year. In September 1973 through February 1974, the most recent such 6-month period for which data were available at the hearing, Class I utilization of producer milk was 81 percent. In the following 6 months, March–August 1974, the comparable Class I utilization percentage was 64 percent.

March, which is replaced with September as a qualifying month for automatic pooling, is now a month of relatively high production relative to demand. For the years 1972, 1973, and 1974, Class I utilization of producer milk in March averaged 70 percent, a percentage generally representative of that in the months of seasonally high production for the market.

The September Class I utilization of producer milk averaged 81 percent for 1972, 1973, and 1974. This is the same as the Class I utilization for the 6-month period of seasonally low production. It is therefore appropriate that September be included in the 6-month qualifying period for a supply plant to qualify for automatic pooling in the subsequent flush production months.

The proposal to require a supply plant to ship 50 percent of its receipts to distributing plants to qualify for pooling in any month is denied. In view of the variation in Class I utilization as between the short production and flush production months there is no demonstrated need for more stringent shipping requirements in the flush production months. The present 40 percent shipping requirement for pooling in April-September (which would apply during March-August as adopted herein) is adequate to establish a supply plant's association with the fluid market during the months when milk production is greatest relative to Class I use.

According automatic pool status to a qualified supply plant recognizes the plant's role in facilitating the disposition of its dairy farmer receipts in the months of heavy production. Such plant's dairy farmer receipts normally would be from its regular patrons, those who had delivered to the plant during the preceding September-February and established their bona fide association with the fluid market.

Under present order provisions, however, a supply plant that has automatic pooling in March-August could attach to the pool in those months additional supplies of milk without an established association with the market and intended solely for manufacturing use. This would result in an unwarranted reduction in returns to those established producers who are the regular suppliers of the market's fluid needs.

To preserve the integrity of regulation, the order should provide a safeguard against the possibility of such exploitation of the pool. It was suggested at the hearing that milk to be pooled in March-August by a supply plant with automatic pool status be limited to the milk of those dairy farmers whose total production was pooled at the supply plant in the preceding September-February. Such a stringent measure is not necessary to prevent the pooling of that milk without an established association with the market.

Under conditions in this market, it is appropriate to require that milk pooled by a supply plant during the months when it has automatic pool status be limited to receipts from dairy farmers who had at least 60 days' production pooled under the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville order in the preceding September-February. Receipts at a supply plant pooled on the basis of its acquired automatic status, other than from producers, would be other source milk and would not be pooled. Milk from dairy farmers not previously associated with the market would, of course, be pooled in any month that the supply plant met the shipping requirements for pool plant status for such month.

Cooperatives' exceptions claimed that pooling milk through a supply plant in the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville market results in the uneconomic handling of milk. While it may be true that a cooperative's member milk can be supplied most efficiently from the farm to distributing plants, the statement may not be valid for a handler seeking an alternative source of supply.

Cooperatives are concerned that a supply plant with automatic pooling status could attach to the pool additional supplies of milk included solely for manufacturing uses and reduce the blend price of producers regularly supplying the market's Class I needs. The order changes adopted in this decision provide appropriate safeguards against diluting returns to the market's regular producers in the event a supply plant attains automatic pooling status in March-August.

One cooperative's exception proposed that a more restrictive basis than provided in the recommended decision be adopted for pooling the milk of dairy farmers delivering to a supply plant with automatic pooling status. As proposed by exception, the milk of a dairy farmer delivering to a supply plant with automatic pooling status would be pooled only if such dairy farmer's total production in the preceding September-February was delivered to the same supply plant. The cooperative also proposed, as an alternative, that at least 120 days of a dairy farmer's production be delivered to a pool plant in the preceding September-February to qualify a dairy farmer's milk for pooling under the order during the March-August period.

Milk from the same farm is frequently delivered on different days to two or more pool plants during the month. Also, it is not uncommon for producers (particularly members of a cooperative) to ship to plants under different orders during the year. In this circumstance, it would be unreasonable to provide that a dairy farmer's deliveries in March-August to a pool supply plant (with automatic pooling) be pooled only if he delivered his total production in the preceding September-February to the same plant.

A requirement, as provided in this decision, that at least 60 days of a dairy farmer's production must have been delivered to a pool plant in the preceding September-February to pool his deliveries to a supply plant (with automatic pooling) in March-August will clearly establish a dairy farmer's association with the fluid market and hence his right to share in the pool proceeds. The exception's proposal to require the delivery of at least 120 days' production (instead of 60 days) to a pool plant in the preceding September-February to pool a dairy farmer's deliveries in the automatic pooling months would be unduly restrictive and could be a deterrent to continuing orderly marketing.

(b) Elimination of automatic pooling for a country plant operated by a cooperative. The according of automatic pool plant status in subsequent months to a plant that qualified for pooling as a balancing plant in the preceding October through February should not be discontinued.

The order now provides for pooling as a balancing plant a country plant operated by a cooperative in any month that two-thirds or more of its producer member milk is delivered to pool plants of other handlers, either directly from the members' farms or by transfer from the cooperative's plant. A plant that so qualified in October through February thereby obtains automatic pool plant status for the following March through September.

A cooperative that operates the only balancing plant in the market proposed elimination of automatic pooling for such a plant. A second cooperative supported the proposal.

The cooperative's balancing plant, which is located in the city of Louisville, provides a means whereby handlers may adjust their receipts each day to fit their bottling needs and at the same time have assurance that milk will be available for fluid use as needed.

A bottling plant that receives milk by direct delivery from the farms of designated producer members of the cooperative may accept part or none of such deliveries on any day. The total deliveries of such producers on the days the bottling plant is not operated, and the amount in excess of its Class I needs on other days, may be received at the cooperative's plant. Thus, its basic function is as an assembly point for producer milk not needed by handlers, which generally must be disposed of to nonpool plants. However, milk in storage at the plant is available to meet handlers' unanticipated requirements on short notice.

The cooperative that proposed eliminating the automatic pooling presently provided for a balancing plant excepted to the conclusion reached in the recommended decision to adopt such proposal. Exceptor held that since its proposal to eliminate automatic pooling during the flush months for a supply plant that had qualified during other months on the basis of its shipments to pool distributing plants was denied, the automatic pooling provision applicable to its balancing plant should likewise not be removed from the order.

The cooperative has not needed the automatic pooling provision to qualify its balancing plant for pooling. Neither is it apparent that the provision has been utilized to exploit the pool. Moreover, there is no current or prospective marketing situation that removal of the automatic pooling provision is intended to correct. In view of the above and of the opposition to its removal from the order by the cooperative that initially proposed discontinuance of automatic pooling for a balancing plant, no action should be taken on that proposal on the basis of this record.

2. Diversion of producer milk. During the months of March through August a producer should be required to deliver at least 2 days' production (one delivery for a producer on every-other-day pickup) to a pool plant during the month to qualify any remainder of his monthly production for pooling as milk diverted to a nonpool plant. In September-February, monthly diversions of a producer's milk to a nonpool plant should not exceed 22 days' production (11 every-other-day pickups).

The present order limits diversion of a producer's milk to nonpool plants to 22 days in October, November, January, and February. There are no limits on diversions to nonpool plants in other months.

A cooperative proposed that a producer be required to deliver to pool plants during the month 20 days' production in September-February and 10 days' production in March-August to qualify his remaining monthly production for diversion to nonpool plants. It also proposed that a cooperative be allowed to divert to nonpool plants the total monthly production of individual producers in March-August if the cooperative's total milk so diverted is not more than one-third of its total producer milk for the month. This option would likewise apply to a proprietary handler for his non-member milk.

Another cooperative proposed that at least 4 days in September-February and 2 days in March-August of a producer's monthly production be delivered to a pool plant to qualify his remaining production for diversion to a nonpool plant.

The cooperatives contended that present provisions (unlimited diversions to nonpool plants in March through September and in December, and diversion of 22 days' production in October, November, January, and February) provide a means for handlers to associate with the market milk intended primarily for manufacturing purposes to the detriment of producers who regularly supply the market and on whom the market depends for its Class I needs. They urged the adoption of substantial delivery requirements to deter this result.

The cooperative that proposed requiring the delivery to a pool plant of at least 4 days of a producer's monthly production to establish diversion eligibility for his remaining monthly production in September-February claimed that such requirement would be adequate to demonstrate that the milk was available for fluid use and was associated with the market. However, there was no showing that any purpose would be served by adopting a lesser standard than is now provided in the order for the months of seasonally low production.

Proprietary pool plant operators opposed changing the diversion provisions. One opposed not only the proposed diversion limitations, but also the addition of September and December to the designated months during which diversion limits are more restrictive than in other months. He contended that adoption of the cooperative's proposals would cause numerous dairy farmers to lose pool status for their milk, particularly in December, when schools are closed for 12 days. He also contended that September, because it is a summer month, should not be included in the designated months in which the more restrictive diversion limits are applicable.

A handler who operates a pool distributing plant and a separate plant for processing milk into Class II products opposed the proposed limits on diversions to nonpool plants. He contended that their adoption would force him to receive milk needed for Class II uses at his pool plant and then transfer it to his other plant, rather than diverting it to such plant as he is generally able to do under the present order.

A supply plant operator stated that the cooperatives' proposed limitations on diversions to nonpool plants were punitive in effect and would negate the purpose of the diversion provisions.

The diversion provisions are provided to implement the efficient handling of the market's milk supply in excess of handlers' immediate requirements. Because of variations in market needs and in production, the milk of each producer may not be needed every day for processing as fluid milk at the plant to which it is customarily delivered. It is necessary, however, that there be a reserve of qualified milk available for the fluctuating needs of handlers serving the market. When milk of any dairy farmer regularly supplying the market is not needed at the plant to which it is usually shipped, it can be handled most economically by diversion directly from the farm to nonpool, manufacturing plants.

In October, November, January, and February, when diversion of a producer's milk to a nonpool plant may not exceed 22 days (11 days in the case of every-other-day delivery), at least 8 days' production in a 30-day month would be delivered to a pool plant. To replace this standard with a requirement that 20 days of a producer's monthly production in the fall and winter months must be delivered to pool plants, as proposed by one cooperative, would be a deterrent to efficient handling of that milk in excess of handlers' needs.

In March-August, it is reasonable to require that 2 days' production of a producer be physically received at a plant in any month that his milk is diverted to a nonpool plant. This requirement will provide a means for establishing that milk of individual dairy farmers reported as diverted producer milk is associated with the market and is, in fact, milk which is qualified for fluid use. With the flexibility that this provides, in March-August there is no need to provide an optional method of computing allowable diversions based on aggregate milk deliveries.

Both proponents of diversion provisions different from those now in the order proposed that the more stringent limits be applicable for September-February rather than for the 4 months now specified. The months of September-February are the months when production is lowest relative to Class I utilization. It is therefore appropriate to designate these six months as the period in which the diversion of milk to nonpool plants is more limited than in other months.

The cooperatives' concerns are directed to the possibility that proprietary handlers might use the diversion provisions as a means of associating with the pool additional milk intended solely for manufacturing use. While this could possibly result, it is not practical to deal with such a matter without more specific facts.

Certainly milk which is not available for fluid use should not be accorded pooling eligibility. However, it is not apparent from the record that this has happened. Proponents apparently foresee possible market developments which they believe could be detrimental to their interest. Through a cooperative's balancing plant, it has flexibility not available to proprietary handlers for marketing its members' milk. It would not be appropriate to adopt restrictive requirements which could deter the efficient handling of the market's total supply.

The operator of a supply plant should be permitted to divert only to nonpool plants and such diversions should be included as a receipt at the supply plant in determining its pool status. The order now specifies that milk may be diverted from a pool plant to another pool plant on any number of days in any month. However, since a supply plant's pooling status is determined on the basis of its transfers to distributing plants, it would not be practicable for a supply plant to move milk to pool plants by diversion. No useful purpose therefore is served by providing diversion privileges to pool plants for a supply plant.

A cooperative excepted to the recommended decision's providing that the operator of a supply plant may divert only to nonpool plants. It claimed that the decision had not given appropriate consideration to a practice in the market of moving milk from the farms of producers assigned to a supply plant as diverted milk to pool distributing plants.

The operator of a pool distributing plant has the responsibility of accounting for the total quantity of milk delivered directly to his plant from producers' farms (including milk from those producers otherwise assigned to a supply plant). In this circumstance, it is appropriate that such milk be accounted for as producer milk received at the pool distributing plant instead of as diverted milk from the supply plant.

Another cooperative exception to the recommended decision would exclude December from the "short production months" when diversion of a producer's milk for the month is limited to 22 days (11 days in the case of every-other-day deliveries) during the month. Although Class I sales in December are adversely affected because of school closings and reduced demand during the holiday season, December production relative to demand is significantly less than in the months of seasonally high production and is more in line with the other months of the year when diversion is limited to 22 days during the month.

reiterated its position presented at the hearing in urging that its own proposed limits be adopted. That position was fully considered in formulating the recommended decision's findings which, except as noted above, are adopted herein.

The exceptor complained that the recommended decision did not include findings and determinations as to why a proposed alternative method for computing maximum allowable diversions in the flush production months was not adopted. (As proposed, a producer's milk could be diverted to a nonpool plant without limit in March-August, provided the diverting handler's total diversions to nonpool plants did not exceed one-third of his producer milk for the month.) It claimed that failure to adopt the proposal would preclude handlers from achieving maximum efficiency in disposing of the market's reserve milk supplies through the diversion provisions.

Under the diversion limits adopted, a dairy farmer must deliver only 2 days' production to a pool plant to divert to a nonpool plant any remainder of his monthly production in March through August. Providing that milk of certain producers could be diverted without meeting this minimal delivery requirement would tend to defeat the purpose of requiring association with the market to establish eligibility for diverting milk.

The hearing notice stated that because some proposals applicable to diverted milk would be considered, the point of pricing diverted milk would also be considered. Diverted milk now is priced at the location of the pool plant from which diverted.

A pending request for a hearing includes proposals to change the Class I price and location adjustment provisions of the order. The issue of the location at which diverted milk is priced would be more appropriate for consideration at such a hearing. Accordingly, no action is taken with respect to the point of pricing diverted milk on the basis of this proceeding.

3. Partial payments to producers and cooperatives. The rate at which partial payments for producer milk are made should be changed from the Class III price for the preceding month to the weighted average price for the preceding month, but not less than the Class III price for the preceding month. Also, handlers should make a partial payment at the same rate for milk received during the first 15 days of the month from a cooperative bulk tank handler.

The present order requires handlers to pay by the last day of the month for milk received during the first 15 days of the month from producers who did not discontinue delivery of milk to such handler during the month. The rate of payment is the Class III price for the preceding month. Payments to cooperatives authorized to collect payment for their members are due 2 days prior to the last day of the month.

A cooperative proposed that handlers be required to make separate partial payments for producer milk received during each of the first two 10-day delivery periods of the month. Under their proposal these payments to individual producers would be due on the 17th and 27th of the month, respectively, at 90 percent of the previous month's weighted average price, and to cooperatives collecting for their member producers at least 2 days earlier. Partial payments for milk received from a cooperative bulk tank handler during the same two 10-day delivery periods would be due on the 17th and 27th days of the month. The rate for such payments would be the same as that applicable for partial payments to producers.

Proponent cooperative's spokesman recognized that the proposed changes would increase handlers' costs for milk, but held they are needed to improve the cash flow to dairy farmers. He contended that dairy farmers, faced with increasing production costs and greater demands for cash for purchasing items needed to continue producing milk, urgently need payment for their milk at a higher rate and at more frequent intervals. Higher interest rates in the last two years were cited in particular as justifying more frequent payments to producers.

The proposed partial payment rate (90 percent of the previous month's weighted average price) is desirable, the cooperative claimed, because it would increase the amount of money dairy farmers would receive as partial payments. Also, according to proponent's spokesman, it would reduce the risk carried by producers in situations where a handler suddenly is unable to pay for milk.

At the hearing another cooperative proposed that the partial payment rate be either 90 percent of the preceding month's uniform price or the Class III price for the preceding month, whichever is higher. The same cooperative opposed requiring two partial payments based on 10-day delivery periods. It proposed instead that the present single partial payment date requirement be advanced three days and be paid to producers who delivered milk to handlers at least 20 days during the month.

The cooperative's spokesman argued that the higher rate is necessary to more nearly represent the actual value of the milk. He contended that the present partial payment rate is disproportionate to the actual value of the milk and that producers should receive the partial payment at the earliest practicable date. However, this cooperative opposed more frequent partial payments on the basis that it would impose considerable additional costs on all parties and therefore would not be advantageous to producers.

The Associate Administrator concluded that the partial payment rate should be increased to 90 percent of the previous month's weighted average price. He indicated that this would provide producers a larger portion of the value of their milk through partial payments. For the two years ending November 1974, the proposed 90 percent rate averaged 8.9 cents per hundredweight more than the actual partial payment rate.

In their exceptions, cooperative argued that the partial payment rate, 90 percent of the previous month's weighted average price, should not be less than the previous month's Class III price. Since the intent of the change here adopted is to obtain an increased partial payment rate, it is appropriate to provide that the partial payment rate be not less than the previous month's Class III price.

Since the partial payment applies only to the first 15 days' deliveries by producers who had not discontinued shipping by the payment date, the likelihood of overpayment will not be significantly increased. The record provides no basis for concluding that the present arrangement, whereby a producer must not have discontinued delivery of milk by the date partial payment is made, is inappropriate. Accordingly, no action is taken to change the number of days a producer must deliver milk to a handler to receive the partial payment.

It is not apparent that any purpose would be served by advancing by three days the date for making partial payments. Although such a modification of the proposal was suggested, no specific testimony was presented to justify such a change.

Adoption of the requested earlier partial payment date could result in a handler having insufficient time to determine which producers were eligible to receive a partial payment. In fact, handlers might not receive the information needed in time to make such determination before the partial payment was due. This could result in cases of overpayments to producers who had left the market during the month, which overpayments the handler likely could not recover. For this reason, it is not practicable to advance the partial payment date.

Milk that a cooperative delivers to plants of other handlers in its capacity as a bulk tank handler is direct-shipped from producers' farms to the handlers' plants. Under the present order the plant operator is required to pay the cooperative at the applicable class prices for such milk by the 10th day of the following month. Since milk so received at a plant is essentially the same as milk that the plant operator receives directly from dairy farmers for his own account, the order should require handlers to make a partial payment for such milk received during the first 15 days of the month. Otherwise, to the extent that a plant operator receives his milk supply through a cooperative bulk tank handler, he enjoys a competitive advantage over other handlers that receive their milk as producer milk for which a partial payment is required.

As herein provided, the partial payment rate adopted will exclude the effect of the takeout-pay back (Louisville) plan money on the uniform price in the pay back months. This is accomplished by requiring partial payment for producer milk deliveries during the first 15 days of the month at 90 percent of the previous month's weighted average price in August through March. For April through July the rate would be 90 percent of the weighted average price for the preceding month less the Louisville plan takeout rate for the current month. Otherwise, there would be an increased likelihood that the actual value of the milk would be overstated in the partial payments.

There was no specific opposition to requiring 90 percent of the previous month's uniform price as the partial payment rate. Although handlers opposed changing the partial payment procedure, their testimony was directed to the proposal for requiring two partial payments.

The basis of handler opposition was that the reasons cited by proponent for needing more frequent partial payments reflect general business conditions facing handlers and producers alike. Handlers' representatives contended the order should not be changed to recognize producers' problems at the expense of handlers.

Handlers claimed that two partial payments for a larger volume of producer milk at a higher rate, as proposed, would increase their costs for milk. In addition to requiring more frequent cash outlays, administrative costs related to making more frequent payments would increase as well, according to their spokesmen. They also contended that adoption of the proposal would impose a burdensome time schedule on handlers during the first 15 days of the month, and would increase the likelihood of overpayments to producers who did not ship milk the entire month.

Providing an additional advance payment date would, as opponents indicated, increase handlers' costs and would not in any way change the total monies producers would receive in a 30-day period.

The Milk Industry Foundation, a national trade association of milk processors, opposed the proposal for two partial payments and stated that its adoption would result in added costs to handlers. It took the position that any changes to be made in payment dates or procedures should be applicable on a uniform basis in all Federal orders.

Proponent of two partial payments took exception to the recommended decision. It claimed that two partial payments are justified because such provision is included in the three Florida orders. The provisions in the Florida orders differ substantially from those proposed for the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville order. Moreover, the Florida orders' partial payment provisions were adopted as appropriate under the conditions peculiar to those order markets. The existence of these provisions in the Florida orders cannot be considered a basis for including them in the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville order.

The increasing risk of loss of money among producers through handler failure is a matter of concern. However, if a second advance payment is desirable for this purpose, it is clear that such procedure would be helpful in other orders also. The added cost and time demands involved are a significant impediment to adoption. This is not a matter that can be resolved easily. It should be explored carefully in depth and in conjunction with other alternative actions with a broader segment of the industry.

RULINGS ON PROPOSED FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

Briefs and proposed findings and conclusions were filed on behalf of certain interested parties. These briefs, proposed findings and conclusions and the evidence in the record were considered in making the findings and conclusions set forth above. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions filed by interested parties are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions set forth herein, the requests to make such findings or reach such conclusions are denied for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

GENERAL FINDINGS

The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act:

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

RULINGS ON EXCEPTIONS

In arriving at the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision, each of the exceptions received was carefully and fully considered in conjunction with the record evidence. To the extent that the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision are at variance with any of the exceptions, such exceptions are hereby overruled for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER

Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents, a MARKETING

AGREEMENT regulating the handling of milk, and an ORDER amending the order regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville marketing area which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions.

It is hereby ordered, That this entire decision, except the attached marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of the marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order as hereby proposed to be amended by the attached order which is published with this decision.

DETERMINATION OF PRODUCER APPROVAL AND REPRESENTATIVE PERIOD

June 1975 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of the order, as amended and as hereby proposed to be amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville marketing area is approved or favored by producers, as defined under the terms of the order (as amended and as hereby proposed to be amended), who during such representative period were engaged in the production of milk for sale within the aforesaid marketing area.

Signed at Washington, D.C., on August 29, 1975.

RICHARD L. FELTNER,
Acting Secretary.

Order<sup>1</sup> amending the order, regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville marketing area.

FINDINGS AND DETERMINATIONS

The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings. A public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville marketing area. The hearing was held pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure (7 CFR Part 900).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

<sup>1</sup> This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders have been met.

(1) The said order as hereby amended, § 1016.12 Producer.

(vii) Receipts of milk from a dairy

Court cases brought by the Government pursuant to either the Export Apple and Pear

PROPOSED RULES

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act;

(2) The parity prices of milk, as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order as hereby amended regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial or commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Louisville-Lexington-Evansville marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the order, as amended, and as hereby amended, as follows:

The provisions of the proposed marketing agreement and order amending the order contained in the recommended decision issued by the Associate Administrator on June 30, 1975, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 7, 1975 (40 FR 28465) shall be and are the terms and provisions of this order, amending the order, and are set forth in full herein, subject to the following modifications in §§ 1046.7, 1046.12 and 1046.73.

1. In § 1046.7, paragraphs (b) and (c) are revised as follows:

§ 1046.7 Pool plant.

(b) A country plant during any of the months of September through February from which not less than 50 percent, and during other months not less than 40 percent, of milk from persons described in § 1046.12(a)(1) and from handlers described in § 1046.9(c) that is physically received at, or diverted from such plant pursuant to § 1046.13, is transferred to and received at a city plant(s) in the form of milk or skim milk.

(c) In March through August a country plant that was a pool plant pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section each month during the preceding September through February, unless the operator of such plant notifies the market administrator in writing on or before February 15 of withdrawal of the plant from the pool for the months of March through August next following.

2. In § 1046.12, paragraphs (b) (2) and (3) are revised and a new paragraph (b) (4) is added as follows:

§ 1046.12 Producer.

(b) . . . . .
(2) Any person with respect to milk produced by him which is diverted to a pool plant from an other order plant if the other order designates such person as a producer under that order and such milk is allocated to Class II or Class III utilization pursuant to § 1046.44(a) (8) (iii) and the corresponding step of § 1046.44(b);

(3) Any person with respect to milk produced by him which is reported as diverted to an other order plant if any portion of such person's milk so moved is assigned to Class I under the provisions of such other order; and

(4) A person with respect to any milk produced by him that is received at or diverted from a country plant in any month of March through August, unless at least 60 days' production from the farm of such person was producer milk during the preceding September through February or unless such country plant is a pool plant for the month pursuant to § 1046.7 (b) or (d).

3. In § 1046.13, paragraph (c) is revised as follows:

§ 1046.13 Producer milk.

(c) Diverted by a handler from a pool plant to a nonpool plant that is not a producer-handler plant, subject to the following conditions:

(1) Milk so diverted shall be deemed to have been received at the pool plant from which it is diverted;

(2) Not less than 2 days' production of a producer whose milk is diverted to a nonpool plant is physically received at a pool plant during the month;

(3) Producer milk pursuant to this paragraph shall not include the milk of any person during September through February on days that it is diverted by a handler to a nonpool plant in excess of 22 days (11 days in the case of every-other-day delivery) during the month; and

4. In § 1046.44, paragraph (a) (7) (v) and (vi) are revised and a new paragraph (a) (7) (vii) is added as follows:

§ 1046.44 Classification of producer milk.

(a) . . . . .
(7) . . . . .

(v) Receipts of reconstituted skim milk in filled milk from an unregulated supply plant that were not subtracted pursuant to paragraph (a) (2) of this section;

(vi) Receipts of reconstituted skim milk in filled milk from an other order plant that is regulated under any Federal milk order providing for individual-handler pooling, to the extent that reconstituted skim milk is allocated to Class I at the transferor-plant; and

(vii) Receipts of milk from a dairy farmer described in § 1046.12(b) (4);

5. In § 1046.60, paragraph (d) is revised as follows:

§ 1046.60 Handler's value of milk for computing uniform price.

(d) Add the amount obtained from multiplying the difference between the Class I price applicable at the location of the pool plant and the Class III price by the hundredweight of skim milk and butterfat subtracted from Class I pursuant to § 1046.44(a) (7) (i) through (iv) and (vii) and the corresponding step of § 1046.44(b), excluding receipts of bulk fluid cream products from an other order plant;

6. In § 1046.73, paragraphs (a) and (f) are revised as follows:

§ 1046.73 Payments to producers and to cooperative associations.

(a) On or before the last day of each month for milk received during the first 15 days of the month from such producer who has not discontinued delivery of milk to such handler, at not less than the applicable rate pursuant to paragraph (a) (1) and (2) of this section without deductions for hauling:

(1) In August through March, the Class III price for the preceding month or 90 percent of the weighted average price for the preceding month, whichever is higher; and

(2) In April through July, the Class III price for the preceding month or 90 percent of the weighted average price for the preceding month minus the applicable rate per hundredweight described in § 1046.61(g), whichever is higher.

(f) Each handler shall pay to the cooperative association for milk received from it as a handler described in § 1046.9 (c) as follows:

(1) On or before 2 days prior to the last day of the month for milk received during the first 15 days of the month, an amount computed at not less than the applicable rate pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section; and

(2) On or before the 10th day of the following month for milk received during the month an amount computed at not less than the value of such milk at the minimum prices for milk in each class, as adjusted by the butterfat differential specified in § 1046.74, that are applicable at the location of the receiving handler's pool plant, less the payment made pursuant to paragraph (f) (1) of this section.

Office of the Secretary

[7 CFR Part 1]

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974: IMPLEMENTATION
Proposed Rulemaking

Notice is hereby given that the Department of Agriculture (USDA) proposes to amend Subpart G of 7 CFR Part 1 by issuing § 1.123 (Specific Exemptions) of its regulations implementing the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a). In the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposing the addition of Subpart G to 7 CFR Part 1 (40 FR 32756) on August 4, 1975, this section was reserved. It was also reserved in the final regulations published on August 28, 1975 (40 FR 39519).

On those dates USDA had not determined which of its system of records were to be exempted from certain provisions of the Privacy Act pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k). This determination has now been made. Therefore, USDA proposes to adopt the following § 1.123 listing all systems of records which are to be so exempted.

Interested persons may submit written comments on this proposed regulation to: Director, Research and Operations Division, Office of the General Counsel, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, on or before September 19, 1975. All comments submitted will be available for public inspection during regular business hours in Room 2321 of the South Building, USDA. This regulation is proposed under the authority of 5 U.S.C. 301, 552.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend Subpart G of 7 CFR Part 1 by issuing § 1.123 to read as follows:

§ 1.123 Specific Exemptions.

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k), the systems of records (or portions thereof) maintained by agencies of USDA identified below are exempted from the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a (c) (3), (d), (e) (1), (e) (4) (G), (H) and (I), and (f). The reasons for exempting each system are set out in the notice for that system published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

STANDARD FOR EXPOSURE TO COKE
OVEN EMISSIONS

Extension of Comment Period; Corrections

On Thursday, July 31, 1975, a notice of proposed rulemaking regarding an occupational safety and health standard for exposure to coke oven emissions was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 32268). Interested persons were given until September 15, 1975, to submit written data, views, and arguments with respect to the proposal and to file notices of intention to appear at the hearing scheduled for November 4, 1975. Three requests for extension of time to file written comments have been received. The additional time requested ranged from 15 to 45 days. In order to provide interested persons additional time to compile information relevant to the issues raised by the proposed standard without delaying the scheduled hearing which remains set for November 4, 1975, the period for submission of written comments and for filing notices of intention to appear is hereby extended to September 30, 1975. In all other respects, the procedures for filing written comments and notices of intention to appear contained in the FEDERAL REGISTER notice published at 40 FR 32268 remain in effect.

In addition, the following changes should be made in FR Doc. 75-19869 appearing at pages 32268-32282 in the FEDERAL REGISTER for Thursday, July 31, 1975.

1. On page 32270, in the first column the twenty-fifth line, the date is corrected to read "24 May 1975".

2. On page 32272, in the second column, the seventh line from the bottom is corrected to read "measurement of the respirable particu-".

3. On page 32274, in the first column, line six of the first full paragraph is corrected to read "the measured value and the true value."

4. On page 32274, in the first column, line 10 of the fifth full paragraph is corrected to read "of the hose limits the wearer's mobility as".

5. On page 32275, in the third column, lines three and four of the fifth full paragraph are corrected to read "to be maintained to ensure that tests of the system are".

6. On page 32277, in the second column, the first sentence of the second paragraph is corrected by inserting the name "Jeanne C. Werner," before the words "OSHA Committee Management Office" and by correcting the telephone number to read "(202-523-8024)".

7. On page 32278, in the second column, line four of paragraph (e) (7) of the proposed standard is corrected by changing the word "limit" to read "level".

8. On page 32280, in the second column, paragraph (m) (1) of the proposed § 1910.1029 is corrected to read as set forth below in order to be consistent with the language of the preamble on page 32272 requiring recording of benzo(a) pyrene measurements and paragraph (m) (8) is added to read as set forth below, in order to be consistent with the language of the preamble, on page 32275, requiring records of respirator usage:

§ 1910.1029 Coke oven emissions.

(m) Recordkeeping (1) Exposure measurements. The employer shall keep an accurate record of all measurements taken to monitor employee exposure to coke oven emissions required in paragraph (e) of this section, including those required in paragraph (e) (4) of this section.

(8) Respirator usage. The employer shall keep and maintain an accurate record of all respirator usage pursuant to paragraph (g) of this section.

(1) This record shall include:

(a) Type of respirator used;

(b) The nature, duration and location of use;

(c) Name, social security number and job title of the employee using the respirator; and

(d) Measurement of coke oven emissions.

(ii) This record shall be maintained for at least five years.

10. Under Appendix B, on page 32282, in the first column, the first line in item 8 is corrected to read: "8. Fill the larry car hoppers with coal to a pre-".

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

Social Security Administration

[20 CFR Part 405]

[Regulations No. 5]

FEDERAL HEALTH INSURANCE FOR THE AGED AND DISABLED

Validation of Accreditation Surveys

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553), that the amendments to Subparts O and S of Regulations No. 5 set forth in tentative form below, are proposed by the Commissioner of Social Security with approval of the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare. The proposed amendments implement Section 244 of the Social Security Amendments of 1972 (P.L. 92-603) and Section 1865(a) of the Social Security Act pre-existing the Social Security Amendments, and relate to validation of the surveys performed by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) or by the American Osteopathic Association (AOA) to grant accreditation to hospitals participating in the Medicare program.

As a result of such accreditation, these hospitals are ordinarily presumed (the statute uses "deemed") to comply with all the Medicare conditions of participation for hospitals, subject to certain specific exceptions. For example, they are not "deemed" to meet the requirements for utilization review, as described in Section 1861(e) (6) of the Social Security Act; institutional planning, as described in Section 1861(e) (8) of the Act; health and safety requirements higher than those required for accreditation, as described in Sections 1861(e) (9) and 1865 (a) (4) of the Act; and, in the case of psychiatric and tuberculosis hospitals, the additional special staffing and medical records requirements considered necessary for the provision of intensive care under the Medicare program. The 1972 amendments require the Secretary to validate the appropriateness of this presumption with respect to JCAH-accredited hospitals, through surveys performed on a selective sample or other basis (or where a survey is appropriate, because of substantial allegations of the existence of a significant deficiency or deficiencies which would, if found to be present, be of such character as to substantially limit the provider's capacity to render adequate care, or which would adversely affect the health and safety of patients). Under the authority of Section 1865(a) of the Social Security Act, which existed before Section 244 of P.L. 92-603, the proposed amendments to the regulations provide that the Secretary will also validate AOA-accredited hospitals in the same way. As a result, AOA accreditation survey reports are not held to be confidential because Section 244, which provides confidentiality with respect to JCAH reports, does not apply to AOA reports. Procedures for the surveys have been issued by the Secretary and discussed with the JCAH and the AOA.

If it is found in the course of a selective sample validation survey, or a substantial health and safety deficiency allegation survey, that an accredited hospital is not in compliance with one or more of the Medicare health and safety conditions of participation for hospitals, the Secretary, after the date of notice of such findings to the hospital, will remove the Medicare "deemed" status of such hospital. Likewise, if an accredited hospital, following proper notice that it is the subject of such a survey, refuses to allow the Secretary (or such State agency as the Secretary may designate under Section 1864(a) of the Act) to conduct either a selective sample validation survey or a substantial health and safety deficiency allegation survey; or refuses to authorize disclosure to the Secretary (on a confidential basis for JCAH hospitals) of the most current survey report by its accrediting body, the Secretary, after the date of notice of such findings to the hospital, will remove the Medicare "deemed" status of such hospital. The Secretary's determination to remove an accredited hospital's "deemed" status would be an administrative action subject to an administrative review, but such determination would not be considered an initial determination, and therefore, the hospital does not have the rights of appeal provided in Subpart O of Regulations No. 5 (§ 405.1501 et. seq.) with respect to initial determinations.

A hospital which has had its "deemed" status removed solely because of failure to meet provisions of the National Fire Protection Association's (NFPA) Life Safety Code (21st edition, 1967), will have its "deemed" status restored more quickly if the deficiency(ies) are of the non-recurring type than if the deficiencies are of the recurring type. The hospital will have its "deemed" status restored as soon as the Secretary has determined that the non-recurring type of deficiencies have been corrected; that the hospital meets the provisions of the NFPA's Life Safety Code (21st edition, 1967); and that the hospital meets all the Medicare conditions of participation for hospitals.

Examples of Life Safety Code (LSC) deficiencies, which once corrected, could be considered non-recurring, are the installation of solid core doors or the installation of an automatic sprinkler system.

The time-period for restoration of "deemed" status applicable to non-recurring LSC deficiencies would not apply, however, to Life Safety Code deficiencies which could recur, such as failure to store hazardous materials properly, or other deficiencies related to human failure. Therefore, a hospital which loses its "deemed" status due to such recurring-type LSC deficiencies, or noncompliance with one or more Medicare health and safety condition(s) not covered by the LSC, or a combination of these deficiencies, will not have its "deemed" status restored for a period of at least 2 years after the date of the Secretary's notice to the hospital of its loss of "deemed" status. During that time there must be at least 2 successive State agency surveys for Medicare and a determination that the hospital subsequently achieved and maintained compliance with all the Medicare conditions of participation for hospitals. The 2-year period was selected because of the Joint Commission's usual 2-year survey cycle.

A hospital which loses its "deemed" status due to its refusal, following proper notice, to allow the Secretary (or such State agency as the Secretary may designate) to conduct either a selective sample validation survey or a substantial health and safety deficiency allegation survey or its refusal, following proper notice, to authorize disclosure to the Secretary (on a confidential basis for JCAH hospitals) of the most current survey report by its accrediting body, may have its "deemed" status restored when it meets certain conditions. Its "deemed" status will be restored as soon as it subsequently authorizes disclosure of its most current accreditation survey report; and permits the Secretary (or such State agency as the Secretary may designate) to conduct a selective sample validation survey or a substantial health and safety deficiency allegation survey, and following completion of such a survey, is determined to be in compliance with all the Medicare conditions of participation for hospitals.

A hospital which loses its "deemed" status due to its refusal to authorize disclosure to the Secretary (on a confidential basis for JCAH hospitals) of the most current survey report by its accrediting body, but which permits the Secretary (or such State agency as the Secretary may designate) to conduct a selective sample validation survey or a substantial health and safety deficiency allegation survey; and following completion of such a survey, is determined to be in compliance with all the Medicare conditions of participation for hospitals, will not have its "deemed" status restored until it authorizes disclosure of its most current accreditation survey report, and is determined at the time of such authorization to also be in compliance with all the Medicare conditions of participation for hospitals.

Loss of a hospital's deemed status would not automatically lead to termination of its participation in the Medicare program. A hospital that has lost its "deemed" status would be subject to the same survey and certification requirements of Section 1864(a) of the Act as imposed on non-accredited hospitals. Thus, during the period of loss of "deemed" status, an accredited hospital could remain in the Medicare program if it continued to be in compliance with all Medicare conditions of participation for hospitals or it could be terminated for failure to be in compliance with such conditions. Continued refusal by a hospital to permit the conduct of a Medicare survey would also be the basis for initiating termination of its participation in the program.

Any standard identified and promulgated by the Secretary as being higher or more precise than the requirements for accreditation adopted under the authority of Sections 1861(e) (9) and 1865 (a) (4) of the Act, i.e., necessary in the interest of the health and safety of patients, would have to be met by all Medicare-certified hospitals after the Secretary consults with the accrediting bodies concerning the higher requirements and after appropriate and adequate time for compliance. Such standard (like utilization review, institutional planning, and, in the case of psychiatric and tuberculosis hospitals, the additional special staffing and medical records requirements considered necessary for the provision of intensive care) would not be "deemed" to be met by accredited hospitals. The JCAH or the AOA may subsequently, as a condition for accreditation of a hospital, require a utilization review plan, as described in Section 1861(e) (6) of the Act, or an institutional plan, as described in Section 1861(e) (8) of the Act, or a plan which is substantially equivalent to one of those; or impose a standard which the Secretary determines is at least equivalent to the standard previously established and identified by the Secretary as being higher or more precise than the requirements for accreditation adopted under the authority of Section 1861(e) (9) of the Act. In such event, the Secretary may find that all hospitals accredited by the JCAH or the AOA are "deemed" to meet the requirements for utilization review adopted under the authority of Section 1861(e) (6) of the Act, or are "deemed" to meet the requirements for institutional planning adopted under the authority of Section 1861(e) (8) of the Act, or are "deemed" to meet the higher or more precise standard.

Prior to the final adoption of the proposed amendments to the regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in triplicate to the Commissioner of Social Security, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, P.O. Box 1585, Baltimore, Maryland 21203, on or before October 6, 1975.

Copies of all comments received in response to this notice will be available for public inspection during regular business hours at the Washington Inquiries Section, Office of Information, Social Security Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, North Building, Room 4146, 330 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20201.

The proposed amendments are to be issued under the authority contained in Sections 1102, 1861(e), 1864, 1865, 1871, and 1875(b) of the Social Security Act, as amended, 49 Stat. 647, as amended, 79 Stat. 314, as amended, 79 Stat. 326, as amended, 79 Stat. 331, 79 Stat. 332, as amended; 42 U.S.C. 1302, 1395x(e), 1395 aa, 1395bb, 1395hh and 1395ll(b).

Part 405 of Title 20 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as set forth below:

1. In § 405.1505 a new paragraph (1) is added to read as follows:

§ 405.1505 Administrative actions which are not initial determinations.

(1) The finding that, in accordance with § 405.1901(b), a hospital accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals or the American Osteopathic Association and "deemed" to meet, pursuant to section 1865 of the Act, the applicable definitional requirements of section 1861(e) of the Act, is no longer "deemed" to meet such requirements. A finding of this type may receive administrative review if the hospital submits a written request for such review within 15 days after the date of the Secretary's written notice to the hospital of such finding.

2. Paragraph (b) of § 405.1901 is revised to read as follows:

§ 405.1901 The certification process.

(b) (1) (i) Pursuant to section 1865(a) of the Act (42 U.S.C. 1395bb(a)), an institution currently accredited as a hospital by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) or by the American Osteopathic Association (AOA) shall, subject to paragraph (b) (1) (ii) of this section, be "deemed" to meet all of the title XVIII conditions of participation for hospitals, except:

(a) The requirements for utilization review as specified in section 1861(e) (6) of the Act; and

(b) The institutional planning requirements as specified in section 1861(e) (8) of the Act; and

(c) In the case of psychiatric and tuberculosis hospitals, the additional special staffing and medical records requirements considered necessary for the provision of intensive care; and

(d) Any standard identified and promulgated by the Secretary pursuant to sections 1861(e) (9) and 1865(a) (4) of sections 1861(e)(9) and 1865(a)(4) of the Act (i.e., in the interest of the health and safety of patients) as one which is higher or more precise than the requirements for accreditation, and which all hospitals certified under title XVIII of the Act must meet after the Secretary consults with the accrediting bodies concerning the higher requirements and provides appropriate and adequate time for compliance.

(ii) The provision of paragraph (b) (1)(i) of this section shall be effective only if the hospital (where it is included in a survey specified in paragraph (b) (3) of this section) authorizes the JCAH or AOA to release to the Secretary, upon the Secretary's request (or the request of such State agency as the Secretary may designate), a copy of the most current accreditation survey report of such hospital (and with respect to a report made by the JCAH, on a confidential basis).

(2) The Secretary, however, may find that all hospitals accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) or the American Osteopathic Association (AOA), as the case may be, are "deemed" to meet the requirement(s) specified in paragraph (b) (1)(i) (a), or (b), or (d) of this section, whichever is applicable, if the JCAH or AOA, as a condition for accreditation of a hospital,

(i) Requires a utilization review plan, as specified in section 1861(e)(6) of the Act, or imposes a substantially equivalent requirement; or

(ii) Requires institutional planning, as specified in section 1861(e)(8) of the Act, or imposes a substantially equivalent requirement; or

(iii) Imposes a standard which the Secretary determines is at least equivalent to the standard previously identified and promulgated by the Secretary pursuant to sections 1861(e)(9) and 1865(a)(4) of the Act, as one which is higher or more precise than the requirements for accreditation by the JCAH or AOA.

(3) Notwithstanding that a hospital is accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) or the American Osteopathic Association (AOA), the Secretary may direct that, pursuant to sections 1864(c) and 1865(a) of the Act (42 U.S.C. 1395aa(c) and 1395bb(a)), a survey be conducted on a selective-sample basis or, in response to substantial allegations or evidence of a condition adverse to the health and safety of patients, to validate the JCAH and AOA accreditation processes in any accredited hospital which has a title XVIII agreement with the Secretary (see § 405.602). (Procedures for such surveys and the proper disposition of such allegations or evidence, have been issued by the Secretary to the State agencies performing surveys (see § 405.1902(a)). Hospitals included within the surveys described in sections 1864(c) and 1865(a) of the Act, must authorize the JCAH or the AOA to release to the Secretary, upon his request (or the request of such State agency as the Secretary may designate), a copy of the most current JCAH- or AOA-accreditation survey report. The release, with respect to a report by the JCAH, shall be on a confidential basis.

(4)(i) The Secretary shall determine that an accredited hospital shall no longer be "deemed" to meet the applicable definitional requirements of section 1861(e) of the Act and shall issue a notice of such determination to the hospital if:

(a) on the basis of a selective-sample validation survey (hereafter referred to as sample validation survey) or a substantial health and safety deficiency allegation survey (hereafter referred to as deficiency allegation survey), the Secretary finds that a hospital is not in compliance with one or more of the conditions of participation contained in Subpart J of this part; or

(b) a hospital which has been notified that it is included in a sample validation survey or a deficiency allegation survey refuses, upon the request of the Secretary (or the request of such State agency as the Secretary may designate), to authorize disclosure to the Secretary (and with respect to a report by the JCAH, on a confidential basis) of a copy of the most current accreditation survey report of such hospital; or

(c) such hospital, following receipt of proper notice, refuses to allow the Secretary (or such State agency as the Secretary may designate under section 1864(a) of the Act (42 U.S.C. 1395aa(a))) to conduct either a sample validation survey or a deficiency allegation survey.

(ii) Loss of "deemed" status as provided in paragraph (b) (4) (i) of this section does not automatically lead to termination of the hospital's provider agreement (see § 405.602). A hospital that has lost its "deemed" status is subject to the same survey and certification requirements of section 1864(a) of the Act as those imposed on nonaccredited hospitals. Thus, during the period of loss of "deemed" status, an accredited hospital may continue to participate in the title XVIII program if during that period it remains in compliance with all the conditions of participation for hospitals contained in Subpart J of this part.

On the other hand, such hospital may be terminated during that period for failure to be in compliance with such conditions. Continued refusal by such a hospital to permit a survey to be conducted under section 1864(a) of the Act, shall lead to termination of its participation in the title XVIII program. (See § 405.1901(b)(5).)

(5) During the period when a hospital accredited by the JCAH or the AOA does not have "deemed" certification status, the State agency may recommend to the Secretary that the hospital's agreement with the Secretary (pursuant to § 405.602) be terminated for cause (see § 405.614) if:

(i) After extensive State agency consultation and assistance, it has been determined that such hospital no longer meets the conditions of participation necessary to qualify as a hospital; or

(ii) The hospital continues to refuse to allow the Secretary (or such State agency as the Secretary may designate) to conduct either:

(a) A selective-sample validation survey; or

(b) A substantial health and safety deficiency allegation survey; or

(c) A State agency survey under section 1864(a) of the Act.

(6) A hospital which has lost its "deemed" status due to its refusal to authorize disclosure to the Secretary (on a confidential basis with respect to a report by the JCAH) of the most current survey report by its accrediting body; or its refusal, following receipt of proper notice, to allow the Secretary (or such State agency as the Secretary may designate) to conduct either a sample validation survey or a deficiency allegation survey, shall have its "deemed" status restored if it subsequently:

(i) Authorizes disclosure of its most current accreditation survey report; and

(ii) Permits the Secretary (or such State agency as the Secretary may designate) to conduct a sample validation survey or a deficiency allegation survey; and

(iii) Following completion of such a survey, is determined to be in compliance with all the conditions of participation contained in Subpart J of this part.

(7)(i) A hospital which has lost its "deemed" status due to its refusal to authorize disclosure to the Secretary (with respect to a report by the JCAH, on a confidential basis) of the most current survey report by its accrediting body; but which permits the Secretary (or such State agency as the Secretary may designate) to conduct a sample validation survey or a deficiency allegation survey and, following completion of such a survey, is determined to be in compliance with all the conditions of participation contained in Subpart J of this part, shall not have its "deemed" status restored until it:

(a) Authorizes disclosure of its most current accreditation survey report; and

(b) Is determined to be in compliance with all the conditions of participation contained in Subpart J of this part.

(ii) During the period of its refusal to authorize disclosure of such survey report, such a hospital remains in the title XVIII program on the basis of its being in compliance with all the conditions of participation contained in Subpart J of this part.

(8) A hospital which lost its "deemed" status solely because of its failure to meet such provisions of the National Fire Protection Association's (NFPA) Life Safety Code (21st edition, 1967) as are applicable to hospitals which participate in the title XVIII program and which, when corrected, are not expected to recur in the foreseeable future (e.g., installation of solid core doors or the installation of an automatic sprinkler system) shall have its "deemed" status restored as soon as the Secretary has determined that:

(i) The deficiencies have been corrected; and

(ii) The hospital meets the provisions of the NFPA's Life Safety Code (21st edition, 1967); and

(c) The certifications by the State agency represent recommendations to the Secretary. The Secretary, on the basis of such certifications by the State

(iii) The hospital meets all the conditions of Subpart J of this part.

(9)(i) The provisions of § 405.1901(b) (8) relating to the time period for restoration of "deemed" status which apply in the case of non-recurring deficiencies, do not apply, however, to Life Safety Code deficiencies which may recur, such as failure to store hazardous materials properly or other deficiencies related to human failure. Therefore, a hospital may not have its "deemed" status restored until 2 years after the date of the Secretary's notice to the hospital of its loss of "deemed" status if such hospital has lost its "deemed" status due to:

(a) Recurring-type Life Safety Code deficiencies, as described in paragraph (b) (9) (i) of this section; or

(b) Noncompliance with one or more of the condition(s) which are contained in Subpart J of this part, but are not included in the Life Safety Code; or

(c) A combination of those reasons specified in paragraphs (b) (9) (i) (a) and (b) of this section.

(ii) Upon the expiration of the 2-year period specified in paragraph (b) (9) (i) of this section, the hospital may have its "deemed" status restored if the Secretary has determined (or as soon thereafter as he does determine) that the hospital has been found to have achieved and maintained compliance with all of the applicable conditions of participation on each of two successive State agency surveys performed after the date of the Secretary's notice to the hospital of its loss of "deemed" status.

3. Paragraphs (a) and (c) of § 405.1902 are revised to read as follows:

§ 405.1902 Certification by State agency.

(a) Sections 1864 (a) and (c) of the Social Security Act provide that the services of State agencies, operating under agreements with the Secretary, will be used by the Secretary in determining whether providers or prospective providers, including hospitals accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) or the American Osteopathic Association (AOA), meet the conditions of participation; or suppliers meet the conditions of coverage (see § 405.1901(a)). Under section 1864 (c) of the Act, the Secretary may also enter into agreements whereby the appropriate State or local agency will survey participating hospitals (accredited by the JCAH or AOA) on a selective-sample basis or where the Secretary finds that a substantial health and safety deficiency allegation survey is appropriate (see § 405.1901(b)). Pursuant to these agreements, State or local agencies shall survey each provider and supplier and certify to the Secretary as to whether they are found to be in compliance with the conditions of participation and/or coverage.

(c) The certifications by the State agency represent recommendations to the Secretary. The Secretary, on the basis of such certifications by the State agency, shall determine whether a provider or supplier is eligible to participate in the Health Insurance for the Aged and Disabled Program (title XVIII of the Act) or whether a hospital accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) or the American Osteopathic Association (AOA) should retain, lose, or regain its "deemed" certification status under section 1865(a) of the Act (see § 405.1901(b)). Notice of determination of eligibility or non-eligibility or with respect to "deemed" certification status will be sent to the provider or supplier.

[Docket No. 75-23, Notice 1]

MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY STANDARDS Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking on Electrical System Integrity

This is an advance notice of proposed rulemaking to establish a motor vehicle safety standard to regulate electrical system integrity. It is issued to gather information relevant to the development of a standard that would ameliorate the threat of fires involving the electrical system and ensure the crashworthiness of the electrical system and its components. No rule will be issued on this subject without further notice of proposed rulemaking and the opportunity to comment.

Various studies have indicated that gasoline vapor can easily be ignited by electrical sparks. Although there are no conclusive data relating to the number of motor vehicle fires directly caused by electrical sparks, there is sufficient evidence to demonstrate that the electrical system plays an important role in the vulnerability of vehicles to fires. Statistics indicate that between 500 and 750 deaths are caused yearly by motor vehicle fires. Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 301, Fuel System Integrity, 49 CFR 571.301, regulates the spillage of fuel as a means of preventing motor vehicle fires during crash situations. The implementation of Standard 301, however, handles only one major cause of motor vehicle fires. It is the NHTSA's view that establishment of minimum performance requirements for motor vehicle electrical systems would combat the other major contributor to these fires.

The NHTSA is also concerned with electrical system component failure and malfunction. Malfunction or failure of headlamps, taillamps, defrosters and defoggers, electric windows and door locks, and anti-skid systems poses a safety threat. Promulgation of a standard that would ensure a continuing minimum level of operation for these electrical systems would, thus, achieve greater overall safety for vehicle occupants.

In order to assess the advisability of issuing such a standard and to arrive at a satisfactory and objective set of performance criteria, the NHTSA would like to receive comments and information relating to the following areas of specific concern. The list of areas is intended only as a guide and should not limit the submission of comments relating to the entire problem of electrical system fires and malfunctions. Statistical data from warranty claims, fleet records, and other sources would be helpful in responding to the following list:

The extent of fatalities, injuries, and property damage resulting from both collision-induced and noncollision motor vehicle fires, and statistical data on their causes.

Specific motor vehicle ignition sources, including electrical system arcing.

Practicable countermeasures for those ignition sources deemed to be the most likely cause of motor vehicle fires, including costs for implementing such countermeasures and resulting benefits. Countermeasures to be considered should include, but not be limited to, automatic electric circuit deactivation in severe crashes, use of nonconductive, impact-resistant battery housing to minimize the likelihood of arcing as an ignition source, and retention of physical integrity of the battery after impact.

Need for independent overload protection for specific safety related components.

Protective measures to ensure at least partial system operation of critical safety components in the event of short circuits and/or open circuits in the associated wiring, connectors, and components.

Necessity for prescribed voltage operating limits at specified safety component terminals under prescribed conditions of engine speed and accessory load.

Need for countermeasures, such as use of redundant and fail-safe components, to ameliorate effects of malfunction of components critical to operation of the total vehicle electrical system or major parts thereof.

Need for driver indicators of tail and brake light outage, and methods of installing such features.

Recent developments in battery design which reduce "gassing," and thereby ameliorate the possibility of explosion initiated by sparks during connection or disconnection of battery cables.

Protective and corrective action already in effect on certain car models to alleviate electrical system integrity problems, including cost data and cost-benefit analyses on these measures.

Countermeasures which have been developed or considered but not implemented, including related technical and economic problems and benefit-cost data.

Arguments for or against the development of more extensive electrical system failure countermeasures.

Possible test procedures that could be incorporated into a standard to evaluate electrical system integrity.

Interested persons are invited to submit comments on the proposal. Comments should refer to the docket number and be submitted to: Docket Section, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, Room 5108, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, D.C. 20590. It is requested but not required that 10 copies be submitted.

All comments received before the close of business on the comment closing date indicated below will be considered, and will be available for examination in the docket at the above address both before and after that date. To the extent possible, comments filed after the closing date will also be considered. However, the rulemaking action may proceed at any time after that date, and comments received after the closing date and too late for consideration in regard to the action will be treated as suggestions for future rulemaking. The NHTSA will continue to file relevant material as it becomes available in the docket after the closing date, and it is recommended that interested persons continue to examine the docket for new material.

MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY STANDARDS Proposed Redefinition of "School Bus"

This notice proposes amending the definition of "school bus" in 49 CFR 571.3, to make it consistent with the definition of "schoolbus" used by Congress in the Motor Vehicle and Schoolbus Safety Amendments of 1974, Pub. L. 93-492, which mandated the promulgation of Federal motor vehicle safety standards covering eight aspects of school bus performance.

Congress defined "schoolbus" as "a passenger motor vehicle which is designed to carry more than 10 passengers in addition to the driver, and which the Secretary determines is likely to be significantly used for the purpose of transporting primary, preprimary, or secondary school students to or from such schools or events related to such schools." The present definition in Part 571 focuses on design rather than use: "School bus" means a bus designed primarily to carry children to and from school, but not including buses operated by common carriers in urban transportation of school children." This definition does not include all the vehicle types "likely to be significantly used" in school transportation. Especially in the case of small van-type vehicles, the fact that the same basic vehicle may be used as a commercial delivery truck, a camper, a small moving van, a family station wagon, or a commuter bus as well as a school bus makes it difficult to include many van designs under the existing "designed primarily" definition. Yet van-type vehicles are "likely to be significantly used" in school transportation and the NHTSA is therefore required to issue standards which cover them.

After careful consideration of the alternatives, the NHTSA has tentatively decided to define "school bus" according to the purpose for which the bus is sold. Responsibility for complying with safety standards applicable to school buses would rest with the seller who was party to the first sale of a vehicle in which either party intended the vehicle to be used for the purpose of carrying children to and from school or related events. Thus, if a bus were equipped by its manufacturer with school bus lights, painted school bus yellow, or labeled a school bus, the manufacturer would have to comply with all safety standards for school buses. If the bus were not so equipped the manufacturer would not be responsible for certification as a school bus unless he had reason to know a particular vehicle was "likely to be significantly used" as a school bus. A dealer who took a bus or MPV and painted it yellow or added a school bus lighting system would be responsible. So would a dealer knowingly selling any MPV or bus capable of being converted and used as a school bus to a school or a school bus contract operator, unless the buyer made it clear that the vehicle would not be used to transport school children. While difficult borderline cases may be imagined, NHTSA believes such instances would prove rare. By focusing on the intended use of each vehicle, nearly all vehicles which ought to meet the school bus standards would be covered, and very few vehicles which ought not to be required to meet them would be affected.

The practicality of this definition depends to some extent on the good faith of schools and other school bus purchasers, and also on the present and anticipated operation of the used bus market and the vehicle conversion market. Comments are particularly requested that include data and opinions concerning the effect on these markets of the proposed definition.

In consideration of the foregoing it is proposed that in 49 CFR 571.3 the definition of school bus be amended to read:

§ 571.3 Definitions.

(b) * * *

"School bus" means a bus which is equipped to carry more than 10 passengers in addition to the driver and which is sold, or introduced, or delivered for introduction in interstate commerce, for purposes that include carrying students to and from school or related events, but does not include buses designed and sold for operation as a common carrier in urban transportation.

ALABAMA

Approval and Promulgation of Implementation Plans

On May 31, 1972 (37 FR 10842), the Administrator approved portions of the Alabama plan to attain and maintain the national ambient air quality standards in the State. Chapter 5 of the air pollution control regulations included in the approved Alabama plan provides for the control of sulfur compound emissions. On August 8, 1974 (39 FR 28528), the Administrator approved changes in Part 5.1, Fuel Combustion, of this chapter except as the new emission limits of the revised Part 5.1 apply to the Tennessee Valley Authority's Widows Creek Steam Plant. The State now proposes to make changes in Part 5.2, Sulfuric Acid Plants, of its original regulations. The latter changes were adopted by the Alabama Air Pollution Control Commission on April 22, 1975, after notice and public hearing, and were submitted for the Agency's approval on July 25, 1975. The purpose of the present notice is to describe the proposed changes in Part 5.2 and to invite public comment on them.

The regulations dealing with sulfuric acid plants now read in their entirety as follows:

5.2 Sulfuric Acid Plants. No person shall cause or permit sulfur dioxide tail gas emissions from sulfuric acid manufacturing plants to exceed 6.5 lb/ton of 100 percent sulfuric acid produced. The tail gas acid mist emissions are not to exceed 0.5 lb/ton of sulfuric acid produced and the sulfur trioxide emissions are not to exceed 0.2 lb/ton of sulfuric acid produced.

For existing sulfuric acid plants in operation on January 18, 1972, when the original regulations of the plan were adopted, the limits on acid mist and sulfur trioxide emissions would remain as specified above. The limit on SO<sub>2</sub> emissions, however, would be relaxed to 27 pounds per ton of 100% H<sub>2</sub>SO<sub>4</sub> produced, except that sources now emitting less than 27 lb SO<sub>2</sub>/ton 100% H<sub>2</sub>SO<sub>4</sub> would not be allowed to increase emissions of this pollutant.

Also, new sulfuric acid plants would be required to meet SO<sub>2</sub> and acid mist emission limits equivalent to those specified in the Agency's New Source Performance Standards for this category of sources: 4 lb SO<sub>2</sub> and 0.15 lb H<sub>2</sub>SO<sub>4</sub> mist per ton of 100% acid produced (40 CFR 60.82 and 60.83).

Finally, all sulfuric acid plants would be required to install, calibrate, maintain, and operate equipment for the continuous monitoring and recording of sulfur dioxide emissions. Such equipment must be approved by the State air pollution control agency.

In connection with the present plan revision, the State submitted, in addition to revised sulfur dioxide control strategy information, diffusion modeling results for the vicinity of three existing sources: Stauffer Chemical Company and American Cyanamid Company of Mobile County and Swift Chemical Company of Dothan. The State asserts that this supporting information shows that approval of the revision would not interfere with the attainment and maintenance of the national ambient air quality standards for sulfur dioxide.

Interested persons are encouraged to participate in this rulemaking by submitting written comments on the proposed plan revision just described. To be considered, comments must be received on or before October 6, 1975. After relevant comments and other available information have been weighed in the light of requirements set forth in the Clean Air Act and in the Agency's implementing regulations at 40 CFR Part 51, the Administrator will take action on the Alabama proposal.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Proposed Revision to Implementation Plan

On March 20, 1973 (38 FR 7323, 7325), the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), acting in response to a court order, notified the District of Columbia that Transportation Control Plans (TCP's) must be submitted by April 15, 1973 for its portion of the National Capital Air Quality Control Region (AQCR). In response, the District of Columbia submitted a plan on April 20, 1973.

The strategies proposed included improved mass transit, parking disincentives, emission inspection programs and additional stationary source controls. Although portions of this plan were approvable, the plan could not be approved in its entirety. On June 22, 1973 (38 FR 16550, 16556), the Administrator issued an approval/disapproval notice containing EPA's evaluation of the District's plan.

The District of Columbia responded in a timely fashion to correct some of the deficiencies in its original submissions, submitting supplemental material on July 9 and July 16, 1973. Public comment on these additional submissions was invited by a FEDERAL REGISTER notice on July 18, 1973 (38 FR 19132).

On August 2, 1973, the Administrator published a proposed TCP for the District of Columbia portion of the National Capital AQCR (38 FR 20758). The proposals were largely based on the material submitted by the District of Columbia, State of Maryland, and Commonwealth of Virginia. Public hearings on these EPA proposals were held in the District on September 5, 1973.

Portions of the material submitted in April and July by the District were approved by the Administrator on December 8, 1973 (38 FR 33702). In this same notice, the Administrator promulgated a TCP, which to the maximum extent possible reflected the preferences of the District of Columbia.

On May 6, 1975, the District of Columbia submitted an amendment to the District's Implementation Plan, along with proof that hearings were held on December 10, 1974 in accordance with the requirements set forth in 40 CFR Part 51, Requirements for Preparation, Adoption and Submittal of Implementation Plans. The submission is comprised of a pilot bikelane project, consisting of immediate institution of 14.87 miles of bikelanes. The bikelanes are located in various parts of the District and are of varied design. The District has also requested that the bikelane program be considered a replacement to the pilot bikelane project for Pennsylvania Avenue set forth in 40 CFR 52.491(g), contending that the pilot bikelane project promulgated by EPA would be difficult to implement for the following reasons: (1) The route chosen may lead to traffic, safety, and funding problems, (2) the design criteria set forth by EPA is too stringent.

This notice is to advise the public of receipt of this amendment to the District of Columbia's Implementation Plans, and to request public comments, especially comments pertaining to the adequacy of the network in terms of safety factors and user demand. Only those comments received on or before October 6, 1975, will be considered. The Administrator's decision to approve or disapprove this proposed revision will be based on whether it meets the requirements of section 110(a)(2)(A)(H) of the Clean Air Act and the requirements set forth in 40 CFR Part 51. If this revision is approved, the Administrator will consider action to rescind 40 CFR 52.491(g).

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[17 CFR Parts 240 and 249]

[Release No. 34-11922; File No. S7-583]

REGISTRATION OF TRANSFER AGENTS

Proposed Rule and Related Form

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") has under consideration a proposal to adopt Rule 17Ac2-1, 17 CFR 240.17Ac2-1, and related Form TA-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Act"), 15 USC 78a et seq.

Proposed Rule 17Ac2-1 would require each transfer agent for which the Commission is the appropriate regulatory agency, as defined in Section 3(a)(34)(B)<sup>1</sup> of the Act, to file with the Commission an application for registration on Form TA-1.

BACKGROUND

As amended by the Securities Acts Amendments of 1975 (the "1975 Act"), which was signed into law on June 4, 1975,<sup>2</sup> the Act provides for federal regulation of the securities handling process, including clearing agencies, depositories, and transfer agents, with the view to facilitating the establishment of a national system for the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of securities transactions. In some areas the Commission's authority is exclusive; in other areas, the Commission's authority is shared with federal bank regulatory agencies (i.e., the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Comptroller of the Currency, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation).

<sup>1</sup> Section 3(a)(34)(B) of the Act defines the term "appropriate regulatory agency" when used with respect to a clearing agency or transfer agent to be: "(i) the Comptroller of the Currency, in the case of a national bank or a bank operating under the Code of Law for the District of Columbia, or a subsidiary of any such bank; (ii) the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, in the case of a State member bank of the Federal Reserve System, a subsidiary thereof, a bank holding company, or a subsidiary of a bank holding company which is a bank other than a bank specified in clause (i) or (iii) of this subparagraph; (iii) the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, in the case of a bank insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (other than a member of the Federal Reserve System), or a subsidiary thereof; and (iv) the Commission in the case of all other clearing agencies and transfer agents."

One of the areas in which the Commission and the federal bank regulatory agencies have shared regulatory authority is the registration of transfer agents.

Pursuant to Section 17A(c) of the Act, on and after December 1, 1975,<sup>3</sup> it will be unlawful for any transfer agent subject to the registration requirements to make use of the mails or any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce to perform the function of a transfer agent unless registered with the appropriate regulatory agency for such transfer agent. Transfer agents for securities registered under Section 12 of the Act, or for securities which would be required to be registered under Section 12 except for the exemption from registration contained in subsections (g)(2)(B) or (g)(2)(G) of Section 12 (which subsections relate to securities of investment companies and insurance companies), are subject to the registration requirement.

The term "transfer agent" is defined in Section 3(a)(25) of the Act to mean any person who engages, on behalf of an issuer of securities or on behalf of itself as an issuer of securities, in (i) counter-signing such securities upon issuance, (ii) monitoring the issuance of such securities with a view to preventing unauthorized issuance, a function commonly performed by a person called a registrar, (iii) registering the transfer of such securities, (iv) exchanging or converting such securities, or (v) transferring record ownership of securities by bookkeeping entry without physical issuance of securities certificates. The term "transfer agent" does not include any insurance company or separate account which performs such functions solely with respect to variable annuity contracts or variable life policies which it issues or any registered clearing agency which performs such functions solely with respect to options contracts which it issues.

A transfer agent which is a national bank or a subsidiary of any such bank or a bank operating under the Code of Law for the District of Columbia or a subsidiary of any such bank is required to register with the Comptroller of the Currency. A transfer agent which is a State member bank of the Federal Reserve System or a subsidiary of any such bank, a bank holding company or a subsidiary of a bank holding company which is a bank<sup>4</sup> (other than a bank which is required to register with the Comptroller of the Currency or the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation) is required to register with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. A transfer agent which is a bank insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

<sup>4</sup> Section 3(a)(34) of the Act provides that for purposes of that section the terms "bank holding company" and "subsidiary of a bank holding company" have the meanings given them in Section 2 of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956.

(other than a bank which is a member bank of the Federal Reserve System) or a subsidiary thereof is required to register with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. All other transfer agents are required to register with the Commission.

Under the Act, a transfer agent registers by filing with the appropriate regulatory agency an application for registration containing information and documents prescribed by the appropriate regulatory agency. Registration of a transfer agent becomes effective thirty days after receipt of the application for registration by the appropriate regulatory agency for the transfer agent, unless the appropriate regulatory agency takes affirmative action to accelerate, deny or postpone the registration in accordance with the provisions of Section 17A(c).

Each federal bank regulatory agency is publishing, concurrently with the publication of this rule and registration statement, a substantially similar rule and an identical registration statement for transfer agents which are required to register with that agency.

PROPOSED RULE 17Ac2-1

Pursuant to proposed Rule 17Ac2-1, a transfer agent for which the Commission is the appropriate regulatory agency will be required to apply for registration with the Commission on, and in accordance with the instructions contained in, Form TA-1. The filing of any amendment to an application for registration, which has not become effective, will postpone the effective date of the registration until the thirtieth day after the date on which the amendment was filed, unless the Commission takes affirmative action to accelerate, deny or postpone the registration in accordance with the Act.

Within ten calendar days following the date on which any information contained in items 1-5 of Form TA-1 becomes inaccurate, misleading or incomplete, the registrant will be required to file an amendment to Form TA-1 correcting the inaccurate, misleading or incomplete information. Within thirty calendar days following the close of any calendar year quarter (beginning with the calendar quarter ending March 31, 1976) during which the information reported at items 6-7 of Form TA-1 becomes inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the registrant shall file an amendment on Form TA-1 correcting the inaccurate, incomplete or misleading information. Form TA-1 shall constitute a "report" or "application" within the meanings of Sections 17, 17A(c) and 32(a) of the Act.

PROPOSED FORM TA-1

Form TA-1 will be a common form for the registration of all transfer agents required to register under the Act. Form TA-1 is designed to identify, and to provide basic information related to, transfer agents and to aid in the development of appropriate regulatory standards. The information requested includes the name of the registrant, the address of the principal place of the registrant's business, the address of the principal office(s) for transfer agent activities, the name of the person in charge of the registrant's transfer agent activities, the registrant's form of organization, the types of transfer agent activities engaged in by the registrant, the names of issues for which the registrant acts as transfer agent (or co-transfer agent) or registrar (or co-registrar), the nature and extent of the registrant's insurance coverage relating to transfer agent activities and certain operational data pertaining to the registrant's transfer agent activities. Comments on proposed Form TA-1 may include comments on the format of the Form.

STATUTORY BASIS

Proposed Rule 17Ac2-1 and Form TA-1 thereunder would be adopted pursuant to Sections 2, 17, 17A and 23(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78b, 78g, 78q-1 and 78w(a).

The text of proposed Rule 17Ac2-1 (§ 240.17Ac2-1) follows:

§ 240.17Ac2-1 Application for registration of transfer agents.

(a) An application for registration, pursuant to Section 17A(c) of the Act, of a transfer agent for which the Commission is the appropriate regulatory agency, as defined in section 3(a)(34)(B) of the Act, shall be filed with the Commission on Form TA-1, in accordance with the instructions contained therein.

(b) The filing of any amendment to an application for registration as a transfer agent pursuant to paragraph (a) of this rule, which registration has not become effective, shall postpone the effective date of the registration until the thirtieth day following the date on which the amendment is filed unless the Commission takes affirmative action to accelerate, deny or postpone the registration in accordance with the provisions of section 17A(c) of the Act.

(c) Within ten calendar days following the date on which any information reported at items 1-5 of Form TA-1 becomes inaccurate, misleading or incomplete, the registrant shall file an amendment on Form TA-1 correcting the inaccurate, misleading or incomplete information. Within thirty calendar days following the close of any calendar year quarter (beginning with the calendar quarter ending March 31, 1976) during which the information reported at items 6-7 of Form TA-1 becomes inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the registrant shall file an amendment on Form TA-1 correcting the inaccurate, incomplete or misleading information.

(d) Every registration or amendment filed pursuant to this rule shall constitute a "report" or "application" within the meanings of section 17, 17A(c) and 32(a) of the Act.

Section 249... is proposed to be amended as follows:

§ 249... Form TA-1, for application for registration as a transfer agent pursuant to section 17A(c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or to amend such application.

This form shall be used for application for registration as transfer agent pursuant to section 17A(c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or to amend such application.

NOTE.—Copies of proposed Form TA-1 have been filed with the Office of the Federal Register as part of this document. Additional copies will be available on request from the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549.

All interested persons are invited to submit their views on proposed Rule 17Ac2-1 and Form TA-1 to George A. Fitzsimmons, Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 500 North Capitol Street, Washington, D.C. 20549, no later than September 29, 1975. Reference should be made to File No. S7-583. All comments received will be subject to public inspection.

By the Commission.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Comptroller of the Currency

[12 CFR Part 9]

FIDUCIARY POWER OF NATIONAL BANKS AND COLLECTIVE INVESTMENT FUNDS

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

Notice is hereby given that the Comptroller of the Currency (the "Comptroller") pursuant to Sections 17, 17A and 23(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (Secs. 14, 15 and 18 of Pub. L. 94-29, 89 Stat. 137, 141 and 155 (15 U.S.C. 78g, 78q-1 and 78w1) (the "Act")) proposes to add a new § 9.20 and related Form TA-1 to Part 9 of Title 12 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Proposed § 9.20 would require each transfer agent for which the Comptroller is the appropriate regulatory agency, as defined in Section 3(a)(34)(B)<sup>1</sup> of the Act, to file with the Comptroller an application for registration on Form TA-1.

BACKGROUND

As amended by the Securities Acts Amendments of 1975 (the "1975 Act"), which was approved on June 4, 1975,<sup>2</sup> the Act provides for federal regulation of the securities handling process, including clearing agencies, depositories, and transfer agents, with the view to facilitating the establishment of a national system for the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of securities transactions. In some areas the Securities and Exchange Commission's ("SEC") authority is exclusive; in other areas, the SEC's authority is shared with federal bank regulatory agencies (i.e., the Comptroller, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation).

One of the areas in which the Comptroller and the SEC have shared regulatory authority is the registration of transfer agents.

Pursuant to Section 17A(c) of the Act, on and after December 1, 1975,<sup>3</sup> it will be unlawful for any transfer agent subject to the registration requirements to make use of the mails or any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce to perform the function of a transfer agent unless registered with the appropriate regulatory agency for such transfer agent. Transfer agents for securities registered under Section 12 of the Act, or for securities which would be required to be registered under Section 12 except for the exemption from registration contained in subsections (g)(2)(B) or (g)(2)(G) of Section 12 (which subsections relate to securities of investment companies and insurance companies), are subject to the registration requirement.

The term transfer agent is defined in Section 3(a)(25) of the Act to mean any person who engages, on behalf of an issuer of securities or on behalf of itself as an issuer of securities, in (i) counter-signing such securities upon issuance, (ii) monitoring the issuance of such securities with a view to preventing unauthorized issuance, a function commonly performed by a person called a registrar, (iii) registering the transfer of such securities, (iv) exchanging or converting such securities, or (v) transferring record ownership of securities by bookkeeping entry without physical issuance of securities certificates. The term transfer agent does not include any insurance company or separate account which performs such functions solely with respect to variable annuity contracts or variable life policies which it issues or any registered clearing agency which performs such functions solely with respect to options contracts which it issues.

A transfer agent which is national bank or a subsidiary of any such bank or bank operating under the Code of Law for the District of Columbia or a subsidiary of any such bank is required to register with the Comptroller. A transfer agent which is a State member bank of the Federal Reserve System or a subsidiary of any such bank, a bank holding company or a subsidiary of a bank holding company which is a bank<sup>4</sup> (other than a bank which is required to register with the Comptroller or the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation) is required to register with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. A transfer agent which is a bank insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (other than a bank which is a member bank of the Federal Reserve System) or a subsidiary thereof is required to register with the Federal Deposit Insurance transfer agent activities, the registrant's which the information reported at items ister with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. All other transfer agents are required to register with the SEC.

Under the Act, a transfer agent registers by filing with the appropriate regulatory agency an application for registration containing information and documents prescribed by the appropriate regulatory agency. Registration of a transfer agent becomes effective thirty days after receipt of the application for registration by the appropriate regulatory agency for the transfer agent, unless the appropriate regulatory agency takes affirmative action to accelerate, deny or postpone the registration in accordance with the provisions of Section 17A(c).

Each federal bank regulatory agency and the SEC is publishing, concurrently with the publication of the regulation and registration statement, a substantially similar regulation and an identical registration statement for transfer agents which are required to register with that agency.

PROPOSED § 9.20

Pursuant to proposed § 9.20, a transfer agent for which the Comptroller is the appropriate regulatory agency will be required to apply for registration with the Comptroller on, and in accordance with the instructions contained in, Form TA-1. The filing of any amendment to an application for registration, which has not become effective, will postpone the effective date of the registration until the thirtieth day after the date on which the amendment was filed, unless the Comptroller takes affirmative action to accelerate, deny or postpone the registration in accordance with the Act. Within ten calendar days following the date on which any information contained in items 1-5 of Form TA-1 becomes inaccurate, misleading or incomplete, the registrant will be required to file an amendment to Form TA-1 correcting the inaccurate, misleading or incomplete information. Within thirty calendar days following the close of any calendar year quarter (beginning with the calendar quarter ending March 31, 1976) during which the information reported at items 6-7 of Form TA-1 becomes inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the registrant shall file an amendment on Form TA-1 correcting the inaccurate, incomplete or misleading information. Form TA-1 shall constitute a "report" or "application" within the meanings of Sections 17, 17A(c) and 32(a) of the Act.

PROPOSED FORM TA-1

Form TA-1 will be a common form for the registration of all transfer agents required to register under the Act. Form TA-1 is designed to identify, and to provide basic information related to, transfer agents and to aid in the development of appropriate regulatory standards. The information requested includes the name of the registrant, the address of the principal place of the registrant's business, the address of the principal office(s) for transfer agent activities, the name of the person in charge of the registrant's transfer agent activities, the registrant's form of organization, the types of transfer agent activities engaged in by the registrant, the names of issues for which the registrant acts as transfer agent (or co-transfer agent) or registrar (or co-registrar), the nature and extent of the registrant's insurance coverage relating to transfer agent activities and certain operational data pertaining to the registrant's transfer agent activities.

Comments on proposed Form TA-1 may include comments on the format of the Form.

STATUTORY BASIS

Proposed § 9.20 and Form TA-1 thereunder would be adopted pursuant to Section 17, 17A and 23(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

COMMENTS

All interested parties are invited to submit comments in writing to C. Westbrook Murphy, Deputy Comptroller for Law and Chief Counsel, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, DC 20219, to be received not later than September 29, 1975. Such comment material will be made available to the public for inspection and copying upon request except as provided in § 4.16(a) of the Comptroller's rules concerning the availability of information.

Dated: August 28, 1975.

(SEAL) JAMES E. SMITH,
Comptroller of the Currency,
Administrator of National Banks.

It is proposed to amend 12 CFR Part 9 by adding a new § 9.20, to read as follows:

§ 9.20 Registration of National Bank Transfer Agents.

(a) An application for registration, pursuant to Section 17A(c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Act"), of a transfer agent for which the Comptroller is the appropriate regulatory agency, as defined in Section 3(a) (34) (B) of the Act, shall be filed with the Comptroller on Form TA-1, in accordance with the instructions contained therein.

(b) The filing of any amendment to an application for registration as a transfer agent pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, which registration has not become effective, shall postpone the effective date of the registration until the thirtieth day following the date on which the amendment is filed unless the Comptroller takes affirmative action to accelerate, deny or postpone the registration in accordance with the provisions of Section 17A(c) of the Act.

(c) Within ten calendar days following the date on which any information reported at items 1-5 of Form TA-1 becomes inaccurate, misleading or incomplete, the registrant shall file an amendment on Form TA-1 correcting the inaccurate, misleading or incomplete information. Within thirty calendar days following the close of any calendar year quarter (beginning with the calendar quarter ending March 31, 1976) during which the information reported at items 6-7 of Form TA-1 becomes inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the registrant shall file an amendment on Form TA-1 correcting the inaccurate, incomplete or misleading information.

(d) Every registration or amendment filed pursuant to this rule shall constitute a "report" or "application" within the meanings of Sections 17, 17A(c) and 32(a) of the Act.

FOOTNOTES

<sup>1</sup> Section 3(a) (34) (B) of the Act defines the term "appropriate regulatory agency" when used with respect to a clearing agency or transfer agent to be: "(i) the Comptroller of the Currency, in the case of a national bank or a bank operating under the Code of Law for the District of Columbia, or a subsidiary of any such bank; (ii) the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, in the case of a State member bank of the Federal Reserve System, a subsidiary thereof, a bank holding company, or a subsidiary of a bank holding company which is a bank other than a bank specified in clause (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph; (iii) the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, in the case of a bank insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (other than a member of the Federal Reserve System), or a subsidiary thereof; and (iv) the Commission in the case of all other clearing agencies and transfer agents."

FORM TA-1

UNIFORM FORM FOR REGISTRATION AS A TRANSFER AGENT AND FOR AMENDMENT TO REGISTRATION AS A TRANSFER AGENT PURSUANT TO SECTION 17A OF THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934 (THE "ACT").

I. General Instructions for Preparing and Filing Form TA-1

1. Form TA-1 is to be used to apply for registration and to amend registration with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or the Securities and Exchange Commission. The respective addresses for filing are included as a separate page following these instructions.

2. A. A transfer agent which is a national bank or a subsidiary of any such bank or a bank operating under the Code of Law for the District of Columbia or a subsidiary of any such bank is required to register with the Comptroller of the Currency.

B. A transfer agent which is a State member bank of the Federal Reserve System or a subsidiary of any such bank, a bank holding company or a subsidiary of a bank holding company which is a bank (other than a bank which is required to register with the Comptroller of the Currency or the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation) is required to register with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

C. A transfer agent which is a bank insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (other than a bank which is a member bank of the Federal Reserve System) or a subsidiary thereof is required to register with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Six copies of Form TA-1, Schedule A and any attachments are to be completed and filed with the appropriate regulatory agency for the transfer agent, as set forth in instruction 2 immediately above. An exact copy should be retained for your records. Copies of Form TA-1 and Schedule A may be obtained from any of the agencies listed on the pages following these instructions. Copies of Form TA-1 and Schedule A may be mechanically duplicated and are acceptable for filing provided an original, manual signature is affixed in response to item 13 of Form TA-1 on each copy. Form TA-1 and Schedule A may be duplicated by any method producing legible copies, of type size identical to that in the Form, on good quality, unglazed, white paper, 8 1/2 x 11 inches in size.

4. If Form TA-1 is filed by a corporation, it shall be signed in the name of the corporation by a principal officer duly authorized; if it is filed otherwise than by a corporation, it shall be signed by a duly authorized principal of the organization filing the Form.

5. If the space provided for any answer on Form TA-1 is insufficient, the complete answer shall be prepared on Schedule A, which shall be attached to the Form.

6. Individuals' names, except for executing signatures, shall be given in full wherever required (last name, first name, middle name). The full middle name is required. Initials are not acceptable unless the individual legally has only an initial.

7. A Form TA-1 which is not prepared and executed in compliance with applicable requirements may be returned as not acceptable for filing. However, acceptance of Form TA-1 shall not constitute any finding that it has been filed as required or that the information submitted is true, current, or complete.

8. Unless the context otherwise requires, "registrant" means the entity on whose behalf Form TA-1 is filed, whether as a registration or as an amendment to a previously filed Form TA-1.

9. The information contained in Form TA-1 shall be amended upon the happening of certain events (See instruction 12 relating to amendments to Form TA-1).

10. Section 17(c) (1) of the Act, among other things, requires every transfer agent who files a registration form or amendment thereto with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Comptroller of the Currency or the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to file a copy of such registration form or amendment with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Securities and Exchange Commission and the federal bank regulatory agencies have developed procedures pursuant to which the federal bank regulatory agencies will transmit a copy of any registration form or amendment filed with them to the Securities and Exchange Commission. Accordingly, such filings with the federal bank regulatory agencies by transfer agents for which the Commission is not the appropriate regulatory agency will constitute filings with the Commission for purposes of Section 17(c) (1) of the Act.

II. Instructions Relating to Filing Form TA-1 as a Registration Form

11. If Form TA-1 is being filed as a registration form, all applicable items are required to be answered in full. If any item is not applicable, respond with "none" or "N/A" (not applicable), as appropriate.

III. Instructions Relating to Filing Form TA-1 as an Amendment to a Registration Form

12. Within ten calendar days following the date on which information reported at items

1-5 of Form TA-1 becomes inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the registrant shall file an amendment on Form TA-1 correcting the inaccurate, incomplete or misleading information. Within thirty calendar days following the close of any calendar year quarter (beginning with the calendar quarter ending March 31, 1976) during which the information reported at items 6-7 of Form TA-1 becomes inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the registrant shall file an amendment on Form TA-1 correcting the inaccurate, incomplete or misleading information.

13. If an item is amended, the registrant must answer all other items on the page on which the amended item appears and must file the new page and a properly executed page 6. Unless Schedule A or an attachment is being amended, it is not necessary to file a new Schedule A or attachment pertaining to an unamended item on a page which is filed because it contains an amended item.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE Agency for International Development HOUSING GUARANTY PROGRAM FOR CHILE

Information for Investors

The Agency for International Development ("A.I.D.") is advising the Central Bank of Chile (the "Borrower") that A.I.D. is prepared to guaranty repayment of principal and interest on a loan in an amount not to exceed $25 million by an eligible U.S. investor to the Borrower. The amount of this loan will be in addition to a loan in an amount up to $30 million which A.I.D. previously announced for the information of investors in the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 25, 1975.

A.I.D.'s guaranty will be subject to execution of an agreement by an eligible U.S. investor acceptable to A.I.D. for the loan and subject to the satisfaction of certain further terms and conditions by the Borrower. The guaranty will be backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America and will be issued pursuant to authority, contained in section 222 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended (the Act). Proceeds of the loan will be used to finance housing for lower income families organized in cooperatives.

Eligible investors interested in extending a guaranteed loan to the Borrower should communicate promptly with:

Edgar Mann, Central Bank of Chile, c/o CORFO, World Trade Center Building, Suite 5151, New York, N.Y. 10048; telephone 212-466-6705.

Investors eligible to receive a guaranty are those specified in section 233(c) of the Act. They are: (1) U.S. citizens; (2) domestic corporations, partnerships, or associations substantially beneficially owned by U.S. citizens; (3) foreign corporations whose share capital is at least 95 percent owned by U.S. citizens; and (4) foreign partnerships or associations wholly owned by U.S. citizens.

To be eligible for a guaranty, the loan must be repayable in full no later than the thirtieth anniversary of the first disbursement of the principal amount thereof and the interest rate may be no higher than the maximum rate to be established by A.I.D.

Information as to eligibility of investors and other aspects of the A.I.D. housing guaranty program can be obtained from:

Director, Office of Housing, Agency for International Development, Room 300E, SA-2, Washington, D.C. 20523.

This notice is not an offer by A.I.D. or by the Borrower. The Borrower and not A.I.D. will select a lender and negotiate the terms of the proposed loan.

PETER M. KIMM,
Director of Housing, Agency for International Development.

Antitrust Division

UNITED STATES V. THE CLEVELAND TRUST COMPANY

Proposed Consent Judgment and Competitive Impact Statement

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the Antitrust Procedures and Penalties Act, 15 U.S.C. § 16(b)-(h), that a proposed consent judgment and a competitive impact statement as set out below have been filed with the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio in Civil Action No. C-70-301, the United States of America v. The Cleveland Trust Company. The original complaint in this case alleged that the effect of Cleveland Trust's stock holdings in Acme-Cleveland Corp., Pneumo-Dynamics Corp., Warner & Swasey Company, and White Consolidated Industries, Inc., major manufacturers of automatic machine tools, may have been to substantially lessen competition. It further alleged that Cleveland Trust Company officers served on the boards of directors of Pneumo-Dynamics, W & S, and White in violation of Section 8. The claims asserting a violation of Section 7 and Section 8 (with respect to Pneumo-Dynamics) were dismissed by the court on July 31, 1974.

The proposed judgment prohibits The Cleveland Trust Company from permitting any of its officers to sit on the boards of directors of both Warner & Swasey Co. and White Consolidated Industries, so long as these corporations, or their subsidiaries, engage in the machine tool businesses as defined in the proposed judgment. The defendant is further enjoined, until January 1, 1985, from allowing any of its officers to sit on the boards of directors of two or more companies listed in the proposed judgment, as well as unnamed new entrants which compete in the specified machine tool lines. Public comments are invited on or before November 3, 1975. Such comments and responses thereto will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and filed with United States of America, Plaintiff, v. The Cleveland Trust Company, Defendant; Civil Action No. C70-301; Filed: August 28, 1975.

STIPULATION

It is stipulated by and between the undersigned parties, by their respective attorneys, that:

1. A final judgment in the form hereto attached may be filed and entered by the Court, upon the motion of either party or upon the Court's own motion, at any time after compliance with the requirements of the Antitrust Procedures and Penalties Act, 15 U.S.C. § 16, and without further notice to either party or other proceedings, provided that plaintiff has not withdrawn its consent, which it may do at any time before the entry of the proposed final judgment by serving notice thereof on defendant and by filing that notice with the Court.

2. In the event plaintiff withdraws its consent or if the proposed final judgment is not entered pursuant to this stipulation, this stipulation shall be of no effect whatever and the making of this stipulation shall be without prejudice to plaintiff and defendant in this and any other proceeding.

For the Plaintiff:

FINAL JUDGMENT

United States of America, Plaintiff, v. The Cleveland Trust Company, Defendant; Civil Action No. C70-301; Judge Frank J. Battisti

Plaintiff, United States of America, having filed its Amended Complaint on October 4, 1972, and defendant having filed its Answer thereto denying the material allegations of the Amended Complaint, and defendant having consented to jurisdiction over its person, and the Court on July 31, 1974, having dismissed the Amended Complaint as to Section 7 of the Act of Congress of October 15, 1914, commonly known as the Clayton Act, as amended, 15 U.S.C. § 18 ("Section 7") and (as to Pneumo-Dynamics Corporation) Section 8 of the Act of Congress of October 15, 1914, commonly known as the Clayton Act, as amended, 15 U.S.C. § 19 ("Section 8"), and plaintiff and defendant, by their respective attorneys, having each consented to the entry of this Final Judgment without trial or adjudication of any issue of fact or law herein and without this Final Judgment constituting any evidence or admission by any party hereto with respect to any such issue;

Now, Therefore, before the taking of any testimony, without trial or adjudication of any issue of fact or law herein, and upon consent of the parties as aforesaid, it is hereby Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed as follows:

I. This Court has jurisdiction of the Clayton Act Section 8 claims of plaintiff now pending in this action and of the parties hereto. With respect to such still pending claims the Amended Complaint states a claim against defendant upon which relief may be granted under Section 8.

II. As used in this Final Judgment:

(A) "MSA business" shall mean the manufacture and sale, in the United States, of new multiple spindle automatic bar and chucking machines, which are non-portable, power-driven, metal-cutting machine tools which have a completely self-acting or self-regulated mechanism which controls the movement of a cutting tool, movement of a spindle and indexing of a spindle carriage and have, in a spindle carriage which indexes from position to position, more than one rotating spindle to each of which a workpiece to be cut may be attached and each of which turns the work-piece in relationship to a cutting tool.

(B) "SSA business" shall mean the manufacture and sale, in the United States, of new single spindle automatic bar and chucking machines, which are non-portable, power-driven, metal-cutting machine tools which have a completely self-acting or self-regulated mechanism which controls the movement of a cutting tool and of the spindle in a pre-set manner, and have only one rotating spindle to which a work-piece to be cut may be attached and which turns the work-piece in relationship to a cutting tool.

(C) "VBM business" shall mean the manufacture and sale, in the United States, of new vertical boring mills, which are non-portable, power-driven, self-regulated metal-cutting machine tools which operate by turning about a vertical axis a work-piece in contact with a cutting tool for the purpose of removing metal from either the interior or the exterior of a work-piece which is fixed by a chucking device to a horizontal bed which is at least 26 inches in diameter.

(D) "Defendant" shall mean The Cleveland Trust Company, its parent, subsidiaries, successors and assigns.

(E) "Executive Officer" shall mean the Chairman of the Board, President, any Executive Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, any other officer designated as an Executive Officer by The Cleveland Trust Company and, for the purpose of this Final Judgment only, the officer in charge of the trust department.

(F) "Sale" shall mean regular commercial sale in the ordinary course of business.

(G) "W&S" shall mean The Warner & Swasey Company, an Ohio corporation, and its subsidiaries, successors and assigns.

(H) "White" shall mean White Consolidated Industries, Inc., a Delaware corporation, and its subsidiaries, successors and assigns.

III. The provisions of this Final Judgment shall apply to defendant and each of its present and future officers and employees, and to all other persons in active concert or participation with any of them who receive actual notice of this Final Judgment by personal service or otherwise. None of the provisions of this Final Judgment shall be applicable to the foreign commerce of the United States.

IV. From and after the date of entry of this Final Judgment, defendant shall:

(A) Refuse to hire or cease to employ, as an officer or employee of defendant, any individual who is or becomes a Director of W&S or White if, at the same time, an officer or employee of defendant is a Director of the other of those two corporations, so long as both corporations engage (1) in the MSA business or SSA business, or (2) in the VBM business.

(B) Refuse to hire or cease to employ, as an officer or employee of defendant, any individual who is or becomes a Director of one of the following corporations if, at the same time, an officer or employee of defendant is a Director of another of the following corporations, so long as both corporations themselves or through their subsidiaries are engaged in the MSA business or the SSA business:

(1) Any corporation (or unit of it, as indicated in parentheses) among the following:

COMPETITIVE IMPACT STATEMENT

United States of America, Plaintiff, v. the Cleveland Trust Company, Defendant; Civil Action No. C 70-301; Judge Frank Battisti; Filed: August 28, 1975.

Pursuant to Section 2(b) of the Antitrust Procedures and Penalties Act (15 U.S.C. 16 (b)-(h)), the United States of America hereby files this Competitive Impact Statement relating to the proposed Consent Judgment submitted for entry in this civil antitrust proceeding.

I—NATURE AND PURPOSE OF THE PROCEEDING

On March 26, 1970, the United States filed suit against The Cleveland Trust Company ("Cleveland Trust") charging that it had violated Sections 7 and 8 of the Clayton Act. The complaint alleged that Cleveland Trust's acquisition of a substantial number of shares of stock of four competing manufacturers of machine tools, Acme-Cleveland Corp., Pneumo-Dynamics Corp., Warner & Swasey Company, and White Consolidated Industries, Inc., was in violation of Section 7 of the Clayton Act. The complaint also alleged that Cleveland Trust officers served on the boards of directors of Pneumo-Dynamics, Warner & Swasey, and White in violation of Section 8 of the Clayton Act. The complaint sought to have Cleveland Trust divest its stock interest and eliminate the interlocking directorships in these companies.

An amended complaint was filed October 4, 1972, limiting the Section 7 claim to the acquisition of stock in Pneumo-Dynamics Corp. and Acme-Cleveland Corp. by Cleveland Trust and leaving the Section 8 claim unchanged. In 1972, Pneumo-Dynamics Corp. sold its machine tool operations, thus removing itself from the line of commerce alleged in the complaint and amended complaint.

On April 27, 1973, the Government filed a motion for summary judgment. In turn, Cleveland Trust filed a motion to dismiss the Government's complaint on the grounds that the retirement from Cleveland Trust of the two employees serving on the Warner & Swasey and White boards and Pneumo-Dynamics' withdrawal from the machine tool business mooted the Government's claims under Sections 7 and 8 of the Clayton Act.

The Court dismissed the Government's Section 7 claim and Section 8 claim as it related to Pneumo-Dynamics on July 31, 1974. The Court found that Pneumo-Dynamics' withdrawal from competition with Acme-Cleveland in the machine tool market, and the unlikelihood that it would reenter the market, rendered the relief requested by the Government unnecessary. However, the Court recognized that the Government might well be able to prove, assuming a violation of Section 8 were shown, that the danger of recurrent violation existed. The Court therefore denied Cleveland Trust's motion as to the alleged illegal interlocks between Cleveland Trust and Warner & Swasey and White.

The Court denied the Government's motion for summary judgment on the remaining Section 8 claims primarily on the ground that there remained a genuine issue of fact, viz., whether Cleveland Trust had deputized its officials to sit on the boards of directors of Warner & Swasey and White. Summary judgment was therefore inappropriate. Section 8 of the Clayton Act provides in pertinent part that "No person at the same time shall be a director in any two or more corporations . . .

if such corporations are . . . competitors . . ." The Government's Section 8 claim rested on the fact that Cleveland Trust, a corporation, by placing its employees on the boards of competing corporations in the machine tool business had violated Section 8.

The proposed Consent Judgment will terminate litigation as to the remaining Section 8 claims.

II—PROPOSED CONSENT JUDGMENT

The proposed Consent Judgment prohibits Cleveland Trust from permitting any of its officers or employees from serving as directors of both Warner & Swasey Co. and White Consolidated Industries, so long as these corporations, or their subsidiaries, engage in the machine tool businesses as defined in the proposed Consent Judgment.

Cleveland Trust is further enjoined, until January 1, 1985, from permitting any of its officers or employees to serve as directors of any two or more companies which are listed in the Consent Judgment and which compete in the machine tool business.

The proposed Consent Judgment also enjoins Cleveland Trust, until January 1, 1985, from permitting any of its officers or employees to serve on the boards of any two corporations, or subsidiaries thereof, which are or become engaged in the machine tool business as defined in the proposed Consent Judgment.

Cleveland Trust is further required to give personal notice of the prohibitions contained in the proposed Consent Judgment to all of its officers and employees and is required to incorporate the terms of the injunctive provisions of the proposed Consent Judgment in its Personnel Policy Manual.

III—ANTICIPATED EFFECTS ON COMPETITION

The evidence in this case did not encompass known restraints of trade but did encompass the probability that such restraints might result from the interlocking directorates involved. Thus, the impact on competition of the proposed Consent Judgment cannot be measured in terms of specific effects which might release identifiable competitive forces. The sole anticipated effect upon competition is the removal of the danger that anticompetitive effects will result from interlocking directorates.

IV—REMEDIES AVAILABLE TO POTENTIAL PRIVATE PLAINTIFFS

This Consent Judgment may not be used in private litigation as prima facie evidence, pursuant to Section 5(a) of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. 16(a)), that the antitrust laws have been violated. However, anyone damaged by the alleged violation retains the right to sue for money damages and all other legal and equitable remedies, just as if the proposed Consent Judgment had not been entered.

V—PROCEDURES AVAILABLE FOR MODIFICATION OF CONSENT JUDGMENT

This proposed Consent Judgment is subject to a stipulation between the parties that the United States may withdraw its consent to the proposed Judgment at any time within 60 days or until the Court finds that entry of the proposed Consent Judgment is in the public interest. Any persons so desiring may submit written comments relating to the proposed judgment for consideration by plaintiff to John A. Weedon, Chief, Great Lakes Field Office, 995 Celebrezze Federal Building, Cleveland, Ohio 44199. Such comments, together with responses thereto, will be filed with the Court and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

VI—DESCRIPTION AND EVALUATION OF ALTERNATIVES TO THIS PROPOSED CONSENT JUDGMENT

The United States considered one alternative to the proposed judgment. That alternative was a proposed decree which would have enjoined the defendant from ever having an officer or employee sit on the board of directors of any of a list of machine tool companies, including Warner & Swasey and White, if at the same time an employee of defendant sat on the board of directors of any other listed machine tool company. The injunctive provisions of the proposed decree are perpetual only with respect to interlocks involving Warner & Swasey and White; as to all other listed companies, such provisions terminate in ten years. The broader decree, proposed by the Government, was rejected by the defendant.

The Government would have had to proceed to trial to obtain further relief. It was felt that the public benefit that might be derived from any such relief was not worth the costs and risks of proceeding to trial. Moreover, the relief contained in the proposed decree eliminates the interlock which gave rise to the complaint and prohibits similar interlocks in the machine tool industry for a period of ten years.

No materials and documents of the type described in Section (b) of the Antitrust Procedures and Penalties Act (15 U.S.C. 16(b)) were considered in formulating this proposed Consent Judgment.

Drug Enforcement Administration IMPORTATION OF CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES

Importation Application

Pursuant to Section 1008 of the Controlled Substance Import and Export Act (21 U.S.C. 958(h)), the Attorney General shall, prior to issuing a registration under this section to a bulk manufacturer of a controlled substance in schedule I or II, and prior to issuing a regulation under section 1002(a) authorizing the importation of such a substance, provide manufacturers holding registrations for the bulk manufacture of the substance an opportunity for a hearing.

Therefore in accordance with § 1311.42 of Title 21, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), notice is hereby given that the following importers made application to the Drug Enforcement Administration to be registered as importers of the basic class of controlled substance listed below: Cord Laboratories, Inc., 2555 West Midway Blvd., Broomfield, Colorado 80020 (July 24, 1975):

Drug:	Schedule
Opium powders	II
Codeine	II
Hydrocodone	II

Bureau of Reclamation

GENERAL ADJUSTMENTS IN POWER RATES

Tentative Power Rate Changes for Five Reclamation Projects

Tentative rate increases for wholesale commercial hydroelectric power sold by five Bureau of Reclamation multipurpose projects are announced to be made effective on the first full billing date on or after January 1, 1977.

The five projects involved are the Central Valley Project in northern California; the Parker-Davis Project serving Arizona, southern Nevada, and southern California; the Colorado River Storage Project in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, New Mexico, Nevada, and Arizona; the Rio Grande Project in New Mexico; and the Eastern and Western Divisions of the Pick-Sloan Missouri Basin Program serving customers in Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Minnesota, and Iowa.

Final decisions as to the exact amounts of the increases will be made following a series of public forums at which there will be an opportunity for public participation in the development of the adjustments in the power rates.

The tentative rate changes by project are as follows:

Central Valley Project—Change the existing wholesale firm demand rate from $1.15 per kilowatt per month (kW/mo) to $1.70/kW/mo, and replace the 3 mills per kilowatt-hour (kWh) energy block with a two-step rate of 4 mills/kWh for energy under 60 percent load factor and 6 mills/kWh above 60 percent load factor.

The actual rate for Central Valley Project power will depend on the outcome of present negotiations with the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, the major investor-owned utility in northern California which purchases surplus power from the Central Valley Project. The wholesale firm demand rate could be increased from $1.15/kW/mo to $1.80/kW/mo, and the rate for energy use could go to 5 and 7 mills/kWh, depending on the negotiations.

Parker-Davis Project—Change the existing wholesale firm rate from $1.35/kW/mo to $1.38/kW/mo and raise the existing energy rate of 3 mills/kWh to 3.5 mills/kWh.

Colorado River Storage Project—Change the existing wholesale firm demand rate from $1.32 kW mo to $1.34/kW mo. Change the existing energy rate one entry of each intake and return air course in its entirety, idle workings, and in-material to be hauled long distances in the return air course. Since the required mand rate from $1.32 kW mo to $1.34 kW mo. Change the existing energy rate of 3 mills/kWh to 3.4 mills/kWh. Change the future peaking capacity rate from $15.84 kW/yr to $8.04 kW/season.

Rio Grande Project—Change the wholesale firm demand rate of $1.55 to $3.20 kW/mo. The existing energy rate would be increased from 4.5 mills/kWh to 8.5 mills/kWh.

Pick-Sloan Missouri Basin Program—Eastern Division—Change the peaking power rate from $13.20/kW/yr to $7.20/kW/season. Change the wholesale firm demand rate from $1.15 to $1.20 kW/mo. The existing energy rate would be changed from 3 mills/kWh to 3.2 mills/kWh for energy under 60 percent load factor. For energy above 60 percent load factor, the rate would be changed from 5 mills/kWh to 3.2 mills/kWh.

Pick-Sloan Missouri Basin Program—Western Division—Change the peaking power rate from $15.50/kW/yr to $8.04/kW/season. Change the wholesale firm demand rate from $1.27 to $1.34 kW/mo. The existing energy rate of 4 mills/kWh will be retained.

For contract violations involving unauthorized overruns, the rate will be changed from five times to 10 times the wholesale rate for Parker-Davis Project, the Colorado River Storage Project, and the Pick-Sloan Missouri Basin Program only. The rate has been eliminated from the Central Valley Project and the Rio Grande Project.

Brochures explaining in detail the tentative rate changes and containing the schedule for public forums in each Reclamation region will be mailed to customers and other interested parties September 4, 1975.

[Docket No. M 75-109]

CRESCENT HILLS COAL COMPANY, INC.

Petition for Modification of Application of Mandatory Safety Standard

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of section 301(c) of the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969, 30 U.S.C. § 861(c) (1970), Crescent Hills Coal Company, Inc. has filed a petition to modify the application of 30 CFR 75.305 to its Crescent Hills Mine, Washington County, Pennsylvania.

30 CFR 75.305 in pertinent part, provides:

In addition to the pre-shift and daily examinations required by this Subpart D, examinations for hazardous conditions, including tests for methane, and for compliance with the mandatory health or safety standards, shall be made at least once each week by a certified person designated by the operator in the return of each split of air where it enters the main return, on pillar falls, at seals, in the main return, at least one entry of each intake and return air-course in its entirety, idle workings, and insofar as safety considerations permit abandoned areas.

Petitioner seeks modification of that portion of Section 75.305 which requires a certified person to make a weekly examination in each return split of air with respect to the return air course between the pitmouth and the No. 1 Main Working Section in No. 1 Hill, and the No. 2 North Mains in No. 3 Hill.

(1) At the subject mine, over three and one-half (3½) miles of primary return air courses are used to ventilate the haulage roads and active sections. Of this length, approximately two (2) miles of return air courses must be examined weekly in accordance with Section 75.305 of the Departmental regulations.

(2) Most of the development at the mine was done before roof bolts were used at this mine for roof support, and timbers were used for support as part of the mining cycle. These timbers have long since deteriorated due to adverse conditions (moisture, roof pressure, etc.) leaving most of the roof unsupported. Even in the areas where roof bolts were used, the roof has deteriorated above the anchorage and fallen, leaving the roof unsupported. Only the haulage road entries have been maintained. As the roof deteriorated, numerous falls have occurred, filling the entries and leaving little clearance in most areas. High, tight falls have also occurred in numerous places. Travel through this area is extremely difficult, following a zig-zag path, and extremely dangerous in some areas due to the deteriorated ribs and flaking roof that could fall when disturbed. Water also forms an impassable barrier in several places.

(3) Due to the poor conditions (roof falls, deteriorated roof and ribs, and water) in the return air course between the pitmouth, and the No. 1 Main Working Section in No. 1 Hill, and the No. 2 North Mains in No. 3 Hill, weekly examinations for hazardous conditions were considered, in themselves, too hazardous to be performed. As a result, they could not be safely performed and thus Petitioner was in violation of the Act. Only the mainline haulage (empty and loaded track) is located in this area. There is a fan in each of the Hills and each fan handles approximately 90,000 cubic feet per minute of air at 0% methane. In the lifetime of this mine, there has never been any methane encountered.

(4) To attempt to rehabilitate the two and one-half (2½) miles more or less, of return air courses would be a difficult task requiring tremendous expenditures of labor and money with years until completion. No mechanical equipment could be used in the return air course to aid in the rehabilitation work so all work would have to be performed by hand. The entire rehabilitation work would be hazardous and would be exposing workmen to unnecessary danger that would exist despite all safety precautions or actions taken by the company. In addition, access to the return is limited due to falls and places where the roof has been shot down to grade the haulage forcing needed material to be hauled long distances in the return air course. Since the required rehabilitation is neither practical, feasible, or safe, an alternative method is proposed that would guarantee the miners at the subject mine no less than the same measure of protection afforded by the mandatory standard.

(5) ALTERNATE METHOD:

Despite the condition existing in the return aircourse, at certain points, air readings can be made to assure the air flow in its proper course and usual volume. The alternate method is as follows:

(a) Six (6) air measuring stations would be established underground. One would be located at the face of each section, and one approximately midway and one at the fans. In addition, the air readings taken at the locations will be kept on record.

(b) Guidelines for the establishment of air measuring stations would be as follows:

1. Air readings will be made by a certified, competent person, at such times as the law requires.

2. Both access to and the vicinity of the measuring stations will be kept in travelable and safe conditions.

3. A date board will be located at each measuring station and air quantity readings will be taken and recorded along with the certified person's initials, date, and time, at such times as the law provides.

4. All employees required to perform measurements at the underground stations will be certified for such work on the basis of state examinations.

(6) Although return aircourses are involved, returning air from active workings, it should be noted that methane gas has never been detected during the life of this mine.

(7) Methane gas and air quantity measurements shall be taken on a daily basis (once every twenty-four (24) hours) by a certified, competent person and recorded in a book provided for this purpose which shall be kept on the surface. Such book shall be made available to the Union, Government inspectors, and all other interested persons.

(8) A mine map showing the normal direction of air flow shall be located at each monitoring station.

(9) If there are any significant variations in the quantity of air, immediate action shall be taken to determine the cause and appropriate measures taken to alleviate same.

Persons interested in this petition may request a hearing on the petition or furnish comments on or before October 6, 1975. Such requests or comments must be filed with the Office of Hearings and Appeals, Hearings Division, U.S. Department of the Interior, 4015 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, Virginia 22203. Copies of the petition are available for inspection at that address.

SAHARA COAL COMPANY, INC.

Petition for Modification of Application of Mandatory Safety Standard

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of section 301(c) of the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969, 30 U.S.C. § 861(c) (1970), Sahara Coal Company, Inc., has filed a petition to modify the application of 30 CFR 75.1405 to its Sahara Nos. 20 and 21 Mines, Harrisburg, Illinois.

30 CFR 75.1405 provides:

All haulage equipment acquired by an operator of a coal mine on or after March 30, 1971, shall be equipped with automatic couplers which couple by impact and uncouple without the necessity of persons going between the ends of such equipment. All haulage equipment without automatic couplers in use in a mine on March 30, 1970, shall be so equipped within 4 years after March 30, 1970.

In support of its petition, Petitioner states:

The haulage system at each of these mines is composed of belt haulage for transporting coal, and mine cars for the delivery of supplies and as man trip cars. These are low-sided cars made by the American Mine Car Co.

The alternate coupling method requested in this petition will provide greater protection for the miners than the automatic couplers required by 30 CFR 75.1405 by eliminating the accidental uncoupling of cars which frequently occurs when the track or mine bottom is uneven or when the cars are lowered down the slope into the mine. The alternate method will also eliminate the necessity of persons going between the cars to align the automatic couplers when they are misaligned. Statistics indicate that there have been numerous accidents and some fatalities in the industry directly attributable to automatic couplers since the above standard was adopted in 1969.

The system used at both of the aforementioned mines consists of a single link and a drop pin. This system allows for up and down or side movement between the locomotive and car without any danger of uncoupling. Additionally, only one car at a time is pulled by a locomotive, and only one man, the person operating the locomotive, is involved with coupling or uncoupling the car. Trip riders are not used at either of these mines. The person operating the locomotive couples the car from the cab of his locomotive. If it becomes necessary to couple the car to the opposite end of the locomotive, the motorman will bring his locomotive to a complete stop, and disengage the trolley pole from the trolley wire until the car is coupled. The locomotives at each of these mines are equipped with a circuit breaker which shuts the locomotive off automatically when there is a break in the power, e.g., when the trolley pole is removed from the wire. Once the pole is removed, the motorman must manually reset the circuit breaker before power is established at the controls. This procedure prohibits anyone from accidentally activating the controls and moving the locomotive.

The single link-drop pin type coupling has proven to be a safe coupling as there has been no lost time due to accidents, resulting from the coupling or uncoupling of cars at Mine No. 20, which started producing coal in March 1970, or Mine No. 21, which started producing coal in February 1971.

Each person who operates a locomotive at either of these mines is instructed in the safe operation of the equipment and the proper procedure for making a coupling.

Persons interested in this petition may request a hearing on the petition or furnish comments on or before October 6, 1975. Such requests or comments must be filed with the Office of Hearings and Appeals, Hearings Division, U.S. Department of the Interior, 4015 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, Virginia 22203. Copies of the petition are available for inspection at that address.

LITTLE LYNCHES CREEK WATERSHED

Availability of Negative Declaration

Pursuant to section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; part 1500.6(e) of the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines (38 FR 20550) August 1, 1973; and part 650.8(b)(3) of the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (39 FR 19651) June 3, 1974; the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives notice that an environmental impact statement is not being prepared for the Little Lynchies Creek Watershed Project, Kershaw and Lancaster Counties, South Carolina.

The environmental assessment of this federal action indicates that the project will not create significant adverse local, regional, or national impacts on the environment and that no significant controversy is associated with the project. As a result of these findings, Mr. G. E. Huey, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, USDA, Suite 200, 240 Stoneridge Drive, Columbia, South Carolina 29210, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement is not needed for this project.

The project concerns a plan for watershed protection, flood prevention, and municipal water supply. The planned works of improvement include conservation land treatment supplemented by five floodwater retarding structures and one multiple purpose structure for flood prevention and municipal water supply.

The environmental assessment file is available for inspection during regular working hours and single copies of the negative declaration can be obtained, upon request, at the following location:

Soil Conservation Service, USDA, Suite 200, 240 Stoneridge Road, Columbia, South Carolina 29210.

LITTLE NESTUCCA DRAINAGE DISTRICT RC&D MEASURE PLAN

Availability of Negative Declaration

Pursuant to Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; part 1500.6(e) of the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines (38 FR 20550) August 1, 1973; and part 650.8 (b) (3) of the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (39 FR 19651) June 3, 1974; the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture gives notice that an environmental impact statement is not being prepared for the Little Nestucca Drainage District RC&D Measure Plan, Tillamook County, Oregon.

The environmental assessment of this federal action indicates that the project will not create significant adverse local, regional, or national impacts on the environment and that no significant controversy is associated with the project. As a result of these findings, Mr. James W. Mitchell, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, USDA, 1220 S.W. Third Avenue, 16th Floor, Portland, Oregon 97204, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement is not needed for this project.

The plan includes works of improvement for flood prevention, drainage, and recreation. The planned works of improvement include rehabilitation of portions of the existing dike, and installation of four trestle structures, two pumping plants, and a small amount of channel revision. There will also be a boat launching ramp with related parking and rest room facilities installed.

The environmental assessment file is available for inspection during regular working hours at the following location:

Soil Conservation Service, USDA, 1220 S.W. Third Avenue, 16th Floor, Portland, Oregon 97204.

The Negative Declaration is available for single copy requests from the above address.

National Institutes of Health NIH GRANTS PEER REVIEW STUDY TEAM Establishment

The National Institutes of Health (NIH) has established an internal study team to conduct a detailed and comprehensive study of the procedures generally known as "peer review" and make a report of its findings and recommendations to the Director, NIH. The team will focus on the applicability of the peer review process to the NIH awarding instruments and programs, the attributes and problems of alternative review procedures, and the role and character of peer review in the decision-making process at the NIH. In addition to this broad charge, the study team has been asked specifically to assess the impact on and make recommendations relative to peer review and provisions of the Freedom of Information Act, the Federal Advisory Committee Act, and the Privacy Act.

The fifteen members of the study team reflect a broad cross section of the NIH. It is under the chairmanship of Dr. Ruth L. Kirschstein, Director, National Institute of General Medical Sciences. The study team at this time would be pleased to receive written comments, views, and information from the scientific community or other interested groups or individuals. These may be addressed to Dr. Mathilde Soloway, Executive Secretary, NIH Grants Peer Review Study Team, Room 4A52, Building 31, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Maryland 20014.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to Section 10(a)(2) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (P.L. 92-463), that the next meeting of the National Advisory Council on Adult Education will be held on September 25, 1975, from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. (new appointees), September 26, 1975, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and on September 27, 1975, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Sixteenth and K Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C.

The National Advisory Council on Adult Education is established under Section 311 of the Adult Education Act (80 Stat. 1216.20 U.S.C. 1201). The Council is directed to:

Advise the Commissioner in the preparation of general regulations and with respect to policy matters arising in the administration of this title, including policies and procedures governing the approval of State plans under section 306 and policies to eliminate duplication, and to effectuate the coordination of programs under this title and other programs offering adult education activities and services.

The Council shall review the administration and effectiveness of programs under this title, make recommendations with respect thereto, and make annual reports to the President of its findings and recommendations (including recommendations for changes in this title and other Federal laws relating to adult education activities and services). The President shall transmit each such report to the Congress together with his comments and recommendations.

The meeting of the Council shall be open to the public. The proposed agenda includes:

Orientation of new Presidential appointees (September 25, 1975).
Establishment of new standing committees, selection of committee chairmen, and committee members.
Establishment of ad hoc committees.
Committee meetings.
Committee reports: National Clearinghouse, Parent/Early Childhood Education, State Advisory Councils.
Congressional oversight hearing.
NACAE FY-76 operational budget.
Adult education reports from NSOE officials.

Records shall be kept of all Council proceedings (and shall be available for public inspection at the Office of the National Advisory Council on Adult Education located in Room 323, Pennsylvania Bldg., 425 13th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20004).

Signed at Washington, D.C. on August 28, 1975.

GARY A. EYRE,
Executive Director, National Advisory Council on Adult Education.

Orientation Sessions

On September 23 and 24, 1975, the new members of the National Highway Safety Advisory Committee are being invited to attend orientation sessions at the Department of Transportation Headquarters Building, 400 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C.

This is not considered an official meeting of the Advisory Committee. The orientation sessions are being conducted for the benefit of the new members and are open to the public.

The National Highway Safety Advisory Committee is composed of 35 members appointed by the President in accordance with the Highway Safety Act of 1966 (23 U.S.C. 401 et seq.). The Committee consists of representatives of State and local governments, State legislatures, public and private interests contributing to, affected by, or concerned with highway safety, other public and private agencies, organizations, and groups demonstrating an active interest in highway safety, and research scientists and other experts in highway safety.

The Advisory Committee advises, consults with, and makes recommendations to the Secretary of Transportation on matters relating to the activities of the Department in the field of highway safety. The Committee is specifically authorized (1) to review research projects or programs, and (2) to review, prior to issuance, standards proposed to be issued by the Secretary under the national highway safety program.

The orientation session will be held in room 2230 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on September 23 with the following agenda:

Presentation on Organization and Responsibilities of Advisory Committee; NHTSA; FHWA.

Briefing on State and Community Program.

Briefing on Highway Safety Standards and Status of State Implementation.

Briefing on Highway Trust Fund.

Briefing on Highway Safety Construction Programs.

The session on September 24 will be held from 8:30 a.m. until 1 p.m., with the following agenda:

Briefing on Research Programs.

Demonstration Projects Underway and Planned.

Discussion of Selected Highway Safety Programs.

Further information may be obtained from the Executive Secretariat, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, Department of Transportation, 400 Seventh Street, S.W. Washington, D.C. 20590, telephone 202-426-2872.

This notice is given pursuant to section 10(a)(2) of Public Law 92-463, Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA), effective January 5, 1973.

Issued: August 29, 1975.

CALIFORNIA HEARING

Appointment of Board Members

On July 28, 1975, the Federal Highway Administrator and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administrator acting jointly issued a notice (40 FR 32153, July 31, 1975) initiating proceedings to determine whether to invoke the sanctions specified in 23 U.S.C. section 402 against the State of California. The basis for the initiation of the proceedings was California's failure to enact a helmet use law for motorcycle drivers and passengers. The notice also announced that the sanctions hearing would be held at the Department of Transportation Headquarters Building, Room 4234, 400 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20590 at 10:00 a.m. on September 11, 1975.

Accordingly, pursuant to § 1206.7 of Title 23, Code of Federal Regulations, a review board of three officials of the Department of Transportation has been appointed to conduct the hearing in accordance with the rules of procedure set forth in Part 1206 of Title 23, Code of Federal Regulations, for the purpose of receiving evidence and views from the State of California and interested persons concerning the proposal to invoke sanctions.

The membership of the board is as follows:

Office of the Secretary Member and Presiding Officer: Herbert H. Kaiser, Jr., Deputy Assistant Secretary for Environment, Safety, and Consumer Affairs.

Federal Highway Administration Member: Francis J. Locke, Regional Counsel, Region III, Baltimore, Maryland.

National Highway Traffic Safety Administration Member: Frank Ephraim, Director of the Office of Program Evaluation.

Office of the Secretary LONG-RANGE COMMERCIAL VEHICLE GOALS

Environmental, Safety and Economic Objectives; Public Hearing

The Chairman of the Energy Resources Council requested the Secretary of Transportation "... to lead a joint task force to recommend long range energy goals to the motor vehicle fleet that will be compatible with environmental, safety and economic objectives." The ERC's request further stated:

As part of the Nation's long range effort to conserve energy, there is a need to set motor vehicle fuel economy goals beyond 1980. Such goals must meet the transportation needs for automobiles, trucks and buses, but they must also be blended with environmental, safety and economic considerations.

Separate interagency task forces have been established to approach passenger car and light truck concerns, on the one hand, and commercial vehicle (medium and heavy-duty trucks and buses) concerns on the other. Notices of Public Hearings discussing the passenger car and light truck task force work and setting forth dates for public hearings were published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 8, 1975, (40 FR 28666) and July 21, 1975, (40 FR 30522). This notice addresses the long-range commercial vehicle goals.

The long-range commercial vehicle goals study will complement the Voluntary Truck and Bus Fuel Economy Improvement Program. A docket (FE-01) to provide public comment on the form such a program should take was established in the FEDERAL REGISTER of March 26, 1975, (40 FR 13331). Comments received in response to the thirteen specific areas of concern outlined in that docket have been summarized and summaries are available as background information on both the voluntary program and the goals study from the Manager, Voluntary Truck and Bus Fuel Economy Improvement Program, TST-50, U.S. Department of Transportation, Washington, D.C. 20590. The voluntary program is designed to achieve maximum energy conservation and productivity improvement in the motor carrier industry in the near term while the long-range goals study looks at the 1980-1990 decade to provide information of value to the Federal Government and others necessary for setting realistic goals and making realistic decisions for that time frame and beyond.

The Long-Range Commercial Vehicle Goals Study will look at possible alternative futures in the 1980-1990 decade in the following areas:

- A. The Future Commercial Motor Vehicle Fleet.
  1. Sales projection—capacity.
  2. Vehicle configurations, specifications and mix.
  3. The future highway system and inter-modal mix.
- B. Fuel Economy.
  1. Technological changes.
  2. Operational changes.
- C. Environment.
  1. Gaseous emissions.
  2. Noise.
  3. Safety.
- D. New vehicles.
  1. Vehicles in use.
- E. Economic Constraints.
  1. Regulatory.
  2. System limitations.

This information will be used to outline the trade-offs necessary to achieve certain levels of fuel economy, safety, environmental control and economic control in the 1980-1990 decade. A sample future, including sample priorities, compromises and assumptions will then be explored. Finally, a rudimentary sensitivity analysis of the interactions among fuel economy, safety, environmental and economic controls, will be performed.

It is recognized that many persons concerned with the present and future commercial vehicle fleet may have taken the opportunities presented by the passenger car and light truck task force hearings to discuss their interests and concerns. This information will be forwarded to the commercial vehicle task force. However, in the interest of public participation, a separate hearing, concerned with the commercial vehicle long-range goals study alone, will be held. The hearing will be non-adversary in nature and will provide an opportunity for all concerned to provide input which they feel will be of value to the task force in its deliberations. The hearing will be held on October 8, 1975, beginning at 10 a.m., e.d.t., in Room 2330-2332, Department of Transportation (Nassif) Building, 400 7th Street, SW, Washington, D.C. 20590.

Any person wishing to be heard must make a written request for the opportunity to make an oral presentation. The request should be directed to:

Mr. David A. Fay, TST-50, Room 5222, Transit Point Building, U.S. Department of Transportation, Washington, D.C. 20590.

The request should include the approximate time necessary to make the presentation, which in no case should exceed 30 minutes. Presentation times will be assigned in the order requests are received. At this time it is not contemplated that the hearing will continue beyond 6 p.m., nor be carried over into a second day. Persons requesting to make an oral presentation will be informed, prior to the date of the hearing, of the approximate time they will be heard. A minimum of 10 copies of each presentation is requested to be submitted by each person heard. Written statements in addition to the oral statement or submitted by persons not making an oral statement are also welcome and will become part of the record. A transcript of the hearing will be made and placed in Docket No. FE-01, which is open to the public during normal working hours in the Docket Section, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, U.S. Department of Transportation, Room 5108, 400 7th Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20590. Any person may purchase a copy of the transcript from the reporter, at the cost of duplication.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on August 28, 1975.

Truck and Bus Fuel Economy Improvement Program.

EASTERN AIR LINES, INC.

Order of Investigation and Suspension Regarding Advance Ticketing

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C. on the 29th day of August, 1975.

By tariff revisions<sup>1</sup> marked to become effective September 1, 1975, Eastern Air Lines, Inc. (Eastern) proposes to tighten significantly its advance ticket purchase rule applicable in the northeast United States-Florida market for travel during the 1975/1976 Christmas/New Year holiday season. The proposed rule requires tickets to be purchased from one hour in advance of departure to not later than 5 days after acceptance of reservations, depending on how far in advance reservations are made. The present rule requires ticket purchase a maximum of four weeks prior to departure.

In support of its proposal, Eastern recites reservation problems in the northeast-Florida market during the Christmas/New Year holiday season. Allegedly flights are frequently sold out 90 days or more in advance, with consequent lack of saleable space and encouragement of speculative advance bookings. Eastern claims the wait lists for peak-period flights equal or exceed the number of seats on the flight and that 40 percent of those wait-listed reserve a seat on an alternative flight. It asserts that 58 percent of the bookings made more than 90 days in advance are canceled and that the incremental cost of efforts to fill the seats resulting from those cancellations is $1.84 per passenger. Eastern claims 67 days prior to departure is the average for bookings for peak travel periods. According to Eastern, experience shows that ticketed passengers tend to no-show at a much lower rate than persons who have not purchased tickets. Eastern claims that the proposed rule will result in a decrease in speculative bookings and be effective in streamlining the reservation procedures and in allowing it to book a significantly increased level of traffic on the flight of their choice. However, it alleges that speculative booking would not be sufficiently curtailed to offset interest paid on money held as a result of the advance ticketing rule, and Eastern therefore does not propose such interest payments. Eastern estimates, based on an average ticket price of $90.00 and its average advance reservation of 67 days, that interest would average 99 cents or about half the incremental cost per passenger from wait lists.

No complaints were filed.

Upon consideration of the tariff filing and all other relevant matters, the Board concludes that the proposed advance ticketing rule may be unjust or unreasonable, or unjustly discriminatory, or unduly preferential, or unduly prejudicial, or otherwise unlawful, and should be investigated. We further conclude that it should be suspended pending investigation.

The heavy advance bookings, cancellations, and no-show difficulties the carriers encounter in the northeast-Florida market during the Christmas/New Year holiday peak travel period have long been acknowledged by the Board, and over the years the carriers have been permitted to establish reasonable advance ticketing requirements to alleviate the problem. However, the Board has consistently suspended proposals which would tie up the passenger's money for more than four weeks where there was no provision for interest payments. Eastern's proposal to require ticketing within five days of reservation no matter when the reservation is made runs counter to that policy and would, in our opinion, impose an unnecessarily harsh burden on the passenger, tie up his funds for an unacceptably long period of time, and has not been shown to be necessary for substantial alleviation of the problem.<sup>2</sup> In our view, Eastern has not demonstrated that the present four-week maximum advance ticketing period has failed to control significant speculative advance bookings or that the proposed rule would so substantially improve the situation as to justify the added burden it would place on the passengers.<sup>3</sup>

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, and particularly sections 204, 403, 404, and 1002 thereof, it is ordered, That:

1. An investigation be instituted to determine whether the provisions of Rule 65(A) on 28th Revised Page 20-B of Airline Tariff Publishing Company, Agent's Tariff C.A.B. No. 142, and rules, regulations, or practices affecting such provisions, are or will be unjust, unreasonable, unjustly discriminatory, unduly preferential, unduly prejudicial, or otherwise unlawful, and, if found to be unlawful, to determine and prescribe the lawful provisions, and rules, regulations, or practices affecting such provisions;
2. Pending hearing and decision by the Board, the provisions of Rule 65(A) on 28th Revised Page 20-B of Airline Tariff Publishing Company, Agent's Tariff C.A.B. No. 142 are suspended and their use deferred to and including November 29, 1975, unless otherwise ordered by the Board, and that no changes be made therein during the period of suspension except by order or special permission of the Board;
3. The investigation ordered herein be assigned before an Administrative Law Judge of the Board at a time and place hereafter to be designated; and
4. Copies of this order be filed with the aforesaid tariff and be served upon Eastern Air Lines, Inc., which is hereby made a party to this proceeding.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Secretary.

<sup>2</sup>The severity of the requirement is illustrated by Eastern's claim that its reservations are made an average of 67 days in advance of departure.

PAN AMERICAN WORLD AIRWAYS, INC. AND NORTHWEST AIRLINES, INC.

Fare Investigation; Order on Reconsideration

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C. on the 29th day of August, 1975.

By Order 75-7-104, July 22, 1975, the Board instituted an investigation of the military fares listed in tariffs filed by Pan American World Airways, Inc. (Pan Am) and Northwest Airlines, Inc. (Northwest). The Board also permitted the fares and provisions set forth in these tariffs to be effective through June 30, 1976.

Five supplemental carriers jointly filed a petition on August 8, 1975, requesting the Board to reconsider Order 75-7-104 and suspend the subject tariffs pending their investigation or to expedite and terminate the investigation and the tariffs by December 31, 1975.

Answers in opposition to the petition were filed by the Department of Defense, Northwest and Pan Am.

In support of their petition the carriers state that the Category Y tariffs are completely at odds with the Board's rate-making policies set out in Part 288 of the Economic Regulations which distinguished military charter service rates from scheduled service rates. Moreover, past Board expressions have questioned the economics of the charter rates for scheduled services and, with the extension of the tariffs, the Category Y rates are becoming embedded in the fare structure. The petitioners request, in the alternative, that in this case where there is prima facie inconsistency with other Board rate determinations and where larger questions of policy and precedent are involved, the Board should fix a December 31, 1975, termination date on the Category Y tariffs and commit itself to conclude the investigation by that date.

The petition presents no new facts or considerations for Board reconsideration. The contentions raised were before the Board in reaching the decision in Order 75-7-104. As indicated therein, neither past experience nor the evidence submitted indicate an adverse impact upon the petitioners which would warrant an earlier expiration of these tariffs or a departure from normal tariff investigation procedures.

Accordingly, upon consideration of the foregoing, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, and particularly sections 204(a), 403, 404 and 1002 thereof.

It is ordered, That:
The petition for reconsideration of Order 75-7-104 in Dockets 28096, 27625 and 27684 be and it is hereby denied.

This notice is given pursuant to the Consumer Product Safety Commission's Proposed and Interim Rules of Practice for Adjudicative Proceedings published on July 23, 1974 (39 FR 26848) and which governs adjudicative proceedings in this matter.

A Notice of Enforcement has been prepared by the Commission's staff, issued by the Commission and served upon Barrett Carpet Mills, Inc., and Roy C. Barrett, individually and as an officer of the corporation (the respondents) as required by the above referenced Rules. In this Notice of Enforcement (reprinted below) the staff alleges that respondents manufactured, sold and delivered in interstate commerce between January 1, 1973 and December 31, 1973 certain carpets and rugs in style 222, Paradise Valley (foam backed) which failed to conform to the test and acceptance criteria set forth in sections 3 (b) and (c) of the Department of Commerce Standard for the Surface Flammability of Carpets and Rugs (DOC FF 1-70) as required by section 3(a) of the Flammable Fabrics Act (15 U.S.C. 1192). This defect may also be an unfair method of competition and an unfair and deceptive act within the intent and meaning of section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 45).

The docket in this matter is available in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission. Any person, other than the respondents, who desires to become a party to the proceedings, to participate in the prehearing conference, or to testify at the hearing, may request to do so by writing to the Honorable Paul N. Pfeiffer, Administrative Law Judge, Consumer Product Safety Commission, Room 1000, Washington, D.C. 20207 or by telephoning (202) 634-7171 by close of business September 8, 1975.

Dated: August 28, 1975.

SADYE E. DUNN,
Secretary, Consumer Product Safety Commission.

[CPSD Docket No. 75-5]

In the Matter of: BARRETT CARPET MILLS, INC. a corporation, and ROY C. BARRETT, individually and as an officer of the corporation.

NOTICE OF PREHEARING CONFERENCE

A prehearing conference for the purpose, inter alia, of defining the issues to be heard, providing for discovery of evidence, and establishing dates for the service of written testimony and exhibits and the time and place of hearing will be held Tuesday, September 9th, 1975 at 10 a.m. (e.d.s.t.) in the Commission's Seventh Floor Conference Room at 1750 K St., N.W. Washington, D.C. 20207.

Memoranda addressed to the above items should be served on opposing counsel by the close of business Friday, September 5th, 1975.

PAUL N. PFEIFFER,
Administrative Law Judge.

NOTICE OF ENFORCEMENT

In the Matter of: BARRETT CARPET MILLS, INC., a corporation, and ROY C. BARRETT, individually and as an officer of the corporation.

[CPSD Docket No. 75-5]

The staff of the Consumer Product Safety Commission (Commission) believes that Barrett Carpet Mills, Inc. and Roy C. Barrett, individually and as an officer of the corporation, (respondents), have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 41 et seq.), the Flammable Fabrics Act (15 U.S.C. 1191 et seq.), the rules and regulations promulgated under the Flammable Fabrics Act (16 CFR, Part 300), and the Standard for the Surface Flammability of Carpets and Rugs (FF 1-70). Commission jurisdiction over this matter is based on the transfer of functions under the foregoing Acts to the Commission by section 30 of the Consumer Product Safety Act (15 U.S.C. 2051, 2079).

The Commission has reason to believe, on the basis of evidence presented by the staff, that violations of the Acts may have occurred. It appears to the Commission that it would be in the interest of the public to issue this Notice of Enforcement to commence adjudicatory proceedings. Therefore, pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act, the Flammable Fabrics Act, and the Proposed and Interim Rules of Practice promulgated thereunder (16 CFR 1025, 39 FR 26848, July 23, 1974), the Commission has authorized the staff to issue this Notice of Enforcement.

The staff of the Commission states its charges as follows:

(1) Respondent Barrett Carpet Mills, Inc. is a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of the State of Georgia. Respondent Roy C. Barrett is an officer of the corporate respondent. He formulates, directs, and controls the acts, practices and policies of the corporation.

Respondents are engaged in the manufacture and sale of carpets and rugs with their office and principal place of business located at 2216 Abutment Road, P.O. Box 2045, Dalton, Georgia 30720.

(2) Respondents are now and have been engaged in the following: the manufacture for sale, sale or offering for sale in commerce, and the introduction, delivery for introduction, transportation and causing to be transported in commerce, and the sale or delivery after sale or shipment in commerce of products, as the terms "commerce" and "product" are defined in the Flammable Fabrics Act as amended (15 U.S.C. 1191 et seq.), which products are subject to the requirements of the Flammable Fabrics Act, the Standard for the Surface Flammability of Carpets and Rugs (FF 1-70), and the Rules and Regulations issued under the Standard and the Act. Among such products mentioned above were carpets and rugs in Style 222, Paradise Valley (foam backed), manufactured by respondents between January 1, 1973 and December 31, 1973, which are subject to the Department of Commerce Standard for the Surface Flammability of Carpets and Rugs (DOC FF 1-70), but which failed to conform to the requirements of the standard, as required by Section 3(a) of the Flammable Fabrics Act (15 U.S.C. 1192), in that they did not meet the criteria set out in § 3 (b) and (c) of the Standard.

Attached hereto are copies of the following documents, which the staff considers to constitute a prima facie case:

(1) CPSC laboratory test report, No. C-2438, showing a sample swatch of Style 222, Paradise Valley (foam back) carpet, roll #7048-21, color Copper Glow, secured at Barrett Carpet Mills, not to meet the test and acceptance criteria for carpets and rugs.

(2) Barrett Carpet Mills Invoice #15412, dated 7/19/73, showing the acquisition by David C. Gibson, Inc., 2553 Rock Hill Industrial Court, St. Louis, Missouri 63144 of Style 222, Paradise Valley (foam back) carpet, roll #7048-11, color Copper Glow, from Barrett Carpet Mills, Inc.

(3) CPSC laboratory test report, No. C-2455 showing a sample swatch of Style 222, Paradise Valley (foam back) carpet, roll #10923-12, color Antique Satin, secured at Barrett Carpet Mills, not to meet the test and acceptance criteria for carpets and rugs.

(4) Barrett Carpet Mills Invoice #18594, dated 12/14/73, showing the acquisition by David C. Gibson, Inc., 2553 Rock Hill Industrial Court, St. Louis, Missouri 63144 of Style 222, Paradise Valley (foam back) carpet, roll #7048-11, color Copper Glow, from Barrett Carpet Mills, Inc.

(5) CPSC laboratory test report, No. C-2673, showing a sample swatch of Style 222, Paradise Valley (foam back) carpet, roll #10348-11, color Fiesta Red, secured at Overberg Decorating Center, Festus, Missouri, not to meet the test and acceptance criteria for carpets and rugs.

(6) Barrett Carpet Mills Invoice #18411, dated 12/7/73, showing the acquisition of Style 222, Paradise Valley (foam back) carpet, roll #10348-11, by Overberg Decorating Center from David C. Gibson, Inc., St. Louis, Missouri, distributor for Barrett Carpet Mills.

The aforementioned Commission Exhibits shall not preclude Enforcement Counsel from offering further evidence bearing on the subject matter.

(3) The aforesaid acts and practices of respondents were and are in violation of the Flammable Fabrics Act, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder and as such constitute unfair methods of competition and unfair and deceptive acts and practices in commerce, within the intent and meaning of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

Therefore, the staff of the Consumer Product Safety Commission, with approval of the Commission, hereby issues this Notice of Enforcement on the 18th day of July 1975.

SADYE E. DUNN,
Secretary, Consumer Product Safety Commission.

STATE-FEDERAL FIFRA IMPLEMENTATION ADVISORY COMMITTEE WORKING GROUP ON ENFORCEMENT

Meeting

Pursuant to P. L. 92-463, notice is hereby given that a two-day meeting of the State-Federal FIFRA Implementation Advisory Committee's Working Group on Enforcement will be held on September 18 and 19, 1975, in Denver, Colorado.

This is the first meeting of the Working Group on Enforcement under SFFIAC auspices. The meeting will be concerned primarily with review and drafting of priorities that it feels EPA should give attention to in the enforcement area during the next 12 months, including but not limited to, needed Pesticide Enforcement Policy Statements and procedures for their development and review by the Working Group; cooperative State-Federal enforcement agreements; and performance standards for State enforcement programs.

This meeting is open to the public. For details as to the time and place, please contact George Beshore, Acting Chief, Program Support and Special Projects Branch, Office of Pesticide Programs, Environmental Protection Agency, 401 M Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20460 (202) 755-6180.

Dated: August 28, 1975.

NOISE ABATEMENT APPROACH PROCEDURES

Submission to FAA of Proposed Regulations

Section 611(c) (1) of the Federal Aviation Act (the Act) of 1958, 49 U.S.C. 1431, as amended by Section 7(b) of the Noise Control Act of 1972, 86 Stat. 1239, requires that the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) submit to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) proposed regulations to provide such control and abatement of aircraft noise and sonic boom including control and abatement through the exercise of any of the FAA's regulatory authority over air commerce or transportation or over aircraft or airport operations as EPA determines is necessary to protect the public health and welfare.

In compliance with the Act, the EPA submitted to the Administrator of the FAA on August 29, 1975 three proposed regulations on noise abatement approach procedures, as follows:

- (1) Reduced flap setting noise abatement approach for turbojet engine-powered airplanes;
- (2) Two-segment ILS noise abatement approach for turbojet engine-powered airplanes;
- (3) Visual two-segment noise abatement approach for turbojet engine-powered airplanes.

These proposed regulations have been submitted to the Federal Aviation Administration under the authority of 49 U.S.C. 1431.

Dated: August 29, 1975.

ENERGY RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT ADMINISTRATION

STUDY GROUP ON FIELD AND LABORATORY UTILIZATION

Meeting

August 28, 1975.

The Study Group on Field and Laboratory Utilization will conduct meetings during the months of September and October.

The Study Group will meet in the Conference Room of the San Francisco Operations Office in the Wells Fargo Building, Oakland, California, on September 9, 1975. A public session to discuss the role of the field operations and their relationships to ERDA contractors, and other management and organization matters, will be held starting at 9 a.m. on the morning of September 9. A closed session will be held in the afternoon. The latter session will include discussion of budget information and intra-agency communications on pending issues.

I have determined in accordance with Subsection 10(d) of Public Law 92-463, that this closed session will consist of an exchange of opinions and formulation of recommendations, the discussion of which, if written, would fall within exemption (5) of 5 USC 552(b). It is essential to close this portion of the meeting to protect free interchange of internal views and to avoid undue interference with Agency or Study Group operations.

The Chairman is empowered to conduct the meeting in a manner that in his judgment will facilitate the orderly conduct of business.

The Study Group will reconvene at the Albuquerque Operations Office in Albuquerque, New Mexico, on September 25, 1975, to discuss the role of the field operations and their relationships to ERDA contractors, and other management and organization matters.

With respect to public participation in the Study Group meetings, the following requirements shall apply: (a) persons wishing to submit written statements on agenda items for the September 9 meeting may do so by mailing 10 copies thereof, postmarked no later than September 23, 1975, to Miss Antonette Joseph, Office of the Assistant Administrator for Laboratory and Field Coordination, Energy Research and Development Administration, Washington, D.C. 20545. Additionally, persons wishing to submit written statements for the September 25 meeting may do so, as stated above, postmarked no later than October 9, 1975. Requests for the opportunity to make oral statements shall be ruled on by the Chairman of the Study Group who is empowered to apportion the time available against those selected by him to make oral statements to him; (b) questions at the meeting may be asked only by members of the Study Group; (c) seating for the public will be made available on a first-come, first-serve basis; and (d) copies of minutes will be made available for copy, following their acceptance by the Study Group in accordance with the Federal Advisory Committee Act, at the Energy Research and Development Administration Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20545, upon payment of all charges required by law.

Two or three meetings will be held in Washington, D.C., during October, tentatively scheduled for the weeks of October 6, October 13, and October 20, 1975.

Notices of these meetings will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

HARRY L. PEEBLES,
Deputy Advisory Committee
Management Officer.

FEDERAL ENERGY ADMINISTRATION

FEA REPORTS

Reports To Be Filed After August 31, 1975

Notice is hereby given that FEA reports currently required to be filed under the authority of the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973 (the "EPAA") will continue to be required to be filed pursuant to the authority in section 13 of the Federal Energy Administration Act of 1974 (the "FEAA") following the August 31, 1975 expiration of the EPAA.

Most reports now required under authority provided by EPAA concern the mandatory petroleum allocation and price programs. FEA will continue to need many of these reports for at least a short period following the expiration of EPAA to provide a basis for FEA to confirm compliance with the allocation and price regulations during the last few months preceding the expiration of EPAA. Some of these reports may also be required on a continuing basis to supplement FEA's current data collection responsibilities. Following a reasonable period of time to determine those reports necessary to assist FEA in the performance of its statutory responsibilities, FEA will provide further notice to discontinue any reporting requirements.

Therefore, FEA under authority provided by § 13 of the FEAA hereby provides notice and orders that the reports and information described in the Appendix of this notice shall continue to be submitted to FEA until further notice.

DAVID G. WILSON,
Acting General Counsel,
Federal Energy Administration.

LP-GAS INDUSTRY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Meeting

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Public Law 92-463, 86 Stat. 770), notice is hereby given that the LP-Gas Industry Advisory Committee will meet Friday, September 26, 1975 at 10 a.m., Room 3400, 12th & Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, DC.

The Committee was established to provide independent advice and review to the Federal Energy Administration with respect to the implementation of programs that affect the LP-Gas industry.

The agenda for the meeting is as follows:

1. Update Study on the Supply/Demand of LP-Gas.
2. Increased Recovery of Natural Gas Liquids from Natural Gas and the Impact of this Extraction on the BTU Content of Gas Delivered to Utilities.
3. The Role of LP-Gas Imports in Meeting U.S. Energy Requirements.

The meeting is open to the public. The Chairman of the Committee is empowered to conduct the meeting in a fashion that will, in his judgment, facilitate the orderly conduct of business. Any member of the public who wishes to file a written statement with the Committee will be permitted to do so, either before or after the meeting. Members of the public who wish to make oral statements should inform Lois Weeks, Advisory Committee Management Officer, (202) 961-7022 at least 5 days before the meeting and reasonable provision will be made for their appearance on the agenda.

Further information concerning this meeting may be obtained from the Advisory Committee Management Office.

Minutes of the meeting will be made available for public inspection at the Federal Energy Administration, Washington, D.C.

Issued at Washington, D.C., on August 29, 1975.

NORTHWEST BANCORPORATION Amended Order for Hearing

On March 21, 1975, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System entered an Order (40 Federal Register 14376), pursuant to a decision by the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit, directing that a public hearing be held on the application of Northwest Bancorporation to acquire T. G. Evensen and Associates, a corporation which provides financial and investment advice to State and local governments. Pursuant to that Board Order, the Secretary of the Board, in an Order issued July 24, 1975 (40 Federal Register 32795), appointed Philip J. LaMacchia, former Administrative Law Judge, now retired, as the Presiding Officer to conduct the hearing and set the hearing for September 16, 1975, at the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis. That Order of the Secretary is hereby amended to rescind the appointment of Philip J. LaMacchia as Presiding Officer and to appoint in his place Administrative Law Judge James W. Mast, Room 7150, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20410. James E. Scott and Allan Schott of the Board's Legal Division are hereby appointed, pursuant to the Board's Rules of Practice for Formal Hearings (12 CFR § 263.6(d)), as Board counsel to represent the Board of Governors in this proceeding.

The Secretary's Order is amended further to rescind the hearing date and to order that a prehearing conference be held at 10 a.m. (e.d.t.) on September 16, 1975, in Room 1202 of Board's Building at 20th & Constitution Avenue, N.W. in Washington, D.C., where a schedule for the hearing will be set.

By order of the Board of Governors, August 27, 1975.

NOTICES

GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE REGULATORY REPORTS REVIEW

Receipt of Report Proposals

The following requests for clearance of reports intended for use in collecting information from the public were received by the Regulatory Reports Review Staff, GAO, on August 22, 1975. See 44 U.S.C. 3512 (c) and (d). The purpose of publishing this list in the Federal Register is to inform the public of such receipt.

The list includes the title of each request received; the name of the agency sponsoring the proposed collection of information; the agency form number, if applicable; and the frequency with which the information is proposed to be collected.

Written comments on the proposed FEA forms are invited from all interested persons, organizations, public interest groups, and affected businesses. Because of the limited amount of time GAO has to review the proposed forms, comments (in triplicate) must be received on or before September 19, 1975, and should be addressed to Mr. Carl F. Bogar, Assistant Director, Office of Special Programs, United States General Accounting Office, Room 5216, 425 I Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20548. Further information may be obtained from Patsy J. Stuart of the Regulatory Reports Review Staff, 202-376-5425.

FEDERAL ENERGY ADMINISTRATION

Request for clearance of Federal Energy Administration Monthly Petroleum Reporting Forms, Refinery Report (FEA-P320-M-O), Bulk Terminal Stocks of Finished Petroleum Products (FEA-P321-M-O), Pipeline Products Report (FEA-P322-M-O), and Crude Oil Stocks (FEA-P323-M-O). These are monthly reports required to be filed by all petroleum refineries (P-320), Bulk Terminal Operating Companies (P-321), Petroleum Product Pipelines (P-322), and Operators of Crude Oil Storage Facilities (Refineries, Crude Pipelines, and Crude Lease Holders with stocks in excess of 1,000 bbls) (P-323). This information is collected under the Mandatory Authorities vested in the Federal Energy Administration under Public Law 93-275. The Bureau of Mines, Department of Interior is the data collection agent for FEA. Both the Bureau of Mines and Federal Energy Administration will use the information in the compilation of their respective petroleum statistical reports. After an initial testing period of these forms, FEA will eliminate reporting requirements for forms FEA-1002, 1003, 1004 and 1006; similarly, Bureau of Mines will eliminate its forms 1300, 1302, 1303, and 1314.

FEA-P320-M-O, Refinery Report, has about 280 respondents and requires about 4 hours per monthly report.

FEA-P321-M-O, Bulk Terminal Report, has about 188 respondents and requires about 4 hours per monthly report.

FEA-P322-M-O, Pipeline Products Report, has about 80 respondents and requires about 3 hours per monthly report.

FEA-P323-M-O, Crude Oil Stocks Report, has about 255 respondents and requires about 2 hours per monthly report.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

[TA-201-6]

SLIDE FASTENERS AND PARTS Investigation and Hearing

Investigation instituted. Following receipt of a petition on August 18, 1975, filed by the Slide Fastener Association, New York, New York, the U.S. International Trade Commission, on August 28, 1975, instituted an investigation under section 201(b) of the Trade Act of 1974 to determine whether slide fasteners and parts thereof, including tapes in continuous lengths but not including tapes wholly of textile fibers, provided for in items 745.70, 745.72, and 745.74 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States, are being imported into the United States in such increased quantities as to be a substantial cause of serious injury, or the threat thereof, to the domestic industry producing an article like or directly competitive with the imported article.

Public hearing ordered. A public hearing in connection with this investigation will be held in Washington, D.C., at 10 a.m., EST, on Monday, November 24, 1975, in the Hearing Room, U.S. International Trade Commission, 701 E Street, N.W. Requests for appearances at the hearing should be received in writing by the Secretary of the Commission at his offices in Washington not later than noon, Wednesday, November 19, 1975.

Inspection of petition. The petition filed in this case is available for public inspection at the Office of the Secretary, U.S. International Trade Commission, and at the New York City office of the U.S. International Trade Commission located at 6 World Trade Center.

By order of the Commission.

Issued: August 29, 1975.

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION BOARD Meeting and Agenda

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, Pub. L. 92-463, 86 Stat. 770, notice is hereby given that the National Credit Union Board will hold its quarterly meeting on September 30-October 1, 1975, at the offices of the National Credit Union Administration, 2025 M Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20456. The meetings will commence at 9 a.m. daily in Room 4210.

The agenda for this meeting will consist of an update briefing regarding the activities of the several offices of the National Credit Union Administration, a briefing on share insurance activities, and other aspects of the Administration. Matters for discussion will include legislative activities.

This meeting of the National Credit Union Board will be open to the public. Members of the public may file written statements with the Board either before or after the meeting. To the extent that time permits, interested persons may be permitted to present oral statements to the Board only on items listed in the aforementioned agenda. Requests to present such oral statements must be approved in advance by the Chairman of the Board. Such requests should be directed to the Chairman, National Credit Union Board, National Credit Union Administration, Washington, D.C. 20456.

NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD

[N-AR 75-22]

SAFETY RECOMMENDATIONS AND RESPONSES

Availability and Receipt

The National Transportation Safety Board has commented in a recommendation letter issued August 29, 1975, to the Federal Aviation Administration that pilots who are on an IFR flight plan and destined to arrive at night at an airport served by a published instrument approach which is restricted to daytime use should be advised of this restriction by air traffic control. Investigation of the February 21, 1975, crash of a Beechcraft BE-55 while on instrument approach to Lawrenceburg, Tennessee, prompted the Board to recommend that the FAA (1) change the wording of the restriction on the National Ocean Survey instrument approach charts for locations where night approaches are not authorized so that the restriction is clearly understood, and (2) advise pilots arriving in a terminal area on an IFR flight plan whenever the published instrument approach procedure is not authorized for night operations. Instead of an approach clearance, the FAA is requested to issue a clearance to cruise at the appropriate minimum en route altitude/minimum obstruction clearance altitude at night.

Also during the past week, the Safety Board received two letters from the Federal Aviation Administration responding to earlier Safety Board recommendations.

FAA's letter of August 6 concerns recommendations A-75-115 and 116, issued December 10, 1974, regarding the durability of CF6 engines in the DC-10 airplane. Re recommendation A-75-115 concerning modification of the tail engine inlet duct. FAA does not believe that increasing the size of the inlet duct drain hole would prevent ice from accumulating. Further, as to possible application of such measures to the Lockheed L-1011, FAA states that it has examined the service records and has not found any significant history of fan blade damage attributed to ice ingestion. Recommendation A-74-116, concerning fuel line protection for all DC-10 airplanes regardless of the engine installed, would extend the modification to airplanes having CF6 engines with solid fan blades and airplanes having JT9D engines. FAA states, "The armor modification was designed and approved for fuel line protection against damage from fragments that could be released from drilled fan blades and propelled through the inlet duct walls." Also, FAA notes that the CF6 and JT9D solid fan blades do not exhibit similar fragmentation when damaged by foreign objects.

FAA's letter of August 18 is in reply to recommendation A-75-10, issued March 4, 1975, whereby the Safety Board recommended issuance of an Airworthiness Directive to relocate the trim cutoff switch on the Learjet Model 25B airplane. The letter states, "Based on recent tests conducted by our Central Region and on the operating history of the Model 25B airplane, the FAA does not feel that adoption of the proposed recommendation is justified." During type certification, the FAA notes, the Gates Learjet Model 25B was shown "to comply with the control forces allowed under FAR 25.143 after a three-second trim runaway." Finally, the FAA states that the "existing fleet of approximately five hundred Learjets have logged 1,050,000 hours with no trim runaways having been reported."

The recommendation letter is available to the general public; single copies may be obtained without charge. A $4.00 user-service charge will be made for each recommendation response, in addition to a charge of 10¢ per page for reproduction. All requests must be in writing, addressed to: Publications Unit, National Transportation Safety Board, Washington, D.C. 20594.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. 50-440 and 50-441]

CLEVELAND ELECTRIC ILLUMINATING CO. (PERRY NUCLEAR POWER PLANT, UNITS 1 & 2)

Issuance of Revision to Limited Work Authorization

Pursuant to the provisions of 10 CFR 50.10(e) of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's (Commission) regulations, the Commission has authorized the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company to conduct certain site activities in connection with the Perry Nuclear Power Plant, Units 1 and 2 prior to a decision regarding the issuance of a construction permit. Notice of the Limited Work Authorization was published in the Federal Register on October 29, 1974 (39 FR 38125).

At that time the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board found that no barge slip construction activities that would affect the shoreline could be undertaken until the staff had completed its review of the probable maximum surge at the site and the effects of the proposed barge slip on the natural erosion rate of the shoreline. The staff has now completed its review and determined that the issue on the probable maximum surge has been resolved and that future construction of shoreline protection will not affect, or be affected by, the proposed barge slip. Construction of the proposed barge slip is within the scope of activities authorized by 10 CFR 50.10(e) (1).

A copy of (1) the Partial Initial Decisions; (2) the applicant's Preliminary Safety Analysis Report and amendments thereto; (3) the applicant's Environmental Report, and amendments thereto; (4) the staff's Final Environmental Statement dated April 1974; (5) the Commission's letters of authorization, dated October 21, and November 8, 1974; and (6) the Commission's letter revising the Limited Work Authorization to include the barge slip construction activities dated August 27, 1975, are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room at 1717 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. and the Perry Public Library, 3753 Main Street, Perry Township, Ohio.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland, the 27th day of August 1975.

Proposed Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering issuance of an amendment to Facility Operating License No. DPR-21 issued to Northeast Nuclear Energy Company, The Hartford Electric Light Company, Western Massachusetts Electric Company, and Connecticut Light and Power Company (the licensees) for operation of the Millstone Nuclear Power Station, Unit 1, located in Waterford, Connecticut.

The amendment would modify operating limits in the Technical Specifications based upon an evaluation of the ECCS

The amendment would also incorporate operating limits in the Technical Specifications based on the General Electric Thermal Analysis Basis in accordance with the licensee's application for amendment dated July 9, 1975 and supplement dated July 25, 1975.

Prior to issuance of the proposed license amendment, the Commission will have made the findings required by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations.

By October 6, 1975, the licensees may file a request for a hearing and any person whose interest may be affected by this proceeding may file a request for a hearing in the form of a petition for leave to intervene with respect to the issuance of the amendment to the subject facility operating license. Petitions for leave to intervene must be filed under oath or affirmation in accordance with the provisions of § 2.714 of 10 CFR Part 2 of the Commission's regulations. A petition for leave to intervene must set forth the interest of the petitioner in the proceeding, how that interest may be affected by the results of the proceeding, and the petitioner's contentions with respect to the proposed licensing action. Such petitions must be filed in accordance with the provisions of this Federal Register notice and § 2.714, and must be filed with the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Section, by the above date. A copy of the petition and/or request for a hearing should be sent to the Executive Legal Director, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, and to William H. Cuddy, Esquire, Day, Berry & Howard, Counselors at Law, One Constitution Plaza, Hartford, Connecticut 06103, attorney for the licensees.

A petition for leave to intervene must be accompanied by a supporting affidavit which identifies the specific aspect or aspects of the proceeding as to which intervention is desired and specifies with particularity the facts on which the petitioner relies as to both his interest and his contentions with regard to each aspect on which intervention is requested. Petitions stating contentions relating only to matters outside the Commission's jurisdiction will be denied.

All petitions will be acted upon by the Commission or licensing board, designated by the Commission or by the Chairman of the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel. Timely petitions will be considered to determine whether a hearing should be noticed or another appropriate order issued regarding the disposition of the petitions.

In the event that a hearing is held and a person is permitted to intervene, he becomes a party to the proceeding and has a right to participate fully in the conduct of the hearing. For example, he may present evidence and examine and cross-examine witnesses.

For further details with respect to this action, see the application for amendment dated July 9, 1975, with supplement submitted July 25, 1975, which is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. and at the Waterford Public Library, Rope Ferry Road, Route 156, Waterford, Connecticut 06385. The license amendment and the Safety Evaluation, when issued, may be inspected at the above locations and a copy may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

[Docket No. 50-271]

VERMONT YANKEE NUCLEAR POWER
CORP.

Order for Modification of License

I. Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Corporation (the licensee) is the holder of Facility Operating License No. DPR-28 which authorizes operation of the Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Station (the facility) at steady-state reactor core power levels not in excess of 1953 megawatts thermal (rated power). The facility is a boiling water reactor (BWR) located near Vernon, Vermont.

II. 1. On July 23, 1975, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) issued an "Order for Modification of License" (40 FR 32180, July 31, 1975) which confirmed a plan for limited additional operation of the facility. As detailed in the Order, the facility's channel box wear, as indicated by the noise-to-signal ratio recorded by the traversing in-core probe (TIP), had exceeded the remedial action threshold. The remedial plan confirmed by the Order contemplated operation of the facility for a limited period of time (until August 3, 1975) at not more than 80% of rated core power and 70% of rated core flow, provided the TIP noise-to-signal ratio at those levels did not exceed 0.05. In addition, the Order permitted operation up to full flow and power for a brief period of time as necessary to obtain baseline TIP data.

2. On August 1, 1975, the Commission issued an "Order for Modification of License" (40 FR 33739, August 11, 1975) which modified the July 23, 1975 Order to extend operation for an additional three days until August 6, 1975. The basis for this action was the licensee's request dated July 31, 1975. The licensee's letter states that the request is made at the behest of the New England Power Exchange based upon a serious power shortage resulting from the unscheduled outage of several units and forecasted weather conditions. Our evaluation of the request concluded that the recently obtained TIP traces did not show any accelerated channel box wear, and that operation of Vermont Yankee for an additional three days beyond the period contemplated by our previous safety evaluation was acceptable since no appreciable additional wear would be incurred.

3. By its letter dated July 17, 1975, the licensee formally proposed a plan, previously discussed with the Commission, setting forth a course of remedial action. The plan, as modified by the licensee's letter dated July 31, 1975, entailed continuation of operation at 80% of rated core power and 70% of rated flow until a shutdown not later than August 6, 1975, with the exception of a brief period of operation at full flow and power immediately prior to shutdown as necessary to obtain baseline TIP data for use in connection with the shutdown inspection and in connection with future operations. During the shutdown, worn channel boxes were to be replaced as necessary, and plugs to be inserted in the bypass holes. The reactor was shut down on August 6, 1975, for visual inspection of the channel boxes and the necessary repairs.

4. By letter dated July 30, 1975, the licensee provided details relating to the inspection and repair program for correction of channel box wear and to the installation of core bypass flow plugs in the lower core plate and supplied analyses to demonstrate the adequacy of such plugs and the adequacy of the procedures for plug installation.

5. On August 15, 1975, the Commission issued an "Order for Modification of License" that approved the repair program and authorized the installation of bypass hole plugs in the facility's lower core plate. As discussed in the August 15, 1975 Order, the NRC staff concluded that the plugs will reduce the vibration of the instrument thimbles caused by flow through the bypass holes. By telecon dated August 22, 1975, Vermont Yankee has confirmed that the licensee's inspection and repair program has been completed. This resulted in the rejection of 24 channel boxes with unacceptable wear as defined in the repair program. Thirty-eight channel boxes with indications of wear, but within the criteria of the repair program, were reinstalled in the reactor in locations which are not next to instrument channels in accordance with the repair program. Vermont Yankee also confirmed that all flow bypass holes in the core plate were plugged.

6. The licensee's July 30, 1975 letter and their letter dated August 6, 1975 provided analyses, including an emergency core cooling performance analysis, for reactor power operation with the plugs installed in the bypass holes.

7. The Commission's staff has reviewed the analyses submitted by the licensee on July 30, and August 6, 1975, to support operation with bypass flow plugs installed. As discussed in the Commission's concurrently issued Safety Evaluation, Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Station Operation with Plugged Bypass Flow Holes, the proposed operation with plugs will require that certain modifications be made to earlier restrictions set forth in the December 27, 1974 Order for Modification of License (40 FR 1778, Jan. 9, 1975) relating to the emergency core cooling performance. In this regard, it is appropriate to replace the original Appendix A to the December 27, 1974 Order with a revised Appendix A listing restrictions for operation with bypass flow plugs installed. All other provisions of the December 27, 1974 Order remain in full force and effect. It should also be noted that plugs identical to those installed in the Vermont Yankee reactor have previously been installed in both the Vermont Yankee and Pilgrim reactors in 1973 and 1974, respectively, to eliminate the vibration of temporary control curtains that caused channel box wear in those reactors. They have also been installed in the Duane Arnold reactor to mitigate channel box wear. After ten months of successful service the previous plugs in the Vermont Yankee reactor were removed at the time that the temporary curtains were removed.

1 Copies of (1) the licensee's letters of July 30 and August 6, 1975, and (2) the NRC staff Safety Evaluation of Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Station Operation with Plugged Bypass Flow Holes and the documents referenced therein, are available for public inspection in the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., and are being placed in the Brooks Memorial Library, 224 Main Street, Brattleboro, Vermont.

8. Based on a review of the licensee's submittals of July 30 and August 6, 1975, and the prior related experience at the Pilgrim and Vermont Yankee reactors, the NRC staff concluded in its concurrently issued Safety Evaluation that operation of the Vermont Yankee reactor in accordance with the additional restrictions set forth in Appendix A to the Safety Evaluation will provide reasonable assurance that the public health and safety will not be endangered. These additional restrictions are set forth as Appendix A to this Order.

III. Accordingly, pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and the Commission's Rules and Regulations in 10 CFR Parts 2 and 50,

It is ordered, That:

1. The Order for Modification of License dated December 27, 1974 be amended by replacing Appendix A of that Order with Appendix A attached to this Order. All other provisions of the December 27, 1974 Order shall remain in full force and effect.

2. Operation of the Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Station with plugged bypass flow holes is hereby authorized subject to the restrictions set forth in the Order for Modification of License, dated December 27, 1974 as amended by paragraph 1 above.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland, this 22d day of August 1975.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

BEN C. RUSCHE,
Director, Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation.

APPENDIX A

VERMONT YANKEE NUCLEAR POWER STATION OPERATING RESTRICTIONS

There are two limitations on the continued operation of the reactor for the remainder of this fuel cycle. These are the limiting assembly maximum average planar linear heat generation rate, MAPLHGR, and the minimum critical power ratio limit related to boiling crisis, MCPRL. Operation shall conform to a MCPRL value of equal to or greater than 1.28 as proposed by the licensee. The limiting value of MAPLHGR included with the proposed Technical Specifications submitted on October 31, 1974 have been revised to account for the staff requirements of December 27, 1974 and the proposed operation with plugged bypass holes. The revised values are given in Figures 1 and 2 for Generic B 7x7 Fuel and 8D219 8x8 Fuel types. A maximum value linear heat generation rate of 13.4 kw/ft for 8x8 fuel shall remain in effect until the Commission completes its review of the licensee's proposed increase in linear heat generation rate.

(d) Reallocation of DTC stock after 1975 shall be consummated prior to the record date for voting at the annual meeting of DTC stockholders and shall be accomplished as described below. Each Participant will be (1) entitled to purchase the shares necessary to increase its ownership to its allocation or (2) obligated to sell the shares which it then holds which are in excess of its allocation except that purchases and sales in respect of Broker-Dealer Participants will be effected by the Exchange, AMEX and NASD, collectively. The rights and obligations of the Exchange, AMEX and NASD shall be pro rated in accordance with their respective interest immediately prior to the reallocation. "Broker-Dealer Participants" include all member organizations of the Exchange, AMEX and NASD and clearing corporation Participants associated with the Exchange, AMEX or the NASD. "Institutional Participants" include all Participants who are not Broker-Dealer Participants and shall not include the Exchange, AMEX or the NASD.

(e) At the annual meeting of DTC stockholders in 1975 and thereafter, DTC's Board of Directors will be elected annually by cumulative voting.

(f) The price per share in the initial and all subsequent sales of DTC stock shall be the book value per DTC share as of the close of the preceding calendar year.

In order to ensure the continued qualification of DTC as a "clearing corporation" under § 8-102(3) of the New York Uniform Commercial Code, which defines a "clearing corporation" with reference to the nature of the holders of its capital stock and the amounts of such stock held by them, and in order to preserve the primary objective of the agreement, that the users of DTC's services share in its direction and control through ownership of its stock, the agreement among DTC and its stockholders providing for the annual allocation of stock commencing in 1976 will also contain provisions to the effect that: (1) no DTC stock shall be transferred to any person except in a manner consistent with DTC's continuing status as a "clearing corporation"; (2) in the event that any holder becomes insolvent or ceases to use, or represent others which use, DTC's services, the stock held by it shall be transferred to all other holders of DTC stock pro rata in accordance with their stockholdings; and (3) neither DTC nor any holder shall sell stock otherwise than in an annual reallocation without first offering such stock to the holders of stock pro rata in accordance with their stockholdings.

Exhibit A attached indicates the maximum entitlement of ownership of DTC stock in 1975.

Statement of Basis and Purpose.—The basis and purpose of the foregoing proposed rule change is as follows:

3. Purpose of Proposed Rule Change. The purpose of the proposed rule change is to assure DTC's participants a fair representation in the selection of DTC's directors and the administration of its affairs and thereby permit DTC to comply with § 17A(b)(3)(C) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 when it becomes effective.

4. Basis under the Act for adopting the proposed rule change. (a) Not applicable.

(b) The proposed rule change relates to the Exchange's wholly-owned subsidiary, DTC. It provides the basis for a fair representation of DTC's participants in the selection of DTC's directors and the administration of its affairs by affording DTC participants a reasonable opportunity to acquire voting stock of DTC, directly or indirectly, in reasonable proportion to their use of DTC's service.

(c) Not applicable.

5. Comments Received From Members, Participants or Others on Proposed Rule Changes. Comments were solicited from DTC participants, pledgee banks and depository facilities by notice dated March 25, 1975. No comments have been received other than questions as to the meaning of certain provisions of the proposal, including: the rationale for selecting the formula; why DTC stock allocable to broker-dealer participants is not available for direct purchase by them at this time rather than being offered to the Exchange, AMEX and NASD; when the Exchange's Board of Directors expects to consider whether an Exchange member organization could purchase its DTC stock entitlement directly and whether AMEX and NASD member organizations would have a similar right; the basis for the sale of 8% of the DTC stock to each of AMEX and NASD; how is the formula adjusted to account for usage by broker-dealer participants which are members of more than one of the Exchange, AMEX and NASD; who receives the DTC stock not purchased by those entitled to purchase and on what basis; the method of allocating the DTC stock held by an insolvent to all other holders; and the effect of some states not having adopted amendments to Uniform Commercial Code § 8-102(3) (which amendment broadens the permissible ownership of a clearing corporation such as DTC) on DTC's ability to conduct business in such non-adopting states, to have depository facilities in those states, to effect book-entry transfers for participants organized or located in those states or to effect book-entry transfers for issuers located or organized in those states.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

1. Rationale for Ownership Entitlement Formula. A 1971 Memorandum of Understanding on a Comprehensive Securities Depository System among the Exchange, AMEX, NASD and the member banks of the New York Clearing House Association set forth various understandings regarding the creation of DTC and, among other things, provided that at such time as amendments to Article 8 of the Uniform Commercial Code had been adopted in substantially all of the domestic jurisdictions under the laws of which corporations, whose securities were eligible for inclusion in the depository, were organized, an equitable portion of the capital stock of the depository would be acquired by or for the account of the depositors in the depository other than Broker-Dealers. Although at the time the Memorandum of Understanding was executed the basis on which the distribution of capital stock among the depositors was not specified, it was understood that such distribution might be based, for example, on one or more of the following criteria: (a) in proportion to the use anticipated to be made by participants of the depository as measured by use recently made by them; (b) 50% by national securities exchanges and associations whose members were expected to be depositors and 50% by a party or parties representing other types of depositors; or (c) in proportion to the value of securities deposited by participants.

BASIC considered a formula for determining stock ownership of the New York depository during the first half of 1972. No exception was taken during the discussions to the specific formula being considered, namely: one-half of ownership entitlement to be based upon fees paid, and one-half upon the value of securities on deposit. A part of a memorandum considered by BASIC at that time read as follows:

The depository's services may be said to break down into two broad groups: (1) processing transactions; and (2) providing custody. In terms of utilizing these two types of services, there will probably be a sharp distinction between broker-dealers, on the one hand, and banks, insurance companies, and mutual funds (call them "fiduciaries"), on the other hand. Broker-dealer transaction through-put will be much greater than that of fiduciaries, but the latter will have a higher value of securities on deposit.

There are many ways that share ownership in (the depository) could be divided between the two groups so as to assure each some voice in management and control. Arbitrary apportionment could be made, or an objective formula based upon use could be used. "Use" could be measured in any of a variety of ways.

Any arbitrary apportionment would probably be criticized from the outset as favoring some at the expense of others. Moreover, as trends in depository participation change, the arbitrary allocation of shares would either have to be changed periodically or encounter even greater questions as to whether it is fair.

An objective formula could be devised in which share ownership derives from extent of use of each of the two groups of depository services: transactions, and custody. Of the many ways of measuring use, these are suggested:

Transactions—Annual total of fees paid to the depository.

Custody—Average annual value of securities on deposit.

The Board of Directors of Central Certificate Service, Inc. ("CCS, Inc."), which succeeded to the Central Certificate Service division operated by Stock Clearing Corporation, adopted a resolution in July 1972, expressing its support of the BASIC formula for determining share entitlement which is embodied in the Plan. In a memorandum enclosed with CCS, Inc.'s letter to the Commission dated October 18, 1972, which related to its proposed rules, the following statement was made:

The Board of CCS, Inc. has provided that user entitlement to own the trust company's stock should be based equally on the amount of fees paid by users of depository and the value of their long positions there.

2. Rationale for Allocation of Stock to the Exchange, AMEX and NASD Rather than Directly to Broker-Dealer Participants. Due to the limited profit and limited dividend policies of DTC, there is little economic incentive to own DTC capital stock. The incentive to own the stock is essentially limited to its voting rights. Banks and other fiduciaries have expressed their desire to have stock representation in DTC so that they will be in a position to participate, through directors elected by them, in the management of DTC and thereby promote the safeguarding of securities deposited by them with DTC. Although the Exchange, AMEX and NASD can conveniently hold DTC stock in representation of their members, there is no organization in existence that could properly hold DTC stock, collectively, on behalf of such banks and fiduciaries. Exchanges and the NASD have held stock of clearing corporations for many years and their members have thus been in a position to influence the policies adopted by clearing corporations.

Attached as Exhibit B is a list based upon the proposed stock entitlement formula as applied to the last quarter of 1974, of the percentage use by all DTC participants. The list shows the entitlement broker-dealers would have if the Exchange were to sell its holdings of DTC stock to all Broker-Dealer Participants. As indicated by the list, only eight Broker-Dealer Participants would be entitled to purchase more than 2% (370 shares) and only 16 would be entitled to purchase more than 1% (185 shares). The top 10 broker-dealers would be entitled to purchase approximately 34% (6,300 shares) and the top 16 broker-dealers would be entitled to purchase approximately 43% (8,000 shares), leaving a broad dispersion of shares among the many remaining broker-dealers. This may explain why a number of broker-dealers have indicated that they would not wish to purchase DTC stock but would prefer the Exchange to hold the stock instead.

DTC distributed a memorandum describing the stock sale to its Participants and others on March 25, 1975. To date there has been little expression of interest in direct ownership from the recipients of that memorandum. Until further consideration as a result of a significant expression of interest in direct ownership by the Exchange's membership, the Exchange feels that it is in the best interests of the membership that the Exchange retain direct ownership on behalf of its membership.

3. Consideration by the Exchange of Direct Ownership of DTC Stock by Ex- change Member Organizations. At its March 6, 1975 meeting the Exchange's Board of Directors considered the question of direct ownership of DTC stock by broker-dealers and deferred action on that issue, carefully specifying that no action proposed to be taken at that meeting would preclude the later possibility of direct ownership by member organizations. The Board of Directors will consider the matter if there is sufficient expression of interest in the matter by Exchange member organizations. In any event, it is the intention of Exchange management to bring the matter before the Board within the ensuing year.

Although we have no definitive information as to whether AMEX or NASD will purchase shares, we understand informally that both organizations are inclined to purchase their entitlements. We have no information as to whether they would propose to make any shares purchased available subsequently for purchase by their respective members.

4. Rationale for Sale of 8% of DTC Stock to AMEX and NASD. The 1971 Memorandum of Understanding contemplated that prior to such time as the depository ceased to be a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Exchange, it would have a 12 man board of directors consisting of six directors nominated by the Exchange, one director nominated by AMEX, one director nominated by the NASD, three directors nominated by bank signatories to the Memorandum of Understanding and one director who would be the President of the depository. It was understood that these proportions of representation would be reflected in the initial stock sale by the Exchange. This would mean an AMEX and NASD entitlement to DTC stock of about 8 percent each.

DTC's board has already been expanded to 14 directorships in order to permit wider participation by parts of the financial community not included in the Memorandum of Understanding. After the stock sale, DTC's Board will be expanded to 15 members, one of which will be the Chairman of the Board and another of which will be the President. The sale of 8% of the capital stock of DTC to each of AMEX and the NASD will permit each of them, by utilizing the cumulative voting provision set forth in DTC's Organization Certificate, to elect one member to DTC's Board of Directors, thus carrying out the understandings embodied in the Memorandum of Understanding. These understandings were based on the belief, stated in paragraph 2 above, that members of AMEX and the NASD would be represented through their self-regulatory organizations.

5. Allocations to Self-Regulatory Organizations in View of Built-Memberships by Broker-Dealer Participants in Such Self-Regulatory Organizations. It is not intended that the formula for entitlement to stock ownership will account for usage by Broker-Dealer Participants which are members of more than one of the Exchange, AMEX and the NASD in a precise manner. As indicated in the description of the stock sale plan above, assuming that all persons purchase their full entitlement to DTC capital stock, the percentage ownership of the Exchange, AMEX and the NASD would be approximately 60%, 8% and 8%, respectively. In substance this reflects the fact that the usage of DTC services by all Broker-Dealer Participants, whether they be a member of one or more of such self-regulatory organizations, during the last three months of 1974 would under the formula entitle them to collective representation in stock ownership equal to approximately 76% of the DTC capital stock. Subsequent annual reallocations will be made by determining the collective usage of DTC services by all such broker-dealer participants, determining the stock ownership attributable to that usage and allocating that aggregate amount of stock ownership among the three self-regulatory organizations, pro rata in accordance with their stock ownership as it stands immediately prior to the reallocation. For example, on the basis of the assumed 60-8-8 initial allocation, the Exchange would own 11,100 shares and AMEX and the NASD would each own 1,480 shares. If at the first annual reallocation Broker-Dealer Participant usage indicated a collective entitlement to an additional 760 shares, the Exchange would be entitled to 600 (60/76ths) of the additional shares and each of AMEX and the NASD would be entitled to 80 (8/76ths) of the additional shares. On the other hand if on the subsequent annual reallocation the usage of all Broker-Dealer Participants indicated a collective entitlement of 760 fewer shares, the Exchange would be obligated to sell 600 of the shares held by it and each of AMEX and the NASD would be obligated to sell 80 of the shares held by them. Annual allocations in succeeding years would be based upon the holdings of the three self-regulatory organizations immediately prior to the annual reallocation. No effort will be made to identify usage relating to a Broker-Dealer Participant's Exchange, AMEX or NASD business, since it is, we believe, impossible to devise a formula reflecting such usage without making numerous arbitrary decisions.

6. Allocation of Shares Not Purchased by Persons Entitled Thereto. If an organization entitled to purchase DTC capital stock declines to purchase all or part of its entitlement, the shares not purchased will remain with the organizations then holding such shares. Entitlement of each organization to purchase constitutes the right to purchase pro rata from all the then holders who hold more than their entitlement. If the purchase is not made it will result in the unpurchased shares remaining pro rata with all the then holders who hold more than their entitlement. For example, if there were only five stockholders which held the following amounts of stock: A—1,000, B—1,500, C—2,000, D—2,400, and E—11,500; and Participant F was entitled to purchase 1,000 shares in an annual reallocation and F was the only

The purpose of the investigation is to determine whether absolute or relative increases of imports of articles like or

It is believed that while the opportunity to purchase stock would be an incentive to expanded depository participation, the obligation to purchase stock would be a disincentive to such participation. The decision reflected in the preceding paragraph is due to this conclusion. As a result thereof excess stock held by a participant and not purchased by others would remain in its hands, there being no other person to purchase it.

7. Allocation in the Event of a Holder's Insolvency. No stock certificates will be held by stockholders; rather one certificate will be held by DTC and the interest of each stockholder will be reflected on the books of DTC. If an owner of DTC stock becomes insolvent, its stock will upon the event of insolvency be deemed transferred to all other then holders of stock in proportion to their then ownership. Upon discovery of insolvency, DTC will effect a book-entry transfer of the shares from the account of the insolvent pro rata to the accounts of all the then stockholders pro rata in accordance with their then interests and payment will be required to be made by the transferees to the insolvent's estate at a price per share equal to the book value per share as of the end of the preceding calendar year.

8. Problems In Respect Of Non-Adoption of Amended Version of UCC Section 8-102(3) by All States. Section 8-102(3) of the Uniform Commercial Code has been amended in 42 states to provide for ownership of DTC stock by persons other than a national securities exchange or association. The amendment has not been enacted in Alabama, District of Columbia, Idaho, Louisiana, Montana, West Virginia, Oklahoma, Vermont and Wisconsin, but has been introduced in the last three states named. Though we expect further enactments will occur in 1975, it is certain that the amendment will not be adopted in all jurisdictions prior to 1976.

In February 1974 DTC circulated a memorandum to all DTC Participants, Pledges and issuers of DTC Eligible Securities regarding the problems which might arise as a result of the sale of DTC capital stock by the Exchange prior to the adoption of the amendment to § 8-102(3) in all jurisdictions. The Memorandum states that DTC cannot guarantee that Participants and Pledges will be fully protected in respect of book-entry transfers and pledges in the event of a stock sale prior to the adoption of the amendment by all states.

At this time DTC does not conduct business in states other than New York. We believe that the fact that two Depository Facilities are located in non-adopting states is irrelevant since securities deposited with Depository Facilities are immediately sent to DTC in New York. Moreover, we believe that the fact that some Participants are located in non-adopting states is irrelevant as their location, per se, should not require the application of the law of that jurisdiction.

We have been advised by counsel that, while there is no conclusive judicial precedent, it believes that a court should hold that (1) the applicable law in respect of a book-entry transfer of securities of issuers organized in non-adopting states would be the law governing the transaction, which the parties would be able to designate, rather than the law of the jurisdiction of the issuer's incorporation and (2) the applicable law in respect of pledges would be the law of the jurisdiction where the physical securities are located—i.e. New York.

9. Rationale for Cumulative Voting. The provision for cumulative voting provides groups of minority stockholders with an opportunity to elect some members of the DTC Board of Directors. It prevents one or more owners with over 50 percent of the stock from electing all directors.

10. Limited Dividends. A limitation on dividends payable to stockholders was fixed at 6 percent to reflect the policy that the depository should minimize rather than maximize charges to its Participants, but at the same time offer some incentive to Participants to purchase their stock entitlements.

6. Burden on Competition. None. Within 35 days of the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or within such longer period (1) as the Commission may designate up to 90 days of such date if it finds such longer period to be appropriate and publishes its reasons for so finding or (2) as to which the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization consents, the Commission will:

(A) By order approve such proposed rule change, or

(B) Institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be disapproved.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons desiring to make written submissions should file 6 copies thereof with the Secretary of the Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. Copies of the filing with respect to the foregoing and of all written submissions will be available for inspection in the Public Reference Room, 1100 L Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection at the principal office of the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization. All submissions should refer to the file number referenced in the caption above and should be submitted within three weeks after the date of this publication.

Investigation Regarding Certification of Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

On August 25, 1975, the Department of Labor received a petition filed under Section 221(a) of the Trade Act of 1974 ("the Act") by the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, on behalf of the workers and former workers of State Street, First Reserve and Second Reserve Terminals of Amerada Hess Oil, Woodbridge, New Jersey (TA-W-125). Accordingly, the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, has instituted an investigation as provided in Section 221(a) of the Act and 29 CFR 90.12.

The purpose of the investigation is to determine whether absolute or relative increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with oil products including gasoline and heating oil produced by Amerada Hess Oil, or an appropriate subdivision thereof have contributed importantly to an absolute decline in sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision and to the actual or threatened total or partial separation of a significant number or proportion of the workers of such firm or subdivision. The investigation will further relate, as appropriate, to the determination of the date on which total or partial separations began or threatened to begin and the subdivision of the firm involved. A group meeting the eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Act will be certified as eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2, of the Act in accordance with the provisions of Subpart B of 29 CFR Part 90.

Pursuant to 29 CFR 90.13, the petitioner or any other person showing a substantial interest in the subject matter of the investigation may request a public hearing, provided such request is filed in writing with the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, at the address shown below, on or before September 15, 1975.

The petition filed in this case is available for inspection at the Office of the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, U.S. Department of Labor 3rd St. and Constitution Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20210.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 25th day of August 1975.

MOTOR CARRIER, BROKER, WATER CARRIER AND FREIGHT FORWARDER APPLICATIONS

August 29, 1975.

The following applications are governed by Special Rule 1100 247<sup>1</sup> of the Commission's general rules of practice (49 CFR, as amended), published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of April 20, 1966, effective May 20, 1966. These rules provide, among other things, that a protest to the granting of an application must be filed with the Commission within 30 days after date of notice of filing of the application is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Failure seasonably to file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding. A protest under these rules should comply with section 247(d) (3) of the rules of practice which requires that it set forth specifically the grounds upon which it is made, contain a detailed statement of protestant's interest in the proceeding (including a copy of the specific portions of its authority which protestant believes to be in conflict with that sought in the application, and describing in detail the method—whether by joinder, interline, or other means—by which protestant would use such authority to provide all or part of the service proposed), and shall specify with particularity the facts, matters, and things relied upon, but shall not include issues or allegations phrased generally. Protests not in reasonable compliance with the requirements of the rules may be rejected. The original and one (1) copy of the protest shall be filed with the Commission, and a copy shall be served concurrently upon applicant's representative, or applicant if no representative is named. If the protest includes a request for oral hearing, such requests shall meet the requirements of section 247(d) (4) of the special rules, and shall include the certification required therein.

Section 247(f) of the Commission's rules of practice further provides that each applicant shall, if protests to its application have been filed, and on or before November 24, 1975, notify the Commission in writing (1) that it is ready to proceed and prosecute the application, or (2) that it wishes to withdraw the application, failure in which the application will be dismissed by the Commission.

Further processing steps (whether modified procedure, oral hearing, or other procedures) will be determined generally in accordance with the Commission's general policy statement concerning motor carrier licensing procedures, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of May 3, 1966. This assignment will be by Commission order which will be served on each party of record. Broadening amendments will not be accepted after the date of this publication except for good cause shown, and restrictive amendments will not be entertained following publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of a notice that the proceeding has been assigned for oral hearing.

Evidence respecting how equipment is expected to be returned to an origin point, as well as other data relating to operational feasibility (including the need for dead-head operations), must be presented as part of an applicant's initial evidentiary presentation (either at oral hearing or in its opening verified statement under the modified procedure) with respect to all applications filed on or after December 1, 1973.

If an applicant states in its initial evidentiary presentation that empty or partially empty vehicle movements will result upon a grant of its application, applicant will be expected (1) to specify the extent of such empty operations, by mileages and the number of vehicles, that would be incurred, and (2) to designate where such empty vehicle operations will be conducted.

Each applicant (except as otherwise specifically noted) states that there will be no significant effect on the quality of the human environment resulting from approval of its application.

[Notice No. 69]

MOTOR CARRIER APPLICATIONS AND CERTAIN OTHER PROCEEDINGS

August 29, 1975.

The following publications include motor carrier, water carrier, broker, freight forwarder and rail proceedings indexed as follows: (1) grants of authority requiring republication prior to certification; (2) notices of filing of petitions for modification of existing authorities; (3) new operating right's applications directly related to and processed on a consolidated record with finance applications filed under Sections 5(2) and 212(b); (4) notices of filing of Sections 5(2) and 210a(b) finance applications; and (5) notices of filing of Section 212(b) transfer applications.

Each applicant (except as otherwise specifically noted) states that there will be no significant effect on the quality of the human environment resulting from approval of its application in compliance with the requirements of 49 C.F.R. § 1100.250.

Protests to the granting of the requested authority must be filed with the Commission on or before October 3, 1975 (unless otherwise specified). Failure seasonably to file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding. A protest should comply with section 247(d) or section 240(c) as appropriate of the Commission's General Rules of Practice which requires that it set forth specifically the grounds upon which it is made, contain a detailed statement of protestant's interest in the proceeding (including a copy of the specific portions of its authority which protestant believes to be in conflict with that sought in the application, and a detailed description of the method—whether by joinder, interline, or other means—by which protestant would use such authority to provide all or part of the service proposed), and shall specify with particularity the facts, matters, and things relied upon, but shall not include issues or allegations phrased generally. Protests not in reasonable compliance with the requirements of the rules may be rejected. The original and one (1) copy of the protest (except for petitions and Finance Dockets under Rule 40 requiring the original and six (6) copies of the protest) shall be filed with the Commission, and a copy shall be served concurrently upon applicant's or petitioner's representative, or applicant or petitioner if no representative is named. If the protest includes a request for oral hearing, such requests shall meet the requirements of section 247(d) (4) or section 240(c) (4) of the special rules, and shall include the certification required therein.

No. MC 96324 (Sub-No. 24) (Republication), filed October 23, 1973, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issues of December 13, 1973 and January 15, 1975, and republished this issue. Applicant: GENERAL DELIVERY, INC., P.O. Box 1816, Fairmont, W. Va. 26554. Applicant's representative: Harold G. Hernly, Jr., 118 North St. Asaph Street, Alexandria, Va. 22314. An Order of the Commission, Division 1, Acting as an Appellate Division, dated July 29, 1974, and served August 6, 1975, finds that the present and future public convenience and necessity require operation by applicant, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, of containers and closures therefor, (1) from Winchester, Va., Cumberland, Md., and Short Gap and Martinsburg, W. Va., to points in Connecticut, Delaware, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia; and (2) from Chattanooga, Tenn., to points in Kentucky, North Carolina, Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia, that the authority herein granted, to the extent that it duplicates applicant's existing authority, shall not be construed as conferring more than a single operating right; that applicant is fit, willing, and able properly to perform such service and to conform to the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Act and the Commission's rules and regulations thereunder.

The purpose of this publication is to indicate that the authority granted has been modified by deleting the phrase "restricted in (1) and (2) above to the transportation of traffic originating at and destined to the indicated destinations". Because it is possible that other parties who have relied upon the notice of the application as published, may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by lack of proper notice of the authority described above, issuance of a certificate in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of this publication of the authority actually granted, during which period any proper party in interest may file an appropriate petition for intervention or other relief in this proceeding setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been so prejudiced.

No. MC 107515 (Sub-No. 887) (Republication), filed December 6, 1973 and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of March 7, 1974, and republished this issue. Applicant: REFRIGERATED TRANSPORT CO., INC., P.O. Box 308, Forest Park, Ga. 30050. Applicant's representative: Alan E. Serby, P.O. Box 872, Atlanta, Ga. 30301. An Initial Decision of the Commission, Administrative Law Judge Edward J. Reidy, served June 10, 1975, which became the Order of the Commission July 10, 1975, served July 18, 1975, finds that, operation by applicant, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting (1) food-stuffs and meats, meat products and meat by-products (except in bulk, and except canned citrus products), in vehicles equipped with mechanical refrigeration, and (2) canned citrus products, in mixed loads with citrus products, frozen, and/or citrus products not canned and not frozen (except in bulk), in vehicles equipped with mechanical refrigeration, from points in Florida, to points in Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and the District of Columbia, restricted against tacking and further restricted against the transportation of canned vegetables from points in Florida to points in North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and the District of Columbia, that applicant is fit, willing, and able to perform the service for which authority is granted, and to conform to the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Act, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

The purpose of this republication is to eliminate the following gateways presently being observed by applicant: Tifton, Ga., for transportation of frozen foods to points in South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Louisiana, Texas, and the District of Columbia;

Gainesville, Ga., for the transportation of frozen foods to points in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, and Kentucky; Atlanta, Ga., for the transportation of frozen citrus products to points in Kansas, Arkansas, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Oklahoma, and Texas; Louisville, Ky., for transportation of chilled citrus products from plant site of Food Specialties of Kentucky to points in Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia-Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and the District of Columbia, and mixed loads of chilled and frozen citrus products to points in Minnesota, Iowa, West Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island; Doraville, Ga., for the transportation of meat to points in South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Tennessee; Gatesville, N.C., for the transportation of meat to points in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Tennessee, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, and the District of Columbia; Madison, Tenn., plant-sites of Odoms Sausage Co. for the transportation of meat to points in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin; Adairville, Ky., for the transportation of meat to points in Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas; Bristol, Va., for transportation of meat to points in Kentucky and Illinois; Kansas City, Mo.-Kansas City, Kansas, Commercial Zone for the transportation of frozen vegetables to points in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Nebraska. Because it is possible that other parties who have relied upon the notice of the application as published, may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by the lack of proper notice of the authority described above, issuance of a certificate in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of this publication of the authority actually granted, during which period any proper party in interest may file an appropriate petition for intervention or other relief in this proceeding setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been so prejudiced.

No. MC 116645 (Sub-No. 16) (Republication), filed November 5, 1973, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of January 3, 1974, and republished this issue. Applicant: DAVIS TRANSPORT CO., a corporation, P.O. Box 56, Gilcrest, Colo. 80623. Applicant's representative: Marion F. Jones, 1600 Lincoln Center, Denver, Colo. 80623. A Report and Order of the Commission, Review Board Number 2, dated July 25, 1975, and served August 12, 1975, finds, that the present and future public convenience and necessity require operation by applicant, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, (1) of animal and vegetable oils, and blends thereof, in bulk, from Denver, Colo., to points in Arizona, California, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, North Dakota, and South Dakota; and (2) of vegetable oils, in bulk, from Stuttgart, Ark., and points in California, Illinois (except Decatur and Wills County), Minnesota (except Minneapolis), Oregon, and Texas, to Denver, Colo.; that applicant is fit, willing, and able to properly to perform such service and to conform to the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Act and the Commission's rules and regulations thereunder.

The purpose of this republication is to indicate that Stuttgart, Ark., has been added as an origin point in part (2) of the application. Because it is possible that other parties who have relied upon the notice of the application as published, may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by the lack of proper notice of the authority described above, issuance of a certificate in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of this publication of the authority actually granted, during which period any proper party in interest may file an appropriate petition for intervention or other relief in this proceeding setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been so prejudiced.

No. MC 117478 (Sub-No. 4), (Republication), filed July 13, 1973, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of December 6, 1973, as MC 60465 (Sub-No. 8), and republished this issue. Applicant: SPERRY TRANSPORTATION COMPANY, a corporation, 907 F Street, P.O. Box 468, Charles City, Iowa. Applicant's representative: Thomas E. Leahy, Jr., 900 Hubbell Building, Des Moines, Iowa 50309. A Second Supplemental Order of the Commission, Operating Rights Board, dated August 1, 1975, and served August 18, 1975, finds, that the present and future public convenience and necessity require operation by applicant, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, of castings, from the facilities of White Farm Equipment Company at or near Charles City, Iowa, to points in Illinois and north of a line beginning at the Illinois-Missouri State line near Alton, Ill., and extending along Illinois Highway 140 to junction U.S. Highway 40, thence along U.S. Highway 40 to the Illinois-Indiana State line, restricted to the transportation of traffic originating at said facilities and destined to points in the specified destination territory; that applicant is fit, willing, and able properly to perform such service and to conform to the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Act and the Commission's rule and regulations thereunder. The purpose of this republication is to indicate that the contract carrier authority requested in MC 60465 (Sub-No. 8) has been changed to common carrier authority, to be issued under MC 117478 (Sub-No. 4). Because it is possible that other parties who have relied upon the notice of the application as published, may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by the lack of proper notice of the authority described above, issuance of a Certificate in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of this publication of the authority actually granted, during which period any proper party in interest may file an appropriate petition for intervention or other relief in this proceeding setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been so prejudiced.

No. MC 140538 (Sub-No. 2) (Republication), filed February 21, 1975, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of March 27, 1975, and republished this issue. Applicant: LESLIE NORMAN FRED, doing business as NORMAN FRED, Desoto, Ill. 62924. Applicant's representative: John G. Gilbert, P.O. Box 1058, 231 West Main Street, Carbondale, Ill. 62901. An Order of the Commission Operating Rights Board, dated July 15, 1975, and served August 15, 1975, finds, that we find, that operation by applicant, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a contract carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, of (1) dairy products, between Carbondale, Ill., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in St. Louis, Cape Girardeau, Scott, Mississippi, and Stoddard Counties, Mo.; (2) dairy products, from Carbondale, Ill., to Paragould, Ark., under a continuing contract or contracts with Prairie Farms Dairy, Inc., will be consistent with the public interest and the national transportation policy; that applicant is fit, willing, and able properly to perform such service and to conform to the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Act and the Commission's rules and regulations thereunder. The purpose of this republication is to indicate that Paragould, Ark., has been added as a destination point in (2) above. Because it is possible that other parties who have relied upon the notice of the application as published, may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by the lack of proper notice of the authority described above, issuance of a permit in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of this publication of the authority actually granted, during which period any proper party in interest may file an appropriate petition for intervention or other relief in this proceeding setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been so prejudiced.

No. MC 140548 (Sub-No. 2) (Republication), filed February 24, 1975, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of April 3, 1975, and republished this issue. Applicant: FRANK PAGE, doing business as FRANK PAGE TRUCKING CO., P.O. Box 442, Buffalo, Okla. 73834. Applicant's representative: G. Timothy Armstrong, 280 National Foundation Life Building, 3535 Northwest 58th Street, Oklahoma City, Okla. 73112. An Order of the Commission, Operating Rights Board, dated July 24, 1975, and served August 11, 1975, finds that the present and future public convenience and necessity require operation by applicant, in interstate or foreign commerce as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, of granulated minerals (except in bulk, in tank vehicles), (1) from the facilities of U.S. Soil, Inc., near Salida, Colo., to points in Kansas on and west of U.S. Highway 81, and points in Oklahoma and west of Interstate Highway 35; and (2) from points in Kansas and west of U.S. Highway 81 to points in Oklahoma on and west of Interstate Highway 35; that applicant is fit, willing, and able properly to perform such service and to conform to the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Act and the Commission's rules and regulations thereunder. The purpose of this republication is to indicate that the proper designation of the origin in part (1) is the facilities of U.S. Soils, Inc., rather than "Soil and Earth Products Co." Because it is possible that other parties who have relied upon the notice of the application as published, may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by the lack of proper notice of the authority described above, issuance of a certificate in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of this publication of the authority actually granted, during which period any proper party in interest may file an appropriate petition for intervention or other relief in this proceeding setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been so prejudiced.

No. MC 47662 (Sub-No. 5) (Notice of filing of petition to modify commodity description), filed August 7, 1975. Petitioner: MacEVOY, INC., Milnor and Bleigh Sts., Philadelphia, Pa. 19136. Petitioner's representative: Alan Kahn, Suite 1920, 2 Penn Center Plaza, Philadelphia, Pa. 19102. Petitioner holds motor common carrier operating rights to be issued in MC 47662 (Sub-No. 5) which were consummated July 2, 1975, in MC-FC-75560, authorizing transportation, as pertinent, over irregular routes, of heavy machinery, between points in New Jersey, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania. By the instant petition, petitioner seeks to modify the commodity description in the above-described authority so as to read, commodities, the transportation of which because of size or weight requires the use of special equipment or special handling, self-propelled articles, each weighing 15,000 pounds or more, and related machinery, tools, parts, and supplies moving in connection therewith, restricted to commodities which are transported on trailers. Any interested person or persons desiring to participate may file an original and six copies of his written representations, views or arguments in support of or against the petition within 30 days from the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Mex. 87501. Petitioner holds a motor common carrier certificate in No. MC 108461, issued October 7, 1972, authorizing transportation, as pertinent, over regular routes, of general commodities (except livestock, commodities of unusual value, classes A and B explosives, household goods as defined by the Commission, commodities in bulk, and commodities requiring special equipment): Between Shiprock, N. Mex., and Farmington, N. Mex., in connection with carrier's presently authorized regular route operations, serving no intermediate points: From Shiprock over U.S. Highway 550 to Farmington, and return over the same route, restricted against the transportation of traffic between Farmington, N. Mex., and points in the commercial zone thereof, as defined by the Commission, on the one hand, and, on the other, Salt Lake City, Utah, and points in the commercial zone thereof, as defined by the Commission, and points beyond Salt Lake City, Utah. By the instant petition, petitioner seeks to remove the restriction on the above described authority. Any interested person or persons desiring to participate may file an original and six copies of his written representations, views or arguments in support of or against the petition within 30 days from the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

No. MC 11415 (Sub-Nos. 5 and 12) (Notice of filing of petition to add contracting shipper), filed August 11, 1975. Petitioner: TRUCKWAY SERVICE, INC., 1099 Oakwood Blvd., Detroit, Mich. 48217. Petitioner's representative: James R. Stiversen, 1396 West Fifth Ave., Columbus, Ohio 43212. Petitioner holds motor contract carrier permits in No. MC 11415 (Sub-Nos. 5 and 12), issued November 4, 1968, and September 23, 1971, respectively, authorizing transportation, over irregular routes, in Sub-No. 5, of Salt, in bulk: (1) Between points in Ohio (except those in Ashtabula, Columbiana, Cuyahoga, Geauga, Mahoning, Portage, Summit, and Trumbull Counties, Ohio); (2) between points in West Virginia; (3) between points in Kentucky; (4) between points in Michigan (except from Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., to points in the Lower Peninsula of Michigan), restricted in (1), (2), (3), and (4) above to traffic having a prior movement by rail; and (5) from water terminals on the Ohio River and its tributaries, to points in Ohio, West Virginia, and Kentucky, restricted in (5) above to traffic having a prior movement by water, under a continuing contract, or contracts, with International Salt Company, Morton Salt Company, and Diamond Crystal Salt Company; and in Sub-No. 12, of rock salt, in bulk, between points in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and the Lower Peninsula of Michigan, restricted against:

(1) Traffic moving between points in Pennsylvania; (2) traffic moving between points within 40 miles of Monroe, Mich.; (3) traffic moving from points in Lucas County, Ohio, to points in Michigan and Indiana; and (4) traffic moving between points in Ashtabula, Cuyahoga, Franklin, Lake, Licking, Muskingum, Summit, and Wayne Counties, Ohio, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, and Pennsylvania, under a continuing contract, or contracts, with Diamond Crystal Salt Company, International Salt Company, Morton Salt Company, Division of Morton International, Inc., and Cargill, Incorporated, with service to Cargill, Incorporated, restricted against traffic moving from points in the St. Louis, Mo.-East St. Louis, Ill., Commercial Zone, as defined by the Commission, to points in Illinois and that part of Indiana on and south of U.S. Highway 136 and on and west of Indiana Highway 37. By the instant petition, petitioner seeks to add Domtar Chemicals, Inc., Sift to Salt Division, as an additional contracting shipper in the above described authorities. Any interested person or persons desiring to participate may file an original and six copies of his written representations, views or arguments in support of or against the petition within 30 days from the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

No. MC 116816 (Sub-No. 10) (notice of filing of petition to substitute contracting shippers), filed August 15, 1975. Petitioner: MERIT SERVICE INDUSTRIES, INC., 849 Harrison Ave., Kearny, N.J. 07032. Petitioner's representative: Edward M. Alfano, 550 Mamaroneck Avenue, Harrison, N.Y. 10528. Petitioner holds a motor contract carrier permit in No. MC 116816 (Sub-No. 10), issued July 22, 1975, authorizing transportation, over irregular routes, of (1) (a) Household appliances, air conditioning equipment, water heaters, central home heating and cooling units, radio, recorder, phonograph, and television sets, and parts and equipment therefor, from site of carrier's warehouse at Kearny, N.J., to New York, N.Y., points in Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester, and Rockland Counties, N.Y., and Fairfield County, Conn.; and (b) returned shipments of the above-specified commodities, from the above-specified destination points, to site of carrier's warehouse at Kearny, N.J., under a continuing contract or contracts, with the following shippers: L & P Distributors of New Jersey, of Maspeth, N.Y.; Cooper Distributing Company, Inc., of Newark, N.J.; Philco Distributors, Inc., of New York, N.Y.; Motorola Metro, Inc., of Franklin Park, Ill.; Bruno-New York, Inc., of New York, N.Y.; Emerson TV Sales Corp., of Moonachie, N.J.; and Admiral Corp., of East Rutherford, N.J.; and (2) (a) Household appliances, air conditioning equipment, radios, phonograph, and television sets, and (b) parts and equipment for the commodities in (a) above, from the site of carrier's warehouse at Kearny, N.J., to points in Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Sullivan, and Ulster Counties, N.Y., and Middlesex and New Haven Counties, Conn.; and (c) returned shipments of the commodities in (a) and (b) above, from the above-specified destination points, to the site of carrier's warehouse at Kearny, N.J., under a continuing contract, or contracts with Philco Distributors, Inc.; Bruno-New York, Inc.; and Admiral Corp., of East Rutherford, N.J.

By the instant petition, petitioner seeks to delete L & P Distributors of New Jersey, of Maspeth, N.Y.; Philco Distributors, Inc. of New York, N.Y.; and Zenith Radio Corp., of Cranford, N.J., as contracting shippers in the above-described authority, and substitute in lieu thereof, Sunbeam Appliance Co., of Oakbrook, Ill.; Fedders Corporation, of South Hackensack, N.J.; and Evergreen Industries, Inc., of New York, N.Y. Any interested person or persons desiring to participate may file an original and six copies of his written representations, views or arguments in support of or against the petition within 30 days from the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

No. MC 125010 (Sub-Nos. 2 and 3) (Notice of filing of petition to substitute contracting shipper), filed July 27, 1975. Petitioner: GIBCO MOTOR EXPRESS, INC., P.O. #### IRREGULAR-ROUTE MOTOR COMMON CARRIERS OF PROPERTY

Elimination of Gateway Letter Notices

AUGUST 29, 1975.

The following letter-notices of proposals to eliminate gateways for the purpose of reducing highway congestion, alleviating air and noise pollution, minimizing safety hazards, and conserving fuel have been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission under the Commission's Gateway Elimination Rules (49 CFR 1065), and notice thereof to all interested persons is hereby given as provided in such rules.

An original and two copies of protests against the proposed elimination of any gateway herein described may be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission on or before September 15, 1975. A copy must also be served upon applicant or its representative. Protests against the elimination of a gateway will not operate to stay commencement of the proposed operation.

Successively filed letter-notices of the same carrier under these rules will be numbered consecutively for convenience in identification. Protests, if any, must refer to such letter-notices by number.

MOTOR CARRIER TEMPORARY AUTHORITY APPLICATIONS

August 29, 1975.

The following are notices of filing of applications for temporary authority under Section 210(a) of the Interstate Commerce Act provided for under the provisions of 49 CFR 1131.3. These rules provide that an original and six (6) copies of protest to an application may be filed with the field official named in the FEDERAL REGISTER publication no later than the 15th calendar day after the date the notice of the filing of the application is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. One copy of the protest must be served on the applicant, or its authorized representative, if any, and the protestant must certify that such service has been made. The protest must identify the operating authority upon which it is predicated, specifying the "MC" docket and "Sub" number and quoting the particular portion of authority upon which it relies. Also, the protestant shall specify the service it can and will provide and the amount and type of equipment it will make available for use in connection with the service contemplated by the TA application. The weight accorded a protest shall be governed by the completeness and pertinence of the protestant's information.

Except as otherwise specifically noted, each applicant states that there will be no significant effect on the quality of the human environment resulting from approval of its application.

A copy of the application is on file, and can be examined at the Office of the Secretary, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C., and also in the ICC Field Office to which protests are to be transmitted.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Indian Affairs

INDIAN SELF-DETERMINATION AND EDUCATION ACT

Proposed Procedures

[25 CFR Parts 33, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407]

CONTRACTS, GRANTS, AND OTHER ASSISTANCE UNDER THE INDIAN SELF-DETERMINATION AND EDUCATION ASSISTANCE ACT

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

August 26, 1975.

This notice is published in exercise of authority delegated by the Secretary of the Interior to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs by 230 DM 2.

Notice is hereby given that it is proposed to amend Chapter I of Title 25 of the Code of Federal Regulations by revoking Part 33 under Subchapter E and by adding new Parts 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406 and 407 under a new Subchapter Y. This amendment is proposed under the authority in the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Pub. L. 93-638; 88 Stat. 2203).

The purpose of the amendment is to implement the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Pub. L. 93-638; 88 Stat. 2203). Part 401 contains regulations under which tribal organizations, upon the request of an Indian tribe, can contract for the operation of all or parts of authorized Bureau of Indian Affairs programs for the benefit of Indians, and Alaska Natives. Under Part 402, tribal governing bodies may receive grants for strengthening tribal and Alaska Native governments; planning, training, evaluation, or other activities to improve a tribal organization's capacity to contract; acquiring land for those purposes; and planning, designing, monitoring, and evaluating Federal programs serving the tribe or Alaska Native group.

Under Part 403, a State, school district, or Indian corporation may contract for supplemental programs or operational support for education. The regulations in Part 403 replace the regulations in Part 33 and reflect the changes made to the Johnson-O'Malley Act (the Act of April 16, 1934 (48 Stat. 596), as amended by the Act of June 4, 1936 (49 Stat. 1458, 25 U.S.C. 452-456) by the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Pub. L. 93-638; 88 Stat. 2203). Tribal organizations can contract for supplemental programs or operational support for education under Part 401 upon the request of an Indian tribe.

Part 404 contains regulations under which tribal organizations may receive contracts or services for school construction for previously private schools that are controlled or managed by an Indian tribe or tribal organization. Part 405 informs the Indian tribes of ways in which they can obtain the use of Government employees in operating all or parts of Bureau of Indian Affairs programs under contract.

Part 406 contains the administrative requirements for grants available under Part 402. These administrative requirements are basically the same as those in Federal Management Circular 74-7 which applies to the administration of grants with States and local governments. Federal Management Circular 74-7 is being revised to also apply to Indian tribes.

Under Part 407, a State education agency or school district may contract for acquiring sites for, or for constructing, acquiring, or renovating, school facilities needed for educating Indians residing on an Indian reservation or other trust land.

The proposed regulations have been developed in consultation with national, regional, tribal, and Alaska Native organizations served by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Based on two series of nationwide Indian and Alaska Native consultation sessions, the Bureau of Indian Affairs has attempted to spell out clearly the regulatory requirements necessary to implement Pub. L. 93-638. A concerted effort has been made to incorporate into the regulations three principal perspectives: The intent of Congress and the President as reflected in the legislation; the continuing Federal responsibility and trust relationships toward Indian tribes; and the expressed wishes and desires of tribal and Alaska Native leaders and members. The Bureau of Indian Affairs believes that such a posture has been achieved in these proposed regulations.

Public Law 93-638 is a significant piece of legislation for Indian and Alaska Native people. The proposed implementing regulations buttress the spirit and substance of this legislation by emphasizing the following elements: The role of tribal and Alaska Native governments as the key decision-makers in the self-determination process; the expanded powers and responsibilities of Indian Education Committees in public school assistance programs serving Indian and Alaska Native children; the recognition of the desirability of tribally-controlled and operated schools as an alternative to Federal and public learning systems; the availability of grants to strengthen tribal and Alaska Native governments and to enhance their eventual capability to operate a Bureau program under contract or to redesign a Bureau program for operation by the Bureau; and the use of Federal personnel for expanding the human resource base of tribal and Alaska Native governing bodies.

An important feature of the legislation is the change it makes in the contract relationship by directing the Bureau to contract a program to a tribal organization upon the request of a tribe unless the Bureau can make a finding to support declination in accordance with criteria set out in the Act. Unlike the ordinary relationship between the government and a prospective contractor, under this legislation the burden of proof is on the Bureau to show that the contract should not be entered into.

It is the policy of the Department of the Interior, whenever practicable, to afford the public an opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding the proposed amendment to the Bureau on or before October 4, 1975, as follows:

1. By mail addressed to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Attention: Public Law 93-638 Task Force (Code 101A), Washington, D.C. 20245.

2. Or by hand delivery to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Attention: Public Law 93-638 Task Force, Room 4620, 18th and C Streets, NW., Washington, D.C.

Comments, suggestions, or objections received on or before October 4 will be considered in preparing the final regulations.

It is proposed to amend Chapter I of Title 25 of the Code of Federal Regulations by revoking Part 33 under Subchapter E and by adding new Parts 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, and 407 under a new Subchapter Y to read as follows:

Subpart A—General Provisions

§ 401.1 Purpose and scope.

(a) The purpose of the regulations in this Part is to give the application and approval process for non-profit contracts with the Bureau under section 102 of Title I of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Public Law 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203). Title I is known as the Indian Self-Determination Act. Contracts under the Act include "tribal governmental functions" as defined in § 401.2(s), "business related functions" as defined in § 401.2(t), and certain contractable trust resources programs or parts of programs as set forth in § 401.32. The nature of contracts with Indian entities which do not fall within the purview of the Act, including contracts which may provide for profit, and the conditions for entering into such contracts, are set forth in the regulations implementing the Act of June 25, 1910 (36 Stat. 861, 25 U.S.C. 47), commonly referred to as the "Buy Indian" Act.

(b) Section 104 of Title I of the Act provides authority for making grants for certain purposes. It is the Bureau's policy to make grants for the purpose specified in Section 104 of the Act in lieu of contracts. Part 402 of this chapter gives the procedures and requirements for obtaining grants under section 104 of the Act.

(c) Nothing in these regulations shall be construed as:

(1) Affecting, modifying, diminishing, or otherwise impairing the sovereign immunity from suit enjoyed by an Indian tribe;

(2) Authorizing or requiring the termination of any trust responsibility of the United States with respect to the Indian people; or

(3) Permitting significant reduction in services to Indian people as a result of this Part.

(d) Nothing in these regulations shall be construed to mandate a tribe to apply for a contract or contracts with the Bureau to plan, conduct, and administer all or parts of any Bureau program. Such applications under these regulations are strictly voluntary.

§ 401.2 Definitions.

As used in this part: (a) "Act" means the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Public Law 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203).

(b) "Area Director" means the official in charge of a Bureau of Indian Affairs Area Office.

(c) "Bureau" means the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

(d) "Business related function" means all programs and activities authorized to be administered by the Bureau for the benefit of Indians enumerated as line items in the Bureau's annual budget request under Tribal Resources Development as the Sub-activities of Business Enterprise Development, Credit and Indian Action Teams and also programs or parts of programs connected with construction projects but exclusive of the actual construction of the project.

(e) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

(f) "Days" means calendar days.

(g) "Economic enterprise" means any commercial, industrial, agricultural, or business activity that is at least 51 percent Indian owned, established or organized for the purpose of profit.

(h) "Indian" means a person who is a member of an Indian tribe.

(i) "Indian tribe" means any Indian Tribe, Band, Nation, Rancheria, Pueblo, Colony or Community, including any Alaska Native village or regional or village corporation as defined in or established pursuant to the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (85 Stat. 688) which is recognized as eligible by the Secretary for the special programs and services provided by the Secretary to Indians because of their status as Indians.

(j) "Previously private school" means a school (other than a Federal school formerly operated by the Bureau) that is operated primarily for Indian students in any grade or grades from early childhood through grade 12; and, which at the time of application is controlled, and sanctioned or chartered by the governing body(s) of an Indian tribe(s). Where a former mission school is involved, the title to the school facility and the land on which it is situated must have been transferred to an Indian tribe for operation as a non-sectarian school. (25 U.S.C. 278).

(k) "Recontracting" means the entering into a contract with a tribal organization which holds a contract for the same program.

(l) "Resolution" means the formal manner in which the tribal government expresses its legislative will in accordance with its organic documents. In the absence of formal organization, a written expression adopted pursuant to current practices will be acceptable.

(m) "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Interior.

(n) "Superintendent" means the official in charge of a Bureau of Indian Affairs Agency Office.

(o) "Tribal Chairman" means tribal chairman, governor, chief or other person recognized by the tribal government as its chief executive officer.

(p) "Tribal government" and "tribal council" means the recognized governing body of an Indian tribe.

(q) "Tribal governmental function" means all programs and activities authorized to be administered by the Bureau for the benefit of Indians enumerated as line items in the Bureau's annual budget requests under the Activities of Education and Indian Services, the Sub-activities of Direct Employment and Road Maintenance, and the program elements of Irrigation and Power Operation and Maintenance under the Activity of Tribal Resources Development.

(r) "Tribal organization" means the recognized governing body of any Indian tribe; any legally established organization of Indians which is controlled, sanctioned, or chartered by such governing body or which is democratically elected by the adult members of the Indian community to be served by such organization and which includes the maximum participation of Indians in all phases of its activities; Provided, That a request for a contract must be made by the tribe that will receive services under the contract; Provided further, That in any case where a contract is let to an organization to perform services benefiting more than one Indian tribe, the approval of each such Indian tribe shall be a prerequisite to the letting of such contract.

(s) "Trust resources" means land, water, minerals, funds or property, asset, or claim, and any right or interest in any of the foregoing, which is held by the United States in trust for any Indian tribe or any Indian individual or which is held by any Indian tribe or Indian individual subject to a restriction on alienation imposed by the United States.

(t) "Trust responsibility" means the right or power vested by law in the United States, or any official or employee thereof, to approve or otherwise regulate the alienation, disposition, encumbrance, management, development, or use of trust resources.

§ 401.3 Revision or amendment of regulations.

Before making any substantive revisions or amendments to the regulations in this Part, the Secretary shall take the following actions:

(a) Consult with Indian tribes and national and regional Indian organizations to the extent practicable about the need for revision or amendment and consider their views in preparing the proposed revision or amendment.

(b) Present the proposed revision or which it wishes the Bureau to operate a ment to establish a bookkeeping and accounting system that meets the standards

(1) Equipment, buildings and facilities. No higher standards with regard quate protection of trust resources or impossibility of service maintenance, the

(b) Present the proposed revision or amendment to the Committees on Interior and Insular Affairs of the United States Senate and House of Representatives.

(c) Publish the proposed revisions or amendments in the Federal Register as proposed rulemaking to provide adequate notice to, and receive comments from, all interested parties.

(d) After consideration of all comments received, publish the regulations in the Federal Register in final form not less than 30 days before the date they are made effective.

§ 401.4 Statement of policy.

(a) The Congress has recognized the obligation of the United States to respond to the strong expression of the Indian people for self-determination by assuring maximum Indian participation in the direction of educational as well as other Federal services to Indian communities so as to render such services more responsive to the needs and desires of those communities.

(b) The Congress has declared its commitment to the maintenance of the Federal Government's unique and continuing relationship with and responsibilities to the Indian people through the establishment of a meaningful Indian self-determination policy which will permit an orderly transition from Federal domination of programs for and services to Indians to effective and meaningful participation by the Indian people in the planning, conduct, and administration of those programs and services.

(c) It is the policy of the Bureau to facilitate the efforts of Indian tribes to plan, conduct, and administer programs, or portions thereof, which the Bureau is authorized to administer for the benefit of Indians and to facilitate the coordination of all Federal and other programs on Indian reservations.

(d) It is the policy of the Bureau to continually encourage Indian tribes to become increasingly knowledgeable about Bureau programs and the opportunities Indian tribes have regarding them; however, it is the policy of the Bureau to leave to Indian tribes the initiative in making requests for contracts and to regard self-determination as including the decision of an Indian tribe not to request contracts.

(e) It is the policy of the Bureau not to impose sanctions on Indian tribes with regard to contracting or not contracting; however, the special resources made available to facilitate the efforts of those Indian tribes which do wish to contract should be made known to all tribes, as should the current realities of funding and Federal personnel limitations.

(f) Contracting is one of several mechanisms by which Indian tribes can exercise their right to plan, conduct, and administer programs or portions thereof which the Secretary is authorized to administer for the benefit of Indians. Another mechanism afforded Indian tribes is the use of a grant, as provided in Part 402 of this chapter, or other resources, to plan the manner in which it wishes the Bureau to operate a program or portion thereof.

(g) Contracting by its very nature places Bureau officials in the dual position of assisting Indian tribes, in many instances, by furnishing technical assistance in preparation of contract proposals, and of carrying out their fiscal and administrative responsibilities as officials of the Federal Government. It is recognized that very often these two positions are in opposition to each other. The Act and these regulations are designed to address this problem to the degree practicable. The Commissioner, Area Directors and Superintendents, as line officers of the Bureau, are expected to balance these two positions within the framework of the regulations in this Part.

Subpart B—Application Process

§ 401.11 Eligible applicants.

Any tribal organization of any Indian tribe is eligible to apply for a contract or contracts with the Bureau to plan, conduct, and administer all or parts of Bureau programs under section 102 of the Act. However, before the Bureau can enter into a contract with a tribal organization, it must be requested to do so by the Indian tribe or tribes to be served by the contract in accordance with § 401.18.

§ 401.12 Contractable Bureau programs.

Tribal organizations are entitled to contract with the Bureau to plan, conduct, and administer all or parts of any program which the Bureau is authorized to administer for the benefit of Indians. All or parts of any program include:

(a) Any part of a Bureau program which is divisible from the remainder of the program so long as the contract does not significantly reduce benefits to Indians served by the non-contracted part(s) of the program. However, to the extent that it is within the Bureau's existing authority and the program or part thereof involves only one tribe and one Bureau Agency or Area Office, the benefits provided to Indians by the non-contracted part(s) of the program may be reduced at the request of the tribe. When the program or part thereof serves more than one tribe, the benefits provided by the non-contracted part(s) of the program may be reduced when all of the tribes served consent to a reduction.

(b) A single employee position only when the functions to be performed provide a direct service to Indians and meets the criteria in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Programs or parts of programs or services that are authorized but not currently operated or provided by the Bureau.

(d) Operation of, or services provided by, previously private schools.

(e) All of the foregoing paragraphs of this section apply to trust resources programs or portions thereof. Additional criteria for contractable trust resources programs, or portions thereof, are given in § 401.32.

§ 401.13 Obtaining application forms.

Application forms, instructions and related application materials are available from Superintendents, Area Directors, and the Commissioner. Use of standard application forms will facilitate processing of applications. However, if they are not required if the information contained in § 401.14 is stated in the applicant tribe's request for a contract.

§ 401.14 Contents of contract application.

Application for a contract under this Part shall contain the following information in sufficient detail to permit evaluation of the application in light of the declination criteria set forth in § 401.15. No further detail is, or shall be, required.

(a) Full name, address and telephone number of the tribal organization which is applying for the contract.

(b) Full name of tribe(s) with which the tribal organization is affiliated.

(c) Full name of tribe(s) directly benefiting or receiving services from the proposed contract.

(d) Documentation of the tribal request to contract as required in § 401.18.

(e) Date of submission to the Bureau and the name of the office where the application was submitted.

(f) Signature by the authorized representative of the tribal organization and the date thereof.

(g) Estimated number of Indian people who will receive benefits or services from the contract, based on available data including tribal records.

(h) Descriptive narrative of what functions, Bureau programs, or portions of programs the tribal organization wants to contract for.

(i) Plan of operations, which shall include but is not limited to:

(1) A statement of tribal goals and objectives to be obtained by the contract.

(2) The organization, methods and procedures to be used to accomplish the tribal goals and objectives.

(3) The means to measure progress and accomplishment.

(4) The budget showing the amount and sources of funding, staffing and other resources required for the contract.

(5) The evaluation criteria and control systems the tribal organization will use to assure that the quality and quantity of actual performance conforms to the requirements of the plan.

(j) Statement of tribal organization's substantive knowledge of the program, part of a program or functions to be contracted.

(k) Description of personnel system and position descriptions for key personnel.

(l) Listing of equipment, facilities, and buildings needed to carry out the contract and how the tribal organization intends to obtain them.

(m) Certification by a licensed accountant that the bookkeeping and accounting procedures the tribal organization presently uses meet the standards of Appendix B of Part 406 of this chapter. In place of the certification, the tribal organization may submit a written agreement to establish a bookkeeping and accounting system that meets the standards of Appendix B of Part 406 of this chapter and to have the bookkeeping and accounting system certified before the Bureau disburses any funds under a contract awarded as a result of the application. When a certification has been submitted in connection with a previous application, the applicant may state this fact instead of submitting a new certification.

(n) Proposed system for managing property and keeping records or agreement to establish within 90 days of contract execution, a satisfactory system for managing property and keeping records.

(o) Advance payment required by the tribal organization for contract.

(p) Term of contract requested and proposed starting date of contract.

§ 401.15 Criteria for declining to contract.

(a) The Commissioner may decline to contract only for the specific causes given in paragraph (b) of this section. The burden of proof is on the Commissioner to demonstrate, through substantial evidence, that one of the specific grounds for declination exists and that, therefore, the application must be declined.

(b) The Commissioner may decline to contract when:

(1) The services to be provided to the intended Indian beneficiaries of the particular program or function to be contracted will not be satisfactory.

(2) It will be presumed by the Bureau that the program plan and budget set forth by the tribal organization provides a basis for the delivery of satisfactory services to the Indian people unless it can be demonstrated by the Bureau by substantial evidence that the program will yield results which will be deleterious to the welfare of the Indian people to be served.

(3) The service to be provided shall be deemed satisfactory if the contract application indicates that the applicant has or will establish procedures to assure that services and assistance shall be provided to the Indians affected by the contract in a fair and uniform manner. Such procedures include eligibility criteria for a tribal member to receive services; recordkeeping adequate to verify the fairness and uniformity of services in case of formal complaints; an adequate complaint procedure available to all Indians affected; and those rights the individual will retain following the complaint.

(4) Adequate protection of trust resources is not assured. Criteria for determining if there is adequate protection of trust resources are given in § 401.34.

(5) The proposed project or function to be contracted cannot be properly completed or maintained by the proposed contract.

(6) In arriving at his finding, the Commissioner shall consider whether the tribal organization would be deficient in performance under the contract with respect to the factors listed in this paragraph.

(7) Equipment, buildings and facilities. No higher standards with regard to buildings, facilities, or equipment shall be applied to tribal organizations than have previously been applied to the Bureau. As provided in § 401.42, the Bureau shall make available the use of all equipment which has been allocated to the operation of the program by the Bureau in the past, unless the Bureau proves the provision of the equipment will seriously interfere with the Bureau's ability to provide services to Indian people in non-contracted programs. Where equipment is shared by the programs to be contracted and other non-contracted programs, equipment-sharing or other suitable arrangements shall be stated in the contract.

(8) Bookkeeping and accounting procedures. It must be clearly demonstrated by the Bureau that the tribal organization which will undertake the contract does not have or cannot set in place, using the contract funds, an accounting and bookkeeping system which will be adequate.

(9) Substantive knowledge of the program to be contracted.

(10) Where the tribal organization proposing to contract is the tribal governing body and the program or function to be contracted is a tribal governmental function, there shall be an absolute presumption that the tribal governing body has substantive knowledge of the program or function to be contracted.

(11) Where the tribal organization proposing to contract is not the tribal governing body or the program or function to be contracted is not a tribal governmental function, the tribal organization shall be presumed to have substantive knowledge of the program to be contracted if the tribal organization meets one or more of the following conditions:

(A) The tribal organization has adequately managed a similar program before through grant or contract.

(B) The tribal organization which is to manage the project possesses by virtue of its knowledge and/or experience substantive knowledge of the program to be contracted.

(C) The tribal organization has been a consumer of such services in the past and thus has developed an understanding of the issues involved with the program sufficient to enable it to effectively carry out the contract operation; and, the tribal organization can secure through the resources of the contract, Bureau staff or other resources, the training in the particular subject area which will develop its substantive knowledge of the program.

(D) Lack of community support. Before the Bureau can enter into a contract there must be a request made in accordance with § 401.18. The tribal governing body's resolution under § 401.18 shall be presumed to demonstrate that there is not a lack of community support for the proposed contract. Unless it can be demonstrated by substantial evidence that there is a lack of community support for the contract and the lack of support will result in unsatisfactory services, inadequate quate protection of trust resources or impossibility of service maintenance, the tribal governing body's resolution shall be deemed conclusive. In any event, there will be no finding by the Bureau of a lack of community support that would result in deficiencies in performance under the contract until those asserting it have exhausted all their tribal remedies.

(5) Adequacy of trained personnel. The adequacy of trained personnel available to the tribal organization to carry out the proposed contract will be presumed if any of the following conditions exist:

(1) If the tribal organization has a personnel system that prescribes minimum occupational qualification standards, procedures for the selection of personnel on the basis of such standards, and the personnel to be used under the proposed contract are to be employed under the personnel system.

(2) If there is no tribal personnel system, it will be assumed that the personnel to be employed under the proposed contract are adequately trained if the tribal organization has established position descriptions for key personnel to be employed under the contract and establishes a personnel system similar to the one described in paragraph (c) (5) (1) of this section.

(3) Other necessary components of contract performance.

(4) All other necessary components of contract performance will be deemed to be met unless a tribal organization:

(A) Does not have an adequate personnel system that provides selection standards which insure equal access to all qualified tribal members;

(B) Has not agreed to establish and maintain a property management system which will adequately account for and protect government property.

(C) Has not agreed to keep such records as required pursuant to § 401.46, make reports required by § 401.49, or to make such reports and information available to Indian clients as required by § 401.48.

(D) Has not submitted a completed contract application.

(E) All "other necessary components" have been specifically identified in this section. No other components shall be defined which may serve as a basis for declination unless they are added to these regulations by revision or amendment of the regulations.

(6) Program plans and designs of tribal organizations for contract operation of Bureau programs or parts may be inconsistent with other Parts of this chapter if a waiver is obtained from the Commissioner. Inconsistencies between such plans and designs and Bureau manuals, guidelines or other procedures that are appropriate to programs or parts of programs operated by the Bureau are not grounds for declination.

(7) Tribes may request a waiver from the Commissioner of regulations in this chapter as given in § 1.2 of this chapter.

(8) Bureau officials may not decline to enter into a contract with a tribal organization because of any objection that could be overcome through the contract.

§ 401.16 Access to Bureau records.

(a) Upon the request of a tribal organization, the Superintendent or Area Director shall make available any information requested and such other information as the tribal organization may need to prepare a contract application or carry out a contract. Tribal organizations, other than the governing body of an Indian tribe (except when operating under a contract authorized under the Act), should seek such information through that tribe's chairman or other official(s) designated by the tribal governing body. Requests for information are subject only to the limits of the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552) as amended by the Act of November 21, 1974 (Public Law 93-502, 38 Stat. 1561), the Privacy Act (Public Law 93-579) and other applicable laws. Information to be made available shall include, but not be limited to:

- (1) Data on program services to intended beneficiaries;
  - (2) Reports on Bureau program operations for the past three years;
  - (3) Present Bureau staffing pattern and grade levels, existing vacancies and position descriptions;
  - (4) Data on the amount of funds which have been provided for the direct operation of the specific program(s) or portions thereof by the Bureau during the past fiscal year;
  - (5) Existing appraisals, inventories, and assessment of trust resources.
- (b) The tribal organization shall have access to Bureau records as follows:
- (1) The tribal organization shall have access to needed Bureau records at the appropriate Bureau office for review and making copies of selected records.
  - (2) If the tribal contractor needs a reasonable volume of identifiable Bureau records, the Bureau will furnish the copies to the tribal organization.
  - (3) Failure of the Bureau to provide such access may be appealed under the provisions set out in 43 CFR 2.17.

§ 401.17 Pre-application technical assistance.

(a) Upon the request of a tribe, Bureau Agency and Area Offices shall provide technical assistance to a tribal organization to assist them in:

- (1) Determining the appropriateness of contracting.
- (2) Developing an effective program design and plan of operations.
- (3) Preparing technical parts of the contract application.
- (4) Such other ways as may be requested.

(b) Upon the request of a tribe, to the extent that funds are available, the Bureau may make technical assistance available to the tribal organizations from sources including, but not limited to:

- (1) Technical assistance organizations under contract with the Bureau.
- (2) Grants under Part 402 of this chapter.
- (3) Other technical assistance resources funded by the Bureau.

(c) Upon the request of a tribe, the Bureau will also assist tribal organizations in obtaining technical assistance from other Federal agencies.

§ 401.18 Tribal request for initial contract.

(a) Before the Bureau can enter into a contract with a tribal organization, it must be requested to do so by the tribe to be served under the contract. The tribe's request shall be in the form of a resolution by the tribal governing body. If the tribal organization is applying for a contract to perform services benefiting more than one tribe, an authorizing resolution from each tribal governing body must be obtained before submitting the application to the Bureau for approval. A tribal governing body may pass a single resolution authorizing a tribal organization to apply for, negotiate, and execute more than one contract if the resolution specifies for each contract the same information required in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

(b) The resolution of the tribal governing body shall authorize the applicant tribal organization to apply for, negotiate and contract with the Bureau, subject to the specific terms, conditions and limitations of the resolution and applicable tribal laws, codes, and regulations. The resolution shall include the results of the vote (the number for and against), the date the resolution was approved, and signature of the person authorized to certify the accuracy of the information contained in the resolution.

(c) The tribal governing body's request (resolution) should include the following:

- (1) When the tribal organization is the tribal governing body:
- (i) A brief statement of the contract scope.

(ii) The tribal official authorized to negotiate the contract and any amendments thereto.

(iii) The tribal official authorized to execute the contract and any amendments thereof.

(iv) The expiration date of the authorities granted by the resolution.

(v) The extent and procedure, if any, for review of the contract and any amendments thereto by the tribal governing body before execution.

(vi) The proposed date for contract commencement.

(vii) The proposed term of the contract.

(2) When the tribal organization is other than the tribal governing body:

(i) The name of the tribal organization.

(ii) A brief statement of the contract scope.

(iii) The extent and procedure for review by the tribal governing body of the contract and any amendments thereto prior to execution by the tribal organization.

(iv) The tribal office or official to which the Bureau should send copies of contract documents and correspondence.

(v) The proposed term of the contract.

(vi) The proposed date for contract commencement.

(vii) Any limitations on authorities granted the tribal organization, including authorities vested in the tribal organization and/or tribal governing body in regard to requests for retrocession of contracts.

(d) Any procedures given in this section concerning the manner in which a tribal governing body passes a tribal resolution shall apply except where inconsistent with tribal constitution, law, code, ordinance, or other written document. In such cases, the tribal law or procedures shall be cited in the resolution and shall take precedence.

§ 401.19 Status of contracts in effect before effective date of regulations.

(a) Contracts between the Bureau and tribal organizations, which were entered into before the effective date of these regulations and are still in effect, shall continue until expiration of that Contract. Any revisions or amendments requested during the contract period shall be subject to the provisions of Subpart E of this Part.

(b) Upon completion of contracts in effect before the effective date of the regulations, one of the following will occur:

(1) Where the tribal organization was authorized to enter into its existing contract by a tribal resolution, even if the resolution was passed before the effective date of these regulations, the tribal organization shall have the right to re-contract subject to the provisions given in § 401.20.

(2) Where the tribal organization did not have a tribal resolution authorizing it to enter into the existing contract, it shall not be entitled to recontract, but must obtain a tribal request as provided in § 401.18 and submit an application as provided in § 401.14.

§ 401.20 Recontracting.

The Bureau will recontract for the same function(s) or programs as the original contract at the written request of the tribal organization designated in the tribal resolution. Requests for recontracting shall be made as follows:

(a) If the original contract provided services to only one Indian tribe, written applications to recontract shall be sent by the tribal organization to the Agency Office as follows:

(1) Directly, when the tribal organization involved is the governing body of the tribe.

(2) Through the governing body of the tribe for review when the tribal organization is not the governing body of the tribe. Submission shall be made to the governing body at least 75 days before the original contract expires. The tribal organization shall promptly notify the Superintendent in writing of the date the tribal governing body received the application. If, within 45 days after receiving the application, the tribal governing body does not provide the Superintendent with a formal resolution objecting to the application to recontract, the absence of receipt of such resolution shall constitute the tribe's request to recontract.

(b) If the original contract provided services to more than one Indian tribe, the tribal organization must give a copy of the written application to recontract to each tribal governing body 75 days before the original contract expires. The tribal organization shall promptly notify the Bureau office, where the application is to be submitted under § 401.21, in writing of the date the tribal governing bodies received copies of the application. If, within 45 days after receiving copies of the application, none of the tribal governing bodies provide the appropriate Bureau office with a formal resolution objecting to the application to recontract, the absence of receipt of such resolutions shall constitute the tribe's request to recontract. If one or more of the tribal governing bodies involved object to the contract, the contract will not be made until all of the tribal governing bodies have approved the request and the matter is resolved.

§ 401.21 Submission of requests to contract.

Tribal requests to contract and contract applications shall be submitted to the Bureau, as follows:

(a) To the Superintendent when the tribe(s) or Indians to be served by the contract are within the jurisdiction of that Agency office.

(b) To the Area Director when the tribe(s) or Indians to be served by the contract are within the jurisdiction of more than one Agency office in the same Bureau Area.

(c) To the Commissioner when the tribe(s) or Indians to be served by the contract are within the jurisdiction of more than one Area Office.

§ 401.22 Review and action by Superintendent.

The Superintendent shall take the following actions after receiving the contract application:

(a) Within five days, the Superintendent shall notify the applicant and the tribal governing body, if different from the applicant, that the application was received.

(b) Within 15 days, the Superintendent shall review the application for completeness and request any additional information from the applicant or from the requesting tribe that is needed to satisfy the requirements of § 401.14.

(c) Within 30 days, the Superintendent shall make recommendations in writing to the applicant and the tribal governing body which he feels are needed to avoid possible declination and shall indicate the technical assistance available from the Agency Office to correct any deficiencies.

(d) The Superintendent shall provide the technical assistance offered in the written recommendation as requested by the tribal organization and tribal governing body.

(e) The Superintendent shall forward the application to the Area Office with his comments and recommendations as follows:

(1) Within 30 days after receiving the application when the Superintendent has no recommendations to make to the applicant.

(2) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(3) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(4) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(5) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(6) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(7) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(8) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(9) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(10) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(11) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(12) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(13) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(14) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(15) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(16) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(17) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(18) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(19) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(20) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

(2) Within 10 days after making written recommendations to the applicant when the applicant does not respond or refuses the technical assistance offered.

§ 401.23 Review and action by Area Director.

Upon receipt of the contract application, the Area Director will review the application and the Superintendent's recommendations or, where the application was submitted directly to the Area Director as provided for in § 401.21, obtain the appropriate Superintendent's recommendations and then proceed as follows:

(a) Notify the applicant and the tribal governing body, if different from the applicant, that the application was received, within five days of its receipt.

(b) Within 15 days, review the contract application, the recommendations of the Superintendent, any responses from the contract applicant or the tribal governing body and the criteria for declination set forth in § 401.15 to determine if there are any declination issues that must be addressed, and at the completion of the review, take one of the following actions as appropriate:

(1) If there are no declination issues, the Area Director will notify the contract applicant in writing of this fact, and offer to enter into contract negotiations within 30 days of advising the applicant or at the applicant's convenience, and furnish a copy of any documents to be used by the Bureau during negotiations.

(2) If it is felt that there are declination issues that must be resolved, the Area Director will notify the applicant and/or tribal governing body of this fact in writing. The notice shall include a list of the declination issues identified by the Area Director, the reason(s) for such identification, a copy of any documents used in arriving at the issues, recommendations for resolving the issues and the technical assistance available for this purpose. The notice shall also request a meeting with the applicant and/or tribal governing body to discuss the issues and seek agreement on a course of action to resolve them. The meeting shall be held within 15 days of the applicant's and/or tribal governing body's receipt of the notice or at a time mutually agreed to by the parties.

(3) If the applicant accepts the technical assistance, it shall be provided in accordance with the applicant's request. At such time as the issues are thus resolved, the Area Director will so advise the applicant and offer to enter into negotiations within 15 days of resolution or at the applicant's convenience.

(4) If the applicant declines the Area Director's offer of technical assistance and the matter is not otherwise resolved, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(5) If the applicant does not respond within 30 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendations and offer of assistance, and does not request additional time in which to respond, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(6) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(7) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(8) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(9) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(10) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(11) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(12) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(13) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(14) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(15) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(16) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(17) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(18) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(19) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(20) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

(iv) If the applicant does not agree with the Area Director's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the Area Director's receipt of the applicant's response to the Area Director's recommendations, the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.24.

§ 401.24 Area Director's recommendation to decline.

(a) If the Area Director, the applicant and the tribal governing body fail to resolve the declination issues, the Area Director shall prepare a written recommendation to decline.

(b) This recommendation shall contain, at a minimum, the following information:

(1) Identification of specific objections, categorized under one or more of the declination factors set forth in § 401.15.

(2) Specific recommendations on actions required by the applicant or tribe to overcome objections.

(3) Description of the nature, scope, and source of the technical assistance which has been provided or offered by the Bureau to assist the tribal organization to overcome declination objections.

(4) Copies of all correspondence between the Agency, Area and applicant and/or tribe, and all responses thereto, including any reports of meetings between the parties relative to the application.

(5) Copy of original application.

(c) The Area Director shall send the written recommendation to the Commissioner within 15 days after the time periods provided in § 401.23(b) (2) (iii) and (iv). At the same time, he shall send a copy of the written recommendation to the tribal organization and tribal governing body.

(d) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(g) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(h) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(i) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(j) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(k) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(l) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(m) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(n) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(o) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(p) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(q) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(r) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. To reconstitute the application process the applicant must notify the Area Director, at which time the Area Director shall proceed in accordance with § 401.23.

(s) Within 15 days of receipt of the Area Director's recommendation to decline, the applicant may notify the Commissioner and the Area Director that it accepts the offer of technical assistance described in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, thereby staying the declination process. ## PROPOSED RULES

(c) Within 15 days after receiving the Area Directors' recommendations, the Commissioner shall review the application, the Area Directors' recommendations, and the declination criteria in § 401.15.

(d) Within 15 days after receiving the Area Directors' recommendations, the Commissioner shall notify the applicant, the appropriate tribal governing bodies, and the Area Director(s) of one of the following:

(1) When the Commissioner does not accept the Area Director's recommendations to decline, notice shall be given that the recommendations are not accepted and that the Bureau shall enter into a contract with the applicant.

(2) When the Commissioner accepts the Area Directors' recommendations and believes that the Bureau should not contract as requested, notice shall be given that the Commissioner plans to issue a declination notice and that the applicant has the following rights:

(i) The applicant may submit a written rebuttal to the Commissioner's plan to issue a declination notice.

(ii) The applicant may request to appear before the Commissioner or his representative under paragraph (e) of this section.

(iii) The applicant must use these rights within 30 days after receiving the notice required in paragraph (d) (2) of this section.

(e) If the applicant requests to appear before the Commissioner under paragraph (d) (2) (ii) of this section, the Commissioner shall:

(1) Select a site for a meeting between the applicant and the Commissioner or his representative from the Bureau's headquarters.

(2) Authorize payment of transportation costs and per diem under terms he may make to allow adequate representation of the applicant and the appropriate tribe(s), if the meeting is more than 50 miles from the office of the applicant.

(3) Notify the applicant and the appropriate tribe(s) of the time, location and other terms of the meetings.

(4) Hold the meeting within 30 days of the request, unless the applicant requests a later date.

(f) (1) The Commissioner shall issue a declination notice as follows:

(i) Within 15 days after receiving the applicant's rebuttal submitted under paragraph (d) (2) (i) of this section or after the conclusion of the meeting under paragraph (e) of this section.

(ii) Within 45 days after notifying the applicant under paragraph (d) (2) of this section when the applicant has not used the rights under paragraph (d) (2) of this section.

(2) The declination notice shall be in writing and shall contain:

(i) Identification of specific objectives, categorized under one or more of the declination criteria set forth in § 401.15.

(ii) Specific recommendations on actions required by the applicant or tribe(s) to overcome objections.

(iii) Description of the nature, scope, and source of the technical assistance which has been provided to overcome declination objections.

(iv) Copies of all correspondence between the Bureau, applicant and/or tribe(s), and all responses thereto, including any reports or meetings between the parties relative to the application.

(v) Copy of original application.

(vi) The appeal rights of the applicant and/or the tribal governing body under § 401.83.

§ 401.26 Appeals of Commissioner's decision to decline.

The tribal organization and/or the tribal governing body shall have 60 days to appeal to the Board of Indian Appeals, Department of Interior, Washington, D.C., the decision by the Commissioner to decline to contract. The appeal shall be made as provided in § 401.83.

§ 401.27 Failure of Bureau Agency or Area Office to act.

Whenever a Bureau Agency or Area Office official fails to take action on a contract application within the time limits established in this Part, the tribal organization that submitted the application, may, at its option, request action by the next higher Bureau official. In such cases, the official that failed to act shall immediately forward the application and all material pertinent thereto to the official to whom the request for action was made.

Subpart C—Additional Requirements for Trust Responsibilities

§ 401.31 Applicability.

This Subpart gives additional requirements applicable to the application and approval process for contracts under this Part which involve the Bureau's trust responsibilities in the area of natural resources, such as assessments, irrigation, real estate, forestry, range management, wildlife and parks, water inventories, and hunting and fishing.

§ 401.32 Contractable functions or programs.

Contractable trust resources programs, or portions thereof, include the following:

(a) Assessments; inventories of existing resources in trust for individuals and for tribes.

(b) Soil and moisture conservation; basic soil and water conservation, watershed protection, flood prevention, cooperative surveys and investigations, and resource conservation and development; Provided, That lease and permit management and monitoring shall be conducted in accordance with prior accepted local procedures and accepted principles of good husbandry.

(c) Irrigation; development, construction, recordkeeping, rehabilitation, operations and maintenance; Provided, That when operations and maintenance activities are contracted such contracts will not adversely affect services provided by the system, and each such contract contains prescribed guidelines and specific standards for services to be performed under said contract.

(d) (1) Real estate: maintenance of land records, preparation of abstracts of title, research programs to determine heirship and inventory of estates, collection of technical data and studies to be used in determinations of tribal claims to real property, collection of data leading to ascertainment of surface and subsurface resources, administration of leases.

(2) Advice and technical assistance provided individual landowners in connection with lease negotiations initially will be made concurrently by a contractor and an appropriately designated Federal official. Depending upon Indian community reaction to tribal involvement in this area, contracts subsequently may be modified to increase tribal participation progressively.

(e) Forestry: forest management and planning, including the making of inventories, management plans and maintenance, tribal or individual Indian consultation services, administration of timber sales and Indian permit cutting, conduct of timber stand improvement projects, protection of the forest against wildlife, trespass, disease, or insect infestation, and participation in cooperative programs with other Federal, State, or tribal organizations similar to programs of the Bureau. Activities which already are provided Indian forests from non-Bureau sources, as part of the management of a forested area larger than the reservation, are not contractable under provisions of this Part.

(f) Range management: development of contract stipulations for agricultural leases/permits (land use stipulations or conservation standards necessary to define each use shall be incorporated in and made a part of such lease or permit); supervision of compliance, fee collection, watershed management, game and fish management, outdoor recreation, wildlife prevention and control.

(g) Wildlife and parks: conservation, use, and development of wildlife (including fisheries resources), and preservation of natural beauty, historical sites, and archeological remains.

(h) Water inventories for protection of water rights.

(i) Hunting and fishing: programs to implement court decisions affecting on- and off-reservation hunting and fishing rights and programs to provide biological data supporting litigation concerning hunting and fishing issues.

§ 401.33 Content of application.

In addition to the information required in § 401.14, the following additional information shall be included in the contract application when a trust resource or responsibility is involved:

(a) A statement of the impact of proposed activity on trust resources related to:

(1) Maintenance of inventory levels and values to tribes and to individuals; and

(2) Income to individuals and tribe. The statement must also demonstrate a thorough assessment of the trust resources issues, positive steps to protect the trust resources, provisions that limit or eliminate potential for conflicts-of-interest, and that no delegation of trust responsibility is requested.

(b) A statement of the special skills and qualifications required of personnel attached to program activity impacting on trust resources and trust responsibility.

§ 401.34 Criteria for declining to contract.

(a) If a contract application includes a project or function which is related to the Bureau's performance of a trust responsibility in the area of natural resources as given in § 401.32, the Commissioner shall decline to contract if he finds that:

(1) The contract application provides for or would necessarily require the delegation to the tribal organization of a trust responsibility vested by law in the Secretary or the Commissioner.

(2) The contract application provides for the termination of a trust responsibility.

(b) The contract application provides for completion or maintenance of the project or function to a lesser standard than under Bureau administration. However, a tribal proposal to raise performance standards shall not be used as a reason for declination.

(c) The proposed activity requires special skills for its performance and the proposed key staff does not meet Civil Service Commission or excepted qualification standards, other accepted professional standards appropriate to the discipline involved, or are not otherwise recognized as technically qualified.

Subpart D—General Contract Requirements

§ 401.41 Advance payments.

(a) At the request of a tribal contractor, the Bureau contracting officer shall make advance payments under contracts as provided in this section. The requirements given in this section and in Chapter 2000 of the Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual apply to making the advance payments.

(b) Any request for advance payment by a tribal contractor shall specify the amount(s) required and the dates such advance(s) will be required and shall be supported by a schedule of estimated expenditures.

(c) An initial advance will be limited to the amount of estimated expenditures for a period of time required to effect payment, based on experience in the locality. The initial advance may be made in amounts and at times determined suitable to satisfy the minimum essential needs of the contractor.

(d) Later advances may be made at times and in amounts determined necessary to insure availability of funds for timely payment of the tribal contractor's obligations and to minimize the time between withdrawal from the Treasury and expenditure. Requests for advances after an initial advance shall be accompanied and supported by a report of expenditures to date and the amount of funds on hand.

(e) Allowance payments shall be made as follows:

(1) When the annual advance to a tribal contractor is expected to exceed $250,000 in the aggregate and the contract term is for at least one year, the letter-of-credit method normally shall be used. The requirements contained in Chapter 2000 of the Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual shall apply to making these advance payments.

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (e) (1) of this section, advance payments shall be made by check made payable to the tribal contractor and handled as follows:

(i) Advance payments may be made directly to the tribal contractor when the contractor is a tribal governing body, a non-profit Indian organization serving as a governmental instrumentality of an Indian tribe or an intertribal council. However, when the contractor is not one of the above, the advance payment may be made directly if all of the following conditions exist:

(A) The advance payment does not exceed $2500.

(B) It is the only advance payment involved in the contract.

(C) The performance time is less than 90 days.

(D) The advance payment does not exceed 85% of the amount of the contract.

(ii) Checks for advance payments which cannot be made directly to the tribal contractor, as given in paragraph (e) (2) (i) of this section, shall be marked for deposit in a special bank account established for the contract. No part of the funds deposited in the special bank account shall be mingled with other funds of the tribal contractor before the funds are withdrawn to meet obligations under the contract.

(f) Tribal contractors shall not be held accountable for interest earned on funds advanced pending disbursement. However, bank balances must be maintained at the minimum level consistent with program requirements. Requests for advances shall be reviewed to insure that excess funds are not advanced.

(g) Sub-advances may be made when predetermined as a part of contracted programs or when specifically authorized in writing by the contracting officer. Sub-advances will not be made to individuals except for approved travel. In such cases, the sub-advances shall not exceed the minimum required for one trip and shall be settled by voucher or repayment within 30 days.

§ 401.42 Use of Government property.

(a) In carrying out a contract made under this Part, the Superintendent, Area Director or Commissioner shall, wherever possible, permit a tribal contractor to use existing buildings, facilities, and related equipment and other personal property owned by the Bureau within his jurisdiction. To the extent possible, arrangements on the use of Bureau property shall be provided for in the contract agreement. In determining whether real or personal property can be provided, the Bureau shall determine whether it can provide comparable services for any of the uncontracted part(s) of the program.

(b) Requests for the use of Bureau property which arise after signing of the contract shall be submitted to the relevant Bureau official by the tribal organization. Such requests should be granted and the contract appropriately amended unless such use will seriously interfere with the administration of existing Bureau programs. The property must conform to the minimum standards established by the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (84 Stat. 1590), as amended (29 U.S.C. 651).

§ 401.43 Wage and labor standards.

(a) All laborers and mechanics employed by tribal contractors or subcontractors in the construction, alteration, or repair of buildings or other facilities in connection with contracts under this Part shall be paid wages not less than those on similar construction in the locality as determined by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis-Bacon Act of March 3, 1931 (46 Stat. 1494), as amended. However, this requirement does not apply where the tribal contractor is the recognized governing body of the tribe or a non-profit Indian organization serving as a governmental instrumentality of an Indian tribe and the construction, alteration, or repair work is being performed by the tribal organization or the tribe with its own employees.

§ 401.44 Indian preference.

(a) Any contract made by the Bureau with a tribal organization shall provide that the tribal contractor shall, to the greatest extent feasible, give preference in and opportunities for employment and training to Indians.

(b) Any contract made by the Bureau with a tribal organization shall provide that the tribal contractor shall, to the greatest extent feasible, give preference in the award of subcontract to Indian organizations and to Indian-owned economic enterprises.

(c) All subcontractors employed by the tribal organization shall, to the extent possible, give preference to Indians for employment and training and shall be required to include in their bid submission a plan to achieve maximum use of Indian personnel.

§ 401.45 Liability and motor vehicle insurance.

(a) Tribal organizations shall obtain public liability and motor vehicle insurance under contracts entered with the Bureau under this Part. However, where the contracting officer determines that the risk of death, personal injury or property damage under the contract is small and that the time and cost of procuring the insurance is great in relation to the risk, the contract may be exempted from this requirement.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a) of this section, any contract which requires or authorizes, either expressly or by im-supplying labor and material in carrying out the contract. Whenever the total not be less than the Bureau would have provided if the Bureau operated the proplication, the use of motor vehicles must contain a provision requiring the tribal organization to provide liability insurance, regardless of how small the risk.

§ 401.46 Recordkeeping.

A tribal contractor will be required to develop and maintain a recordkeeping system which will:

- (a) Fully reflect all financial transactions involving the receipt and expenditure of funds provided under the contract in a manner which will provide accurate, current and complete disclosure of financial status; correlation with budget or allowable cost schedules; and clear audit facilitating data.
- (b) Reflect the amounts and sources of funds other than contract funds which may be included in the operation of a program.

(c) Provide for the creation, maintenance and safeguarding of records of lasting value, including those involving individual rights, such as permanent student records and transcripts.

(d) Provide for orderly retirement of permanent records in accordance with General Records Schedules and the Bureau Records Control Schedule.

§ 401.47 Records—access to and retention.

(a) During the term of a contract under this Part and for three years after the project or undertaking is completed, the Comptroller General, the Secretary and the Commissioner or any of their duly authorized representatives shall have access, for audit and examination purposes, to any of the tribal contractor's books, documents, papers, and records which, in their opinion, may be related or pertinent to the contract or any subcontract, with the following exceptions:

(1) The records shall be retained beyond the three year period if audit findings have not been resolved.

(2) When records are transferred to or maintained by the Bureau, the three year retention requirement does not pertain to the contractor for those records.

(b) The tribal contractor will be responsible for maintaining all documents such as invoices, purchase orders, cancelled checks, balance sheets and all other records relating to financial transactions in a manner which will facilitate auditing. The tribal contractor will be responsible for maintaining files of correspondence and other documents relating to the administration of the program or project properly separated from general records or cross-referenced to general files.

§ 401.48 Freedom of information.

(a) Unless otherwise required by law, the Bureau shall not place restrictions on tribal contractors which will limit public access to the tribal contractors' records except when records must remain confidential.

(b) A tribal contractor under this Part shall make all reports and information concerning the contract, including the report required under § 401.49, available to the Indian people which the contractor serves or represents. Reports and information may be withheld from disclosure only when both of the following conditions exist:

(1) The reports and information fall within one of the following exempt categories:

- (i) Specifically required by statute or Executive Order to be kept secret.
- (ii) Related solely to internal personnel rules and practices of the Bureau.
- (iii) Commercial or financial information obtained from a person or firm on a privileged or confidential basis.
- (iv) Memoranda or letters between agencies of the Federal Government which would not be available by law to a party other than the Federal Government in litigation with the Federal Government.

(v) Personnel, medical, and similar files where disclosure would be a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

(vi) Investigatory records compiled for law enforcement purposes when production of the records would:

(A) Interfere with enforcement proceedings;

(B) Deprive a person of a right to a fair trial;

(C) Be an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy;

(D) Disclose the identity of a confidential source and confidential information furnished only by the confidential source;

(E) Disclose investigative techniques and procedures; or

(F) Endanger the life or physical safety of law enforcement personnel.

(vii) Contained in or related to examination, operating, or condition reports prepared for the use of an agency of the Federal Government responsible for the regulation or supervision of financial institutions.

(viii) Geological and geophysical information and data concerning wells.

(2) Disclosure is prohibited by statute or Executive Order or sound grounds exist for using the exemption given in paragraph (b)(1) of this section.

(c) A request to inspect or copy reports and information shall be in writing and must reasonably describe the reports and information requested. The request may be delivered or mailed to the tribal contractor. Within ten working days after receiving the request, the tribal contractor shall determine whether to grant or deny the request. The requester shall be notified immediately of the determination.

(d) The time limit for making a determination may be extended up to an additional ten working days for good reason. The requester shall be notified in writing of the extension, reasons for the extension, and date on which the determination is expected to be made.

§ 401.49 Annual reporting.

(a) For each fiscal year during which a tribal organization receives or expends funds pursuant to a contract under this Part, the tribe which requested the contract must submit a report to the Commissioner. The report shall include, but not be limited to, an accounting of the amounts and purposes for which the contract funds were expended, the tribe's evaluation of the contract performance using the criteria submitted in the contract application, and information on the conduct of the program or services involved. The report shall include any other information requested by the Commissioner and may be submitted as follows:

(1) When the contract is with the governing body of an Indian tribe, the tribe shall submit the report to the Area Director.

(2) When the contract is with a tribal organization other than the governing body of the tribe, the tribe has the option of having the tribal organization prepare the report and submit it to the tribe for review and approval before the tribe submits it to the Area Director or Commissioner as appropriate.

(3) When the contract benefits more than one tribe, the tribal organization shall prepare and submit the report to each of the tribes benefiting under the contract. Each tribe shall endorse the report before submitting it to the Area Director or Commissioner as appropriate.

(b) The annual report shall be submitted to the Area Director or Commissioner as appropriate within 90 days after the end of the fiscal year in which the contract was performed. However, upon receipt of a written request, the period for submitting the report may be extended by the Area Director or the Commissioner if there is just cause for such extension.

(c) In addition to the yearly reporting requirement given in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the contract shall provide that the tribal contractor will make available monthly, to members of the tribe(s) affected, an accounting of the amounts and the purposes for which the contract funds were expended during the previous monthly period in the following manner:

(1) By posting a notice containing such information on or before the tenth of each month, at a conspicuous place readily accessible to members of the tribe(s) affected; or

(2) By such other means as is mutually agreed to by the tribal contractor and the Bureau.

(d) In addition to the requirements contained in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section, the tribal contractor shall furnish other reports when and as required by the Area Director or Commissioner.

§ 401.50 Penalties.

If any officer, director, agent, or employee of, or connected with, any contractor or subcontractor under this Part embezzles, willfully misapplies, steals, or obtains by fraud any of the funds or property connected with the contract or subcontract, he shall be subject to the following penalties:

(a) If the amount involved does not exceed $100, he shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

(b) If the amount involved exceeds $100, he shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

§ 401.51 Federal contracting laws and regulations.

(a) Contracts with a tribal organization under this Part shall comply with the Bureau procurement regulations contained in 41 CFR 14H-70, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) The Commissioner may waive any Federal contracting laws, executive orders, regulations, rules and other administrative requirements which he determines are not appropriate for the purposes of the contract involved or are inconsistent with the Act. Regulations and clauses which are deemed inconsistent or inappropriate for inclusion in contracts entered into under the Act may be waived, modified or supplemented in 41 CFR 14H-70 of the Bureau's procurement regulations. Requests for waivers may be made as follows:

(1) Tribal organizations may submit written requests for a waiver or modification of contract regulations on specific contracts to the Commissioner through, or jointly with, the contracting officer. The contracting officer will promptly transmit the request and his recommendations on it to the Commissioner, who shall issue a ruling within 15 days after receipt of the request.

(2) When the waiver or modification requested is determined by the Commissioner to apply in general, it will be made a part of 41 CFR 14H-70. When the Commissioner determines that the request for modification or waiver should not apply in general but is warranted for the contract to which the request pertains, the tribal organization and the contracting officer will be so advised in writing.

(3) If the request for waiver or modification is determined by the Commissioner not to be appropriate, the tribal organization will be notified in writing.

(c) Contracts will be negotiated on a sole source basis without advertising when the contracts are requested by a tribal governing body in accordance with § 401.18.

(d) A tribal organization is not required to furnish performance and payment bonds before carrying out a contract under this Part for the construction of public buildings or works as required by the Miller Act of August 24, 1935 (49 Stat. 793), as amended. However, the tribal organization shall require each of its subcontractors to furnish both performance and payment bonds as follows:

(1) A performance bond with a surety or sureties satisfactory to the approving official, and in an amount he deems adequate, for the protection of the United States.

(2) A payment bond with a surety or sureties satisfactory to the approving official for the protection of all persons supplying labor and material in carrying out the contract. Whenever the total amount payable by the terms of the contract is not more than $1,000,000, the payment bond shall be one-half the total amount payable by the terms of the contract. Whenever the total amount payable by the terms of the contract is more than $1,000,000 but not more than $5,000,000, the payment bond shall be 40 percent of the total amount payable by the terms of the contract. Whenever the total amount payable by the terms of the contract is more than $5,000,000, the payment bond shall be $2,500,000.

§ 401.52 Term of contract.

(a) The term of contracts under this Part shall not exceed one year except that contracts may be made for a longer term up to three years, subject to availability of funds under the following circumstances:

(1) The services provided under the contract can reasonably be expected to be continuing in nature and, as a result, a longer contract term would be advantageous.

(2) The Indian tribe(s) to be served by the contract request that the term be more than one year. The tribal organization will indicate the desired term of the contract on the application form. When the Indian tribe(s) request that the contract be approved as provided in § 401.18, that will also be deemed a request for the longer term indicated in the application.

(b) Contracts made for a term of more than one year may be renegotiated annually to reflect factors including, but not limited to, cost increases beyond the control of the tribal contractor. Proposed changes in the services provided under the contract which reflect changes in program emphasis may be considered during the annual renegotiation if the changes fall within the general scope of the contract. Such changes may be initiated by either the tribal contractor or the Bureau but must be agreed to by both.

§ 401.53 Performing personal services.

Any contract made under this Part may include provisions for the performance of personal services which would otherwise be performed by Federal employees. Such services include, but are not limited to, performing the following functions in accordance with the contract and applicable rules and regulations:

(a) Determining the eligibility of applicants for assistance, benefits, or services.

(b) Determining the extent or amount of assistance, benefits, or services to be provided.

(c) Determining the provisions of such assistance, benefits, or services.

§ 401.54 Contract funds.

The tribal organization shall be entitled to be funded for direct and indirect costs under the contract as follows:

(a) Direct costs under contracts for operations of programs or parts shall not be less than the Bureau would have provided if the Bureau operated the program or part during the contract, and shall include funds to plan, administer, control and evaluate the program or part.

(b) Direct costs under contracts for operation of programs or parts operated by the Bureau before contract operations shall be not less than the funds that are programmed and available for the program or part at the time of the contract application, except as limited in paragraph (g) of this section.

(c) Direct costs under contracts for the operation of programs or parts authorized to be operated by the Bureau, but not operated by the Bureau, for the benefit of the Indians to be served under the contract shall be determined by mutual agreement based on a comparison of similar programs operated by the applicant, the requesting tribe, other tribes, other governmental, public or private organizations.

(d) Direct costs for programs or parts to be contracted at the Agency Office level shall be based on the funds available at that level.

(e) Direct costs for programs or parts to be contracted at the Area Office level shall be based on funds available at that level.

(f) Allowability of costs under contracts shall be determined under Appendix A of Part 406 of this chapter.

(g) Funds provided under contract for direct or indirect costs shall not cause a reduction in funds provided for other programs or parts not under contract, except as agreed to by the affected tribe(s) and within the existing authorities of the Bureau.

§ 401.55 Savings under contract.

(a) If it becomes apparent during the contract term that the estimated amount of a contract under this Part will be in excess of actual expenditures under the contract, the identified savings shall be used to provide additional services or benefits within the scope and limitations of the contract.

(b) When both the tribal organization and the Bureau agree that it is not practicable to spend the savings during the contract term and the contract funds were appropriated pursuant to the Act of November 2, 1921 (42 Stat. 208), the savings may be carried over into the succeeding fiscal year contract, except as otherwise specifically provided in appropriation acts. Savings carried over into a succeeding fiscal year shall be added to the contract amount for that fiscal year. The savings shall not reduce the amount that would have been made available if there had been no savings.

(c) If there are savings under a contract that is retroceded as provided in § 401.71, the savings shall be used by the Bureau to operate the program or part of a program covered by the retroceded contract. The savings may be carried over and used for such operations during the succeeding fiscal year, except as otherwise specifically provided in appropriation acts.

Subpart E—Contract Revision or Amendment

§ 401.61 Requesting revision or amendment.

(a) Any contract made under this Part may be revised or amended as deemed necessary to carry out the purposes of the program, project or function being contracted.

(b) The contractor shall submit proposed revisions and amendments to the Bureau as follows:

(1) To the contracting officer in the Area Office when the tribe(s) or Indians served by the contract are within the jurisdiction of that Area Office.

(2) To the contracting officer in the Bureau's headquarters in Washington, D.C. when the tribe(s) or Indians served are within the jurisdiction of more than one Area Office.

(c) The contractor shall send copies of all requests for revisions or amendments to the designated representative of the tribal governing body at the same time as they are sent to the appropriate contracting officer.

§ 401.62 Review and action by contracting officer.

Upon receipt of the proposed revision or amendment from the contractor, the contracting officer shall:

(a) Within five days, notify in writing the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) if different from the contractor, of receipt of the proposed revision or amendment and that the tribal governing body(s) shall have 15 days from receipt of the notice to send any written objections to the contracting officer. If the tribal governing body(s) object to the proposed revision or amendment, the contracting officer shall so notify the contractor and the proceedings under this subpart shall cease.

(b) Within 30 days after the tribal governing body(s) received the notice, if no objections are received, review the proposed revision or amendment and the criteria for declination given in § 401.15. At the completion of the review, the following action will be taken as appropriate:

(1) If there are no declination issues, the contracting officer will notify the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) in writing of this fact and offer to revise or amend the contract within 30 days of issuing the notice or at their convenience.

(2) If it is felt that there are declination issues that must be resolved, the contracting officer will notify the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) of this fact and the extent of the issues, recommend a course of action to resolve the issues and offer technical assistance to resolve the issues within 30 days after issuing the notice.

(3) If the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) accept the technical assistance, it shall continue in accordance with their request. At such time as the issues are thus resolved the contracting officer will so advise the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) and offer to enter into negotiations within 15 days of resolution or at their convenience.

(4) If the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) decline the contracting officer's offer of technical assistance and the matter is not otherwise resolved, the contracting officer shall proceed in accordance with § 401.63.

(5) If the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) do not respond within 30 days of receipt of the contracting officer's recommendations and offer of assistance and do not request additional time in which to respond the contracting officer shall proceed in accordance with § 401.63.

(6) If the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) do not agree with the contracting officer's recommendations and the matter is not resolved within 30 days of the contracting officer's receipt of their response to the contracting officer's recommendations, the contracting officer shall proceed in accordance with § 401.63.

§ 401.63 Contracting officer's recommendation to decline.

(a) If the contracting officer, the contractor, and the tribal governing body fail to resolve the declination issues, the contracting officer shall prepare a written recommendation to decline.

(b) This recommendation shall contain, at a minimum, the following information:

(1) Identification of specific objections, categorized under one or more of the declination factors set forth in § 401.15.

(2) Specific recommendations on actions required by the contractor or tribe(s) to overcome objections.

(3) Description of the nature, scope, and source of the technical assistance which has been provided or offered by the Bureau to assist the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) to overcome the declination objections.

(4) Copies of all correspondence between the contracting officer and contractor and tribal governing body(s) and all responses thereto, including any reports of meetings between the parties relative to the proposed revision or amendment.

(5) Copy of original proposed revision or amendment.

(c) The contracting officer shall make written recommendations to:

(1) The Area Director when the tribe(s) or Indians served by the contract are within the jurisdiction of that Area Office.

(2) The Commissioner when the tribes or Indians served are within the jurisdiction of more than one Area Office.

§ 401.64 Review and action by Area Director or Commissioner.

(a) Within five days after receiving a proposed revision or amendment and the contracting officer's recommendations to decline, the Area Director or Commissioner as given in § 401.61 shall notify the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) in writing of the receipt of the proposed revision or amendment.

(b) Within 15 days after receiving the contracting officer's recommendations, the Area Director or Commissioner shall review the application, the contracting officer's recommendations, and the declination criteria in § 401.15.

(c) Within 15 days after receiving the contracting officer's recommendations, the Area Director or Commissioner shall notify the contractor, the appropriate tribal governing body(s), and the contracting officer of one of the following:

(1) When the Area Director or Commissioner does not accept the contracting officer's recommendations to decline, notice shall be given that the recommendations are not accepted and that the Bureau shall revise or amend the contract as requested by the contractor and the tribal governing body(s).

(2) When the Area Director or Commissioner accepts the contracting officer's recommendations and believes the Bureau should not revise or amend the contract as requested, notice shall be given that the Area Director or Commissioner plans to issue a declination notice and that the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) have the following rights:

(i) The contractor and the tribal governing body(s) may submit a written rebuttal to the Area Director's or Commissioner's plan to issue a declination notice.

(ii) The contractor and the tribal governing body(s) may request to appear before the Area Director or Commissioner or their representatives under paragraph (d) of this section.

(iii) The contractor and the tribal governing body(s) must exercise these rights within 30 days after receiving the notice required in paragraph (c) (2) of this section.

(d) If the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) request to appear before the Area Director or Commissioner under paragraph (c) (2) (ii) of this section, the Area Director or Commissioner shall:

(1) Select a site for a meeting between the contractor, the tribal governing body(s), and the Area Director or Commissioner. The Area Director or Commissioner may designate a representative from his office to attend the meeting.

(2) Authorize payment of transportation costs and per diem under terms he may make to allow adequate representation of the contractor and the appropriate tribe(s), if the meeting is more than 50 miles from the office of the contractor.

(3) Notify the contractor and the appropriate tribe(s) of the time, location and other terms of the meeting.

(4) Hold the meeting within 30 days of the request, unless the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) request a later day.

(e) (1) The Area Director or Commissioner shall issue a declination notice as follows:

(i) Within 15 days after receiving the contractor's and tribal governing body(s)' rebuttal submitted under paragraph (c) (2) (i) of this section or after the conclusion of the meeting under paragraph (d) of this section.

(1) Within 45 days after issuing the notice under paragraph (c) (2) of this section when the contractor and tribal governing body(s) have not used the rights under paragraph (c) (2) of this section.

(2) The declination notice shall be in writing and shall contain:

(i) Identification of specific objections, categorized under one or more of the declination criteria set forth in § 401.15.

(ii) Specific recommendations on actions required by the contractor or tribe to overcome the objections.

(iii) Description of the nature, scope, and source of the technical assistance which has been provided or offered by the Bureau to assist the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) to overcome the declination objections.

(iv) Copies of all correspondence between the Bureau, the contractor and/or tribe, and all responses thereto, including any reports or meetings between the parties relative to the application.

(v) Copy of original proposed revision or amendment.

(vi) The appeal of rights of the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) under § 401.82 or 401.83 as given in § 401.65.

§ 401.65 Appeal of Area Director's or Commissioner's decision to decline.

(a) The contractor and/or the tribal governing body(s) shall have 60 days after the decision by the Area Director or Commissioner to decline to amend the contract.

(b) An appeal from an Area Director's decision to decline to amend the contract shall be made to the Commissioner as provided in § 401.82.

(c) An appeal from the Commissioner's decision to decline to amend the contract shall be made to the Board of Indians and Appeals, Department of Interior, Washington, D.C., as provided in § 401.83.

§ 401.66 Revisions or amendments proposed by Bureau.

(a) Where the Bureau proposes a revision or amendment to a specific contract, it shall notify the contractor and the tribal governing body(s) in writing of the following:

(1) The specific revision or amendment which is proposed.

(2) The rationale for the proposal.

(b) All amendments proposed by the Bureau must be agreed to, in writing, by the contractor, the tribal governing body(s) and the Bureau. If such agreement cannot be obtained, the proposed amendment shall not be adopted by the Bureau.

Subpart F—Retrocession and Reassumption

§ 401.71 Retrocession.

(a) Tribal governing bodies not only have a right to contract for Bureau programs or portions thereof, as they choose, but also have a right to return responsibility for the operation of a contracted program or portion thereof to the Bureau for any reason they deem appropriate. Retrocession specifically recognizes the Federal Government's unique and continuing relationship with and responsibility to Indian people.

(b) When a tribal organization experiences specific problems with the operation of a contract and is considering the possibility of retrocession, it may request the Bureau to assist it to avoid retrocession. In the event of such a request, the Bureau will:

(1) Meet with appropriate officials of the tribal organization and the tribe, where the tribal governing body is not the contractor, to develop a plan to avoid retrocession.

(2) Provide, to the extent possible, special technical assistance to assist the tribal organization to satisfactorily operate the program and enable it to avoid retrocession.

§ 401.72 Full retrocession procedures.

(a) Whenever an Indian tribe requests retrocession of a contract, whether operated directly by the tribal governing body or a tribal organization, or in the case of a contract with a tribal organization which is performing services benefiting more than one Indian tribe and all of the benefiting tribes request retrocession, retrocession shall be effective upon a date specified by the Commissioner or Area Director as appropriate but no later than 120 days after the date of the request from the tribe(s), except when the tribe(s) and the Commissioner mutually agree on a later date. When the contract is with a tribal organization other than the tribal governing body and the tribal resolution required under § 401.18(c) (2) does not vest in the tribal governing body the sole right to request retrocession, the tribal governing body shall consult with the tribal organization and, if so requested, offer it an opportunity to be heard in accordance with tribal procedures before requesting retrocession of the contract.

(b) Within 15 days after receipt by the Commissioner or Area Director of a request for retrocession, representatives of the tribe(s), the tribal organization when appropriate, and the Commissioner or Area Director as appropriate shall meet and take the following actions:

(1) Mutually agree on a plan for orderly transfer of responsibilities.

(2) Mutually agree on a plan for inventorying and accounting for materials and supplies on hand, equipment, facilities and real property.

(3) Establish an accounting of funds, current and anticipated obligations, and costs of operation until the retrocession date.

(4) Identify all records relating to the contract and to the contracted function.

(c) On the date of retrocession, the tribal contractor will deliver to the Bureau all property that was acquired with contract funds and all materials, supplies and records of whatever nature which have been identified as necessary for the continuation of the program, project or function.

(d) Within 60 days after retrocession, the tribe(s) and the Bureau will jointly develop a report to the Commissioner outlining the reasons why retrocession was requested.

(e) Retrocession of a contract by an Indian tribe shall be without prejudice to:

(1) Any other contract to which it is a party.

(2) Any other contracts it may request.

(3) Any future request to contract for the programs or services covered by the retroceded contract, insofar as the conditions which led to retrocession are no longer a factor and the tribal organization is the same one that held the retroceded contract.

§ 401.73 Tribal assumption of retroceded contracts.

Wherever an Indian tribe chooses to retrocede a contract operated by a tribal organization other than the tribal governing body, the tribal governing body pursuant to § 401.18 may request to contract for the program. In such a case, the tribal governing body shall submit a contract application pursuant to § 401.14.

§ 401.74 Reassumption.

(a) A contract made under this Part may be terminated, and control or operation of the program or function assumed by the Commissioner or Area Director as appropriate, in whole or in part, when the Commissioner or Area Director determines that the tribal organization's performance under the contract involves:

(1) The violation of the rights, or endangerment of the health, safety or welfare of any persons, or

(2) Gross negligence or mismanagement in the handling or misuse of funds provided under the contract.

(b) If the Commissioner or Area Director as appropriate finds there is an immediate threat to safety, he may, upon written notice to the tribal organization, immediately terminate the contract and resume control or operation of the program. In such an event, the Commissioner or Area Director will schedule a hearing within 10 days at which time he shall state the corrective action needed to be taken by the tribal organization and the time in which the corrective action must occur before it can continue operations under the contract. The hearing shall be conducted as provided in § 401.81.

(c) If there is no immediate threat to safety, the Commissioner or Area Director as appropriate shall provide written notice to the tribal organization of intent to terminate the contract. The notice shall give the reasons for termination, the corrective measures necessary, and a reasonable time period in which corrective action must be taken. The Commissioner or Area Director shall also schedule a hearing in accordance with § 401.81.

(d) Upon failure by the tribal organization to take the necessary corrective measures in the time given, the Commissioner or Area Director as appropriate shall terminate the contract and re-assume control or operation of the program or function. The decision with a contractor that is not a tribal organization or who is not approved by under contract with a tribal organization under this Part, the Biv Indian Act.

(d) "Bureau" means the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

§ 402.4 Revision or amendment of regulations.

PROPOSED RULES

assume control or operation of the program or function involved. The decision to terminate the contract and reassume control or operation may be appealed as provided in § 401.82 or § 401.83, as appropriate.

(e) The Commissioner may decline to enter into a new contract and may retain control of the program or function until he is satisfied that the conditions which caused the contract to be terminated have been corrected.

§ 401.75 Cancellation of contract for cause.

(a) Any contract with a tribal organization entered into under this Part may be cancelled for cause when the tribal organization fails to perform within the terms and conditions of the contract.

(b) (1) Before cancellation of the contract, the contracting officer shall advise the tribal organization in writing of the following:

(i) The reasons why the contracting officer is considering cancelling the contract.

(ii) That the tribal organization will be given an opportunity to bring its work up to an acceptable level of performance within a specified period of time.

(iii) That the Bureau will furnish technical advice and assistance to help overcome the deficiencies in the contract performance, when requested.

(2) When the contract is with other than the governing body of the Indian tribe, the tribe(s) receiving services or benefits under the contract will be notified when a cancellation for cause is contemplated. The notice shall include the reasons why a cancellation for cause is contemplated and any supporting documents used by the contracting officer to reach his conclusions. The notice shall also offer to hold a meeting with the tribe(s) to discuss the issues and explore any options available to the tribe(s). The contracting officer and the tribe(s) will mutually consider the relevant issues before the contracting officer proceeds with any cancellation action.

(c) If the tribal organization does not overcome the deficiencies in its contract performance within 45 days of its receipt of the notice of deficiencies and the Indian tribe(s) affected do not advise the contracting officer within that time that they consider the services provided under the contract to be satisfactory, the contracting officer shall cancel the contract for cause. The contracting officer will notify the tribal organization, in writing, of the cancellation. The notice shall give the reasons for the cancellation and the right of the tribal organization to appeal under § 401.84.

(d) When a contract is cancelled for cause, the Bureau will either perform the work with its own forces or by another contract, as appropriate. When the Bureau does not have sufficient forces on hand to immediately perform the work, it may, for temporary periods of the shortest duration possible, contract with a contractor that is not a tribal organization or who is not approved by the governing body of the tribe(s). However, in such cases, the advice of the tribe(s) will be obtained to determine how they desire the services to be rendered.

(e) Excess costs resulting from a cancellation that are required to operate the program will be provided by the Bureau to the extent that funds are available. However, if current funds are not sufficient to maintain the program at its planned level, the program may be reduced until funds become available.

(f) The decision to cancel a contract for cause may be appealed in accordance with § 401.84.

(g) Any tribal organization that has a contract cancelled for cause must demonstrate that the causes which led to the cancellation have been cured before it will be considered for another contract. In addition, there must be a new resolution and a new request from the Indian tribe(s) that will receive services or benefits under the contract.

§ 401.76 Bureau operation of retroceded, reassumed or cancelled for cause contracts.

(a) The Bureau shall provide to the tribe(s) and Indians served by a contract which is retroceded, reassumed, or cancelled for cause not less than the same quantity and quality of service it would have provided if there had been no contract.

(b) The Bureau shall provide to the tribe(s) and Indians served by a contract which is retroceded, reassumed, or cancelled for cause not less than the same quantity and quality of permanent and temporary personnel that meet the U.S. Civil Service qualifications it would have provided if there had been no contract. The procedures in § 401.77 will be followed to obtain personnel to operate programs or parts of programs previously under contract with a tribal organization but returned for operation by the Bureau because the contract was either retroceded, reassumed or cancelled for cause.

(c) This section shall apply to all contracts for the operation of Bureau programs or parts of programs in effect at the time of the effective date of these regulations entered into under the authority of the Buy Indian Act (25 U.S.C. 47), and any contracts under this Part.

(d) Actions under this section shall not cause a reduction in the quality and quantity of services to tribe(s) or Indians not served by contracts which are retroceded, reassumed or cancelled for cause.

§ 401.77 Authorized position and end-of-year employment ceiling reserve for Bureau operation of retroceded, reassumed or cancelled contracts.

(a) When authorized permanent and other positions and permanent and other end-of-year employment ceiling are not required for the operation of all or parts of a Bureau program because the program or parts of a program are under contract with a tribal organization under this Part, the Buy Indian Act or any other authority, the positions and ceilings shall be reserved. The positions and ceiling reserved shall be available only for the same program or parts of a program at the same locations if the Bureau must operate the program or parts of a program because a tribe has retroceded the contract or because the Bureau has reassumed or cancelled the contract for cause.

(b) Upon the effective date of these regulations, the Bureau shall establish a position and ceiling reserve for all contracts for the operation of all or parts of Bureau programs in effect as of the date of enactment of the Act, January 4, 1975, or entered into thereafter.

Subpart G—Hearings and Appeals

§ 401.81 Hearings.

Hearings required by § 401.74 shall be conducted as follows:

(a) The tribal organization and the Indian tribe(s) shall be notified, in writing, of the hearing. The notice shall give the date, time, place, and purpose of the hearing.

(b) A written record of the hearing shall be made. The record shall include written statements submitted at the hearing or within five days following the hearing.

(c) The hearing will be conducted on as informal a basis as possible.

§ 401.82 Appeals from decision or action by Area Director.

A tribal organization or tribal governing body may appeal any decision made or action taken by an Area Director under this Part. Such appeal shall be made to the Commissioner as provided in Part 2 of this chapter.

§ 401.83 Appeals from decision or action by Commissioner.

(a) A tribal organization or tribal governing body may appeal the Commissioner's decision to decline to contract or to decline to amend a contract under § 401.25 or 401.64 to the Board of Indian Appeals, Department of the Interior, as provided in Subpart D of 43 CFR Part 4.

(b) A tribal organization or tribal governing body may appeal any other decision made, action taken, or action not taken within the time limits required by this Part, by the Commissioner if authorized and as provided in Part 2 of this chapter. A decision by the Commissioner concerning funding levels for a program or part of a program to be contracted is considered to be an exercise of the Commissioner's discretionary authority and, therefore, is final for the Secretary.

§ 401.84 Appeals from Bureau decision to cancel contract for cause.

A tribal organization may appeal the Bureau's decision to cancel for cause any contract made under this Part. Such appeal shall be made to the Director of the Office of Hearings and Appeals as provided in Subpart G of 43 CFR Part 4.

AUTHORITY: Sec. 104, Pub. L. 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203, unless otherwise noted.

Subpart A—General Provisions

§ 402.1 Purpose and scope.

The purpose of the regulations in this Part is to provide the application and approval procedures for the award by the Bureau of grants under section 104(a) of Title I of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Public Law 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203). Title I is known as the Indian Self-Determination Act.

§ 402.2 Definitions.

As used in this Part:

(a) "Act" means the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Public Law 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203).

(b) "Applicant" means a tribal governing body applying for a grant under this Part.

(c) "Area Director" means the official in charge of a Bureau of Indian Affairs Area Office.

(d) "Bureau" means the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

(e) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

(f) "Days" means calendar days.

(g) "Economic enterprise" means any commercial, industrial, agricultural or business activity that is at least 51 per cent Indian owned, established or organized for the purpose of profit.

(h) "Grant" means a written agreement between the Bureau and a tribal governing body where the Bureau provides funds to carry out specified programs, services or activities and where the administrative and programmatic provisions are specified.

(i) "Grantee" means the tribal governing body which is responsible for administration of the grant.

(j) "Indian" means a person who is a member of an Indian tribe.

(k) "Indian tribe" means any Indian Tribe, Band, Nation, Rancheria, Pueblo, Colony or Community, including any Alaska Native village or regional or village corporation as defined in or established pursuant to the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (85 Stat. 688) which is recognized as eligible by the Secretary for the special programs and services provided by the Secretary to Indians because of their status as Indians.

(l) "Resolution" means the formal manner in which the tribal government expresses its legislative will pursuant to its organic documents. In the absence of formal organization written expression adopted pursuant to current practices will be acceptable.

(m) "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Interior.

(n) "Superintendent" means the official in charge of a Bureau of Indian Affairs Agency Office.

(o) "Subcontracts" means contracts undertaken some of the obligations of primary grants.

(p) "Subgrants" means secondary grants undertaken some of the obligations of primary grants.

(q) "Trust resources" means land, water, minerals, funds or property, asset, or claim, and any right or interest in any of the foregoing, which is held by the United States in trust for any Indian tribe or Indian individual subject to a restriction on alienation imposed by the United States.

(r) "Trust responsibility" means any right or power vested by law in the United States, or any official or employee thereof, to approve or otherwise regulate the alienation, disposition, encumbrance, management, development, or use of trust resources.

§ 402.3 Effect on existing Indian rights.

The regulations in this Part are not meant to and do not:

(a) Affect, modify, diminish, or otherwise impair the sovereign immunity from suit enjoyed by an Indian tribe; or

(b) Authorize, require or permit the termination of any existing trust responsibility of the United States with respect to the Indian people.

§ 402.4 Revision or amendment of regulations.

Before making any substantive revisions or amendments to the regulations in this part, the Secretary shall take the following actions:

(a) Consult with Indian tribes and national and regional Indian organizations to the extent practicable about the need for revision or amendment and consider their views in preparing the proposed revision or amendment.

(b) Present the proposed revision or amendment to the Committees on Interior and Insular Affairs of the United States Senate and House of Representatives.

(c) Publish any proposed revisions or amendments in the FEDERAL REGISTER as proposed rulemaking to provide adequate notice to, and receive comments from all interested parties.

(d) After consideration of all comments received, publish the regulations in the FEDERAL REGISTER in final form not less than 30 days before the date they are made effective.

§ 402.5 Statement of policy.

(a) The Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Pub. L. 93-638) is intended to facilitate increased self-determination for American Indians by providing a means through which they may plan, conduct and administer programs and services to Indian people. These programs and services are essentially those authorized by the Act of April 16, 1934 (Johnson-O'Malley Act); the Act of November 2, 1921 (Snyder Act) and other subsequent Acts.

(b) A most important aid available to assist Indians in achieving this objective of increased self-determination is the grant authority provided in section 104 of the Act. This grant authority will assist Indian tribes in improving their governing capabilities, increase their ability to effectively administer programs under contract, and enable them to provide direction to the Federal programs intended to serve Indian people.

(c) Under this grant authority the Bureau of Indian Affairs will administer a program of Indian self-determination grants which shall be subject to Parts 402 and 406 of this chapter. In the administration of this grant program, it shall be the Bureau's policy that approval of applications for these grants shall include a determination that there is a direct and reasonable relationship between the applicant's proposal and the provisions of section 104a of the Act and of § 402.12.

(d) In accordance with this policy, it shall be the responsibility of the applicant to establish that such a grant will improve the tribe's governing capabilities, enhance the tribe's ability to administer Federal programs under contract, or enable the tribe to provide direction to Bureau programs and to other Federal programs serving it.

(e) Emphasis on planning and training in relation to the purposes of a grant

Subpart B—Application Process

§ 402.11 Eligibility requirements.

The governing body of any Indian tribe or tribes may apply for a grant under this Part.

§ 402.12 Purpose of grants.

Grants are for the purpose of: (a) Strengthening and improving administration of tribal government. This includes but is not limited to the following:

(1) Developing the capability of the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of tribal government in such areas as administration of planning, financial management, or merit personnel systems.

(2) Improvement of tribally funded programs or activities.

(3) Development, construction, improvement, maintenance, preservation, or operation of tribal facilities or resources.

(4) Training of tribal officials and employees in areas relating to the planning, conduct and administration of tribal programs.

(5) Design and implementation of new tribal government operations.

(6) Development of policy-making, legislative and judicial skills.

(b) Planning, training, evaluation or other activities designed to improve the capacity of an Indian tribe to enter into a contract or contracts pursuant to section 102 of the Act and the additional costs associated with the initial years of operation under such a contract or contracts. Use of grants by Indian tribes, as indicated in this paragraph, may include the following:

(1) Evaluation of programs and services currently being provided directly by the Bureau in order to determine:

(i) Whether it is appropriate for the Indian tribe to enter into a contract pursuant to section 102 of the Act for a program or a portion of a program.

(ii) Whether the Indian tribe can improve the quality or quantity of the service now available.

(iii) Whether certain components should be redesigned but the program should continue to be operated by the Bureau.

(iv) Whether the program as currently administered by the Bureau is adequate to meet tribal needs and, therefore, the Indian tribal organization does not wish to contract or modify the program.

(2) Planning or redesigning a Bureau program before the Indian tribe contracts for it, and development of an operational plan for carrying out the anticipated contract in order to facilitate the transition of the program from Bureau to tribal operation.

(3) Training of tribal officials and employees in areas related to the conduct and administration of programs of the Bureau which the Indian tribe may wish to operate under contract.

(4) Costs associated with contracting to enable tribal contracting. Examples of such costs include curriculum development in support of tribal contracting of schools, in-service training programs to develop the skills of employees of the Indian tribe on a continuing basis, special on-the-job training activities in support of tribal members being prepared to assume program responsibilities.

(c) Acquisition of land in connection with paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. Procedures for acquisition of land are prescribed in § 406.11 of this chapter.

(d) Planning, designing, monitoring, and evaluating Federal programs serving the Indian tribe. This may include assisting the tribal government to influence Federal programs presently offered or those that could be offered to the tribe to assure that they are responsive to the needs of Indian tribes. A tribal government may monitor and evaluate the operations of such programs which now serve tribal members and replan and redesign those programs to better respond to their needs. Bureau programs which are planned, replanned, designed or redesigned in accordance with this paragraph shall be implemented by the Bureau as prescribed in § 402.27.

(e) Funds made available for grants for the purposes described above may be applied as matching shares for other Federal or non-Federal grant programs as prescribed in § 402.33.

§ 402.13 Obtaining application forms.

Standard application forms, instructions and related application materials may be obtained from Superintendents, Area Directors, and the Commissioner.

§ 402.14 Content of application.

Application for a grant under this Part shall include:

(a) Name and address of Indian tribal governing body(s) applying for a grant.

(b) Descriptive name of project.

(c) Federal funding needed.

(d) Population directly benefiting from the project.

(e) Length of project.

(f) Beginning date.

(g) Project budget categories or items.

(h) Program narrative statement.

(i) Certification or evidence of request by Indian tribe.

(j) Name and address of Bureau office to which application is submitted.

(k) Date application is submitted to Bureau.

(l) Additional information pertaining to grant applications for funds to be used as matching shares will be requested as prescribed in § 402.33.

§ 402.15 Assistance in developing and completing grant applications.

(a) Technical assistance and support necessary to develop and complete grant applications under this Part shall be provided by the Superintendents, Area Directors and their designated representatives upon request of the applicant.

(b) Applicants may apply for initial planning grants to cover the costs of developing and completing larger grant applications as follows:

(1) An application for an initial planning grant may be accomplished by submission of a tribal request as prescribed in § 402.16, together with an accompanying letter from the tribal governing body requesting an initial planning grant in a specific amount. This letter shall include a brief description of the proposed initial planning project, its purpose or objective as related to development or completion of a larger grant application, and the initial planning project budget categories or items.

(2) This initial planning grant shall be no more than 10% of the total grant which may be available to the tribal governing body, up to a maximum of $20,000.

(3) An application for an initial planning grant shall be submitted directly to the appropriate officer having grant application approval authority as prescribed in § 402.17 (a) or (b) and shall be acted upon by that officer with a minimum of delay.

§ 402.16 Tribal request.

The Bureau shall not make a grant under this Part unless specifically and officially requested to do so by an Indian tribe. This request may be in the form of a tribal resolution, an endorsement included in the grant application or such other forms as the tribal constitution or current practice requires.

§ 402.17 Grant approval limitations.

(a) Area Office approval. Authority for approval of a grant application under this Part shall be with the Area Director when the intent, purpose and scope of the grant proposal pertains solely to an Indian tribe or tribes located within that Area Director's administrative jurisdiction.

(b) Central Office approval. Authority for approval of a grant application under this Part shall be with the Commissioner when the intent, purpose and scope of the grant proposal pertains to Indian tribes representing different Area Office administrative jurisdictions but located within the Commissioner's overall administrative jurisdiction.

(c) Grant approvals under this section shall be subject to availability of funds. These funds will include those which are:

(1) Directly appropriated for implementation of this Act.

(2) Appropriated under other Acts for Bureau programs which are related to the purposes prescribed in § 402.12. However, this does not include funds appropriated for Indian Business Development Fund grants which are administered under Part 80 of this chapter.

§ 402.18 Submitting application to Agency Office.

An application for a grant under this Part shall be initially submitted to the appropriate Superintendent for review and recommendation as prescribed in § 402.19. This does not include applications for initial planning grants to develop and complete larger grant applications. Such initial planning grant applications are submitted and acted upon as prescribed in § 402.15(b).

§ 402.19 Agency Office review and recommendation.

(a) Recommendation for approval or disapproval of a grant under this Part shall be made by the Superintendent when the intent, purpose and scope of the grant proposal pertains to or involves an Indian tribe or tribes located within that Superintendent's administrative jurisdiction.

(b) Upon receipt of an application for a grant under this Part, the Superintendent shall:

(1) Acknowledge in writing receipt of the application within 10 days of its arrival at the Agency Office.

(2) Review the application for completeness of information and promptly request any additional information which may be required to make a recommendation.

(3) Assess the completed application for appropriateness of purpose as prescribed in § 402.12, and for overall feasibility.

(4) Inform the applicant, in writing and before any final recommendation, of any special problems or impediments which may result in a recommendation for disapproval; offer any available technical assistance required to overcome such problems or impediments; and solicit the applicant's written response.

(5) Recommend approval or disapproval following full assessment of the completed application and forward the application and recommendation to the Area Director for further action.

(6) Promptly notify the applicant in writing as to the final recommendation. If the recommendation is for disapproval, the Superintendent will include in the written notice to the applicant the specific reasons therefor.

(7) In instances where a joint application is made by tribes representing more than one Agency Office administrative jurisdiction, copies of the application shall be provided by the applicants to each involved Superintendent for review and recommendation as prescribed in this section.

§ 402.20 Deadline for Agency Office action.

Within 30 days of receipt of an application for a grant under this Part, the Superintendent shall take action as prescribed in § 402.19. Extension of this deadline will require consultation with and written consent of the applicant.

§ 402.21 Area Office review and action.

(a) Upon receipt of an application for a grant requiring Area Office approval, the Area Director shall:

(1) Review the application following the applicable review procedure prescribed in § 402.19.

(2) Review the Superintendent's recommendation as pertains to the application.

(3) Approve or disapprove the application.

(b) In instances where a joint application is made by tribes representing more than one Area Office administrative jurisdiction, the Area Director shall add his recommendation for approval or disapproval to that of the Superintendent and shall forward the application and recommendations to the Commissioner for further action.

PROPOSED RULES

(c) Upon taking action as prescribed in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, the Area Director shall promptly notify the applicant in writing as to the action taken. If the action taken is disapproval or recommendation for disapproval of the application, the Area Director will include in the written notice the specific reasons therefor.

§ 402.22 Deadline for Area Office action.

Within 30 days of receipt of an application for a grant under this Part, the Area Director shall take action as prescribed in § 402.21. Extension of this deadline will require consultation with and written consent of the applicant.

§ 402.23 Central Office review and decision.

Upon receipt of an application for a grant requiring Central Office approval, the Commissioner shall:

(a) Review the application following the applicable review procedures prescribed in § 402.19.

(b) Review Agency and Area Office recommendations as pertain to the application.

(c) Approve or disapprove the application.

(d) Promptly notify the applicant in writing as to the approval or disapproval of the application. If the application is disapproved, the Commissioner will include in the written notice the specific reasons therefor.

§ 402.24 Deadline for Central Office action.

Within 30 days of receipt of an application for a grant under this Part the Commissioner shall take action as prescribed in § 402.23. Extension of this deadline will require consultation with and written consent of the applicant.

§ 402.25 Grant execution and administration.

(a) Grants approved pursuant to § 402.17(a) shall be executed and administered at the Area Office level.

(b) Grants approved pursuant to § 402.17(b) shall be executed and administered at the Central Office level provided that the Commissioner may designate an Area Office to execute or administer such a grant.

§ 402.26 Subgrants and subcontracts.

The grantee may make subgrants or subcontracts under this part provided that such subgrants or subcontracts are for the purpose for which the grant was made and that the grantee retains administrative and financial responsibility over the activity and the funds.

§ 402.27 Acceptance of tribal plans for the operation of Bureau programs.

Any Bureau program, excluding any trust resources program, which is planned, replanned, designed or redesigned by a tribe under a grant provided under this Part shall be implemented by the Bureau if requested by the tribe through resolution. However, before implementation the program shall meet the following requirements:

(a) Funding, staffing and other resources are available to implement the plan.

(b) The implementation of the plan would not cause a reduction in the quality or quantity of services to Indians.

(c) The plan meets the administrative planning requirements of the Bureau. However, the plan need not meet the planning requirements for the particular program.

(d) The plan provides a basis for the delivery of satisfactory services to Indian people, unless it can be demonstrated by the Bureau by substantial evidence that the plan will yield results which will be deleterious to the welfare of the Indian people to be served.

(e) The Commissioner may waive any regulatory requirements given elsewhere in this chapter or any other requirements not inconsistent with law. Inconsistencies between tribal plans and Bureau manual, guidelines, or other non-regulatory procedures are not constraints on the tribal plans.

Subpart C—General Grant Requirements

§ 402.31 Applicability.

The general requirements for grant administration in this Subpart are applicable to all Bureau grants provided to tribal governing bodies under this Part, except to the extent inconsistent with an applicable Federal statute or regulation.

§ 402.32 Reports and availability of information to Indians.

Any tribal governing body receiving a grant under this Part shall make information and reports concerning that grant available to the Indian people which it serves or represents. Access to these data shall be requested in writing and shall be made available by the tribe within 10 days of receipt of that request, subject to any exceptions provided for in the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552), as amended by the Act of November 21, 1974 (P.L. 93-502; 88 Stat. 1561).

§ 402.33 Matching share.

(a) Specific Federal laws notwithstanding, grant funds provided to tribal governing bodies under this Part may be used as matching shares for any other Federal or non-Federal grant programs which contribute to the purposes specified in § 402.12.

(b) Superintendents, Area Directors, and their designated representatives will, upon tribal request, assist tribes in obtaining information concerning other Federal grantor agencies with matching fund programs and will, upon tribal request, provide technical assistance to tribes in developing applications for submission to those Federal grantor agencies.

PROPOSED RULES

PROPOSED RULES

§ 402.34 Performing personal services.

Any grant provided under this Part may include provisions for the performance of personal services which would otherwise be performed by Federal employees.

§ 402.35 Fair and uniform services.

Any grant provided under this Part shall include provisions to assure the fair and uniform provision by the grantee of services and assistance to all Indians included within or affected by the intent, purpose and scope of that grant.

§ 402.36 Penalties.

If any officer, director, agent, or employee of, or connected with, any recipient of a grant, subgrant, contract or subcontract under this Part, embezzles, willfully misapplies, steals, or obtains by fraud any of the money, funds, assets, or property which are the subject of such a grant, subgrant, contract, or subcontract, he shall be subject to the following penalties:

(a) If the amount involved does not exceed $100, he shall be fined not more than one year, or both.

(b) If the amount involved exceeds $100, he shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

Subpart D—Grant Revision, Cancellation, or Assumption*§ 402.41 Revisions or amendments of grants.

(a) Requests for budget revisions or amendments to grants awarded under this Part shall be made as provided in § 406.14 of this chapter.

(b) Requests for revisions or amendments to grants provided under this Part, other than budget revisions referred to in paragraph (a) of this section, shall be made to the Bureau officer responsible for approving the grant in its original form. Upon receipt of a request for revisions or amendments to grants, the responsible Bureau officer shall follow precisely the same review procedures and time specified in § 402.19.

§ 402.42 Assumption.

(a) When the Bureau cancels a grant for cause as specified in § 406.15 of this chapter, the Bureau may assume control or operation of the grant program, activity or service. However, the Bureau shall not assume a grant program, activity or service that it did not administer before tribal grantee control unless the tribal grantee and the Bureau agree to the assumption.

(b) When the Bureau assumes control or operation of a grant program cancelled for cause, the Bureau may decline to enter into a new grant agreement until satisfied that the cause for cancellation has been corrected.

Subpart E—Hearings and Appeals*§ 402.51 Hearings.

Hearings referred to in § 406.15 of this chapter shall be conducted as follows:

(a) The grantee and the Indian tribe(s) affected shall be notified, in writing, at least 10 days before the hearing. The notice should give the date, time, place, and purpose of the hearing.

(b) A written record of the hearing shall be made. The record shall include written statements submitted at the hearing or within 5 days following the hearing.

(c) The hearing will be conducted on as informal a basis as possible.

§ 402.52 Appeals from decision or action by Superintendent.

(a) A grantee may appeal any decision made or action taken by a Superintendent under this Part. Such appeal shall be made to the Area Director as provided in Part 2 of this chapter.

(b) The appellant shall provide its own attorney or other advocates to represent it during the appeal process.

§ 402.53 Appeals from decision or action by Area Director.

(a) A grantee may appeal any decision made or action taken by an Area Director under this Part. Such appeal shall be made to the Commissioner as provided in Part 2 of this chapter.

(b) The appellant shall provide its own attorney or other advocates to represent it during the appeal process.

§ 402.54 Appeals from decision or action by Commissioner.

(a) A grantee may appeal any decision made or action taken by the Commissioner under this Part only as provided in Part 2 of this chapter.

(b) The appellant shall provide its own attorney or other advocates to represent it during the appeal process.

§ 402.55 Failure of Agency or Area Office to act.

Whenever a Superintendent or Area Director fails to take action on a grant application within the time limits established in this Part, the applicant may at its option, request action by the next higher Bureau official who has grant approval authority as prescribed in this Part. In such instances, the Superintendent or Area Director who failed to act shall immediately forward the application and all related materials to that next higher Bureau official.

Subpart A—General Provisions*§ 403.1 Purpose and scope.

(a) The purpose of the regulations in this Part is to set forth the application and approval process for education contracts under the Johnson-O'Malley Act. Such contracts shall be for the purpose of financially assisting those efforts designed to meet the specialized educational needs of eligible Indian students, including programs supplemental to the regular school program and school operational support, where such support is necessary to maintain established State educational standards.

(b) The application and approval process in this Part applies specifically to contracts with a State, school district, or Indian corporation.

(c) Contracts with tribal organizations for supplemental and operational support will be entered into only upon the request of an Indian tribe(s), and shall be subject to the provisions of Part 401 of this chapter and 41 CFR Part 14H-70, except as provided in § 403.11.

(d) Nothing in these regulations shall be construed as:

(1) Affecting, modifying, diminishing, or otherwise impairing the sovereign immunity from suit enjoyed by an Indian tribe;

(2) Authorizing or requiring the termination of any existing trust responsibility of the United States with respect to the Indian people; or,

(3) Permitting significant reduction in services to Indian people as a result of this Part.

(e) Nothing in these regulations shall be construed to mandate an Indian tribe to request a contract or contracts. Such requests are strictly voluntary.

§ 403.2 Definitions.

§ 403.3 Revision or amendment of regulations.

Before revising or amending the regulations in this Part, the Commissioner shall take the following actions:

(a) Consult with Indian tribes and national and regional Indian organizations to the extent practicable about the need for revision or amendment and consider their views in preparing the proposed revision or amendment.

(b) Publish the proposed revisions or amendments in the Federal Register as proposed rulemaking to provide adequate notice to, and receive comments from, all interested parties.

(c) After consideration of all comments received, publish the regulations in the Federal Register in final form not less than 30 days before the date they are made effective.

§ 403.4 Policy of maximum Indian participation.

The meaningful participation in all aspects of educational program development and implementation by those affected by such programs is an essential requisite for success. Such participation not only enhances program responsiveness to the needs of those served, but also provides them with the opportunity to determine and affect the desired level of educational achievement and satisfaction which education can and should provide. Consistent with this concept, maximum Indian participation in the development, approval and implementation of all programs contracted under this Part shall be required.

Subpart B—Application Process*§ 403.11 Eligible applicants.

(a) Any State, school district, tribal organization or Indian corporation is eligible to apply for contracts for supplemental or operational support programs. For the purposes of this Part, previously private schools as defined in § 403.2(n) are considered tribal organizations.

(b) States, school districts, or Indian corporations shall apply for contracts for supplemental or operational support programs as required in this Part.

(c) Tribal organizations must comply with the following requirements to obtain contracts for supplemental programs or operational support:

(1) The application submitted by the tribal organization shall meet the requirements in § 403.20 in addition to those in § 401.14 of this chapter.

(2) The requirements in §§ 401.1 through 401.27, 401.41 through 401.52, 401.54, 401.61 through 401.66, and 401.81 through 401.84 shall apply to such contracts with tribal organizations.

(3) The provisions in §§ 401.71 through 401.77 of this chapter concerning retrocession and re-assumption of programs do not apply to a tribal organization retroceding a contract for supplemental programs or operational support as the Bureau does not operate education programs authorized to be contracted under the Johnson-O'Malley Act. However, the tribal organization may retrocede such a contract and the Bureau will then contract with a State, school district, or Indian corporation under this Part for the supplemental programs or operational support.

(4) The requirements in §§ 403.12 through 403.18, 403.20, 403.21, 403.31 through 403.39, 403.41, 403.51 and 403.53 shall apply to such contracts with tribal organizations.

PROPOSED RULES

(5) The requirements in 41 CFR Part

(a) The education programs approved

§ 403.16 Powers and duties of Indian the same powers and duties as given in the Indian Education Committee as re-

§ 403.19 Obtaining application forms.

(5) The requirements in 41 CFR Part 14H-70 shall apply to such contracts with tribal organizations.

§ 403.12 Eligible students.

Indian students, from early childhood through grade 12, shall be eligible for benefits provided by a contract pursuant to this Part if they are ¼ or more degree Indian blood and recognized by the Secretary as being eligible for Bureau services. Priority shall be given to contracts (a) which would serve Indian students on or near reservations and (b) where a majority of such Indian students will be members of the tribe(s) of such reservations (as defined in § 403.2(c)).

§ 403.13 Proposals eligible for contracts.

(a) Any proposal to contract for funding a program which meets the definition of a supplemental program given in § 403.2(t) will be considered an eligible proposal under this Part.

(b) (1) To be an eligible proposal to contract for operational support, a public school district shall be required to establish as part of the proposal that:

(i) It cannot meet the applicable minimum State standards without such funds.

(ii) It has made a reasonable tax effort with a mill levy at least equal to the State average in support of educational programs.

(iii) It has fully utilized all other sources of financial aid, including all forms of State aid and Pub. L. 874 payments. The State aid contribution per pupil must be at least equal to the State average.

(iv) There is at least 75 percent eligible Indian enrollment within the school district or within any particular school served. The Commissioner may waive this requirement at the request of the affected tribe(s) and Indian Education Committee(s) if there is at least a 51 percent eligible Indian enrollment within the school district or with any particular school served.

(2) The requirements given in paragraph (b) (1) of this section do not apply to previously private schools.

(c) At his discretion, the Commissioner may consider as eligible a proposal to contract under which a school district will be reimbursed for the full per capita costs of educating Indian students who meet all of the following:

(1) Are members of recognized Indian tribes.

(2) Do not normally reside in the State in which the school district is located.

(3) Are residing in Federal boarding facilities for the purpose of attending public schools within the school district.

§ 403.14 Preparing the education plan.

A prospective contractor in consultation with its Indian Education Committee(s) shall formulate an education plan and submit it to the appropriate Area Director as a part of the application to contract required by § 403.20. Such plan shall become a part of any contract awarded. The education plan shall contain:

(a) The education programs approved by the Indian Education Committee(s) as required in § 403.17.

(b) Other requirements for the education plan given in § 403.18.

§ 403.15 Establishment of Indian Education Committee.

(a) When a school district to be affected by a contract(s) for the education of Indians pursuant to this Part has a local school board composed of a majority of Indians, that school board will serve in place of an Indian Education Committee for the purposes of this Part. The school board shall have the duties and powers given in § 403.16 and shall have approval authority over the programs to be contracted as given in § 403.17.

(b) When a school district to be affected by a contract(s) for the education of Indians pursuant to this Part has a local school board not composed of a majority of Indians, the tribal governing body(s) of the Indian tribe(s) affected by the contract(s) under this Part shall specify one of the following entities to serve as the Indian Education Committee for the purpose of this Part:

(1) An Indian Education Committee to be elected from among the parents (including persons acting in loco parentis except school administrators or officials) of eligible Indian students enrolled in the school(s) affected by a contract(s) under this Part; or

(2) A local Indian committee established pursuant to section 305(b) (2) (B) (ii) of the Act of January 23, 1972 (86 Stat. 235) and existing prior to January 4, 1975; or

(3) An Indian advisory school board or Indian Education Committee established pursuant to the Johnson-O'Malley Act and existing prior to January 4, 1975.

(c) When the local school board is not composed of a majority of Indians and the tribal governing body(s) of the Indian tribe(s) affected by a contract(s) under this Part determine which of the entities provided for in paragraph (b) of this section is to serve as the Indian Education Committee for the purpose of this Part, it shall notify the Area Director of such determination by January 15 preceding the school year for which the contract will be let.

(d) The Indian Education Committee established under paragraph (b) of this section and its members shall establish procedures under which the Committee shall serve. Such procedures shall be set forth in the Committee's organizational documents and by-laws. Each Committee shall file a copy of its organizational documents and by-laws with the appropriate Area Director, together with a list of its officers and members as soon as practicable after the Committee is organized.

(e) The existence of an Indian Education Committee shall not limit the continuing participation of the rest of the Indian community in all aspects of programs contracted under this part.

§ 403.16 Powers and duties of Indian Education Committee.

(a) Consistent with the purpose of the Indian Education Committee, each such Committee shall be vested with the authority to:

(1) Participate fully in the planning, development, implementation, and evaluation of all programs, including both supplemental and operational support, conducted under a contract or contracts pursuant to this Part. Such participation shall include further authority to:

(i) Recommend curricula, including texts, materials, and teaching methods to be used in the contracted program or programs.

(ii) Approve budget preparation and execution.

(iii) Recommend criteria for employment in the program.

(iv) Nominate a reasonable number of qualified prospective educational programmatic staff members from which the contractor would be required to select.

(v) Evaluate staff performance and program results and recommend appropriate action to the contractor.

(2) Approve and disapprove all programs to be contracted under this Part. All programs contracted pursuant to this Part shall require the prior approval of the appropriate Indian Education Committee.

(3) Secure a copy of the negotiated contract(s) which include the program(s) approved by the Indian Education Committee.

(4) Recommend to the appropriate Bureau contracting officer cancellation of a contract(s) which contains the program(s) approved by the Indian Education Committee if the contractor fails to permit such Committee to exercise its powers and duties as specified by this section.

(b) The organizational papers and by-laws of the Indian Education Committee may include additional powers and duties which would permit the Committee to:

(1) Participate in negotiations concerning all contracts under this Part.

(2) Make an annual assessment of the learning needs of Indian children in the community affected.

(3) Have access to all reports, evaluations, surveys, and other program and budget related documents determined necessary by the Committee to carry out its responsibilities, subject only to the provisions of § 403.50.

(4) Request periodic reports and evaluations regarding the Indian education program.

(5) Hear grievances related to programs in the education plan.

(6) Meet regularly with the professional staff serving Indian children and with the local education agency.

(7) Hold committee meetings on a regular basis which are open to the public.

(8) Have such additional powers as are consistent with these regulations.

(c) A local school board composed of a majority of Indians and serving in place of the Indian Education Committee as prescribed in § 403.15(a) shall have the same powers and duties as given in this section.

§ 403.17 Programs approved by Indian Education Committee.

(a) All programs contracted under this Part shall:

(1) Be developed and approved in full compliance with the powers and duties of the Indian Education Committee as set out in § 403.16 and as may be contained in the Committee's organizational documents and by-laws.

(2) Be included as a part of the education plan provided for in § 403.14.

(b) No program contracted pursuant to this Part shall be changed from the time of its original approval by the Indian Education Committee to the end of the contract period without the prior approval, in writing, of the Committee.

(c) Programs developed or approved by the Indian Education Committee pursuant to this Part may, at the option of such Committee, include funds for the performance of Committee duties, including the following:

(1) Members' attendance at regular and special meetings, workshops and training sessions, as the Committee deems appropriate.

(2) Such other reasonable expenses incurred by the Committee in performing its primary duties, including the planning, development, implementation and evaluation of the program.

(d) A local school board composed of a majority of Indians and serving in place of the Indian Education Committee as prescribed in § 403.15(a) shall perform all the functions that the Committee is required or authorized to perform in this section.

§ 403.18 Additional requirements for education plan.

In addition to incorporating the programs approved by the Indian Education Committee(s) as required by § 403.14(a), the education plan prepared by the prospective contractor shall:

(a) Contain educational objectives which adequately address the educational needs of the Indian students to be served by the contract.

(b) Incorporate the program or programs developed and approved by the Indian Education Committee(s). As provided in § 403.17(b), changes in such programs must have prior written approval of the Indian Education Committee(s).

(c) Contain procedures for hearing grievances from Indian students, parents, community members, and tribal representatives relating to the program(s) contracted under this Part. Such procedures shall provide for adequate advance notice of the hearing.

(d) Identify established State standards which shall be maintained in operating programs and services contracted under this Part.

(e) Describe how the State standards will be maintained.

(f) Provide that the contractor shall comply in full with the requirements concerning meaningful participation by the Indian Education Committee as required by § 403.4.

(g) Provide that education facilities receiving funds shall be open to visits and consultations by the Indian Education Committee(s), tribal representatives, Indian parents in the community, and by duly authorized representatives of the Federal and State governments.

(h) Outline procedures of administrative and fiscal management to be used by the contractor.

(i) Contain justification for requesting funds for operational support. The public school district must establish in its justification that it meets the requirements given in § 403.13(b). The information given should include records of receipt of local, State, and Federal funds.

(j) List special programs which are or will be operated. Examples are guidance and counseling, educational aides, summer programs, tutors, Indian culture and history, and exceptional child education programs.

(k) Include budget estimates and financial information needed to determine program costs to contract for services. This includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(1) State and district average operational cost per pupil.

(2) Other sources of Federal funding the applicant is receiving, the amount received from each, the programs being funded, and the number of eligible Indian students served by such funding.

(3) Administrative costs involved, total number of employees, and total number of Indian employees.

(4) Costs which parents normally are expected to pay.

(5) Supplemental and operational funds outlined in a separate budget, by line item, to facilitate accountability.

(6) Total number of employees for each special program and number of Indian employees for that program.

(7) State the total enrollment of school or district, by age and grade level.

(8) State the eligible Indian enrollment—total and classification by tribal affiliation(s) and by age and grade level.

(9) State the total number of school board members and number of Indian school board members.

(10) List Government equipment needed to carry out the contract.

(11) State the period of contract term requested.

(12) Include the signature of the authorized representative of applicant.

(13) Provide a narrative description, information and data regarding:

(1) Identification of problems, assessment of documented educational needs, and educational philosophy.

(2) Determination and statement of program goals and behavioral objectives.

(3) Selection and description of solution strategies and tools to contribute to desired changes.

(4) Implementation steps for the operation of the funded program.

(5) Determination of program and performance effectiveness in meeting the stated objectives.

§ 403.19 Obtaining application forms.

Application forms, instructions, and related application materials are available from Area Directors and the Commissioner. Use of standard application forms will facilitate processing of applications. However, they are not required if the information required by § 403.20 is given in the application to contract.

§ 403.20 Content of application to contract.

An application for a contract under this Part shall be in writing and shall contain the following:

(a) Name, address, and telephone number of the proposed contractor.

(b) Name, address, and telephone number of the tribe(s) to be served by the contract.

(c) Descriptive narrative of the contract proposal.

(d) The education plan required by § 403.14.

(e) A separate budget outlining the Johnson-O'Malley funds for operational support and/or supplemental programs, by line item, to facilitate accountability.

(f) A clear identification of what educational needs the Johnson-O'Malley funds requested for operational support will address.

(g) Documentation of the requirements for operational support in § 403.13 (b) (1).

§ 403.21 Tribal request for contract.

(a) An Indian tribal governing body(s) that desires that a contract be entered into with a tribal organization must so notify the Area Director no later than January 15 preceding the school year for which the contract will be let.

(b) If the tribal governing body's notice is not received by the date given in paragraph (a) of this section, the Area Director may contract with the State, school district, or Indian corporation under this Part.

§ 403.22 Application approval officials.

(a) Each Area Director is authorized to approve the contract(s) submitted by the State, school district, or Indian corporation under this Part which will provide services to Indian children within the jurisdiction of that Area Office.

(b) When a proposed contract(s) will provide services to Indian children within the jurisdiction of more than one Area Office, the contract must be approved by the Commissioner.

§ 403.23 Submitting application to Area Office.

When services under the proposed contract will be provided to Indian children within the jurisdiction of a single Area Office, the completed application shall be submitted to the Area Director of that Area Office.

§ 403.24 Area Office review and decision.

Upon receiving a contract application, the Area Director shall:

(a) Notify the applicant in writing that the application has been received. This notice shall be made within fourteen

(14) days after the Area Office receives the eligible Indian students, except by 41 CFR 14 and 41 CFR 14H except structing, altering, or repairing buildings or other facilities in connection with

(14) days after the Area Office receives the application.

(b) Review the application for completeness and promptly request any additional information from the applicant which will be needed to reach a decision.

(c) On receiving an application for operational support, make formal written determination and findings supporting the need for such funds. In arriving at such a determination, the Area Director must be assured that each local education agency has made a good faith effort in computing State and local contributions without regard to funds requested pursuant to this Part.

(d) Assess the completed application to determine if the contract proposal is feasible and if the proposal and the application comply with the appropriate requirements of the Johnson-O'Malley Act and of the regulations in this Part.

(e) Approve or disapprove the application after fully reviewing and assessing the application and any additional information submitted by the applicant.

(f) Promptly notify the applicant in writing of the decision to approve or disapprove the application. If the application is disapproved, the notice will give the reasons for disapproval and the applicant's right to appeal pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter.

§ 403.25 Deadline for Area Office action.

(a) The Area Director shall approve or disapprove an application for a contract within sixty (60) days after the Area Office receives the application, except as given in paragraph (b) of this section. The sixty (60) day deadline can be extended after obtaining the written consent of the applicant.

(b) An application under this Part cannot be approved before January 15 preceding the school year for which the contract will be let.

§ 403.26 Submitting application to Central Office.

When services under the proposed contract will be provided to Indian children within the jurisdiction of two or more Area Offices, the completed application shall be submitted to the Commissioner through the respective Area Offices.

§ 403.27 Central office review and decision.

Upon receiving a contract application, the Commissioner shall:

(a) Notify the applicant in writing that the application has been received. This notice shall be made within fourteen (14) days after the Central Office receives the application.

(b) Review the application for completeness and promptly request any additional information from the applicant which will be needed to reach a decision.

(c) On receiving an application for operational support, make formal written determination and findings supporting the need for such funds. In arriving at such a determination, the Commissioner must be assured that each local education agency has made a good faith effort in computing State and local contributions without regard to funds requested pursuant to this Part.

(d) Assess the completed application to determine if the contract proposal is feasible and if the proposal and the application comply with the appropriate requirements of the Johnson-O'Malley Act and of the regulations in this Part.

(e) Approve or disapprove the application after fully reviewing and assessing the application and any additional information submitted by the applicant.

(f) Promptly notify the applicant in writing of the decision to approve or disapprove the application. If the application is disapproved, the notice will give the reasons for disapproval and the applicant's right to appeal pursuant to Part 2 of this chapter.

§ 403.28 Deadline for Central Office action.

(a) The Commissioner shall approve or disapprove an application for a contract within sixty (60) days after the Central Office receives the application, except as given in paragraph (b) of this section. The sixty (60) day deadline can be extended after obtaining the written consent of the applicant.

(b) An application under this Part cannot be approved before January 15 preceding the school year for which the contract will be let.

§ 403.29 Negotiating the contract.

After the proposal for a contract has been approved by the Area Director or Commissioner as provided in § 403.22, the contract will be negotiated by a Bureau contracting officer assisted by Bureau education personnel.

Subpart C—Funding Provisions

§ 103.31 Distribution formula.

Funds for both supplemental programs and operational support shall be apportioned among the States on a substantially equal basis, based upon the number of eligible Indian students for whom funds are sought with allowances being made for the actual cost of delivering educational services in each State. Within each State, funds shall be distributed among the contractors so that each contractor will receive approximately the same amount for each eligible Indian student to be served under the contract. The Commissioner may make exceptions based upon the special cultural, linguistic, social and educational needs of the communities involved.

§ 103.32 Pro rata requirement.

All monies provided by a contract pursuant to this Part, shall be expended only for the benefit of eligible Indian students. Where students other than eligible Indian students participate in programs contracted under this Part, money expended under such contract shall be pro-rated to cover the participation of only the eligible Indian students, except where the participation of non-eligible students is so incidental as to be de minimus.

§ 403.33 Use of funds for operational support.

All funds for school operational support shall be used to meet State educational standards.

§ 403.34 Use of other Federal, State and local funds.

(a) Contract funds under this Part shall supplement, and not supplant, Federal, State and local funds. Each contract shall require that the use of these contract funds will not result in a decrease in State, local, or Federal funds which would be made available for Indian students if there were no funds under this Part.

(b) State, local and other Federal funds must be used to provide comparable services to non-Indian and Indian students prior to the use of Johnson-O'Malley funds for the provision of supplementary program services to Indian children.

(c) Funds for operational support shall be used only as prescribed in § 403.33.

§ 403.35 Capital outlay or debt retirement.

In no instance shall contract funds provided under this Part be used as payment for capital outlay or debt retirement expenses.

§ 403.36 Eligible subcontractors.

No contract funds under the Johnson-O'Malley Act shall be made available by the Bureau directly to other than tribal organizations, States, school districts and Indian corporations. However, tribal organizations, States, school districts, and Indian corporations receiving funds under this Part may use the funds to subcontract for necessary services with any appropriate individual, organization or corporation.

§ 403.37 Use of funds outside of schools.

Nothing in these regulations shall prevent the Commissioner from contracting with Indian corporations who will expend all or part of the funds in places other than the public or private schools in the community affected.

§ 403.38 Equal quality and standard of education.

Contracts with State education agencies or school districts receiving funds under the provisions of this Part shall provide educational opportunities to all Indian children within that school district on the same terms and under the same conditions that apply to all other students. School districts receiving funds under this Part must insure that Indian children receive all aid from the State, and other proper sources other than this contract, which other schools in the district and other school districts similarly situated in the State are entitled to receive.

Subpart D—General Contract Requirements

§ 403.41 Special, program provisions to be included in contract.

All contracts under this Part shall contain the following:

(a) The education plan required by §§ 403.14 and 403.18 and, as part of the education plan, the education programs approved by the Indian Education Committee(s) under § 403.17.

(b) Any formal written determination and findings made by the Area Director or Commissioner supporting the need for operational support as required by §§ 403.24(c) and 403.27(c).

(c) The provision that State, local, and other Federal funds shall be used to provide comparable services to non-Indian and Indian students prior to the use of Johnson-O'Malley funds for the provision of supplementary program services to Indian children, as required in § 403.34(b).

§ 403.42 Civil Rights Act violations.

In no instance shall there be discrimination against Indians or schools enrolling such Indians. When informed by a complainant or through its own discovery that possible violation of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 exists within a State school district receiving funds under this Part, the Department of the Interior shall, in accordance with Federal requirements, notify the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the possible violation of Title VI. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare will conduct an investigation into the matters alleged, pursuant to a Memorandum of Understanding between the Department of the Interior and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. If the report of the investigation conducted by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare discloses a failure or threatened failure to comply with this Part, and if the non-compliance cannot be corrected by informal means, compliance with this Part may be effected by the suspension or termination of or refusal to contract or to continue financial assistance under the Johnson-O'Malley Act or by any other means authorized by law. As delineated in 43 CFR 17.1, 17.8, and 17.9, such other means may include reference to the Department of Justice with a recommendation that appropriate legal proceedings be brought by the United States to secure compliance or by formal hearing before the Commissioner or, at his discretion, before an administrative law judge designated in accordance with section 11 of the Administrative Procedure Act. The Secretary, may, by agreement with one or more other Federal departments, provide for the conduct of consolidated or joint hearings as prescribed in 43 CFR 17.8(e).

§ 403.43 Advance payments.

Advance payments to States, school districts and Indian corporations will be made in accordance with the applicable provisions of 41 CFR 1 as supplemented by 41 CFR 14 and 41 CFR 14H except 41 CFR Part 14H-70.

§ 403.44 Use and transfer of Government property.

(a) The use of Government-owned facilities for school purposes may be authorized when not needed for Government activities. Transfer of title to such facilities (except land) may be arranged under the provisions of the Act of June 4, 1953 (67 Stat. 41).

(b) In carrying out a contract made under this Part, the Area Director or Commissioner may permit a contractor to use existing buildings, facilities, and related equipment and other personal property owned by the Bureau within his jurisdiction under terms and conditions agreed upon for their use and maintenance. The property must conform to the minimum standards established by the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (84 Stat. 1590), as amended (29 U.S.C. 651). Use of Government property is subject to the following conditions:

(1) When nonexpendable Government property is turned over to public school authorities or Indian corporations under a use permit, the permittee shall insure such property against damage by flood, fire, rain, windstorm, vandalism, snow, and tornado in amounts and with companies satisfactory to the Federal officer in charge of the property. In case of damage or destruction of the property by flood, fire, rain, windstorm, vandalism, snow or tornado, the insurance money collected shall be expended only for repair or replacement of property. Otherwise, insurance proceeds shall be paid to the Bureau.

(2) If the public school authority is self-insured and can present evidence of that fact to the Area Director or Commissioner, insurance for lost or damaged property will not be required. However, the public school authority will be responsible for replacement of such lost or damaged property at no cost to the Government or for paying the Government enough to replace the property.

(3) The permittee shall maintain the property in a reasonable state of repair consistent with the intended use and educational purposes.

(c) The contractor may have access to existing Bureau records needed to carry out a contract under this Part, as follows:

(1) The Bureau will make the records available subject to the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552), as amended by the Act of November 21, 1974 (Pub. L. 93-502, 88 Stat. 1561).

(2) The contractor may have access to needed Bureau records at the appropriate Bureau office for review and making copies of selected records.

(3) If the contractor needs a small volume of identifiable Bureau records, the Bureau will furnish the copies to the contractor.

§ 403.45 Wage and labor standards.

All laborers and mechanics employed by contractors or subcontractors in constructing, altering, or repairing buildings or other facilities in connection with contracts under this Part shall be paid wages not less than those on similar construction in the locality as determined by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis-Bacon Act of March 3, 1931 (46 Stat. 1494), as amended.

§ 403.46 Indian preference.

(a) Any contract made by the Bureau with a State, school district or Indian corporation shall provide that the contractor shall, to the greatest extent feasible, give preference in and opportunities for employment and training to Indians.

(b) Any contract made by the Bureau with a State, school district or Indian corporation shall provide that the contractor shall, to the greatest extent feasible, give preference in the award of subcontracts to Indian organizations and Indian-owned economic enterprises.

(c) All subcontractors employed by the contractor shall, to the extent possible, give preference to Indians for employment and training and shall be required to include in their bid submission a plan to achieve maximum use of Indian personnel.

§ 403.47 Liability and motor vehicle insurance.

(a) States, school districts and Indian corporations shall obtain public liability and motor vehicle insurance under contracts entered into with the Bureau under this Part. However, where the Bureau contracting officer determines that the risk of death, personal injury or property damage under the contract is small and that the time and cost of procuring the insurance is great in relation to the risk, the contractor may be exempted from this requirement.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a) of this section, any contract which requires or authorizes, either expressly or by implication, the use of motor vehicles must contain a provision requiring the State, school district, or Indian corporation to provide liability insurance, regardless of how small the risk.

(c) If the public school authority is self-insured and can present evidence of that fact to the Area Director or Commissioner, liability and motor vehicle insurance will not be required.

§ 403.48 Recordkeeping.

A contractor will be required to develop and maintain a recordkeeping system which will:

(a) Fully reflect all financial transactions involving the receipt and expenditure of funds provided under the contract in a manner which will provide accurate, current and complete disclosure of financial status; correlation with budget or allowable cost schedules; and clear audit facilitating data.

(b) Reflect the amounts and sources of funds other than Bureau contract funds which may be included in the operation of the contract.

(c) Provide for the creation, maintenance and safe guarding of records of lasting value, including those involving individual rights, such as permanent rec-similar files where disclosure would be a body of the tribe adopts a resolution of this Part as provided in Subpart C of

Subpart A—General Provisions

business activity that is at least 51 per-individual rights, such as permanent records and transcripts.

(d) Provide for orderly retirement of permanent records in accordance with General Records Schedules and the Bureau Records Control Schedule, when there is no established system set up by the State, school district, or Indian corporation.

§ 403.19 Audit and inspection.

(a) During the term of a contract under this Part and for three years after the project or undertaking is completed, the Comptroller General and the Secretary, or any of their duly authorized representatives, shall have access, for audit and examination purposes, to any of the contractor's books, documents, papers, and records which, in their opinion, may be related or pertinent to the contract or any subcontract.

(b) The contractor will be responsible for maintaining all documents such as invoices, purchase orders, cancelled checks, balance sheets and all other records relating to financial transactions in a manner which will facilitate auditing. The contractor will be responsible for maintaining files of correspondence and other documents relating to the administration of the contract properly separated from general records or cross-referenced to general files.

(c) The contractor receiving funds under this Part shall be responsible for contract compliance.

(d) The records involved in any claim or expenditure that has been questioned shall be further maintained until final determination has been made on the questioned expenditures.

(e) All contracts, non-confidential records concerning all students served by the program, reports, budgets, budget estimates, plans, and other documents pertaining to preceding and current year administration of the contract program shall be made available by the contractor and local school officials to each member of the Indian Education Committee and to members of the public upon request. The contractor or local school official shall provide, free of charge, single copies of such documents upon request.

§ 403.50 Freedom of information.

(a) Unless otherwise required by law, the Bureau shall not place restrictions on contractors which will limit public access to the contractor's records except when records must remain confidential.

(b) A contractor under this Part shall make all reports and information concerning the contract available to the Indian people which the contract affects. Reports and information may be withheld from disclosure only when both of the following conditions exist:

(1) The reports and information fall within one of the following exempt categories:

(i) Specifically required by statute or Executive Order to be kept secret.

(ii) Commercial or financial information obtained from a person or firm on a privileged or confidential basis.

(iii) Personnel, medical, social, psychological, academic achievement and similar files where disclosure would be a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

(2) Disclosure is prohibited by statute or Executive Order or sound grounds exist for using the exemption given in paragraph (b) (1) of this section.

(c) A request to inspect or copy reports and information shall be in writing and must reasonably describe the reports and information requested. The request may be delivered or mailed to the contractor. Within ten working days after receiving the request, the contractor shall determine whether to grant or deny the request. The requester shall be notified immediately of the determination.

(d) The time limit for making a determination may be extended up to an additional ten working days for good reason. The requester shall be notified in writing of the extension, reasons for the extension, and date on which the determination is expected to be made.

§ 403.51 Annual reporting.

(a) A contractor under this Part shall make a detailed annual report to the approving official before September 15 of each year and covering the previous school year. The report shall include, but not be limited to, an accounting of the amounts and purposes for which the contract funds were expended, information on the conduct of the program, a quantitative evaluation of the effectiveness of the contract program in meeting the stated objectives contained in the applicant's educational plans, and a complete accounting of actual receipts at the end of the contract period.

(b) In addition to the yearly reporting requirement given in paragraph (a) of this section, the contractor shall furnish other reports when and as required by the Area Director or Commissioner.

(c) A contractor under this Part shall send copies of the reports required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section to the Indian Education Committee(s) under the contract at the same time as the reports are sent to the Bureau.

§ 403.52 Penalties.

If any officer, director, agent, or employee of, or connected with, any contractor or subcontractor under this Part embezzles, willfully misapplies, steals, or obtains by fraud any of the funds or property connected with the contract or subcontract, he shall be subject to the following penalties:

(a) If the amount involved does not exceed $100, he shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

(b) If the amount involved exceeds $100, he shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

§ 403.53 State school laws.

In those States where Public Law 93-280, 18 U.S.C. 1162 and 28 U.S.C. 1360 do not confer civil jurisdiction, State employees may be permitted to enter upon Indian tribal lands, reservations, or allotments if the duly-constituted governing body of the tribe adopts a resolution of consent for the following purposes:

(a) Inspecting school conditions in the public schools located on Indian tribal lands, reservations, or allotments.

(b) Enforcing State compulsory school attendance laws against Indian children, parents or persons standing in loco parentis.

§ 403.54 Applicable procurement regulations.

States, school districts, or Indian corporations wanting to contract with the Bureau under this Part must comply with the applicable requirements in the Federal Procurement Regulations (41 CFR 1), as supplemented by the Interior Procurement Regulations (41 CFR 14), and the Bureau of Indian Affairs Procurement Regulations (41 CFR 14H), except 41 CFR Part 14H-70.

Subpart E—Contract Revision or Cancellation

§ 403.61 Contract revision or amendment.

Any contract made under this Part may be revised or amended as deemed necessary to carry out the purposes of the program being contracted. A contractor may make a written request for a revision or amendment of a contract to the Bureau contracting officer. However, no program approved by the Indian Education Committee shall be altered from the time of its original approval to the end of the contract period without the written approval of the Committee.

§ 403.62 Cancelling a contract for cause.

(a) Any contract entered into under this Part may be cancelled for cause when the contractor fails to perform the work called for under the contract or fails to permit an Indian Education Committee to perform its duties pursuant to this Part.

(b) Before cancelling the contract, the Bureau will advise the contractor in writing of the following:

(1) The reasons why the Bureau is considering cancelling the contract.

(2) The contractor will be given an opportunity to bring its work up to an acceptable level.

(c) If the contractor does not overcome the deficiencies in its contract performance, the Bureau shall cancel the contract for cause. The Bureau will notify the contractor, in writing, of the cancellation. The notice shall give the reasons for the cancellation and the right of the contractor to appeal under Subpart C of 43 CFR Part 4.

(d) When a contract is cancelled for cause, the Bureau will attempt to perform the work by another contract.

(e) Any contractor that has a contract cancelled for cause must demonstrate that the cause(s) which led to the cancellation have been remedied before it will be considered for another contract.

Subpart F—Appeals

§ 403.71 Contract appeal.

A contractor may appeal an adverse decision or action of a Bureau contracting officer regarding a contract under this Part as provided in Subpart C of 43 CFR Part 4.

§ 403.72 Appeal from decision to cancel contract for cause.

A contractor may appeal the decision of a Bureau official to cancel a contract under this Part for cause. The appeal shall be made as provided in Subpart C of 43 CFR Part 4.

§ 403.73 Other appeals.

Any decision or action taken by a Bureau official under this Part, other than those given in §§ 403.71 and 403.72, may be appealed as provided in Part 2 of this chapter.

AUTHORITY: Sec. 204 and 208, Pub. L. 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203, unless otherwise noted.

Subpart A—General Provisions

§ 404.1 Purpose.

The purpose of the regulations in this Part is to give the application and approval process for obtaining a contract or services from the Bureau for school construction for previously private schools now controlled and operated by tribes or tribally approved Indian organizations under sections 204 and 208 of Title II of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Pub. L. 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203).

§ 404.2 Scope.

The Act authorizes the expenditure of funds authorized and appropriated under Part B of the Act to contract or provide services for school construction for tribally operated previously private schools. After an application has been completed and approved by the tribe, the application is forwarded through Bureau channels to the Commissioner for ranking by priority. If a project is within the funding priority, the Bureau contracting officer offers to negotiate a contract with the applicant subject to approval by the requesting tribe(s) for architectural-engineering design, facilities construction and purchase of equipment to provide educational facilities meeting Bureau space standards and construction code regulations. Subject to approval by the requesting tribe(s), the applicant then has the following options:

(a) Enter into a contract with the Bureau under which the applicant performs all or part of the necessary work with the Bureau performing the rest.

(b) Request that the Bureau perform or arrange for the performance of all the necessary work.

§ 404.3 Definitions.

As used in this Part:

(a) "ADM" means average daily membership which is the aggregate of the sums of the days of membership of each child in the school divided by the number of days school was in session. Only days in which pupils were under the guidance and direction of teachers in the teaching process will be considered days in session.

(b) "Act" means the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Public Law 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203).

(c) "Area Director" means the official in charge of a Bureau of Indian Affairs Area Office.

(d) "Attendance area" means, in relation to a particular school, the area in which the children who are normally served by that school reside.

(e) "Bureau" means the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

(f) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

(g) "Contractor" means an applicant who has been awarded a contract under this Part.

(h) "Days" means calendar days.

(i) "Economic enterprise" means any commercial, industrial, agricultural, or business activity that is at least 51 percent Indian owned, established or organized for the purpose of profit.

(j) "Existing school facilities" means all facilities constructed as school buildings and used continuously for classroom purposes. Excluded are basement rooms, hallways, or other space, the use of which for school purposes (in view of the character, inaccessibility or other equally cogent reasons) seriously restricts the educational objective, or has impaired or will impair the health or safety of the school children.

(k) "Indian" means a person who is a member of an Indian tribe.

(l) "Indian tribe" means any Indian Tribe, Band, Nation, Rancheria, Pueblo, Colony or Community, including any Alaska Native village or regional or village corporation as defined in or established pursuant to the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (85 Stat. 688) which is recognized as eligible by the Secretary for the special programs and services provided by the Secretary to Indians because of their status as Indians.

(m) "Initial equipment" means any movable equipment necessary and appropriate to equip minimum school facilities. Such term does not include equipment purchased to replace any equipment which is obsolete or worn out and which was purchased with funds under the Act.

(n) "Minimum school facilities" means classroom and auxiliary rooms and initial equipment necessary to operate an approved educational program for the membership of the school at normal capacity in accordance with criteria established by the Bureau.

(o) "Previously private school" means a school (other than a Federal school formerly operated by the Bureau), that is operated primarily for Indian students in any grade or grades from early childhood through grade 12; and, which at the time of application is controlled, sanctioned, or chartered by the governing body(s) of an Indian tribe(s). Where a former mission school is involved, the title to the school facility and the land on which it is situated must have been transferred to an Indian tribe for operation as a non-sectarian school.

(25 U.S.C. 278)

(p) "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Interior.

(q) "Superintendent" means the official in charge of a Bureau of Indian Affairs Agency Office.

(r) "Tribal organization" means the recognized governing body of any Indian tribe; any legally established organization of Indians which is controlled, sanctioned, or chartered by such governing body or which is democratically elected by the adult members of the Indian community to be served by such organization and which includes the maximum participation of Indians in all phases of its activities; Provided, That a request for a contract or services must be made by the Indian tribe that will receive services under the contract or from

should be current as of the time of application.

tribe's request shall be in the form of a resolution by the tribal governing body.

§ 404.17 When to submit application.

(c) Update the Bureauwide priority listing of all approved projects in order

ceive services under the contract or from the Bureau by other means; Provided further, That in any case where a contract or services will affect more than one Indian tribe, the approval of each such Indian tribe shall be prerequisite to the approval of the application for the contract or services.

§ 404.4 Effect on existing Indian rights.

Nothing in these regulations shall be construed as:

(a) Affecting, modifying, diminishing, or otherwise impairing the sovereign immunity from suit enjoyed by an Indian tribe;

(b) Authorizing or requiring the termination of any existing trust responsibility of the United States with respect to the Indian people; or

(c) Permitting significant reduction in services to Indian people as a result of this Part.

§ 404.5 Revision or amendment of regulations.

Before revising or amending the regulations in this Part, the Commissioner shall take the following actions:

(a) Consult with Indian tribes and national and regional Indian organizations to the extent practicable about the need for revision or amendment and consider their views in preparing the proposed revision or amendment.

(b) Publish the proposed revisions or amendments in the Federal Register as proposed rulemaking to provide adequate notice to, and receive comments from, all interested parties.

(c) After consideration of all comments received, publish the regulations in the FEDERAL REGISTER in final form not less than 30 days before the date they are made effective.

Subpart B—Application Process

§ 404.11 Eligible applicants.

Any tribal organization which meets all of the following criteria is eligible to apply for a contract with or services from the Bureau for school construction:

(a) The tribal organization must control and manage the previously private school for which the organization is applying for a contract or services under this Part.

(b) Title to the land on which the construction for the previously private school will be located must be vested in the tribe or the United States.

(c) The previously private school controlled and managed by the tribal organization must have a minimum current enrollment or projection of 25 students in early childhood through grade 8 and/or 50 students in grades 9 through 12.

§ 404.12 Obtaining application forms.

Application forms, instructions and related application materials are available from Area Directors and the Commissioner. Use of standard application forms will facilitate processing of applications. However, they are not required if the information contained in § 404.13 is stated in the applicant tribe's request for a contract or services.

§ 404.13 Contents of application.

An application for funding under this Part shall be in writing and shall contain the following information:

(a) Full name, address and telephone number of the tribal organization which is applying for the contract.

(b) Full name of tribe(s) with which the tribal organization is affiliated.

(c) Full name of tribe(s) directly benefiting or receiving services from the proposed contract or from the Bureau by other means.

(d) Documentation of the tribal request in the form of a resolution as outlined in § 404.15.

(e) Date of submission to the Bureau and the name of the office where the application was submitted.

(f) Signature by the authorized representative of the tribal organization and the date thereof.

(g) Outline of the educational program including:

(1) Narrative description of elementary programs with educational philosophy.

(2) Narrative description of secondary programs with educational philosophy. If application is for secondary facility, include course offering with each course outlining enrollment, class size, class meetings per week, minutes per class and fraction of year taught.

(3) What will happen to the education of the students now, in 1 to 3 years and in 4 to 10 years if the proposed facilities are not constructed? Discuss all available options, including but not limited to:

(i) Off-reservation boarding schools.

(ii) On-reservation boarding schools.

(iii) Public, Bureau or other day schools.

(iv) Temporary facilities.

(v) Outline geographic attendance boundaries and include:

(1) Map of attendance area with description.

(2) Description of other Federal, public and/or private schools within the above attendance boundary.

(3) Discussion of impact the project will have on the schools listed in paragraph (h)(2) of this section and on feeder schools.

(4) Bus routes and/or change in bus routes caused by construction of facilities.

(i) Outline school enrollment characteristics and data including:

(1) Present total enrollment and enrollment by grade.

(2) Enrollment for the past six years by total and by grade.

(3) Estimate of enrollment by year for the next five years by total and by grade.

(4) Source and/or reasons for any student population growths.

(5) Number of students residing in attendance area but enrolled in other schools, number of students attending school but residing outside attendance area, and number of people by age group residing in attendance area between one and twenty-five. The data should be current as of the time of application.

(j) Outline project description and justification data including:

(1) Function of proposed new facility, i.e., kitchen dining building for 300 students grades K-8, etc.

(2) Data such as capacity, date constructed, square footage and condition of existing facility described in paragraph (j)(1) of this section which needs to be replaced.

(3) Problems which may be encountered such as lack of adequate construction site, disputed jurisdiction, flood plain, soil conditions, archeological clearance, lack of electric power or water.

(4) Justification for project (Choose one and explain):

(i) The facility has been destroyed by a natural disaster.

(ii) The facility is unsafe or unsanitary. Documentation in the form of an engineering and/or safety report must be included for facilities that are unsafe or unsanitary. Also, there are no local educational facilities available that can provide seats for the unhoused students.

(iii) The same conditions exist as given in paragraph (j)(4)(ii) of this section for unsafe or unsanitary facilities except that other facilities can be used to seat the unhoused students temporarily.

(iv) Unhoused pupils due to enrollment and population changes.

(v) The facility is functionally obsolete. It will not meet the education program or other requirements such as poor arrangement of rooms, inadequate spaces, structural and utility changes.

(vi) The facility is functionally obsolete due to age. Operation and maintenance is costly and the facility is impractical to maintain.

(vii) The facility will make it possible for children to attend school nearer their home.

(5) A current overall plan for constructing Bureau facilities, prepared by the Bureau and approved by the tribes affected.

(6) Attendance area school construction plans and memoranda of agreements. Attach any school construction plans for the applicable attendance area for all Federal, public or private schools and any memoranda of agreement concerning such plans. If there are none, a current status report shall be submitted.

§ 404.14 Assistance in completing applications.

An applicant may obtain assistance in completing the application forms from the Agency or Area Offices. The Superintendent, Area Director, or Commissioner shall make any information available to the applicant needed to prepare the application except as restricted from disclosure by the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552), as amended by the Act of November 21, 1974 (P.L. 93-502; 88 Stat. 1561).

§ 404.15 Tribal request.

(a) Before the Bureau can approve a tribal organization's application for a contract or services, it must be requested to do so by the Indian tribe to be affected by the contract or services. The Indian tribe's request shall be in the form of a resolution by the tribal governing body. If the tribal organization is applying for a contract or services which will affect more than one tribe, an authorizing resolution from each tribal governing body must be obtained before submitting the application to the Bureau for approval.

(b) The resolution of the tribal governing body shall also specify the tribal organization which is to operate the school. The resolution shall include the results of the vote (the number for and against), the date the resolution was approved, and signature of the person authorized to certify the accuracy of the information contained in the resolution.

(c) The tribal governing body's request (resolution) should include the following:

(1) When the tribal organization is the tribal governing body, the expiration date of the authorities granted by the resolution.

(2) When the tribal organization is other than the tribal governing body:

(i) The name of the tribal organization.

(ii) The tribal office or official to which the Bureau should send copies of documents and correspondence.

(iii) Any limitations on authorities granted the tribal organization.

(3) The tribal governing body's approval or disapproval of the Bureau's current overall educational facilities construction plan which includes the new construction proposed by this project to ensure:

(i) Coordination of facility construction with public school projects.

(ii) Coordination of facility construction with other agencies.

(iii) Approval and support of the proposed project.

(d) Any procedures given in this section concerning the manner in which a tribal governing body passes a tribal constitution, law, code, ordinance, or other written document. In such cases, the tribal law or procedures shall be cited in the resolution and shall take precedence.

§ 404.16 Where to submit application.

(a) The completed application with documentation of the tribal request(s) shall be delivered or mailed to the Superintendent having jurisdiction over the tribe(s) requesting the contract or services.

(b) When the contract or services requested in the application will benefit more than one tribe under the jurisdiction of more than one Agency Office within one Area, the application and documentation of the tribal requests shall be delivered or mailed to the Area Director involved.

(c) When the contract or services requested in the application will benefit more than one tribe under the jurisdiction of more than one Area Office, the application and documentation of the tribal requests shall be delivered or mailed to the Commissioner.

§ 404.17 When to submit application.

Applications may be submitted by a tribal organization to the Bureau at any time to be placed on the Bureau's priority listing.

§ 404.18 Agency Office review and action.

(a) The Superintendent has 30 days from receipt of an application to notify the applicant in writing of its receipt, review the application for completeness, and request any needed information from the applicant.

(b) When the Superintendent has determined that the application is complete, he will forward the completed application with documentation of the tribal request(s) to the Area Director having jurisdiction over that Agency Office with a written statement that the application is complete.

§ 404.19 Area Office review and action.

Within 30 days after receiving an application directly or from the Superintendent, the Area Director will take the following actions:

(a) Notify the applicant in writing that the application was received in the Area Office.

(b) Review each application submitted directly to the Area Office as provided in § 404.16(b) for completeness and obtain any needed information from the applicant.

(c) Assign each proposed project an Area Office priority. The Area Office will include an updated priority index with each application or group of applications transmitted to the Commissioner for applicable action.

(d) Forward each application and documentation of tribal request(s) to the Commissioner.

§ 404.20 Priorities for funding construction.

As prescribed in §§ 404.19(c) and 404.21(b), the Area Director and Commissioner shall evaluate and assign priorities on the basis of the application data submitted as required by § 404.13 including:

(a) Education program required by § 404.13(g).

(b) Geographic attendance boundaries given in § 404.13(h).

(c) Enrollment characteristics given in § 404.13(i).

(d) Project description and justification required by § 404.13(j).

§ 404.21 Central Office review and action.

Within 30 days after receiving an application directly or from the Area Director, the Commissioner will take the following actions:

(a) Notify the applicant in writing that the application was received in the Central Office.

(b) Review each application submitted directly to the Commissioner as given in § 404.16(c) for completeness, request any needed information from the applicant, and assign the proposed project a priority.

(c) Update the Bureauwide priority listing of all approved projects in order of priority with the project with the highest priority listed first. As new applications are received, they will be added to the priority listing according to their ranking.

(d) Notify each applicant in writing of the project's priority ranking on the Bureauwide list. The applicant will be notified of any subsequent changes to that ranking if new applications were received with a higher ranking.

§ 404.22 On-site inspection and cost estimate.

(a) Three months before the new fiscal year begins, the Commissioner or his representative shall conduct an on-site inspection for projects high on the priority listing, beginning with the project ranked highest on the Bureauwide priority listing. The on-site inspection is to determine which buildings are to be retained, demolished or remodeled and to gather initial information required for development of the planning document.

(b) From this information, a tentative cost estimate for design, construction and equipment will be made for budget purposes in cooperation with the tribal organization.

§ 404.23 Preparing a commitment-to-fund listing.

As each high priority project is given an on-site inspection and a tentative cost estimate is made, the project will be placed on a commitment-to-fund listing. Projects will be added as long as the total of the tentative cost estimates is less than the amount of funds appropriated for previously private school construction for the new fiscal year. Each applicant will be notified in writing when the project has been placed on the commitment-to-fund listing.

§ 404.24 Performing construction work.

When a project has been placed on the commitment-to-fund listing, the applicant will be given the following options, subject to approval by the requesting tribe(s):

(a) To negotiate a contract with the Bureau to perform all of the work or part of the work needed for the project with the Bureau performing the rest. Such contracts shall comply with the requirements in Subpart C of this Part and with 41 CFR Part 141-70.

(b) To have the Bureau perform or arrange for the performance of all the work needed.

§ 404.25 Renapplication.

Once an applicant has applied for a contract or services and the project has been placed on the Bureauwide priority listing, there is no need to reapply. The project will be carried on the priority listing until placed on the commitment-to-fund list. However, if changes occur which would affect the project's rank and, thus, its priority, the applicant must submit a new application.

PROPOSED RULES

§ 404.26 Funding provisions.

(a) No funds from any contract under this Part shall be made available by the Bureau directly to other than Indian tribes and tribal organizations. However, Indian tribes and tribal organizations assisted under this Part may use funds provided to subcontract for necessary services.

(b) Twenty-five (25) per cent of all funds appropriated under Title II, Part B, section 204 of the Act shall be expended for construction of previously private schools controlled and managed by a tribal organization. Any unobligated funds will be retained until completion of the project and unexpended funds returned to the Bureau. Projects which are partially funded shall be given first consideration for the additional funding necessary to complete such projects.

Subpart C—General Contract Requirements

§ 404.31 Applicability.

This Subpart applies only when the applicant exercises the option of contracting with the Bureau to perform all or part of the construction work.

§ 404.32 Architectural design.

(a) Plans and specifications for a project shall comply with such Federal, State and local laws, ordinances and regulations pertaining to standards or construction and safety requirements as may be applicable.

(b) An Architect/Engineer shall be selected by the contractor subject to the advice and assistance of the Commissioner who shall counsel the contractor with respect to professional qualifications and performance history of firms so the best qualified firm for the work is selected. No Architect/Engineer agreement shall be entered into by the contractor until the Commissioner has reviewed the agreement and consented in writing to its provisions.

(c) Plans and specifications must conform to the project description, with approved revisions. Such plans and specifications must be forwarded for the approval of the Commissioner including schematic design, design development, and final construction document.

§ 404.33 Facilities construction.

(a) The Commissioner may assist in preconstruction and construction activities to assure conformity with the requirements of the Act. Approval of all proposed preconstruction documents will be obtained from the Commissioner. Assistance prior to the preparation of these and similar documents will be provided, upon request, by the Commissioner or his representative. A preliminary conference may be suggested with the project architect and others if that seems desirable. The Commissioner will provide sufficient copies of all forms used to prepare the documents required for the project.

(b) The Commissioner will provide, upon request, technical supervision and services to the contractor in connection with the construction of school facilities. When appropriate, such services will provide assistance with periodic inspection of construction progress and determine the propriety of making partial payments as construction progresses.

§ 404.34 Selecting initial equipment.

The Commissioner or his representative may, upon request, provide technical assistance in the selection of initial equipment.

§ 404.35 Payment to contractors.

(a) At the request of a contractor, the Bureau contracting officer may make advance payments under contracts made under this Part. The requirements given in this section and in Chapter 2000 of the Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual apply to making the advance payments.

(b) Any request for advance payment by a contractor shall specify the amount(s) required and the dates such advance(s) will be required and shall be supported by a schedule of estimated expenditures.

(c) An initial advance shall be limited to the amount of estimated expenditures for a period of time required to effect payment, based on experience in the locality. The initial advance shall be made in amounts and at times determined suitable to satisfy the minimum essential needs of the contractor.

(d) Later advances shall be made at times and in amounts determined necessary to insure availability of funds for timely payment of the contractor's obligations and to minimize the time between withdrawal from the Treasury and expenditure. Requests for advances after an initial advance shall be accompanied and supported by a report of expenditures to date and the amount of funds on hand.

§ 404.36 Use and transfer of Government property.

(a) The use of Government-owned facilities for tribal purposes may be authorized when not needed for Government activities. Transfer of title to such facilities may be arranged under the provisions of the Act of June 4, 1953 (67 Stat. 41).

(b) In carrying out a contract made under this Part, the Commissioner may permit a contractor to use existing buildings, facilities, and related equipment and other personal property owned by the Bureau within his jurisdiction under terms and conditions agreed upon for their use and maintenance. The property must conform to the minimum standards established by the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (84 Stat. 1590), as amended (29 U.S.C. 651).

(c) Use of Government property is subject to the following conditions:

(1) When nonexpendable Government property is turned over to the tribal organization under a use permit, the permittee shall insure the property against damage by flood, fire, rain, windstorm, vandalism, snow and tornado in amounts and with companies satisfactory to the Federal officer in charge of the property. In case of damage or destruction of the property by flood, fire, rain, windstorm, vandalism, snow or tornado, the insurance money collected shall be expended only for repair or replacement of the property. Otherwise, insurance proceeds shall be paid to the Bureau.

(2) If the tribal organization is self-insured and can present evidence of that fact to the Commissioner, insurance for lost or damaged property will not be required. However, the tribal organization will be responsible for replacement of such lost or damaged property at no cost to the Government or for paying the Government enough to replace the property.

(3) The permittee shall maintain the property in a reasonable state of repair consistent with the intended use and educational purposes.

(d) The contractor may have access to existing Bureau records needed to carry out a contract under this Part, as follows:

(1) The Bureau will make the records available subject to the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552), as amended by the Act of November 21, 1974 (Pub. L. 93-502, 88 Stat. 1561).

(2) The contractors may have access to needed Bureau records at the appropriate Bureau office for review and making copies of selected records.

(3) If the contractor needs a small volume of identifiable Bureau records, the Bureau will furnish the copies to the contractor.

§ 404.37 Wage and labor standards.

All laborers and mechanics employed by contractors or subcontractors in constructing, altering, or repairing buildings or other facilities in connection with contracts under this Part shall be paid wages not less than those on similar construction in the locality as determined by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis-Bacon Act of March 3, 1931 (46 Stat. 1494), as amended. However, this requirement does not apply where the contractor is the recognized governing body of the tribe and the construction, alteration or repair work is being performed by the tribal organization or the tribe with its own employees.

§ 404.38 Indian preference.

(a) Any contract made by the Bureau with a tribal organization shall provide that the contractor shall, to the greatest extent feasible, give preference in and opportunities for employment and training to Indians.

(b) Any contract made by the Bureau with a tribal organization shall provide that the contractor shall, to the greatest extent feasible, give preference in the award of subcontracts to Indian organizations and Indian-owned economic enterprises.

(c) All subcontractors employed by the contractor shall, to the extent possible, give preference to Indians for employment and training and shall be required to include in their bid submission a plan to achieve maximum use of Indian personnel.

§ 404.39 Liability and motor vehicle insurance.

(a) Tribal organizations shall obtain public liability and motor vehicle insurance under contracts entered into with the Bureau under this Part. However, where the Bureau contracting officer determines that the risk of death, personal injury or property damage under the contract is small and that the time and cost of procuring the insurance is great in relation to the risk, the contract may be exempted from this requirement.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a) of this section, any contract which requires or authorizes, either expressly or by implication, the use of motor vehicles must contain a provision requiring the tribal organization to provide liability insurance, regardless of how small the risk.

§ 404.40 Recordkeeping.

A contractor will be required to develop and maintain a record-keeping system which will:

(a) Fully reflect all financial transactions involving the receipt and expenditure of funds provide under the contract in a manner which will provide accurate, current and complete disclosure of financial status; correlation with budget or allowable cost schedules; and clear audit facilitating data.

(b) Reflect the amounts and sources of funds other than Bureau contract funds which may be included in the construction project.

(c) Provide for the creation, maintenance and safeguarding of records of lasting value.

§ 404.41 Audit and inspection.

(a) During the term of a contract under this Part and for three years after the project or undertaking is completed, the Comptroller General and the Secretary, or any of their duly authorized representatives, shall have access for audit and examination purposes to any of the contractor's books, documents, papers, and records which, in their opinion, may be related or pertinent to the contract or any subcontract.

(b) The contractor will be responsible for maintaining all documents such as invoices, purchase orders, cancelled checks, balance sheets and all other records relating to financial transactions in a manner which will facilitate auditing. The contractor will be responsible for maintaining files of correspondence and other documents relating to the administration of the program under the contract properly separated from general records or cross-referenced to general files.

(c) The contractor receiving funds under this Part shall be primarily responsible for contract compliance.

(d) The records involved in any claim or expenditure that has been questioned shall be further maintained until final determination has been made on the questioned expenditure.

(e) All contracts, reports, budgets, budget estimates, plans, and other documents pertaining to administration of the contract shall be made available by the contractor. The contractor shall provide, free of charge, single copies of such documents upon request.

§ 404.42 Freedom of information.

(a) Unless otherwise required by law, the Bureau shall not place restrictions on contractors which will limit public access to the contractor's records except when records must remain confidential.

(b) A contractor under this Part shall make all reports and information concerning the contract available to the Indian people which the contractor serves or represents. Reports and information may be withheld from disclosure only when both of the following conditions exist:

(1) The reports and information fall within one of the following exempt categories:

(i) Specifically required by statute or Executive Order to be kept secret.

(ii) Commercial or financial information obtained from a person or firm on a privileged or confidential basis.

(iii) Personnel, medical, and similar files where disclosure would be a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

(iv) Geological and geophysical information and data concerning wells.

(2) Disclosure is prohibited by statute or Executive Order or sound grounds exist for using the exemption given in paragraph (b) (1) of this section.

(c) A request to inspect or copy reports and information shall be in writing and must reasonably describe the reports and information requested. The request may be delivered or mailed to the contractor within 10 working days after receiving the request, the contractor shall determine whether to grant or deny the request. The requester shall be notified immediately of the determination.

(d) The time limit for making a determination may be extended up to an additional ten (10) working days for good reason. The requester shall be notified in writing of the extension, reasons for the extension, and the date on which the determination is expected to be made.

§ 404.43 Reporting.

(a) A contractor under this Part shall make a detailed report to the Commissioner after construction is completed. The report shall include, but not be limited to, an accounting of the amounts and purposes for which the contract funds were expended.

(b) The contractor shall furnish other reports when and as required by the Commissioner.

(c) A contractor under this Part shall send copies of the reports required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section to the tribal governing body(s) who requested the contract at the same time as the reports are sent to the Bureau.

PROPOSED RULES

§ 404.44 Repayment of funds.

Any funds paid under a contract entered into under this Part which are not expended, obligated or used for the purposes of the contract during its term shall be returned to the Bureau.

§ 404.45 Penalties.

If any officer, director, agent, or employee of, or connected with, any contractor or subcontractor under this Part embezzles, willfully misapplies, steals, or obtains by fraud any of the funds or property connected with the contract or subcontract, he shall be subject to the following penalties:

(a) If the amount involved does not exceed $100, he shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

(b) If the amount involved exceeds $100, he shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

§ 404.46 Applicable procurement regulations.

41 CFR Part 14H-70 provides the contract clauses which shall be included in contracts made with tribal organizations under this Part and places some requirements on them in addition to those given in this Subpart.

§ 404.47 Contract revision or amendment.

(a) Any contract made under this Part may be revised or amended as deemed necessary to carry out the purposes of the contract. No revision or amendment shall be made without the consent of the contractor. A contractor may make a written request for a revision or amendment of a contract to the Bureau contracting officer.

(b) If the contracting officer disapproves the proposed revision or amendment of the contract, he will notify the contractor in writing within 30 days after receiving the request. The notice shall state:

(1) The objections to the requested revision or amendment.

(2) The right of the contractor to appeal as provided in Subpart C of 43 CFR Part 4.

§ 404.48 Cancelling a contract for cause.

(a) Any contract entered into under this Part may be cancelled for cause when the contractor fails to perform the work called for under the contract.

(b) Before cancelling the contract, the Bureau will advise the contractor in writing of the following:

(1) The reasons why the Bureau is considering cancelling the contract.

(2) That the contractor will be given an opportunity to bring its work up to an acceptable level.

(3) That the Bureau may furnish technical advice and assistance to help overcome the deficiencies in the contract performance, when requested.

(c) If the contractor does not overcome the deficiencies in its contract performance, the Bureau will cancel the contract for cause. The Bureau will notify the contractor in writing, of the cancellation. The notice shall give the reasons for the cancellation and the right of the contractor to appeal under Subpart C of 43 CFR Part 4.

(d) When a contract is cancelled for cause, the Bureau will either perform the work with its own forces or by another contract, as appropriate. However, when the contract is with other than the governing body of the Indian tribe, the advice of the tribe(s) will be obtained to determine how they wish the work to be performed.

Subpart D—Appeals

§ 404.51 Contract appeal.

A contractor may appeal an adverse decision or action of a Bureau contracting officer regarding a contract under this Part as provided in Subpart C of 43 CFR Part 4.

§ 404.52 Appeal from decision to cancel contract for cause.

A contractor may appeal the decision of a Bureau official to cancel a contract under this Part for cause. The appeal shall be made as provided in Subpart C of 43 CFR Part 4.

§ 404.53 Other appeals.

Any decision or action taken by a Bureau official under this Part, other than those given in §§ 404.51 and 404.52 may be appealed only as provided in Part 2 of this chapter.

PART 405—STAFFING

Sec.

405.1 Purpose and scope.

405.2 Definitions.

405.3 Methods for staffing.

405.4 Implementing regulations.

AUTHORITY: Sec. 502, 84 Stat. 1909, 1925; Sec. 105, Pub. L. 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203; 25 U.S.C. 48.

§ 405.1 Purpose and scope.

The purpose of this Part is to outline methods available to tribes for utilizing the services of Bureau employees. These regulations are not intended to prevent an Indian tribe or tribal organization from staffing their programs in the manner they feel appropriate. However, when an Indian tribe or tribal organization decides to provide Bureau employees certain Federal benefits, Civil Service Commission regulations must be adhered to.

§ 405.2 Definitions.

As used in this Part:

(a) "Act" means the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Public Law 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203).

(b) "Area Director" means the official in charge of a Bureau of Indian Affairs Area Office.

(c) "Bureau" means the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

(d) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

(e) "Days" means calendar days.

(f) "Indian" means a person who is a member of an Indian tribe.

(g) "Indian tribe" means any Indian Tribe, Band, Nation, Rancheria, Pueblo, Colony or Community, including any Alaska Native village or regional or village corporation as defined in or established pursuant to the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (85 Stat. 688) which is recognized as eligible by the Secretary for the special programs and services provided by the Secretary to Indians because of their status as Indians.

(h) "Superintendent" means the official in charge of a Bureau of Indian Affairs Agency Office.

(i) "Tribal Chairman" means tribal chairman, governor, chief or other person recognized by the tribal government as its chief executive officer.

(j) "Tribal government" and "tribal council" means the recognized governing body of any Indian tribe.

(k) "Tribal organization" means the recognized governing body of any Indian tribe; any legally established organization of Indians which is controlled, sanctioned, or chartered by such governing body or which is democratically elected by the adult members of the Indian community to be served by such organization and which includes the maximum participation of Indians in all phases of its activities.

§ 405.3 Methods for staffing.

An Indian tribe may use any of the following three methods to employ or obtain the assignment of Bureau employees:

(a) Agreement in accordance with the Intergovernmental Personnel Act of 1970 (5 U.S.C. 3371-3376). The agreement shall be arranged between the tribal organization, the employee, and the Area Director or Commissioner. Assistance will be provided by the Area Personnel Office in complying with Civil Service instructions (Federal Personnel Manual Chapter 334) for completing an agreement.

(b) Employment of Bureau employees on or before December 31, 1985, when serving under an appointment not limited to one year or less. A mutual agreement will be made between a tribal organization and the employee before leaving Federal employment to retain coverage for any of the following Federal benefits:

- (1) Compensation for work injuries.
- (2) Retirement.
- (3) Health insurance.
- (4) Life insurance.

(c) An agreement by an Indian tribe in accordance with the 1834 Act (25 U.S.C. 48) may be made in connection with contracts under section 102 of the Act.

(1) The agreement may provide for the tribal government to direct the day-to-day activities of Bureau employees. Tribal government direction of Bureau employees means the tribal chairman or other tribal official, as designated by the tribal governing body, is responsible for the planning, coordination, and completion of the daily on-the-job assignments of Bureau employees. The daily assignments of each such Bureau employee are limited to those that fall within the general range of duties prescribed in the employee's Bureau position.

(2) The agreement to direct day-to-day activities of Bureau employees shall include all employees:

(1) whose positions are in the program or portion of the program to be contracted; or

(2) in a portion of the program to continue under Bureau operation in connection with a contract for other portions of the program.

(3) The proposed agreement will be worked out between the tribe, the Superintendent, and the Area Director and forwarded to the Commissioner for final approval.

(4) When a contract does not include an agreement for direction of Bureau employees, the Area Director will be notified at least 120 days in advance of the proposed effective date of the contract to allow time for placement of affected employees.

§ 405.4 Implementing regulations.

Regulations to implement section 105 of the Act will be issued by the Civil Service Commission in 5 CFR. The regulations will cover the situations described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 405.3.

APPENDIX A—PRINCIPLES FOR DETERMINING COSTS APPLICABLE TO GRANTS

APPENDIX B—FINANCIAL REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

AUTHORITY: 34 CFR 256; Sec. 104, Public Law 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203, unless otherwise noted.

§ 406.1 Purpose and scope.

(a) The purpose of the regulations in this Part is to give the uniform administrative requirements for grants awarded by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

(b) The regulations in this Part shall apply to all grants awarded by the Bureau of Indian Affairs unless the Part which gives the application process and special requirements for the specific type of grant states otherwise.

(c) "Real property" means land, land improvements, structures and appurtenances thereto, excluding removable personal property, machinery and equipment.

§ 406.2 Definitions.

As used in this Part:

(a) "Advancy by Treasury check" means a payment made by a Treasury check to a grantee upon its request or through the use of predetermined payment schedules before payments are made by the grantee.

(b) "Date of completion" means the date when all work under a grant is completed or the date in the grant award document, or any supplement or amendment thereto, on which Federal assistance ends.

(c) "Disallowed costs" means those charges to a grant which the Bureau or its representative determines to be unallowable.

(d) "Economic enterprise" means any commercial, industrial, agricultural or business activity that is at least 51 percent Indian owned, established or organized for the purpose of profit.

(e) "Excess property" means property under the control of the Bureau which, as determined by the Commissioner, is no longer required for its needs.

(f) "Expendable personal property" means all tangible personal property other than nonexpendable property.

(g) "Grant closeout" means the process by which the Bureau determines that all applicable administrative actions and all required work of the grant have been completed by the grantee and the Bureau.

(h) "Grantee" means the entity which is responsible for administration of the grant.

(i) "Indian tribe" means any Indian Tribe, Band, Nation, Rancheria, Pueblo, Colony or Community, including any Alaska Native village or regional or village corporation as defined in or established pursuant to the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (85 Stat. 688) which is recognized as eligible by the Secretary for the special programs and services provided by the Secretary to Indians because of their status as Indians.

(j) "Letter of credit" means an instrument certified by an authorized official of the Bureau which authorizes a grantee to draw funds when needed from the Treasury, through a Federal Reserve Bank and the grantee's commercial bank, in accordance with the provisions of Treasury Circular No. 1075.

(k) "Nonexpendable personal property" means tangible personal property having useful life of more than one year and an acquisition cost of $300 or more per unit. A grantee may use its own definition of nonexpendable personal property provided that such definition would at least include all tangible personal property as defined above.

(l) "Personal property" means property of any kind except real property. It may be tangible—having physical existence, or intangible—having no physical existence, such as patents, inventions, and copyrights.

(m) "Real property" means land, land improvements, structures and appurtenances thereto, excluding removable personal property, machinery and equipment.

(n) "Reimbursement by Treasury check" means a payment made to a grantee with a Treasury check upon request for reimbursement from the grantee.

(o) "Suspension of a grant" means an action by the Bureau which temporarily suspends assistance under the grant pending corrective action by the grantee or pending decision to terminate the grant by the Bureau.

(p) "Termination of a grant" means the cancellation of Federal assistance, in whole or in part, under a grant at any time prior to the date of completion.

(q) "Tribal organization" means the recognized governing body of any Indian tribe; any legally established organization of Indians which is controlled, sanctioned, or chartered by such governing body; or any legally established organization of Indians which is democratically elected by the adult members of the Indian community to be served by such organization and which includes the maximum participation of Indians in all phases of activities.

§ 406.3 Cash depositories.

(a) Except for situations described in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, the Bureau will not:

(1) Require physical segregation of cash depositories for Bureau grant funds provided to a grantee.

(2) Establish any eligibility requirements for cash depositories in which Bureau grant funds are deposited by grantees or their subgrantees.

(b) A separate bank account shall be used when payments under letter of credit are made on a "check-paid" basis in accordance with agreements entered into by a grantee, the Bureau, and the banking institutions involved. A check-paid basis letter of credit is one under which funds are not drawn from the Treasury until the grantee's checks have been presented to its bank for payment.

(c) Consistent with the national goal of expanding the opportunities for minority business enterprises, grantees are encouraged to use minority banks.

§ 406.4 Bondings and insurance.

In administering Bureau grants, grantees shall observe their regular requirements and practices with respect to bonding and insurance. The Bureau will not impose additional bonding and insurance requirements, including fidelity bonds, except as provided in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(a) The recipient of a Bureau grant which requires contracting for construction or facility improvement (including any Bureau grant which provides for alterations or renovations of real property) shall follow its own requirements and practices relating to bid guarantees, performance bonds, and payment bonds except for contracts exceeding $100,000. For contracts exceeding $100,000, the minimum requirements shall be as follows:

(1) A bid guarantee from each bidder equivalent to five percent of the bid price. The bid guarantee shall consist of a firm commitment such as a bid bond, certified check, or other negotiable instrument accompanying a bid as assurance that the bidder will, upon acceptance of his bid, execute such contractual documents as may be required within the time specified.

(2) A performance bond on the part of the contractor for 100 percent of the contract price. A performance bond is one executed in connection with a contract to secure fulfillment of all the contractor's obligations under the contract.

(3) A payment bond on the part of the part of the contractor for 100 percent of the contract price. A payment bond is one executed in connection with a contract to assure payment as required by law of all persons supplying labor and material in the execution of the work provided for in the contract.

(b) Where, in connection with a Bureau grant, the Bureau also guarantees the payment of money borrowed by the grantee, the Bureau may at its discretion require adequate bonding and insurance if the bonding and insurance requirements of the grantee are not deemed to be sufficient to protect adequately the interests of the Federal Government.

§ 406.5 Recordkeeping.

(a) The Bureau shall not impose record retention requirements over and above those established by the grantee except that financial records, supporting documents, statistical records, and all other records pertinent to a Bureau grant, or to any subgrant (or negotiated contract exceeding $2500) under a grant, shall be retained for a period of three years, with the following qualifications:

(1) The records shall be retained beyond the three year period if audit findings have not been resolved.

(2) Records for nonexpendable property which was acquired with Bureau grant funds shall be retained for three years after its final disposition.

(3) When grant records are transferred to or maintained by the Bureau, the three-year retention requirement is not applicable to the grantee.

(b) The retention period starts from the date of submission of the final expenditure report or, for grants which are renewed annually, from the date of the submission of the annual expenditure report.

(c) Grantees are authorized, if they desire, to substitute microfilm copies in lieu of original records.

(d) The Bureau shall request transfer of certain records to its custody from grantees when it determines that the records possess long-term retention value. However, in order to avoid duplicate recordkeeping the Bureau may make arrangements with the grantee for the grantee to retain any records which are continuously needed for joint use.

(e) The Secretary of the Interior and the Comptroller General of the United States, or any of their duly authorized representatives shall have access to any books, documents, papers, and records of the grantees and their subgrants which are pertinent to a specific grant program for the purpose of making audit, examination, excerpts, transcripts and copies at government expense.

§ 406.6 Implementing regulations.

Regulations to implement section 105 of the Act will be issued by the Civil Service Commission in 5 CFR. The regulations will cover the situations described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 405.3.

PROPOSED RULES

(f) Unless otherwise required by law, the Bureau shall not place restrictions on grantees which will limit public access to the grantee's records created as part of the grant except when records must remain confidential. Following are some of the reasons for withholding records:

- (1) Prevent a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy;
- (2) Specifically required by statute or Executive Order to be kept secret;
- (3) Commercial or financial information obtained from a person or firm on a privileged or confidential basis.

§ 406.6 Program income.

(a) No grantee receiving a grant shall be held accountable for interest earned on grant funds, pending their disbursement for program purposes.

(b) Proceeds from the sale of real or personal property either provided by the Federal Government or purchased in whole or in part with Federal funds, shall be handled in accordance with § 406.11.

(c) Royalties received from copyrights and patents produced under the grant during the grant period shall be retained by the grantee and, in accordance with the grant agreement, be either added to the funds already committed to the program or deducted from total allowable project costs for the purpose of determining the net costs on which the Bureau share of costs will be based. After termination or completion of the grant, the Bureau share of royalties in excess of $200 received annually shall be returned to the Bureau in the absence of other specific agreements between the Bureau and the grantee. The Bureau share of royalties shall be computed on the same ratio basis as the Bureau share of the total project cost.

(d) All other program income earned during the grant period shall be retained by the grantee and, in accordance with the grant agreement, shall be either:

(1) Added to funds committed to the project by the Bureau and the grantee and be used to further eligible program objectives, or

(2) Deducted from the total project costs for the purpose of determining the net costs on which the Bureau share of costs will be based.

(e) Grantees shall record the receipt and expenditures of revenues (such as taxes, special assessments, levies, fines, etc.) as a part of grant project transactions when such revenues are specifically earmarked for a grant project in accordance with grant agreements.

§ 406.7 Standards for grantee financial management systems.

(a) Grantee financial management systems for grants and subgrantee financial management systems for subgrants shall provide for:

(1) Accurate, current, and complete disclosure of the financial results of each grant program in accordance with Federal reporting requirements and for each subgrant in accordance with the grantees' requirements. Except when specifically required by law, the Bureau will not require financial reporting on the accrual basis from tribal organizations whose records are not maintained on that basis. However, when accrual reporting is required by law, tribal organizations whose records are not maintained on that basis will not be required to convert their accounting systems to the accrual basis; they may develop the accrual information through an analysis of the documentation on hand or on the basis of best estimates.

(2) Records which identify adequately the source and application of funds for grant—or subgrant—supported activities. These records shall contain information pertaining to grant or subgrant awards and authorizations, obligations, unobligated balances, assets, liabilities, outlays, and income.

(3) Effective control over and accountability for all grant or subgrant funds, and real and personal property acquired with grant or subgrant funds. Grantees and subgrantees shall adequately safeguard all such property and shall assure that it is used solely for authorized purposes.

(4) Comparison of actual with budgeted amounts for each grant or subgrant, and, when specifically required by the performance reporting requirements of the grant or subgrant, relation of financial information with performance or productivity data, including the production of unit cost information.

(5) Procedures to minimize the time elapsing between the transfer of funds from the U.S. Treasury and the disbursement by the grantee, whenever funds are advanced by the Federal Government. When advances are made by a letter-of-credit method, the grantee shall make drawdowns from the U.S. Treasury through his commercial bank as close as possible to the time of making the disbursements. Subgrantees shall institute similar procedures when funds are advanced by the grantee.

(6) Procedures for determining the allowability and allocability of costs shall be in accordance with the applicable cost principles prescribed in Appendix A of this Part.

(7) Accounting records which are supported by source documentation.

(8) A systematic method to assure timely and appropriate resolution of audit findings and recommendations.

(b) Grantees shall require subgrantees (recipients of grants which are passed through by the grantee) to adopt all of the standards in paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 406.8 Financial reporting requirements.

Requirements for grantees to report financial information to the Bureau, and to request advances and reimbursement when a letter of credit method is not used, are prescribed in Appendix B of this Part.

§ 406.9 Monitoring and reporting program performances.

(a) Grantees shall constantly monitor the performance under grant-supported activities to assure that adequate progress is being made toward achieving the goals of the grant. This review shall be made for each program, function, or activity of each grant as set forth in the approved grant application.

(b) Grantees shall submit a performance report for each grant which briefly presents the following for each program, function, or activity involved:

(1) A comparison of actual accomplishments to the goals established for the period. Where the output of grant programs can be readily quantified, such quantitative data should be related to cost data for computation of unit costs.

(2) Reasons for slippage in those cases where established goals were not met.

(3) Other pertinent information including, when appropriate, analysis and explanation of cost overruns or high unit costs.

(c) Grantees shall submit the performance reports to the Bureau with the Financial Status Reports (prescribed in Appendix B of this Part) in the frequency established by Appendix B. The Bureau shall prescribe the frequency with which the performance reports will be submitted with the Request for Advance or Reimbursement (prescribed in Appendix B) when that form is used in lieu of the Financial Status Report. In no case shall the performance reports be required more frequently than quarterly or less frequently than annually.

(d) Between the required performance reporting dates, events may occur which have significant impact upon the project or program. In such cases, the grantee shall inform the Bureau as soon as the following types of conditions become known:

(1) Problems, delays, or adverse conditions which will materially affect the ability to attain program objectives, prevent the meeting of time schedules and goals, or preclude the attainment of project work units by established time periods. This disclosure shall be accomplished by a statement of the action taken, or contemplated, and any Bureau assistance needed to resolve the situation.

(2) Favorable developments or events which enable meeting time schedules and goals sooner than anticipated or producing more work units than originally projected.

(e) If any performance review conducted by the grantee discloses the need for change in the budget estimates in accordance with the criteria established in § 406.14, the grantee shall submit a request for budget revision.

(f) The Bureau shall make site visits as frequently as practicable to:

(1) Review program accomplishments and management control systems.

(2) Provide such technical assistance as may be required, or requested.

§ 406.10 Grant payment requirements.

(a) Except for construction grants for which the letter-of-credit method is optional, the letter-of-credit funding method shall be used by the Bureau where all of the following conditions exist:

(1) When there is or will be a continuing relationship between a grantee and the Bureau for at least a 12-month period and the total amount of advances to be received within that period from the Bureau is $250,000, or more, as prescribed by Treasury Circular No. 1075.

(2) When the grantee has established or demonstrated to the Bureau the willingness and ability to establish procedures that will minimize the time elapsing between the transfer of funds and their disbursement by the grantee.

(3) When the grantee's financial management system meets the standards for fund control and accountability prescribed in § 406.7.

(b) The method of advancing funds by Treasury check shall be used, in accordance with the provisions of Treasury Circular No. 1075, when the grantee meets all of the requirements specified in paragraphs (a) (2) and (3) of this section.

(c) The reimbursement by Treasury check method shall be the preferred method when the grantee does not meet the requirements specified in either paragraph (a) (2) or (a) (3), or both. This method may also be used when the major portion of the program is accomplished through private market financing or Federal loans, and when the Bureau grant assistance constitutes a minor portion of the program.

(d) Unless otherwise required by law, the Bureau shall not withhold payments for proper charges made by grantees at any time during the grant period unless:

(1) A grantee has failed to comply with the program objectives, grant award conditions, or Bureau reporting requirements; or

(2) The grantee is indebted to the United States and collection of the indebtedness will not impair accomplishment of the objectives of any grant program sponsored by the United States. Under such conditions, the Bureau may, upon reasonable notice, inform the grantee that payments will not be made for obligations incurred after a specified date until the conditions are corrected or the indebtedness to the Federal government is liquidated.

(e) Appendix B of this Part provides the procedures for requesting advances or reimbursements.

§ 406.11 Property management standards.

(a) Grantees may follow their own property management policies and procedures if they observe the requirements of this section. With respect to property covered by this section, the Bureau may not impose on grantees any requirements (including property reporting requirements) not authorized by this Part unless specifically required by Federal law.

(b) Title to real property to be acquired in whole or in part from a Bureau grant under Part 402 of this Chapter shall vest in one of the following manners:

(1) Title may be taken by the United States in trust for the Indian tribe upon the request of the tribe and when the real property to be acquired is within the reservation boundaries or adjoins on at least two sides other trust or restricted lands as prescribed in Part 402 of this chapter.

PROPOSED RULES

(2) Fee title to the acquired real property shall vest in the Indian tribe whenever the acquisition does not meet the criteria in paragraph (1) of this section or unless for other reasons a tribe requests title to be taken in the name of the United States. In the absence of applicable statutory authority governing the disposition of real property acquired by a tribe, the tribe shall use the real property for the authorized purposes and in accordance with any other requirements imposed by the terms and conditions of the original grant.

Changes in use compatible to other tribal programs may be authorized by the Bureau. When no longer needed for the authorized purposes, the real property shall be used in accordance with the standards set forth in § 406.11(d) (1) for non-expendable personal property. Accordingly, the following priority order for use of such property shall be:

(i) Other grants from the Bureau.

(ii) Grants from other Federal agencies.

(iii) Tribal purposes consistent with those authorized for support by Bureau grants.

(iv) Tribal official activities.

(3) In those instances where the Indian tribe requests, title may be acquired by the United States. Use of these acquired real property interests will be subject to the authorized purposes and in accordance with the provisions of the original grant. Upon a determination that the real property is no longer needed for the authorized purposes, disposition may be made by declaring it excess under provisions of the Act of January 2, 1975 (88 Stat. 1954) and title transferred to the Secretary to be held by the United States in trust for the tribe. Where real property does not meet the requirements under the Act of January 2, 1975 (88 Stat. 1954), the tribe may elect to acquire title under applicable enabling statutory authorities, or in the absence of statutory authority, request withholding disposition in aid of legislation, or authorize disposal under the General Services Administration procedures.

(c) The provisions of paragraph (b) (2) and (3) of this section shall also apply when real property is acquired in whole or in part by a Bureau grant other than that provided under Part 402 of this Chapter. However, when such property is acquired by a grantee other than an Indian tribe, or a tribal governing body, fee simple title to the property shall vest in the grantee upon acquisition. In the absence of applicable statutory provisions governing the use or disposition of such property, it shall be subject to the following requirements, in addition to any other requirements imposed by the terms and conditions of the grant:

(1) The grantee shall use the real property for the authorized purpose of the original grant as long as needed.

(2) The grantee shall obtain approval by the Bureau for the use of the real property in other projects when the grantee determines that the property is no longer needed for the original grant purposes. Use in other projects shall be limited to those under other Federal grant programs, or programs that have purposes consistent with those authorized for support by the grantor.

(3) When the real property is no longer needed as provided in paragraphs (c) (1) and (2) of this section, the grantee shall return all real property furnished or purchased wholly with Bureau grant funds to the control of the Bureau. In the case of property purchased in part with Bureau grant funds, the grantee may be permitted to take title to the Federal interest therein upon compensating the Federal Government for its fair share of the property. The Federal share of the property shall be the amount computed by applying the percentage of the Federal participation in the total cost of the grant program for which the property was acquired to the current fair market value of the property.

(d) Standards and procedures governing ownership, use, and disposition of nonexpendable personal property furnished by the Bureau or acquired with Bureau funds are set forth below:

(1) Nonexpendable personal property acquired with Bureau funds. When non-expendable personal property is acquired by a grantee wholly or in part with Bureau funds, title will not be taken by the Bureau except as provided in paragraph (d) (1) (iv) of this section but shall be vested in the grantee subject to the following restrictions on use and disposition of the property:

(i) The grantee shall retain the property acquired with Bureau funds in the grant program as long as there is a need for the property to accomplish the purpose of the grant program whether or not the program continues to be supported by Bureau funds. When there is no longer a need for the property to accomplish the purpose of the grant program, the grantee shall use the property in connection with the other Federal grants it has received in the following order of priority:

(A) Other grants from the Bureau needing the property.

(B) Grants of other Federal agencies needing the property.

(ii) When the grantee no longer has need for the property in any of its Federal grant programs, or programs that have purposes consistent with those authorized for support by the grantor, the property may be used for its own official activities in accordance with the following standards:

(A) Nonexpendable property with an acquisition cost of less than $500 and used four years or more. The grantee may use the property for its own official activities without reimbursement to the Federal Government or sell the property and retain the proceeds.

(B) All other nonexpendable property. The grantee may retain the property for

(iii) If the grantee has no need for the property, disposition of the property shall be made as follows:

(A) Nonexpendable property with an acquisition cost of $1,000 or less. Except for that property which meets the criteria of paragraph (d) (1) (ii) (A) of this section, the grantee shall sell the property and reimburse the Bureau an amount which is computed in accordance with paragraph (d) (1) (iii) of this section.

(B) Nonexpendable property with an acquisition cost of over $1,000. The grantee shall request disposition instructions from the Bureau. The Bureau shall determine whether the property can be used to meet the Bureau's requirement. If no requirement exists within the Bureau, the availability of the property shall be reported to the General Services Administration (GSA) by the Bureau to determine whether a requirement for the property exists in other Federal agencies. The Bureau shall issue instructions to the grantee within 120 days and the following procedures shall govern:

(1) If the grantee is instructed to ship the property elsewhere, the grantee shall be reimbursed by the benefiting Federal agency with an amount which is computed by applying the percentage of the grantee's participation in the grant program to the current fair market value of the property, plus any shipping or interim storage costs incurred.

(2) If the grantee is instructed to otherwise dispose of the property, he shall be reimbursed by the Bureau of such costs incurred in its disposition.

(3) If disposition instructions are not issued within 120 days after reporting, the grantee shall sell the property and reimburse the Bureau an amount which is computed by applying the percentage of Bureau participation in the grant program to the sales proceeds. Further, the grantee shall be permitted to retain $100 or 10 percent of the proceeds, whichever is greater, for the grantee's selling and handling expenses.

(iv) Where the Bureau determines that property with an acquisition cost of $1,000 or more and financed solely by Bureau funds in unique, different, or costly to replace, it may reserve title to such property, subject to the following provisions:

(A) The property shall be appropriately identified in the grant agreement or otherwise made known to the grantee.

(B) The Bureau shall issue disposition instructions within 120 days after the completion of the need for the property under the grant for which it was acquired. If the Bureau fails to issue disposition instructions within 120 days, the grantee shall apply the standards of paragraphs (d) (1) (i), (d) (1) (ii) (B), and (d) (1) (iii) (B) of this section.

(2) Federally-owned nonexpendable personal property. Unless statutory authority to transfer title has been granted to an agency, title to Federally-owned property (property to which the Federal Government retains title including excess property made available by the Bureau to grantees) remains vested by law in the Federal Government. Upon termination of the grant or need for the property, such property shall be reported to the Bureau for further Bureau use or, if appropriate, for reporting to the General Services Administration for other Federal agency use. Appropriate disposition instructions will be issued to the grantee after completion of Bureau review.

(d) The grantee's property management standards for nonexpendable personal property shall also include the following procedural requirements:

(1) Property records shall be maintained accurately and provide for a description of the property; manufacturer's serial number or other identification number; acquisition date and cost; source of the property; percentage of Federal funds used in the purchase of the property; location, use, and condition of the property; and ultimate disposition data including sales price or the method used to determine current fair market value if the grantee reimburses the Bureau for its share.

(2) A physical inventory of property shall be taken and the results reconciled with the property records at least once every two years to verify the existence, current use, and continued need for the property.

(3) A control system shall be in effect to insure adequate safeguards to prevent loss, damage, or theft to the property. Any loss, damage, or theft of nonexpendable property shall be investigated and fully documented.

(4) Adequate maintenance procedures shall be implemented to keep the property in good condition.

(5) Proper sales procedures shall be established for unneeded property which would provide for competition to the extent practicable and result in the highest possible return.

(e) When the total inventory value of any unused expendable personal property exceeds $500 at the expiration of need for any grant purposes, the grantee may retain the property or sell the property as long as he compensates the Bureau for its share in the cost. The amount of compensation shall be computed in accordance with paragraph (d) (1) (ii) (B) of this paragraph.

(f) Specific standards for control of intangible property are provided as follows:

(1) If any program produces patentable items, patent rights, processes, or inventions, in the course of work aided by a Bureau grant, such fact shall be promptly and fully reported to the Bureau. Unless there is prior agreement between the grantee and Bureau on disposition of such items, the Bureau shall determine whether protection on such invention or discovery shall be sought and how the rights in the invention or discovery—including rights under any patent issued on it—shall be allocated and administered in order to protect the public interest consistent with "Government Patent Policy" (President's memorandum for heads of executive departments and agencies), dated August 23, 1971, and Statement of Government Patent Policy as printed in 36 FR 16889.

(2) Where the grant results in a book or other copyrightable material, the author or grantee is free to copyright the work, but the Bureau reserves a royalty-free nonexclusive and irrevocable license to reproduce, publish, or otherwise use, and to authorize others to use the work for Government purposes.

(g) The use of Bureau-owned facilities under the jurisdiction of the Commissioner by a grantee for purposes of carrying out a grant may be authorized when the facilities are not needed for Bureau purposes.

§ 406.12 Procurement standards.

(a) The standards contained in this section do not relieve the grantee of the contractual responsibilities arising under its contracts. The grantee is the responsible authority, without recourse to the Bureau regarding the settlement and satisfaction of all contractual and administrative issues arising out of procurements entered into, in support of a grant. This includes but is not limited to: disputes, claims, protests of award, source evaluation or other matters of a contractual nature. Matters concerning violation of law are to be referred to the tribal, Federal or other authority which has proper jurisdiction.

(b) Grantees may use their own procurement regulations provided that procurements made with Bureau grant funds adhere to the standards set forth as follows:

(1) The grantee shall maintain a code or standards of conduct which shall govern the performance of its officers, employees, or agents in contracting with and expending Bureau grant funds. Grantee's officers, employees or agents, shall neither solicit nor accept gratuities, favors, or anything of monetary value from contractors or potential contractors. To the extent permissible by law, rules or regulations, such standards shall provide for penalties, sanctions, or other disciplinary actions to be applied for violations of such standards by either the grantee officers, employees, or agents, or by contractors or their agents.

(2) All procurement transactions regardless of whether negotiated or advertised and without regard to dollar value shall be conducted in a manner so as to provide maximum open and free competition. The grantee should be alert to organizational conflicts of interest or non-competitive practices among contractors which may restrict or eliminate competition or otherwise restrain trade. However, this provision will apply only after the Indian preference requirements prescribed in § 406.13 have been met.

(3) The grantee shall establish procurement procedures which provide for, as a minimum, the following procedural requirements:

(i) Proposed procurement actions shall be reviewed by grantee officials to avoid purchasing unnecessary or duplicative items. Where appropriate, an analysis shall be made of lease and purchase alternatives to determine which would be the most economical, practical procurement.

(ii) Invitations for bids or requests for proposals shall be based upon a clear and accurate description of the technical requirements for the material, product, or service to be procured. In competitive procurements, such description shall not contain features which unduly restrict competition. "Brand name or equal" description may be used as a means to define the performance or other salient requirements of a procurement. When so used, the specific features of the named brand which must be met by offerors should be clearly specified.

(iii) Positive efforts shall be made by the grantees to use small business and minority-owned business sources of supplies and services. Such efforts should allow these sources the maximum feasible opportunity to compete for contracts to be performed using Bureau grant funds. However, this provision will apply only after the Indian preference requirements prescribed in § 406.13 have been met.

(iv) The type of procuring instruments used (i.e., fixed price contracts, cost reimbursable contracts, etc.) shall be appropriate for the particular procurement and for promoting the best interest of the grant program involved. The "cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost" method of contracting shall not be used.

(v) Formal advertising, with adequate purchase description, sealed bids, and public openings shall be the required method of procurement unless negotiation pursuant to paragraph (b) (3) (vi) of this section is necessary to accomplish sound procurement. However, procurement of $10,000 or less need not be so advertised. Where such advertised bids are obtained the awards shall be made to the responsible bidder whose bid is responsive to the invitation and is most advantageous to the grantee, price and other factors considered. (Factors such as discounts, transportation costs, taxes may be considered in determining the lowest bid.)

Invitations for bids shall clearly set forth all requirements which the bidder must fulfill in order for his bid to be evaluated by the grantee. Any or all bids may be rejected when it is in the grantee's interest to do so.

(vi) Procurements may be negotiated if it is impracticable and unfeasible to use formal advertising. Generally, procurements may be negotiated by the grantee if:

(A) The public exigency will not permit the delay incident to advertising;

(B) The material or service to be procured is available from only one person or firm; (all contemplated sole source procurements where the aggregate expenditure is expected to exceed $5,000 shall be referred to the Bureau for prior approval).

(C) The total amount involved does not exceed $10,000;

(D) The contract is for personal or professional services, or for any service to be rendered by a university, college, or other educational institutions;

(E) No acceptable bids have been received after formal advertising;

(F) The purchases are for highly perishable materials or medical supplies; for material or services where the prices are established by law; for technical items or equipment requiring standardization and interchangeability of parts with existing equipment; for experimental, developmental or research work; for supplies purchased for authorized resale; and for technical or specialized supplies requiring substantial initial investment for manufacture;

(G) Otherwise authorized by law, rules or regulations. Notwithstanding the existence of circumstances justifying negotiation, competition shall be obtained to the maximum extent practicable.

(vii) Contracts shall be made only with responsible contractors who possess the potential ability to perform successfully under the terms and conditions of a proposed procurement. Consideration shall be given to such matters as contractor integrity, record of past performance, financial and technical resources, or accessibility to other necessary resources.

(viii) Procurement records or files for purchases in amounts over $10,000 shall provide at least the following pertinent information: Justification for the use of negotiation in lieu of advertising, contractor selection, and the basis for the cost or price negotiation.

(ix) A system for contract administration shall be maintained to assure contractor conformance with terms, conditions, and specifications of the contract or order, and to assure adequate and timely followup of all purchases.

(c) In addition to provisions to define a sound and complete agreement, the grantee shall include the following provisions in all contracts and subgrants:

(1) Contracts shall contain such contractual provisions or conditions which will also for administrative, contractual, or legal remedies in instances where contractors violate or breach contract terms, and provide for such sanctions and penalties as may be appropriate.

(2) All contracts, amounts for which are over $10,000 shall contain suitable provisions for termination by the grantee including the manner by which it will be effected and the basis for settlement. In addition, such contracts shall describe conditions where the contract may be terminated for default as well as conditions where the contract may be terminated because of circumstances beyond the control of the contractor.

(3) In all contracts for construction or facility improvement awarded over $100,000, grantees shall observe the bonding requirements provided in § 406.4.

(4) All construction contracts awarded by recipients and their contractors or subgrantees having a value of more than $10,000, shall contain a provision requiring compliance with Executive Order No.

11246, entitled "Equal Employment Opportunity," as amended by Labor Regulations (41 CFR Part 60). However, this Equal Employment Opportunity provision will apply only after the Indian preference requirements prescribed in § 406.13 have been met.

(5) All contracts and subgrants for construction or repair shall include a provision for compliance with the Copeland "Anti-Kick Back" Act (18 U.S.C. 874) as supplemented in Department of Labor regulations (29 CFR Part 3). This Act provides that each contractor or subgrantee shall be prohibited from inducing, by any means, any person employed in the construction, completion, or repair of public work, to give up any part of the compensation to which he is otherwise entitled. The grantee shall report all suspected or reported violations to the Bureau.

(6) When required by the Federal grant program legislation, all construction contracts awarded by grantees and subgrantees over $2,000 shall include a provision for compliance with the Davis-Bacon Act (40 U.S.C. 276a to a-7) and as supplemented by Department of Labor regulations (29 CFR Part 5). Under this Act, contractors shall be required to pay wages to laborers and mechanics at a rate not less than the minimum wages specified in a wage determination made by the Secretary of Labor. In addition, contractors shall be required to pay wages not less often than once a week. The grantee shall place a copy of the current prevailing wage determination issued by the Department of Labor in each solicitation and the award of a contract shall be conditioned upon the acceptance of the wage determination. The grantee shall report all suspected or reported violations to the Bureau.

(7) Where applicable, all contracts awarded by grantees and subgrantees over $2,000 for construction contracts and over $2,500 for other contracts which involve the employment of mechanics or laborers shall include a provision for compliance with sections 103 and 107 of the Contract Work Hours and Safety Standards Act (40 U.S.C. 327-330) as supplemented by Department of Labor regulations (29 CFR Part 5). Under Section 103 of the Act, each contractor shall be required to compute the wages of every mechanic and laborer on the basis of a standard work day of 8 hours and a standard work week of 40 hours. Work in excess of the standard workday or workweek is permissible if the worker is compensated at a rate of not less than 1½ times the basic rate of pay for all hours worked over 8 hours in any calendar day or 40 hours in the work week. Section 107 of the Act applies to construction work and provides that no laborer or mechanic shall be required to work in surroundings or under working conditions which are unsanitary, hazardous, or dangerous to his health and safety as determined under construction, safety, and health standards promulgated by the Secretary of Labor. These requirements do not apply to the purchases of supplies or materials or articles ordinarily available on the open market, for transportation or trans-transfers among programs, functions, and activities when budgeted separately and notify the grantee whether or not the budget revisions have been approved. If

10. Supporting services means auxiliary functions necessary to sustain the direct effort involved in administering a grant pro-ordinarily available on the open market, or contracts for transportation or transmission of intelligence.

(8) Contracts or agreements, the principal purpose of which is to create, develop, or improve products, processes or methods; or for exploration into fields which directly concern public health, safety, or welfare; or constraints in the field of science or technology in which there has been little significant experience outside of work funded by Federal assistance, shall contain a notice to the effect that matters regarding rights to inventions, and materials generated under the contract or agreement are subject to the regulations issued by the Bureau. The contractor shall be advised as to the source of additional information regarding these matters.

(9) All negotiated contracts (except those of $10,000 or less) awarded by grantees shall include a provision to the effect that the grantee, the Bureau, the Comptroller General of the United States, or any of their duly authorized representatives, shall have access to any books, documents, papers, and records of the contractor which are directly pertinent to a specific grant program for the purpose of making audit, examination, excerpts, and transcriptions.

(10) Contracts and subgrants of amounts over $100,000 shall contain a provision which requires the recipient to agree to comply with all applicable standards, orders, or regulations issued pursuant to the Clean Air Act of 1970 (42 U.S.C. 1251 et seq.) as amended. Violations shall be reported to the Bureau and the Regional Office of the Environmental Protection Agency.

§ 406.13 Indian preference in grant administration.

Any grant or subgrant shall require that to the greatest extent feasible:

(a) Preferences and opportunities for training and employment in connection with the administration of such a grant or subgrant shall be given to Indians.

(b) Preference in the award of a subgrant, contract or subcontract in connection with administration of a grant shall be given to Indian organizations and economic enterprises.

§ 406.14 Budget revision.

Criteria and procedures to be followed by grantees in reporting deviations from grant budgets, and requesting approval for budget revisions are as follows:

(a) For nonconstruction grants, grantees shall request prior approvals promptly from the Bureau for budget revisions whenever:

(1) The revision results from changes in the scope or the objective of the grant-supported program.

(2) The revision indicates the need for additional Bureau funding.

(3) The grant budget is over $100,000 and the cumulative amount of transfers among direct cost object class budget categories exceeds or is expected to exceed $10,000, or five percent of the grant budget, whichever is greater. The same criteria apply to cumulative amount of transfers among programs, functions, and activities when budgeted separately for a grant, except that the Bureau shall permit no transfer which would cause any Federal appropriation, or part thereof, to be used for purposes other than those intended.

(4) The grant budget is $100,000, or less, and the cumulative amount of transfers among direct cost object class budget categories exceeds or is expected to exceed five percent of the grant budget. The same criteria apply to the cumulative amount of transfers among programs, functions, and activities when budgeted separately for a grant, except that the Bureau shall permit no transfer which would cause any Federal appropriation, or part thereof, to be used for purposes other than those intended.

(5) The revisions involve the transfer of amounts budgeted for indirect costs to absorb increases in direct costs.

(6) The revisions pertain to the addition of items requiring approval in accordance with the provisions of Appendix A of this Part.

(b) All other changes to nonconstruction grant budgets, except for the changes described in paragraph (d) of this section do not require approval. These changes include (1) the use of grantee funds in furtherance of program objectives over and above the grantee minimum share included in the approved grant budget and (2) the transfer of amounts budgeted for direct costs of absorb authorized increases in indirect costs.

(c) For construction grants, grantees shall request prior approval promptly from the Bureau for budget revisions whenever:

(1) The revision results from changes in the scope or the objective of the grant-supported program.

(2) The revision increases the budgeted amounts of Bureau funds needed to complete the project.

(d) When the Bureau awards a grant which provides support for both construction and nonconstruction work, the Bureau may require, in the grant agreement, the grantee to request prior approval before making any fund or budget transfers between the two types of work supported.

(e) For both construction and nonconstruction grants, the Bureau shall require tribal grantees to notify the Bureau promptly whenever the amount of Bureau authorized funds is expected to exceed the needs of the grantee by more than $5,000 or 5 percent of the Bureau grant, whichever is greater. This notification will not be required when applications for additional funding are submitted for continuing grants.

(f) When requesting approval for budget revisions, grantees shall use the budget forms which were used in the grant application. However, grantees may request by letter the approvals required by the provisions of Appendix A of this Part.

(g) Within 30 days from the date of receipt of the request for budget revisions, the Bureau shall review the request and notify the grantee whether or not the budget revisions have been approved. If the Bureau does not reach a decision prior to the end of the 30 day period or should the grantee not be notified of the Bureau's decision by the end of the 30 day period the grantee may appeal directly to the Commissioner.

§ 406.15 Grant closeout.

(a) In closing out Bureau grants, the following shall be observed:

(1) Upon request, the Bureau shall make prompt payments to a grantee for allowable reimbursable costs under the grant being closed out.

(2) The grantee shall immediately refund to the Bureau any unencumbered balance of cash advanced to the grantee.

(3) The Bureau shall obtain from the grantee within 90 days after the date of completion of the grant all financial, performance, and other reports required as a condition of the grant. The Bureau may grant extensions when requested by the grantee.

(4) The Bureau shall make a settlement for any upward or downward adjustments to the Federal share of costs after these reports are received.

(5) The grantee shall account for any property acquired with grant funds, or received from the Government in accordance with the provisions of § 406.11.

(6) If a final audit has not been performed before the closeout of the grant, the Bureau shall retain the right to recover an appropriate amount after fully considering the recommendations on disallowed costs resulting from the final audit.

(b) Suspension. When a grantee has materially failed to comply with the terms and conditions of a grant, the Bureau may after reasonable notice to the grantee, suspend the grant. The notice preceding suspension shall include the effective date of the suspension, the reasons for the suspension, the corrective measures necessary for reinstatement of the grant, and, if there is no immediate threat to safety, a reasonable time frame for corrective action prior to actual suspension. No obligations incurred by the grantee during the period of suspension shall be allowable under the suspended grant, except that the Bureau may at its discretion allow necessary and proper costs which the grantee could not reasonably avoid during the period of suspension if such costs would otherwise be allowable under the applicable cost principles specified in Appendix A of this Part. Appropriate adjustments to the payments under the suspended grant will be made, either by withholding the payments or by not allowing the grantee credit for disbursements which he may make in liquidation of unauthorized obligations he incurs during the period of suspension. Suspensions shall remain in effect until the grantee has taken corrective action to the satisfaction of the Bureau or given assurances satisfactory to the Bureau that corrective action will be taken, or until the Bureau cancels the grant.

(c) (1) Cancellation for cause. The Bureau may cancel any grant in whole, or in part, at any time before the date of completion, whenever it is determined that the grantee has:

(i) Materially failed to comply with the terms and conditions of the grant;

(ii) Violated the rights or endangered the health, safety, or welfare of any persons;

(iii) Been grossly negligent in or has mismanaged the handling or use of funds provided under the grant.

(2) Upon deciding to cancel for cause, the Bureau shall promptly notify the grantee in writing of that decision, the reasons for the cancellation, and the effective date. The Bureau shall also provide a hearing for the grantee before cancellation. However, the Bureau may immediately cancel the grant, upon notice to the grantee, if the Bureau determines that continuance of the grant poses an immediate threat to safety. In this event, the Bureau shall provide a hearing for the grantee within ten (10) days of cancellation.

(3) Payments made to grantees or recoveries by the Bureau under grants cancelled for cause shall be in accordance with the legal rights and obligations of the parties.

(d) (1) Cancellation on other grounds. Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, grants may be cancelled in whole or in part only as follows:

(i) By the Bureau with the consent of the grantee, in which case the two parties shall agree upon the cancellation conditions, including the effective date, and in the case of partial cancellation, the portion to be cancelled; or

(ii) By the grantee, upon written notice to the Bureau, setting forth the reasons for the cancellation, the effective date, and, in the case of partial cancellation, the portion to be cancelled.

(2) When a grant is cancelled in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section, the grantee shall not incur new obligations for the cancelled portion after the effective date, and shall cancel as many outstanding obligations as possible. The Bureau shall allow full credit to the grantee for the Bureau share of the noncancellable obligations properly incurred by the grantee before cancellation.

§ 406.16 Subgrants and subcontracts to non-profit organizations.

The uniform administrative requirements in this Part, including the cost principles in Appendix A, are applicable to all subgrants or subcontracts made by a grantee in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. However, these requirements and cost principles are applicable as minimum standards for subgrants or subcontracts made to non-profit organizations. Accordingly, the grantee may prescribe additional or more stringent requirements with regard to subgrants or subcontracts made to non-profit organizations.

6. Budgeting. Costs incurred for the development, preparation, presentation, and

APPENDIX A—PRINCIPLES FOR DETERMINING COSTS APPLICABLE TO GRANTS

PART I—GENERAL

A. Purpose and scope. 1. Objectives. This attachment sets forth principles for determining the allowable costs of programs administered by grantees under grants from the Bureau. The principles are for the purpose of cost determination and are not intended to identify the circumstances or dictate the extent of Bureau and tribal participation in the financing of a particular grant. They are designed to provide that Bureau assisted programs bear their fair share of costs recognized under these principles, except where restricted or prohibited by law. No provision for profit or other increment above cost is intended.

2. Policy guides. The application of these principles is based on the fundamental premises that:

a. Grantees are responsible for the efficient and effective administration of grant programs through the application of sound management practices.

b. The grantee assumes the responsibility for seeing that Bureau assisted program funds have been expended and accounted for consistent with underlying agreements and program objectives.

c. Each grantee organization, in recognition of its own unique combination of staff facilities and experience, will have the primary responsibility for employing whatever form of organization and management techniques may be necessary to assure proper and efficient administration.

3. Application. These principles will be applied by the Bureau in determining costs incurred by grantees under Bureau grants (including subgrants, contracts by grantees and subcontracts).

B. Definitions. 1. Approval or authorization of the Bureau means documentation evidencing consent prior to incurring specific cost. 2. Cost allocation plan means the documentation identifying, accumulating, and distributing allowable costs under grants and contracts together with the allocation methods used.

3. Cost, as used herein, means cost as determined on a cash, accrual, or other basis acceptable to the Bureau as a discharge of the grantee's accountability for Bureau funds.

4. Cost objective means a pool, center, or area established for the accumulation of cost. Such areas include organizational units, functions, objects or items of expense as well as ultimate cost objectives including specific grants, projects, contracts, and other activities.

5. Federal agency means any department, agency, commission, or instrumentality in the executive branch of the Federal Government which makes grants to grantees.

6. Grant means an agreement between the Bureau and a grantee whereby the Bureau provides funds or aid in kind to carry out specified programs, services, or activities. The principles and policies stated in this circular are applicable to grants in general also apply to any Federally sponsored cost reimbursement type of agreement performed by a grantee, including contracts, subcontracts and subgrants.

7. Grant program means those activities and operations of the grantee which are necessary to carry out the purposes of the grant, including any portion of the program financed by the grantee.

8. Grantee means the entity which is responsible for administration of the grant.

9. Services, as used herein, means goods and facilities, as well as services.

10. Supporting services means auxiliary functions necessary to sustain the direct effort involved in administering a grant program or an activity providing service to the grant program. These services may be centralized in the grantee department or in some other agency, and include procurement, payroll, personnel functions, maintenance and operation of space, data processing, accounting, budgeting, auditing, mail and messenger service, and the like.

C. Basic guidelines. 1. Factors affecting allowability of costs. To be allowable under a grant program, costs must meet the following general criteria:

a. Be necessary and reasonable for proper and efficient administration of the grant program, be allocable thereto under these principles, and, except as specifically provided herein, not be a general expense required to carry out the overall responsibilities of a grantee.

b. Be authorized or not prohibited under applicable laws or regulations.

c. Conform to any limitations or exclusions set forth in these principles, Federal laws, or other governing limitations as to types or amounts of cost items.

d. Be consistent with policies, regulations, and procedures that apply uniformly to both Federally assisted and other activities of which the grantee is a part.

e. Be accorded consistent treatment through application of generally accepted accounting principles appropriate to the circumstances.

f. Not be allocable to or included as a cost of any other Federally financed program in either the current or a prior period.

g. Be net of all applicable credits.

2. Allocable costs. a. A cost is allocable to a particular cost objective to the extent of benefits received by such objective. b. Any cost allocable to a particular grant or cost objective under the principles provided for in this Appendix may not be shifted to other Federal grant programs to overcome funds deficiencies, avoid restrictions imposed by law or grant agreements, or for other reasons.

c. Where an allocation of joint cost will ultimately result in charges to a grant program, an allocation plan will be required as prescribed in Section I.

3. Applicable credits. a. Applicable credits refer to those receipts or reduction of expenditure-type transactions which offset or reduce expense items allocable to grants as direct or indirect costs. Examples of such transactions are: purchase discounts; rebates or allowances; recoveries or indentities on losses; sale of publications, equipment, and scrap; income from personal or incidental services; and adjustments of overpayments or erroneous charges.

b. Applicable credits may also arise when Bureau funds are received or are available from sources other than the grant program involved to finance operations or capital items of the grantee. This includes costs arising from the use of depreciation of items donated or financed by the Bureau to fulfill matching requirements under another grant program. These types of credits should likewise be used to reduce related expenditures in determining the rates or amounts applicable to a given grant.

D. Composition of cost. 1. Total cost. The total cost of a grant program is comprised of the allowable direct cost incident to its performance, plus its allocable portion of allowable indirect costs, less applicable credits.

2. Classification of costs. There is no universal rule for classifying certain costs as either direct or indirect under every accounting system. A cost may be direct with respect to some specific service or function.

When this method is used, a determination should be made that the amount negotiated a. The nature and extent of services provided and their relevance to the Federally

6. Budgeting. Costs incurred for the development, preparation, presentation, and computation. The computation will exclude the cost or any portion of the cost of build-furnished by the chief legal officer of a tribal government or his staff solely for the purpose counting system. A cost may be direct with respect to some specific service or function, but indirect with respect to the grant or other ultimate cost objective. It is essential, therefore, that each item of cost be treated consistently either as a direct or an indirect cost. Specific guides for determining direct and indirect costs allocable under grant programs are provided in the sections which follow.

E. Direct costs. 1. General. Direct costs are those that can be identified specifically with a particular cost objective. These costs may be charged directly to grants, contracts, or to other programs against which costs are finally lodged. Direct costs may also be charged to cost objectives used for the other ultimate cost objective.

2. Application. Typical direct costs chargeable to grant programs are:

a. Compensation of employees for the time and effort devoted specifically to the execution of grant programs.

b. Cost of materials acquired, consumed, or expended specifically for the purpose of the grant.

c. Equipment and other approved capital expenditures.

d. Other items of expense incurred specifically to carry out the grant agreement.

e. Services furnished specifically for the grant program by other agencies, provided such charges are consistent with criteria outlined in Section G of these principles.

F. Indirect costs. 1. General. Indirect costs are those (a) incurred for a common or joint purpose benefiting more than one cost objective, and (b) not readily assignable to the cost objectives specifically benefited, without effort disproportionate to the results achieved. The term "indirect costs," as used herein, applies to costs of this type originating in the grantee department, as well as those incurred by other departments in supplying goods, services, and facilities to the grantee department. To facilitate equitable distribution of indirect expenses to the cost objectives served, it may be necessary to establish a number of pools of indirect cost within a grantee department or in other agencies providing services to a grantee department. Indirect cost pools should be distributed to benefiting cost objectives on bases which will produce an equitable result in consideration of relative benefits derived.

2. Grantee departmental indirect costs. All grantee departmental indirect costs, including the various levels of supervision, are eligible for allocation to grant programs provided they meet the conditions set forth in this Part. In lieu of determining the actual amount of grantee departmental indirect cost allocable to a grant program, the following methods may be used:

a. Predetermined fixed rates for indirect costs. A predetermined fixed rate for computing indirect costs applicable to a grant may be negotiated annually in situations where the cost experience and other pertinent facts available are deemed sufficient to enable the contracting parties to reach an informed judgment (1) as to the probable level of indirect costs in the grantee department during the period to be covered by the negotiated rate, and (2) that the amount allowable under the predetermined rate would not exceed actual indirect cost.

b. Negotiated lump sum for overhead. A negotiated fixed amount in lieu of indirect costs may be appropriate under circumstances where the benefits derived from a grantee department's indirect services cannot be readily determined as in the case of small, self-contained or isolated activity.

When this method is used, a determination should be made that the amount negotiated will be approximately the same as the actual indirect cost that may be incurred. Such amounts negotiated in lieu of indirect costs will be treated as an offset to total indirect expenses of the grantee department before allocation to remaining activities. The base on which such remaining expenses are allocated should be appropriately adjusted.

3. Limitation on indirect costs. a. Bureau grants may be subject to laws that limit the amount of indirect costs that may be allocated. In this event, the Bureau will establish procedures which will assure that the amount actually allowed for indirect costs under each such grant does not exceed the maximum allowable under the statutory limitation or the amount otherwise allowable under this Appendix, whichever is the smaller.

b. When the amount allowable under a statutory limitation is less than the amount otherwise allocable as indirect costs under this Appendix the amount not recoverable as indirect costs under a grant may not be shifted to another Federally sponsored grant program or contract.

c. Cost incurred by organizations other than the grantee. 1. General. The cost of service provided by other organizations may only include allowable direct costs of the service plus a prorata share of allowable supporting costs and supervision directly required in performing the service, but not supervision of a general nature such as that provided by the head of an organization and his staff assistants not directly involved in operations. However, supervision by the head of an organization whose sole function is providing the service furnished would be an eligible cost. Supporting costs include those furnished by other units of the supplying organizations.

2. Alternative methods of determining indirect cost. In lieu of determining actual indirect cost related to a particular service furnished by another organization, either of the following alternative methods may be used provided only one method is used for a specific service during the fiscal year involved.

a. Standard indirect rate. An amount equal to ten percent of direct labor cost in providing the service performed by another organization (excluding overtime, shift, or holiday premiums and fringe benefits) may be allowed in lieu of actual allowable indirect cost for that service.

b. Predetermined fixed rate. A predetermined fixed rate for indirect cost of the unit or activity providing service may be negotiated as set forth in Section F.2.a.

H. Cost incurred by grantee for others. 1. General. The principles provided in Section G will also be used in determining the cost of services provided by the grantee to another agency.

1. Cost allocation plan. 1. General. A plan for allocation of costs will be required to support the distribution of any joint costs related to the grant program. All costs included in the plan will be supported by formal accounting records which will substantiate the propriety of eventual charges.

2. Requirements. The allocation plan of the grantee should cover all joint costs of the grantees as well as costs to be allocated under plans of other agencies or organizational units which are to be included in the costs of Federally sponsored programs. The cost allocation plans of all the agencies rendering services to the grantee, to the extent feasible, should be presented in a single document. The allocation plan should contain, but not necessarily be limited to, the following:

a. The nature and extent of services provided and their relevance to the Federally sponsored programs.

b. The items of expense to be included.

c. The methods to be used in distributing cost.

3. Instructions for preparation of cost allocation plans. The Bureau, in consultation with the other Federal agencies concerned, will be responsible for developing and issuing the instructions for use by grantees in preparation of cost allocation plans.

4. Negotiation and approval of indirect cost proposals for grantees. a. The Bureau, in collaboration with the other Federal agencies and offices concerned, will be responsible for negotiation, approval, and audit of cost allocation plans, which will be submitted to it by the grantees. These plans will cover central support service costs of the grantees.

b. The Department of the Interior Office of Audit and Investigation will have responsibility similar to that set forth in a., above, for the negotiation, approval, and audit of the indirect cost proposal.

c. Questions concerning the cost allocation plans approved under a. and b., above, should be directed to the Bureau.

PART II—STANDARDS FOR SELECTED ITEMS OF COST

A. Purpose and applicability. 1. Objective. This attachment provides standards for determining the allowability of selected items of cost.

2. Application. These standards will apply irrespective of whether a particular item of cost is treated as direct or indirect cost. Failure to mention a particular item of cost in the standards is not intended to imply that it is either allowable or unallowable, rather determination of allowability in each case should be based on the treatment of standards provided for similar or related items of cost. The allowability of the selected items of cost is subject to the general policies and principles stated in Part I of this Appendix.

B. Allowable costs. 1. Accounting. The cost of establishing and maintaining accounting and other information systems required for the management of grant programs is allowable. This includes cost incurred by central service agencies for these purposes. The cost of maintaining central accounting records required for overall tribal government purposes, such as appropriation and fund accounts by the Treasurer, Comptroller, or similar officials, is considered to be a general expense of government and is not allowable.

2. Advertising. Advertising media includes newspapers, magazines, radio and television programs, direct mail, trade papers, and the like. The advertising costs allowable are those which are solely for:

a. Recruitment of personnel required for the grant program.

b. Solicitation of bids for the procurement of goods and services required.

c. Disposal of scrap or surplus materials acquired in the performance of the grant agreement.

d. Other purposes specifically provided for in the grant agreement.

3. Advisory councils. Costs incurred by grantee advisory councils or committees established pursuant to Bureau requirements to carry out grant programs are allowable. The cost of like organizations is allowable when provided for in the grant agreement.

4. Audit service. The cost of audits necessary for the administration and management of functions related to grant programs is allowable.

5. Bonding. Costs of premiums on bonds covering employees who handle grantee funds are allowable.

6. Budgeting. Costs incurred for the development, preparation, presentation, and execution of budgets are allowable. Costs for services of a central budget office are generally not allowable since these are costs of general government. However, where employees of the central budget office actively participate in the grantee budget process, the cost of identifiable services is allowable.

7. Building lease management. The administrative cost for lease management which includes review of lease proposals, maintenance of a list of available property for lease, and related activities is allowable.

8. Central stores. The cost of maintaining and operating a central store's organization for supplies, equipment, and materials used either directly or indirectly for grant programs is allowable.

9. Communications. Communication costs incurred for telephone calls or service, telegraph, teletype service, wide area telephone service (WATS), centrex, telapak (tie lines), postage, messenger service and similar expenses are allowable.

10. Compensation for personal services. a. General. Compensation for personal services includes all remuneration, paid currently or accrued, for services rendered during the period of performance under the grant agreement, including but not necessarily limited to wages, salaries, and supplementary compensation and benefits. The costs of such compensation are allowable to the extent that total compensation for individual employees:

(1) is responsible for the services rendered, (2) follows an appointment made in accordance with tribal government ordinances and rules which meets Federal merit system or other requirements, where applicable; and (3) is determined and supported as provided in b., below. Compensation for employees engaged in federally assisted activities will be considered reasonable to the extent that it is consistent with that paid for similar work in other activities of the tribal government. In cases where the kinds of employees required for the federally assisted activities are not found in the other activities of the tribal government, compensation will be considered reasonable to the extent that it is comparable to that paid for similar work in the labor market in which the employing government competes for the kind of employees involved. Compensation surveys providing data representative of the labor market involved will be an acceptable basis for evaluating reasonableness.

b. Payroll and distribution of time. Amounts charged to grant programs for personal services, regardless of whether treated as direct or indirect costs, will be based on payrolls documented and approved in accordance with generally accepted practice of the tribal government. Payrolls must be supported by time and attendance or equivalent records for individual employees. Salaries and wages of employees chargeable to more than one grant program or other cost objective will be supported by appropriate time distribution records. The method used should produce an equitable distribution of time and effort.

11. Depreciation and use allowance. a. Grantees may be compensated for the use of their own buildings, capital improvements, and equipment through use allowances of depreciation. Use allowances are the means of providing compensation in lieu of depreciation or other equivalent costs. However, a combination of the two methods may not be used in connection with a single class of fixed assets.

b. The computation of depreciation or use allowance will be based on acquisition cost. Where actual cost records have not been maintained, a reasonable estimate of the original acquisition cost may be used in the computation. The computation will exclude the cost or any portion of the cost of buildings and equipment donated or borne directly or indirectly by the Bureau through charges to Bureau grant programs or otherwise, irrespective of whether title was originally vested or where it presently resides. In addition, the computation will also exclude the cost of land. Depreciation or a use allowance on idle or excess facilities is not allowable, except when specifically authorized by the Bureau.

c. Where the depreciation method is followed, adequate property records must be maintained, and any generally accepted method of computing depreciation must be consistently applied for any specific asset or class of assets for all affected Federally sponsored programs and must result in equitable charges considering the extent of the use of the assets for benefit of such programs.

d. In lieu of depreciation, a use allowance for buildings and improvements may be computed at an annual rate not exceeding two percent of acquisition cost. The use allowance for equipment (excluding items properly capitalized as building cost) will be computed at an annual rate not exceeding six and two-thirds percent of acquisition cost of usable equipment.

e. No depreciation or use charge may be allowed on any assets that would be considered as fully depreciated, provided, however, that reasonable use charges may be negotiated for any such assets if warranted after taking into consideration the cost of the facility or item involved, the estimated useful life remaining at time of negotiation, the effect of any increased maintenance charges or decreased efficiency due to age, and any other factors pertinent to utilization of the facility or item for the purpose contemplated.

12. Disbursing service. The cost of disbursing grant program funds by the Treasurer or other designated officer is allowable. Disbursing services cover the processing of checks or warrants, from preparation to redemption, including the necessary records of accountability and reconciliation of such records with related cash accounts.

13. Employee fringe benefits. Costs identified under a. and b. below are allowable to the extent that total compensation for employees is reasonable as defined in Section B.10.

a. Employee benefits in the form of regular compensation paid to employees during periods of authorized absences from the job, such as for annual leave, sick leave, court leave, military leave, and the like. If they are: (1) provided pursuant to an approved leave system, and (2) the cost thereof is equitably allocated to all related activities, including grant programs.

b. Employee benefits in the form of employees' contribution or expenses for social security, employees' life and health insurance plans, unemployment insurance coverage, workmen's compensation insurance, pension plans, severance pay, and the like, provided such benefits are granted under approved plans and are distributed equitably to grant programs and in other activities.

14. Employee morale, health and welfare costs. The costs of health or first-aid clinics and/or infirmaries, recreational facilities, employees' counseling services, employee information publications, and any related expenses incurred, are allowable. Income generated from any of these activities will be offset against expenses.

15. Exhibits. Costs of exhibits relating specifically to the grant programs are allowable.

16. Legal expenses. The cost of legal expenses required in the administration of grant programs is allowable. Legal services furnished by the chief legal officer of a tribal government or his staff solely for the purpose of discharging his general responsibilities as legal officer are unallowable. Legal expenses for the prosecution of claims against the Federal Government are unallowable.

17. Maintenance and repair. Costs incurred for necessary maintenance, repair, or upkeep of property which neither add to the permanent value of the property nor appreciably prolong its intended life, but keep it in an efficient operating condition, are allowable.

18. Materials and supplies. The cost of materials and supplies necessary to carry out the grant programs is allowable. Purchases made specifically for the grant program should be charged thereto at their actual prices after deducting all cash discounts, trade discounts, rebates, and allowances received by the grantee. Withdrawals from general stores or stockrooms should be charged at cost under any recognized method of pricing consistently applied. Incoming transportation charges are a proper part of material cost.

19. Memberships, subscriptions and professional activities. a. Memberships. The cost of membership in civic, business, technical and professional organizations is allowable provided: (1) the benefit from the membership is related to the grant program, (2) the expenditure is for agency membership, (3) the cost of the membership is reasonably related to the value of the services or benefits received, and (4) the expenditure is not for membership in an organization which devotes a substantial part of its activities to influencing legislation.

b. Reference material. The cost of books, and subscriptions to civic, business, professional, and technical periodicals is allowable when related to the grant program.

c. Meetings and conferences. Costs are allowable when the purpose of the meeting is the dissemination of technical information relating to the grant program and they are consistent with regular practices followed for other activities of the grantee.

20. Motor pools. The costs of a service organization which provides automobiles to grantees at a mileage or fixed rate and/or provides vehicle maintenance, inspection and repair services are allowable.

21. Payroll preparation. The cost of preparing payrolls and maintaining necessary related wage records is allowable.

22. Personnel administration. Costs for the recruitment, examination, certification, classification, training, establishment of pay standards, and related activities for grant programs, are allowable.

23. Printing and reproduction. Cost for printing and reproduction services necessary for grant administration, including but not limited to forms, reports, manuals, and informational literature, are allowable. Publication costs of reports or other media relating to grant program accomplishments or results are allowable when provided for in the grant agreement.

24. Procurement service. The cost of procurement service, including solicitation of bids, preparation and award of contracts, and all phases of contract administration in providing goods, facilities and services for grant programs, is allowable.

25. Taxes. In general, taxes or payments in lieu of taxes which the grantee is legally required to pay are allowable.

26. Training and education. The cost of in-service training, customarily provided for employee development which directly or indirectly benefits grant programs is allowable. Out-of-service training involving extended periods of time is allowable only when specifically authorized by the Bureau.

27. Transportation. Costs incurred for freight, cartage, express, postage and other transportation costs relating either to goods purchased, delivered, or moved from one location to another are allowable.

28. Travel. Travel costs are allowable for expenses for transportation, lodging, subsistence, and related items incurred by employees who are in travel status on official business incident to a grant program. Such costs may be charged on an actual basis, on a per diem or mileage basis in lieu of actual costs incurred, or on a combination of the two, provided the method used is applied to an entire trip, and results in charges consistent with those normally allowed in like circumstances in non-Federally sponsored activities. The difference in cost between first-class air accommodations and less-than-first-class air accommodations is allowable except when less-than-first-class air accommodations are not reasonably available.

C. Costs allowable with approval of the Bureau. 1. Automatic data processing. The cost of data processing services to grant programs is allowable. This cost may include rental of equipment or depreciation on grantee-owned equipment. The acquisition of equipment, whether by outright purchase, rental-purchase agreement or other method of purchase, is allowable only upon specific prior approval of the Bureau as provided under the selected item for capital expenditures.

2. Building space and related facilities. The cost of space in privately or publicly owned buildings used for the benefit of the grant program is allowable subject to the conditions stated below. The total cost of space, whether in a privately or publicly owned building, may not exceed the rental cost of comparable space and facilities in a privately owned building in the same locality. The cost of space procured for grant program usage may not be charged to the program for periods of nonoccupancy, without authorization of the Bureau.

a. Rental cost. The rental cost of space in a privately owned building is allowable.

b. Maintenance and operation. The cost of utilities, insurance, security, janitorial services, elevator service, upkeep of grounds, normal repairs and alterations and the like, are allowable to the extent they are not otherwise included in rental or other charges for space.

c. Rearrangements and alterations. Cost incurred for rearrangement and alteration of facilities required specifically for the grant program or those that materially increase the value or useful life of the facilities (Section C.3.) are allowable when specifically approved by the Bureau.

d. Depreciation and use allowances on publicly owned buildings. These costs are allowable as provided in Section B.11.

e. Occupancy of space under rental-purchase or a lease with option-to-purchase agreement. The cost of space procured under such arrangements is allowable when specifically approved by the Bureau.

3. Capital expenditures. The cost of facilities, equipment, other capital assets, and repairs which materially increase the value or useful life of capital assets is allowable when such procurement is specifically approved by the Bureau. When assets acquired with Bureau grant funds are (a) sold, (b) no longer available for use in a Federally sponsored program or (c) used for purposes not authorized by the Bureau, the Bureau's equity in the asset will be refunded in the same proportion as Bureau participation in its cost. In case any assets are traded on new items, only the net cost of the newly acquired assets is allowable.

4. Insurance and indemnification. a. Costs of insurance required, or approved and maintained pursuant to the grant agreement, is allowable.

b. Costs of other insurance in connection with the general conduct of activities is allowable subject to the following limitations: (1) Types and extent and cost of coverage will be in accordance with sound business practice.

(2) Costs of insurance or of contributions to any reserve covering the risk of loss of, or damage to, Federal Government property is allowable except to the extent that the Bureau has specifically required or approved such costs.

c. Contributions to a reserve for a self-insurance program approved by the Bureau are allowable to the extent that the type of coverage, extent of coverage, and the rates and premiums would have been allowed had insurance been purchased to cover the risks.

d. Actual losses which could have been covered by permissible insurance (through an approved self-insurance program or otherwise) are allowable unless expressly provided for in the grant agreement. However, costs incurred because of losses not covered under nominal deductible insurance coverage provided in keeping with sound management practice, and minor losses not covered by insurance, such as spoilage, breakage and disappearance of small hand tools which occur in the ordinary course of operations, are allowable.

e. Indemnification includes securing the grantee against liabilities to third persons and other losses not compensated by insurance or otherwise. The Bureau is obligated to indemnify the grantee only to the extent expressly provided for in the grant agreement, except as provided in d. above.

5. Management studies. The cost of management studies to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of grant management for ongoing programs is allowable except that the cost of studies performed by agencies other than the grantee or outside consultants is allowable only when authorized by the Bureau.

6. Preagreement costs. Costs incurred prior to the effective date of the grant, whether or not they would have been allowable thereunder if incurred after such date, are allowable when specifically provided for in the grant agreement.

7. Professional services. Cost of professional services rendered by individuals or organizations not a part of the grantee is allowable subject to such prior authorization as may be required by the Bureau.

8. Proposal costs. Costs of preparing proposals on potential Federal Government grant agreements are allowable when specifically provided for in the grant agreement.

9. Tribal government officer salaries and expenses. Identifiable salary and expense costs incurred as a direct result of a tribal government officer's service to a grant program provided under this chapter are allowable subject to advance agreement with and approval by the Bureau. A general limitation in this regard is prescribed in section D.6.

D. Unallowable costs. 1. Bad debts. Any losses arising from uncollectible accounts and other claims, and related costs, are unallowable.

2. Contingencies. Contributions to a contingency reserve or any similar provision for unforeseen events are unallowable.

3. Contributions and donations. Unallowable.

4. Entertainments. Costs of amusements, social activities, and incidental costs relating thereto, such as meals, beverages, lodgings, rentals, transportation, and gratuities, are unallowable.

5. Fines and penalties. Costs resulting from violations of, or failure to comply with Federal, State and local laws and regulations are unallowable.

6. Tribal officer salaries and expenses. The salaries and expenses of tribal government officers are considered a cost of general tribal government and are unallowable except as prescribed in Section C.9.

7. Interest and other financial costs. Interest on borrowing (however requested), bond discounts, cost of financing and refinancing operations, and legal and professional fees paid in connection therewith, are unallowable except when authorized by Federal legislation.

8. Underrecovery of costs under grant agreements. Any excess of cost over the Federal contribution under one grant agreement is unallowable under other grant agreements.

APPENDIX B—FINANCIAL REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

A. Purpose and scope. This appendix prescribes requirements for grantees to report financial information to the Bureau and to request advances and reimbursement when a letter-of-credit method is not used.

B. Definitions. 1. Accrued expenditures. Accrued expenditures are the charges incurred by the grantee during a given period requiring the provision of funds for: (1) goods and other tangible property received; (2) services performed by employees, contractors, subgrantees, and other payees; and (3) amounts becoming owed under programs for which no current services or performance are required.

2. Accrued income. Accrued income is the earnings during a given period which is a source of funds resulting from: (1) services performed by the grantee; (2) goods and other tangible property delivered to purchasers; and (3) amounts becoming owed to the grantee for which no current services or performance are required by the grantee.

3. Disbursements. Disbursements are payments in cash or by check.

4. Bureau funds authorized. Funds authorized represent the total amount of the Bureau funds authorized for obligations and establish the ceilings for obligation of Bureau funds. This amount may include any authorized carryover of unobligated funds from prior fiscal years.

5. Obligations. Obligations are the amounts of orders placed, contracts and grants awarded, services received, and similar transactions during a given period, which will require payment during the same or a future period.

6. Outlays. Outlays represent charges made to the grant project or program. Outlays can be reported on a cash or accrued expenditure basis.

7. Program income. Program income represents earnings by the grantee realized from the grant-supported activities. Such earnings exclude interest income and may include, but will not be limited to, income from service fees, sale of commodities, usage or rental fees, sale of assets purchased with grant funds, and royalties on patents and copyrights. Program income can be reported on a cash or accrued income basis.

8. Unobligated balance. The unobligated balance is the portion of the funds authorized by the Bureau which has not been obligated by the grantee and is determined by deducting the cumulative obligations from the funds authorized.

9. Unpaid obligations. Unpaid obligations represent the amount of obligations incurred by the grantee which have not been paid.

C. Standard forms. 1. Only the following forms will be authorized for obtaining financial information from grantees for grant programs:

a. Financial Status Report. (1) The Bureau shall require grantees to use a standard Financial Status Report to report the status of funds for all nonconstruction grant programs. The Bureau may, however, have the option of not requiring a Financial Status Report when a Request for Advance or Reimbursement (paragraph 2a) is determined to provide adequate information to meet their needs, except that a final Financial Status Report shall be required at the completion of the grant when the Request for Advance or Reimbursement form is used only for advances.

(2) The Bureau shall prescribe whether the report shall be on a cash or accrual basis. If the Bureau requires accrual information and the grantee's accounting records are not normally kept on the accrual basis, the grantee should develop such information through an analysis of the documentation on hand or on the basis of best estimates.

(3) The grant agreement shall determine the frequency of the Financial Status Report for each grant program considering the size and complexity of the particular program. However, the report shall not be required more frequently than quarterly or less frequently than annually. Also, a final report shall be required at the completion of the grant.

(4) The original and two copies of the Financial Status Report shall be submitted 30 days after the end of each specified reporting period. In addition, final reports shall be submitted 90 days after the end of the grant period or the completion of the project or program. Extensions to reporting due dates may be approved when requested by the grantee.

b. Report of federal cash transactions. (1) When funds are advanced to grantees through letters of credit or with Treasury checks, each grantee shall submit a report of Federal Cash Transactions. The Bureau shall use this report to monitor cash advanced to grantees and to obtain disbursement or outlay information for each grant or project from the grantees.

(2) The grant agreement may require forecasts of Federal cash requirements in the Remarks section of the report.

(3) When practical and deemed necessary, the Bureau may require grantees to report in the Remarks section the amount of cash in excess of three days' requirements in the hands of subgrantees or other secondary recipients and to provide short narrative explanations of actions taken by the grantees to reduce the excess balances.

(4) The Bureau shall accept the identical information from the grantees in a machine-readable format in lieu of the Report of Federal Cash Transactions.

(5) Grantees shall submit the original and two copies of the Report of Federal Cash Transactions no later than 15 working days following the end of each quarter. For those grantees receiving annual grants totalling one million dollars or more, the Bureau shall require a monthly report.

(6) The Bureau shall waive the requirement for submission of a Report of Federal Cash Transactions when monthly advances do not exceed $10,000 per grantee provided that such advances are monitored through other forms contained in this Appendix or the grantee's accounting controls are adequate to minimize excessive Federal advances.

2. Except as noted below, only the following forms will be authorized for the grantees in requesting advances and reimbursements.

a. Request for advance or reimbursement. (1) The "Request for Advance or Reimbursement" form is the standard form for all nonconstruction grant programs when letters of credit or predetermined automatic advance methods are not used. The Bureau, however, has the option of using this form for construction programs in lieu of an "Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs" (paragraph 2b) and shall specify in the grant agreement.

(2) Grantees shall be authorized to submit requests for advances or reimbursement at least monthly when letters of credit are not used. Grantees shall submit the original and two copies of a Request for Advance or Reimbursement.

b. Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs. (1) The "Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs" form is the standard format to be used for requesting reimbursement for construction programs. The Bureau may, however, have the option of substituting a "Request for Advance or Reimbursement" form (paragraph 2a) in lieu of this form when the Bureau determines that the former provides adequate information to meet its needs as stated in the grant agreement.

(2) Grantees shall be authorized to submit requests for reimbursement at least monthly when letters of credit are not used. Grantees shall submit the original and two copies of an "Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs" form.

3. When the Bureau needs additional information in using these forms, the following shall be observed:

a. When necessary to comply with future legislative requirements, the Bureau shall issue instructions to require grantees to submit such information under the Remarks section of the reports.

b. When necessary to meet specific program needs, the Bureau shall submit the proposed reporting requirements to the General Services Administration for approval under the exception provision of this Appendix.

c. The Bureau, in obtaining information as in paragraphs a and b above, must also comply with report clearance requirements of the Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-40, as revised.

(2) The grant agreement may require forecasts of Federal cash requirements in the Remarks section of the report.

(3) When practical and deemed necessary, the Bureau may require grantees to report in the Remarks section the amount of cash in excess of three days' requirements in the hands of subgrantees or other secondary recipients and to provide short narrative explanations of actions taken by the grantees to reduce the excess balances.

(4) The Bureau shall accept the identical information from the grantees in a machine-readable format in lieu of the Report of Federal Cash Transactions.

(5) Grantees shall submit the original and two copies of the Report of Federal Cash Transactions no later than 15 working days following the end of each quarter. For those grantees receiving annual grants totalling one million dollars or more, the Bureau shall require a monthly report.

(6) The Bureau shall waive the requirement for submission of a Report of Federal Cash Transactions when monthly advances do not exceed $10,000 per grantee provided that such advances are monitored through other forms contained in this Appendix or the grantee's accounting controls are adequate to minimize excessive Federal advances.

2. Except as noted below, only the following forms will be authorized for the grantees in requesting advances and reimbursements.

a. Request for advance or reimbursement. (1) The "Request for Advance or Reimbursement" form is the standard form for all nonconstruction grant programs when letters of credit or predetermined automatic advance methods are not used. The Bureau, however, has the option of using this form for construction programs in lieu of an "Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs" (paragraph 2b) and shall specify in the grant agreement.

(2) Grantees shall be authorized to submit requests for advances or reimbursement at least monthly when letters of credit are not used. Grantees shall submit the original and two copies of a Request for Advance or Reimbursement.

b. Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs. (1) The "Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs" form is the standard format to be used for requesting reimbursement for construction programs. The Bureau may, however, have the option of substituting a "Request for Advance or Reimbursement" form (paragraph 2a) in lieu of this form when the Bureau determines that the former provides adequate information to meet its needs as stated in the grant agreement.

(2) Grantees shall be authorized to submit requests for reimbursement at least monthly when letters of credit are not used. Grantees shall submit the original and two copies of an "Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs" form.

3. When the Bureau needs additional information in using these forms, the following shall be observed:

a. When necessary to comply with future legislative requirements, the Bureau shall issue instructions to require grantees to submit such information under the Remarks section of the reports.

b. When necessary to meet specific program needs, the Bureau shall submit the proposed reporting requirements to the General Services Administration for approval under the exception provision of this Appendix.

c. The Bureau, in obtaining information as in paragraphs a and b above, must also comply with report clearance requirements of the Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-40, as revised.

(2) The grant agreement may require forecasts of Federal cash requirements in the Remarks section of the report.

(3) When practical and deemed necessary, the Bureau may require grantees to report in the Remarks section the amount of cash in excess of three days' requirements in the hands of subgrantees or other secondary recipients and to provide short narrative explanations of actions taken by the grantees to reduce the excess balances.

(4) The Bureau shall accept the identical information from the grantees in a machine-readable format in lieu of the Report of Federal Cash Transactions.

(5) Grantees shall submit the original and two copies of the Report of Federal Cash Transactions no later than 15 working days following the end of each quarter. For those grantees receiving annual grants totalling one million dollars or more, the Bureau shall require a monthly report.

(6) The Bureau shall waive the requirement for submission of a Report of Federal Cash Transactions when monthly advances do not exceed $10,000 per grantee provided that such advances are monitored through other forms contained in this Appendix or the grantee's accounting controls are adequate to minimize excessive Federal advances.

2. Except as noted below, only the following forms will be authorized for the grantees in requesting advances and reimbursements.

a. Request for advance or reimbursement. (1) The "Request for Advance or Reimbursement" form is the standard form for all nonconstruction grant programs when letters of credit or predetermined automatic advance methods are not used. The Bureau, however, has the option of using this form for construction programs in lieu of an "Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs" (paragraph 2b) and shall specify in the grant agreement.

(2) Grantees shall be authorized to submit requests for advances or reimbursement at least monthly when letters of credit are not used. Grantees shall submit the original and two copies of a Request for Advance or Reimbursement.

b. Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs. (1) The "Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs" form is the standard format to be used for requesting reimbursement for construction programs. The Bureau may, however, have the option of substituting a "Request for Advance or Reimbursement" form (paragraph 2a) in lieu of this form when the Bureau determines that the former provides adequate information to meet its needs as stated in the grant agreement.

(2) Grantees shall be authorized to submit requests for reimbursement at least monthly when letters of credit are not used. Grantees shall submit the original and two copies of an "Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs" form.

3. When the Bureau needs additional information in using these forms, the following shall be observed:

a. When necessary to comply with future legislative requirements, the Bureau shall issue instructions to require grantees to submit such information under the Remarks section of the reports.

Subpart E—Appeals

Sec.
407.51 Contract appeal.
407.52 Appeal from decision to cancel contract for cause.
407.53 Other appeals.

AUTHORITY: Sec. 204, Pub. L. 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203, unless otherwise noted.

Subpart A—General Provisions

§ 407.1 Purpose.

The purpose of the regulations in this Part is to give the application and approval process for a State or local education agency to obtain school construction contracts from the Bureau under Section 204 of Title II of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Pub. L. 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203), to assist in the education of Indians.

§ 407.2 Scope.

(a) The application process for public school construction contracts under Section 204 of Pub. L. 93-638 is given in 20 U.S.C. 631-645 and 45 CFR 114. The application process is administered by and is the responsibility of the Commissioner of Education. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs participates with the Commissioner of Education in preparation of programs, cost estimates and other supplemental data which are part of the application and national priority index. The Commissioner of Education furnishes the national priority index to the Bureau at the start of each fiscal year.

(b) The Bureau requests and receives funding for acquisition of sites and for architectural-engineering design, facilities construction and equipment for the program. Funds are allocated to projects by the Bureau on the basis of

(f) "Days" means calendar days.
 (g) "Economic enterprise" means any commercial, industrial, agricultural, or business activity that is at least 51 percent Indian owned, established or organized for the purpose of profit.

(h) "Existing school facilities" means all facilities constructed as school buildings and used continuously for classroom purposes. Excluded are basement rooms, hallways, or other space, the use of which for school purposes (in view of the character, inaccessibility or other equally cogent reasons) seriously restricts the educational objective, or has impaired or will impair the health or safety of the school children.

(i) "Indian" means a person who is a member of an Indian tribe.

(j) "Indian tribe" means any Indian Tribe, Band, Nation, Rancheria, Pueblo, Colony, or Community, including any Alaska Native village or regional or village corporation as defined in or established pursuant to the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (85 Stat. 688) which is recognized as eligible by the Secretary for the special programs and services provided by the Secretary to Indians because of their status as Indians.

(k) "Initial equipment" means any movable equipment necessary and appropriate to equip minimum school facilities. Such term does not include equipment purchased to replace any equipment which is obsolete or worn out and which was purchased with funds under Pub. L. 81-815 or Pub. L. 93-638.

(l) "Minimum school facilities" means classroom and auxiliary rooms and initial equipment necessary to operate an approved educational program for the membership of the school at normal capacity in accordance with the criteria established by the State in which the facilities are to be located.

(m) "P.L. 81-815" means the Act of September 23, 1950 (P.L. 81-815, 72 Stat. 548), as amended.

(n) "P.L. 93-638" means the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (P.L. 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203).

(o) "School district" or "local education agency" means that subdivision of the State which contains the public elementary and secondary educational institutions providing educational services and is controlled by a duly elected board, commission or similarly constituted assembly.

(p) "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Interior.

(q) "State" means a State of the United States of America or any political subdivision of a State.

(r) "State education agency" means the State Board of Education or other agency or office primarily responsible for supervision by the State of public elementary and secondary schools or, if there is no such office or agency, an office or agency designated by the Governor or by State law.

§ 407.4 Revision or amendment of regulations.

Before revising or amending the regulations in this Part, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs shall take the following actions:

(a) Consult with Indian tribes and national and regional Indian organizations to the extent practicable about the need for revision or amendment and consider their views in preparing the proposed revision or amendment.

(b) Publish any proposed revisions or amendments in the FEDERAL REGISTER as proposed rulemaking to provide adequate notice to, and receive comments from, all interested parties.

(c) After consideration of all comments received, publish the regulations in the FEDERAL REGISTER in final form not less than 30 days before the date they are made effective.

Subpart B—Application Process

§ 407.11 Eligible applicants.

(a) Any State education agency or school district may apply for a contract with the Bureau to assist the agency or district in acquiring sites for, or in constructing, acquiring, or renovating, facilities (including all necessary equipment) in school districts on or adjacent to or in close proximity to any Indian reservation or other lands held in trust by the United States for Indians if the facilities are necessary for educating Indians residing on any such reservation or lands.

(b) The project for which the applicant is requesting funding must meet the eligibility requirements under subsections (a) and (b) of section 14 of Pub. L. 81-815.

§ 407.12 Consultation with Indians.

(a) Except where there is a majority of Indians on an elected public school board, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs shall consult with the local public school officials and the tribal governing body(s) of the local Indian tribe(s) affected before the application for funding public school construction is submitted to the Commissioner of Education.

(b) This requirement will be deemed to be met unless the official tribal governing body(s) of the Indian tribe(s) to be benefited by the application notify the Commissioner of Education, in writing, within 60 days after the date of the consultation that the tribe(s) disapprove the application. The notice of disapproval must give specific stated objections to the application. A copy of the notice of disapproval shall be delivered or mailed to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs at the same time as the notice is delivered or mailed to the Commissioner of Education.

(c) After being notified that the tribe(s) disapproved a proposed application, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs or his designated representatives shall meet with tribal and public school officials to provide assistance in resolving the stated objectives to the application. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs shall notify the Commissioner of Education 15 days in advance of the date, place, and time of such meetings and shall invite the Commissioner of Education or his representatives to attend.

§ 407.13 Application procedure for placement on priority list.

(a) Applications for public school construction assistance under this Part will be submitted and processed in accordance with procedures outlined in 20 U.S.C. 631-645 and 45 CFR 114. Application forms, instructions, advice, and assistance in accordance with 20 U.S.C. 636 and 45 CFR 114.1 may be obtained from each State education agency. All questions pertaining to the preparation and filing of preapplications, applications, and request for materials should be directed to the State Representative for School Assistance, who will respond or may forward the inquiries, where appropriate, to the Regional Commissioner of Education.

(b) Section 204(b) of Pub. L. 93-638 assigns responsibility for the application processing, determination of eligibility and establishment of project priority to the Commissioner of Education. Such application and review and determination processes includes the following:

(1) Field and site review by the Commissioner of Education assisted by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs to determine:

(i) Tentative cost estimate for budget purposes. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs or his representative will assist the Commissioner of Education in conducting the on-site inspection to determine which buildings need to be retained, demolished or remodeled and to gather initial information required for development of the planning document. From this information, a tentative cost estimate for design, construction, and equipment will be made for budget purposes in cooperation with the applicant.

(ii) Equal quality and standard of education. While assisting in the on-site inspection, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs or his representative must determine whether the quality and standard of education (including facilities and auxiliary services) for Indian students enrolled in the school are at least equal to that provided all other students from resources, other than resources provided under this Part, which are available to the local school district. If it is determined that the quality and standard of education for Indian students is not at least equal to that given all other students enrolled in the schools, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs or his representative shall recommend that the project not be placed on the priority list. Such a project will not be placed on the Bureau's commitment-to-fund list which is prepared under § 407.15.

(2) Discussion and consultation with State and local education agencies to determine the exact nature of the project to be constructed, including existing structure renovation or replacement.

(3) Presentation of program development for review and approval by the State and/or local education representatives and a current and updated project cost estimate.

(c) The Commissioner of Indian Affairs participates in the application process by furnishing technical assistance to the Commissioner of Education. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs insures consultation with Indians and assists with the preparation of the program, cost estimates, etc. as part of the data needed in order for the Commissioner of Education to prepare the priority listing of eligible applicants.

(d) The projects will be ranked by priority based on criteria established by the Commissioner of Education as given in 45 CFR 114.16.

§ 407.14 Submitting priority list to Bureau.

Pursuant to Section 204(b) of Pub. L. 93-638, a list of public school projects eligible for funding under this Part shall be submitted to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs by the Commissioner of Education at the beginning of each fiscal year.

§ 407.15 Preparing a commitment-to-fund list.

(a) When the Commissioner of Indian Affairs receives the priority list from the Commissioner of Education, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs will place the project highest on the priority list at the top of a commitment-to-fund list. Projects will be added to the commitment-to-fund list in the same order as they are on the priority list. Each project will be added to the commitment-to-fund list as long as the total of the tentative cost estimates is less than the amount of funds appropriated for public school construction under this Part for the new fiscal year. However, a project shall not be placed on the commitment-to-fund list if the Commissioner of Indian Affairs or his representative has determined under § 407.13(b) (1) (ii) that the quality and standard of education for Indian students enrolled in the schools are not at least equal to that provided all other students from resources, other than resources provided under this Part, which are available to the local school district.

(b) Each applicant will be notified in writing when the project has been placed on the commitment-to-fund list.

§ 407.16 Negotiating a contract.

When a project has been placed on the commitment-to-fund list, a contract will be negotiated by a Bureau contracting officer with the applicant. The contract will be developed in accordance with the regulations in 41 CFR 1 as supplemented by 41 CFR 14 and 41 CFR 14H, except 41 CFR Part 14H-70.

(b) Projects which are partially funded shall be given first consideration for the additional funding necessary to complete such projects.

§ 407.17 Funding provisions.

(a) The Commissioner of Indian Affairs will expend not less than 75 percent of appropriated funds authorized pursuant to Title II, Part B, Section 204 of Pub. L. 93-638 on those projects which meet the eligibility requirements under subsections (a) and (b) of section 14 of Pub. L. 81-815.

(b) Projects which are partially funded shall be given first consideration for the additional funding necessary to complete such projects.

(c) No funds from any contract under this Part shall be made available by any Federal agency directly to other than public agencies. However, school districts and State education agencies assisted by this Part may use funds provided under this Part to contract for necessary services with any appropriate individual, organization, or corporation.

(d) Funds approved for public school construction under this Part may not exceed the Federal share of the total cost of the proposed school facilities, as such facilities are defined within the meaning of Pub. L. 81-815, to serve both Indian and non-Indian children, with the definition of children to be as prescribed by Pub. L. 81-815.

(e) When non-Federal funds are involved, a local school district shall have 120 days from receipt of the notice that the project has been placed on the commitment-to-fund list to assemble the funds from local and/or State sources before the contract negotiations are completed. An extension may be granted by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for unusual circumstances.

Subpart C—General Contract Requirements

§ 407.21 Costs included in contracts.

A contract with a school district under this Part may include costs for architectural design, site acquisition, facilities construction (including site development and supervision), and equipment in accordance with the approved project description.

§ 407.22 Architectural design.

(a) Drawings and specifications for a project shall comply with such Federal, State, and local laws, codes, ordinances and regulations pertaining to standards of construction and safety requirements, as may be applicable.

[16 Comp. Gen. 948 (1937)]

(b) Local education agencies shall give due consideration to excellence of architecture and design when constructing minimum school facilities under this Part.

(c) An Architect/Engineer shall be selected by the contractor to prepare the plans and specifications with the advice and assistance of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs who shall counsel the contractor with respect to professional qualifications and performance history of firms in order that the best qualified firm be selected. No Architect/Engineer agreement involving the expenditures of Federal funds shall be entered into by the contractor until the Commissioner of Indian Affairs has reviewed such agreement.

(d) The drawings and specifications will conform to the project description as shown in the completed application, or as modified by approved revisions.

(e) The drawings and specifications will be sent to the Commissioner of Education for review to ensure that the approved program is followed. The drawings and specifications will be reviewed with the tribe to obtain its approval.

After approval by the State and other regulatory agencies, the final drawings and specifications will be reviewed and approved by the Bureau for structural and safety adequacy, educational functionality and conformity with the project description.

§ 407.23 Facilities construction.

The contractor usually bids, awards and administers the construction contract. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs will assist in preconstruction and construction activities to assure conformity with the requirements of Pub. L. 93-638. Approval of all proposed preconstruction documents will be obtained from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Assistance prior to the preparation of these and similar documents will be provided upon request. In this connection, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs may suggest a preliminary conference with the project architect and others if that seems desirable. The Bureau shall make interim inspections and audits during construction and participate in the final acceptance inspection.

§ 407.24 Selecting initial equipment.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs shall provide technical assistance in the selection of initial equipment, if requested by the contractor.

§ 407.25 Advance payments.

Advance payments to State education agencies or school districts will be made in accordance with the applicable provisions of 41 CFR 1 as supplemented by 41 CFR 14 and 41 CFR 14H, except 41 CFR Part 14H-70.

§ 407.26 Use and transfer of Government property.

(a) The use of Government-owned facilities for public school purposes may be authorized when not needed for Government activities. Transfer of title to such facilities (except land) may be arranged under the provisions of the Act of June 4, 1953 (67 Stat. 41).

(b) In carrying out a contract made under this Part, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs may permit a contractor to use existing buildings, facilities, and related equipment and other personal property owned by the Bureau under terms and conditions agreed upon for their use and maintenance. The property must conform to the minimum standards established by the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (84 Stat. 1590), as amended (29 U.S.C. 651).

(c) Use of Government property is subject to the following conditions:

(1) When nonexpendable Government property is turned over to public school authorities under a use permit, the permittee shall insure such property against damage by flood, fire, rain, windstorm, vandalism, snow, and tornado in amounts and with companies satisfactory to the Bureau officer in charge of the property. In case of damage or destruction of the property by flood, fire, rain, windstorm, vandalism, snow or tornado, the insurance money collected shall be expended only for repair or replacement of property. Otherwise, insurance proceeds shall be paid to the Bureau.

(2) If the public school authority is self-insured and can present evidence of that fact to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, insurance for lost or damaged property will not be required. However, the public school authority will be responsible for replacement of such lost or damaged property at no cost to the Government or for paying the Government enough to replace the property.

(3) The permittee shall maintain the property in a reasonable state of repair consistent with the intended use and educational purposes.

§ 407.27 Wage and labor standards.

All laborers and mechanics employed by contractors or subcontractors in constructing, altering, or repairing buildings or other facilities in connection with contracts under this Part shall be paid wages not less than those on similar construction in the locality as determined by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis-Bacon Act of March 3, 1931 (46 Stat. 1494), as amended.

§ 407.28 Indian preference.

(a) Any contract made by the Bureau with a State or school district shall provide that the contractor shall, to the greatest extent feasible, give preference in employment and training to Indians.

(b) Any contract made by the Bureau with a State or school district shall provide that the contractor shall, to the greatest extent feasible, give preference in the award of subcontracts to Indian organizations and to Indian-owned economic enterprises.

(c) All subcontractors employed by the contractor shall, to the greatest extent feasible, give preference to Indians for employment and training and shall be required to include in their bid submission a plan to achieve maximum use of Indian personnel.

§ 407.29 Liability and motor vehicle insurance.

(a) States and school districts shall obtain public liability and motor vehicle insurance under contracts entered into with the Bureau under this Part. However, where the Bureau contracting officer determines that the risk of death, personal injury or property damage under the contract is small and that the time and cost of procuring the insurance is great in relation to the risk, the contract may be exempted from this requirement.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a) of this section, any contract which requires or authorizes, either expressly or by implication, the use of motor vehicles must contain a provision requiring the State or school district to provide liability insurance, regardless of how small the risk.

(c) If the State or public school authority is self-insured and can present evidence of that fact to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, liability and motor vehicle insurance will not be required.

§ 407.30 Recordkeeping.

A contractor will be required to develop and maintain a recordkeeping system which will:

(a) Fully reflect all financial transactions involving the receipt and expenditure of funds provided under the contract in a manner which will provide accurate, current and complete disclosure of financial status; correlation with budget or allowable cost schedules; and clear audit facilitating data.

(b) Reflect the amounts and sources of funds other than Bureau contract funds which may be included in the construction project.

(c) Provide for the creation, maintenance and safeguarding of records of lasting value.

§ 407.31 Audit and inspection.

(a) During the term of a contract under this Part and for three years after the project or undertaking is completed, the Comptroller General and the Secretary, or any of their duly authorized representatives, shall have access, for audit and examination purposes, to any of the contractor's books, documents, papers, and records which, in their opinion, may be related or pertinent to the contract or any subcontract.

(b) The contractor will be responsible for maintaining all documents such as invoices, purchase orders, cancelled checks, balance sheets and all other records relating to financial transactions in a manner which will facilitate auditing. The contractor will be responsible for maintaining files of correspondence and other documents relating to the contract properly separated from general records or cross-referenced to general files.

(c) The contractor receiving funds under this Part shall be primarily responsible for contract compliance.

(d) The records involved in any claim or expenditure that has been questioned shall be further maintained until final determination has been made on the questioned expenditure.

(e) All contracts, reports, budgets, budget estimates, plans, and other documents pertaining to administration of the contract shall be made available by the contractor. The contractor shall provide, free of charge, single copies of such documents upon request.

§ 407.32 Freedom of information.

(a) Unless otherwise required by law, the Bureau shall not place restrictions on contractors which will limit public access to the contractor's records except when records must remain confidential.

(b) A contractor under this Part shall make all reports and information concerning the contract available to the Indian people which the contract affects. Reports and information may be withheld from disclosure only when both of the following conditions exist:

(1) The reports and information fall within one of the following exempt categories:

(i) Specifically required by statute or Executive Order to be kept secret.

(ii) Commercial or financial information obtained from a person or firm on a privileged or confidential basis.

(iii) Personnel, medical, and similar files where disclosure would be a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

(iv) Geological and geophysical information and data concerning wells.

(2) Disclosure is prohibited by statute or Executive Order or sound grounds exist for using the exemption given in paragraph (b) (1) of this section.

(c) A request to inspect or copy reports and information shall be in writing and must reasonably describe the reports and information requested. The request may be delivered or mailed to the contractor. Within ten working days after receiving the request, the contractor shall determine whether to grant or deny the request. The requester shall be notified immediately of the determination.

(d) The time limit for making a determination may be extended up to an additional ten working days for good reason. The requester shall be notified in writing of the extension, reasons for the extension, and the date on which the determination is expected to be made.

§ 407.33 Reporting.

(a) A contractor under this Part shall make a detailed report to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs after construction is completed. The report shall include, but not be limited to, an accounting of the amounts and purposes for which the contract funds were expended.

(b) The contractor shall furnish other reports when and as required by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

(c) A contractor under this Part shall send copies of the reports required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section to the tribe(s) affected by the construction at the same time as the reports are sent to the Bureau.

§ 407.34 Repayment of funds.

Any funds paid under a contract entered into under this Part which are not expended, obligated or used for the purposes of the contract during its term shall be returned to the Bureau.

§ 407.35 Penalties.

If any officer, director, agent, or employee of, or connected with, any contractor or subcontractor under this Part embezzles, willfully misapplies, steals, or obtains by fraud any of the funds or property connected with the contract or subcontract, he shall be subject to the following penalties:

(a) If the amount involved does not exceed $100, he shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

(b) If the amount involved exceeds $100, he shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than two years, or both.

§ 407.36 Applicable procurement regulations.

States or school districts wanting to contract with the Bureau under this Part must comply with the applicable requirements in the Federal Procurement Regulations (41 CFR 1), as supplemented by the Interior Procurement Regulations (41 CFR 14) and the Bureau of Indian Affairs Procurement Regulations (41 CFR 14H), except 41 CFR Part 14H-70.

Subpart D—Contract Revision or Cancellation*§ 407.41 Contract revision or amendment.

Any contract made under this Part may be revised or amended as deemed necessary to carry out the purposes of the contract. A contractor may make a written request for a revision or amendment of a contract to the Bureau contracting officer.

§ 407.42 Cancelling a contract for cause.

(a) Any contract entered into under this Part may be cancelled for cause when the contractor fails to perform the work called for under the contract.

(b) Before cancelling the contract, the Bureau will advise the contractor in writing of the following:

(1) The reasons why the Bureau is considering cancelling the contract.

(2) That the contractor will be given an opportunity to bring its work up to an acceptable level.

(c) If the contractor does not overcome the deficiencies in its contract performance, the Bureau shall cancel the contract for cause. The Bureau will notify the contractor, in writing, of the cancellation. The notice shall give the reasons for the cancellation and the right of the contractor to appeal under Subpart C of 43 CFR Part 4.

(d) When a contract is cancelled for cause, the Bureau will either perform the work with its own forces or by another contract, as appropriate.

Subpart E—Appeals*§ 407.51 Contract appeal.

A contractor may appeal an adverse decision or action of a Bureau contracting officer regarding a contract under this Part as provided in Subpart C of 43 CFR Part 4.

§ 407.52 Appeal from decision to cancel contract for cause.

A contractor may appeal the decision of a Bureau official to cancel a contract under this Part for cause. The appeal shall be made as provided in subpart C of 43 CFR Part 4.

§ 407.53 Other appeals.

Any decision or action taken by a Bureau official under this Part, other than those given in §§ 407.51 and 407.52, may be appealed only as provided in Part 2 of this chapter.

PROPOSED RULES

[ 41 CFR Part 14H-70 ]
CONTRACTING WITH INDIAN ORGANIZATIONS PURSUANT TO THE INDIAN SELF-DETERMINATION AND EDUCATION ASSISTANCE ACT

AUGUST 26, 1975.

Chapter 14H of 41 CFR was published beginning on page 13659 of the August 26, 1969, FEDERAL REGISTER (38 FR 13659) and subsequently amended. Chapter 14H contains the Bureau of Indian Affairs Procurement Regulations (BIAPR).

Notice is hereby given that it is proposed to amend Chapter 14H of Title 41 of the Code of Federal Regulations by adding a new Part 14H-70. This amendment is proposed pursuant to the authority contained in the Act of January 4, 1975 (Pub. L. 93-638; 88 Stat. 2203) called the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act.

The purpose of the amendment is to consolidate in one Part all of the contracting requirements which Indian tribal and Alaska Native organizations must follow in contracting with the Bureau of Indian Affairs under the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act. In preparing the regulations in new Part 14H-70, waivers were made of some of the standard Federal Procurement Regulations as authorized by Section 106(a) of the Act. Certain requirements were waived in an attempt to simplify contracting procedures for Indian tribal and Alaska Native organizations. Additional waivers may be made on a case-by-case basis as the Commissioner considers such waivers appropriate.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs has sought to be responsive to the recommendations of Indian and Alaska Native governing bodies who are, or have contemplated, operating Bureau programs under contract. For some time, these groups have been critical of the complexities inherent in negotiating contracts under the standard Federal Procurement Regulations. In many instances, an unfavorable psychological climate was created that inhibited local desires for more meaningful expressions of self-determination based on their own needs and goals.

Through experience, the Bureau of Indian Affairs and its constituents have found the standard procurement regulations to contain numerous requirements that have little if any applicability to contracts. For this reason, the Bureau has evolved what, in essence, is a set of "Indian" Procurement Regulations for dealing with tribal and Alaska Native groups as the proposed new Part 14H-70.

These proposed regulations reflect the Bureau's attempt to follow the recommendations of Indian and Alaska Native people to place in one Part all pertinent contracting regulations or references to such regulations affecting contracts with tribal organizations; to reduce refer-
